Smith's Council Budget Totals $106,713

Smith township's municipal budget for this year estimates its receipts at $106,713.31, with expenditures totalling close to that amount. Appropriations and rates were adopted by the council at its meeting last week.

The county, township and high school levies are about the same as last year. Residents of Lakefield high school area will pay 6/10 of a mill less than last year; residents of Peterborough suburban high school area will pay 6/10 of a mill more.

The reserve held by the county of $6,500, for high school purposes was credited to the different municipalities. Smith's share was $1,681.54. This sum and the reserve of $4,000 held by the township for the same purpose, were put in the estimates. These items with the township's surplus for 1948 of $1,438.68 in the general account had the effect of saving Smith ratepayers about 3½ mills in their taxes. As the county set up three new High School boards for 1949, it was decided by the county and township that this was the year to use these reserves for the benefit of the ratepayers.

Township's Receipts

Smith's estimated receipts this year are: reserve for high schools $4,000; surplus from last year $1,438.68; subsidy on roads $11,970; licenses and fines $195; sundry receipts $400; municipal subsidy of one-half mill $1,129.75; penalty and interest on taxes $300; relief subsidy $1,025; road receipts $1,000; tax roll $85,254.88. Total $106,713.31.

Estimated expenditures: Lakefield High School Area $3,450.; Peterborough High School Area $6,366.14; charity $200.; hospitalization $200.; direct relief $2,000.; County rates $34,166.73; debentures $1,993.92; Public Schools $26,081.65; Separate Schools $326.27; auditors $181.; discount on taxes $460.; interest on loans $150.; grants $115; legal $100; Reeve and Councillors' indemnity $550; printing and stationery $570; salaries $2,849.64; sundry $1,450; Board of Health $350.; garbage collection $350.; highways and streets $90.96; sheep killed by dogs $550.; reserve for cancelled taxes $100. Total $106,713.31.

Summary of tax rate in mills: county rates 15.2; township road rate 5 mills; township school rate 4.3; township general rate 1.1; Lakefield High School 1.8; Peterborough High Schools 3.2; township school area 4.8; School Section No. 1 6.3.

SS No. 2, 7 mills; SS No. 3, 3 mills; SS No. 5, 16 mills; SS No. 6, 5.2; SS No. 7, 5.1; SS No. 8, 14.4; SS No. 9, 3.4; SS No. 10, 8.5 mills; SS No. 12, 1.9; SS No. 13, 11 mills.

Union section with Harvey, 4.4 mills; Separate School, 21 mills in SS No. 13, and 10 mills in SS No. 3.

Public School debentures: SS No. 2, 2.5 mills; No. 3, 2.7 mills; No. 13, 5.7.

Chemong Park garbage collection, 3.3 mills; Chemong Park police, 3 mills; Bridgenorth street lights, 3.2 mills; fire service area, 4 mills; VON service, 1 mill.

George Wilde was re-engaged as garbage collector in the Chemong Park area.

Named Tax Collector

J. A. Middleton was re-appointed tax collector, and Carman English will again be constable in Chemong Park.

The council opened the tenders for crushing and hauling approximately 7,000 cu. yds. of gravel.

R. A. Blyth Construction Co., Toronto, submitted the following prices: 58c at the bin; 89c delivered on roads up to six miles from the pit; plus 7 cents a cubic yard-mile over that distance.

Charles Young of Young's Point offered to do the work at 55c at the bin, and 86c per cu. yd. delivered any place in the township.

The contract was awarded to Mr. Young, the work to be begun as soon as the roads are dry, and to be completed by July 1.

The following accounts were approved for payment: roads $766.10; relief accounts $127.29; J. A. Middleton on salary account $225.

STRIKEBOUND SHIPS ANCHORED — Three Canadian National Steamships vessels, Canadian Challenger, Canadian Constructor and Lady Rodney, lay at anchor in mid-harbor at Halifax after members of the Seafarer's International Union manned them. The S.I.U. men boarded the vessels after a pitched battle with striking members of the Canadian Seamen's Union on the waterfront last Friday. The Challenger, shown in the foreground, became the first of the three ships to leave when she sailed for the British West Indies over the week-end.

Big Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON, April 12 — (AP)—The agriculture department Monday forecast this year's United States winter wheat crop at 1,019,686,000 bushels, which would be the second largest on record. This estimate compares with last year's crop of 990,098,000 bushels, the previous record of 1,068,048,000 in 1947, and with the 10-year (1937-46) average of 688,606,000 bushels.

"Suffered much with constipation"

Famous cereal helps where "remedies" failed

Are you among those who long for constipation relief? Then read this unsolicited letter:

"I tried several remedies but could not end this old trouble. One day I was told I should try KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. I began to eat this cereal regularly. And without exaggeration, it turned out to be perfect for me!" H. Mason, 5727 9th Avenue, Rosemount, Montreal.

If your constipation is due to lack of bulk in the diet, you too may find lasting relief! Eat a daily portion of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN and drink plenty of water! ALL-BRAN is not a purgative, but a wholesome regulating cereal. Eat an ounce as a cereal or in muffins for constipation relief. If after using a package you are not entirely satisfied, get double your money back as guaranteed on the package. Buy delicious ALL-BRAN from your grocer today. Made by Kellogg's of London, Ontario.

Montreal 1 Point Up

Here the Peterborough zone defence began to work. Griffin broke loose to sink the ball for two points with a nice hook shot. Fox scored, followed by Lake which made it 36 to 35 for YMHA. Two fouls were given to Grafstein for holding and Rotstein for slapping. But there was no score on the free thrown awarded. Griffin picked up five points on two baskets and a foul shot which was awarded when Merling held him. Baskets by Caplan and Grafstein made the score 42 to 38 for PCVS to end the third quarter.

Good Checking

Sherman made a free throw when Thompson charged him on the tossup to start the last quarter. Grafstein held the Montrealers off the score sheet with his checking. He started a passing play which resulted in a basket for Griffin. Merling sank a foul shot. Grafstein missed a free throw when he was held by Lake. Northcott put the PCI'ers up to 48 with a poke shot. Lake missed two free throws when he was fouled by Grafstein. Sherman fouled Young who missed his two foul shots. Fox held Grafstein and seconds later Grafstein held Sherman. No free throws were made. Finally Merling got a rebound to make the score 46 to 42 for PCVS. Griffin got a throw when charged by Fox. Griffin got two points when he was held by Merling.

Montreal then came to life. They got points by Caplan, Lake, and Merling. Griffin and Northcott got points for PCVS. The score read 54 to 53 for Peterborough with 10 seconds left. Suddenly Lake broke loose to sink the winning basket with two seconds to go.

Shot statistics show the Montrealers sank 21 out of their attempted 51 field goals and PCVS players got 21 out of the 97 shots they took.

Lineups:

PCVS—Griffin 19, Thompson 12, Northcott 12, Young 1, Dinsdale 5, Grafstein 5, Evans, Sergeant.

Montreal—Merling 14, Philip, Caplan 7, Lake 18, Sherman 3, Fox 4, Sokoloff 2, Rotstein 7.

Referees—Bob Dyer, Peterborough; Ron McComb, Toronto.

HANDS IN TRAINING...FOR ONTARIO

Learning Business Practice

IN Ontario the wheels of industry turn for the benefit of every single one of us. Our lathes, dynamos, drill presses, farm combines, tractors, business machines, etc. are producing goods and services which earn dollars. These dollars provide food, clothing, medical care and other necessities which contribute to our security and high standard of living. Every single one of us, therefore, has a very personal interest in the flow of a steady supply of trained workers to industrial plants. These workers will operate machines which are important to our way of life.

We should appreciate, then, the co-operative efforts of government, industry and labour in the field of employee training. In schools and in factories our workers, young and old, are given the opportunity to develop new and specific skills in every field of business and industrial activity. For instance, every effort on the part of office workers to become proficient in typing, filing, shorthand and secretarial work, will mean greater business efficiency—will help to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and work.

Our Way of Life Rewards Trained Hands

Ontario workers know they can earn more, have executive responsibility and enjoy a higher standard of living in direct ratio to the skills they acquire and the way they make use of them. That's always true in a free economy—that's why our competitive system will continue to make Canada great and a great place in which to live.

Thinks Indians Would Help Attract Tourists

KITCHENER, April 12 (CP)—With a little help and encouragement, Canadian Indians could do a lot for themselves and the country's tourist trade, thinks a slim, little English woman who became an Indian when she married into a tribe and spent almost eight years on the Lake Nipissing Reserve.

Mrs. Gisela Commanda, in Kitchener for the Ontario Recreation Association conference, believes that if interest and financial aid were given Indians on reserves could launch themselves into craft industries and take some of the burden of supporting them off the taxpayer.

"I think Indians have a very fine culture of their own and Canadians are just beginning to realize it," she says.

She said governments were missing tourist bets when they didn't feature Indians as an attraction. Money had been poured into developing other tourist baits, but Indians—with their picturesque costumes and customs—only needed publicity to become colorful attractions to Canada.

"Indian music should be more important. It is somewhat more 'highbrow' than Negro music. It isn't raucous or noisy—it's Canadian and it has the Indian temperament, rather lovely and never getting anywhere."

Her interest in Indians goes back to her childhood when someone gave her a copy of Ernest Thompson Seton's "Two Little Savages." She studied Indian folklore and learned much about the gypsies in England because "they were the closest to primitive people there."

From Grey Owl, the famous Indian naturalist, sho obtained the name of one of his favorite Indian guides with whom she could correspond and learn the Ojibway language.

Bored with life as an arts and crafts teacher in English schools, she decided to come to America and write books about Indians. After a few months in Florida, she came north and met Antoine Commanda, the guide who had corresponded with her. Several months later the couple were married in Sturgeon Falls, Ont.

As a ward of the Dominion Government, Mrs. Commanda cannot buy liquor or vote. She doesn't drink, so that presents no problem but she would like to vote.

A member of the Canadian Authors Association, she has prepared three manuscripts about Indian life. She is using her knowledge of 40 crafts in her teaching job at the Central Technical School in Toronto, because she is not strong enough to live the rigorous reservation life in the winter. But all her summers are spent on the reservation.

Mrs. Sandford Hoard Buried At Midland

HAVELOCK, April 12 (ENS) — The funeral of Mrs. Sanford Hoard, 65, of Tongamong Lake was held in Midland today. The service took place in St. Mark's Anglican Church and burial was in the Anglican cemetery, Midland.

Mrs. Hoard died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCabe, Havelock, on Sunday.

Born in Flinton, Ontario, Mrs. Hoard was formerly Ida Mae Wright. She was twice married. Her first marriage was to Joseph L'Esperance at Deseronto in 1901. Later she moved to Midland where Mr. L'Esperance died in 1925. She married Sanford Hoard in 1932 and came to live at Tongamong Lake. He died in July, 1948.

Surviving are four daughters: Mrs. M. J. Monteith (Viola), Sudbury; Mrs. J. Small (Myrtle), and Mrs. O. Downer (Jessie), Midland; Mrs. J. R. Watson (Norma), Hamilton; four sons: Wright L'Esperance, Yellowknife, N. W. T.; Orville L'Esperance, Welland; Howard L'Esperance, Allanford; Henry L'Esperance, Port Elgin; three brothers, Thomas Wright, Jackson; Robert Wright, Tweed, and James Wright, Picton. There are 12 grandchildren.

Lowest death rates in traffic accidents are during the months of June and July.

Condition Satisfactory

TORONTO, April 12—(CP) — Earl Jenkins, 11-year-old boy who was struck by an automobile Saturday at Wingham, was described by hospital authorities here as in "satisfactory" condition following an operation Monday. Police still are searching for the driver who struck him and drove off without stopping.

Television Delayed

CHICAGO, April 12—(CP) — Jim Allard, general manager of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, said Monday night that because of a CBC board of governors decision Canadians will be denied a choice of television programs for more than a year. He was commenting on a report from Ottawa that the CBC board has shelved six applications from private firms for television broadcasting licences. The board suggested, instead, the companies get together and agree to the joint operation of private stations.

Fashion Show Features Dress Styles From 1824

HAVELOCK, April 12—(ENS).—A preview of spring fashions together with a parade of old-time styles dating back to 1824 was one of the main attractions at the Easter Carnival sponsored by Dorcas Rebekah Lodge No. 98 on Friday evening. There was a large crowd in attendance. Mrs. Fred Bennett officiated as fashion commentator.

"If you are wondering", she said, "whether your skirt should be slim or full, you may follow your own inclination, but as a general rule suit skirts are slim, coats are full and dresses are everything from flared, flounced and pleated to draped. For the length 12 inches from the floor was a safe rule for street and daytime wear."

Show Modern Trends

Present day styles were first on the parade, commencing with a modern wedding party which was led by two flower girls, Barbara Ann Scott, 3, and Linda Bannon 4. They wore floor-length dresses of blue and pink silk respectively with matching muffs and nosegays of carnations and roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Wesley Dafoe dressed in rosebud pink nylon fashioned with long sleeves and gored skirt with net trimmings. Her nosegay was pink orchids trimmed with shirred blue satin.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Beverley Bennett and Elaine Graham. Miss Bennett modelled a gown with blue net skirt and lace jacket over blue taffeta. It was fashioned with sweetheart neckline, and peplum back with pink ribbon trim. Her nosegay was pink roses. Miss Graham wore a gown of crushed strawberry moire taffeta with net shoulders, bustle back, matching mittens and carried a nosegay of iris and daisies.

Mrs. Jack Green was the bride, wearing the wedding gown of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alton Bannon, Peterborough, made in princess style, with sweetheart neckline, and bustle back. Her finger-tip veil was caught with orange blossome and she carried pink roses, lily of the valley and fern.

Mrs. A. McColl as the bride's mother, wore a gown of grey ramada wool crepe trimmed with grey satin with back draped softly in crepe effect, matching accessories and a corsage of orchids.

The bride's travelling suit of grey gabardine with pleated skirt was modelled by Mrs. Ross Backus. She wore navy hat, gloves and purse and wine alligator shoes.

The soloist for the wedding party was Mrs. John Beatty wearing a gown of blue georgette over taffeta, with pink ribbon trim and corsage of pink roses. Her headdress was a blue flowered halo. She sang "Through the Years".

Heads Junior Parade

Heading the parade for the juniors was two-year-old Judy Scott of Trenton, the youngest model and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rice. Others in this class modelling their Easter costumes were: Margaret Ellis, Robert and Donald McKenzie, Betty Toms, Donald Wilde, Marilyn Rutherford. The soloist for the junior parade was Lynda Bannon, aged 4, who captivated the audience with her singing of "Buttons and Bows", "I Want a Girl" and "Brush Those Tears from Your Eyes".

Before Gay '90s

Next came a wedding party with costumes from somewhere before the gay 90's to the early 30s. The flower girl was Linda Bannon in a white organdy dress with tucked yolk, pink sash and nosegay of pink roses. Mrs. Clifford Scott was matron of honor in a gown of rose camelia organdy with frilled skirt. She wore a large black lace hat loaned by Mrs. Ted Sanders.

Miss Shirley Bennett, Miss Elaine Graham and Mrs. H. J. McNeely were bridesmaids. Miss Bennett wore a mauve taffeta gown styled in 1930. After a lapse of 19 years it was noted how the bolero and full skirt were being shown again in the present day styles. Her necklace was worn by Mrs. R. Bonny 40 years ago.

Miss Graham modelled a style of 15 years ago in a carnation rose taffeta made in cape effect with black accessories.

Mrs. McNeely was attired in aqua net over blue taffeta trimmed with wine velvet. Black sequins decorated the bolero.

Recalls 1902 Bride

Mrs. Jack Green as the bride modelled the wedding gown worn by Mr. Robert Sayer's mother, 47 years ago. Made of white organdy, it was trimmed with ruffles and pearl buttons.

Mrs. William Rice as mother of the bride, wore a 75-year-old black Chantilly lace dress trimmed with satin, loaned by Mrs. W. E. Anderson of Preneveau. The small black lace bonnet was worn by Mrs. Rice's grandmother 124 years ago and was purchased in Australia.

The bride's travelling suit with long jacket, was modelled by Mrs. Ross Backus. The soloist, Mrs. John Beatty wore a costume of 50 years ago, black taffeta skirt and printed voile blouse. A large blue velvet hat with plumes loaned by Mrs. T. Sanders completed her costume. Mrs. Beatty sang "I Love You Truly," with Mrs. Hampton as accompanist.

Show Old Time Styles

Other old time costumes were modelled as follows: Miss Rubena Rice, a Japanese silk skirt 60 years old loaned by Mrs. William Smith and a blouse trimmed with black beads 65 years old.

Miss Beverley Bennett, a white skirt and blouse of shantung with black taffeta jacket of 60 years ago.

Mrs. Robert Sayers, a skirt loaned by Mrs. W. Anderson, made of black net, 70 years old; a hat a century old, and a handmade cape loaned by Mrs. W. W. Hill worn by Mrs. Beatty of Bobcaygeon 75 years ago.

Mrs. Bruce Post modelled a nurse's uniform worn by Miss Agnes Young, sister of Miss Annie Young, during her nursing career in China and Cuba during the Spanish-American war. The uniform is 60 years old.

Mrs. Douglas McColl modelled a housecoat loaned by Mrs. W. W. Hill and worn by Miss Beatty of Bobcaygeon.

Wears 1870 Dress

Mrs. A. McColl wore an 80-year-old dress which belonged to Mrs. John Balfour, mother of Mrs. Robert Anderson. The design of the dress was known as the "paulanayes" and was made of birch bark sand wool delaine with brown satin trimming and was worn with hoops. Mrs. McColl also wore a gold brooch, watch and chain 47 years old loaned by Mrs. Rose Craighead.

Present Skit

This part of the program was concluded with a skit by Mrs. W. Copp and Mr. F. Bennett and was a beach scene of more than 100 years ago. Mr. Bennett sang "Swimming Down Trent River on a Sunday Afternoon".

Other items on the program were a song and tap dance by Jo-Ann Kennedy and Larry Sayers; vocal trio by Garry, Robert and Harvey McNeely; song and tap dance by Miss Jacqueline Saunders; pianologue by Larry Sayers; vocal quartette, Joan and Elaine Graham and Beverley and Shirley Bennett. Fred McKenzie was chairman for the program.

The program also included bingo conducted by S. Southward, W. Woodbeck, G. Kennedy, M. McKenzie, B. A. Curtis. The home baking counter was in charge of Mrs W. Copp, Mrs. F. Thompson and Mrs. Forsyth. The fish pond was in charge of Miss Essie McQuigge and Mrs. R. Sayers; fancy goods counter, Miss Minnie Williams and Mrs. R. J. McCutcheon; candy counter, Mrs. J. Diaper, Mrs. B. Post and Mrs. C. Toms.

The fortune telling booth was in charge of Mrs. Agnes Jamieson. Tea was served in the basement of the hall at quartette tables. In charge of the tea were Mrs. Jane Melville, Mrs W Rice, Mrs. H. Pollock, Mrs. K. Green, Mrs. D. McColl, Mrs. W. E. Anderson and Mrs. Alfred Cassan.

Proceeds for the evening amounted to approximately $160.

A penny sale was conducted in aid of the Cancer, Paralysis and Tuberculosis Fund which netted $7. Mrs. R. Easterbrook and Mrs. Fred Rutherford being in charge.

WALLS CAME TUMBLING DOWN—Five families were forced to move into the street, but no one was injured, when a wall of their three-storey home in Rosemount, Montreal suburb, collapsed without warning. The pile of debris beside the open rooms is all that remains of the wall. Included in it is a bed which fell from a third-storey bedroom.

Havelock News

Orville and Homer Sanders of Chapleau, formerly of Havelock, are spending a month here, the former with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Sanders and the latter with his father and sister, Mr. William Sanders and Miss Edith Sanders.

Mrs. John Archer and daughter Vanagayle of Timmins were recent visitors with the former's brother, Mr. Randal Vansickle and Mrs. Vansickle.

Mr. Frederick Montgomery, who is a patient in Civic Hospital Peterborough is reported to be progressing favorably.

Mr. John Thompson and his brother-in-law, Mr. Charles Menzie, who became ill this week, are recovering satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knox of Peterborough visited Mrs. E. Fennell on Wednesday.

See Brilliant Meteor

NEW YORK, April 12—(AP)—A brilliant meteor streaked across New England skies Monday night and burst. An airlines pilot almost on top of it said "parts seemed to be falling all over Rhode Island." Observers reported seeing the phenomenon all the way from Portland, Me., to Long Island, N.Y.

Bus Despatcher Wm. McDougall Served 22 Years

One of the original drivers for the Peterborough Bus Lines, William (Bill) McDougall retired Saturday. He was a familiar figure around the bus terminal at the corner of Simcoe and George for the past 22 years. At first he was a driver and he later became known to one and all as the despatcher at the terminal on George Street.

For the last six years Mr. McDougall as despatcher regulated the runs of the buses and looked after the special buses to the factories. He sold tickets to waiting customers and directed them to buses.

Mr. McDougall started his career of driving buses and operating street cars in 1915. For two years he was motorman on a street car then in 1917 he left but not for long. He was back with the street railway in 1921 as a mechanic and spare motorman. This was his work until 1927 when the street cars stopped and he started driving for the Peterborough Bus

Jackson Park Route

His first bus run was the Jackson Park route. For two weeks he had this route. After that he was on George Street run for four years. Finally in 1943 he was chosen as the first despatcher for the Bus Lines. Tommy Drumm was added in 1946 to help in despatching.

Recalling his years as a driver Mr. McDougall could only remember a few "incidents" with the customers. On the whole he found the people quite co-operative.

In his 22 years with the City Lines he drove for 16 years less a month. When asked how many miles, he said:

"Gee, never thought of it."

But the distance could easily be determined for each bus trip is four miles approximately. There are 53 trips made in a day. Each driver does about 27 trips a day. Let the driver work five days a week for 16 years. That's a long distance to drive.

Now in retirement Bill is going to take his three weeks' holidays with pay in comfort. What is to come then, is not worrying him. He'll worry about that when the time comes.

Rip House Down Neighbors Ask, Council Ponders

A neighborhood petition suggested to the finance committee of the council Monday night that the house at 539 Waterford St. should be demolished.

Residents of the street described the building as a menace to health and fire hazard to property. When it was recently vacated, they said, the Medical Officer of Health had a condemning placard tacked on it. Walls, roof and chimney have a dilapidated appearance as if they were likely to collapse, the committee was informed.

Mayor Swanston said he had heard about the place, and when the owner got the tenants out, Sanitary Inspector MacPherson closed the house for present occupancy.

"I thought we should get a report on the building," Mayor Swanston said. "Mr. MacPherson, the deputy Fire Chief and the building inspector looked it over. Their verbal statement was that the house should be torn down."

"Could we have a written report from them," Ald. Grant Miller said. "In the meantime, until the council is deciding what to do, the City Engineer should be instructed not to issue a repair permit, and the owner should be notified to that effect."

In the form of a motion that proposal was adopted as a recommendation to the council.

Little Syrup In Rawdon

BONARLAW, April 12 (ENS)—Very little maple syrup is being made in Rawdon Township this year owing to the season and scarcity of help.

Main Street Topics

ACQUITTED

John Buller, charged with inducing persons to stake money on the result of punchboards while working as an employee, was acquitted Monday by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court. The accused was represented by T. J. Carley, KC.

FOUR FIELDS BURN

A grass fire set ablaze four fields on Monday afternoon in Smith Township. The fire started in a field owned by Harry Gravelle, Fairbairn Ave., and spread to three adjoining ones. A threat to nearby barns caused the Peterborough Fire Department to be called. Some fence rails were slightly burned.

SUGGESTIONS PAY OFF

For suggesting a change in the making of reels fabricated in the carpenter shop of the CGE, J. Price received $75. For ideas beneficial to the Induction Motors department F. Jones and M. Mackay received awards of $50 each. D. Lucano and D. Grandy split $80 awarded for the suggestion of an improvement to elbow props in the porcelain division.

SERGEANTS DOWN DE LAVAL

Scoring 4852 points to the opposition's 4048 the Sergeants of the 50th HAA Regiment on Monday night defeated the De Laval cribbage team for the second successive time. Sam Carpenter and Fred Hopgood took first prize with 838 and Fred Gant and Gordon Webb came second with 826. Guests on Wednesday will be the Lions Club and The Examiner team is scheduled to play a week hence.

MORE GRASS FIRES

Firemen are being kept busy with grass fires. On Monday afternoon they put out one at the rear of 85 Wolsley St., the residence of Bernard Butcher. Early today they snuffed out another at the rear of the residence of Chas. Huffman, Monaghan Road. They also made two other calls—one to the residence of Mrs. T. Glaun, for a chimney fire, and the other to The Examiner building when a low-pressure sprinkler went off, thus giving the automatic alarm.

INCREASED CAS CHARGE

Children's Aid Society of York county has increased its daily charge for the care of its wards from $1.05 to $1.15. The cost is based on an audited statement of expenditure. Five of the York CAS children are charged to Peterborough.

DIES IN WESTON

Albert A. Allen, well-known sportsman, died at his home in Weston early today. Toronto-born he lived in the Toronto district for 40 years and was garage foreman for the Canadian Kodak Company. His mother, Mrs. Susan Smith lives in Peterborough.

MINISTERS GREET LODGE

Greetings of the local Ministerial Association were today brought to the current convention of the Grand Black Chapter of Eastern Ontario by the Rev. F. W. Craik, St. James United Church, and the Rev. M. J. Aiken, St. Andrew's United Church. J. A. Corrigan, an Anglican layman from Ottawa, responded.

COMPLETE REDECORATION

Workmen have finished putting a new roof on the Windsor Hotel, Brock St., and a paint job on the building has been added. The top storey, badly damaged as a result of the fire more than three months ago, has been removed and the new roof put on. The beverage rooms have also been redecorated.

APPOINTED TO CAS

Ald. J. E. Gillespie was appointed to the Children's Aid Society by the finance committee of the council Monday night, succeeding Mr. J. Gordon Armstrong who requested that his resignation be acepted. Mr. Armstrong was appointed during his aldermanic term.

EVENT FOR BOYS

Y's Men announce a big event in boydom, the Soap Box Derby down Hunter St. Hill, July 15 and 16. Permission for use of the Hunter St. slope was given by the council Monday night. Youngsters have about three months to tune up their speed cars or bring out new models.

Cottage Thefts At Stony Lake

Two more thefts at or near summer cottages in the Peterborough district were under investigation today by member of the Ontario Provincial Police.

In one case the cottage of Crawford Brown, 51 Dunvegan Road, Toronto, located at Pine Point on Stony Lake, was entered on or about April 10. Loot taken consisted of one air rifle, two blankets, and a quantity of canned foodstuffs.

In the other instance an outboard motor valued at around $100 was stolen from Douglas Dunford of Burleigh Falls on Stony Lake, some time between 10 a.m. Saturday and 12.00 noon on Sunday. Mr. Dunford had taken the motor from a cottage to his boat. He left it in the boat while attending to some other work and when he went back again he found the motor was missing.

Mrs. Milton Bowler Is Laid To Rest

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Milton Bowler, 53, of 145 Benson Ave., was held on Monday at the Belleghem funeral home. The Rev. Dr. James Semple of George Street United Church officiated in the absence of the Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite of All Saints' Anglican Church. He was assisted by the Rev. Dr. W. Mumford of Hagarsville. Pallbearers were: George A. Gillespie, Harry Keene, Norman Gell, Ernest Smith, W. J. Clarke and Arthur Simpson. Burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mrs. Bowler died on Thursday in hospital following an illness of several months. She was born in Peterborough, daughter of the late George Curtis and Emma Jane Lockstone, and had lived in the city all her life. She was a member of All Saints' Anglican Church.

Check Restrictions BeforeBuyingProperty

Citizens buying property for commercial purposes should investigate the local circumstances, Ald. Grant Miller said at the meeting of the finance committee of the council Monday night.

"They should check the property to see whether it is suitable to the purpose they have in mind," he said. "The first thing they should do is find out whether they are buying in a residential zone. If they take an option that is all right, but if they buy, they should realize that they are doing so at their own risk.

"We have had something like ten or twelve cases since I have come into the council, people who bought first and enquired afterward.

"I think the council should use some newspaper space, and thereby go on record as having given this kind of advice to the public. We could run an advertisement a couple of time."

Ald. Miller's motion was seconded by Ald. Burrows. "I think it is a good idea," Mayor Swanston said.

Normal School Attendance Even Inspectors Told

Commenting on the supply of teachers in Ontario at present, H. E. Elborn, Inspector of Normal Schools told a gathering of Inspectors and Normal School Masters at the Normal School over the weekend that it was about the same as last year. With a decrease in the number of veterans attending teacher training schools, an increase in attendance from Grade XIII graduates has maintained the same level as last year.

In all Normal Schools, an increase of six students was noted in 1948-49 over the previous year. Mr. Elborn thought that higher salaries now prevailing would attract more young people into the training schools.

At the day-long conference under the chairmanship of A. W. McGuire of Tweed, 20 Inspectors and Normal School Masters discussed educational practices and trends and also heard from officials from the Department of Education. Col. S. A. Watson, Assistant Superintendent of Elementary Education spoke briefly on the administrative load under which Inspectors worked. He noted the increased correspondence necessary due to both the supervision of government grants and the large school building program now under way in Ontario.

During the afternoon session, Normal School students under the direction of Quirt McKinney demonstrated physical training and eurhythmics. After this the Inspectors were entertained by the Normal School Choir.

Present at the Conference were: E. C. Anderson Lindsay; A. Archibald, Whitby; K. O. Birkin, K. S. Wightman and P. C. Windrim, Peterborough; A. F. Brown, Picton; W. H. Carlton, Cobourg; L. A. Kells and R. H. Macklem, Belleville; H. H. Langford, Napanee; C. W. Lees, Lindsay; T. S. McEwen, Oshawa; A. A. Martin, Brighton; A. Stouffer, Minden; D. S. Simpson, Bancroft; and W. J. Morrison, Superintendent of the School for the Deaf, at Belleville.

200 Men Placed In Outdoor Jobs

Some 200 men were placed in outdoor jobs through the local office of National Employment Service last week.

W. H. L. Mellis, manager, said there were some local enquiries for farm help. "We can get some men from Manitoba for work on the land, but they would have to be signed up until the end of the harvest. Of twelve local farmers who asked about available help, only one was interested in the Manitoba source. Obviously there is not much use in asking for one man in this area. The westerners have been engaged in the woods during the winter. I understand they are farm helpers who shift from woods to farm with the change in seasons."

Fails To Get Sewer

"Any way, there is no petition before the council," City Clerk Outram reminded the finance committee Monday night as the members considered the recent appeal of W. B. Gordon on behalf of Messrs. Steele and Ephgrave for a Cameron St. sewer.

The reference was to the procedure which begins with a petition from ratepayers.

"It doesn't look like a sewer for that street this year," said Mayor M. J. Swanston.

Ald. Dodds, chairman of the board of works, said 20,000 feet of sewer were listed in this season's program.

"According to what City Engineer Chalmers tells us," said Mayor Swanston, "there is no use putting in this sewer on Cameron St. in a half-baked way to get something done now, and then in a year or two have to put in a proper system."

His Worship said the council had done its part in co-operating with contractors and builders by laying new sewers on streets for housing purposes.

WANTS NO MORE CATS

Carole, six-year-old daughter of Ivan Fletcher, Keene, likes doggies better than cats. Friday she tried to play with a black kitty with a white stripe down its back. She tried to catch the skunk in a field near her home. Several times she managed to grab its tail. But Jimmy, the skunk, retaliated with his S-weapon. Carole's clothes were left out on the clothesline to dry and to deodorize. Carole went to bed.

17 Operators Ask Repeal Closing Bylaw

Repeal of the bylaw regulating the business hours of service stations was asked of the city council Monday night by a delegation representing 17 operators who signed the request.

The names on this petition were John A. Russelle, Vernon E. Forbes, Leo Burke, V. E. Crebar, Hayward Sinclair, Lorne Hartman, Ted Moore, John C. Thompson, Hugh J. Davis, D. J. Little, C. J. Brady, P. Calhoun, Q. S. Woods, W. A. Turney, L. Cubbidge, J. W. Frizzelle, A. E. Whiddon.

Finance committee with Ald. Hugh Waddell presiding asked City Clerk Outram to make the required scrutiny of the names of the applicants who declare that they are opposed to the discontinuance of the bylaw.

Mr. Russelle and several of the other members of the deputation of six told the committee that some of the operators who brought about the closed periods in the business, with regulation of hours, were not exactly scrupulous in its observance.

Office Opened By CCL

Canadian Congress of Labor has opened a Peterborough office at 268½ Charlotte St., and F. W. Hannah of Toronto has been appointed local representative. Mr. Hannah begins his duties here immediately. Henry G. Rhodes, Ontario director of CCL, in the city on Monday, says that the purpose of having a local office is to co-ordinate activities of various CCL affiliates in Peterborough, to expound and interpret Congress policy, and to organize shops where unorganized labor indicates a demand for it.

The Steel Workers Union and the Textile Workers Union of America will be using the new office as focal point, and it is possible that the Packing House Workers Union will likewise share its activities

Trout Season Opens April 30

TORONTO, April 12 (CP) — Anglers in Ontario get a break in earlier opening of the seasons for speckled trout, pike and pickerel seasons announced today by Hon Harold Scott, Provincial Minister of Lands and Forests.

The trout season, originally scheduled to start Sunday, May 1, will open Saturday, April 30. The pike and pickerel season, previously slated for Sunday, May 15, will open Saturday, May 14. The pike season opening date applies only to southern Ontario; there is no closed season on pike in the northern part of the province.

Orange Order Ontario East Meets In Peterborough For Its Annual Convention

More than 100 delegates from the Provincial Grand Black Chapter of Eastern Ontario on Tuesday night began the 73rd annual meeting at the YMCA. Similar annual conventions to be held during the week include those of the Provincial Grand Orange Lodge of Orange Young Britons, Ontario East; Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association; and the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East.

Grand Master Earl Draper, Prescott, informed the delegates that it was the seventh time since the Chapter's inception that it had met in Peterborough. The Grand Black Chapter convened here for the first time in 1877, he said.

Officials expect that altogether more than 600 delegates from Orange Lodges of Eastern Ontario will attend the present sessions.

Most of Monday was taken up by registration and billeting and the first business session got under way at 8 p.m. Some difficulty was expected regarding billeting accommodation, but so far the private homes offered to visiting delegates, together with hotel and tourist room facilities, have proved sufficient.

Progress Shown

In that portion of his address dealing with the state of the Order, the Grand Master said: "I visited quite a number of preceptories during the past year and was very much encouraged with the progress and interest shown. Some had exceptional gains in numbers and degrees.

This increase in membership was confirmed by the report of the secretary, William A. Chambers, Manotick, who stated that in Eastern Ontario membership was up 15 per cent.

Grand Master Draper, who is concluding his second consecutive term of office, admonished the delegates: "We must endeavor with God's help to make the best of our limited time here on earth to try and work together in unity and peace. By prayer, honesty, sincerity, and trusting in God, our Father, we can accomplish much good."

The Eastern Ontario Chapter which is convening all day today includes lodges from Ottawa, Pembroke, Cornwall, those west of Fenelon Falls, and south to, but not including, Oshawa.

Notables at the Grand Black Chapter convention are Robert Ritchie of Peterborough, Past Grand Master of British America; the Rev. John Hodgson of Ottawa, Past Grand Chaplain for Ontario East; and J. F. Hammond, Toronto, who will give a report from the Insurance Department.

The election of officers will be held later today; and the committee reports have still to be read.

Exemplify Degree

One of the highlights of the convention will be tonight when the Weir Royal Black Knights will exemplify the Royal Gold degree. This will be open to members from Peterborough and delegates. It will be held in the YMCA auditorium.

Top social occasion will be on Wednesday night when a complimentary dance, sponsored by the County Orange Lodge of West Peterborough, will be held in the YMCA gymn. Members and friends are invited.

The schedule of the week calls for the Grand Black Chapter on Monday and today; the Provincial Grand Orange Lodge will meet tonight and Wednesday; the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association, Wednesday, and the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East, Wednesday.

Reports from the various lodges will be read on the year's work, and plans will be formulated for the coming year. The usual number of resolutions is expected arising out of the correspondence and reports of committees.

Make Set Back Apply To New Building

City council is going to "make a fresh start" on a by-law to set back three feet new buildings on George St. from King St. south to Lansdowne St. City Clerk Outram told the finance committee Monday night that Dominion Stores had assented to a three-foot setback on their building at the northeast corner of George and Sherbrooke Streets, construction of which is likely to be under way this week.

The bylaw will affect only new construction. A phrase specifying "alterations" in the original bylaw aroused the opposition of property owners, and the Ontario Municipal Board upheld them.

"The thought of the members of the council was that the bylaw should apply only to new building," said Ald. Dick Raine.

Instead of amending the first by-law, Ald. Herbert Young proposed that a new one be drafted. Ald. Grant Miller seconded that motion. The Ontario Municipal Board intimated that the three-foot setback would be approved when it is embodied in a bylaw.

Erskine Residents Ask Cement Bridge

A. C. Purchase, Percy Hill and several other residents in the vicinity of Erskine Ave. and Cameron St. asked the council in a petition Monday night to replace a wooden culvert with a small cement bridge for their use.

Information to the finance committee was that Cameron St. is not open yet beyond Erskine Ave. and that the culvert was built for private convenience. A motion by Mayor Swanston and Ald. Grant Miller proposed a report by City Engineer Chalmers on this requested improvement.

British Delegates Hear Reuther

WINDSOR, April 12 (CP)—A nine-member delegation from the Amalgamated Engineering Union of Great Britain met members of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) Monday and heard Victor Reuther stress the importance of such meetings by trade union members.

Victor Reuther, director of education for the UAW, under whose auspices the group is touring United States cities, said international visits by union members can be a vital force for peace.

Reuther said it is hoped that a similar delegation could go from the UAW to tour Great Britain this summer.

Nepheline Syenite Brings U.S. Dollars To Canada

Nepheline syenite is a dollar earner for Canada, Harold Deeth of the Nepheline Products Ltd. on Monday told a meeting of the Rotary Club. His address on the origin, mining, and marketing of the rock was illustrated by colored slides.

The white rock, described as similar to granite, is taken from the Blue Mountain, north of Lakefield, and is shipped to many countries of the world. Its value to Canada is shown, Mr. Deeth explained, by the fact that 80 per cent of productions goes to the United States, thus helping to alleviate the country's dollar shortage.

He gave a complete survey of the rock, from the history of its geological formation to its part in the finished product. His talk was divided into three parts: origin and nature of the deposits; mining and milling; and marketing.

Used in Making Glass

Nepheline syenite is used in the manufacture of glassware, pottery, enamel potware and ceramics generally. It allows glass to be melted at a lower temperature, according to Mr. Deeth, and because of the high alumina content the finished glass product has a greater brilliance and is more resistant to chemical attack.

The original mill, built in 1935, was at Lakefield, but a new one was built in 1946 at the site of the rock formation. The formation is part of a large hill, five miles long, a mile wide and containing "unlimited supplies" of nepheline syenite.

Extensive research on the possibilities of the rock was undertaken at Ohio State University in 1936, and as a result the demand for it in the manufacture of ceramics has grown.

He stated that the story of nepheline syenite is the story of the development of a new material; prior to 1935 there was no commercial use for the rock.

The speaker was introduced by Jack Arnott and thanked by Gordon Monkman; President William Hamilton was in the chair.

St. Laurent Hints MacKinnon Senator

EDMONTON, April 12 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent hinted broadly Monday night that Hon. James A. MacKinnon, Minister Without Portfolio, will be named to the Senate at the end of the present session of parliament. In a prepared public address, he regretted that Mr. McKinnon's health will "not let him continue in the hurly-burly of politics."

On the platform he made it "elected politics." The Senate is a non-elected body.

Hoover Charges Padding

WASHINGTON, April 12 —(AP)—Herbert Hoover testified Monday that the army, navy and air force are "padding" their money requests to Congress by millions of dollars. He also accused them of "startling" waste and extravagance. The former United States president, appearing before the Senate Armed Services Committee, cited an air force request for funds to build 910 family homes in Alaska costing $58,250 each.

Admits Slaying Lover

MARTINEZ, Calif., April 12—(AP) — Lillian Rose McClay pleaded guilty Monday to slaying her lover. She was sentenced to life imprisonment. The young woman was charged with the murder of Warren Edward McGourty, 31-year-old pipefitter. Mrs. McClay, a divorcee, told officers her love for McGourty had turned to hate because he had told her he intended to go out with other women.

CSU Signs Contracts With Six Companies

TORONTO, April 12 (CP) — The Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) said Monday it had signed contracts for 1949 with six lake shipping companies having approximately 40 vessels and 1,300 men. The companies are Paterson Steamship Lines, Canada Cement, Lake Erie Navigation, Abitibi Power and Paper, National Sand and Materials and Quebec and Ontario Transport.

Three biggest shipping companies on the Great Lakes—Canada Steamship Lines, Sarnia Steamships and Colonial Steamships—with which the CSU held contracts until the end of 1947, signed this year with the Seafarers International Union (AFL).

This year's CSU contracts with Paterson Steamships and the other lines provide for wages at the 1948 level, a 48-hour work week instead of 56 hours and for overtime pay for Sunday work.

Truck Overturns

ALMONTE, April 12 (CP)—Asa W. Gawley, 35-year-old district farmer, was killed Monday when the milk truck he was driving struck a hydrant, overturned and crashed into a stone wall on the outskirts of this town, 20 miles west of Otawa. Robert Kean, Gawley's recently-adopted 10-year-old son who was also in the truck, escaped unhurt.

Fred Thompson Dead

LONDON, April 12—(AP) — Fred Thompson, 65, co-author of such musical comedy hits as "Lady Be Good," "Funny Faces," and "Rio Rita", died Sunday. Born in London, Thompson began writing for the stage around 1908 after serving as a sports and theatrical caricaturist on various newspapers.

Fire Spreads 8 Miles

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., April 12 —(CP)—A grass fire Monday swept over thousands of acres west of here, destroying telephone poles, fences and railway ties before being brought under control after spreading eight miles. The RCMP and all available district farmers fought the flames.

10-Year-Old Dublin Strike Found Still Going Strong

By MICHAEL O'MARA.

DUBLIN, April 12 — (CP). — The world's longest strike is still going strong.

Publican Jim Downey recently celebrated the 10th anniversary of the picketing of his old-fashioned bar-room at nearby Dun Laoghaire by pouring free drinks for his customers. Outside, pickets from one of Eire's strongest unions paraded as usual.

A dozen men have marched 30,000 miles to keep the non-stop dispute going. It is estimated to have cost £15,000 ($60,000).

It began March 6, 1939, when Downey discharged barman Pat Young because business was slack. The powerful Irish National Union of Vintners, Grocers and Allied Trades Assistants took up the cudgels for Young, declaring that he, as a senior employee, should have been fired last; the barmaid should have gone first.

Plentiful Bar Help

Downey replied by discharging all union labor from his pub and advertising for non-union help, offering union rates of pay. He has never since had trouble getting men to help out behind the bar.

But tough Walter Beirne, secretary of the union, won't give up the fight.

"Ten years?" says he, "that is nothing. We'll go on 110 years if necessary. We don't mind the time or the expense. Our intention is to uphold trade union principles."

Replies 74-year-old Downey, who came to the pub at 15: "I will never employ a union member in my pub as long as I live."

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*
a drain on energy—a damper on charm!

How do you appear to others? Are you tired-looking and listless? Is your face pale? Have you lost charm along with the vitality you once had?

Such effects often come from a blood condition. You may have a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron. Your red blood cells may be too faded and weak to transmit full energy to your body. Many women, men and children drag their weary way through life with this Borderline Anemia.

How Ironized Yeast Tablets build up your blood and vigor

When your color is fading—and your energy is too low—due to this common blood condition, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells to healthy color and size—to help restore your usual vigor.

Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may be due to other conditions —so consult your doctor regularly.

But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to help build up your blood. Take them to start your energy shifting back into "high", to help restore your natural color. Take them so you can enjoy life again!

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

They Drained a Lake to give Canada a Great New Industry

IT HAPPENED in Ontario's Rainy River District. Steep Rock Lake — fifteen miles long and ranging in depth from 40 to 265 feet — was emptied by batteries of giant pumps. Finlayson Lake was lowered by draining from the bottom. The course of the Seine River was completely changed. And one of the richest bodies of iron ore on the continent was uncovered. Providing millions of tons of ore a year — with enough uncovered for years to come — Steep Rock's development has been spectacular, but it is only ONE of many examples of Canada's tremendous modern advance. Today we truly live in a Greater Canada—one with productive capacity vastly increased and diversified, offering to young Canadians greater opportunities than ever before in every field of endeavour.

The iron and steel manufacturing industry presents another spectacular example of development: productive capacity and number of employees have been doubled since before the war, striking indication of Canada's new position as one of the world's great industrial nations.

SO MANY OPPORTUNITIES

"A sound idea and the determination to carry it through—those are sure passports to success in Canada today where there are so many interesting opportunities in so many different kinds of activity" —says MR. LESLIE BUTCHER, of Windsor, Ont.

Mr. Butcher—member of Canada's 1936 Olympic basketball team—after returning from college in the U.S. and being manager of a local insurance office, started his own Butcher Enterprises. Their development provides many examples of this young Canadian's energy and enterprise. They include: a unique and successful service in the wrapping of products for shipping; and the modernization of the Windsor Arena to present outstanding sports and entertainment events with great success.

Court Convicts Nazi Diplomat

NURENBERG, April 12—(AP)—A United States war crimes court today convicted a German diplomat and a former S.S. (Elite Guard) general of helping the Nazis to exterminate 6,000,000 Jews.

The convicted diplomat is Gustav Steengracht von Moyland, 46, "bright young man" of Hitler's foreign office. The general is Gottlob Berger, 52, who headed the main office of Hitler's notorious S.S. forces.

Both also had been convicted yesterday of atrocities against Allied prisoners-of-war.

The reading of the court's 833-page verdict against 21 high officials and diplomats of the wartime German government brings three years of American war-crimes trials to their semi-final stage.

The pronouncement of sentences, which may range up to the death penalty, is scheduled for Thursday.

Plan Liquor Vote

LITTLE CURRENT, April 12—(CP)—A vote which could lead to legal sale of beer and liquor on Manitoulin Island is to be held on the island May 16. It will be a plebiscite on a proposal to repeal the Canada Temperance Act in this area. The Act forbids sale of liquor and beer on the island. If it is repealed, the island will automatically come under provisions of the Ontario Liquor Licence Act. Manitoulin Island is one of the few areas in Ontario to which the Canada Temperance Act applies.

BANDIT'S SHIELD—Ian Erlendson, five, was grabbed and used as a shield by a hold-up man who was shot dead attempting to escape with $3,000 loot from a bank at First and Commercial streets in Vancouver, April 8. Here Ian tells his mother, Mrs. Joseph Erlendson, about his experience.

Mayor Praises Nursing Registry

Mayor Swanston directed attention today to the Community Nursing Registry which has been operating in the city since the beginning of the year.

"I think it is a great asset to the public," Mayor Swanston said, "in its organizing of a nursing service and increasing nursing facilities for our citizens. People should know that it is available, and also how it may be obtained. It is a plan to avoid delay in securing the help of competent nurses for those who need it."

The local Nursing Registry is under the management of a main registrar and two assistant registrars, who are registered nurses, covering a 24-hour service for every day in the year, and stands ready to meet emergencies in both homes and hospitals.

This office also covers a call-answering service to a number of doctors when they are absent from their own telephones, as well as receiving after-hour calls for the Victorian Order of Nurses.

A central office has been set up through which the citizens may be provided with the best available nursing service, both professional and practical. The membership of this Community Nursing Registry embraces qualified, registered nurses to attend the acutely ill, and nursing assistants, which name replaces the formerly used term "practical nurses," who would take charge of the less serious cases. Credentials required from both groups are thoroughly evaluated so that the members of the registry go out fully qualified to give the employer exactly what he pays for on a standard rate system for each type.

Keep Up-to-Date

"Educational programs are provided by the Registry in an endeavor to maintain an up-to-date standard of efficiency of all its members. A thorough study is made to determine the nursing needs of the community and the full potential nursing strength in the community will be available.

A counselling program through which members may be given advice on personal problems and professional growth in an endeavor to promote improved performance of work will be available, as well as the opportunity to counsel with the public and give guidance in the types of nursing needed and also with employers of nurses regarding their needs with personnel to meet those needs.

Representative Board

This Registry functions under a local board of directors representative of nurses drawn from the hospital, Public Health, and private duty as well as physicians and lay persons. Each registry is one unit in the provincial plan, there being 24 such registries already in operation in Ontario with the professional backing of the "Registered Nurses Association of Ontario." Each unit functions separately and in co-operation with each other successfully. A registry adviser is made available by the Registered Nurses Association of Ontario for consultation with the registries throughout the Province as also is the committee of registries set up to give guidance. With this professional backing it is felt that the establishing of such a service in the community will be of incalculable value to the hospitals, doctors, nurses and to the public in general."

Mayor Swanston said the public would recognize that this new nursing service had been needed for a considerable time, and it was hoped that it would receive the interest and intelligent support of the community.

The telephone of the Registry Service is 20479.

Beer Rationed In BC

VICTORIA, B.C., April 12—(CP)—A beer drought, reminiscent of war days, was reported Monday from some Vancouver Island centres because of a truckers' strike. An embargo has been placed on shipments of beer and liquor from Vancouver and Victoria and picket lines have been established at Courtenay, up-island, to search out "hot" cargoes. Food shortages are threatened with grocery supplies low in several towns.

Can't Fill Contract

CARP, Ont., April 12—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said in a speech here Saturday that because Canadians were eating 100 per cent more pork products than in pre-war days, Canada will be unable to fulfill her 160,000,000-pound bacon contract with the United Kingdom this year. However, he believde that the total amount called for in the contract might be made up by deliveries after the contract period has ended.

Investigate Report

OTTAWA, April 12—(CP)—The immigration department is investigating a report that 60 Americans—members of the Seafarers' International Union—have been flown into Canada to man strike-bound ships at Halifax. A. L. Jolliffe, director of immigration, said Monday it had not yet been established whether the report was true. He added that no decision would be made on action to be taken, if any, until the investigation is completed.

"The Timken Wall-Flame solved my fuel oil problem!"

There is a difference in oil burners . . . a difference so great that Timken owners are using 25% less oil than their neighbors with ordinary oil burners.

This difference is the Timken Wall-Flame that blankets the walls of the heating plant with a live, blue-hot flame. Heating speed and comfort go up and heating costs go down—in fact, fuel economy is so pronounced that thousands of owners of ordinary oil burners have found it worth their while to replace with Timken, even though their burners were practically new.

And there are other Timken plus-values: Time-defying dependability. Whisper-quiet operation. Improved heating plant durability. Custom installations by factory-trained dealers. And a sincere and continuing factory-dealer interest in your satisfaction with your Timken.

Now's the time to install the comfort, convenience and cleanliness of Timken Oil Heat in your home. Phone your local Timken factory dealer today. His installation crews were never busier, but a lifetime of heating happiness will reward your patience.

In 'Round the World Trip Kate Aikens Finds Talk of War is General

"The world is talking of war—a Third World War. Nowhere do they talk of peace." Mrs. Kate Aitken made these statements Monday afternoon in St. Paul's Church to more than 1,200 women. She was speaking in Peterborough under joint sponsorship of St. Andrew's Church WA, George St. Church WA, Group Five, and St. Paul's Ladies' Aid.

"Today's World" was the title of Mrs. Aitken's address. It was based on a recent world flight which took her to China, Japan, Burma, India, Egypt, Palestine, Germany and England. She was away from Toronto and her work for only 17½ days.

Interested mainly in women's activities all over the world, Mrs. Aitken obtained her lodging with native families in all the world centres she visited. This enabled her to give a vital account of the way women and children live, eat and work in other countries; their hopes and fears; their attitude toward peace and international understanding.

The Germans are intense about the war they are sure is coming she said. They have been in two world wars out of which they have gained nothing. In this third conflict they will amount to something and will accomplish some of their desires.

Offers Two Weapons

Two powerful weapons with which women can fight a third terrible war and turn thoughts of the world to peace were offered by Mrs. Aitken.

"There is the weapon of prayer which I am afraid we have allowed to rust in our hands" she said. "People who are smart enough to pray wisely can bring peace, but these people only turn to prayer when they are scared to death."

"Individual thought with comprehension" is the second weapon she suggests. "If every woman accepts responsibility for world peace and understanding and continues to make some forward act for good it will bring peace closer."

Conditions A Challenge

Having studied the food crisis of Asia and social problems of Europe, Mrs. Aitken said "Not in our most optimistic moments can we feel that all is well with the world. Never can we find peace, contentment or happiness in a hemisphere where millions of people have not enough to eat or clothe themselves, nor indeed sufficient fuel to heat their houses."

"We women in Canada must reach out with every power we have, both individual and collective, and meet the challenge which lies closest at hand. We must arm ourselves not only with an emotional understanding of the problems of the world but with definite knowledge of conditions in countries less fortunate than ours. Only in this way can we hope to justify our proud position as favored women, for that is what we are in Canada."

"You would give a great deal more to missions if you had been in China and Japan" Mrs. Aitken told her audience. "My first act on returning to Toronto in January was to write a cheque for my own Missionary Society." Such scenes as the daily pick-up of three to four hundred dead bodies, mostly children, in Shanghai filled her with compassion. The average life span of a man in China is 32 years and of a woman 28 she said.

Japan wants a chance to put herself back on her feet, but Mrs. Aitken expressed doubt that the country will ever be able to pull out of its present condition without help. She spoke of entering Peiping, China, quite casually in spite of the Communist army ten miles away. In this country she had passport difficulties and her tape recorder, obtained for the trip at some expense, was confiscated and remains in bond at Shanghai.

"Burma is slowly strangling to death," the speaker said and blamed the British army for leaving the country too soon. Contacts there fell down completely and Mrs. Aitken was unable to make her intended visit. In fact she was warned that her throat might be cut if she stayed for throats are cut all the time in Burma.

Conditions Worse

In every place that Mrs. Aitken visited on her 25,000 mile trip she found conditions worse than she expected. Instead of bettering since her visits just after World War Two they were much more horrible and contemplation of the future was appalling.

"Only faith, hope, courage and work can save the world and its foundations," she said in conclusion.

Introduction of the speaker was made by Mrs. E. Wand. She was thanked by Mrs. I. H. Keefer and Mrs. R. Lewis presented a bouquet of roses on behalf of the three societies.

Mrs. J. McLeod, chcairman, made a brief address of welcome.

Mrs. G. Ham, Mrs. C. Pilon, Mrs. J. A. McColl, Mrs G. Leonard, Mrs. E. Roseborough, Mrs. B. H. Sisson, Mrs W. W. Sheppard.

Social conveners — Mrs. Bert Howson, Mrs. J. Boyd, Mrs. W. Sheppard.

Warns IODE Order Be Alert To Peril of Apathy

HAMILTON, April 12—(CP)—Mrs. Cecil L. Brown of Hamilton, president of the Ontario Chapter I.O.D.E., today warned delegates to the Order's 29th annual meeting that "they must remain alert to the deadly peril of apathy."

"So far as democracy is concerned, there is no such thing as achievement — only achieving," she said. "We must be vigilant... and see to it we are not artlessly lured by the glittering sophistry of Soviet subversive propaganda."

Mrs. Brown was one of three women who spoke at the three-day meeting's opening sessions.

Mrs. Ray Lawson, wife of Hon. Ray Lawson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, who is patroness of the Ontario Chapter I.O.D.E. and Mrs. F. P. McCurdy of Toronto, preident of the National Chapter, both brought greetings.

Mrs. McCurdy said "the true greatness of the order lies in its ideal of unselfish voluntary service."

She emphasized the power and influence of such agroup of some 32,000 women across Canada.

Mrs. S. Lambert Heads Sorority

Alpha Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday evening in the YWCA club room. The nominating committee, headed by Miss Mary Clifford, brought in the new slate of officers as follows: president, Mrs. S. Lambert; vice-president, Miss Elaine Cook; recording secretary, Miss Ruth Aiken; corresponding secretary, Mrs. B. Duder; treasurer, Miss Hazel Hunt.

A bridge is to be held in the Empress Hotel on Tuesday evening, April 26, at which the Sororists will entertain their friends

Mrs. F. Nelson's two minute topic was "Age of Voting." Mrs. G. McWilliams spoke on music as an inspiration and spoke of the work of Bach, Beethoven and Handel and music in the different countries of Europe.

Miss Elaine Cook spoke on the life of a philanthropist as a work of art and took as example Andrew Carnegie and his contributions to public libraries, churches, etc.

Mr. Michael Sadler spoke on the summer theatre which is to be opened in Peterborough in an endeavor to interest young people in this project.

Coffee was served by the social committee.

CUBIT MEASURE

The cubit, ancient measure of distance, was actually the length of a man's forearm from elbow to end of the middle finger.

Connie Nicholson Marries Douglas R. Free

The marriage took place Saturday in the parsonage of Mark Street United Church of Connie Nicholson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McArthur, Peterborough, to Douglas Richard Free, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Free, Campbellford. The Rev. R. E. Morton officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white slipper satin with flowing net covering the satin skirt. The fitted bodice had a sweetheart neckline, and long sleeves falling in points over the wrists. She wore a finger-tip veil of net caught to a halo of white roses, white lace mittens, and carried a nosegay of American Beauty roses and white sweetpeas.

The bridesmaid was Miss Lola Harrison, in a gown of blue sheer with full skirt and long gathered sleeves, trimmed with gold sequins at the neckline. She wore a cap of pink and blue flowers with shoulder veil of blue net, matching lace mittens, and carried a nosegay of pink carnations and sweet peas.

Mr. Ronald Hay of Campbellford was groomsman.

A reception was held at Club Aragon, where the bride's mother received, gowned black crepe with black lace top over pink satin and wearing a picture hat of black mohair with trimming of pink roses. She had a corsage of pink carnations and sweet peas. The groom's mother, who also received, was in a gown of grey and cerise flowered jersey, black hat and corsage of pink roses.

The bride and groom left for a trip to Toronto and Buffalo, the bride travelling in a light blue gabardine suit, grey shortie coat and black accessories, and corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Free will live in Campbellford.

Shaw-Smith Union At Prince Albert

A pretty wedding took place in Prince Albert Ontario United Church Saturday afternoon when Rosetta Lorraine Smith eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith was united in marriage to William Russell Shaw eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney S. Shaw of Oshawa. The Rev. W. C. Smith officiated. Background setting was of ferns, Easter lilies and spring flowers. Mrs. Ted Jackson was orgainst and Miss Norma Hockley soloist, both of Port Perry.

The bride was gowned in ivory brocaded satin fashioned with nylon net yoke and bertha, long tight sleeves ending in points over the hands, looped bustle and back flounces falling in slight train. She wore a finger tip veil fastened to halo of white feathers and carried her grandmother's fan trimmed with pink, white and blue roses and white ribbon streamers. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Lois Jeffrey as maid of honor was gowned in powder blue taffeta with low neckline and wide bertha collar, full skirt and wide sash. Her halo headdress and mittens were of white lace over blue taffeta. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of pink tulips with pale yellow streamers.

Misses Marion and Shirley Smith were their sister's bridesmaids gowned alike in powder blue taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice high round neckline and very full skirts. Net peplums and mittens matched their braided headdresses. Their nosegays were of yellow tulips with pink streamers. The flower girl, gowned in baby blue taffeta with yellow ribbon sash and yellow tulip nosegay, was Elizabeth Ann Lyle of Toronto.

Groomsman was Mr. Gene MacKenzie, Oshawa and the ushers were Raymond Webb, Plantagenet, and Kenneth Shaw, Oshawa.

A reception followed at the home of the bride where her mother received her guests wearing a grey, black and orchid printed jersey and corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother wore blue-grey crepe and corsage of red roses.

The bridal couple left later for Toronto and Niagara Falls. The bride travelled in a navy gabardine suit and grey accessories with orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will reside in Port Perry.

Out of town guests were from Toronto, Oshawa, Burlington, Peterborough, Norwood, Woodville, Haliburton, Plantagenet.

"Russia Today" Chapter's Topic

The meeting of XI Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held Monday evening in the YWCA.

Date of the Sorority bridge is to be April 26, and it is being held in the Kawartha room, Empress Hotel.

Mrs. J. King gave an interesting talk on "A Changing Land"—the Russia of today. She covered most informatively the present-day life of the Russians, their amusements, fashions, religion and business life. Miss Jean Cox then spoke on Russian music, art and literature. She gave a detailed account of the lives of five prominent Russian composers.

The chapter then met with Alpha Theta Chapter to hear a guest speaker, Mr. Michael Sadler, who spoke on "Summer Theatre in Canada." Mr. Sadler outlined the plays which the theatre is presenting in Peterborough, starting June 27 and running for ten consecutive weeks.

Refreshments were served at the close.

Combined Effort Conducts Meeting

Members of three women's societies, St. Paul's Ladies' Aid, St. Andrew's WA and Group Five of George St. WA, assisted with arrangement and conducting the meeting in St. Paul's Church Monday at which Mrs. Kate Aitken of Toronto was speaker.

They were:

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Too Much Parental Devotion Annoying to Newlyweds

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I have been married for a little over six months. We love each other dearly and would like to be alone together once in a while, but ours is the problem of the overly-devoted family. Mother and Father come to see us almost every evening and insist on our having dinner with them every Sunday and spending the entire day with them.

Dorothy Dix

Now, of course, I realize that it is because my parents love us that they want to be with us all the time, but my husband is fed up with my people. How can we tell them, gently and tactfully so as not to hurt them, that we would like to be by ourselves a little?

A COUPLE WHO LONG FOR A LITTLE PRIVACY

ANSWER: It would take the finesse of a high-ranking diplomat to convey to your parents the information that you were suffering from an overdose of their society and could do with less. A mere hint would not suffice. They would simply have to be knocked down with a club to make them even suspect that they were in the way.

And it would break their hearts to find it out, for human vanity is such that it is impossible for us to conceive that we could ever bore anybody, or that they could grow tired of us. Parents especially never dream that they are not as interesting to their children as their children are to them, or that their children do not enjoy their society as much as they do their children's.

Want Own Companions

They do not realize that, although their children may love them dearly, they do not want to be regaled with Father's old stories and Mother's discussion of the house, as a steady diet. They want companions of their own who speak their own language, who do the same things they like to do and with whom they can laugh and skylark.

There is no greater problem than that of parasitic parents, but I don't know what is to be done about it unless parents will rise to the unselfishness of considering their children's happiness before their own. They should realize that no matter how fond of them their children may be, nor how dutiful they are, they want to be left to themselves some of the time.

Children can't tell their parents that they bore them, but parents should have enough gumption to know that they do without having to be told.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a man of 30. I have had love affairs with many women, but have tired of them all. Now I have met a woman with whom I feel that I have really and truly fallen in love. But, frankly, I am afraid to marry her because after a few months I might grow weary of her.

What am I to do?

A FICKLE MAN.

ANSWER: There are men who are born philanderers, incapable of any lasting affection, and whom no woman on earth could hold, no matter if she were a concatenation of every feminine charm and grace. Such men must know their own natures, and I have often wondered that they did not have enough humanity about them to refrain from marrying and breaking women's hearts and messing up their lives.

These men would save themselves from much trouble and alimony by keeping themselves free to follow every passing skirt, and what a blessing their keeping out of matrimony would be to women!

If you know yourself to be so fickle, you will be wise to wait at least a year, before marriage. If after that time you are still in love with the same girl, you may be very sure that she is IT.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a bachelor, and this is my gripe: Married women are constantly calling me asking me to be their escorts to dances, concerts, dinners, etc., in the absence of their husbands. Now with some husbands this might be all right, but with others it might be all wrong.

The situation worries me, but I don't know what to do about it. I hate to be a prude in the matter, yet I also would hate to get in trouble. What's to do about it?

A BACHELOR.

ANSWER: It doesn't do any man's reputation any good with other men for him to be always hanging around some married woman, in her husband's absence. In the first place, it is a dangerous game and, in the second place, he gets known as a tame cat or a boudoir pet and that is fatal to his career.

So my advice to you is that when a married woman's voice comes sweetly over the phone asking you to take her places, just say "nothing doing," and hang up. Flee from her as you value your life.

Mrs. S. J. Houlihan Heads St. Peter's Women's League

Mrs. S. J. Houlihan was elected president of the Catholic Women's League, St. Peter's sub-division at the annual meeting for the year ending April 6, held in St. Mary's School. Miss May Grady, retiring president, was in the chair for the meeting.

Increasing interest in the work of the League was shown by the largest attendance of the year. A comprehensive outline of year's activities was contain... a report prepared by Miss Grady which covered membership, meetings, finance, social welfare, etc. Treasurer Miss T. Hurley reported $454.67 realized through a membership tea, rummage sale, spring tea, sale of home baking, Christmas cash donations, travelling apron and mirror raffle. Expenditures totalled $366.94.

Nine boxes of clothing for European relief were gathered, packed and shipped to the Rev. J. J. Farrell FJ at Toronto. The subdivision also provided and served a wedding breakfast for the Polish couple who were the first Displaced Persons to be married in St. Peter's Cathedral on January 22. The ladies were also hostesses for a tea following a Diocesan Convention held in June 1948.

Draw on the plate glass mirror displayed at the spring tea was made and Mrs. F. Hickey, 360 Simcoe St., was winner. The travelling apron prize was won by Mrs. P. J. Doris, Stewart St.

Instead of the annual Retreat it was decided to hold a day of Recollection later this month. The date will be set by the League's spiritual adviser the Rev. P. P. Butler. A spiritual bouquet is being forwarded to Pope Pius 12 who celebrated his Golden Jubilee recently.

The treasurer was authorized to issue cheques for contributions to Diocesan and National scholarships.

Retiring president Miss M. Grady was presented with a lovely handbag by members to show their appreciation of her leadership.

The new executive was installed by Mrs. P. Burke, chairman of the nominations committee. Assisting Mrs. Houlihan, president will be: first vice-president Mrs. T. Carroll; second vice-president, Mrs. Leo Picard; third vice-president Mrs. J. J. Crowley; recording secretary (pro tem) Miss M. Grady; corresponding secretary, Miss Rose Brennan; treasurer, Miss T. Hurley; councillors, Miss Lillian Hurley, Mrs. P. J. Doris, Miss Anna Murray and Mrs F. Hickey.

Mrs. A. Willis, assisted by Mrs. P. J. Cadigan, staged an amusing contest in which all took part, and about ten won nice prizes.

AUSTIN—In loving memory. "Dear wife and mother we think of you, Friends are friends if they are true, We lost our best friend when we lost you." —Husband and son.

BLODGETT—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, John Blodgett, who died seven years ago, April 12th. "Gone is the face we loved so dear, Silent is the voice we loved to hear; Too far away for sight or speec But not too far for thought to read, Sweet to remember him who once was here, And who, though absent, is just as dear." —Ever remembered by wife and family.

JOHNSTON—In loving memory of a dear husband, Frederick W. Johnston, who passed away April 12, 1944. Remembrance is the rose that blooms Eternal year from year. Sweet memories clinging to the heart Keep loved ones ever near. The tender thoughts that linger on Are links that ever bind The loved ones who have gone before With those they leave behind —Ever remembered by his wife, Emma.

MORRISON—In loving memory of John Morrison, who passed away eight years ago today. Nothing can ever take away The love a heart holds dear, Fond memories linger every day, Remembrance keeps him near. —Ever remembered by wife and family.

SHURETY—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother "Nellie", who passed away April 12, 1939. The world may change from year to year, And friends from day to day, But never will the one we loved From memory pass away. —Ever remembered by husband and family.

Describes Habits Of Maskinonge

The pressing need of doing everything possible to conserve the maskinonge population in the various resort lakes of the province was impressed upon the members of the Peterborough branch of the Associated Canadian Travellers by Peter McGillen when he addressed them on Saturday. Mr. McGillen also gave his hearers a description of the habits and characteristics of the "muskie." His talk was both interesting and timely.

Mr. McGillen requested the cooperation of the local travellers' group in spreading information on this subject by means of their many contacts with the general public. He said he knew of no body of men better fitted to help in this great work.

Doug Vaisey, representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce, appealed to the members to give their full support to the mass tuberculosis B-ray survey to be carried out in Peterborough later this month. He thanked them for the welcome assistance which the travellers gave the Junior Chamber in the operation of the tourist bureau on Highway 28 last summer.

The following guests were introduced: Earl Wilson, Doug Vaisey, Ed Simmonds and Russel Beare.

Prizes for good attendance were presented to Don Meredith, Earle O'Toole and Tom Gadd.

Remand Youths For Sentence In Theft Cases

COBOURG, April 12 (ENS) — One of the longest sessions of police court in some time was held Monday.

Gerald McCauley, age 20 of Aylmer; Donald Wainwright and Ronald Deadman of Hamilton, appeared on breaking and entering and theft charges in connection with the robberies of Macgles' store in Cobourg and Linton's store in Port Hope. The Port Hope robbery occurred on March 19 and the Cobourg one on the following day.

McCauley pleaded not guilty to the Cobourg robbery but after the evidence was in, the magistrate found him guilty. All three were remanded until April 19 for sentence.

Sol Margles, proprietor of the clothing store, told the court that he had seen the three accused in his store the day before the robbery, trying on men's clothing, some of which he discovered was stolen on going into his store after the robbery. Entrance was affected by forcing a rear window. Mr. Margles said that his loss was around $1,000, of which half was recovered.

Evidence of the subsequent investigations which centred in Hamilton, was given by Provincial Constable Don Nicol and Constable H. Pearse of the Cobourg police department. Chief C. W. Graham of Port Hope, testifying about the Port Hope robbery, said that about $300 worth of merchandise out of the $1,000 stolen had been recovered with the arrest of the trio.

Guilty of Theft

Ronald Hineman, ward of the Bowmanville Boys' Training School, pleaded guilty in court to theft of three watches from Beer's jewellery store in Port Hope on March 7. It was revealed that the boy was injured in a factory accident and ran out of money to pay his board, while waiting for his Workmen's Compensation cheque. He was allowed on suspended sentence.

In connection with the same offense, James Reilly, restaurant worker, was charged with receiving two of the watches. As there was not sufficient evidence to show that Reilly knew the watches were stolen when Hineman sold them to him, the charge was dismissed.

Irvin Smoke, Alderville, pleaded not guilty to a drunk driving charge and was remanded until April 25.

Club Presents 3-Act Comedy

Members of the Mr. and Mrs. Club of George Street United Church scored a big hit with the large audience which witnessed their presentation of the three-act comedy, "Everybody Works But Father," by Orville Snapp, on Friday night in the Sunday School hall of the church. A good sum of money was raised for the work of the church, and all members of the cast gave good performances which brought many laughs.

The play was directed by Quirt McKinney and the members of the cast were as follows: The father, played by Ted Huck; the mother, Olive Howden; daughter, Evelyn Hamblin; son, Bill Buckley; uncle, Frank Morton; daughter's boy friend, Lloyd Wells; revolutionist, Bob Healey; wealthiest girl in town, Jeanne Walker; town gossip, Martha Wardlaw; and maid, Jan Morton.

High Praise Given For Unselfish Work

High praise of the devoted and unselfish service to the work of her church was paid by Rev. Dr. James Semple, pastor of George Street United Church, at the funeral of Mrs. Harriette McIlmoyle, 110 Antrim St., which was held on Saturday afternoon from the funeral home of A. Comstock & Sons. Mrs. McIlmoyle died at her residence on Thursday following a brief illness.

The funeral was attended by a large number of relatives and friends of Mrs. McIlmoyle, and Dr. Semple was assisted in the service by Rev. Dr. J. R. Cooper.

Pallbearers were Warren Nichols, Allen McConkey, Holly McIlmoyle, Oscar Nichols, James McConkey and Orval McConkey.

Interment was made in Little Lake cemetery.

ANCIENT NAVAL BASE

Alexandria, Egypt, became a naval base more than 2,000 years ago, when Alexander the Great found it to aid in his campaign against Persia.

Houses Failing Apart Won't Plead Guilty

LINDSAY, April 12 (CP) — "We won't plead guilty to breaking and entering buildings where the roofs are falling off and where you can walk through the walls," chimed a trio of Hamilton youths charged with breaking and entering and theft from five farm house properties in the sparsely settled northern part of Victoria County.

The three, William Lockwood, 22, Fred Ernest, 18, and Robert Cooper, 17, were arrested in April 3 and were remanded in police court until April 20.

Found Guilty Battery Theft

Murray Nice, 19, 581 Douglas Ave., was today sentenced to two terms of two months each to run concurrently, when Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, found him guilty of stealing a car battery from Ross Lowes and he pleaded guilty to theft of a car battery from Mackie Conroy. Nice had previously been acquitted of a charge of stealing another battery, the owner of which was unknown to the police.

After the magistrate had read Nice's police record, W. B. Gordon, defence counsel, said he thought there was a chance of redemption and asked for the imposition of a fine in preference to a jail sentence.

Mr. Philp remarked that if Nice had gone to work as the majority of people had to do, he might not have found himself in his present position. He recommended that Nice obtain work after serving his term.

At the hearing of the case earlier this month Detective William Clarke told how he had seen Nice take a battery from a car on the CGE parking lot one night after dark. Nice had presented an alibi.

The crown offered no evidence against Lorne Fontaine, Aylmer St., charged with stealing the same battery in respect of which Nice was acquitted.

Wrecked Auto Driver Jailed

Alan Hailstone, Madoc was convicted Monday of drunken driving by Magistrate W. R. Philp K. C. city police court and sentenced to seven days in jail.

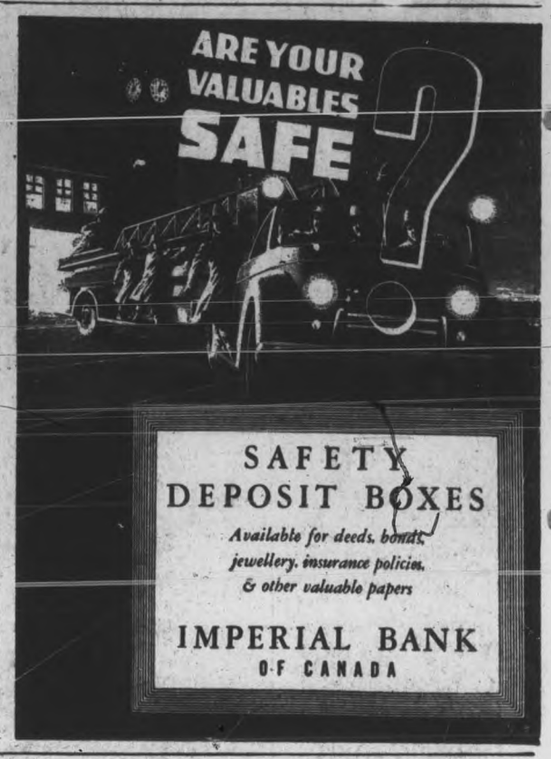
At a previous hearing Provincial Constable A. Kellog said that when he arrived at the scene of an accident on Mar. 11 three and a half miles east of Havelock he saw a 1946 car which was "literally wrapped around" a telephone pole. When he stated that Hailstone, driver of the car, had been drunk, T. J. Carley, K. C. complained that the officer was usurping the functions of the court. The constable said the accused's voice had been thick and difficult to understand and when he walked some 25 or 30 feet to the police cruiser, he had staggered.

Mr. Carley drew the court's attention to a back injury from which Hailstone was suffering. Constable Kellog said the accused was not walking like an injured man.

The ability of an officer to determine the sobriety of a man from the way in which he walked 30 or 40 feet was challenged by Mr. Carley. The constable had also stated that the accused smelt of alcohol.

Walter Lightowlers, in front of whose house the accident occured, described how he and Dr. D. Holdcroft had endeavored to get Hailstone out of the car, which had turned on its side. Mr. Lightowlers said the accused groaned and mumbled. They were unable to remove him, but later he got out of the car unaided.

Belleville Hearing Ends After 26 Days



BELLEVILLE, April 12.—(CP).—The first phase of Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay's king-sized investigation of Ontario Provincial Police activities is over. Hearings were concluded yesterday and Mr. Justice Mackay will make his report to the attorney-general, but it won't be ready for at least a month

In 26 days of public hearings Mr. Justice Mackay, sitting as a royal commissioner, heard 42 witnesses — including two county court judges and officials of four police forces — give 1,500,000 words of evidence on the allegations made by John Ernest Keays, a 44-year-old provincial constable.

Mr. Justice Mackay ordered written argument on the evidence to be submitted by May 10 by Constable Keays, Mr. Donnan and Malcolm Robb, counsel for five of the police officers.

The Marguerite is the first of two vessels planned for the British Columbia coast service.

WMS At Warsaw Plans Easter Bazaar

WARSAW, April 12—(ENS)—Easter meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held recently in the basement of the church.

The president, Mrs. Unstead, conducted the worship service, Mrs. Hawthorne read the scripture lesson and Mrs. Unstead led in prayer.

Mrs. Tom Cooper was appointed secretary and Mrs. George Taylor, assistant.

Mrs. Harold Payne, president of the Women's Association, took charge and made final plans for a bazaar which will be held Easter week. Mrs. Roland Payne and Mrs. Stuart Clysdale sang a duet. Mrs George Taylor gave the fifth chapter of the Study Book "West of the Gorges." She was assisted by Mrs Edwards, Mrs. T. Cooper, Mrs. J. Crowe. Mrs. Ed. Bell and Miss Clara McCracken. Fifteen women sat down to a salad supper.

Immunization Clinic For Hastings

HASTINGS, April 12—(ENS)—The Northumberland-Durham Health Unit has announced that an immunization clinic for children under school age will be held in the Council Chambers on April 20th, May 18th and June 15th from two to four p.m.

Mothers are reminded that a reinforcing dose is recommended for children immunized more than a year ago.

The reinforcing dose requires only one needle, and can be given on either of the mentioned dates. Those having their first dose, which is recommended as soon as the child reaches six months, require three injections, one on each of the specified dates.

Child Falls On Head

Jeannie, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smullin, Victoria Street, fell on Saturday afternoon while playing in the back porch, cutting her head open. Five stitches were required to close the cut. The child was climbing and fell off a washstand approximately four feet high.

Finger Amputated

George Alfred, RR 3, Havelock, got his right hand caught in a circular saw on Saturday afternoon while sawing wood at the home of Mr. L. Humphries, Bridge Street, Hastings. The injured man was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, where the little finger of his right hand was amputated.

Taxes Heavy For Long Time McCann Says

Sees Canada's Trade Beset With Difficulties Opposes Barter Deals

TORONTO, April 13 (CP) — Taxation in Canada is heavy and will probably continue that way for some time, Revenue Minister McCann predicted today.

In an address prepared for delivery before the Canadian Importers and Traders Association, Dr. McCann said high taxation was tied to high living standards and a heavy demand for protection and community services.

He described the outlook for Canada in the world of trade as "encouraging" although beset with difficulties, and declared that the government is opposed to barter deals, discrimination and balancing of trade accounts with individual countries.

Discussing the reasons for high taxes in Canada, Dr. McCann said: "We have engaged our whole resources in two world wars during the course of one generation, and all this stupendous waste of physical resources could not be paid for immediately, it must be liquidated from taxes payable in the future."

Canada's problems were problems of abundance, of too much of nearly everything. Adjustment was necessary. There was no easy "financial device" by which Canada's difficulties could be overcome.

The Revenue Minister declared that improvement must be sought in Canada's export trade position, even though it "has stood up relatively well."

Canada could not be satisfied with the present situation or immediate prospects. Alternative outlets for Canadian products had to be found.

Some had urged that Canada embark upon barter deals, discrimination and the balancing of trade accounts with individual countries.

It was the government's belief that the "inevitable effects of these bilateral, discriminatory deals is to diminish to total volume of world trade."

One objection was that under the deals Canada might find herself forced to accept surplus products she didn't want in order to unload surpluses of her own.

U.S. Relief Head Held By Czechs

PRAGUE, April 13 (AP) — Miss Vlasta Vraz of Chicago, head of the American Relief for Czechoslovakia here since 1945, has been under arrest since last Saturday, charged with political activity, it was disclosed by the United States Embassy today.

The Embassy said her case was being watched, and all appropriate steps would be taken.

The American Relief for Czechoslovakia provides food for children there.

Ambassador Joseph E. Jacobs' office said the United States Embassy was keeping in touch with the Vraz case.

Embassy officials said that no answer had been given them so far on their request for more information about the secret trial and long jail terms for two American soldiers who wandered across the Czechoslovak border from Germany and were accused of being spies.

Stratford Alderman Wounded In Abdomen

STRATFORD, April 13 (CP) — Alderman Thomas Jones is in hospital today with a gunshot wound in his abdomen and police are continuing their investigation into the shooting.

Ald. Jones was found bleeding in the basement of his electrical appliance store yesterday afternoon. He started the business following his discharge with the rank of Squadron Leader from the RCAF several years ago.

Now serving his second term on City Council, he is chairman of the Fair Grounds and Cemetery Committee.

Police declined to reveal more than bare details of the shooting.

Stop Talking, Act UN Told

NEW DELHI, April 13.—(AP). — Representatives of 11 Asian countries today gave the United Nations another prod to quit talking about the Indonesian problem and get it solved.

A communique announced the surprise meeting of representatives went on record demanding "prompt and satisfactory settlement of the Indonesian problem in accordance with the UN Security Council's resolution of Jan. 28."

That resolution had ordered the Netherlands to grant self-rule to all Indonesia and restore to power the Indonesian Republican leaders who had proclaimed portions of Java, Sumatra and Madoera a sovereign republic, independent of the Dutch crown.

Meeting today were representatives of India, Afghanistan, Australia, Ceylon, China, Egypt, Iran, Nepal, Pakistan, Siam and Burma. Those countries also were among 19 which met here in January in a conference that demanded that the UN take what they called "overdue" action to end Dutch rule and military activity in Indonesia.

Discussions are scheduled to start Thursday in Java between Dutch and Indonesian officials.

Police Nab Five Suspects Find $1,000 On Empty Farm

ST. THOMAS, April 13—(CP). — Provincial Police under the direction of Corporal J. H. Marsland made fast time of rounding up five young men as suspects following a break-in at a hardware store in Sparta, ten miles southeast of here early today. The store safe was removed by the robbers and left on an abandoned farm east of the little village.

Within 45 minutes after the alarm was raised, the five suspects were apprehended half a mile south of Aylmer and about eight miles east of the scene of the robbery in a motor car said to have been stolen in St. Thomas. The five men apprehended are Clifford Tansley, James J. McNeil, Anthony McNeil, Ferguson Roy and Vincent Thomas, all of the district.

Corporal Marsland said the safe containing about $1,000 evidently had been hurriedly left on the abandoned farm with the robbers planning to return this evening to force it open. Two rifles, boxes of ammunition, a radio receiving set, cigarettes, candy, and other merchandise was taken from the store. Police said it was found in the stolen car.

Jail 20 Seamen In Ship Strike

LIVERPOOL, England, April 13 (CP)—Twenty of 28 seamen from the Canadian freighter Seaboard Ranger, who have been striking since April 1 in connection with the Canadian deep-sea strike, today were sentenced to prison terms for disobeying the ship's captain order to return to work.

Five of the seamen were sentenced to two months and 15 to one month. The other eight were bound over.

The men were found guilty Monday but the court adjourned the cases to give the men a chance to consider their strike position. The Canadian strike is a jurisdictional dispute between the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) and the Seafarers Internatinonal Union (A.F.L.).

Defence counsel J. J. Tarsh said appeals would be lodged in each case.

50 Armed Men Aiding Search

BOLTON, Ont., April 13 (CP)—Nearly 50 citizens, some armed joined forces with Provincial Police last night in an extensive search for a suspected car thief, believed to be hiding in the Bolton or Woodbridge district, 70 miles northwest of Toronto.

The manhunt, said to be one of the most extensive in Peel county history, started Tuesday night when a Brampton police officer spotted a speeding auto and attempted to stop it. The speeding car was abandoned by its four occupants here after it struck a large rock and careened into a ditch.

Three of the four occupants, two young girls and a sailor, all from Hamilton, were arrested but a second man escaped. The trio were released when they told police they had hitched a ride from Hamilton with the other man. Police said ownership of the car has not yet been established since the license plates were also stolen.

The search for the suspected thief was scheduled to resume today.

To Spend Year In Jail Before Trial For Murder

RIMOUSKI, Que., April 13 — (CP)—Mrs. Elise Plante Dube, 40, today awaited transfer to Quebec women's jail where she will spend a full year before her trial for the shotgun murder of her 18-year-old daughter Irene.

Only an order from the Attorney General will hasten the trial date fixed yesterday for the March Assizes of 1950.

The dark-eyed mother, charged with killing her daughter April 5 after a 24-hour drinking-dancing party in her camp at Matane-Sur-Mer, 50 miles below this Gaspe Peninsula town, sat quietly through the preliminary hearing.

Asked if she had anything to say she wept quietly and said nothing.

Dominique Gaudet, a witness who described himself as "a friend" of Mrs. Dube, said there had been quarrels throughout the previous night and during the day.

He described the scene when one of Mrs. Dube's nephews who had been with Irene at the time moved to pick up the body. Mrs. Dube stopped him saying: "Leave her there, she's all right there."

Two other witnesses were musicians who provided the party with music for reels and square dances untili 9.30 a.m., April 5. They said the mother and daughter quarrelled continuously with the mother wielding a 16-gauge shotgun at various times.

One of the musicians said he heard the mother say: "Shut up or you'll get a shot in the belly." He said Irene dared her mother, telling her: "Kill me, I prefer to die than have a mother like you."

The two musicians left the house before the shooting.

Say Troops May Be Used In Unloading

1,300 Dockers Vote To Return For Daytime Work

LONDON, April 13 (CP)—The first back-to-work moves came today in the dock strike paralyzing the port of London when 1,300 dockers of the Transport and General Workers voted to return tomorrow.

The men voted to return only for day work, declining to work overtime or nights until the case of 32 men arrested as "redundant" is settled.

Some 13,000 other dockers and stevedores remained on strike and it is estimated 88 ships are tied up, some with undischarged food cargoes.

Meanwhile the Cabinet considered the strike and held itself ready to take any quick action needed to safeguard vital food and export cargoes still being held up.

Commenting on the return-to-work vote, an official of the TG WU said, "we are satisfied that the unofficial strike now is finished. That decision will most probably bring about a general resumption."

May Use Troops

It was unofficially reported the Cabinet had authorized the Labor Ministry to order emergency unloading arrangements—including possible use of troops—on the docks if the strike continues.

But the government was expected to defer any decision to act pending the outcome of this afternoon's meeting between Labor Minister Isaacs and the executive of the National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers Union.

The Stevedores and Dockers Union, whose "stop work" order to 7,000 members precipitated the strike three days ago, held a mass meeting today but adjourned until tomorrow to await their leaders' report on this afternoon's meeting with the Labor Ministry chiefs.

Rival meetings were being called by the powerful Transport and General Workers Union, some of whose members have joined the strike.

Labor Controls London Council

LONDON, April 13 (Reuters)—Crowds who had queued for hours today saw Labor win control of London in the teeth of fierce opposition from Conservatives in the London County Council. Last week's election for the Council ended in a tie—with 64 seats each—between Labor and Conservatives.

The additional votes of Labor Aldermen still retaining their seats from the last Council allowed the Labor party to bring in J. W. Bowen, Labor defeated in the public election, as chairman. Voting was 71 to 64.

The subsequent appointment of 11 new aldermen ended in the election of six Labor members and five Conservatives. This, with 10 Labor aldermen already sitting, made the final position of the Council.

Labor 80, Conservatives 69, Liberals one.

Moon Disappears In Black Eclipse

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP). — The moon made astronomical history Tuesday night.

It disappeared for an hour.

Scientists said the "black eclipse" was the first one like it here in more than 100 years.

The event also chalked up another 20th-century milestone — the advent of drawing-room skygazing.

The solar spectacle was piped into thousands of American homes via television.

The top of the Empire State Building was jammed as the moon slid into the shadow of the earth and gradually became invisible.

Snake For Bedfellow

TULSA, Okla., April 13—(AP).—Jim Phillips woke up screaming early yesterday. There was a 12-foot snake in bed with him. His roommate, Bill Cadion, borrowed the tame python for an exhibition. It escaped from its box during the cold night and curled up with the warmest object handy—Jim. "I'll bet I never get another good night's sleep again," Phillips moaned.

Eastern Canada Allan Cup Final Cancelled

MIDLAND, April 13 —(CP)— George S. Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, announced today that the Eastern Canada Allan Cup hockey final has been cancelled and that Toronto Marlboros will enter the cup final against the Western Canada champions.

Mr. Dudley said in a statement this action was taken because of failure of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association to have a champion ready to meet the Marlboros, who won the eastern semi-final, by Friday, April 15.

(Ottawa Senators won the championship of the Quebec Senior Hockey League Tuesday night and it was expected they would enter the Eastern final against the Marlboros. However, it was reported in Toronto that the Q.A.H.A. has ordered the Senators to play a further series with the Isle Maligne team which won the Quebec intermediate title.)

Mr. Dudley explained his action in a 375-word statement which said the Quebec association had applied for an extension of time to April 18 "but it had been impossible for the C.A.H.A. to grant this."

The statement said playoff dates were arranged in August, 1948, so leagues and branches could draw their schedules accordingly. Quebec was given a bye into the Eastern final. At the C.A.H.A. semi-annual meeting in Winnipeg Jan. 15 Quebec had asked for an extension of time. A three-day extension was granted, the Eastern final to start April 12.

On his own responsibility, Mr. Dudley, who is in charge of playoffs in Eastern Canada, later granted a further three-day extension to April 15.

Every other C.A.H.A. branch in Canada had complied with playoff arrangements, the statement said.

To Manufacture Jets

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP) — Trade Minister Howe announced today that the Canadian Government has acquired rights to manufacture in the Dominion the F-86 jet fighter aircraft. Negotiations are under way with Canadair Limited, Montreal, to produce the planes.

Sidetrack Application

NEW YORK, April 13 (CP) — The United Nations General Assembly voted today to sidetrack Israel's application for membership by sending the question to committee for further discussion.

Cut Number Of Factories To Be Removed From Western Germany

Reduction Initiated By US Officials To Assist ERP Plan; French Also Keeping More In Their Zone

WASHINGTON, April 13 — (AP). — The United States, Britain and France today announced a sharp cut in the number of factories to be removed from western Germany. All or part of 159 plants are to be removed from the reparations list previously agreed upon. A United States State Department announcement said the amount of equipment formerly scheduled for removal but now to be left there varies among the 159 plants "from a single piece of equipment in a plant to the entire equipment of an operating factory."

"The equipment which will be retained in Germany is located in 32 plants in the steel industry, 88 metal working plants, 32 chemical plants and seven plants in the non-ferrous metal industries," the announcement said.

Five of the steel industry plants it was explained, produce crude steel and these will raise western Germany's steelmaking capacity by 165,000,000 tons annually.

The production ceiling of 11,100,000 tons a year remains.

The cut in the German reparations list was made on the initiative of the United States as a result of a survey by a group of American industrialists.

To Aid ERP Program

The State Department announcement said that the revision of the reparations list "was made in order to bring the reparation dismantling program into harmony with the European Recovery Program."

"Under it, those plants which, if retained in Germany, can contribute most effectively to the co-ordinated economic revival of the countries participating in the European recovery program will be removed from the reparation dismantling list."

The announcement added moreover that "the removal of equipment not yet completely dismantled and removed will be completed as quickly as possible."

The State Department said that in addition to the 159 plants covered in today's announcement, the French had decided previously to keep in their occupation zone the equipment in 40 other plants or parts of plants which had been included in the original list of 381 examined by the Humphrey committee.

Released From Jail

LOS ANGELES, April 13—(AP).—Betty Ritchie, Fenelon Falls school teacher, was released from jail Tuesday on $1,000 immigration bond. The 24-year-old brunette, acquitted Monday of receiving stolen property in the Gerard Dennis case, may soon be on her way back to Toronto. Her lawyer, Robert A. Schwamb, said she would not fight an immigration ouster on the ground she has overstayed her visitors' permit.

U.S. Oil Tanker Ablaze After Collision

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP) — The 13,000-ton oil tanker Pennsylvania Sun was ablaze in Delaware Bay today after colliding with an inbound 7,000-ton freighter in the darkness of early morning.

Radio reports said there had been no casualties aboard either ship, but the burning tanker indicated it was in considerable danger and sent out an urgent appeal for additional flame-fighting equipment. A plane was dispatched from Brooklyn with an emergency supply of flame-smothering chemicals.

The master of the United States Lines freighter American Attorney radioed he was in no need of assistance.

One man was swept overboard from the tanker by the force of the collision, but later was picked up by a rescue ship, the SS Great Falls Victory.

The ships crashed at 2:40 a.m. EST in a wide part of Delaware Bay, about 30 miles northwest of Cape May, the southern tip of New Jersey.

Cause of the collision was not known here.

The freighter, formerly the Attleboro Victory, carries from 50 to 60 men and was en route from Norfolk, Vt., to Philadelphia to load cargo.

Fear Epidemic Among Villagers

ST. JOHN'S, April 13 (CP)—Ice-bound Labrador, slowly recovering from a starvation threat, was faced with possibilities of an influenza epidemic today.

Yesterday an R.C.A.F. Dakota from Goose Bay, Labrador, flew some 250 miles north along the coast to parachute medicine to the village of Hebron where some 47 persons are reported suffering from influenza.

A nurse in Hebron cited the greatest need as penicillin. It was not believed there had been any deaths so far.

Meanwhile, the transport department icebreaker Saurel was making her way for St. Mary's Bay and other coastal villages along a 50-mile strip where many families were threatened with starvation last week.

It is understood the food will tide the villages over the crucial period. The Saurel, carrying some $25,000 worth of food, will smash its way through the Labrador ice barriers to deliver its mercy cargo. Its supply is expected to be sufficient for the villages until the ice blockade is lifted.

2 CSU Leaders Released On $4,000 Bail In Halifax

HALIFAX, April 13 (CP)—Two leaders of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) were released on $4,000 bail each when they appeared in court here today charged with illegal possession of offensive weapons.

Magistrate R. E. Inglis set April 20 as the date for the preliminary hearing of Atlantic organizer H. C. Meade, 44, and Port Agent Gus Genites, 24.

Meade gave his hometown as Brockville, Ont. Genites said he is a native of Montreal and a resident of Halifax for the past two years.

Parker T. Hickey, Assistant Crown Prosecutor, asked that bail be denied on the grounds that "the Crown must keep peace between factions. The quantity of weapons found showed that the situation was dangerous and these men are responsible leaders. They should be held to deter any further violence."

R. A. Kanigsbrg, defence counsel, said that if the men were held without bail it was an admission by the Crown it could not cope with the situation. The fact that a rock-throwing incident occurred Tuesday night while the men were in jail showed that their influence was not as great as the Crown indicated.

Police said that they found the following list of weapons in the CSU hall Tuesday night when they arrested the two men: 22 axe-handles, one blackjack, two iron bars, three bannister uprights, one piece of rubber hose, and one broom handle.

Two CSU pickets, also arrested Tuesday night and remanded for hearing April 20, were Angus Kingsley, 29, of Halifax and Michael Hyrcho, 21, of Arvida, Que.

Police Say Kidnapping Just A Father's Hoax

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., April 13 (AP)—Police today branded as a father's hoax the kidnapping of a five-year-old boy and said the lad's mother is inclined to agree.

The child's father, Joe Goodman, Sr., is in jail on charges of suspicion of grand theft as a result of an investigation into the case. The theft charge is not connected with the kidnapping story.

Police Chief C. H. Anderson flatly described Goodman's story of the kidnapping and $33,000 ransom money as "an attempt to gain sympathy so he wouldn't be pressed to pay $15,000 in gambling debts which he admitted owing."

Jump In Home Consumption Makes Canada Unable To Fill Bacon Contract

Drop In Hog Marketings Second Reason Commitment Can't Be Met; Egg, Cheese Agreements Likely Fulfilled

OTTAWA, April 13—(CP).—Two unexpected developments —a jump in domestic consumption and a drop in hog marketings—constitute the main reason why Canada will be unable to fill her 160,000,000-pound bacon contract with Britain this year. Agriculture Minister Gardiner said last week-end the commitment could not be met.

Agricultural authorities confirm this statement by reporting that weekly shipments at "something less than" 1,000,000 pounds against a required weekly allotment of 3,000,000 pounds if 160,000,000 pounds are to be sent by the year-end.

Completion of the other two 1949, food contracts with Britain —for eggs and cheese—appear assured. The eggs contract calls for approximately 77,000,000 dozen and the cheese deal with 50,000,000 pounds and agricultural officials say current deliveries indicate they will be filled.

Though the inability to complete the bacon agreement stems directly from the slump in marketings and a sudden public taste for pork, livestock experts here trace the shortage of export pork back to the fall of 1947 when the price ceilings on grain fed to hogs were removed.

Narrow Profit

At that time, he farmer obtained $29 per 100 pounds for his hog under the existing British contract and the sudden rise of the hog-raising business, a new price of $36 per 100 pounds was negotiated in December, 1947, for the 1948 contract, but by that time, says the experts, tht damage was done.

Wih a new price incentive, the farmers returned to hog production, but on a 1948 commitment of 195,000,000 pounds of bacon. Canada managed to deliver only 176,000,000 pounds.

The scarcity has carried over into 1949, but heavier marketings are expected towards the end of the year. In 1950, the experts estimate, there will be enough hogs available to meet good domestic demand and heavier contracts abroad.

Docks Scythia Without Tugs

HALIFAX, April 13—(CP). — Captain W. M. Stewart brought the 20,000-ton liner Scythia smoothly into her berth here on Tuesday without aid of tugs.

The half-dozen tug crews walked out Friday in support of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) which called a deep-sea shipping strike 13 days ago.

"It was the first time I ever docked a ship this size," Captain Stewart said. He has commanded the Scythia since last December. The veteran master said he would not have attempted the feat had the harbor not been calm.

He said his passengers—nearly 2,000 displaced persons—lined the shore rail and silently watched as the liner was inched alongside. He did not know until yesterday that a tugless greeting awaited him.

Cheques Prepared For Hong Kong Vets

OTTAWA, April 13 —(CP)— Defence Minister Claxton said Tuesday cheques now are being prepared for the 1,600 Hong Kong veterans.

The money is special Pacific pay which the government provided for its Far East Force late in the Second World War but only recently voted to the Hong Kong veterans.

In cases where the government hasn't the present address of a veteran entitled to the Pacific pay, a request for the information will be sent to the last known address.

Polish Diplomat Resigns Job To Stay Here

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP) — A youthful Polish diplomat booked for a new job in Canada today after walking out of a top post in the Ottawa Legation of his Red-ruled country.

First Polish diplomat in Canada to break from the Communist regime, Wladyslaw A. Zbik had resigned as second secretary at the legation rather than go back to Poland and a possible forced entry into the Communist party.

"I am still loyal to Poland, but not to the government," he said in an interview yesterday. "I would like the people of Canada to know there is a clear distinction. The government is run from Moscow."

A lawyer-newspaper man-diplomat who fought with Polish underground forces during the war, Mr. Zbik said he did not look for trouble from his late associates.

He had brought away no documents from the legation, he said, even leaving behind his personal diplomatic papers because "you do not need many papers in this country."

Meanwhile, he said he was concerned only with staying in Canada and getting a job to provide for his attractive blonde wife and their Canadian-born daughter, three-year-old Martha Vivian.

While external affairs department officials said they had no knowledge of the case, it appeared likely the Zbiks would get temporary permits to remain in the country.

Customs Union For Scandinavia

ANNECY, France, April 13 — (Reuters)—Norway, Sweden and Denmark today told the 35-country tariff conference here that they are planning a Scandinavian customs union.

The statement said the union might "possibly include Iceland."

Object of the conference, broadest effort yet made to reduce world tariff barriers, is to admit 11 more countries, including Sweden and Denmark to the 1947 Geneva trade treaty.

The three Scandinavian countries timed their uniform tariff plan announcement to coincide with the opening of the negotiations from the newly-acceding countries.

MINISTERS TO BE HONORED—Two of the Presbyterian Church in Canada's most distinguished ministers, Rt. Rev. C. Ritchie Bell (left), and Rev. John W. Foote, V.C. (right), will receive honorary doctorate of divinity degrees at the annual convocation of the Presbyterian College in Montreal, next Tuesday. Mr. Bell, minister of MacVicar Memorial Church, Outremont, has been moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church since last June. Mr. Foote won the Victoria Cross, the Empire's highest award for gallantry, on the beaches of Dieppe, France, in 1942. He was a prisoner for a few years. Now he is Conservative member of the Ontario Legislature for Durham County. Both men will be among the youngest ever honored with D.D. degrees by the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Advertising Executive Frank Adams Dies

LONDON, Ont., April 13 (CP) —C. Frank Adams, former general manager of the old London Advertiser, died today, aged 86. A native of London, he served 40 years with the Advertiser before retiring in 1918. He was a former member of the Canadian Press. A son, Sinclair Adams, is Professor of Classics at Trinity College, Toronto.

A man of great memory and varied interests, he kept himself abreast with growing London and life generally by wide reading and maintenance of informative records.

It was in the newspaper advertising field that he exhibited a genius for friendship and business acumen. Many served apprenticeship under his guiding hand and not a few gained outstanding careers for themselves from the help he gave them.

Freda Linton Fails To Raise Bail Of $5,000

MONTREAL, April 13 (CP).—The last link in Canada's famed spy trial, Freda Linton, was back in jail today after she failed to raise $5,000 bail following a court appearance here yesterday. Her case is scheduled to come up next Tuesday.

Her lawyer, Joseph Cohen, KC, said that "friends will probably be able to raise the amount today."

The 33-year-old woman, who was described as a "contact" between Soviet agents in the 1946 Royal Commission report on the espionage ring, appeared briefly in a crowded court room Tuesday.

Mr. Cohen argued that his client, who is seven months pregnant, would not likely try to escape if she were granted low bail. He pointed out that Miss Linton surrendered to police voluntarily.

She is the last of 20 persons sought as links in the 1946 spy case.

The ex-secretary and telephone operator nodded acquiescence when asked by the court if she would waive reading of the lengthy charge which alleges she conspired with Fred Rose and Dr. Raymond Boyer to give away Canada's official war secrets.

A former Labor-Progressive member of Parliament for Montreal-Cartier, Rose is serving a six-year Penitentiary term for his part in the ring. Boyer, one of Canada's top research chemists, was sentenced to two years in prison.

Listed as only Freda Linton in court records, the accused has not revealed her married name. She disappeared from her job as National Film Board secretary in Ottawa when the spy case broke. She is believed to have spent part of the last three years in the United States.

Mayor Opens Block Of Homes

COBOURG, April 13—(ENS)—Official opening of a block of new houses took place Tuesday with Mayor Joseph Smith presenting the key to the first tenants, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Finkle. The family has a boy and girl plus a pair of recently-arrived twins. Angus McClaskey, Ontario regional supervisor of Central Mortgage and Housings Corporation, formally handed over the keys to the first house to the mayor, who in turn gave them to the Finkle household.

The house is at the south end of Burnham St., and from the south commands a lovely view of nearby Lake Ontario. A row of recently-completed houses extends to the north and when the entire layout of houses is finished they will number 50.

Preliminary plans for this year's civic holiday celebration were discussed at a recent meeting of the committee in charge. Succeeding J. C. M. German, who resigned because of pressure of other duties, Mayor Smith was appointed chairman of the committee.

The program has not been drawn up as yet, except for some general details, but the committee plans to make it one of the biggest celebrations in the town's history. The following committee chairman have been appointed:

General chairman, Mayor Smith; drumhead service, Jack Burnet; finance, W. N. Bradley; entertainment, Stan Williams; band music, Joe Goldring; calithumpian parade, Chamber of Commerce; publicity, Murray B. Smith; softball, Ed Haynes; swimming, Robert Cooper; soap box races, Lyle Willson; baby show (to be decided later; reception committee, Business and Professional Women's Club; feature attractions, Chamber of Commerce; decorations, Retail Merchants' Association; Shriners excursion, Lester Caughey.

The celebration will be held from July 29 to August 4, inclusive.

RALLY SPEAKER—Rev. G. W. Stevens of Hamilton, who is the guest speaker at the Easter Youth Rally being held this evening in the Free Methodist Church.

O. J. Robins Reelected President Of PC's

ROSENEATH, April 13 (ENS)—Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Social Welfare, and Major Earl Drope, M.P., for Northumberland county, were the special speakers at the annual meeting of the Alnwick Progressive Conservative Association held in the Roseneath Township Hall on Monday evening.

Hon. Mr. Goodfellow's subject was "The Charities Bill" and the subject chosen by Major Drope was "The Current Issues of Parliament." Major Drope also dealt with the margarine question.

The meeting was opened by the president, O. J. Robins, who presided over the business period.

Clarence Thackeray was appointed chairman for the election of officers.

The following officers were elected: president, O. J. Robins (re-elected); vice-president, Charlton Grigg; secretary, Flex McMillan; chairman for ward 1, Frank Adams; chairman, ward 2, Leo Timlin; chairman, ward 3, John Webb; chairman, ward 4, Norman Marsden.

Votes of thanks were tendered to the speakers.

46 Years In Hastings Many Attend Funeral

HASTINGS, April 13—(ENS)—Funeral service of Mrs. John A. Stewart was widely attended on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Stewart died at her home, River Road, Hastings, early Thursday morning after a long illness.

A resident of Hastings for 46 years, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Thistlewaite of Elgin. She leaves her husband, four daughters, (Viola) Mrs. Ernest Burrison, Roseneath; (Mable) Mrs. C. Grigg Roseneath; (Evelyn) Mrs. J. Stinson, Norwood and (Effie) Mrs. C. Nelson of Trenton. Also a son, Walter of Fort William; three brothers, Henry Thistlewaite of Elgin, Andrew and Wm. Thistlewaite of Stewart Valley, Saskatchewan; a sister, Mrs. George Richardson of Elgin and a stepsister, Mrs. W. Knight of Cookstown. She also leaves three grandchildren, Joan Grigg, Roseneath and Stewart and John Nelson of Trenton.

The many beautiful floral tributes showed how highly Mrs. Stewart was regarded in the hearts of her friends. The Rev. N. Cole officiated at the service and burial was in Trent Valley Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Charlton Grigg, Clark Nelson, Ernest Burrison, Jack Stinson, Jack Stewart and Albert Thistlewaite.

Seven tables were in play. After the tournament a social hour was enjoyed during which the ladies served lunch.

Ball Players Receive Crests At Banquet

HASTINGS, April 13.—(ENS).—A banquet for Bakers baseball team, who won the town and the league softball championships last year, was held on Friday at the home of the team's manager, Mr. Harry Chennell, who presented the boys with their crests.

Those present included Alton Thompson, Bobbie West, Jack Crawley, Jack Wilson, Lyle Stevens, Leslie Scriver, Fred Crate, Vern Phillips, Earl McKeever, Paul Stevenson, Iden Bonds, Jr., and Don Weatherson.

2 Prisoners Make Dash For Freedom

TORONTO, April 13 (CP) — Two men sentenced to prison on drug charges made a short-lived bid for freedom Tuesday in a wild dash through corridors in the City Hall.

Percy Brenzel and Johnny Hill broke away from police guards taking them to Don Jail as they stepped out of an elevator on the ground floor. They ran through the wrong door and were captured in a Works Department office. Both were handcuffed.

Shortly before their escape attempt Hill had been sentenced to four years in penitentiary and Brnzel to two years. Hill, who had been sought since March 13 when he leaped through a glass door to escape morality officers raiding a Toronto house, gave himself up Monday to police.

Who Will Lead The Followers?

The Ontario Premiership becomes vacant on April 27th. On that day, the third of a Toronto convention of Ontario Conservatives, a new party leader will be chosen in succession to Mr. Drew who resigned last autumn. On the next the new leader will become Premier and Premier Kennedy will have retired from the office. Four candidates have offered themselves to date: Mr. Kelso Roberts, former M.P.P., a Toronto lawyer well versed in mining; the Hon. Leslie Blackwell, Attorney-General; the Hon. Dana Porter, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education; and the Hon. Leslie Frost, Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Mines. There is no truth in any rumour that Mr. Drew will be a candidate.

* * *

The three Cabinet Ministers have shown in their varying ways considerable administrative as well as political ability, and there is no reason to doubt their capability of occupying the office of Premier. However, some dark horse may be driven through the Convention chamber, with perhaps an invisible rider guiding him, and win the support of the delegates and thus the prize of office. Mr. Saunders, present Chairman of the Hydro Commission and former Mayor of Toronto, has been widely considered a possible candidate.

We have but two weeks' wait before we shall know which way the chips have fallen.

Wild Life Protection

In 1947 the Federal Government gave official recognition to the observance of a "National Wildlife Week". Nothing much has come of it—that is, as a formal and salutary observance—partly because people interested in conservation and the protection of our wild life are scattered thinly over the country and act in concert in municipal or Provincial ways. This week, we have been informed, is National Wildlife Week. It comes at a good time, when the verdure is being renewed and the sun is warm and the loveliness of the countryside and woods begins to show itself again. Its beginning on April 10th is in timely honour of the late Jack Miner who developed the great Sanctuary at Kingsville.

We have doubts about the value of these "weeks" but none at all about the need for a public more alert to the economic and aesthetic values of native wildlife. In the last dozen years interest has grown in the preservation of our resources and beauties of flora and fauna and their habitats because their destruction has been more apparent and the voices crying in the wilderness more insistent. They are now being heard.

It might seem to some who like fish as well as fishing that the Honourable Harold Scott's announcement that the trout season will open a day earlier than scheduled, likewise the pike and pickerel season, was inopportunely timed, coming as it did in the middle of National Wildlife Week. However, week-end tourists if not the fish will be pleased that the opening dates have been shifted from the Sundays to the Saturdays. So will resort owners.

Peterborough's Pleasant Waters

Peterborough abounds in waterways within its boundaries. Now they are looking and smelling their best. They are full; they seem clean. The river at the London Street dam is both delightful and impressive. A thrilling flow of water thunders over the dam. As one stands on the mounds of sawdust deposited on the banks in early days by the mill of which the sawdust hillocks are the only remaining sign, the prospect is most pleasing. Above the dam is Goose Pond, clean, reflecting the puffy clouds; at the dam the billowing surge of white water. Below it, the white-crested, clean gush and quieter water swirling against banks and trees as it rounds the bend.

The canal, our cleanest waterway in full summer, is rather disappointing, for the level of water is still being kept low. Nevertheless, the ribbon of water and rows of poplars on the banks are pleasant in the spring light. The East City dock across from the cemetery is partly under water—such clean-looking water for Little Lake. What a fine expanse it is! Comparable with the best of the Dutch lakes, with the one at Rotterdam, where sailing and swimming are all people's pleasure on balmy days. What a pity that in a few weeks this splendid Little Lake will be unfit for boats, much less for swimmers. The river at the C.P.R. bridge, backing up to the lawns of Engleburn Avenue, is wonderfully gracious to look upon now—clean, sequestered, altogether pleasant; a spring mirage.

Even the Jackson Park creek, meandering through the heart of the city, is fresh and wholesome. Tin cans, rubbish and junk in it are covered by the high water, and the flow is sufficiently fast to conceal the polluting liquids poured into it as it ducks under the streets, and beside factories and houses.

Probably no city in Canada is so well provided with waterways, and none has so abused them. When one remembers the beauty of the waterways in the heart of a city like Bruges (in Belgium) one can but weep for the desecration and lost opportunity in Peterborough. Perhaps five hundred years hence Peterborough will be treating its waterways with the decency they deserve Must we wait that long for even a start to be made?

Paradox Of Yugoslavia

Yugoslavia is a Communist country, with all the trappings that go with one—a dictator at the head (Marshal Tito), intolerance of all political parties except The Party, a noticeable lack of freedom. It has most of the characteristics which Moscow prizes and Washington abhors. Yet Moscow has not only turned its back on Tito's Yugoslavia, but through the Cominform, seems to be trying to destroy the regime. Washington, on the other hand, is favouring it with dollars and goods and seems to be attempting to bolster the regime.

The reason for the topsyturvydom is that Yugoslavia's brand of Communism is nationalistic; its jingoism is Titoistic rather than Muscovite. Yugoslavia is the only country in Europe in which a Communist government has been established during and since the war by the nationals of the country alone. In all others the Red Army has been the agent. Tito tasted the sweets of power during the war. He pulled the country together and established the Communist regime. He is not now willing to play second-fiddle to emissaries from Moscow.

The economy of the country is now feeling the Cominform squeeze. Commerce with Hungary, Albania and Bulgaria has almost disappeared. Belgrade must seek trade elsewhere or strangle from the Cominform pressure at its throat. It is trading with capitalistic, political democracies. Agreements have already been written with the U.K., Belgium, Switzerland, Pakistan and India. France and Italy are restoring trade avenues with Yugoslavia and the U.S. is expanding its. Tito is in an unusual bargaining position with the west. Yugoslavia is the one important crack in the Iron Curtain and therefore the West cannot afford not to give Yugoslavia strings to keep the curtain open. Tito, spurned by the Cominform, still professes allegiance to the true communist faith and scorns allegiance of any kind with "warmongers in capitalist countries"—as one phrase of his two-hour Belgrade speech last Saturday puts it.

The political situation in Yugoslavia is of special interest because of the nationalist communism now sweeping China. To what extent can a communist country be free of Russian domination? To what extent can it co-operate with political democracies? Is Yugoslavia merely trying to run with the hare and hunt with the hounds?

Dominion Champions

Our warm congratulations go to the P.C.V.S. basketball team and their coach on their fine sportsmanship and triumph last night. In this final game of two played on consecutive evenings in the Collegiate gymnasium against a Montreal team, the Peterborough students won the Canadian basketball championship in the juvenile groups. The team has been playing triumphantly all season, gaining first the Southern Ontario title against St. Catharines, and then the lead over all Ontario against Sudbury, winners in the Northern Ontario league. On Monday they met the Young Men's Hebrew Association team of Montreal, champions in the Quebec-Maritime league. They lost that game by one point to the expert young Montreal players. Last night by a lead of 26 points they gained their final laurels.

Much credit for the team's spirit, skill and determination is due the coach, Mr. Bev. Goulding. Mr. Goulding has been physical training instructor at P.C.V.S. for five years. During that time he has nurtured rugby and basketball teams to praiseworthy achievements, now culminating in the latter sport in the Dominion championship. It is a proud occasion for the Peterborough youths, and their city shares their joy.

Fun With Forms

By GEOFFREY VIVIEN

"APRIL is the cruellist month" sang the poet T. S. Eliot, meaning a great many things that you and I would never have guessed. One of the few things he was not referring to was the one that seems most apt at the present moment: the demands of the income-tax people. I suppose the Government has good reasons for combining the Feast of Taxing with the coming of Spring, and these reasons may involve much deeper matters than we are aware of, as does Eliot's "Wasteland". This year especially the Income-Tax forms seem to have a peculiar significance. There is the alluring lilac shade that the coat of arms and the cursive writing is printed in; is this perhaps a subtle allusion to the second line of Eliot's poem "...breeding Lilacs out of the dead land"? You never know with the Canadian Civil Service; it is full of poets and painters. That is one advantage of the unfortunate fact that the Arts do not often provide a livelihood in Canada; the artists' work pops up shyly and delightfully, like the crocuses round our public statues, in government publications.

FORM-filling is becoming so much a part of our lives that we will no doubt develop an instinct for finding our way through the things, corresponding to the homing instinct in pigeons or that which mysteriously guides spiders in finding a mate. There are two main categories of forms: those that must be filled in accurately and those that just need to be filled in. The difference is roughly the same as playing in a Shakespearean tragedy and a Broadway farce; with the first you must have your lines right, with the latter you can gag your way through. It is not difficult to determine which kind of Form you have before you. The serious kind invariably contains some phrase such as "Failure to complete this Form accurately may involve legal proceedings". Or, to quote our present income-tax form: "It is a serious offence to make a false income tax return." Where these rather graceless reminders are absent you can assume that the form is of the "Kiss and Tell" type and allows a certain amount of ad-libbing.

✧ ✧ ✧

OF this type I reckon the forms we fill in to secure liquor. In the bottom right-hand corner one is required to put the number of the licence-book. I started by filling this in faithfully, but one day in an absent-minded moment put my telephone number instead. Nothing happened. Next time I tried my old army number. (I wanted to keep to things that would give me a reasonable excuse of absent-minded hurry, if noticed). Still no reaction. From then on I began to enjoy that characteristic minor pleasure of modern life—the personal leg-pull of the impersonal state. After a few mixtures of figures and letters I tried the Russian word "Nedotyopa", which is the last word in Shekhov's play "The Cherry Orchard" and means roughly "Good-for-nothing" or "Juggins". Getting this through, I was encouraged to get a friend in a Chinese restaurant to give me some Chinese characters. My last form is embellished with the characters for "Honourable maker of red cheeses."

THE kind of grumbling good humour that we have towards our bureaucrats is, I think, one of the most precious attributes of democracy. In totalitarian systems it has not part; fear and resentment take its place. The bureaucrat is no longer a thing to be treated with laughing despair, like bad weather, but becomes an enemy like fire or sickness. He in turn becomes aloof, a member of a privileged caste, unapproachable, tyrannical. The power he wields is truly awe-inspiring, even in democracies. A picture in the illustrated London News some time ago brought this home; it showed His Majesty's meat ration card. At the head was the name of the holder (George), then the address (Buckingham Palace), then profession (King). We have come a long way from the untrammeled freedom of Richard II grabbing half a county with a casual:

Think what you will, we seize into our hands

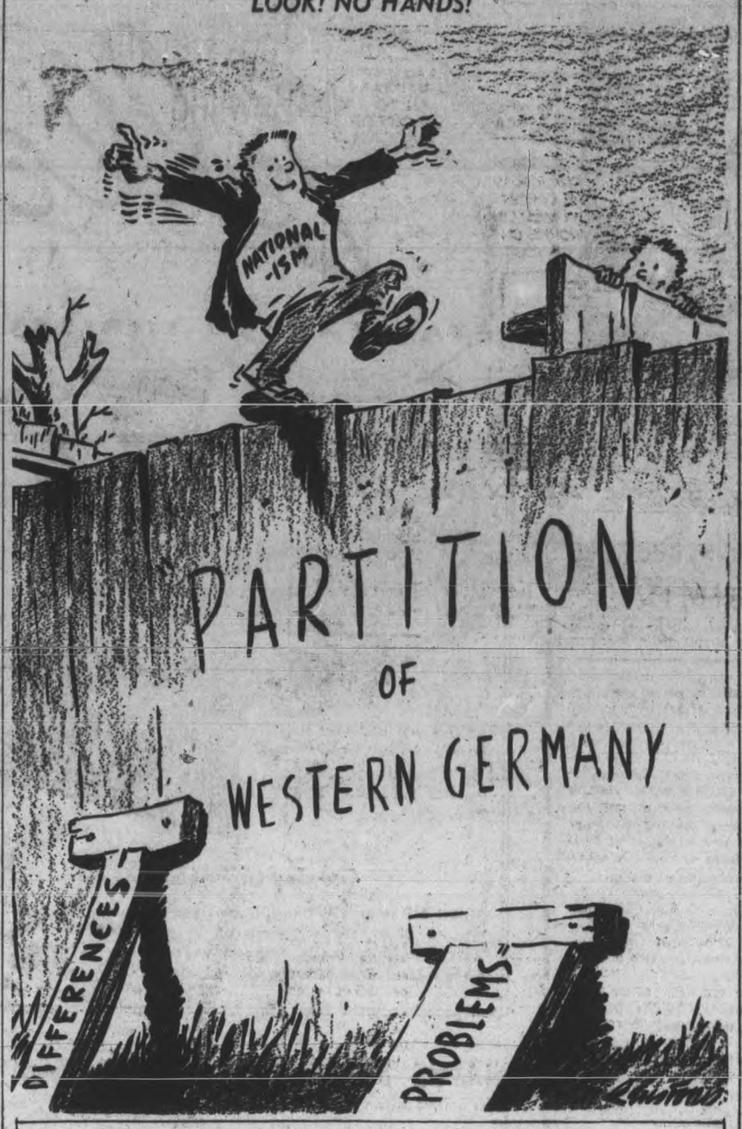
OR have we come so far? Almost every day we read of a great estate in England being sold or broken up to pay the huge burden of taxes. The modern state may be less arbitrary in its methods than Richard was with Gaunt of Lancaster, but it is no less exciting. Perhaps the wheel will come full circle and the State through its future Shakespeares, who will be Government officials, will present their demands in verse, beautiful and brazen.

Silk Stockings Important



Judging by the earnestness with which girls and women talk about silk stockings, they are very important to their self-esteem. When the shortage was on during the war, the news that nylons could be procured at a certain store caused a frantic stampede to be there when the door opened in the morning. Canadian women talked as much about stockings as British women talked, and still talk, about food. We understand that the feminine sex do not regard themselves as well-dressed unless their legs are encased in those sheer weaves that defy mere man to detect whether they have stockings on, or none at all.

So when Miss Margaret Howard of Southport, England, was injured in a motor-coach which crashed into a Liverpool street car and was so severely burned that her legs are disfigured for life, she sued the Liverpool Corporation for heavy damages, and as she liked to dance and swim, she will have to wear thick stockings, even for walking in the street. She was so sensitive about the appearance of her legs that she broke off an engagement to a young man.

The court sympathized with her tragic misfortune so much that she was awarded damages amounting to over $30,000.

Letters To The Editor

CITY WICKEDNESS REBUKED

Sir: So! 'Indignant' does not know that it was the 'Almighty' put the yellow colour in butter. In some mysterious way green grass,—made that colour by the sun,—gives to cream the gold that glows in butter. In winter the colour becomes paler, but by feeding well-cured green clover, colour can be retained.

He made the cows also. The country too. Perhaps that is why He is seen easier in the open. The city made by man, can so easily get his wires crossed in the screen of his own smoke. The longer I live the more I am convinced that it is the city who must be re-educated.

SIMPLE SIMON.

WHY NOT A PRE-THOMPSONITE MOVEMENT?

Sir: It seems to me that the article in your Third Column on Tuesday gives the perfect answer to Mr. Gord. Bailey's complaint about the exhibition of pictures at the public library. If the decline of Canadian art began with Tom Thompson, why doesn't Mr. Bailey imitate the Pre-Raphaelites and organize a Pre-Thompsonsite movement, composed of artists who are pledged to paint like Paul Peel or Horatio Walker? Attempts to put the clock back in the world of art are not often successful, but who knows what could not happen in this wonderful new country of ours.

Yours sincerely,
M. J. R.

RUDENESS AT THE MOTOR LICENSING BUREAU

Sir: When a man is employed by a firm as a lathe hand, he is naturally expected to be able to run a lathe, or he will find himself out the gate. Likewise, a typist in an office hired as such, must certainly be able to type. Then wouldn't you think on a job which requires meeting and dealing directly with the public, only those with a pleasant, pleasing personalities would be selected? Well, this hardly seems to be so in our local motor license bureau. While paying my first visit to this office recently, I was more than glad to find myself outside. It proved a most embarrassing visit, not only for myself but for the others present. I had often been told of this condition existing in this particular office, and am now fully convinced of it. No one desires at any time in a public place to be spoken to in loud, gruff, sarcastic tones, and waved from wicket to wicket, and certainly not when an audience is on hand. One would think you were asking for a car, instead of just the license. Thank goodness it is only necessary to make such a visit once a year, and I (along with a great many more, no doubt) will not be looking forward with much enthusiasm to next years' visit. Of course we could go elsewhere and purchase our license.

DISGUSTED.

COME TO GRIPS WITH MARGARINE PROBLEM

Sir: Between your letter correspondents "C.E." with his "margarine snake in the garden of Canada", and "Margarine User" with his proposed "yellow streak" for our worthy legislators, to be clearly marked "substitute for backone", this reader chooses a middle ground—and certainly there is a lot of it?

According to my farm paper, there is to be a conference of the departments of agriculture of the various provinces, to devise standards and regulations for margarine. I was glad to hear of this move, despite the fact that it is taken deplorably late in the day. Of course this time-lag has to be read against the likelihood of a Dominion election this summer or fall when—according to the viewpoint?—movement of certain folks is one direction or another on this hot controversy, could be quite disturbing? There are some constituencies where nothing could "grease the political skids" more efficiently than butter—and in others advocacy of the substitute spread could have the same effect?

Curiously enough, there is a somewhat similar battle in progress south of the line. I quote: "The economic fate of countless dairy farmers hangs today on what Congress does on oleomargarine legislation. If Congress permits the unrestricted manufacture and sale of yellow oleo in direct imitation of butter, it will push tens of thousands of butterfat producers entirely out of the dairy business. It will indirectly hit the producer of milk for fluid consumption as well as those whose milk goes into other manufactured products. It will cut an estimated $638,000,000 a year from the income of our dairy farmers, who will have just that much less to spend for the things they buy." (Charles W. Holman, Washington, D.C., in an address at Dayton, Ohio.)

Partisan politics aside, it seems to me that Canadian leadership—on the farm and off it—should not delay in coming to grips with this emergent problem?

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them....

And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. (Matt. 28: 16, 18, 19.)

And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

So then after the Lord had spoken unto them he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God. And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen. (Mark 16: 17-20.)

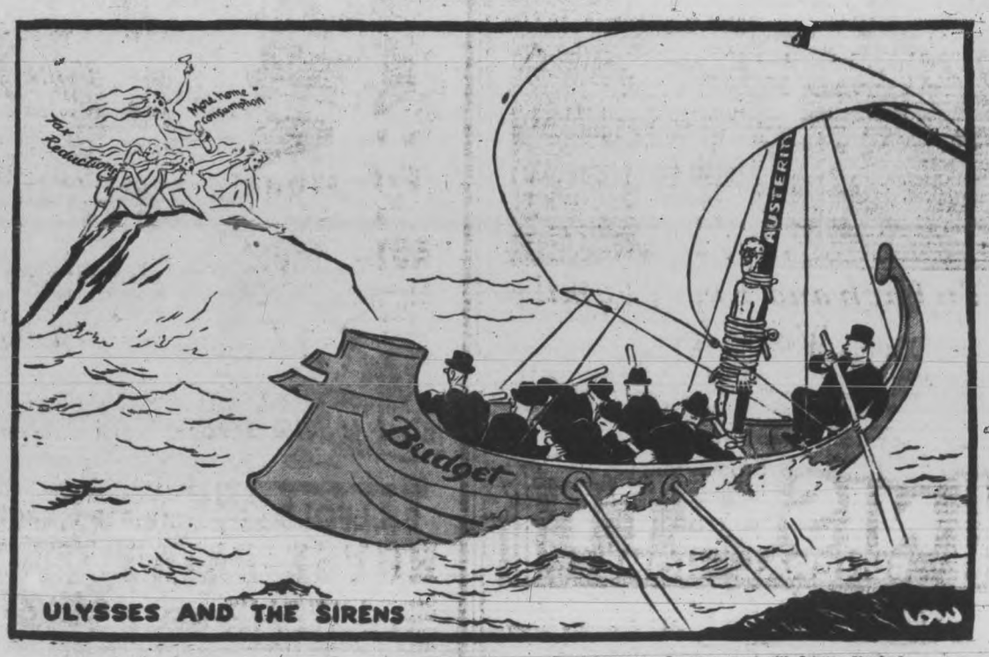
The stone which the builders refused is become the head stone of the corner. (Ps. 113: 22.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us. (1 Cor. 5: 7.)

Newfoundland Stamps



It's quite possible that people who possess any sizable quantity of Newfoundland stamps—especially if the stamps have been lying around for years in a desk cubbyhole—would do better to sell them to collectors than to stick them on letters.

The situation or something like it was in New Brunswick when this province entered Confederation in 1867 and substituted Canadian stamps for her own.

Our grandfathers tossed away into waste-paper baskets used stamps and envelopes which, if they had been kept, would be worth thousands of dollars apiece in some cases today. Not all of them, of course, would bring a price like that. The one-cent New Brunswick "locomotive" stamps is catalogued at only around $1.50 now. But in the pre-Confederation era people had the habit sometimes of putting half a stamp on a letter if the whole stamp's face value was twice what the letter needed. Those half-stamps on their original covers (which automatically certifies them as genuinely used for the purpose) are enough today to make collectors' eyes bulge.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Boston Bruins may start the next National Hockey League season without the services of veteran defence star Johnny Crawford.

Currently pending a brief vacation at Kirkland Lake, Crawford said Tuesday that he was "thinking seriously" of hanging up his skates for good.

"I haven't really decided yet," Crawford explained, adding that if certain business opportunities developed he would definitely be through with the game.

With the Bruins for the last 11 seasons, Crawford played defence 13 years ago with Kirkland Lake Blue Devils.

Canada's Teddy, crack handicap star of the Morris Fishman racing stable, Tuesday showed slight signs of improvement. The five-year-old horse was removed to a veterinary hospital Monday. Dr. J. H. Black said that Canada's Teddy "looked a goner" Monday night but today there was a hope that the son of Teddy Wrackwee Toddler II might return to the races. He was taken suddenly ill with stomach trouble Sunday.

Colorful Louis (Bobo) Newsom agreed Tuesday to pitch for the Chattanooga Lookouts. President Joe Engel said at Chattanooga, Tenn., the big right-hander agreed to terms on a telephone conversation from his home at Orlando, Fla. Terms of the agreement were not revealed.

Ottawa's Connaught Jockey Club has again applied for membership in the Incorporated Canadian Racing Association, it was learned Tuesday night at Toronto. The application will be discussed by the ICRA at the next meeting, date of which has not yet been announced. James Heffering of the ICRA is reported to have discussed the proposition recently with Connaught owner Tommy Gorman of Ottawa. It is the second time in the last few years that the application has been submitted.

Winnipeg's current rising star on the fistic horizon, Dominion lightheavyweight champ Ed Zastre, Tuesday night punched his way to his sixth consecutive knockout victory at the expense of Amos (Sugarfoot) Dorsey of St. Catharines.

Believes Casey Best Pitcher

By The Associated Press

Hank Bauer and Gene Woodling will alternate in centre field for New York Yankees until the return of Joe DiMaggio, who flew to Baltimore last night to have his injured heel examined.

Bauer, up from Kansas City, will be used against left-handers. Woodling, purchased on a conditional basis from San Francisco, will operate against right-handers.

Manager Bill Meyer of Pittsburgh Pirates says Hugh Casey, late of Brooklyn Dodgers, is "the best pitcher I've ever seen." Casey probably won't get a starting assignment this year, but as a relief pitcher "he is in control of the situation every time he takes the mound," Meyer says.

Bucky Walters isn't agreeing with the predictions of sports writers that his Cincinnati Reds will finish last in the National League, but he's worried about his pitching. Ewell Blackwell, the star, still isn't ready after a kidney operation, Johnny Vander Meer has been suffering from a thigh-muscle injury, and the younger hurlers have been wild and ineffective.

Chuck Comiskey, young vice-president of Chicago White Sox, thinks the club, which finished last in the American League last year and is generally picked for that position in 1949, must develop a winning complex. He also stresses winning spring exhibition games because of a direct bearing on advance ticket sales at home.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Art Reynolds reports formation of a new softball circuit here, the Canadian Order of Foresters League. Consisting of four clubs: COF, Post Office, A & P, and Canoe Co. They open their schedule May 2 and finish final playoffs the end of August for a trophy put up by Bert Austin. Sports committee consists of Reg Adams and Alex Reader, with these chaps looking after the teams: Reg Moore, Post Office; Bert O'Toole, A & P; Len Collins, Canoe Co.; and Norm Collins, COF. Some outside squads will be brought in for a tourney or two during the summer, and next year they hope to operate a youngsters' loop.

* * * * * *

Coach Red Creighton is planning regular open practices now for senior "A" lacrosse prospects. Most of last year's senior "B" champs are available again—though not all—and some new material will show shortly if all goes well. Mick Magee and Pete King have been checking on a number from various centres. Manager Clyde Cameron and the other committee members have been busy, too, what with plans for enlarged seating at Miller Bowl and other pre-seasonal matters piling up. The weather has started behaving lately and the gutted-stick guys are all rarin' to go, including the youngsters. Dootch Vitarelli is coming along pretty good since his jaw was fractured in hockey, and he expects to be ready when the schedule opens.

* * * * * *

Ready For Sarnia

Legionnaires will leave by train tomorrow evening for Sarnia, playing there Friday, Saturday and Monday nights, if necessary, to wind up the OHA senior "B" finals. But they're confident they can take the Sailors on Friday to capture the crown, after beating them twice in Lindsay. Their speed and close-checking style had the Sarnia puckists pretty well baffled. The ice surface is larger in Sarnia but Legion never worried about that — they looked extra good on the huge Kingston sheet. Given an even break on refereeing in Sarnia, and no serious injuries, and we can't see how Ned Vitarelli's hustling pack can miss out now. This is their year.

* * * * * *

Our last OHA senior "B" title came in 1942 when Jimmy Ellis was in charge. Not having seen that club in action we can't say much about it. But we did cover the Petes in 1940 when Frank Buckland's band not only took the OHA intermediate "A' championship but went on to beat Maxville twice in Ottawa for the Eastern Canada crown. That team included: Ray Harding, Jim Ellis, Smoke Gardner, Don Crowe, Drake Jopling, Bun Kingdon, Art Heal, Honey Tompkins, Don Coughlin, Joe Blewett, Jack Jopling, Eddie Starr, Les Burton and Earl McNabb. The manager was Bill Jackson. And we won other puck titles back through the years.

PCVS Came Through

Heartiest congratulations to the juvenile Collegiate boys' cage team. It came through here last night to trim Montreal YMHA 63-37 to capture the Canadian juvenile hoop crown by 117 points to 92 on the two-game series. The Montrealers were not disgraced as they went down fighting all the way, but they couldn't hold the PCI-ers last night. All the team shone in a smart all-around showing and every player and Coach Bev Goulding deserves great crerdit. Best basketball crowd yet was on deck and whooped it up through the free-wheeling fray and afterward when the Lord Byng Trophy was presented. 'Twas a big night at the Collegiate.

* * * * * *

Bev Goulding has hung up a remarkable record in coaching victorious teams since coming to PCVS. Four COSSA grid titles and seven of a possible 12 COSSA cage championships! Four crowns within the past six months, junior and senior COSSA basketball honors a week ago for PCVS in Toronto, and now the Dominion juvenile hoop crown. It looks like Ald. Adam Sands shortly will have to leave his hospital bed again to pay civic tribute to some of the titular teams Peterborough has produced in less than a year. These four PCVS winners, the OLA senior "B" lacrosse champs, and probably the Legionnaires as OHA senior "B" champions this coming week-end. Quite a city of champs lately, eh?

DiMaggio's Heel Kicking Up, Back In Hospital

BALTIMORE, April 13 (AP)—Johns Hopkins hospital surgeons prepared to take another look today at Joe DiMaggio's heel — the heel which means so much to New York Yankees' pennant chances.

The big slugger may be here for 10 days or more. He will be lost to his club for the opening of the baseball season next Tuesday —but Joe has no thoughts of retiring from the game.

He checked in at the hospital early today, said he was "dead tired" after a flight from Texas.

It was the fifth trip to Johns Hopkins in two years for the $100,000-a-year centre fielder.

The great ball player seemed to be well mended until the closing weeks of last season. Then his right heel started to pain.

He finished the season, and came back to Johns Hopkins. Last Nov. 15 Bennett removed a spur which had developed on his right heel.

When spring practice started last month, he flew up from Florida when he found the heel hurting again. Bennett looked at it, pronounced it in good shape, and sent him back again.

Joe's latest trouble started Saturday at Beaumont, Texas, where he bruised a thigh sliding into third base. The heel began to ache.

Dr. T. M. Girard, a Dallas specialist, gave him a four-hour examination, and then packed him off by air to Baltimore Monday.

Both Bennett and Girard said they believe time and treatment will put the star's right heel in playing shape.

HARGOOD DIES

Walter E. Hargood, 75, former sports editor of the Boston Herald and the Boston Traveler, and widely known in baseball, died Monday night in Boston. One-time business manager of Montreal Royals and a former part owner of the Rochester club in the International League, Hargood was taken ill in Miami last month.

Royals Edge Barrie Flyers 6-5 In Overtime Victory

MONTREAL, April 13 (CP) — Montreal Royals remained favorites to cop the Eastern Canada best-of-seven final in the Memorial Cup chase today following their 6-5 overtime victory over Barrie Flyers in the second game of the series Tuesday night before a capacity crowd of 12,000.

The victory was bitterly won as the desperate Flyers battled gamely through the 70 minutes of action-packed hockey.

Three goals were rapped home in the extra stanza after the teams had see-sawed in the first three periods.

It was Skippy Burchell's goal that finally settled the issue. The fiery Montreal forward banged home the winner at the 6:37 mark of the overtime session when he stole the puck off defenceman Bob Bingley's stick and raced in alone on goalie Gil Mayer. The Barrie netminder came out to meet the expected shot but Burchell slid the puck around him.

Chevrefils Big Gun

Barrie's brilliant Real Chevrefils was the big gun for the visitors with a pair of markers. Harold Hopper, Gord Pennel and George Burcham scored the others.

Chevrefils opened the scoring in the first period, but Herschfeld and Frampton roared back to send Royals in front. Before the session ended Chevrefils tallied his second marker on a pass from Hopper to even the count.

Pennel sent Flyers ahead in the middle session but Herschfeld again connected to keep Royals in the running. Then Burcham counted for Barrie and the teams went into the third period with Flyers holding a one goal advantage.

Little Dickie More came through for the Montrealers when he potted the only marker of the stanza on a pass from Gordie Knutson.

Both Teams Tired

With both teams showing signs of tiredness, Barrie suffered a setback early in the 10-minute overtime period when Goaler Mayer made his one bad mistake of the night. Benoit picked up a loose puck inside the Barrie blue line and slid it along the ice. It fizzled into the net when Mayer fanned at it while trying to pass forward.

Hopper tied the score on a close-in drive, then came Burchell's clincher and Royals staved off Barrie's drive for the remaining three and a half minutes

The rugged game produced 20 penalties, includng a major to Roland Rousseau for fighting in the only fistic exhibition of the night.

Bob Porterfield Silver Lining

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 13 (AP)—There's a silver lining in every dark cloud, and in the case of New York Yankees the silver lining is Bob Porterfield, who now has pitched 15 2-3 hitless innings.

Porterfield lifted some of the gloom that enshrouded the Yankees Tuesday over the departure of Joe DiMaggio. DiMaggio, key to Yankee flag hopes, left the team for Baltimore for another examination of his troublesome right heel.

The 24-year-old Porterfield carved a 10-0 no-hit, no-run triumph over Fort Worth of the Texas League Tuesday. The game was called after eight innings to allow the Yanks to entrain for Terre Haute, Ind.

When called up by the Yanks in August, Porterfield led the International League in shutouts with six and posted the best earned-run mark, 2.17. He won 15 and lost six for Newark and captured five and dropped three for the Yanks.

Bruised Senators Win Series, Meet Marlboros

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP) — Battered and bruised Ottawa Senators, Quebec Senior Hockey champions for the second consecutive year, face a heavy task ahead of them as they prepare to meet Toronto Marlboros in the first round of Eastern Canada Allan Cup finals.

The Senators copped the championship Tuesday night when they outmanoeuvred a tough Sherbrooke team to win by the slim margin of 3-2 in the seventh game of a best-of-seven series, taking the series four games to two with one tie.

But the victory had its consequences. Centreman Eddie Emberg had to spend about half the last period in the dressing room with a left-hand injury. Others showing bruises and a general battering are Bill Robinson, Buddy Hellyer, Emile Dagenais and Conny Tudin. They report such things as broken teeth and hip, leg and hip bruises.

Nevertheless they all are expected to be ready to meet the Marlboros in Toronto Friday to open the best-of-seven series. Second game is scheduled for Ottawa the following day.

Tuesday night Ottawa and Sherbrooke played a nip-and-tuck battle from the opening face-off and it was not until the 9.48 mark of the final stanza that deftwinger Alex Smart registered the pay-off marker.

Scoring was well divided for both teams. Kelly Burnett and Giles Dube counted for Sherbrooke, while Robinson, Nils Tremblay and Alex Smart were the Ottawa sharp-shooters.

Bears Lead Series Trip Providence 3-2

HERSHEY, Pa, April 13 (AP)—Hershey Bears need only one more victory to clinch the American Hockey League's Calder Cup. The Bears, surprise team in the league this season, defeated Providence Reds 3-2 Tuesday night to take a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven final playoffs.

Phil Maloney led the Bears' attack with single goals in the second and third period.

Providence drew first blood with a counter by Jack Stoddard in the opening period. Hershey's Gordie Bruce evened the count two minutes later with a shot from 50 feet out.

PCVS Canadian Champions In Juvenile Basketball With Win Over Montreal

By DON GRANT.

Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School juvenile basketball team won the Dominion championship in the Collegiate gym Tuesday night, defeating the classy Montreal YMHA 63 to 37 The Collegiate crew were defeated by the Montrealers Monday night 55 to 54 in the last two seconds of the game. The total points on the two-game series were 117 to 92.

All through the game there were thrills and spills which had the 500 fans yelling at the tops of their voices. First one team would roll the ball on the rim; then the other would race back and do the same. The speed of the game made things rather rough at times. Neither team made too many mistakes and what slips were made were taken advantage of by the other team.

Griffin, Northcott and Thompson, the PCI'ers front line, was on the ball with every move. They collected 53 points. Besides pointgetting they backchecked superbly, getting the ball time and time again with their checking, to add points to the total. Grafstein, Dinsdale and Evans, the guards, got rebounds and started many a rush for points. Grafstein was the star guard, repeatedly grabbing the rebounds out of the reaching hands of the Montreal forwards.

Steady Game

Caplan for Montreal played a steady offensive and defensive game to lead the YMHA team. He racked up 18 points. Lake and Fox played good basketball. The PCI'ers were too fast for the Montrealers.

Ralph Sherman Montreal, a star on Monday night, was unable to play the game. Early Tuesday afternoon a large blister on his right foot had to be cut. He passed out twice before medical attention was able to be given to him. Ralph lost 10 pounds since Saturday.

During the first quarter the Montrealers had the edge on the play, leading Peterborough 13 to 12. At the end of the half Peterborough had surged ahead to have a comfortable lead of 29 to 18. This lead was held through the third quarter, with PCVS still ahead 44 to 28. Montreal broke down in the third quarter. It was quite evident that the PCI'ers would be the winners.

After the game the Lord Byng Trophy was presented to Don Griffin, captain of the PCVS squad, by Walter Ward, president of the Lakeshore Branch of the Ontario Basketball Association. Bev. Goulding, coach of PCVS, and Bob Dyer said a few words to the crowd and the champions. Ron McComb told the crowd:

High Praise

"In the whole of Toronto there is not a coach like Bev Goulding. The school spirit in PCVS is terrific."

"Since there is no western challenger the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School juveniles are Dominion champions," said Bob Dyer.

After these words an atomic bomb couldn't be heard exploding. The cheer of the crowd was terrific. Everyone yelled or screamed. The teachers, the mothers and dads, the cousins or friends cheered the boys who had brought a Dominion championship to Peterborough for the first time.

Thompson for the Petes sank the first two points seconds after the start. On the next rush down the floor Thompson put the ball in again on a pass from Dinsdale. Grafstein looped a one-hander from far out. Fox got the first Montreal marker when Grafstein held him under the basket for a foul. Northcott checked Fox in the Montreal end to get the ball and score. Sokoloff made the score 8 to 3 on a solo effort. Thompson got a point when Fox fouled him.

With a hook shot from under the basket Sokoloff got two points. He picked up a point when charged by Northcott. Caplan from the corner got two with a one-hander. Merling bumped Griffin who made his shot good. Fox got two shots for Thompson slashing him. He made one good. Merling checked Griffin over the shoulder for a foul. Griffin made it good. Caplan on a pass from Merling sank the ball to tie the game at 11-all. Griffin got a point when hit by Fox. Sokoloff on a long shot ended the scoring of the first quarter. The score was 13 to 12 for Montreal.

Started It

Northcott opened the scoring in the second quarter with a poke shot. On the same play Sokoloff fouled him. He made the shot. Griffin from Thompson added two points. Northcott got two more on a pass from Griffin. On a three-man break Griffin sank the ball. Lake on a side shot got two points. Thompson with a hook shot retaliated. Northcott dumped the ball from under the basket. Caplan did the same, only being fouled by Griffin. He missed the shot. Northcott fouled Caplan who made the shot good. Thompson got two free throws for Fox elbowing, both being good. Griffin made the score 29 to 18 for PCVS on a passing play with Young and Thompson. Score half time 29 to 18 PCVS.

From the tossup Lake dribbled in for two points. Caplan added two with a backhander. He picked up three points, a basket and a foul, seconds later. Grafstein fouled him. Sokoloff slapped Thompson who made the foul shot. Caplan held Grafstein who made his free throw. On a double foul Caplan's throw was good and Grafstein missed. Thompson made the score 33 to 26 on a corner throw. He sank two points on a play with Dinsdale and Grafstein. Caplan returned for two more Caplan rushed Thompson who made the free throw. The score was 38 to 28 when Griffin counted with Thompson and Dinsdale assisting. Northcott got a rebound from Griffin's throw to score. Thompson went in for two. Dinsdale ended the scoring in the third quarter to make it 44 to 28.

For the first minute of the last quarter PCVS held the ball. Finally Rotstein fouled Griffin who made the shot good. Young charged Merling who missed the throw. This was his first miss at throwing free shots in the series. Griffin held Merling who made this free throw. Griffin whipped in for two to make the score 47 to 29.

Held Fort

Northcott missed two baskets on break-aways. Grafstein held the fort under the basket grabbing the rebounds. Griffin picked up a loose ball to sink a corner shot. Lake scored from the corner. Immediately Griffin scored getting the pass from Thompson. Fox sank a long shot. Sokoloff slapped Grafstein who missed. Griffin picked up a point when fouled by Fox. Young got two from under the basket. He charged Philipp who missed the free throw. Fox made a point when fouled by Griffin. Sokoloff checked Griffin close, not letting him break. Young charged Philipp again. No score was rung up. Griffin got loose from Sokoloff for two points. Young slapped Fox who failed to register. Caplan pushed Dinsdale who failed to make the point. Northcott got two points on a hook shot from the corner. Lake pushed Grafstein who did not make the free throw. Griffin got a point when Fox fouled him. Fox failed to get a point when fouled by Northcott. Lake held Grafstein. Caplan scored a long shot. On the play he was fouled by Thompson, making the throw good. With five seconds left Caplan fouled Dinsdale and was sent from the game. Dinsdale made the throw good.

Of 82 shots attempted PCVS made 23 and Montreal tried for field goals 73, making 14.

Line-ups:

PCVS—Griffin 23, Grafstein 4, Northcott 13, Thompson 17, Dinsdale 3, Young 3, Evans, Sergeant.

Montreal—Caplan 18, Lake 6, Merling 1, Fox 5, Sokoloff 7, Rotstein, Sherman, Philipp.

Police Tie Up Loose Ends In Spy Trial

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP) — Surrender of Freda Linton in Montreal today—38 months after the first startling revelations of espionage in Canada—ties up the loose ends of the Royal Commission inquiry into unauthorized activities by a foreign power in the Dominion.

Following close on the heels of Sam Carr's conviction and six-year sentence, the surrender of Miss Linton, former secretary at the National Film Board, completes a roundup under which 20 persons were arrested in Canada.

Following, under the various headings, is the list of the people whose names were connected with the espionage probe:

Acquitted—

Dr. David Shugar, Polish-born physicist and former naval anti-submarine expert.

Eric Adams, who returned to private business in Montreal.

Frederick Poland, former member of the RCAF.

Matt Simons, Nightingale, who served with the RCAF and was working with a Montreal telephone company when the probe broke.

Agatha Chapman, British-born economist.

Dr. Henry Harris, Toronto optometrist.

Prof. Israel Halperin of Queen's University, former army ballistics expert.

J. S. Benning, wartime munitions department official.

Fined:

Dr. John Soboloff, Toronto medical practitioner, fined $500.—

Imprisoned:

Fred Rose is in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary outside Montreal. The former Member of Parliament is serving a six-year sentence.

Edward Maxerall, former National Research Council technician, is in Kingston Penitentiary serving four years.

Kathleen Willsher, former Deputy Registrar in the office of the British High Commissioner, has served her three-year term in Kingston.

Mrs. Emma Woikin, former cipher clerk with External Affairs, was recently married in Saskatchewan after release on completion of three years in Kingston.

Dr. Raymond Boyer, explosives expert, serving two years.

Gordon Lunan, former Canadian Information Services official, serving five years.

H. S. Gerson, former Munitions Department official, was acquitted in his first trial but found guilty in a second and sentenced to four years in prison.

Convicted and awaiting outcome of an appeal:

Sam Carr, former national organizer of the Labor-Pregressive party, sentenced last week to six years after his arrest in New York in February.

Hydro Extension

BONARLAW, April 13 (ENS)—A new Hydro line is being erected in the Spry Settlement near Bonar law. The farmers there will have the power early this year.

The Bell Telephone have already built their line and are awaiting boxes to complete their system. This will mean a great convenience to the people of that settlement.

Veteran Pilots Fly New Jets

OTTAWA, April 13—(CP). — Two top-notch veteran fighter pilots can claim the honor of being the first Canadians to fly the new American jet fighter—F86—an RCAF spokesman disclosed on Tuesday night.

They are Wing Cmdr R. W. McNair of North Battleford, Saskatchewan, and Sqdn. Ldr. H. C. Stewart of Calgary. Both are officers at Air Force Headquarters here.

The two officers were recently dispatched to Inglewood, Calif., to get familiar with the single-seater jet fighter which will go into production in Canada in about 18 months.

"Since we are going to produce the jet fighters in Canada," said the spokesman, "we believed it would serve the RCAF best if we got some of our men familiar with the craft."

The two fighter pilots who shot down more than two dozen enemy aircraft between them during the Second World War have been attached for some time to the Air Plans and Air Training Divisions at Air Force Headquarters.

Lodge Observes 75th Anniversary

LAKEFIELD, April 13—Clementi Lodge No. 313 A. F. and A. M. Lakefield celebrated its 75th anniversary on Tuesday night with a banquet in the basement of the United Church at which R. Wor. Bro. Joseph A. Hearn member of the Board of General Purposes and the chairman of the Committee on Benevolences for Grand Lodge was the principal speaker. Following the dinner and the short toast list the members adjourned to the lodge rooms where the work of the evening was performed.

W. Bro. Clarence W. Payne was the toast master and the dinner was presided over by W. Bro. Wilbert J. Frankish the master of the lodge. Members from nine sister lodges were present to join with the Clementi members in celebrating the occasion.

Clementi lodge held its first regular meeting on May 7, 1874 with R. W. Bro. Robert Kincaid the ruling master. Down through the years masonry, as given in a brief outline, by W. Bro. Payne, has played an important part in the life of the community and the surrounding district. Members of Clementi have taken their part in giving leadership in municipal and other community activities.

Other officers at the inauguration in 1874 were V. W. Bro. Charles J. Visard senior warden, Bro. John Dinwoodie junior warden, R. W. Bro. Vincent Clementi treasurer, V. W. Bro. James R Ormond chaplain, Bro. Charles A. Boulton scretary, Bro. Samuel White senior deacon, Bro. John Elder junior deacon, Bro. A. Dinwoodie director of ceremonies, Bro. James Miller organist, Bro. F. M. Dinwoodie senior stewart, Bro. Henry C. Hall inner guard and Bro. G. L. Sheppee tyler.

Toast list

At the dinner the ruling master W. Bro. Frankish extended the welcome and Bro. W. W. Yale asked the blessing. The toast to the Grand Lodge of Canada was proposed by Bro. Kenneth R. Jakins and responded to R. W. Bro. R. L. Dobbin a past district deputy grand master and a member of the Board of General Purposes. R. W. Bro. Bobbin took the place of R. W. Bro. Charles J. Ray the present district deputy grand master who was unable to be present Bro. Roy Brown proposed the toast to the visitors and W. Bro. Harry Baptie of Corinthian lodge, Peterborough replied and in turn proposed a toast to the members of Clementi lodge. V. W. Bro. Allan Clark introduced th guest speaker R. W. Bro. J. A. Hearn.

During the dinner Gordon Kaye Fraser Jr. the candidate for the evening was introduced.

The present officers of Clementi lodge are W. Bro. W. J. Frankish worshipful master, Bro. Carmen Whitmore senior warden, Bro. William F. Whetung, junior warden, W. Bro. Charles H. Hunter treasurer, W. Bro. J. E. Milburn chaplain, Bro. W. W. Yale secretary, Bro. Roy Brown senior deacon, Bro. Kenneth W. Morris junior deacon, W. Bro. Clarence W. Payne director of ceremonies, Bro. James W. Jones organist, Bro. Ken Sweeting senior steward, Bro. Gerald Northey junior steward, Bro. T. Down inner guard and Bro. Kenneth R. Jakins tyler.

20 Boys Members Junior Fire Brigade

Twenty boys attended Monday night first lesson of the six-week course sponsored by th Neighbourhood Council at the Dixon House. The course is part of the Junior Fire Brigade's activities. Captain George Gimblett Jr. of the Peterborough Fire Department was th instructor.

Mr. Gimblett explained to the boys how to turn in a fire alarm and how the fire alarm box works. For the next meeting he asked the boys to locate the nearest fire box to their homes and school. He taught the boys one of the firemen's lifesaving knots.

Jack Miller member of the neighbourhood council said boys from all parts of the city are welcome to attend the course. They would only be the one lesson behind. It is hoped that in a couple of weeks the boys will be taken to the Fire Hall.

On Monday, April 18, at the Dixon House at 7 p.m. the next meeting will be held. The topics will be "What is Fire?", "Classification of Fires," and a demonstration on the different types of fire extinguishers.

Another six-week course is being planned for the fall.

To Change Education

WINDSOR, April 13, (CP) — Hon. Dana Porter, dark horse in the race for Ontario Premiership, Monday night predicted a "serious revision in the near future in the educational system of the province." Ontario's Minister of Education said many changes will have to be made in the educational system but "one of the greatest tasks is to solve the educational problem."

Liberal Convention

ST. JOHN'S, April 13 (CP) — Premier Smallwood announced Tuesday that a Newfoundland Liberal convention will begin here April 28 and possibly run for three days. It is expected that Mr. Smallwood, provisional premier, in the council that is running Newfoundland until an election is held will announce the Provincial election date within the next few weeks.

Condition Serious

TORONTO, April 13 (CP) — Condition of six-year-old Ronald Rock, wounded in the head by a pitchfork on his father's farm near Listowel, continues "serious," hospital officials said Tuesday night. The boy was taken to hospital Monday night after the accident, caused when a cow being milked by his father kicked him onto a pitchfork.

Loan Two Subs

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP) — With the primary role of the Royal Canadian Navy established as that of an anti-submarine navy, the British Admiralty will loan two submarines to the Dominion this year for anti-submarine training, Defence Minister Claxton announced Tuesday. The first of the underwater craft, HMS Tudor, is due in Halifax April 23.

School Pupils Sing To Parents

LAKEFIELD, April 13 (ENS). —Pupils of Grades 4, 5, 6 7 and 8 were heard in the song which they sang at the Kiwanis Music Festival at the April meeting of the Home and School Association on Monday. The president, Mrs. Harold Deeth, thanked those who had helped to make the School Fair a success. She said 250 adults and 354 children had attended the fair. Mrs. J. Arnott, general convener of the fair, also thanked those responsible for its success.

Mrs J. Corkery presented the treasurer's report and stated that approximately $164. 78 had been cleared at the fair. Mrs. C. Coons gave the secretary's report.

Mrs. Harold Trude, convener of Arts and Music, presided for the remainder of the evening. A film of the life and art of Emily Carr was shown by Gerry Staples. Pictures depicting life among the Indians of British Columbia, as painted by Emily Carr were shown..

Instead of individual prizes being given, points were awarded to each class as follows: Miss E. Kidd's class 117 points, against 211 points given to Miss B. Beavis' class; Mrs. Mary Martin's class 391 points against 231 given Miss L. Moore's class; Principal E. Sloan's class 986 against 951 points to Miss Menzies' room: Grade 9B, 284 points; Grade 9A, 270. It was decided to give a prize of $5 to each winning room.

Mrs. C. Coons was named delegate to the annual convention in Toronto, and was allotted $30.00 for expenses. Miss B. Beavis' room won the prize for having the largest number of parents present.

The annual meeting and installation of officers will be held in May. Mrs. J. Sabatino thanked all those who took part in the program Mrs. Harold Trude played for a sing-song while the lunch was prepared by mothers of the children from Miss Kidd's Room.

Conservatives Gain 360 Seats

LONDON, April 13 — (CP) — The Conservative central office announced that final returns from last week's county council elections in England and Wales showed that the Conservative party had gained 360 seats and had lost only 19.

They said that Labor gained only 69 seats and lost 362. The Conservatives gained 225 of their seats at the expense of Labor, the office said.

In the ridings where candidates received acclamations the Conservatives returned 384, Labor 303, Liberal 56 and Independents 1,195.

In the London county council, where the elections left Conservatives and Labor deadlocked, Labor's hope of winning control appeared to depend on whether a sick council member will be able to take part in Wednesday's council vote for a chairman and 11 aldermen.

If he fails to attend, Conservatives could elect 11 voting aldermen and gain control of the council, a rich political plum.

Even if the sick member does show up, the Conservatives can deadlock the voting for the aldermen if they get the help of the lone Liberal elected. The Liberal party leans more to the Conservative line.

Circulation Increase At Lakefield Library

LAKEFIELD, April 13 (ENS) —During the month of February the Lakefield Public Library was open for 20 sessions with a total circulation of 923 books, 470 adult and 451 juvenile, it was reported at a recent meeting of the Library Board. Fees and fines amounted to $3.80. In March, there were 24 sessions, with circulation of 1 090, 609 adult and 481 juvenile, and fines of $2.83. Twenty-nine new members joined the library during the first three months of 1949, and 173 new books were added. The Misses Atwood contributed a number of text books of the late Dr. Lingwood for the "March of Books" for European countries. The box of books from the travelling library was received. The first instalment of the $300 of the village grant has been received.

The chairman, Mrs. R. Doubt, was asked to write to the Village Council that they have the walls and floors of the library washed. The Council has decide not to undernote the library this year.

CSU Ready To Settle On Labor Dept. Plan

TORONTO, April 13 (CP) — T. G. McManus, secretary of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC), said Tuesday that the CSU is prepared to settle the deep-sea strike on the basis of a formula drafted by the Federal Labor Department.

In his statment, Mr. McManus did not disclose details of the formula. But he said this week's agreement between the CSU and six Great Lakes shipping lines contained a pattern for settlement of the deep-sea dispute.

The agreement signed with the lake shippers provided for payment of wages at the 1948 level, reduction of the work week from 56 to 48 hours and overtime pay for Sundays.

Charwoman's Will Ruled Invalid

TORONTO, April 13 (CP) — The second will of a wealthy charwoman Tuesday was ruled invalid by an Assize Court and her $82,000 estate will be divided according to the terms of a will she made in 1937.

The court was asked to rule on the validity of a will she made in 1947, 12 days before her death. It was contested by three heirs—Frederick Chapman, her husband, F. W. Chapman, her son, and Muriel Chapman, her granddaughter.

All three were given joint "access to capital" in the first will, but the second will stipulated the husband would receive the entire earnings of her estate, without access to capital.

Mr. Justice John L. Wilson ruled the charwoman—described as "penny-pinching" by relatives — had lost her "testamentary capacity" as a result of "mental deterioration."

Make Spring Record 45 Grain Vessels

FORT WILLIAM, April 13 — (CP)—Shipping officials estimated today that the 45 vessels loading or waiting to load grain cargoes in the last 24 hours constituted a spring record.

The 25 elevators at the Lakehead ports of Fort William and Port Arthur have been busy pouring grain into the gaping holds of the big freighters. And the Kaministiquia river, leading into the Lakehead harbors, is filled with waiting ships and others are anchored in Thunder Bay.

Vessels started to poke their way into the harbor Saturday and Sunday. By Saturday afternoon, 22 ships were under the elevator spouts. Of this number, five had been loaded in time to clear Saturday night.

PILOTS S. GORBUNOV AND P. ARTYUKHIH look over their latest bag of wolves on the steppes of Russia's Volga Valley, where the government engages hunters to exterminate the menacing animals. According to the Soviet picture agency, Gorbunov was the first to propose using aircraft to track wolf packs. Last season he killed 250 of them, the Russians say.

Declare War On Scugog Carp

TORONTO, April 13 —(CP)— War has been declared on carp in Lake Scugog by the Fish and Wildlife Division of Ontario's Lands and Forests Department. The carp, a heavy-bodies "coarse" type fish, uproots underwater vegetation, depleting the food supply of game fish.

James Hazzard and Arthur Fulford of the Government Department yesterday raised a 150-yard net they are operating in the mouth of a creek running into the lake, 35 miles northeast of here. Along with other fish and one bewildered mud turtle, the net produced 50 carp.

Under direction of Ben Smith, conservation officer, the carp were thrown into a boat to be taken ashore and used as fertilizer. The other fish were carefully liberated.

"The trouble with carp," said Dr. H. H. MacKay Fish and Wildlife director of fish culture, "is that the commercial demand for it is not great enough. So it goes on competing with game fish for food."

Suicides In Courtroom

Canada's Culture Amazes Argentina's Ambassador

NEW YORK, April 13 (CP) — Canada's cultural development amazes Atilio Garcia Mellit, newly-appointed ambassador to the Dominion from Argentina.

The 47-year-old diplomat, whose task will embody intercountry relationships principally in the field of trade, said in an interview that what he has learned of Canada's culture from W. E. Chipman, Canadian Ambassador to the Argentine, has been a source of constant wonderment to him.

"My interest in the culture is great because of the work I have been doing for the last three years," he said in Spanish. "Now I will be able to learn more about it first hand and perhaps learn from it to widen the scope of Argentinian culture."

Mellit, who succeeds Dr. Juan Carlos Rodriguez, until recently was director of the Department of Culture of the Argentinian Foreign Affairs Department. Prior to that he taught cultural philosophy and literature in secondary schools.

A newspaper man and author of note in his own country, the dark, six-foot-tall diplomat could be mistaken for a motion picture actor.

The Peron government, he said, hopes to increase its relationships with Canada—especially in respect to trade between the two countries.

He said his instructions from the Argentine government were that in her relationship with Canada, Argentina hopes no problems will arise and should there ever be any problem it is to be worked out as quickly as possible.

River Road Bylaw Given First Reading

DOURO, April 13 (ENS — Council gave first reading at its April meeting to a bylaw providing for closing part of River Rd. east of Block C Plan 12 and to sell that section to Archie Windsor.

The Road Superintendent was instructed to purchase an additional 1,500 ft. of snow fence from the county.

Delicious foods for soft diets and for older folks

by Ruth Parsons

A special diet is never really fun! But there's a way to make it more enjoyable—both for the person on the diet and the person who prepares the food. Many invalids, convalescents, older folk, and people with digestive or teeth troubles, have already learned the secret, to take advantage of taste-tempting, easy to serve Heinz Strained Foods.

To make Heinz Strained Foods, Heinz selects only choice, fresh vegetables—plump, ripe fruits—and tender, high-grade meats. These are carefully cooked and packed to retain minerals and other nutrients in high degree. The smooth, uniform texture makes them easy to swallow, easy to digest.

So if you are on a soft or light diet, or if any member of your household is, ask your doctor about Heinz Strained Foods. He will know which of the many tempting varieties will suit your particular needs. Order them from your dealer.

Havelock Couple Observe 54th Wedding

HAVELOCK, April 13 (ENS) — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buchanan celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary on Sunday. At a family gathering they were presented with a large bouquet of red roses by their granddaughter, Miss Jean Peters.

Mr. Buchanan and his wife, the former Elizabeth Jane [illegible], were married on April 10, 1895, at Mrs. Buchanan's home, five miles east of Maynooth. The Rev. Mr. Rowe of Bancroft performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Buchanan recalls that although there was snow on the ground, their wedding day was bright and sunny. The groomsman was the bride's brother, John Klusky, who is now a general merchant at Bancroft. The bridesmaid, Anna Haws, later married Mrs. Buchanan's brother, Frank Klusky. Both died some years ago.

Moved Several Times

After their wedding Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan lived at Westneath near Pembroke, where they stayed for a year. Mr. Buchanan was employed as cheesemaker and they lived above the cheese factory.

Their next move was to the Hybla cheese factory in Monteagle townhsip. Eight years later they moved to Burnbrae where Mr. Buchanan farmed on his father's farm.

In 1922 Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan came to Havelock and for four years, Mr. Buchanan operated the Havelock creamery. In 1926 he was engaged as caretaker of the Havelock schools, a position he held until six years ago.

Mr. Buchanan, although a sufferer from arthritis, is each year engaged in his hobby of gardening and is already planning for this year's crop of vegetables. Mrs. Buchanan suffered a fall last July from which she has not wholly recovered. She is a great lover of flowers and especially house plants.

Dr. J. Fetterly Tells Of Pending Departure

APSLEY, April 13 (ENS) — Twelve members who attended this month's meeting of the Women's Institute entertained six visitors. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Owen Montgomery with the preident, Mrs. Charles Smith in the chair.

Dr. J. M. C. Fetterly, who is leaving the district on April 30, addressed the meeting on cancer, stressing the need for action in the early stages. The doctor said he had enjoyed working in Apsley and felt that his successor as Red Cross community doctor would find the task easier.

Marion Roberts was appointed to attend the dirrectors' meeting instead of Mrs. Frank Tanner, who is unable to attend.

Committees were appointed to make arrangements for a short course on "oven meals" to be given May 5 and 6 in St. George's Parish Hall. All women in the community are invited to attend.

Mrs. Smith thanked Dr. Fetterly for his address and expressed the regret of the community at hearing of his departure.

STAGE PROTEST RALLY—About 1,000 Canadian Seamen's Union members and sympathizers paraded through the streets of Halifax in a protest demonstration against the shooting of seven C.S.U. members during the pre-dawn waterfront battle with members of the rival Seafarer's International Union. This is a section of the parade showing the signs and placards carried by the striking seamen.

SUIT AGAINST FILM STARS
LOS ANGELES, Apjril 13 (AP) —A $1,000,000 suit was filed yesterday against Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra, and 11 others by five investors in a hotel venture in Las Vegas, Nev. The five alleged they were frozen out of a deal to build a hotel and possibly a racetrack in the Nevada town.

Young Britons Membership Gains Reported

Early today three Orange conventions representing the jurisdiction of Ontario East swung into business sessions at different locations in the city.

The Provincial Grand Lodge, Loyal Orange Young Britons Association began its 22nd annual session on Tuesday night in the Orange Hall with about 40 delegates attending. That number is expected to rise to nearly 100 before the election of a new executive takes place later today.

About 200 delegates to the 90th annual meeting of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East, being held in the YMCA, had registered before the opening gavel sounded, Grand Master R. W. B. Garfield Rasflaub of Pembroke, will make his address later today. He will be assisted by Deputy Grand Master Jack Corrigan, secretary D. J. Sutherland, and Grand Lecturer J. A. Magladary, all of Ottawa.

Exemplify Degree

Past Mistresses of three Peterborough lodges—Nos. 244, 525, and 650—on Tuesday night exemplified the Scarlet Degree for about 400 visiting delegates who arrived for the 30th session of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Ontario East, Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association.

The present session, being held in George Street United Church, will continue through Thursday. Presiding will be Miss Mabel Chapman of Ottawa, Provincial Grand Mistress of Ontario East. Election of a new executive and reports of committees are still on the agenda.

Grand Master J. D. Nelson of Richmond, addressed the Loyal Orange Young Britons on Tuesday night. Secretary Denzil Graham of Ottawa announced that the Association had incresed its membership by 10 per cent during the past year.

Form New Lodges

Two new lodges were formed during the year, the secretary stated at the corner of George Street and No. 446 at Merrivale. Reorganization took place at Lodge No. 36, Cumberland, and No. 361, Navan. An organizational meeting has also been held at Bishop's Mills.

There are also three prospects, he said—Renfrew, Beechburg, and Millbrook.

Grand Master Nelson reviewed the year's activities. One of the highlights, he said, was when the Young Briton's Association and the Loyal Orange Association celebrated in Ottawa the 100th anniversary of the County of Carleton Loyal Orange Association.

Another occasion he singled out for special mention was the Rally and Field Day held on August 14 at Smith's Falls.

This is the first time since 1932 that the Young Briton's Association has held its annual meeting in Peterborough.

Security?

Every accepted cat has its own idea of security, a preempted place of rest, domestic or otherwise, a spot to call its own where it curls up for the light naps with which its name has long been colloquially linked. In that assumption of belonging to the establishment is the cat of a north end store, a friendly mobile fixture that had its own feline way of greeting the owner and the staff who liked to have it around the premises as a friendly familiar by bringing the mice it caught to them. Recently, it was missing several days, and not without some concern and expectation in the office where it had taken possession of a corner out of the way of busy feet. First arrival of the staff was greeted the other morning with a meow of special accent from the floor where it was mothering three kittens that appeared to be about two days old, a purring problem with its brood and appealing eyes that posed a minor question of sympathy for the management.

Frederick Lee Dies In Toledo

Word was received in Peterborough today of the death in Toledo, Ohio, on Tuesday of Frederick W. Lee, son of the late John Lee and Sarah Jane Carlisle of Peterborough. Mr. Lee, who was a printer by trade, left here about 40 years ago.

The body will arrive in this city on the 11.40 CPR train Saturday and it will be taken to Comstock's Funeral Home, Water Street, where funeral service will take place Saturday at 2.00 p.m. Rev. C. G. Boyd, minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church will officiate and interment will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

Mr. Lee's father was a well-known millwright in Peterborough for many years, being employed at the old Auburn mill. The old Lee homestead was located at the corner of Geoorge Street and Parkhill Road.

The late Mr. Lee, who was 79, is survived by his wife and one brother, Hammond Lee, of Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Lee had no children. He is also survived by a number of cousins in Peterborough, including Mrs. E. C. Manning, 650 George Street.

Admission Charged To Attend Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Braund regarded this sunsplashed April day with happy memories of the chief event of their youth. It was their wedding anniversary.

Fifty-six years ago this evening, Mr. and Mrs. Braund were married in the Salvation Army Temple here. The officiating officer was Staff Captain W. A. McIntyre, later Commissioner, whom Mr. and Mrs Braund recently met during their winter stay in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Mr. Braund had conceived the idea that the wedding ceremony might be turned to some financial advantage to the local Corps treasury, and it was decided to charge ten cents admission. That night 710 people attended the wedding rites.

It was billed as a Hallelujah Wedding. The net results was that the Salvation Army received $71, virtually a gift from the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Braund returned last Friday from Florida. Their many friends in the city will wish them the felicities of their 56th wedding anniversary.

Palmer Elected Grand Master Black Chapter

Cecil Palmer of Frankford on Tuesday night was elected Grand Master of the Provincial Black Chapter of Eastern Ontario. He succeeded Earl Draper of Prescott.

This week the annual meetings of the Grand Black Chapter, Eastern Ontario, Orange Young Britons of Ontario East, Ladies Orange Benevolent Association, and the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East are all being held in Peterborough.

About 150 visiting delegates attended the Grand Black Chapter convention and the Weir Royal Black Preceptory No. 291, Peterborough, on Tuesday night exemplified the Royal Gold Degree.

A resolution was passed that Derry Day on August 12 be observed at appropriate church services.

The Preceptories will celebrate Derry Day at two places—Millbrook for those in the eastern part of the jurisdiction and Orillia for those in the western part.

Officers elected are: Cecil Palmer, Frankford, grand master; Cecil Beckett, Kemptville, deputy grand master; Richard Sanderson, Havelock, associate deputy grand master; John M. Robertson, Ottawa, grand chaplain; William A. Chambers, Manotick, grand registrar; Alan E. Swerdfeger, Morewood, deputy grand registrar; George F. Reed, Corbyville, grand treasurer; Roland C. Darling, Lakefield, and E. P. Mills, Smiths Falls, grand lecturers; Athol Caldwell, North Gower, and Wilbert Fallis, Millbrook, grand censors; Melville Holden, Peterborough (RBP 261), and George Smith, Ottawa, grand standard bearers; W. J. Nickle, Belleville, and Arnold E. Nixon, Osgoode, grand pursuivants; Harry Deyell, Omemee, grand marshal; Harold P. Leslie, Britannia Heights, and A. C. Farquharson, Aylmer, Quebec, grand auditors; grand committee members, J. E. Stevenson, Havelock; H. Wallace, Morewood; J. Elliott, Frankford; Ralph Gibson, Picton; J. L. Wight, Ottawa; Delbert Kilfoyle, Smiths Falls; and Perry Chase, Lindsay.

There were also several visitors from Western Ontario, including Past Grand Master L. Jackson of Owen Sound, and W. J. Armstrong of Toronto. The theme of the latter's address was "Keep Canada British".

BRINGS OUT SNAKES

Wednesday morning's bright sunlight brought the snakes out to drouse in the rays of the sun. A woman whose home borders the Otonabee reported she killed a grass snake near the water's edge. Her cat took advantage of the killing for a morning snack.

Assaulted Officer

When Constable Gordon Trennum answered a call to Gerald Monahan's home, 203 Crescent St., on March 31, he had to search the house to find Mr. Monahan. A hide and seek game ended when Mr. Monahan struck the constable a glancing blow on the face from behind the pantry door. Today Mr. Monahan was fined $20 and ordered to pay $2.50 costs when he appeared before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court.

New Pool Site Off Street City Approved

Shift of the Lions Club swimming pool from adjacency Burnham St. to the rear of the Merrett residence is the council's suggested solution of the site controversy that has been fretting householders of that neighborhood.

In this change, the front section of the pool would face north, instead of east, and the wading pool [illegible] transferred to the park level down near the river.

Mayor M. J. Swanston and City Engineer E. A. Chalmers said today they had no information as to Lions Club opinion and attitude toward this change of location The new site would be to the south of the bowl and looking toward it. Part of it would project across the road in from Burnham St, but that involves only a graceful curve instead of a straight line. The west side of the pool would be close to the road that skirts the main ball grounds, and to the east of it. The ground is owned by Campbell Dairy Co., but it was felt that having to obtain possession of the property was no serious obstacle.

Mayor Swanston, Ald. D. Miller, City Engineer Chalmers, and several other municipal representatives, went over the ground Monday afternoon in the hope of being able to compromise the difference between the wishes of the Lions Club and the apprehensions of the Burnham St. objectors. The suggestion of Mr. Chalmers that the location to the west of the Merrett house appeared practical from the council's standpoint, if it was suitable to the planning of the Club. The site was removed from the street line, but was still prominently placed on the south side of the park.

Impression around the city hall was to the effect that if the Lions are agreeable this site will be quickly determined. Some members of the Club are dubious about separation of the wading pool for children, but detached opinion will be inclined to regard that phase of the proposed change as an asset to the children, in their segregation, and an advantage to parents who accompany them

Issues Warning In Buying Of Used Cars

After hearing the second case within the past week of persons accused of selling or trading cars against which there were encumbrances, Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C. Tuesday reminded car dealers that all liens and mortgages are registered and enquiries should be made before purchasing second hand cars.

The Magistrate, in pronouncing suspended sentence on Arthur Embling, Port Hope, who pleaded guilty to obtaining a car from Victor Walker Fair by fraud, said it was "sloppy" business to buy a car without making enquiries. No ordinary man would buy a piece of property without making enquiries, he said.

Embling was stated to have traded a 1937 Oldsmobile against which there were encumbances, for a 1936 Pontiac.

The Magistrate put Embling on suspended sentence for a year after Crown Attorney John Bradshaw had said the accused had made restitution to the complainant, a service station operator and second-hand car dealer at Scotts Corners.

Mr. Bradshaw stated that Embling had recently come to Canada from England and there may have been some elements of innocent mistake.

J. F. Hickey Funeral At St. Peter's

The funeral of Frederick Joseph Hickey Tuesday morning was held from the Anglesey funeral home to St. Peter's Cathedral where requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. K. Malane. A large number of friends paid a last tribute to the memory of the young man who was drowned at Rice Lake during the duck shooting season last fall.

The pall bearers were John Madden, Thos. J. Best, Vergil Carr, F. Bowness, D. Sproule and D. E. Dennison. Prayers at the cemetery were offered by Rev. P. P. Butler.

Given 20 Days Stealing Logs

Sydney and Clifford Henry, Dummer Township, were found guilty Tuesday of stealing logs valued at less than $25 from Allan Payne, also of Dummer. The men were tried by Magistrate W. R. Philp K.C., at city police court.

Clifford Henry, against whom a police record was produced, was today sentenced to 20 days in jail and his brother Sydney, was placed on suspended sentence for two years.

Mr. Payne said that the men had been cutting wood for him on his property, Lot 19, Concession 3. He discovered that some of his logs had been sold to Bruce Bolton of Dummer.

Mr. Bolton and Joseph Kelly told how the Henrys had sold and traded logs with them.

Produced in court as evidence were two stumps taken from Mr. Payne's bush and matching logs which had been found among the load of logs which had been in the Henry's possession.

A statement of confession, signed by the two accused men, which Provincial Constable Roy Feeley said he had composed from answers to questions put by him, was not admitted as evidence.

The constable said that neither Sydney nor Clifford Henry could read or write.

Car Tangles With Train

Clifford Chapman, 206 Westcott St. was knocked unconcious and sustained bruises when a car in which he and five other people were travelling at 7.15 a.m. today was involved in a collision with a train at the CNR crossing at Romaine St. and George St.

George A. Stewart, 15 Cameron St., was driving the car and other passengers were Thomas Chapman, son of the only passenger to receive injuries: Zella Chatley, 206 Westcott St., Peggy McKinney, 110 Cameron St. and Frances Haines, 73 Aylmer St.

The train and the rear of the car, which was travelling east on Westcott St. collided. Clifford Chapman, who was sitting in the back of the car on the right hand side, felt the full force of the impact. His shoulder was bruised and he is suffering from shock. When Constable Sherman Keliele and Dennis Traynor arrived at the scene of the accident approximately 10 minutes after the collision, Mr. Chapman was just regaining consciousness.

Council Has No Reserve To Meet $31,361 Deficit

LINDSAY, April 13 (ENS) — Lindsay town council has a reserve fund only of $10,000, already accounted for, and its liabilities are $31,361.40. The $10,000 reserve is already earmarked for a particular project with the result that the council must now raise $31,361.40 to provide a $10,000 reserve to cover tax defaults and wipe out the balance of its overdrafts. This was announced at a meeting of the council Monday. It was stated that there had been a conference with the Department of Municipal Affairs and that this had emerged.

Ald Ferguson said it had been suggested at the council meeting that six more mills be added to the tax dollar but he did not think that would be wise action now. He thought the proper thing to do was to seek permission to issue debentures spread over five years to liquidate the $36,361.40 demand on the town in excess of its surplus cash He told the council that there was no longer a surplus, all victory bonds, etc. had gone.

It was a lesson to all councils, he said, that they should never attempt to do anything without getting authority from the Department of Municipal Affairs.

Ald. Cole asked whether the work on which the money had been spent could have been done any cheaper by asking for authority. Ald. Ferguson replied that it would have been no cheaper but council could have debentured for it.

Had $72,000 in Bonds

Reeve Kingsborough said that council was paying for improvements made 10 or 12 years ago. Mayor Moore claimed that there had been a sum of $72,000 in bonds at the end of 1947 which had been spent since.

The mayor explained that the council had the choice of an extra five mill tax rate now or the equivalent of about a mill a year on a debenture issue to cover the debt. He thought the latter choice would not be so "painful." He maintained that the town's reserves would not have been lost if debentures had been issued.

The town clerk disclosed that the council's deficit at the end of 1948 had been $83,000. He said that figure included a $36,000 deficit on wartime housing which had been building up over a two year period, along with Old Home Week and other deficits.

Spring Cleaning Under Way Across London On Schedule

By MICHAEL O'MARA

LONDON, April 13 —(CP)— Spring came to London right on schedule this year — just as though the birds, the flowers and the sunshine had never heard of austerity.

Householders slapped green and yellow paint on their shutters and front doors.

Office workers ate sandwich lunches in the parks and shared them with the swans and pigeons.

Housewives turned their quarters upside down, shook feather-dusters out windows, made life horrible for the husbands and excused the chaos by calling it "spring cleaning."

London was having her own spring cleaning. A squad of government workmen moved through the Whitehall area washing statues of bygone kings, statesmen and petty politicians.

Cleopatra's needle, a landmark along the Victoria embankment, was to have its face washed too, and Londoners wondered whether they would like the pristine pink granite as much as the smoky-brown shade the obelisk has turned since it was brought from Egypt and set up more than 70 years ago.

Spring and summer costumes were featured in most dress-store windows.

Here and there a bathing-suit showed itself, shyly but determinedly, like a crocus.

The male animal also went gay. Fedoras of sprightly hue—though none drastic as last year's "pastel" atrocities — blossomed and some of the young rakes were wearing flowered lavendar waistcoats, reminiscent of Beau Brunnell and Nash.

Pentox Pete Says—

SHOULD HAVE USED "PENTOX"

Prevent wood rot with "PENTOX", the triple action Primer, Sealer and Preserver. Use it wherever wood is subject to moisture which causes it to rot. Large quantities of "PENTOX" were specified by the Navy (spec. N-123) and the Army (Spec. QL-143) for the preservation and sealing of wood. This record of Pentox is your assurance of effective preservation.

Seek Trade Solution

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP) — A Trade Department source said Tuesday night Trade Minister Howe may attempt to seek a solution to the problem of Anglo-Canadian trade when he makes a trip to London May 2. The source was commenting on a report from London quoting Sir Stafford Cripps, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, as saying the problem of trade between Canada and Britain could only be solved by two-sided effort. Britain was buying three times as much from Canada as Canada was buying from Britain. "That cannot persist," said Sir Stafford.

Wrongfully Sentenced

STOCKHOLM, April 13 — (Reuters)—Nils Andersson, now 71, was sentenced to prison in 1933 on a charge of having murdered his wife. Last year the Supreme Court ruled he had been wrongfully sentenced. Yesterday the government awarded him 148,484 crowns ($41,245) indemnity.

SEAMEN FACE CHARGES—Two of the five members of the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) taken from a Halifax-Montreal train at Moncton, N.B., are returned by R.C.M.P. officers to Halifax to face charges laid following shootings which occurred during the clash of rival unions last week-end. The incident took place when S.I.U. men broke through Canadian Seamen's Union picket lines to board three Canadian National Steamships' vessels in Halifax harbor. Seaman at left tries to hide his face from the camera. One of the five later was charged with attempted murder.

Says Liberals Will Win On Foreign Policy

TORONTO, April 13 (CP) — Farquhar Oliver, Ontario's Liberal leader, predicted Tuesday that the Liberal party will win re-election in Canada on the basis of the stand it has taken in international affairs.

Mr. Oliver told the annual meeting of the Toronto Liberal Business Men's Club that the Liberal administration had been "particularly blessed with leadership in international politics."

The Liberal policy of socialization along lines that benefitted the people as a whole was the only answer to complete socialism in the country.

If the voters did not choose a Liberal government "we must accept socialism. . . But it inevitably will bring along with it those undesirable things we do not want."

Boy 10 Suicides

BEDFORD, Ind., April 13 (AP) A 10-year-old boy who admitted starting a fire in a school hanged himself in his cell yesterday while awaiting transfer to reform school. Officers, who said a suicide verdict would be returned, withheld the boy's name.

Prints Final Issue

WINNIPEG, April 13 (CP) — The morning Winnipeg Citizen came out today with its final issue after 13½ months of publication. The paper carried a front-page statement that publication had been suspended. The statement said: "The decision was taken in the light of the failure of the company either to obtain funds required to meet losses incurred in producing the newspaper or to effect a sale."

Tornado Sweeps Town

MANCHESTER, Ga., April 13 (AP) — Tornadic winds lashed Manchester late yesterday, leaving one known dead, several injured and damage running into thousands of dollars. All power lines were knocked out, leaving the town of 5,000 in darkness.

Scores 95 At Euchre

NORWOOD, April 13—(ENS)— At euchre party sponsored by the Legion in the Legion Hall Wednesday evening, 14 tables were in play. Prize-winners were: Mrs. Ross Baker with a score of 95 for 13 tables, Mrs. Rod Webb and Dick Leeper. While lunch was served, Mrs. Stewart Rusaw played the piano. Another party will be held on April 20. Harry Pearce was master of ceremonies.

Von Stroheim Returns To Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 13 (AP) —Erich Von Stroheim, the famed "Man You Love to Hate" of the silent screen, is back in Hollywood and as cantankerous as ever.

When asked what he thought of actors, he replied:

"They are ungrateful, egotistical and . . . (censored)."

He explained his views on their lack of gratitude: "you can do everything in the world for them—and they won't even send you a penny post card at Christmas.

About actor's egotism: 'They have to be egotisical to be able to make faces in front of 50 machinists, electricians, cameramen, directors and assistant directors. They have to be able to say to themselves, 'I can do this better than other people.' Otherwise, they are not actors."

The Austria-born film veteran admitted to being an actor, but by accident. He said he was enlisted when studios were looking for "monstrosities" to portray German officers during the First World War.

He performed the same function in the last war. He played Rommel in "Five Graves to Cairo" and did what he called a "lousy little bit" as a Nazi officer in "North Star."

He is proud of his other functions besides acting. "They talk about these modern geniuses who write, direct and star in their pictures," he scoffed. "I did that in nearly all my pictures here from 1918 to 1929."

Still U. S. Citizen

Still a United States citizen, Von Stroheim has made his residence in France for the last 11 years. He was absent during the occupation, and a good thing, too; he later found out he was high on th Nazi liquidation list. Now here to portray a film director in "Sunset Boulevard," he said he would remain only long enough to store up some American dollars to spend in France.

He explained his preference for life in France:

"In Hollywood, you're only as good as your last picture. And if you don't have a last picture, you're no good at all. In France, they remember and honor you if you did a great picture 50 years ago."

He added that every time he comes to California he gets ill. "It's the sub-tropical climate or something," he said. "I can always tell I'm sick because I can't drink. This is a source of great pain to me. I'm a man who likes his whiskey and port wine and so forth."

Find Bodies In Yard

COURTENAY, B. C., April 13—(CP)—The bodies of a mother and her nine-year-old son were exhumed Tuesday by Provincial Police from the back yard of their small home in this Vancouver Island centre. Directions for finding them came in a note left by the husband and father, Frank Stapely, whose body was found Tuesday in a gas-filled room in a Vancouver hotel. The note confessed two slayings at the town 120 miles north of Victoria.

Have Lots Of Troops

OTTAWA, April 13 (CP) — Canada has available several thousands of active force troops who could be moved to seamen strike centres quickly if violence becomes so extensive that local police cannot cope with it, a Defence Department spokesman said Tuesday night. There has, however, been no general order issued requesting army commanders to prepare to aid civic authorities in case the clash between rival seamen gets out of hand, the spokesman said.

Nova Scotia Plans Oleo Color Control

By The Canadian Press

Nova Scotia is the latest province to take up the question of regulating margarine coloring by legislation.

The Legislature at Halifax on Monday night gave second reading to a bill which would give the Provincial Cabinet power to pass regulations setting the standards of color and quality. It also proposes minor rules regarding use of the butter substitute in eating places.

Ontario, British Columbia and Alberta recently limited margarine coloring to 1.6 degrees, compared with the three to five degrees of coloring used in butter.

The Manitoba Legislature tonight takes up a bill aimed at making the Canadian Wheat Board the sole marketing agency for the province's coarse grains. A similar bill was enacted by the Alberta Legislature at its recent session and Saskatchewan already has passed legislation complementary to the Federal bill which stipulated the Wheat Board as the sole marketing agency for oats and barley.

EARLY CONSCRIPTS

Conscription is known to have existed in the form of a national militia in Anglo-Saxon England, but its first use in modern times was by Napoleon in 1798.

New Cabinet Change

MOSCOW, April 13 —(AP)—A new change in the Russian cabinet today relieved I. I. Malyshev as minister of geology and named P. A. Zakharov to succeed him. No explanation of the shift was given in the brief announcement. Malyshev had held the post since June 14, 1946.

Burned To Death

SHELBY, N.C., April 13 (AP) —Mrs. Sadie Reece, 32, committed suicide yesterday by pouring kerosene over herself, setting fire to it and burning herself to death. A physician said she made a previous suicide attempt last week by drinking disinfectant.

Lose Million Before Merger Of Two Papers

HALIFAX, April 13—(CP)— The Halifax Chronicle lost "substantially more than $1,000,000" in the 15 years before it merged January 1, 1949, with the Halifax Herald, Trade Minister Connolly told the Nova Scotia Legislature Tuesday.

The minister was giving an explanation of the investigation by his department into the merger of the two newspapers.

A Provincial Act requires employers to give the minister at least three months' notice before closing a plant employing 50 or more persons.

Russell Cunningham, CCF Opposition Leader, asked what action the department had taken or had contemplated.

Mr. Connolly said he had not known of the merger until it was announced in the newspapers.

His department then had sought from the Chronicle company limited information on disposition of staff and earnings over the last 15 years.

Mr. Connolly said he was convinced the Chronicle had made efforts to sell, but no one had wanted to buy.

The company published two papers, the Chronicle, a morning newspaper, and the afternoon Halifax Star. The Chronicle merged with the Herald into the Halifax Chronicle-Herald and the Star merged with the Halifax Mail, evening counterpart of the Herald, into the Halifax Mail-Star.

Mr. Connolly said he did not believe the Act was intended to apply against a company which over a long period of years had sustained "heavy losses."

Rotary Sponsors $25,000 Drive To Aid Hospital

CAMPBELLFORD, April 13 — (ENS)—"It is the objective of the Rotary Club to raise by public subscription $15,000 from the citizens of Campbellford and $10,000 in Seymour township for the memorial hospital during the remainder of April," A. J. Meyers, chairman of the building committee, told the members at their noon luncheon on Monday.

"Each subscriber should realize," he continued, "that he is supporting an undertaking which will benefit every individual in the community. The hospital, when completed, will be a memorial dedicated to those who served so faithfully and well in two world wars. We expect the people to give freely and gladly and to their utmost capacity."

He said that the larger portion of the $15,000 must of necessity come from the business and professional men. 'Without substantial subscriptions from this source we cannot hope to reach our objective."

"From the employee of our industries," Mr. Meyers stated, "we expect to raise another considerable portion of the $15,000. We believe they will subscribe in small amounts, but because of their much greater number, the sum total of their subscriptions will be impressive."

"Our plan for the industrial employees," he declared, "visualizes a weekly payroll deduction extending over a period of 26 weeks. The deductions will amount to fifty cents or more a week, according to the individual employee's capacity to give."

He said that a house to house canvass was intended for those who were not engaged in business or who were not industrial workers. Wards 1, 2 and 3 had already been canvassed, he stated, and plans had been made for a thorough canvass of Ward 4 under the chairmanship of N. A. MacColl.

He reported that the Rotary and Kinsmen Clubs, Masonic and Oddfellow Lodges, IODE, Catholic Women's League, Christ Church Ladies' Guild and the United Church Ladies' Association would be asked to raise $1,000 each. Any charitable organization reaching the minimum of $1,000, he stated, would have the privilege of placing its name plate on the door of a room.

The following Women's Institutes of the surrounding district will be given the same privileges, Seymour East, Seymour West, Rylstone, Trent River, Springbrook, Wellman's Corners, Codrington and also Standwood Sewing Circle.

Rotarian Charle Calver reported that arrangements had been made to hold a boxing bout in Davidson's Arena on May 15. He said that there would be eight bouts and a draw would be held with the winner and a friend receiving a trip to New York City with all expenses paid.

Plans for a community centre were outlined by Rotarian Fred Rutherford. He stated that the local arena could be purchased and the provincial government would take care of the first payment through a grant of 25 per cent of the cost. Mr. Rutherford said that the balance could be easily met if the service clubs and other organizations would give their full support to the project. J. E. Ayrhart, Cliff Gibson and Ed. Johnston were appointed delegates to the open meeting on April 22 when further plans regarding the centre will be discussed.

MISTER CHAIRMAN: "This fall 40 men in our plant organized a cribbage league. We will conclude with a banquet at which I will be chairman. Please outline a program which will cover introduction of the guests, presentation of cups, the toasts, etc."
Without being too formal, the dinner can still have dignity and good pacing. Head table should be lined up with the President in centre, guests in order of importance on either side. Toast to the King comes after the meat course and before smoking. Special guests are not presented along with the head table guests, but are specially introduced by important members of your club. After cup presentations, recipients say their thank-you's.

Mrs. S. Elcombe presided for the meeting of Parkhill Home and School Association Tuesday evening.

Major Charles Watt of the Salvation Army spoke on the topic "Wanting our children to grow in wisdom." He was introduced by Mrs. Elcombe and thanked by Mrs. L. Parnall.

"Are you a stooge for a Communist?" was the title of an article read by the president.

A tea was planned for Wednesday, May 4, to be held at the Dixon House.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. A. Mills, Mrs. T. Sturgeon and Mrs. B. Lincoln.

There are more than 3,500,000 oil heating installations in the United States.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Bossy Husband Shows Own Ego Requires Boost

DEAR MISS DIX: Of late my husband has been declaring more often and more forcibly that he is the master of the house; that women should be obedient and subordinate; and, that no matter what anyone says, women do not have equal rights with men. Recently he drove for three months with an expired driver's license just because I asked him to get mine at the same time he got his.

Dorothy Dix

Along with the "masterful" speech goes a constant complaint and bossiness regarding my housework and the care of our child. Our marriage is hanging by a very thin thread, for his actions anger me to the point of desperation. What shall I do? Your advice will be appreciated.

MRS. B. E. H.

ANSWER: Probably there is no other man in the world who is at once so ridiculous and so contemptible as the one who builds up his own egotism by treating all women as imbeciles, good only to serve their lords and masters. Such men deride the opinions of all women. They profess to believe that all women are congenital idiots, and when you call their attention to the fact that there are famous women politicians and lawyers and doctors and writers and musicians and whatnot, they simply shrug their shoulders, as much as to say that anyone who doesn't know that all women are fools is a fool himself.

Build Self-Esteem

Apparently it never occurs to these women-baiters that they build up their self-esteem by belittling women. When, for instance, you meet a man whose fund of dinner party stories consists in his telling about the do-funny hat his wife bought, or the time she forgot the baby, or when he asked a foolish question, you don't have to be told that he is trying to build up his reputation as a wit at his wife's expense. He hasn't a funny bone in his body and wouldn't know a joke unless his wife pointed it out to him.

The men with big hearts and big brains don't have to make show-offs of themselves. They don't have to make doormats of their wives. And they are wise enough to know that in marriage we only get happiness when we give happiness.

What a woman should do who is married to one of these Superior Pests nobody knows; but at any rate, she is entitled to a rising vote of sympathy.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been working since before I was married and, frankly, I am tired of it, especially as I have a little son who needs my attention. It is getting to a point where I can see no advantage to a girl being married, having a family, yet having to be a bread-winner, too.

My husband gripes because my work takes so much of my time; but when I ask him if he thinks I should quit my job he says no. What should I do?

ANSWER: A woman who has a husband and a child, and has to be a bread-winner besides, is caught between the devil and the deep blue sea, and their is very little she can do except to go on with her job and hope for better luck. Certainly a girl who marries for a living in these days has to be of an optimistic turn of mind, for it is more than likely that instead of being able to sit down on the do-nothing stool after she gets married she will have to support a husband who was born with that tired feeling.

If you married for love, it is worth the price. If you married for a meal ticket, you lose out. Love is the only thing that pays dividends in marriage.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a man of 26 and wih very much to get married, but I have never yet found any girl whom I really wanted for a wife. I do not believe that I can fall sentimentally in love. Should I now marry a girl whom I know and respect very much who will make me a good wife, who has many of the tastes and habits that I have and whose company I thoroughly enjoy? But I do not love her.

JOHN

ANSWER: If you were 46 instead of 26 and were still heart whole and facny free, I should sa ylead the lady to the altar, even if she does not arouse any thrills in you. You are not of the sentimental type and what you need is a good cook more than you do a soul-mate.

But at 26 you are just beginning to feel the first pangs of love. Wait until you have a real, genuine, heart attack that leaves you in no doubt about your ymptions. Give the girls a chance.

Smith-Vance Nuptials Held

In a double ring wedding ceremony at Trinity United Church on Saturday afternoon, Gertrude Joy Vance 495 King St. became the bride of Norman Douglas Smith of Toronto. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Estella Vance, Toronto, and the late George Henry Vance, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Smith of Meaford.

The Rev. Dr. D. B. Gordon performed the marriage. During the signing of the register Mrs. Gordon sang "I Love You truly." Miss Mabel Clarry was at the organ. Daffodils, white snapdragon and hyacinths in the church formed a beautiful setting.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother Mr. Clarke Vance of Trenton. She wore a gown of white brocade satin with floor length skirt, draped at the bottom to show tiered lace trimming. A nylon yoke was edged with a roll of satin, caught with tiny pearls, and the sleeves were long and fitted. Her veil of silk net was caught to a headdress of silvered leaves and she carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and white stephanotis.

Mr. K. Barltrop was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a gown of powder blue sheer with heart shaped headdress and shoulder veil to match and carried a cascade of yellow roses and pale mauve sweet peas.

The groomsman was Mr. Leslie Smith. Ushers were Ralph Vance of Brighton and Ken Barltrop of Peterborough.

A reception was held in the church parlors with the bride's mother receiving, gowned in navy crepe with grey accessories and corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother was also receiving and wore a figured navy crepe with matching accssories and corsage of yellow roses.

The bride's going-away outfit was a blue gabardine suit and matching accessories and she wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will live in Toronto.

Guests present were from Meaford, Owen Sound, Toronto, Trenton, Brighton, Campbellford and Havelock.

IODE Reports Welfare Doubled

HAMILTON, April 13—(CP)—Ontario chapter of the Imperial Order, Daughter of the Empire spent $92,967 on welfare last year—almost double the amount it spent the year before, the chapter's annual meeting was told Tuesday.

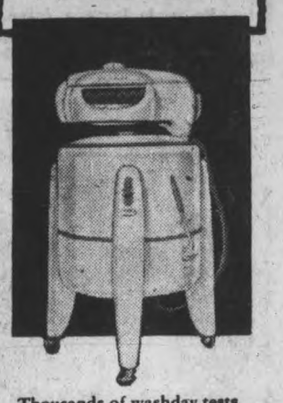
Mrs. T. E. Briant of Welland, Welfare convener, added "A tremendous number of actual hours of service were given by the members." Welfare projects included aid to British Columbia flood victims, mass tuberculosis surveys, baby clinics and aid to handicapped and aged persons.

Mrs. J. B. Smart, Waterdown, reported $128,281 was spent on post-war services, including food parcels of Britain and overseas and shipments of clothing to the British Isles.

Ontario Chapters raised a total of $293,851 during the year and spent $273,872, reported the treasurer, Mrs. Allan F. Hollindrake of Hamilton. Mrs. W. N. Smith, Sudbury, said the order's endowment fund had received $8,549 but increased contributions would be needed to finish it by 1950 as planned.

Mrs. J. H. Watt, Toronto, reported that ex-service workers made hundreds of visits to veterans in hospital with gifts of food, clothing and books.

Mrs. G. L. Hamilton, Windsor, said there was a stepping-up of the Order's "Canadianization" work among the 125,414 immigrants who came to Canada last year. Mrs. D. W. McGibbon, Toronto, in her report on films, asked for assistance in making sure of suitable films for children.



Mrs. Henry T. Ross, Jr., Sarnia, said Echoes, the Order's magazine, now had 14,506 subscribers and Mrs. C. F. Washington, Walkerton, said $538 was spent on the Order's work in India. Mrs. Pearl Mowry, Port Arthur, said there were 2,693 empire correspondnts links last year.

Princess Delays Having Visitors

LONDON, April 13 (AP) — A young British housewife named Elizabeth, just like any young housewife, doesn't want company in her new home until everything is just so.

That's why only a handful of relatives and decorators have any idea of what it's like inside the new home of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

The Royal couple will move into Clarence House, one of the mansions in the grounds of historic St. James Palace, around May 1.

Until Princess Elizabeth herself has had a chance to make sure the furnishings are just as she wants them, there will be no guests, official or unofficial.

Even the King hasn't been in the house since the start of the remodelling.

Jean Tait Bride Of G. E. Whitney

St. Andrew's United Church was decorated with daffodils and fern for a quiet ceremony Tuesday when Jean Cuthbert Tait, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tait, became the bride of Gordon Earl Whitney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Witney of Havelock. The Rev. M. J. Aiken performed the ceremony and Mr. Walter Morrow played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. George Laing. She attired in a navy taffeta suit, hat of navy and pink straw and wore pink accessories. Miss Margaret O'Donoghue of Ennismore was her attendent and wore a loganberry moire dress, black and white picture hat and matching accessories. Each carried a ring bouquet of carnations Doreen Whitney of Havelock was flower girl, dressed in blue and carrying a nosegay of pink carnations.

Mr. Gerald Whitney of Havelock was groomsman and James Pearson ushered.

A reception followed at Club Aragon. Mrs. Whitney, mother of the groom received the guests, assisted by Mrs. George Laing.

After a honeymoon trip the couple will reside at 498 Charlotte St.

MAKES SCARS DISAPPEAR

ATLANTA, April 13 (AP)—Dr. John R. Lewis, Atlanta plastic surgeon, yesterday told how to make smallpox scars disappear—just sandpaper them away. He explained the sandpaper rubs off the outer layers of skin and the skin is allowed to heal between "sandings." After several treatments the skin is left smooth, he said.

Step Up Shipments Of Clothing

HAMILTON, April 13 (CP) — Ontario branches of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire are to step up their clothing shipments to Europe.

The increase in the volume of clothing sent to the needy on the continent was urged Tuesday night by Mrs. K. I. G. Drope of Toronto, the IODE's national post-war convener. She told 800 delegates to the Ontario Chapter's three-day annual meeting:

"Our clothes shipments, both knitted and used, have fallen off tremendously during the last year. Yet the need for them continues."

It was decided that the IODE should continue to direct half its clothing shipments to the United Kingdom and the rest to Europe.

The food parcel shipments also will be continued. Mrs J. B. Smart of Waterdown, Ontario post-war convener, suggested the sending of small parcels, preferably containing more meat than in the past She reported that during the last year the Ontario branches spent $121,281, with $15,072 going into overseas food shipments.

Sending food and clothing to European countries is "one way to fight Communism," Mrs. C. F. Wright of Chatham suggested. She said:

"If people are cold and hungry, they won't be able to think the right way."

Mrs. F. P. McCurdy of Toronto, IODE national president, warned members against becoming associated with groups set up as "Communists fronts." She said delegates should not join any study group until they learn something about the leaders, the group's purpose and what literature is distributed.

Reports from various conveners took up most of yesterday's opening day sessions. Membership convener Mrs. M. S. Somers of Tillsonburg said the 385 chapters in Ontario now have a combined membership of 15,344.

A new $100 scholarship for Indian students in the Six Nations and Mississauga Reserves was announced by Mrs. L. L. Skuce of Milton. It will go to the student with the highest high school record wishing to go to Normal school. Mrs. Skuce said Ontario Chapters spent $7,762 on education during the last year.

Standard bearer convener, Mrs. R. E. Clarks of Peterborough said Chapter standards were carried at all meetings and many special ceremonies.

Apsley Babies

APSLEY, April 13 (ENS) — The stork gave Apsley Red Cross outpost a busy time recently when a record of six babies were born in six days. Boys far out-numbered the gentle sex by five to one.

Urges Women To Use Vote

Silver Cross Women of Canada, Peterborough Branch, met Monday evening in the Green Room, YWCA, Mrs. B. W. Harvey presided.

Guest speaker was Mrs. B. Jackson, who spoke on Democracy. To bring out her points a brief sketch of life in Russia under the Czar's rule, the revolution, and as it is under Communism was given. She then spoke of the democratic rule and the freedom and blessings enjoyed here. She urged women of Canada to use the privileges of voting, and to be sure and vote wisely.

Mrs. Jackson also urged welcoming the newcomers from other lands. She said it is important to be hospitable to them and make them glad to be here in Canada.

Mrs. B. D. Hall moved a vote of thanks, which was seconded by Mrs. J. W. Ebbs.

A report of progress on the Chapel which is to be presented to the Civic Hospital was given by Mrs. J. Patte. Mrs. E. Pruner reported on the recent St. Patrick's tea which was a pleasing success.

It was decided to change the meeting night to the second Wednesday of each month. Next meeting will be on May 11.

6—In Memoriams

DUNFORD—In memory of mother, Mrs. Wm. Dunford, who passed away April 13th, 1940.
I have only your memory, dear mother,
To remember my whole life through,
But the sweetness will linger forever
As I treasure the image of you.
—Ever remembered by Susie, Harold and family.

McCONNACHIE—In loving memory of our dear mother, Catherine McConnachie, who passed away on April 13th, 1948 —Ever remembered by her family.

WALL—In loving memory of mother, Mrs M. Wall, who passed away April 13th, 1932.
She is gone but not forgotten,
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of her are always near.
—Ever remembered by Harold, Susie and family.

Neighborhood Council Suggested In Southend

In the interests of recreation in the southend of the city below Lansdowne St. a meeting is being held Thursday night at 7:30 in Confederation School. A number of residents in that section have brought to the attention of Jack Dane, director of recreation, their desire for a council similar to the Dixon House Neighborhood Council in the northwest of the city.

Main functions of such a group would be to further the recreational interest in the neighborhood and to support the community program; to make surveys of the neighborhood needs and make recommendations to the recreation commission; to create an interest in the neighborhood program by discussing it at meetings of civic clubs, women's organizations, and other groups; to plan to sponsor and to conduct neighborhood programs and to secure the cooperation of all interested organizations; to promote neighborliness among residents of the area.

Jack Dane said a number of citizens felt the development of such an organization would greatly improve the neighborhood. It would better neighborhood conditions, assisting in the prevention of juvenile delinquency and serving the purpose in the conducting of leisure time activities.

If interest is shown at the meeting Thursday, said Mr. Dane, the Board of Education will be petitioned for the use of Confederation School.

Cheese, Produce And Livestock

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, April 13—(CP) — Produce prices on the spot market here this morning were quoted as follows:

Churning cream, unchanged. No. 1, 58 cents fob; 62 delivered.

Supplies continue light on the egg market. Demand is fair at unchanged prices. Country shippers quoted graded eggs, cases free: Grade A large 44-45; grade A medium 43; grade A pullet 41; grade B 39-40; grade C 35. Wholesale to retail: Grade A large 47-48; grade A medium 46; grade A pullet 43-44; grade B 43-44; grade C 38-39.

Butter solids, unchanged. First grade tenderable solids 58; other first grades at 56-56¼.

HOG PRICES

TORONTO, April 13—(CP) — Hog prices at Stratford this morning were still unsettled. However, hogs bought Monday and Tuesday were settled at $31.10 to farmers and $31.25 to truckers. At Peterborough hogs were down $1 with grade A selling at $29.65.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, April 13—(CP) — Trade was dull on the local livestock market up to noon. Prices were easier. Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: Cattle 300; calves 350; hogs 400; sheep and lambs 30.

A few weighty steers sold at $20-$22.50 and some plain to medium light steers and heifers sold at $18-$20. Medium to good cows were $15.50-$16.50 and canners and cutters sold at $10-$13. A few bulls sold at $16-$18. Fed yearlings were $19-$22.50 and some small lots of stockers were $16-$18.75.

Calves were steady at $27-$29 for choice with plain to medium vealers at $16-$25. Grass calves sold for slaughter at $15-$15.50.

Hogs were steady at $30.25 for grade A and $29.85 for grade B1.

A few plain lambs sold at $18.50 and sheep were $6-$12.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, April 13—(CP)— Oats and barley futures recorded fractional losses in early trade today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange as hedging sales and other selling expanded.

Shippers were light buyers but the selling, prompted in part by declines at Chicago, sent prices downward. Dealings were fairly active.

Rye followed the same pattern as coarse grains, falling off under commission house selling in sympathy with declines of Chicago rye. Flax was not open.

11 a.m. prices:

Oats—May ¾ lower at 77A; July ½ lower at 73¾; Oct. ⅝ lower at 70⅛B.

Barley — May 1⅝ lower at $1.08⅞; July ¾-⅞ lower at 1.02; Oct. ⅝ lower at 98⅛B.

Rye—May ¾ lower at 1.16¾B; July ⅝ lower at 1.17A; Oct. 1 lower at 1.15⅝B.

Flax—May, July, not open.

TORONTO FRUIT

TORONTO, April 13—(CP) — Wholesale fruit and vegetable prices here today were unchanged.

Total Eclipse Of Moon Wondrous Sight

The total eclipse of the moon Tuesday night was a precisely timed astronomical show for millions of people. In a cloudless sky the stars and the spring planets that pass this way in the first hours of night appeared to blink at the phenomenon, but perhaps their twinkling was only from habit and not from any sense of wonderment at the earth's overshadowing of the moon. To Arcturus and the departing Sirius it was just a routine occurrence in the infinite spaces of the sky, to be repeated next October 6.

The eclipse began at 8.32 p.m. when the shadow of the earth from the light rays of the sun, nearly two hours gone in its descent below the western horizon, began to move across the full face of the moon, entering at the lower east sector of its rim.

The moon was completely darkened at 10.30, totality continuing for nearly an hour and a half, leaving only penumbral light around the circumference. It was all reflected on the surface of the river in its quiet waters off the Engleburn shore. Telephoning residents said it was beautiful and inspiring spectacle of the fixed and unchanging courses and the marvellous order in the universe.

Happened Years Ago

An elder of the community recalled that on such a night the moon was obscured at the time of the construction of the present Bank of Nova Scotia building on George St., the celestial event placing memorably the important main street change. Several old and shabby wooden buildings, one of them a grog shop, had been demolished for the site of the stores and flats that were significant of the commercial progress of Peterborough. Few of the citizens of the old town of that year are living today; its three story building has taken on the appearance of age, but the sun, the moon and the earth still march across the sky, and occasionally their paths cross with eclipsing effect.

The certainties of the movements of the heavens have been long calculated, and astronomers easily predict eclipses from beginning to end with an exactness that amazes the inexpert multitude.

Find Farmer Dead In Chicken Coop

WELLAND, April 13 (CP)

The body of a 68-year-old farmer was found early today slumped over a barrel in a chicken coop, the back of his head battered in.

The body was identified as that of J. P. Koabel. Police are holding a man identified only as Christian. Koabel lived with another elderly man in a log cabin at Dain City, three miles south of here. His companion, who has not been identified, said Koabel left the cabin about 7:30 a.m. to feed the chickens. When he failed to return Koabel's companion went to look for him and found the body in the chicken coop, lying over a barrel. Ontario Provincial Police and Dr. H. C. Workman arrived at about 8:15 a.m. Dr. Workman said Koabel died instantly.

Police said they arrested Christian at a nearby service station. No weapon was found.

Marmora League Annual Meeting

MARMORA, April 13 (ENS) — The annual meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held in Sacred Heart school on Sunday evening, April 10, with a good attendance. The president, Mrs. Charles Cook occupied the chair.

She gave a report of the Diocesan executive meeting in Kingston on the previous day, and which she and Mrs. J. Black had attended. The following reports were then given by the conveners.

Child Welfare, Mrs. Charles Crawford and Mrs. K. Donaldson. Social Welfare, Mrs. Rose Johnston. Education and Scholarships, Mrs. Don Shannon. Magazine, Mrs. M. Reid. Secretary's report, Mrs. W. A. Shannon. Treasurer's report Mrs. Charles Cawfod.

In the absence of the teasurer, Mrs. C. Heath, the annual report was given by the president, Mrs. Cook, who then presented Rev. H. J. Farrell with a cheque for one hundred and forty dollars, which was the balance on the carpet fund.

The nominating committee then took over and last year's executive was re-elected.

Marmora Legion Holds Annual Church Parade

MARMORA, April 13—(ENS).—The annual church parade of Marmora Branch No. 237 Canadian Legion was held on Sunday evening.

Led by Lieut. Percy Gray and the colors party (Comrades A. Bartlett and G. Osborne), branch members, with visiting Legionnaires from Havelock, paraded from the Legion Hall to St. Andrew's United Church to participate in the Vimy memorial service conducted by the pastor, the Rev. George Young, BA, BD. The Ladies' Auxiliary joined the parade at the church.

The processional hymn was followed by the National Anthem and Last Post, and Reveille was sounded by Robert Sanderson, with two minutes' silence intervening. The Scripture lesson was read by Lieut. Percy Gray. The junior choir, which was on duty throughout the service, sang an anthem.

Tells Of Man's Task

The subject of the sermon was Our Sacrificial Task.

The preacher said that the writer of his text, having gone over the muster roll of the valiants of faith, came to the realization that their labors, good as they had been, had not been perfected. It remained still for mankind to labor to accomplish what they had set out to accomplish. Perfection was not to be unless man had a share in the things passed on by those who struggled and were now at rest.

The preacher drew a parable from the evolution in warfare, the upward climb from dug outs and trenches to the cockpits of the planes. There must be the upward stirring of the soul of man. In conclusion he recited a striking poem of Don Blanding, a contemporary American poet.

The parade returned to the Legion Hall for dismissal by President W. M. Regan.

Thousands Of Dock Workers Go Back To Work After Attlee's Ultimatum

Report Lockout By Most Employers Causes New Crisis In London; Executive Has 21 Days To File Strike Notice

LONDON, April 14—(CP).—Thousands of striking dock workers went back to work today after a work-or-else edict by the Labor Government. It may be only a temporary break, however. George Isaacs, Minister of Labor, announced in the House of Commons: "I have just been informed that at a meeting now in progress the general secretary of the Stevedores' Union has explained the illegality of the strike, and has instructed the members to return to work to enable the executive to give 21 days' notice of the dispute as required by the national arbitration order."

Isaacs earlier had announced he was ready to "put plans into force" if a "sufficient" number of men did not go back to work. This was interpreted as a threat to use troops to do the strikers' work.

Several thousand Transport Union members involved in the strike reported for duty but refused to work because the employers insisted that they work on a piece-work basis as usual, instead of the daily wage and overtime the men demanded.

This was the fourth day of the strike which has stopped work on more than 80 ships in the River Thames and London docks.

The stevedores, who walked out in protest over the dismissal of a number of workers declared surplus, agreed to go back to work Saturday.

The striking members of the Lighter Men's Union and the Transport Workers' Union are expected to return to work also on Saturday.

Fifteen thousand men were involved in the strike by this morning, and the stoppage had reached a new crisis when many dockers returning to work today found a "lockout" by most of the employers.

The returning dockers were members of the Transport and General Workers' Union, who decided at a mass meeting yesterday to return for day work only.

Employers refused to accept this condition.

The strike began Monday when the 7,000 - strong Stevedores' Union struck as a protest against the dismissal without pension of 33 "aged and feeble" men.

The strike spread to members of the other unions.

CNR Chief Clerk Beaten Up, But Wrong Man

MONTREAL, April 14.—(CP).—A. J. Whitman, 60-year-old chief clerk of Canadian National Steamships Marine-Engineering Department, reported to police Wednesday night that he was beaten up on the Montreal docks.

Whitman said he was just leaving the company's freighter Canadian Constructor, involved in the dispute between the rival Canadian Seamen's Union (T.C.L.) and the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) when he was "slugged on the jaw and clipped on the head."

"I didn't see anyone around and when I came to, some little boys took me to the police station," he said today. "I found my glasses laid nicely on the rim of my hat, so apparently whoever hit me was looking for someone else."

After treatment for cuts about the head and face at hospital, Whitman went home and was able to turn up at his office today.

OPP Service To Cost More

TORONTO, April 14 —(CP)—Services of Ontario Provincial Police will cost smaller Ontario municipalities slightly more in future, Attorney-General Blackwell said today.

Municipalities of less than 10,000 population who buy police services from the Ontario government wil lpay about $1,900 a constable rather than the $1,750 they have been charged under 1944 agreements.

The $1,750 rate in relation to 1944 pay rates amounted to about 75 per cent of the actual policing cost. Since that time costs have increased and the attorney-general's department has decided to charge the municipalities the full cost of police services which amount to between $2,400 a constable, Mr. Blackwell said. Under legislation passed at the recent session of the legislature, however, municipalities of less than 10,000 population are eligible for grants of 25 per cent of policing costs, whether they maintain their own force or buy services from the government. This grant will reduce the actual rate charged for an O.P.P. constable to about $1,900.

Explosion On Ship Rocks Scottish Towns

IRVINE, Scotland, April 14—(AP)—A 300-ton ship loaded with carbide exploded in Irvine Harbor today, shaking towns for miles around.

No one was reported injured but the crew of the ship, the Christina Dawn, narrowly escaped death, since they had been scheduled to board her later today. There was no damage in the towns.

The British-owned coastal ship ran aground at the mouth of the harbor April 3. The crew was to try to refloat her.

The harbor was closed to shipping for 24 hours because of the possibility the gas might cause other explosions.

Have 200 A-Bombs

NEW YORK, April 14 — (CP). — A "conservative" estimate of the number of atom bombs in the United States today was set at between 100 and 200 by a former member of the Manhattan project — wartime atomic experimental group. Writing in the Armed Forces Chemical Journal, Dr. J. A. Campbell, chemistry professor at Oberlin College, Ohio, said "estimates based on many sources all lead to the conclusion that the rate (of production) is about one a week...."

Grand Master Re-affirms Orange Ideals

A pledge to the Protestant Churches that the Orange Association will asist them in striving for spiritual understanding was made to-day by R. Hardy Small of Toronto, Grand Master and Sovereign of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America.

He was addressing a two-day conference of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East which is holding its 90th annual meeting at the Peterborough YMCA. More than 300 delegates from lodges in the Ontario East jurisdiction were present.

"In this day of conflicting 'isms' we have advanced so much in material things we must now seek to grow in spiritual understanding," said the Grand Master.

"The Protestant Churches will receive the whole-hearted co-operation of the Orange Association in this endeavor."

He also stated that the Orange Association would continue to support "the observance of the Lord's Day."

"We will maintain our traditional stand in the observance of the Lord's Day, and will oppose strenuously any attempt to change it from a day of worship and rest to a continental or pagan holiday," he told applauding delegates.

Freedom of the individual and an economic standard that permits "the abundant life" were the two best safeguards against Communism, in the opinion of the Grand Master.

"Every one is engrossed with the problem of Communism, and the only effective way to combat this evil is to remove the conditions that create it," he asserted.

"These may be economic as well as religious. It is a well-accepted fact that in any country where the freedom of the individual is respected and the economic standard of the people permits of an abundant life there is no fear of the growth of Communism."

He repeated Field-Marshal Jan Smuts' description of the British Commonwealth as "the widest system of organized human freedom that has ever existed."

"The Orange Order is still the outstanding proponent of the British connection and loyalty to the Crown," he said. And he added that Canada's destiny lies in being the keystone in this connection.

"We have no patience with organizations or systems that involve dual allegiances on the part of the people," stated Grand Master Small.

Seismograph Caught With All Wires Down

OTTAWA, April 14—(CP) — Seismologists at the Dominion Observatory, who normally keep a round-the-clock check on earthquakes the world over, admitted ruefully Wednesday they had no record of Wednesday's shock which disturbed Vancouver, Seattle and other west coast points.

The electricians were rewiring our instruments when the quake occurred," one official admitted. "We didn't record a thing."

Secret Bases In Canada Against Reds—Gromyko

NEW YORK, April 14 (CP) — The Western Powers today were prepared to challenge Russia's charges in the United Nations that they plot an aggressive atomic war through the Atlantic Pact.

Warren R. Austin, United States delegate, was reported ready to ask for a chance to reply to the blast delivered yesterday by Andrei A. Gromyko, Russia's No. 1 deputy foreign minister.

Gromyko's 75-minute address followed Austin's condemnation of Russia's use of the veto as undermining the confidence of U.N. members in efforts of the security council to maintain pease.

The Russian replied with a counter-charge that the western powers were wrecking the U.N. by forming alliances which he said were violations of the U.N. Charter.

The Dominion came in for a sidewipe from Gromyko. He claimed that the United States were building "secret bases" in Canada to be used in an attack on Russia.

Russia previously criticized the pact in a note to the United States, but yesterday's slap was the first in the UN.

Gromyko, however, made no recommendations to the assembly for action against the pact whose signatories he said, were trying to encircle Russia.

"The conclusion of the North Atlantic Treaty signifies that the ruling circles of United States and Great Britain have reverted to the old anti-Soviet course in foreign policy aimed at isolating the USSR," he said.

Russia's aim is "to uphold the basic principles of the United Nations, to frustrate the plans of the aggressors, to unmask warmongers."

Estimate Damage At $10,000,000; Buildings Shattered

By GAIL FOWLER.

SEATTLE, April 14—(AP) — Eight persons were counted dead, scores injured and preliminary damage estimates ranged as high as $10,000,000 in the wake of an earthquake which jolted the Pacific northwest yesterday.

The shock struck at 11:55 a.m. EST.

Bricks showered off cornices and building facings; chimneys toppled; plate glass cracked and shattered; roads sagged and split, moving automobiles danced and many parked machines were battered and dented by falling masonry.

Cities from Vancouver and Victoria in the north, southward to Oregon towns in the Salem, Ore., area felt the quiverings of the quake. Scientists rated it of No. 8 intensity, which compares to a No. 12 or "total destruction" quake.

The total effect in British Columbia however, appeared to have been a bad scare. No one was killed or injured and there was no extensive property damage there. However, the quake was felt in dozens of B. C. points and the Dominion seismograph at Victoria registered the tremor for more than four minutes. It was one of the severest recorded in Canada.

Th Victoria seismograph registered No. 6 intensity on a Canadian scale which differs from that of the United States in that "total destruction" is No. 10.

Red Cross Helping

In the United States, the Red Cross and government agencies stood by today, ready to plunge in with aid and said that funds would be forthcoming to rebuild homes damaged by the quake, on a basis of individual need.

Two of the quake dead were in Olympia which was especially hard hit. Falling chimney bricks killed Percival Bisson, and Mrs. C. W. West died of a heart attack when the quake shook her hotel. Two dormitory buildings at the Boys' Training School at Chehalis, Wash., were damaged. Two boys were hurt. Seventeen men in the Old Soldier's Home at Retsil, near Bremerton, were moved after damage to their building.

Tacoma, 30 miles south of Seattle, reported "scores and scores" were treated for shock, bruises and other minor hurts. Many downtown buildings were ordered evacuated. The Lowell school was roped off because its steeple had shifted.

The Holy Rosary Church, probably the highest in Tacoma, was closed, as its cross was in imminent danger of collapsing.

Flyer, Freight Crash Head-on

JACKSON, Miss., April 14 — (AP).—One person was killed and 10 were injured Wednesday night when the crack Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad's "Rebel" and a fast freight train crashed head-on near New Albany, Miss.

The accident occurred at 11.50 p.m. CST.

Joe Cannon of Jackson, mail clerk of the Rebel, was reported killed.

The injured persons were taken to hospital at New Albany, but no one was critically hurt.

The Rebel engine and mail car was reported "completely crushed." The freight engine was also crushed, but not as badly as that of the passenger train.

Reject Aid To China

WASHINGTON, April 14—(AP) —State Secretary Dean Acheson has rejected a proposal to extend $1,500,000,000 in military and economic aid to China. Acheson said aid of such magnitude is "unwarranted" by present conditions in China and the outcome of any such undertaking by the United States government "would almost surely be catastrophic."

Daughter Dying, Asks Radioactive Gold

British Theatre Owner Asks Washington Atomic Commission For Aid

LONDON, April 14 (AP).—A New York and London theatre owner to-day said he has asked the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington for radioactive gold to treat his daughter's brain cancer.

Last October the Commission sent a radioactive phosphate to treat the girl, 24-year-old Iris Davis, who was stricken in July.

"Unfortunately, it has not proved fruitful," her father, Jack Davis, said to-day. "She is sinking."

Last fall the family placed advertisements in London, New York, and Paris newspapers, headed "Frantic Appeal," and pleading for advice on how to save the daughter's life.

A New York man, Daniel Rosenman, offered to have his brain transplanted into Iris' skull, but doctors said such a move was impossible.

The appeal for the radioactive material followed, but to-day Davis said the treatment had not worked. He said the plea for radioactive gold was a desperate last measure. Davis said he understood such material had been used successfully in cancer treatment.

Doctors at the hospital where Miss Davis is confined refuses to comment

At Oak Ridge, Tenn., the isotope division of the Atomic Energy Commission said to-day, radioactive gold has no "applicability" in the treatment of brain cancer.

19 High Nazis Draw Terms Up To 25 Years

NUERNBERG, April 14 (AP)—Nineteen high Nazi officials, convicted in the final American war-crimes trial, today drew prison sentences ranging from four to 25 years.

Each will receive a reduction of sentence equal to the time he has spent in jail — about four years. They promptly appealed to have the verdicts and sentences set aside on grounds the United States tribunal which tried them lacked jurisdiction.

Gottlobb Gerger, SS (Elite Guard) Lieutenant-General who was convicted of crimes including participation in mass murder and atrocities, drew sentences aggregating 25 years, the heaviest imposed on any of the 19. All had been found guilty of helping in various ways the Nazi horror program of aggression, plunder, brutality and murder.

The best known of the 19, Baron Ernst Von Weissaecker, was sentenced to seven years. He is a former envoy to the Vatican and former State Secretary of the German Foreign Ministry.

He was convicted in the last of the long series of war crimes trials by American courts. Charges on which he was sentenced were helping Hitler plot aggressive war against Czechoslovakia and participating in the campaign of atrocities against the Jews.

Sentences Given

Weizsacker was credited with four years he has been in prison awaiting trial, leaving him only three years to serve.

Ernst Wilhelm Bohle, suave English-born chief of the Nazi party's foreign organization, was sentenced to five years.

Ernest Woermann, chief of the political division of the German foreign office and pre-war councillor at the London Embassy, drew a seven-year sentence.

Edmund Veesenmayer drew a 20-year sentence.

Hans Heinrich Lammers, one-eyed chief of the Reichschancellory, who was convicted on six counts—more than any other defendant—also drew a 20-year term.

Richard Walther Darre, Argentine-born minister for food and agriculture, was sentenced to seven years.

Otto Dietrich, Hitler's press chief, got seven ears.

Lutz Schwein Von Krosigk, former finance minister, got 10 years.

Emil Puhl, director of the Reichbank, drew a five-year sentence.

Karl Rasche, head of the powerful Dresdener Bank, was sentenced to seven years.

Queen's Majorette Pin-Up Girl For RAF

KINGSTON, April 14—(CP)—Marge MacGregor, drum majorette of the Queen's University Band, has been chosen pin-up girl of an RAF squadron flying the Berlin airlift.

The second-year student from Pembroke, received a letter from the squadron, based at Lyneham Wills, England, asking for autographed pictures.

"I can fly coal and flour all year if I had a girl like that on my instrument panel," one of the pilots said when told about Marge.

The squadron first learned of her through Leslie Guy of Kingston, a friend of Sqdn. Ldr. M. W. Moore, formerly stationed here. Sqdn. Ldr. Moore now is a member of the airlift squadron.

Unemployed War Veteran Arraigned On Murder Count

WELLAND, April 14—(CP).—John William Christian, 27-year-old unemployed war veteran, was arraigned in the Welland County Jail on a charge of murder this morning, and remanded to April 21. The accused was represented by R. Boak Burns, Welland solicitor, retained Wednesday night by the father of the accused, J. W. Christian, a painter.

Christian's wife, an English war bride, came to Welland from Port Dover yesterday afternoon, but as yet no attempt has been made by any member of the family to see the accused man in the jail.

Christian, it is understood, has given police a signed statement.

Provincial Police under Inspector Ward H. Kennedy, are continuing their investigation of the slaying. Police today scotched rumors that Jacob Koabel, the murdered man, had been slashed with a razor. An autopsy performed Wednesday night by Dr. Lorne Whitaker, St. Catharines, showed death to be caused by blows inflicted on Koabel's head by a heavy blunt instrument. The murder weapon has not been found.

4 Tons Mudcats Shipped To Ohio

BELLEVILLE, April 14.—(CP).—Four tons of mudcats will be hauled out of the Bay of Quinte next week and dumped in ponds of Southern Ohio for the convenience of United States anglers.

The fish will make the trip in specially equipped tank trucks. They are caught in cribs and kept alive in large tanks until the trucks arrive.

Last spring 16 tons of mudcats were transported to United States ponds this way. Herbert McCabe, manager of the Bay of Quinte fisheries here, said today he expects at least an equal amount will be transferred this spring.

The shipment of the mudcasts, to be distributed in Ohio ponds for restocking purposes, was approved by the United States Department of Game and Fisheries.

Prize Chickens Killed

BELLEVILLE, April 14—(CP) —Two killer dogs raided the henhouse of Albert McGowan, one mile east of Belleville early today and killed 205 prize chickens.

The dogs, thoroughbread Dalmatians, had been tied up at the home of their owner on the Trenton road two miles away and had broken loose. After the mass killing the bloodstained animals went to the back door of the McGowan's residence and "wanted in".

Union Charges Pact Broken

PARIS, Ont., April 14 (CP)—Union officials charged today that Penmans Limited, had violated the agreement that ended a 12-week wages strike last Saturday.

William Stewart, international representative of the United Textile Workers, (T.L.C.-A.F.L.), said none of the strikers had yet been taken back to work. He said the men were ready to renew the strike if necessary.

Mr. Stewart said a delegation would be sent to see Ontario Labor Department officials in Toronto and we will demand that the government intervene and force the company to live up to the terms."

The strike ended last Saturday after 12 bitter weeks. The settlement agreement provided the company would rehire all strikers as needed with no discrimination shown.

Mr. Stewart said some of the non-strikers had agreed to support the strikers in any action.

Holiday Rush Biggest In Years

TORONTO, April 14—(CP)—The biggest holiday rush to the United States since before the war starts tonight.

Extra equipment has been called into service by airlines railways and bus companies to handle the exodus. Canadian Pacific Railways have put four additional trains on the Toronto-New York run and three extra sections have been added to the fast Toronto-Montreal afternoon pool train. Canadian National Railways reported more than 1,000 reservations and is making up a special train to take holidayers to New Orleans tomorrow.

Trans Canada air lines officials said 18 extra flights will be made to take passengers from Toronto to the United States and Bermuda during the weekend.

Chiang's China Falls Apart As Li Bowing To Peiping

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

NANKING, April 14 (AP) — Government forces today recaptured Kaochiao, 50 miles east of Nanking, amid some indications it had lost the civil war and surrendered to the Communists.

At the same time, the government apparently had lost the Yangtze-river island of Taiyangchow, 70 miles southwest of Nanking, to the Communists.

The China puzzle was complex. But it seemed apparent Nationalist China was breaking up into separate military and political parts.

The Communist radio in Peiping announced formal peace talks had started after 12 days of preliminary work. In effect, that seemed ao mean to observers here that the government negotiators had agreed to the eight points laid down by the Communists. They amount to virtual surrender.

But that is political. And the politicians negotiating do not represent all of Nationalist China, which roughly means the area south of the Yangtze.

South China, below Shanghai, apparently still belongs to retired President Chiang Kai-shek, even though he has publicly disclaimed any interest in the whole thing.

The Nanking government's sector—at least that part considered loyal to acting president Li Tsung-jen—seems to be the rich Yangtze Valley. But even here there is a question of divided authority and loyalty.

With the stakes thus divided, the recapture of Kaochiao and the loss of the Island of Taiyangchow mean little to the over-all picture.

Say ERP Has 60% Chance To Be Success

Program Has Cost US Five Billions; Cheap If Peace Kept

PARIS, April 14—(AP)—Men on the inside of the European Recovery Program claim it now has a 40 to 60 per cent chance of long-range success

The European Recovery Program has already cost the United States about $5,000,000,000 since it was started April 3, 1948.

The total cost may reach $17,000,000,000 before the program is completed in mid-1952.

The pay-off hoped for is nothing less than this: the peaceful evolution of diverse countries toward self-supporting European unity.

More simply, the pay-off might, with the impetus of the Atlantic Alliance, be a kind of United States of Western Europe.

ERP, in aiming in this direction, is strictly a gamble.

But in short-range activities, ERP is less uncertain.

ERP involves many operations, but most of all it is investment banking. It furnishes dollars to stimulate and expand European trade and industry through normal commercial channels.

Dual Purpose

ERP as an investment banker, tries to make each of its dollars do the work of three or four. In a given country, it is always hoping to make a single dollar add a dollar to exports as well as add a dollar to capital investment.

The immediate political purpose of ERP, when it started in April last year, was to check Communism. This has been done.

The hard-core of Communism in such countries as France and Italy has not been cut back, but it has not grown. In other countries, like Norway and Denmark, fellow-travellers have been forsaking the Moscow party line.

Attlee Refuses To Have Inquiry

LONDON, April 14—(Reuters). —Prime Minister Attlee rejected a suggestion in the House of Commons today that he should appoint a special commission similar to the Hoover commission in the United States to inquire into "extravagance and overlapping in the armed forces."

Labor Pacifist member Emrys Hughes said that the American commission performed a useful service in drawing attention to extravagance.

Attlee said he did not think this device would be particularly appropriate in Britain. "We have a different administration in the setting up of the Ministry of Defence," he added.

50 Buck Supporters Picket St. Laurent

VANCOUVER, April 14 (CP)—Some 50 members of the Labor-Progressive party silently picketed the Hotel Vancouver where Prime Minister St. Laurent was bedded down Wednesday night.

Wearing placards with slogans such as "we want peace," the picketers handed out leaflets headed "peace treason?"

The leaflets bore a picture of Mr. St. Laurent—not one of his best—and one of LPP Leader Tim Buck. The latter's picture bore the inscription "peace" while Mr. Laurent's had the caption "war."

Body of the leaflet was a letter from Mr. Buck to the Prime Minister criticizing Canadian foreign policy.

Pays $2,500 Bail Freda Linton Freed

MONTREAL, April 14—(CP)—Freda Linton, who gave herself up Monday after three years in hiding, Wednesday night was free on $2,500 bail pending hearings on charges of conspiracy and contravention of the Official Secrets Act. The crown Wednesday consented to bail being reduced from $5,000 to $2,500 because she is seven months pregnant.

Allies Prepared To Discuss Blockade Lifting

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP). —The United States stood ready today to receive, and consider jointly with Britain and France, any proposal Russia might make for lifting the Berlin blockade and renewing four-power talks on Germany.

The Western Powers now are in the strongest position they have attained since the start of the cold war. In view of this it appeared they would require negotiations to be undertaken at the outset, at least, largely on their own terms if Russia should come forward with a surprise proposal.

The Western terms, as reaffirmed yesterday by State Secretary Acheson, are simply that the Russians must lift the blockade unconditionally, prior to resumption of four-power discussions on Germany as a whole.

Acheson was prompted to make his brief comment on the situation yesterday by an inquiry about a press dispatch from London. This dispatch attributed to a diplomatic informant a report that Russia recently had offered to lift the blockade in return for renewing four-power talks on Germany.

Some informed officials said they had never heard of any Russian idea. At Frankfurt, Germany, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor, said he had not been approached on it.

If any hope was stirring that the Russians might modify their position and accept Western terms on Germany, there was little outward sign to support it.

LINDSAY, April 14—(ENS)—Samuel Bissette, who worked for the De Laval Dairy Equipment Company for 32 years before his retirement, died suddenly of a heart attack Wednesday at his home in Lindsay.

ROYAL H. WALKER

MARMORA, April 14—(ENS) —The death took place in Peterborough on Wednesday of Royal Russell Walker of this village. He had been ill for only three weeks.

Although resident in Marmora for less than two years, he was highly esteemed for his many fine qualities and many residents mourn his death at the early age of 44.

Mr. Walker was born in Huntington Township, the son of the late Royal Walker. His mother, who remarried, is Mrs. Alice Sparks of Hastings. Besides his mother and wife, he leaves six children, Mrs. Arthur Young (Gwendolyn), Bancroft and Shirley, Raymore, Wayne, Marvin and Dale at home. Also surviving is one brother, Arnold of Marmora; five sisters, Mrs. W. Stevenson, Toronto; Mrs. J. Huxtable, Oshawa; Mrs. W. Brown, Peterborough; Mrs. R. Lalonde, Tweed and Mrs. Percy Embury of Marmora.

Prior to coming to Marmora the family lived in Bancroft for 18 years. Mr. Walker was a well driller. He was an adherent of Marmora Free Methodist Church. The funeral will take place on Friday.

MRS. JOHN GAINOR

After a lengthy illness Mrs. John Gainor, the former Mary Jane Plunkett, died on Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Drummond of Otonabee. She was in her 83rd year.

Mrs. Gainor was born in Ireland and received her early education there. At the age of 12 she came out to Canada and lived for a number of years in Otonabee. About 35 years ago she moved with her husband and family to South Monaghan.

She was the daughter of the late Robert Plunkett and Jane Graham.

Mrs. Gainor was a member of Centreville Presbyterian Church.

She leaves four sons, Harry and John of Bailieboro, and Percy and James of South Monaghan, and a daughter Mrs. Ralph Drummond (Gertie) of Otonabee, with whom she was residing when death occurred.

Her husband, John Gainor, predeceased her.

The funeral will be from the home of her son Harry Gainor of Bailieboro on Friday at 2 p.m., Rev. Walter Patterson of Centreville Presbyterian Church officiating, assisted by Rev. George Murray of Keene United Church.

Burial will be in Centreville Cemetery.

Thinks He's Knighted Hamilton Chinese Dies

HAMILTON, April 14—(CP)— One of the strangest persons ever to have lived in Hamilton died Wednesday at the General Hospital.

He was the Chinese-born British subject, who, for the greater part of his life went by the name of the Rev. Sir Charles Suey Lee. He was the proprietor of Lee's laundry. He came to Hamilton 42 years ago.

Little is known "of Sir Charles". But documents indicate that it was an error of interpretation on the receiver's part resulted in the assumption that he had been knighted by King George V.

At the time of the King's coronation, he sent a letter of congratulations to his majesty. A letter sent in reply, says:

"The private secretary has received the King's command to thank Mr. Charles Suey for the loyal and kindly sentiments expressed in his letter of congratulation upon the occasion of His Majesty's coronation."

The words "Mr. Charles Suey" are written by hand on the printed sheet in such a manner that the word "Mr." might be interpreted as "Sir."

Testifies Shot Fired From Ships' Deck

HALIFAX, April 14.—(CP).— A self-styled aspirant to Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) membership testified at a preliminary hearing today that he was shot from the deck of a riot-ridden ship Friday by Henry Pilgrim of Montreal.

Pilgrim, a member of the Seafarers' International Union (A.F. L.), is facing a charge of attempted murder.

The charge was laid following waterfront riots when S. I. U. members stormed C.S.U. pickets to board three strike-bound Canadian National Steamships' vessels. Eight pickets were injured, some by what their companions said were shotgun-wielding S.I. U. seamen.

The witness, picket Hugh Felix of Halifax, told the court he knew Pilgrim before Friday's flare-up.

He said he was standing outside pier shed doors near fellow-picket Sam Walburn shortly after the fight satrted. The Lady Rodney lay alongside the pier.

"I saw men holding guns in their hands," the slim- dark-haired picket said. He recognized Pilgrim "on the promenade deck."

Walburn, he said, was "carrying on a conversation with Pilgrim." The S.I.U. member yelled down from the ship, "you're on the wrong side now, Walburn."

Felix said his companion "called Pilgrim a scab." The witness said he turned his eyes away from and looked up to see Pilgrim aiming at him down the barrel "fo a short shotgun."

Said Felix: "He took aim at me . . I was shot, I knew I was shot. I turned around and one of the men asked me if I had been shot."

Paul Koerner, Goering's deputy in the four-year plan for war preparation, drew 15 years.

Paul Pleiger, Ruhr coal expert who played a leading role in Nazi war production, got 15 years.

Hans Kehrl, who once headed the war production office, was sentenced to 15 years.

Gustav Steengracht von Moyland, bright young man of the Foreign Office, who succeeded Weizsaecker as state secretary, got a seven-year sentence.

A 10-year sentence was passed on Wilhelm Keppler, Hitler's first economic adviser.

The court ruled Wilhelm Stuckart was so ill that any sentence against him would amount to the death penalty, so no sentence was given him in addition to the four years he already has been in prison awaiting trial.

Walter Schellenberg, chief of SS Intelligence, was sentenced to six years.

Trains Late

Trains ran late between Seattle and Portland, by-passing the "Narrows route" at Tacoma where quake-caused slides were not expected to be cleared until after today.

Two men were injured at the Narrows Bridge Tower, where a 23-ton 'saddle' fell and sunk a scow.

At Puyallup, also near Tacoma, geysers of water appeared suddenly during the quake in a four-block area, although there were not water mains in the vicinity. A woman was injured when the third floor of an apartment in Payallup collapsed.

In Seattle, a preliminary listing showed 75 buildings which suffered damage from amounts estimated up to $50,000 apiece.

Sends Swedish Flag To Stockholm, Sask.

STOCKHOLM, Sask., April 14 —(CP)—Sixty-three years ago a group of Swedish settlers came to this southeast Saskatchewan district. Every July 1 they celebrate "Colony" day in conjunction with Dominion Day. A swedish flag flies on the flagpole at the picnic grounds with Union Jack.

But over the years the Swedish flag has become tattered. This year however they will have a new one. In response to a request from Stockholm, Sask. to Stockholm, Sweden,—a parcel came recently containing a letter from King Gustaf of Sweden, his autographed photo—and a large Swedish flag.

Fishermen's Church Will Be Demolished

HASTINGS, Eng., April 14— (CP)—For nearly a century fishermen have stood among the nets, lobster pots and fishing gear decorating the Church of St. Nicholas, giving thanks for the sea's bounty.

Soon they may have to find another place of worship, for the old church is scheduled for demolition under a town planning scheme drawn up by Hastings Corporation.

The old church was closed during the war. Before then fishermen flocked there every Sunday morning and, within sound of the grey waves crashing on the pebbled shore, sang old hymns associated with the sea.

The church council of All Saints', the mother church, had hoped that St. Nicholas could be reopened this year, but the Hastings Corporation decided otherwise.

Rev. L. Hook, rector of All Saints, said the War Office had paid only £15 ($60) compensation and it would take at least £150 to make the church fit for use again.

Senior Golds Move Advance On Exchange

TORONTO, April 14 —(CP) — A wide list of senior golds moved strongly ahead in mid-session on the Toronto Stock Exchange today to liven up an otherwise dull pre-holiday session. Industrials and base metals mixed gains and losses and westerns oil tended slightly firmer.

The exchange's 1 p.m. index showed volume for the first three hours was 502,000 shares, about 102,000 shares more than yesterday's similar period.

Senior golds led the upturn in the gold list as action increased to the best this week. Junior producers tended brighter on some scattered small penny advances.

Several industrials reacted to annual reports but generally the list was dull and changes held to fractions.

Base metals moved narrowly with several key issues gaining.

Calgary and Edmonton and Okalta crawled ahead slowly for five cent advances in western oils.

UN Linguists Straighten Out Modern 'Babel'

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 14 —(CP)—United Nations interpreters say their profession started with the Tower of Babel.

Today their highly - skilled work rules out an recurrence at U. N. of that great Old Testament confusion.

The Burmese delegate who doesn't understand a Bolivian's rapid Spanish just reaches for a pair of earphones, turns a switch, and hears the speech in English, French, Russian or Chinese instead. These four and Spanish are "official" U. N. languages.

Whose voices come through the earphones? Those of men and women interpreters who speak from glass-enclosed booths, giving a running interpretation of each speech, complete with gestures.

George Sherry, 25, Polish-born, Romanian-reared citizen of the United States translates from Russian into English. He tries to give the fire and flow of Russian delegates' speeches, as well as the actual phraseology.

"Obviously, by getting into the swing of the speech, one is bound to mirror the emotions that are implicit, he says. "It has nothing to do with political convictions. Five minutes later I shall probably throw myself with the same emotions into the spirit of the next speaker!

Sherry also is one of a number of top-notch interpreters from French into English among the 65 interpreters of seven nationalities at Lake Success. All of them object to being called translators, because translators work with the written, rather than spoken word.

Started At Versailles

Interpreters first took part in international meetings with the Versailles Peace Conference of 1918. Before that, French was the diplomatic language and all who attended spoke it. English came to the fore at Versailles.

When the Allies met at San Francisco in April 1945, several delegations brought their own interpreters to help in the negotiations to form the United Nations.

"Never has so much been owed by so many to so few," says senior interpreter Georges Kaminker, paraphrasing Winston Churchill. Kaminker a former member of the French Assembly, says interpreting is a "beautiful" job, but he sighs for the day when interpreters had a more personal relationship with senior top diplomats. Nowadays few meet the delegates socially.

Kaminker is leader of the "old-fashioned" school of interpreters, which frowns slightly on simultaneous translation, used in all U. N. meetings expect the Security Council.

In that major body, a full interpretation is given after a speaker ends his address. Kaminker says this gives the other members a chance to think and also allows the interpreter to do a better job. During a speech, the interpreters take abbreviated notes, then deliver the entire address.

Delegates tune in translations on a wire system attached to their chairs in the council chamber. Visitors use one-pound radios similar to walkie-talkie sets, which are tuned to special frequencies allotted to the interpretation division.

One-Man Commission

TORONTO, April 14 — (CP)— Judge Eric Gross, County Judge of Oxford, to-day was appointed as a one-man Royal Commission to inquire into the misconduct charges against nurses of the Windsor Metropolitan General Hospital and civic officials. The appointment was announced by Attorney-General Leslie E. Blakwell following a Cabinet meeting which passed an Order-in-Council.

SKYBOUND — A modern version of Jack's bean stalk is the 69-inch plant shown with Mrs. L. A. Haley of Montreal. She received it after she ordered an aspidistra in a store last October. It was a baby then but within a few weeks it had exceeded an aspidistra's normal mature size. Then it just grew and grew. Already cut down to size twice, the plant is growing faster than ever now, says Mrs. Haley.

Millbrook News

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kennedy, Main St., are both in Civic Hospital, Peterborough, suffering from strokes. Mr. Kennedy bought the former Will Scotheran home, when the latter moved to Toronto last fall. The Kennedys came from Elizabethville.

Mr. and Mrs. George McGuire and son Gerald are leaving this weekend to return to their former home in Ireland.

Mrs. B. B. Dawson and family are moving into the part of the Needler home, Anne St., vacated by the McGuire's. Mr. Dawson will come here from Weston to assist with the removal, arriving on Thursday evening.

Among those who motored to Peterborough to hear Mrs. Kate Aitken were Mrs. L. Ingram, Miss Vanita Ingram and Mrs. Clifford Larmer.

Mr. T. A. Campbell, who is visiting relatives in the west, is now at Vancouver. With his cousin, Dr. C. W. Walsh, he went by plane this week to Victoria and called on Dr. Alvin Gray and other Millbrook people now living in that city. Mr. Campbell expects to leave for home about April 21.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Palmer and family plan to complete renovations on their home, King St., being vacated this week by the Dawson family. They hope to move in shortly.

Miss Florence Fallis, Whitby, spent the weekend with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Ball.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Lamb, who are both in ill health, have sold their house on King St. West to Irwin Hatherly and have gone to live on the farm with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lamb. The Hatherlys already occupied the west half of the house and have now taken over the whole building.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Brown, Peterborough, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Harris and two children, Alliston, were weekend guests of Captain and Mrs. W. E. Massey-Cooke. Mrs. Harris is a sister of Mrs. Massey-Cooke.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ford, Peterborough, visited Mrs. T. A. Campbell on Sunday.

Girl Aged Four, With Her Dog, Walks Five Miles In Search Of Her Father

CAMPBELLFORD, April 14 — (ENS) — Little four-year-old Marilyn MacDonald, accompanied by her collie dog, walked five miles to town in search of her daddy. "I'm looking for daddy" and "my dog's name is Rover" was all the information she would give Chief Constable George Hardy.

After putting Rover in a cell with drinking water and a good supper, Chief Hardy and his little friend went sight seeing. Less than a block away from the police station Mrs. Don Clarke identified the little girl. She and Mr. Clarke drove the wanderers home. Marilyn is a child of Mr. and Mrs. Alex MacDonald who live about five miles west of Campbellford.

Testing Blueberry In Acid Peat Soil

EDINBURGH, Scotland, April 14 (CP)—The Canadian blueberry will make Scottish wastelands productive if the dreams of scientists come true.

About 400 plants have been brought from Canada by the department or agriculture with the confident belief they will increase and prosper on acid peat land where other crops have failed. Soil scientists think the blueberry can be made popular sources of British jam.

The Canadian plants, placed in different areas, have taken root well and already agricultural authorities speak of a new industry in the making.

The Canadian blueberry is a relative of the common wild Scottish blaeberry and the English bilberry. Canadian and United States scientists have improved its bearing qualities and Scottish authorities say the cultivated plant runs to a bush six or seven feet high, yielding about 20 pounds of fruit.

They are encouraged by Canadian reports that about 43,000 acres of former barren land in the Maritimes now carry blueberries and their cultivation is being extended in British Columbia.

In Scotland, more than 2,000,000 acres are covered with peaty soil and much of this area will be planted with the blueberries when the Canadian plants have been acclimatized and multiplied. One major attraction is that the land does not require much preparation and the blue berry prospers under moist conditions and will grow under trees.

Authorities said the severest test will be to their patience because the plants will not bear until four or five years have passed.

Railways Experiment With Double-Deckers

LONDON, Eng., April 14 (CP) —An experimental double-decker passenger coach is to be tried out by British railway in the London area.

It has a single deck section at each end and the double-deck portion occupies the centre section. The second deck has a lower clearance than usual, headroom for passengers being reduced to about the height of the present baggage rack.

Labor Problems To Be Discussed

OTTAWA, April 14 — (CP).— Basic labor problems as they apply to the Western Hemisphere will be discussed at the fourth regional conference of American States in the Labor organization at Montevideo, Uruguay, April 25 to May 10.

Names of Canada's four delegates—two from the government and one each representing labor and employers — were announced to-day.

Roland K. Gervin of Vancouver, chairman of the BC Provincial Executive of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, will represent Canadian workers, while Harry Taylor of the Canadian National Carbon Company of Toronto will be employers' delegate.

Technical advisers to the government will be Harry Taber of Ottawa, Industrial Relations officer in the Labor Department, and N. D. Cochrane of Fredericton, Deputy Minister of Labor for New Brunswick. Lionel Roy, first Secretary of the Canadian Embassy in Buenos Aires, will be secretary-general of the delegation.

Russian Engineer Will Stand Trial

NEW YORK, April 14—(AP).— A Russian engineer, accused of trying to get United States defence secrets was ordered today to stand trial May 2, despite his vigorous protest that he has diplomatic immunity.

Federal Judge Alfred C. Coxe fixed the date after hearing a statement by Valentin A. Gubitchev, the engineer, alleged immunity status.

The Russian was arrested by the FBI last month with Judith Coplon, 27, Justice Department employee and Gutichevs alleged accomplice in the espionage conspiracy. Miss Coplon has also been indicted in Washington on charges of conspiring to steal government secrets. Her trial there has been set for April 26.

The Russian is held in jail under $100,000 bail.

Second Child Drowned In Abandoned Well

TRACY CITY, Tenn., April 14. —(AP).—A child was drowned in an abandoned well yesterday, the same day that funeral services were held for little Kathy Fiscus at Alhambra, Calif.

The story of the drowning of Haskell Meadows, six, was told today by the Weekly Grundy County Herald.

The child ran across the top of an abandoned well while playing with his seven-year-old brother, Lloyd. Rocks and slabs covering the hand-dug well gave way. Haskell was plunged 18 feet into a pool of water about 12 feet deep.

THURSDAY, APRIL 14, 1949

A Royal Commission On Canadian Culture

A Royal Commission on National Development in the Arts, Letters and Sciences has been appointed, with the Rt. Hon Vincent Massey as its chairman. No better appointment for this post, we feel, could have been made, for Mr. Massey combines broad cultivation, the collector's flair, and genuine enthusiasm for the arts with wide administrative and diplomatic experience. His colleagues on the Commission will be Mr. Arthur Surveyer, the distinguished Montreal engineer, the Rev. Georges-Henri Levesque, of Laval University, Dr. Norman Mackenzie, the president of the University of British Columbia, and Miss Hilda Neatby, professor of history at the University of Saskatchewan. This excellent group should produce a report of the foremost importance.

* * *

The Commission's terms of reference, as set forth by the Prime Minister, are these:

The principles upon which the policy of Canada should be based, in the fields of radio and television broadcasting.

Such agencies and activities of the Government of Canada as the National Film Board, the National Gallery, the National Museum, the public archives and the care and custody of public records, the library of Parliament; methods by which research is aided, including grants for scholarships through various federal government agencies; the eventual character and scope of the national library; the scope or activities of these agencies, the manner in which they should be conducted, financed and controlled, and other matters relevant thereto.

Methods by which the relations of Canada with the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, and with other organizations operating this field should be conducted.

Relations of the government of Canada and any of its agencies with various national voluntary bodies operating in the field with which this inquiry will be concerned.

This is a tall order, and the last paragraph is vague; no doubt the Commission will be bombarded with suggestions and entreaties from every agency in Canada which thinks that it has a cultural mission. We are confident that the Commission will know how to deal with all such problems, however. Nor do we fear, as some parliamentarians seem to do, that the work of the Commission will never be finished; we predict that it will be finished in about five years. We shall then see how brisk the parliamentarians will be in making realities of its recommendations. Ottawa has never yet shown any great alacrity in helping the arts in Canada.

* * *

In spite of governmental neglect, some of the arts have not done too badly here. At the end of this month the Dominion Drama Festival will hold its final competition in Toronto — a very large undertaking which it is carrying out without any governmental assistance whatever. This movement, which has raised the drama in Canada from the level of "amateur theatricals" to a standard which has surprised and delighted adjudicators from abread, has managed without state aid since its beginning, although there have been times when a grant of $5,000 would have made a great difference to it. We think that the Commission will decide that it is movements such as this one, which have actually done fine work, which should be encouraged, rather than pseudo-educational movements which treat all the arts merely as fodder for lectures and university extension work.

Chinese Peace?

China is in a muddled situation. The Nationalist forces are exhausted or have given up; the Nanking Government has been suing for peace and peace negotiations have been begun in Peiping; the Acting President Li Tsung-jen has offered to surrender himself to the Communists and to burn in oil, if that will help speed peace; the Communists opened a new offensive north of the Yangtse River.

This offensive was apparently designed to force the Nationalist Government to accept the Communist terms without negotiation, and to warn the so-called "war faction" in the Nationalist camp to accept what little they offer or to risk losing all. This faction is opposed to President Li's peace policy, and under the leadership of Chiang Kai-shek who "retired" from the Government last January, controls an important part of China.

The new offensive has apparently had the intended result, for the Communists have announced that they will negotiate. This means that they feel that President Li will accept whatever terms they choose to offer. If the Acting President accepts the terms, what will the Chiang group do? Will the civil war continue, Chiang and his supporters setting up a third kind of government? They want peace only if the Communists will allow them (or the Nanking Government) all of South China. And if peace really comes to China, will total communism come with it?

Should The Pains Of Childbirth Be Relieved?

The nationalization of medicine in Great Britain has shifted many problems to the shoulders of the state which were formerly left to the private discretion and professional code of doctors. One of the most important and vexing of these is the problem of relieving the pain of childbirth with partial or complete anaesthesia. As the state now pays the bill the state must make the rules, and an act has been before the British Commons called the Analgesia in Childbirth Bill. The difficulty which lies in the way of the bill is this: are midwives to be permitted to give anaesthetics to women in labour? Thousands of women are delivered every year with midwives, and not physicians in attendance; are the midwives to be allowed to ease their pain with drugs? The doctors point out that giving anaesthetics is a complicated and potentially dangerous business, and they do not think that midwives can be trusted with it. But as every woman in England is taxed for medical treatment, it is obviously unfair that some should have this form of assistance whereas others, who are attended by midwives, should not. It appears that there are not enough doctors to ensure every woman a doctor's care when she is in labour.

Somewhat to our surprise this debate has revived the old quarrel as to whether anaesthetics during childbirth are ethically defensible, or medically advisable. People who consider the Bible to be, among other things, a medical textbook, refer to Genesis III, 16: "Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception; in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children". To ease a woman's birth-pangs, they say, is to go against the will of God. And there are several doctors who say (apparently expecting to be taken seriously) that if the birth of a child does not cause a woman pain, she will be less likely to love and care for her child. This dispute is a very old one, and it may be noted that the advocates of pain in childbirth are, as usual, men, who need never expect to feel them. None of these gentlemen, we observe, suggest that anaesthetics should not be used in surgical operations.

We thought that the debate as to whether a woman should have anaesthetics during childbirth had been won a hundred years ago, when Queen Victoria decided to have them at the birth of Prince Arthur in 1850. She and the Prince Consort thrashed the matter out thoroughly, and consulted clergymen and physicians before they made up their minds. The clincher was the argument of the Queen's personal physician, Sir James Simpson, who pointed out that when God created Eve "the Lord caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs and closed up the flesh instead thereof". In this way God sanctified the use of anaesthetics when a new life was to be created. The Queen was given chloroform at Prince Arthur's birth, and women everywhere acclaimed her and followed her example when they could.

That anyone should suggest today that the pain of childbirth is salutary seems strange. It is by no means strange, however, that doctors should oppose the use of anaesthetics by women whose medical training is sharply restricted.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The North Atlantic Pact is inscribed on fifteen pages of blue goatskin. The hide, perhaps, of the Soviet nanny?

A mysterious headline in a contemporary reads "Handkerchief Manufacturers Briefed on Code". The common code, we presume.

Pravda charges that the U.S. is spending twice as much as Russia in its arms budget. But owing to the degenerate American custom of paying workers for their labour, the U.S. is probably not getting any more for its money.

From The Critic's Notebook

THE GOOD HOUSEKEEPING COOK BOOK (Clarke, Irwin). Anyone who takes cooking at all seriously needs a shelf of cook books, for there is no single volume which contains everything that a really good cook wants to know. But on such a shelf there must be one basic cook book—one book which contains a great variety of recipes for all the staple dishes, as well as information about choosing food, measuring ingredients, the serving of food, and kindred lore. Other books supply rarities and expound fine points; other books explain Chinese or French cooking; but without the basic cook book the cook could not do her work for a day. The new edition of The Good Housekeeping Cook Book is one of the best basic cook books that I have ever seen.

Although of American authorship this book is not neglectful of the treasures of English cookery; I have searched the index for half an hour, and it is splendidly inclusive. Even that superb dish, almost unknown to American and Canadian chefs, trifle in all its forms, is included. Trifle, in Canada, is apt to mean stale cake with cheap jam and leftover custard; genuine trifle is a dish for the gods. There are also many useful suggestions for varying existing recipes. This is a good book for beginners, for it is methodical (many cook books are surprisingly vague about method and quantity) and it will serve as a basic book, or culinary encyclopaedia, for the Old Hand. Men who like cooking will find it useful, for most men have too little practice in cooking and need a methodical book to keep them on the track. Highly recommended, for the kitchen or for bedtime reading. R.D.

RUSSIA'S RACE FOR ASIA by George Creel (Bobbs-Merrill, New York). This book is more a tract of the moment (it was published last month) than a calm, careful survey. It is peculiarly passionate appeal for American recognition of the danger of Russian Communistic expansion in Asia and a sharp, even bitter, condemnation of recent American foreign policy in China. Its emotion falls oddly because the writer has had no long personal acquaintances with China. He has been in that country once, it seems; for a time last year. That does not invalidate the book or make the emotion suspect; arm-chair observers of the recent war often knew more about what was happening, and felt as deeply about it, as soldiers and generals in the field. Nevertheless, there is in this book a strong tinge of journalistic fervour not likely to appeal to serious students of Asia or present international problems.

The book is, by the way, misnamed. It would rightly be called "Russia's Race for China", rather than a race for Asia. The author deals almost exclusively with China and recent American intervention there. Communism in India, Burma, French-Indo-China and Korea are not discussed.

The author's approach can be judged from one chapter called "The Yalta Betrayals". He says Roosevelt deserted China. In return for Russia's agreement to enter the war against Japan ninety days after the defeat of Germany, Roosevelt at Yalta guaranteed Stalin (1) Control of Port Arthur, Manchuria's important naval base (2) Controlling interest in the Chinese Eastern Railway (3) Recognition of the Russian-controlled Soviet Government in Outer Mongolia which had already seized power. To these were added further territorial pledges and promises of advance delivery of food and military equipment "sufficient to equip an army of 1,500,000." The author's comment is: "This while China was vainly begging the United States for a minimum of arms and munitions!".

He makes the following large condemnation of Roosevelt, though excusing the late President rather gracelessly as a sick man "incapable of sustained resistance against the demands of the iron-willed Georgian": "Not even Talleyrand or Metternich ever went so far in cynical disregard of the moralities".

For a newspaperman like Mr. Creel who is not a systematic historian nor possessed of special knowledge, to write of Roosevelt in this way seems presumptuous. Further, Mr. Creel is writing after the event. Roosevelt acted before and during it, while he was bearing the heat and burden of the day, and when there was no foreseeable immediate end to the war against Japan.

The author gives a lively portrayal of General Stilwell ("Vinegar Joe") in China, based on official records and the published Stilwell papers. For those who have not read the Stilwell Papers (which should never in decency have been published), the extracts here selected to put Stilwell in the poorest light, will be shocking. This 'plain, blunt soldier' must have been a splendid captain in the field. He does not seem to have been a good general in diplomatic drawing-rooms. Stilwell came to dislike and distrust Chiang Kai-shek ("a grasping, bigoted, ungrateful little rattlesnake,....a double-crosser,....a stupid ass") and to respect or understand Mao Tse-tung, the communistic Chinese leader who is now dominant. The author respects Chiang Kai-shek and damns Stilwell and Mao Tse-tung and the agrarian reformists in China.

The book, despite its bias and bitterness shows pretty conclusively that Chinese Communists are Moscow-inspired, Moscow-led and Moscow-fed. T.J.A.

Letters To The Editor

RESPECT FOR THE DEAD

Sir: I notice that it is now a disgrace to die in Peterborough and that the undertakers must now slink down back alleys if they wish to conduct the mortal remains of a citizen of Peterborough to a cemetery.

If this shows respect to the dead then I am very much mistaken in my outlook on life. If it does not show respect to the dead then where is the Christianity in Peterborough City Council?

If the mayor were to die, would his body be taken down a back alley? Without doubt the answer to this is no, yet is he any better than any other citizen? If the time has come when the Council of Peterborough, who supposedly represent the people of Peterborough, are too busy to pay respect to the dead, then I believe it is also time for all decent Christians to move out.

Yours sincerely,
AN INDIGNANT CITIZEN.

WHAT ABOUT THE CEDAR LAKE PROJECT?

Sir: About two months ago I read about a public playground that was planned for this city and county near Cedar Lake. The paper said a meeting of a lot of clubs and societies were all in favour of it.

Since that time I have heard nothing more about it and am wondering if this will result the same way as many other good things that have been planned for Peterborough. A lot of talk but never any action.

Summer will soon be here and many people like myself who can't afford a summer cottage will be looking for a place to take our families for a picnic somewhere at a lake. In the past few years I haven't been able to find a place that was any good that wasn't privately owned and we usually have to picnic beside a dusty road like between Nassau and Lakefield which on a nice day is so crowded that there is no privacy and little pleasure, and the river is unsafe for bathing. I hoped that there would be something better this year. Can't the papers do something about this?

Yours truly,
A. WILSON.

MORE ABOUT THE PICTURE EXHIBITION

Sir: I am indebted to Mr. Gordon Bailey's letter in Saturday's issue for calling my attention to the National Gallery exhibit of Canadian pictures over the Library. It had one effect at least, the programs had all disappeared by ten o'clock Monday morning.

Mr. Bailey is quite right when he chooses Paul Peel, Horatio Walker and John Russel as good painters. They were. He is on less solid ground when he groups them as Canadian painters, although all were Canadians. Paul Peel and Russel did most of their painting in Paris. These painters were sound craftsmen of the classical school of painting, of European tradition.

However art, like photography, has moved a long way since it could be said that "all good pictures are brown".

Mr. Bailey is really slipping when he makes the following sweeping criticism of this exhibit: "The pictures exhibited are poorly drawn, ... tney all lack technique and most of them composition."

There are no pictures in the exhibit that warrant either the first or third criticism. Whatever the objections to the exhibit, whether we like the pictures or not, a careful study reveals in each one hung a good composition for that particular subject, and accurate drawing to carry out that composition. It is composition that enables Pegi Nichol MacLeod to draw our eye from individual figures to the anonymous mass about the table in "Ratings at Lunch". It is composition that makes Ethel Seath's "The Vine" such a charming piece.

As for technique, which should never be over-rated in art, that shown by Prof. Andre Bieler in his egg tempora "Bronco Riders", a studio piece that must be carefully built up layer on layer to give a luminous reflection from the under layers, is at least equal in technique to any achieved by the artists admired by Mr. Bailey.

The "Group of Seven" did not hold together very long because they did not have enough in common to form a real group. This can best be seen by comparing the two representatives in this exhibit: Lawren Harris's "Blue Triangles" and Arthur Lismer's "Canadian Jungle". The latter might be more attractive in black and white, for Lismer's drawing has always been better than his colour sense. But Tom Thomson is in a different class, as was brought home to me three years ago in Holland where the Dutch, who know and love their pictures, were just discovering him.

Mr. Bailey would have his art without "impressions". Impressions are the crystallization of imagination, and few would admit that there could be art without the latter.

I will not say that we should like all the pictures. We should be able to take or leave the modernistic. Personally, I can leave it. That does not prevent my loving a Henri Masson, and I shall be ready to listen to Gordon Bailey when he can paint a picture in which the water looks as wet as that in Masson's "Autumn".

Yours truly,
A. J. ARNOTT.

Bible Message

Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear: but your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear. (Isa. 59: 1, 2.)

* * *

As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one: there is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God. They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one. (Rom. 3: 10-12.)

* * *

But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life. And not only so, but we also joy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement. (Rom. 5: 8-11.)

Beauty Queen Goes Wild

That Louisiana beauty queen who "bit, slapped, scratched and kicked" her brand-new husband in a New Orleans hotel lobby must be a charming little wildcat.

"Beautiful, but dumb" perhaps—but she has demonstrated the accuracy of a lot of ancient saws, such as "Beauty is only skin-deep". . . "Handsome is as handsome does". . ."The female of the species is more deadly than the male". . ."Hell hath no fury like a woman...." period.

Is it a sign of the times? Or something? "Bewildered youth caught in the backwash of war?"

Maybe ever it may be, our mothers didn't act that way. Nor our grandmothers.

There is, of course, such a thing as having too much money to spend, too many cocktails to drink; getting too much publicity and adulation; turning heads with bird-brains in them—or a combination of all of it.

Your guess is as good as any....but, guess as you will, it's a doubtful ad for the beauty-queen business.—Halifax Chronicle-Herald.

Hastings Association Plans Social Evening

HASTINGS, April 14 (ENS)—The monthly meeting of the Hastings Home and School Association was held on Tuesday evening, in the Senior room with the president, Mrs. F. Crate in the chair.

The petition for the banning of certain crime comics was passed and signed by the members.

Mrs E. Hess, Mrs. A. Thompson and Mrs. F. Fisher were named a committee in charge of receiving nominations.

It was requested that all nominations be given to the committee before May 17.

Plans were made for the coming social evening in the Town Hall on April 28. Mrs. C. Baker and Mrs. J. Jones were appointed to the lunch committee, Mr. E. McKeever to look after the cards and Mrs. W. Thomas and Mrs. A. Orr the prizes.

It was decided to speak to Miss L. Dockindoroff, Public Health Nurse for Hastings, on the subject of teaching first aid and nursing to the children.

The president introduced Mr. Cooke, Principal of Havelock High School, who presented a most interesting address on the churches and cathedrals in England. A vote of thanks was passed by Mrs. F. Crate to Mr. Cooke.

Mr. E. McKeever announced that Douglas Montgomery, grade 7, Phyllis Wellman, grade 6, and Barbara Scriver, grade 8, were the winners of the poster contest. The children will be presented with books at the next meeting.

Air Cadets To Visit Britain, United States

TORONTO, April 14 — (CP)—Exchange visits with Britain and the United States have again been arranged this year for Canadian cadets, the Air Cadet League of Canada announced today.

The two-week trip to the U. S. will start at the end of July and the United Kingdom tour will leave Canada in early August. Candidates for the two visits will be selected from the 378 squadrons across the Dominion.

League officials also announced April 30 is the closing date for application for the $15,000 in scholarships to be awarded to Canadian service colleges.

JAMBOREE CHIEF — Eli Boyaner of Saint John, NB, has been appointed camp chief of the First Canadian Boy Scout Jamboree scheduled for Ottawa July 16-24. Mr. Boyaner has been New Brunswick Scout commissioner since 1945.

Easter Thankoffering Held By WMS Group

FAIRMOUNT, April 14 (ENS)—Mrs. W. Windrim was hostess to Fairmount WMS on Tuesday afternoon when they held their Easter meeting and thankoffering. The sum of $17.00 was raised and dedicated by Dr. C. S. Reddick.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. R. K. Earle, through illness, Mrs. R. F. McIndoo, 1st vice-president, had charge.

Mrs. J. H. Sanderson resigned as supply secretary as she is leaving the community, and Mrs. H. McGee was appointed in her place. Discussion took place re serving lunch at Grassland Day, but arrangements were left over until the May meeting.

Mrs. Downer was leader of the program as outlined in the Missionary Monthly. Those taking part were Mrs. W. Edgerton, Doreen McGee and Mrs. Hanbidge. Dr. and Mrs. Reddick were heard in an appropriate duet. Mrs. C. W. Seymour read an article on Christian Stewardship.

After a reading on temperance Mrs. Jas. Seymour led in prayer. Mrs. Rerrick presented the 5th chapter of the Study Book, "Literature for the Newly-Literate" and in an interesting way told the story of the Canadian Mission Press in Chengtu.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Reddick, Mrs. T. W. McIndoo and Mrs. W. Edgerton.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sanderson have returned home after spending the winter in London, Kitchener and Port Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Allin and son Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Allin and son Bruce, of Newcastle, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. S. McBain on Sunday.

Elmer Windrim of Peterborough spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCarrell.

Roseneath YPU Plans For Its Annual Play

ROSENEATH, April 14 (ENS) — Roseneath Y.P.U. held its weekly meeting in the L.O.L. Hall with the president Mr. Neil Adams presiding.

The meeting opened with community singing with Miss Joan McMillan at the piano.

Following the devotional and business period, Rev. R. C. White gave an address on the subject "Visual Aids". Mr. White told of the benefit derived from these in religious training.

It was decided to discontinue Y.P.U. meetings, owing to play practice, until after the presentation of the play "The Little Clodhopper" the latter part of April.

Hastings Stores Make Holiday Arrangements

HASTINGS, April 14 (ENS)—Stores will remain open until 10:30 p.m. to-day. They will be closed all day Good Friday, and will remain open on Saturday till 10:30 p.m. and open all day Easter Monday. The bank will be closed on Friday and Monday, closing at the usual time Saturday. The post office will be open from 8 to 9 a.m. and from 2 to 3 p.m. on both holidays.

Stuart Walden Heads Cobourg Chamber

COBOURG, April 14—(ENS)—Stuart Walden was elected president of the Cobourg Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting. W. N. Bradley is vice-president; Jack Allen treasurer and Mayor Joseph Smith secretary-manager. H. J. Cooey heads the industrial division; H. Graves is secretary of the industrial division. Douglas Tait is president of the retail merchants section and W. Rawcliffe is secretary.

Even murder was invoked to protect the secret of glass manufacturing in the days when Venice was at the height of its glory.

'Columbus 1492' Useless Fact Says Inspector

CAMPBELLFORD, April 14 — (ENS)—The Home and School Association heard an instructive address Wednesday night on the latest trends in education by Leslie Woodruff, English Master at the Peterborough Normal School.

The old educational system, he stated, was stiff and formal. Children were forced to read before they reached the proper mental age. "Under the age of twelve," he said "children should not be asked to solve difficult mathematical problems."

Mr. Woodruff outlined the purpose of I.Q. tests and how the difference in mental levels was achieved. "Two children in the same grade," he remarked, "one with the mental age of ten and the other with the mental age of eleven can reach the same goal but the one with the higher level can reach the goal more easily. We should bend our achievement levels down to reach the child with the low I.Q."

Unrelated Facts Useless

Under the old system inspectors had children recite unrelated facts. "The fact," he remarked, "that Columbus discovered America in 1492 is useless to the child. The fact becomes useful when the child knows that 1492 comes either before or after the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

"Although our schools," he continued, "are not purely democratic, teachers can, through the social studies, make pupils aware of the things they would lose under any other system of government."

Mrs. Tatham, acting as commentator, named the program numbers which were chosen from the works of Tschaikowsky. Miss Stephen, at the piano, interpreted various of his symphonic and concerti themes. "None But the Lonely Heart" and "Pauline's Romance" were sung by Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Clarke. Mrs. Hendershot and Mrs. DeCarrol sang "The Waltz of the Flowers."

The president, Mrs. Hopping, introduced the speaker, and the vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. Stephens. Mrs. Davey acted as secretary. Lunch was served in the domestic science room.

Grader Treatment For Cobourg Streets

COBOURG, April 14—(ENS)—Cobourg streets department has rented a grader from a construction company until the regular grader is repaired. The town some time ago bought an old grader from the counties, but it broke down this year and there has been a delay in getting parts for it. Meanwhile the roads in the town are the worst in many years, part of the trouble being due to the condition in which they were left after a construction company installed the new trunk sewer.

Swayne St. is like an automobile proving ground with hollows and bumps which slow traffic to a crawl. Spencer St. is in bad shape also, with the west end absolutely impassable. University Ave. has its bumps also, and running across William St. on the highway, is a depression left when the trunk sewer was installed. Chapel St. has a pavement that is dangerous to traffic.

Two Months In Jail For Pilfering Cars

There has been a lot of pilfering from car parking lots, Crown Attorney John Bradshaw told Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court today. He described John Billingsley, 555 Douglas Ave., who was pleading guilty to stealing an overcoat from a car parked on Charlotte St., as the ringleader. Billingsley, who had three previous convictions, was sentenced to two months in jail.

Floyd Michels, 18, 690 Frank St., who was charged jointly with Billingsley, was placed on suspended sentence for a year. W. J. A. Fair, KC, who was representing Michels, said his client had not given the police trouble before as had Billingsley. It was a case of a younger lad getting into bad company.

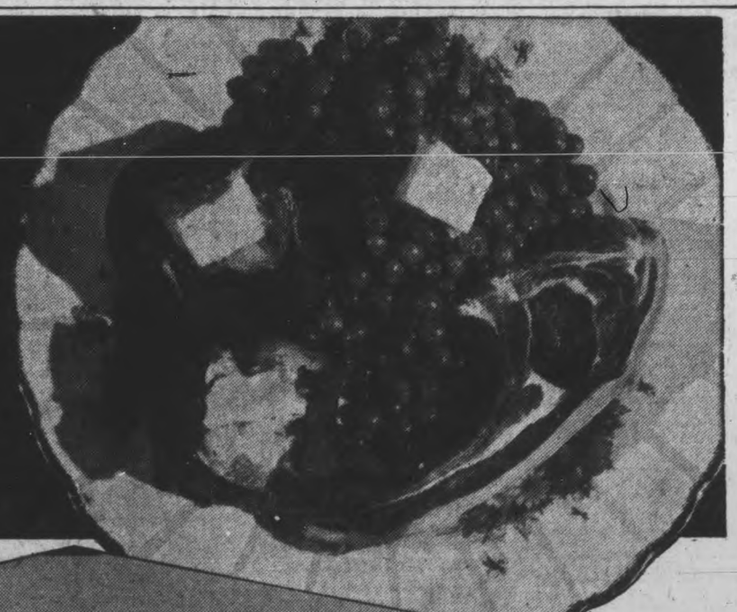
THANK YOU!
FROM THE BOY SCOUTS OF PETERBOROUGH
Our Paper Drive last Thursday was a complete success, thanks to the co-operation of everyone in Peterborough.
Local firms were more than generous with their trucks and drivers, many of whom were still on the job until after midnight.
Fathers and Committeemen worked harder than any previous drive, collecting over 144 tons of paper packed into seven box cars. The drive started at 6 p.m. and was still going strong at midnight.
It was impossible not to miss some of the paper even though a truck and one car spent Friday trying to gather up the missed bundles.
Because of the prevailing low price of paper, date of a future drive is not being announced. In the meantime we thank you all for your help and your indulgence.
THE BOY SCOUTS.

Buy Libby's While Still Obtainable



For the past few years, there has not been enough Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice to go around. Libby's has often been "sold out" for weeks and even months. That is why we urge you to get in a good supply of Libby's now, while it is still available. Don't delay—stocks are diminishing every day.

It takes more tomatoes to fill a tin the "gentle press" Libby's way and you can taste the delectable difference. Try it, and judge for yourself! Libby's skill and experience also protect the vitamins A and C of which Libby's is an excellent dietary source. These are the vitamins which help to maintain appetite and promote radiant, glowing health. Make sure your family gets its daily vitamin quota by serving Libby's. Always keep a few tins in the refrigerator, and encourage the children to help themselves. Make sure that you have sufficient Libby's to last until next fall's tomatoes are ripe.

Atkins Unhoods The Marvel As Semi-Final Steals Show

Fred Atkins unmasked the Masked Marvel in the main pro mat bout at the Brock Arena last night as a big crowd cheered to see one Lew Reynheer's face unhooded here for the first time. But the semi-final draw between Sliding Billy Hanson and Ray Villmer really stole the show and both received an ovation from the fans at the finish. John Katan won the prelim from Irish Tom Collins. Bert Maxwell refereed the first two bouts and Strangler Ed Lewis handled the main event.

Atkins took the first fall of the main go in 22 minutes, forcing the Marvey to concede with a "Kangaroo Klamp," a grip somewhat similar to the reverse double leglock. The Australian had an early edge but later the hooded one got in a lot of his illegal tactics to punish the British Empire champion, and the referee seemed unable to halt him, though issuing repeated warnings. They were both powerful and Fred was popular, getting a big hand as he rallied after a time to drive in for the finish with the Mask helpless.

Took Hood Off

Making it two straight, Atkins took just nine minutes to win the second round when Lewis disqualified the Marvel. The latter had tried to ram Fred into the turnbuckles but missed and both went out of the ring. The Mask got back and tried to keep Atkins out for the count, finally hanging him up in the ropes. Despite clips and headlocks from the referee, the Marvel kept Fred hung up for a time, and the Strangler finally got him loose and lifted his hand.

Then Lewisappleida full

Then Lewis applied a full nelson to hold the Marvel helpless and Atkins jerked off his head covering as the fans flocked around to see Reynheer's face for the first time. The loser complained after that Lewis should have counted Atkins out.

Swell Scrap

Seldom if ever have local grapple fans seen a better match than the semi-final. Hanson and Villmer were well matched as to weight, speed and skill. They staged a nifty scientific show, wide-open and fast at times, with both applying a big variety of grips and breaks. They frequently got tied up the same sort of holds and had trouble breaking loose, one time breaking by agreement to keep up the action. They flew around the ring but played it clean throughout and when they shook hands, after a brief flurry following the time-limit gong, the crowd stood and cheered, and kept cheering after they had left the ring with sweat pouring off their bodies. Villmer easily held his own with the clever and popular Hanson. It was ruled a draw.

Too Rough

Rough John Katan, at 245, had too much weight, villainy and ring savvy for Tom Collins, scaling 228, in the prelim. He won it in 26 minutes when Collins was unable to continue after a brutal and sustained attack by his wily opponent. Katan was his usual tricky self, getting away with plenty in spite of warnings from the referee and boos from the crowd. Collins was careful at first and had Katan in trouble for a time on the mat with Maxwell on the alert to halt hair-pulling by John. Later, Katan got going and punished Tom plenty, using every illegal stunt imaginable. He banged Collins against the turnbuckles, pulled hair, choked him and gave him such a pummeling that Tom finally had to give up.

LONGDEN SUSPENDED

At Albany, Calif., Johnny Longden, the United States leading jockey, was suspended at the Golden Gate Fields track Wednesday for interference. The five-day suspension is effective beginning Saturday.

HASTINGS' BOYS TAKE TITLE—Defeating Cayuga recently, the Hastings' puckists won the OMHA "D" championship and the J. P. McAvoy Trophy. Manager H. G. Fairman's boys, most of them in organized hockey for the first time, won their group, put out Omemee, eliminated Westport of the Ottawa district and then rubbed out Beeton in semi-finals. The team is shown above, back row, left to right Manager H. G. Fairman, P. Stevenson, D. Forde, R. Spencer, L. Wrightly, J. Morrow, R. Chambers, E. Spencer, A. McMillan, J. Herrington and Coach Lynn Hill; front row—W. Dodd, R. Condon, A. West, Johnny Thompson (mascot), D. Montgomery, C. Davis and D. Fairman.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A little on boxing today, taken from a Buffalo dispatch by Johnny Fitzgerald of the Tely. He writes: "From the quiet streets of Peterborough to the busy thoroughfares of Buffalo, where he is fast but surely looming as an important piece of bric-a-brac, is the story of Jackie Dugan. This young and clever middleweight boxer, who won the middleweight amateur championship of Canada in 1947, is on an undefeated string of 20 professional bouts, the majority of them in Buffalo. And it is in the Bison City where he will soon be seen as a main bouter. Jack Singer, one of the two pro promoters in Buffalo, thinks highly of the 23-year-old Canadian ringman."

* * * * * *

"He's one of the most promising boys we've had come along in some time, particularly from Canada', Singer said. 'In his last few fights for me he's looked so good I figure that about four or five more and he'll be ready for a main bout. Certainly he's a favorite with the fans and a good, standup, clever boxer. He's no killing puncher but he moves well and has a lot of polish.' If Jackie, who was in the army for five years and took part in the Dieppe raid, develops as expected, Singer will have four main bouters." We're glad to hear that Dugan is doing so well. He was a fine amateur boxer here before leaving for more lucrative mitt fields.

Away To The OASA

OASA annual convention starts this evening in Oshawa and the big general meeting is on there most of Friday. George Campbell, Motor City scribe and vice-prexy of the association, is running for president, while Bert Bailey of Peterborough is after an executive berth once more. He will be there as a member, while the City Softball League will be represented by three voting delegates, Pat Calladine, George Dormer and Harold Dormer. A lengthy list of nominations and amendments to be dealt with at this session. Local delegates will give a report on the convention at an early league meeting here.

Lots of luck to the local Legionnaires as they pull out by train this evening for Sarnia and the third game of the best-of-five OHA senior "B" finals. Legion are up two now and hope to make it a clean sweep on Friday. If not, they'll have to play Saturday there and, if necessary, there on Monday. But we think they can take the provincial title on Friday. We're told that CHEX will carry the game after 10 p.m. through the courtesy of Hugh Campbell. We will take in the trip and wire back a story for Saturday, as the club won't return till sometime Saturday if they win Friday. Squad is at full strength, free from injuries and in high spirits.

Unmasking Ye Marvel

Lew Reynheer may be a mat marvel but he is no longer a masked one. Fred Atkins took care of that for the local customers last eve at the Brock, beating the Mask in two straight falls of the main go, once by disqualification. So then Strangler Ed Lewis as referee held Lew firmly whilst the British Empire champ took the hood off his opponent's head. The face wasn't anything to write home about, but the guy has a powerful body. The semi-final scrap stole the show, though, as Billy Hanson and Ray Villmer, a Missouri smoothie, battled to a dandy draw. Scientific, fast and colorful, it really suited the fans and they gave both classy grapplers a big hand at the finish. Katan was too tough for Tom Collins in the prelim.

Vic Sedgewick reports that Lucky Strikes lost all their games last night yet still won loop honors in the YM lasses' bowling league. The Strikes must be lucky at that. Two postponed matches had to be staged as Bombers had a chance of tying the L.S. team but Bombers could win only two of three games. So, they lost out by a point to the Lucky Strikes, 58 to 57 being the final standing for these teams. Ethel Stanbury's 364 single and Joyce Jeffries' 862 triple were high for the season, as Mary Gimblett led the way last night with 271 and 695. Annual league banquet is set for next Wednesday evening.

Elect Roy Dodge League Prexy

PORT HOPE, April 14—Roy D. Dodge, Cobourg, was re-elected for a fourth consecutive term as president of the Lakeshore Intermediate Baseball League Wednesday night when that organization staged its annual meeting in Port Hope.

Cobourg's perennial president of the Lakeshore circuit has been connected with baseball for many years and has been head of the league for about eight years. He held that post for some four or five years prior to the group's war-enforcement disbandment.

Sid Little of Bowmanville was again named vice-president and James Crombie, Bowmanville, was returned as secretary-treasurer.

The largest turnout in league history was on hand for the meeting, which President Dodge termed the finest annual meeting yet. Most contentious item was the question of whether or not to expand to eight clubs.

Applications for entry were on file from both Lindsay and Trenton No. 6 Repair Depot RCAF. Following a vote, which ended in a three-all stalemate, President Dodge cast his ballot in favor of expansion and the two new clubs were admitted. Both had delegates at the meeting, which was attended by upwards of 40 enthusiasts representing eight teams.

The following clubs will make up the league this year: Trenton RCAF, Port Hope, Cobourg, Whitby, Bowmanville, Newcastle, Colborne and Lindsay.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The Ontario Lacrosse Association is scheduled to review the policy under which seven members of the OLA Senior A division were recently suspended for playing in the United States during the winter season. The subject will come up at the OLA annual meeting in Toronto April 23.

The suspension of the seven players, five of them on the St. Catharines team, was made under the association constitution which gives the executive power to govern movement of league players outside of Canada or in leagues outside the OLA.

Officials of the St. Catharines team will ask that players be considered free agents on completion of the Ontario League playing season. The two other suspended players were from Hamilton.

The negotiating committee of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and representatives of the National Hockey League will meet in Toronto Tuesday, CAHA President A. W. Pickard said Wednesday at Regina.

Pickard declined to comment on points to be raised by the CAHA but it is believed the controversial clause in the "C" contract will come under fire.

Montreal will definitely make a serious bid to have the 1956 Winter Olympic games staged here and in the nearby Laurentians. J. O. Asselin, chairman of the city executive committee, and A. Sidney Dawes, chairman of the Canadian Olympic Association, will leave for Rome next week to press their claim before the Olympic international committee, it was learned Wednesday night at Montreal. If Montreal does get the bid, then federal and provincial governments will be asked to contribute to the immense cost involved.

At Ottawa Thurso Lumber Kings Wednesday night captured the Ottawa district intermediate hockey championship when they scored a convincing 9-3 victory over Kemptville Royals in the fifth game in their best-of-five series. Thurso took the series three games to two. They now advance against the winners of the Halifax Navy-Rouyn series for the Eastern Canada intermediate title.

Senators Meet Aces Tonight For Cup Chance

By The Canadian Press.

A hockey club from the Northern Quebec woods some 125 miles north of Quebec City stands today in Canadian amateur hockey's limelight. And it intends to make the most of it, but the odds are against them.

The club — S. Joseph d'Alam Aces—meets the mighty Ottawa Senators in the Capital City tonigh in a sudden-death game for the right to meet Toronto Marlboros in the Eastern Canada finals of the Allan Cup.

The Aces won the Senior B title in Quebec. But few, until Wednesay, knew much about the team from the paper town of St. Joseph (population 9,500) on the Saguenay River in County Lac-St.-Jeanest

They have two former professional players in their ranks and player-coach Armand Gaudreault is hopeful of chalking up an upset victory. Gaudreault played during the war years for the National Hockey League Boston Bruins.

Biggest Mixup

The story of how the Aces entered the Allan Cup picture—and almost entered the Eastern Canada finals unopposed—is the story of one of the biggest mixups in years in Canadian amateur hockey.

The whole business started on Wednesday in Midland, Ont., when George Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association had delayed too long in naming a team to enter the Eastern finals.

He called off the final and named Toronto as the team to meet the Western Canada senior champs.

Soon after Dudley relented and said the QAHA could have "a few hours to make up its mind" about Quebec's representative. And the team would have to be chosen in time to meet Marlboros in Toronto Friday.

The Quebec Association made a belated protest that Dudley had "overstepped his responsibilities" in previously ordering Ottawa Senators into the Eastern final. President Azarie Choquet ordered the Senators to meet the St. Joseph outfit.

And, said Choque, if Ottawa—Quebec senior champs by virtue of playoff victories against Valleyfield and Sherbrooke—did not meet St. Joseph then the Aces would be declared winners and meet Toronto.

But with the choice of playing St. Joseph or missing out on the Eastern final Manager Tommy Gorman had only one answer. He agreed to the sudden-death contest to-night.

Lucky Three Gives Leafs 3-1 Victory Over Detroit

By FRASER MacDOUGALL

TORONTO, April 14 (CP) — There's Stanley Cup victory magic in the number "three" for Toronto Maple Leafs.

When they downed Detroit Red Wings 3-1 Wednesday night to take a 3-0 lead in their best-of-seven cup final, it was the third time that three goals brought the defending champions through. They won the series opener 3-2, the second game 3-1.

Now they need only one more victory to become the first team to win the trophy three times in succession since it became the symbol of modern world professional hockey supremacy.

Backed by the spectacular work of veteran Turk Broda in goal, the Leafs held off a determined Detroit offensive through the first period and into the second before they took command of the game themselves and drove in their three goals in less than six minutes.

The Wings started off with the same sort of solid play that won them the National Hockey League championship in the regular season. They took a 1-0 lead within five minutes on a screened shot by defenceman Jack Stewart from just inside the blue line. Pete Horeck fed him a diagonal pass-out right from the Toronto corner. The puck whistled past several players on both teams before the rugged defenceman trapped it, then took his time in picking the open side of the net.

Play With Assurance

Through the rest of the first period, the Wings rode out three minor penalties to Toronto's one. They played with assurance again to start the second but the Leafs suddenly caught fire, actually sparked by a lapping penalty which left them two men short for 23 seconds.

First there was a penalty to Stewart of the Wings, at 6.41. Defenceman Garth Boesch of the Leafs followed him at 7.16 and right winger Bill Ezinicki was chased at 8.53. Centre Ted Kennedy and defencemen Jim Thompson and Gus Mortson fought off the Wings for the 23 seconds Boesch and Ezinicki sat together in the box.

The Leafs had the best of the play while Ezinicki finished serving time. Nine seconds after the muscular forward stepped on the ice he tied the score from close range on a rush with Cal Gardner and Harry Watson.

Ted Kennedy, Leaf centre and captain, put Toronto in front one minute and 20 seconds later with a backhand ankle-high drive.

Off His Game

A brush between Ezinicki and Detroit's Ted Lindsay, in which each threw some punches at the Detroit end, brought the combatants minor penalties for roughing. Detroit's George Gee drew a 10-minute misconduct for arguing the point with referee George Gravelle. Goalie Harry Lumley of Detroit also argued energetically and the incident seemed to throw him off his game.

The Lindsay and Ezinicki penalties had 36 seconds to run when Gus Mortson let loose with a screened shot from the blueline which hit Lumley's stick and bounced into the goal.

From then on, nothing went right for the Wings.

Coach Tommy Ivan of the Wings hinted at possible lineup changes for the fourth, and possibly deciding game here Saturday night. If a fifth game is necessary it will be played in Detroit Sunday night.

Coach Hap Day, who has guided his Leafs to four Stanley Cups since he took over as coach in the 1940-41 season, was loudly applauded by the 13,882 fans when he made his appearance with a shining, new hat he has had for months and promised to wear as soon as his men won three games in a row. They failed to do that during the scheduled season when they finished in fourth place in the league standings. They now have five consecutive playoff victories—two over Boston and three over the Wings.

Fort Frances Edges Capitals

REGINA, April 14 — (CP). — Fort Frances Canadians Wednesday night lived up to their reputation as hockey's Cinderella team when they outlasted the favored Regina Capitals 5-4 in the opening game of their best-of-five Allan Cup semi-finals.

Not the slightest bit awed in meeting a power-packed club that boasts four former National Hockey League players, nor by the fact that they were playing on foreign ice, Canadians gave a scrappy display to whip the Caps who had gone 17 games without tasting defeat.

The goals for the team from the little paper town on the Ontario-Minnesota border went to Gord Miller, Doc Johnson, Jack Marshall, Dun Sampson, and Mike Hupchuk. Regina's goals were scored by Vic Myles and Mel Hill, two of the former NHL men, and Red Tilson. Myles had two of the counters.

Coach Gord Fraser, whose only pre-series prediction had been that his team would make a battle of it, had Canadians humming along with their noted checkerboard plays. And his Canucks showed they could strike with a vengeance when they rapped home two goals on one occasion when Toby Brown of Caps was off for a major penalty.

Port Colborne Downs Port Hope Team 46-26

PORT COLBORNE, April 14—(CP)—Port Colborne Incos Wednesday night defeated Port Hope 46-26 in the Ontario Amateur Basketball Association Intermediate C final to take the round 80-70.

Port Hope won the first game of the home-and-home series 44-34.

Emo Rajczak led Incos with 18 points. Gino Favero, sharp-shooting Inco forward, was the other scoring ace with 12 points. Incos checked their men well and gave them few open scoring chances, especially in the last quarter after they had taken the lead on the round.

Lucky Strikes Capture YMCA Ladies Senior Honors

Lucky Strikes won the championship of the Ladies Senior Bowling League at the YMCA last night by a single point over the Bombers as they staged postponed games to settle the final standing. Lucky Strikes lost all their games to Tigers but won the title when Bombers could gain but two points from Commandos, with a tie thus being averted.

High three for the night went to Mary Gimblett with 695, followed by Irene Penrose with 681 and Helen Howden's 608. Mary Gimblett also took top single of 271 to head A. Reid's 256, Barb Lee's 254 and M. Cunningham's 251. Best single game was rolled by Tigers with 1112. The annual banquet will be held on April 20 at 6:30 p.m.

High single for the season was 364 by Ethel Stanbury as Joyce Jeffries led in triples with 862. Lucky Strikes finished two with 58 points, Bombers had 57 and Glengarys 54, Y's Menettes 46, Tigers 43, Corvettes 31, Commandos 28 and Hurricanes 20. The results last night:

BOMBERS (2)—B. Lee 516, A. Jackson 530, R. Dorrington 387, M. Cunningham 590, M. Morton 525. COMMANDOS (1)—D. McKinstry 154x, M. Sinclair 494, M. Wyllie 287*, M. Moore 400, M. Wood 571, M. Patterson 146x, D. McArthur 386*.

MONTREAL, April 14—(CP)—Active Communists and their sympathizers in Canada probably number nearly 400,000, Dr. Watson Kirkconnell, President of Acadia University, Wolfville, N. S., said here Wednesday night. Dr. Kirkconnell told the Altrusa Club that such a force could create havoc in the event Canada was attacked by a foreign power.

Broda, Mortson Stars Of Game

By FRASER MacDOUGALL

TORONTO, April 14 (CP) — The way Conny Smythe sees it, pudgy Turk Broda and lean Gus Mortson won Wednesday night's Stanley Cup final for Toronto Maple Leafs over Detroit Red Wings.

After the Leafs trooped into the dressing room from their 3-1 conquest of the Wings and their third straight victory in the best-of-seven series, the Toronto manager said: "Mortson was the fellow, he led us as we fought off the pressure. That was the way he played in Detroit. And Turk Broda's work in goal saved us when the Wings were coming."

Manager Jack Adams of the Red Wings sized it up this way: "We lost it in the first period. We missed at least five open chances then."

Red Wing coach Tommy Ivan was as silent as his gloomy players but he broke into a smile as he said: "What can you say when you lose."

His rival coach, Toronto's Hap Day, got into the Leafs' dressing room ahead of his sweating players and greeted each with a hearty handshake.

Ziegfeld Star Sues

DENVER, April 14 — (AP)— Gilda Gray, star of the Ziegfeld Follies during the 1920s, yesterday filed suit for $1,000,000 against Columbia Pictures Corporation, claiming that incidents from her past were used in the motion picture "Gilda." She said she was all ready to sell "The Gilda Gray Story" to Hollywood when Columbia "came out and messed up everything" with its "Gilda" picture.

HOME AGAIN—Gypsy, little 10-inch monkey, is home again after a three-day disappearance. Tame enough here, she caused a minor riot in a Montreal tavern last Saturday. While with her owner, Ed Fyfe, shown here with his wife, a customer tickled Gypsy's stomach. She bit him and the customer slapped her. Fyfe walloped the customer and others jumped into the fray. During the excitement Gypsy disappeared and was later found in a downtown drug store.

Curling News

By Herb Martin

We had an idea that we were through with this curling column for this season, but when our curlers go curling, we go along too.

Over at Lindsay, Wednesday, the Lindsay club held a big one-day mixed rink bonspiel. Rinks were entered from Fenelon Falls, Bobcaygeon, Haliburton, Lakefield, Toronto C[illegible]les, Lindsay and Peterborough.

It was a case of the survival of the fittest. Owing to the extreme warm weather, the ices were very heavy and especially so on the east and west ices.

All played three 10-end games and in spite of the ice conditions seemed to enjoy themselves. The Lindsay Club have asked us to make this announcement. All further bonspiels, for the season, have been cancelled.

The Peterborough rinks were: Mrs. H. R. Martin, H. R. Martin, Mrs. S. A. Lowe, S. A. Lowe, skip.

Mrs. A. Jones, M. Knox, Mrs. J. Watts, Dr. C. McKee, skip.

DiMaggioLeaves Hospital Today

BALTIMORE, April 14—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio expects his discharge from Johns Hopkins Hospital today, but there is still the big question of how long a sore heel will keep the big slugger out of the New York Yankees' line-up.

Doctors examined him Wednesday and reported finding "immature calcium deposits" around his heel. His right heel, from which a bony growth, or 'spur,' had been removed last November, has been bothering him again.

Joe was examined by Dr. George A. Bennett, who had treated him often in the past. Afterwards, Dr. Edwin L. Crosby, director of the hospital, issued this statement:

"DiMaggio was found to be suffering from "immature calcium deposits in tissues adjacent to his heel bone.

"He will receive the usual treatment for this condition, which is seen in many parts of the body. It is expected he will be discharged on April 14, but will continue treatment as an outpatient. The length of the disability will be determined by the results of the treatment.

Dr. T. M. Girdard, a Dallas specialist who examined the Yankee Clipper before he came to Johns Hopkins, described the ailment as an irritation requiring rest, inoculations and X-rays.

8,000 LEFT HOMELESS

CEBU CITY, Philippines, April 14—(AP)—A child with a flaming match yesterday touched off a $1,000,000 fire in this city's densely populated area. Six persons were reported missing and authorities estimated about 8,000 persons were left homeless.

All Yours
TO WORRY ABOUT
Unless you shift the burden

When a relative or friend names you in his Will as executor of his estate, the time will come, (if you survive him), when everything that is his, — business, investments, debts and family problems — will be all yours — to worry about.

If you are a busy man or are not experienced in estate administration, you would find that arranging for Probate, valuing Assets, establishing Debts, paying Succession Duties, dealing with Investments, setting up Trusts, making Distributions, and attending generally to the many details of Administration, would be more than you could handle, with justice to either the estate, the heirs, or your own affairs.

Should this happen to you, the thing to do is appoint The Royal Trust Company your Agent, to administer the estate, which would relieve you of all but superficial functions as executor.

Conversely, and in consideration for the friend you might yourself appoint, be sure to name The Royal Trust Company in your own Will as executor and trustee of your estate, to act alone, or with a relative or friend as co-executor or adviser.

It often pays in many ways to have the job well done.

TURNING THE PAGES OF "CANADA UNLIMITED"

It was 1909. Lurching and bumping over the rough ground at Baddeck, N.S., the Silver Dart rose into the air, piloted by J. A. McCurdy. It was the first aeroplane flight in Canada—and it made history.

History was written in the air again in 1919. Alcock and Brown flew from St. John's, Newfoundland, to Ireland, and brought Canada to the doorstep of the old world. Then came the intrepid bush-pilots, opening new pathways through great wild spaces to new discoveries.

In 1924, Canada's Air Force was born. Through the years it worked quietly, efficiently. Then came the war, and Canada's men of the air emblazoned their names forever in the annals of the world's great.

Now celebrating its Silver Jubilee, the Royal Canadian Air Force is carrying out a work of peace. Lives are being saved by mercy flights . . . the uncharted North is being photographed . . . scientific knowledge of aeronautics is broadened. By opening up many new horizons in this country, the men of the R.C.A.F. are proving there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited!

Estimate $347,000 Needed To Erect New High School

NORWOOD, April 14 (ENS)—Cost of a new district high school was estimated at $347,000 and annual maintenance at $63,800 when the Norwood District High School Area Board discussed a proposed building. The estimates were based on the school accommodating 225 pupils. At present there are 976 public and 197 high school pupils in the district.

The secretary was instructed to apply to the several municipalities in the area as to accepting the debentures. Having done this, the Board will make application to the Ontario Municipal Board for approval. If permission is granted, the municipality in the school area will arrange for the issuing of the debentures. The school project is expected to take approximately three years before completion.

The followng is a summary of the erection costs, maintenance and amount to be raised by each municipality.

Cost of new building, based on 225 pupils, $306,000; Architect's fees, etc. $18,000; School equipment, etc. $21,000; School site, $2,000.

To retire $347,000 within 20 years at a rate of 3.6 per cent, an annual debenture payment of $24,290 is required.

Annual maintenance cost (salaries, supplies, etc.) would be $25,600, and transportation of pupils, $14,000, making a total annual cost of $63,890. Less government annual grant of 70% of $59,000, the ceiling amount, $41,300. Balance to be retired by the district, $25,590.

District equalized assessment $3,000,000. Rate between 7 and 8 mills.

Proportions—Asphodel $8,168; Otonabee, $3,839; Havelock, $2,485; Belmont, $3,273; Norwood, $2,638; Hastings, $2,110.

"JUNKET" DANISH DESSERT

A delicious CURRANT-RASPBERRY FLAVOURED PUDDING

IN HALIFAX one of the biggest police guards in the port's history stood between angry seamen pickets and freighter Sunprince as she was moved to anchorage by a handful of officers. Members of the rival union hope to board her in latest move in Canada's 14-day-old strike.

Mrs. H. Blakely Re-elected WI President

MILLBROOK, April 14 (ENS)—Mrs. T. G. Harkness opened her home for the annual meeting of the Women's Institute on Saturday evening, when Mrs. Henry Blakely was elected for a second term as president.

Past president, Mrs. Olan, presided for the election, the slate for 1949-50 being: Vice-presidents, Mrs. Allie Fallis and Miss Mary Widdis; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Hilton; district director, Mrs. D. Olan; Sunshine committee, Miss Widds and Mrs. Harkness; voting delegates at the annual East Durham convention at Garden Hill, June 2, Mrs. Blakely, Mrs. Olan and Mrs. Hilton.

Mrs. Blakely was in the chair and there were 12 members present and seven visitors.

Reports were all of an encouraging nature, Mrs. J. W. Hilton, secretary-treasurer, told of an enrolment of 24 members, with 10 regular and three special meetings. One of the 'specials' took the form of a picnic at Mrs. C. Thorndyke's home. Total attendance 141, average 14.

Among the activities was the sponsoring of a girls' homemaking club and garden brigade. Seeds for the latter arrived on Saturday and are being distributed.

Money-making projects included two card parties; tickets sold on a donated basket of groceries; and on a chicken also donated. Tea was served at all winter meetings, and a collection afterward added to the funds. Donations were given to the Sick Children's Hospital; to the Salvation Army; to the Girls' Scholarship Fund, OAC, Guelph; one parcel of food was sent to England, and another is now ready for shipment. Flowers were sent to sick and shut-in members, as well as fruit, and cards at Christmas time. For his kindness in printing notices of meetings, Mr. J. H. Barringer was remembered at Christmas, and the expenses of the leader for the girls, to the training school at Bowmanville, were paid.

Attend Convention

Five members attended the Central Ontario Area convention at the Royal York, Toronto, and six members took part in the Co-Operative program at Cavan. Total receipts for the year were $141.46; expenses $62.90; balance on hand, $51.56.

Miss Mary Widdis, convener of the standing committee on agriculture, reported on her program, planning of farm homes, and buildings; and how to lay out the grounds; how cheese was discovered by accident 5,000 years ago.

Mrs W. H. Armstrong's report of her department, social welfare, told of a program on government grants, and also a paper on health, and another on the duties and responsibilities of good citizens. Home economcs took the form of a demonstration by the Junior Homemakers, Mrs. Hilton leader, showing how to pack a weekend bag; a discussion of soap substitutes; how to take lettering from sugar and feed bags to fit them for other purposes.

Roll call each month had proved an interesting item, the topics including: home remedies, current events; health hints; the duties required of good citizens. Mrs. Delbert Olan had charge of the citizenship department during the year, and presented the programs.

Notice was given that the annual fee had been doubled, and is now 50 cents. Mrs. J. Sloan, a sick member in the Civic Hospital, Peterborough, will be remembered for Easter. Auditors Mrs. Harkness and Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, could not report, their work still to be done. Ice cream and cake were served during the social hour, and the May meeting will be at Mrs. Armstrong's home, Union St.

Hastings News

Joe Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burke, Clyde Street, is a patient in Kingston Military Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Edwards (nee Jean Rogers), Toronto, spent the week-end in Hastings visiting with relatives and friends.

Mrs. J. Quinlivan and daughter Patricia, Mrs. W. E. Edwards and daughter Joyce spent Friday in Peterborough. It was Mrs. Quinlivan's birthday.

Wilfred Hicks has returned home after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. James Timlin and son Larry of Roseneath.

Mrs. W. E. Downer and Mrs. M. Downer of Lindsay were guests at the home of the former's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clark, Clyde Street, on Wednesday, it being the occasion of Mr. and Mrs. Clark's 18th wedding anniversary, also the birthday of their son Cecil, 9.

School Extension Lot To Be Used As Playground

HAVELOCK, April 14 (ENS)—The lot recently purchased on King street as an extension to the school playground will be used for the summer for the school garden, it was decided Monday by the Board of Education. The fence will be repaired for the time being.

The matter of fire insurance for the school was dealt with. W. J. Nobes submitted rates from his companies at 80c a hundred including the supplementary contract and at $1.14 plus 6c for supplementary contract. E. J. Leeson reported that he could place his share with two companies at 86c a hundred.

On a motion of Trustees Calnan and Sayers the agents were authorized to place the required amount of insurance at the rates of 80c and 86c, all policies to be uniform.

Supervise Play

Principal Buchanan reported that regular supervision of the playground during recess periods was being made. He has charge of the morning recess with Mr. Hunter taking the afternoon period. The supervision was wording well.

Mr. Buchanan said that sports equipment for the school was needed and he was authorized to spend $35.

The truant officer reported that the school was open 23 days in March; enrolment 173; average attendance 154.76; actual aggregate, 3559; perfect aggdegate, 3,953; percentage of actual to perfect aggregate 90.05; one retirement and one transfer.

Carr and Henderson were employed to put eave troughing on the school at a cost of 50c a foot, and necessary drain pipes are to be installed at time plus cost of material.

The following accounts were passed: Salaries, teachers, caretaker and secretary, $1,060.29; E. D. Chiles Co., $3.10; Longman Green Co., 60c; Elliott Stationery, $1.98, and E. J. Leeson, registering deed, $3.60.

Paper Strike Ends

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The strike which left Washington without newspapers for three days ended Wednesday night. Striking pressmen and stereotypers won a $6 weekly pay boost and shorter working hours. The AFL craftsmen who make the lead plates and run the presses came to terms after talks with the city's four daily papers, phich have been shut down since early Monday.

NEW WASHING DISCOVERY WITH SUPER-WETTING ACTION

washes everything FASTER, CLEANER, EASIER than any soap on earth!

FAB's Super-Wetting Action means that when you wash with FAB, the FAB-and-water solution instantly penetrates materials . . . soaks them more thoroughly. FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—gets inside materials; pushes dirt out!

FAB means faster, cleaner, easier washing of dirtiest overalls, towels, work and play clothes . . . FAB brings extra-dirt-removing power for extra-dirty wash! FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—does away with clinging soap scum! Brings you whiter shirts, towels, and sheets!

Don't miss *FA*Bulous FAB . . . the only thing you'll need for everything you wash!

New scientific washing preparation by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet is a FABulous work saver for the dirtiest overalls, work shirts, children's clothes, towels, shirts...everything that's extra dirty!

FAB WASHES DIRTIEST CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP

FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—instantly penetrates materials; pushes out dirt. Washes grimiest overalls faster than soap! Makes tough dirt like the "line" on shirt collars disappear like magic! FAB leaves no soap scum to "gray" or "yellow" white wash . . . Wash is whiter, cleaner when washed with FAB!

FAB BRIGHTENS SOAP-DULLED COLORS!

Soap-dulled washables look *FA*Bulously brighter, fresher, and newer after being washed with FAB. That's because anything you've washed with soap is made duller and grayer looking by soap scum . . . FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—removes that soap scum . . . leaves no film or scum of its own even in hardest water.

FAB WASHES CHEAPER... IN HARDEST WATER

Laboratory tests prove that cup for cup, in hard water, FAB washes up to twice as much family wash as soap. This economy is another *FA*Bulous miracle. Yes . . . FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—is up to twice as economical as soap in hard water. You'll notice that all of FAB washes . . . Nothing is wasted in soap scum!

WHAT IS SUPER-WETTING ACTION?

See for yourself! Take a length of cotton sewing thread. Roll it into a ball. Drop it into a glass of water. It floats; does not become completely wet for a long time.

Now drop another little ball of thread into a glass of water and FAB. It sinks, becomes completely soaked at once. This simple test shows you how FAB makes water wetter . . . instantly penetrates all washable materials faster . . . pushes dirt out!

That's FAB's *FA*Bulous Super-Wetting Action . . . something no soap on earth can give you!

Faster And Better for all family wash and Dishes

Fab is the trademark of Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company Limited, for a household detergent.

Unions Expected To Support Nationalization

By ROBERT BROWN

LONDON, April 14—(Reuters). — Trade-union support for Labor's new nationalization proposals announced in the party's draft program for next year's general election seems assured, but not without much further discussion and bargaining in the Labor movement.

First reaction in union quarters were far from unanimous. In some cases the new Labor program does not go as far with nationalization as some unions desired.

In the case of insurance it goes farther than they contemplated.

Discussions will try to bring the varying schools of thought into agreement and annual Trades Union Congress in September will show how far the dissidents have been able to win support for more radical measures than those now proposed.

The first meeting April 22 will be between members of the Labor Party executive and leaders of the National Federation of Insurance Workers, which claims 42,000 employees in insurance companies scheduled for state control.

Call May Conference

After meeting Labor leaders and getting more details of their intentions, the Federation will call a conference next month to decide its attitude on nationalization which it at first opposed.

The National Amalgamated Union of Insurance Workers and employees of the Co-operative Insurance Society—totalling 11,000 members—favor nationalization.

Trade unions in the chemical industry are equally divided.

Less than one-third of the 360,000 workers in the industry are in unions and they are split between the Transport and General Workers and Municipal and General Workers' Unions and the smaller Union of Shop, Distributive and Allied Workers' and Chemical Workers. The two big general unions oppose immediate nationalization; the two smaller unions support it.

The Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions wants nationalization not simply of shipbuilding but of all "marine industries."

Nationalization of sugar manufacturing and refining, of cement and of water undertakings appears to have solid union support.

There is no difference of opinion among the managements—all are strongly opposed to further state intervention.

LOCATING A QUAKE—By measuring the time-lag between two types of waves on photographic paper and applying it to standard tables, Seismologist Bill Milne is able to locate the exact distance of an earthquake's epicentre. Well-defined records sometimes also give the direction. The Dominion Obesrvatory records all shocks up to 1,000 miles away and any disturbance in the world.

Easy To Locate 'Quakes From Ottawa

By H. DENT HODGSON

OTTAWA, April 14 —(CP)— Whenever there's a major earthquake in Tokyo or Timbuktu, a tiny point of light jogs along a sheet of photographic paper in a delicate set of instruments at Ottawa's Dominion Observatory.

From the record of these contortions the earthquake man, or seismologist, is able to tell within a mile or so how far away the shock occurred and, from the reports of several stations, he can pinpoint it almost exactly.

A comparatively new science, seismology (the "seis" is pronounced "size") got its start about 65 years ago when two British scientists, loaned to Japan to help start universities there, began taking an interest in the island's frequent and violent earth shocks.

Started 100 Year Ago

Seismology got its real start about 100 years ago when it was first discovered that a shock, travelling through an elastic body such as the earth, propogated two distinct types of waves. It was some time later before anyone invented a machine which would record these waves, and still later before international time services could be set up to synchronize stations at various points.

Once this was done, accurate location of quakes became possible.

Canadian stations are located at Victoria, Saskatoon, Kirkland Lake, Shawinigan Falls and Seven Falls, Que., and Halifax with the central station here. In addition, three temporary stations have been established between Ottawa and Kirkland Lake for special resarch on the structure of the Canadian shield.

EARTHQUAKE CHIEF—Dr. E. A. Hodgson, chief seismologist at the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa, calibrates the vertical seismograph which records the "up-and-down" part of the an earthquake shock. Other instruments measure the north-south and east-west motions. Dr. Hodgson recently from New Zealand where he headed the seismological committee of the Seventh Pacific Science Congress.

Millbrook Firemen Quench Three Fires

MILLBROOK, April 14—(ENS) —Firemen have answered three calls during the past few days for grass fires, which appeared likely to get out of control. One was at the Paris home, Centre St., where there was danger of trees in the vicinity of the barn taking fire from the grass. The fire was soon brought under control.

A fire resulted from limbs from a tree recently cut down being burned and catching in the long grass. This took place on the rear lot of Mrs. S. E. Eakins' property, Anne St. It was promptly extinguished.

A pile of rubbish on the back lot of the Massey-Cooke property which was being burned, spread into the adjoining Pethick property where dry stubble constituted a potential danger, since ther are a number of frame houses and garages in the vicinity. Prompt action by the firmeen soon eliminated the trouble.

Burwash Prisoner Caught After 12 Hours

SUDBURY, April 14—(CP).—Malcolm Macdonald, alias M. G. Goldsmith, aged 21, had a scant 12 hours of freedom from Burwash Industrial Farm Wednesday. He was recaptured shortly after he had escaped from the custody of a work party at the jail farm at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Macdonald was recaptured only a short distance north of the main camp. He was evidently endeavoring to make his way to the CNR line, in hopes of catching a freight train and making his way out of the north.

Invites Factories

BUENOS AIRES, April 14 — (Reuters)—President Juan Peron yesterday issued an invitation to foreign and domestic capital to set up newsprint factories in Argentina to overcome an acute shortage of newsprint. Those qualifying will receive special facilities, including exchange to import necessary materials, which will be allowed in duty free.

Housing Office Status Is Changed

TORONTO, April 14—Elevation of the Peterborough district rental office of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to the status of a full branch office was announced today by A. C. McClusky, M. B. E. Ontario Regional Supervisor.

J. W. Wocker, manager of the rental office, has been named manager of the newly-formed branch, which is located at 271 George Street, West.

Change in status of the D.R.O. to that of a branch will speed the processing of National Housing Act loan applications. Formerly, approved lending institutions were required to forward applications to Toronto for approval by the corporation.

At present, the local office administers some 322 C.M.H.C. veterans' rental housing units in Peterborough and district.

Mr. Wocker is a native of Sarnia, and is a graduate from Sarnia Collegiate. In 1944, he joined the staff of Wartime Housing Limited and served with that organization until January, 1947, when he was appointed to the property management section of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. In 1947, he was named property manager of the Hamilton branch office, a post he held until his appointment as manager of the Peterborough district rental office in May, 1948.

Weanling Pigs In Big Demand

A firm market for weanling pigs is reflected in the weekly review of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Some of the prices are reported as follows: Huron—$16 to $18 each; Middlesex: $15—$20; Welland — $13; Victoria up to $15; Stormont $9—12. Spots of seeding have increased broadly during the week with fine weather and clear skies.

In Bruce the average for bred sows was $140 at the Walkerton Yorkshire sale, and boars $112. At the Shorthorn sale the average for bulls was $333. Wheat fields are showing green across the province with only light winter damage. Elgin has been sowing oats and planting potatoes. Demand for seed grain is still active. The Victoria comment is that supplies of registered seed appear to be completely sold out.

Cheese factories ar in production in Leeds with more milk than last year. The new volume is being diverted from condensaries. There 365 entires at the Ottawa Valley and Grenville county seed fairs at Kemptville.

Fire Fighters' Proposals For Improvement Adopted

NORWOOD, April 14 (ENS)—A deputation from the newly organized fire brigade presented proposals to the village council to improve the service in time of necessity. Temporary approaches to water supply, a more satisfactory alarm system and other pertinent matters were discussed at length. The brigade was authorized to procure material and construct three or four approaches to the water supply during practice hours.

The clerk was authorized to take steps to have the telephone installed in the Fire Chief's house for night calls.

James Beamish, a member of Asphodel Township Council, presented a plan whereby Norwood Fire Brigade would be able to assist township residents in time of necessity, the Township council to guarantee payment of expense involved on a time and mileage basis.

The clerk was authorized to submit a proposal of $50. an hour for apparatus and $1. an hour for each man assisting, not exceeding 10 men and $1. a mile travelled with equipment. If the plan is satisfactory, an agreement will be prepared for signatures of both parties.

Increase Insurance

K. E. Pakenham suggested that there was insufficient insurance coverage on the rink. It was decided to place an additional $4,000 insurance on this property, bringing the total to $12,000.

Earl Hamblin presented a plan for certain improvements to the back of the Town Hall, offering to do a considerable amount of the work free of charge if the plan were approved and material supplied. The plan was unanimously approved.

Permission was granted the Navy League to hold a Tag Day on the first Saturday in June.

It was moved by Councillor Webb and seconded by Councillor Garden that the Hydro Commission be instructed to place an additional street light on No. 7 highway between Harold Bolton's Massey Harris plant and Pine Street. It was stated that there was no light whatever in front of the Edmunds' property on No. 7 Highway west in the village.

It was decided to amend by-law No. 715 providing for road expenditures, to increase the amount of the estimate to $5,000.

Council was informed that the Hydro Commission was contemplating some important changes in the present street lighting system and it was arranged to hold a joint meeting of council and commission before the work was commenced, in order that council could be fully informed as to the benefits of the proposed change.

Salvation Army Plans To Show Sacred Film

A special feature of Holy Week services in Peterborough this year will be the showing of an unusually fine film entitled "Golgotha, the Life of Christ" in the Salvation Army Citadel, on Saturday evening, at 7.30 o'clock. The picture is a 16 mm feature sound film, complete with narrative, dialogue, and music, and is especially appropriate for presentation during the Lenten season. It cost one million dollars to produce.

The film depicts in a colorful manner the various events in the life of Jesus, with particular emphasis upon his last days. It has been enthusiastically endorsed by thousands of churches and schools throughout the United States and Canada.

Government Has Failed Chinese Says Missionary

OMEMEE, April 14 (ENS)—The present Nationalist Government of China has failed the Chinese people, and no middle-of-the-road party has yet come into being. It only remains to be hoped that if the Communists take over the country, they will not adopt too drastic measures, as the people remain an essentially freedom-loving race.

This was the way in which the present situation in China was summed up by Rev. H. J. Veals, West China missionary now in Canada on furlough, when he spoke in Trinity United Church Sunday evening on the occasion of the Easter Thankoffering service of the Women's Missionary Society, members of which along with the CGIT, Mission Band and Baby Band mothers, attended in a body.

Rev. Mr. Veals, who was born and educated in this locality and whose membership is registered on this church roll, received a hearty welcome home from Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt on behalf of the congregation.

Pleasant Duty

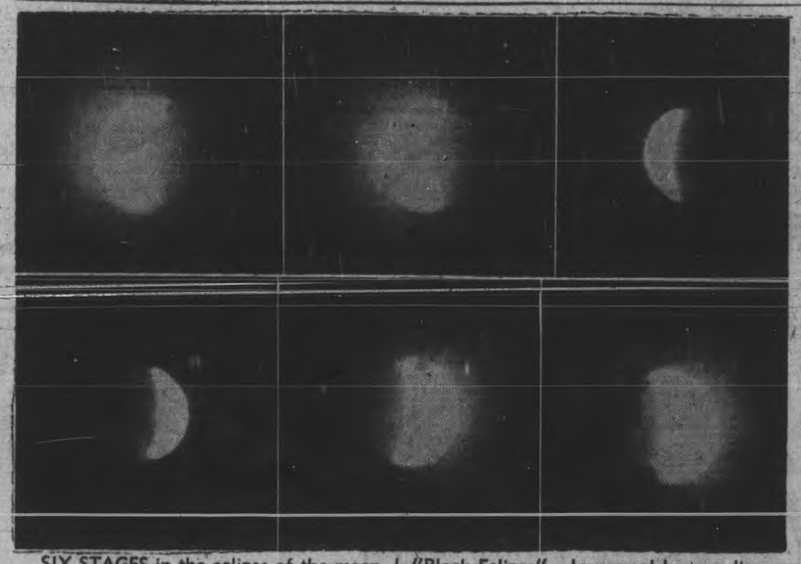
Mr. Veals told of his pleasant duty in receiving Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Honey in West China and arranging for their needs while they were preparing themselves for mission work. The welfare of these young missionaries is of special interest here as they are from the Bay of Quinte Conference and are being financed by the Young People's Unions of the Conference. He reported that they have done exceptionally well in the mastery of the Chinese language and have the qualities of good missionaries. The younger groups were much interested in hearing how the Honey's three small daughters, Margaret, Mary Ann and Carol Elizabeth, fitted into the picture. Margaret, the eldest, had started to school at the WMS Child Study Centre in Chengtu where five or six hundred Chinese girls and boys attend. She found them quite congenial, conversed with them in their own language and enjoyed their play.

Many Big Changes

In the 29 years since Mr. Veals first went to China he said there have been almost unbelievable changes in outlook and modes of life—in education, sanitation, transportation, laws and government. When he first arrived a few of the wealthy had their sons—and in some cases their daughters—taught in private schools composed of the children of two or three well-to-do families; now they have a well-ordered school system. They have their local primary schools up to grade 6, Junior Middle Schools, including grades 7, 8 and 9, and Senior Middle School for grades 10, 11 and 12. Every county town has its Middle School. Mission schools are growing fewer, because, by Chinese law, schools must be registered and if registered they are forbidden to teach religion in primary schools, and in Middle Schools it can only be taught after hours. The Minister of Education was anti-christian and anti-foreign. The WMS have managed, in their schools, to keep most of the teaching staff Christian Chinese. The Christian religion can, of course, be taught outside. Small bands—usually a missionary and two Chinese pastors—go about from town to town holding services. The churches will be filled every night with students from government schools, who will listen through a two or three hour service and on Sunday attend a Bible class.

Years of Opportunity

"The past four years," Mr. Veals said, 'have been years of unparalleled opportunity." Many of the young people realize the condition of their country and are turning to Christ for the answer. They say "we need a new moral fibre."



"But in this time of crisis," said Mr. Veals, "opportunity comes hand in hand with danger." The people's government has fallen into disrepute. They made paper money to meet war expenses. Inflation resulted. The salaries of professional men were no longer adequate. With the rapid advance in money values merchants hadn't the money to re-stock. The wealthy bought up commodities for speculation — even government officials were guilty of this. They have lost the confidence of the people.

There's no hope, he said, in the National government and no middle of the road party has developed, as was hoped for. If Communist rule should come there is hope that they will not take too drastic measures because of the difficulty of lining up a people whose great masses are opposed to a totalitarian form of government.

The Chinese are a freedom-loving people and have ways of making their influence felt. Mr. Veals thinks the people will demand a more sane government.

Mission's Fate Uncertain

How this new form of government would affect Christian missions remains to be seen. The Communists' attitude toward the Christian church is uncertain. The Chinese Christians staunchly affirm "We will carry on," and "we missionaries have great hopes that they will and we will stay as long as we are useful. Th isthies as we are useful. This is the great challenge to the church in this time of crisis, opportunity and danger."

SIX STAGES in the eclipse of the moon which took place Tuesday night. At New York the Hayden Planetarium said the eclipse, as seen from there, completely blacked out the moon at times, and thus perhaps became the once-in-a-century "Black Eclipse". In normal lunar eclipses, the moon is not totally dark, but shines with a dull reddish glow, as Montrealers saw last night. The last time a "Black Eclipse" took place, the Planetarium said, was in 1844.

Government Doesn't Foresee Any Serious Business Decline

By DOUGLAS HOW

VANCOUVER, April 14 (CP)—Canadians have amassed a $500,000,000 insurance fund to meet unemployment but their government sees no serious business decline on the horizon and feels it can raise employment to even higher levels, Prime Minister St. Laurent said yesterday.

In this coastal city tha has already felt the bite of post-war joblessness, the Prime Minister made a major topic of employment in an address Wednesday night before a crowd of 3,000 which overflowed two halls of the Hotel Vancouver.

Earlier in a crowded day he indicated to another overflow luncheon crowd of 1,100 that the Democracies don't know whether Russia has equivalents of their "instruments of destruction" greater than any yet used in war. To 2,000 students of the University of British Columbia, he held up the "experiment" of State financing a higher education for veterans as one which would benefit the Canada both of today and tomorrow.

Mr. St. Laurent left late Wednesday night for Victoria after a day which saw him greeted by a blare of bands, the silent picketing of 35 striking Canadian Seamen's Union members and a minor earthquake which struck the city just as he was entering the hotel for the luncheon address.

Can't Be Complacent

In his night address, Mr. St. Laurent agreed that Canada has a long way to go "before we can be complacent about the welfare of our people," and he won applause when he said Canadians want nothing again like the depression of the 30s.

Because one in three Canadian workers were dependent on trade, "we are doing everything which can be done to re-open old markets and to find new ones."

He did not think any government would deserve to survive "which did not strive even in the face of unfavorable conditions abroad to maintain high levels of employment, production and national income."

Detailing the Liberal party's stand on "full employment" he said: "In a country like Canada there is always bound to be seasonal unemployment and in every free country there is bound to be casual unemployment while people are changing jobs or looking for better jobs or because certain factories are slack."

Seek Level of Jobs

'What we mean by 'full employment' is a level of jobs over the country which makes it reasonably possible for most men and women to get work most of the time without too much difficulty.

So far, since the war, there had been no mass unemployment. There were some signs of slackening in demand but "even though we may not continue to have a seller's market there are no serious signs of any decline in business."

There had not been any great drain on the unemployment insurance fund, now up to $500,000,000. This was a bulwark but the government did not consider it a substitute for employment.

"The first concern of the government in domestic affairs is the promotion of prosperity and social security for all," Mr. St. Laurent said, 'and that, in large measure, does mean jobs for all who are able and willing to work."

Has Mail Racket

NEW YORK, April 14—(AP)—Nathan Tokofasky, 33, mail handler at Pennsylvania station here, yesterday was accused of stealing $50,000 worth of merchandise from the mails by pasting new labels over the original address on packages. The new labels carried an address where Tokofasky was alleged to have received the parcels.

GOODNESS KNOWS, WOMEN HAVE TROUBLE ENOUGH!

Everyday cares are burdens enough for women to shoulder without the added miseries of temporary constipation. That is why thousands of women turn to Beecham's Pills. Hastings News

Miss Helen Shea has resumed her duties on the staff of the Hastings Royal Bank after spending the past week at her home in Warkworth where she was ill.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Stiver, Elsine and Joan over the weekend included Miss Jean West and Mr. Harold Henderson of Smithfield. Mrs. R. Stiver and son Edwin of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lapp entertained 26 guests on Tuesday at a pancake supper in honor of the latter's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Pulfer who were married eight years on April 12. The house was attractively decorated with pink and white streamers. There was a two-tier wedding cake set in the middle of the table with eight pink candles on it. The evening was spent in playing euchre. Amongst those present were the couples' bridesmaid, Mrs. A. Lobb, the groomsman, Mr. Ray Pulfer, the usher, Mr. Stanley Fife and organist, Mrs. Stanley Fife.

Hit On Head With Yo-Yo Boy 11 Dies

WINDSOR, April 14—(CP) — Gerald Bates, 11, of Amherstburg son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Bates, Dalhousie St., died Wednesday in Hotel Dieu Hospital at 2 p.m., two hours after being admitted for treatment of a self-inflicted injury while playing with a yo-yo.

The boy was tossing the toy to and fro in his home Tuesday night in the manner of many hundreds of youngsters in this area, where the familiar wooden spool and string toys are used widely.

In one of its descending arcs the yo-yo struck the boy on top of the head. He complained only briefly of discomfort and went to bed as usual, rising Wednesday morning and going to school without further complaint. At about 10 o'clock he complained of being ill and went home, where he was taken violently ill and became unconscious. He was rushed to Hotel Dieu by Windsor ambulance service, but died at 2 p.m. without regaining consciousness.

The boy is not known to have had any previous head injury nor has he ever complained of severe headaches. It is believed he injured a blood vessel in his head.

Loyal Orange Lodge Young Britons Conclude Successful 2-Day Session

The Provincial Grand Lodge, Loyal Orange Young Britons Association, on Wednesday afternoon chose its 1949 executive. This concluded the 2nd annual session of the Young Britons which had a two-day convention in the Orange Hall.

Full slate of officers is as follows: Bert Weatherdon, Ottawa, grand master; Roy McBryde, Malakoff, deputy grand master; John Bolland, Metcalfe, orator; junior deputy grand master; Garland Van Allen, Kemptville, chaplain; J. D. Graham, Stittsville, recording secretary and organizer; John Birtch, Ottawa, treasurer; George Brownlee, Osgoode, director of ceremonies; John Boland, Metcalfe, orator; William Hall, Ottawa, deputy grand secretary; John Clapp, Ottawa, deputy grand treasurer; Fulton Armstrong, Malakoff, and J. A. Bradley, Carlington P. O., deputy grand orators.

Lloyd J. Morrow of Russell Past Grand Master of Ontario East, conducted the election, and the officers were installed by E. W. Jones of Ottawa.

Delegations bringing greetings to the Young Britons Association were received from other Eastern Ontario conventions, currently holding their annual meeting in Peterborough. Representing the Provincial Grand Black Chapter were Sir Knight Roberts of Ottawa and Sir Knight Fallis, of Millbrook. John McFaul, past county master of the City of Ottawa, appeared for the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East. The Ladies Orange Benevolent Association of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Ontario East were represented by Miss Anna Greer of Burritt's Rapids, and Miss Edna Lindsay, Ottawa.

Both the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association holding its 30th annual session and the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East began their conventions Wednesday.

The Provincial Black Chapter, Eastern Ontario, concluded its session on Tuesday night with Cecil Palmer of Frankford being elected Grand Master.

Election of officers for the remaining two Orange conventions will be held on Thursday.

Col. T. A. Kidd, MP, Kingston, Gordon K. Fraser, MP, Peterborough; and Clayton Hodgson, MP, Victoria-Haliburton, were the three of the principal speakers heard by the Grand Orange Lodge delegates.

Grand Master Garfield Reaflaub of Pembroke also addressed the 300 delegates.

Ernest F. Reid, Peterborough, Past Grand Master of the Grand Orange Lodge, reported that the True Blue and Orange Home at Richmond Hill was sheltering more children this year than formerly; but it was stated that the difficulty in obtaining skilled help at the institution was preventing additional children from being cared for.

The membership rose about five per cent during the past year Secretary D. J. Sutherland of Ottawa, reported. Three new lodges were formed: at Trenton, Belleville and Kirkfield.

Mrs. Haddow Speaker At Cottesloe Service

COTTESLOE, April 14 (ENS) —The Easter Thankoffering of the Women's Missionary Society of Cottesloe United Church was held on Sunday afternoon in the church with the Rev. E. E. Pugsley in charge. The guest speaker was Mrs. A. Haddow of Peterborough who with her husband were missionaries in Bolivia for 31 years. After the death of her husband in 1946 Mrs. Haddow returned home. Mrs. Haddow gave a very interesting address on the work in Bolivia. The celebrations that were held at Easter time before and after Christianity had been accepted, and the great progress the Gospel of Jesus Christ has made in fifty years.

County Donates $1,000 To Aid UEFB Food Fund

Hands across the sea in a most practical way, has once again been demonstrated by the county of Peterborough, with a donation of $1,000, received on Wednesday by the local and district branch of the United Emergency Fund for Britain.

Coming at a time when the food ration in Britain is even more stringent, particularly in the meat line, it is opportune, and will be the means of giving assistance to more than 200 families, in Peterborough, England, and its surrounding area.

The money is all spent in this country, and just to show how much this really comes back to this area, it may be quoted that a parcel of approximate 10 pounds in weight, contains a 2-pound tin of Maple Leaf bacon, 1 lb. of Maple Leaf lard, and a bar of Maple Leaf soap, together with a tin each of bologna, pork sausage, beef spread, salmon and cheese, etc.

The old adage "That in helping others" we also help ourselves, never applied in better force than in the operations as carried on by this fund for the welfare of the people of Britain.

A feature of this service of welfare for the British people, is that the parcels are made up to supply the foodstuffs that are most needed on account of their shortage in Britain, and changes are only dependent upon ration conditions, and Government export and import restrictions.

This special donation is being forwarded to headquarters by itself, and marks the 3rd donation to go from the local and district branch, for a total of $3,016, and is exclusive of close to $300 which is on hand towards a fourth donation of a like amount, in local treasurer's account.

Since last reporting, contributions have also been received from the Peterborough Life Members' Club of the Council of Women per Mrs. Ida C. Fanning, and a Friend at Bridgenorth, who made her 2nd donation.

Everybody is invited to share in this good work, by sending their contribution to the chairman of the Local Branch of the UEFB at 199 London Street, or leave it at any bank in the city, who will issue an official receipt for same.

Restaurants Try For Certificates

Thoughts of spring cleaning have spurred a number of restaurant operators to combine their annual cleaning up with an overhaul of their hygiene methods. R. M. MacPherson, sanitary inspector, told the Board of Health Wednesday, that a number of restaurateurs are striving for the Board's High Standard Certificate. Mr. MacPherson pointed out that there is no laxity about the method of distributing the certificates. They are awarded only if a high standard is achieved and maintained.

The Inspector said he had cooperation from most restaurant operators who threw out cracked and chipped pieces of china even though the cost of discarding a cup ranged from 50 to 80 cents.

The cause of a complaint about the quality of bread had been eliminated, the Inspector said.

Board Requests Space In New City Hall

A request from the Separate School Board for offices space in the project city hall was presented by John Black, secretary, at a committee meeting of the council Wednesday afternoon.

Representatives of the firms of architects, Marani and Morris, including Mr. Morris, submitted drawings of the basement and two floors indicating proposed allotment of quarters for the civic departments. A section of the basement comprises four or five separate offices with one or two others vacant and available. Scrutiny of the general plans suggested that suitable accommodation could be afforded for Separate School officers in one of those spaces.

Mr. Black said he had been authorized by the board Wednesday night to make application to the council. It was expected that before long a full time secretary would have to be employed. There is also an attendance officer, and there was at present no fixed place for the school inspector. He suggested that some suitable vault space should also be supplied.

Education of Catholic children in Peterborough is now looking toward ten schools. A new one is building, one of the present schools is to be enlarged, and another new one is being considered.

The front of the new city hall will face George St., opposite Confederation Square. The heating system will be at the north end, available to the Public Library, eliminating its coal bins and dust, and also its heating plant. The city hall furnace will be an oil burner.

Car Ditched

When a car rolled into a ditch on Clonsilla Ave. in the early hours of Wednesday, the driver, David E. Baxter, 31 Park St., escaped uninjured.

The top of the car was flattened, fenders were badly damaged, and also the radiator.

BULLOCK, Coach (left), and Alec Baptie, captain (right), King George School Swimming Team gaze proudly at The Examiner Trophy won for the first time by that school Wednesday night at the Annual Public School Swimming Meet. They were five points ahead of the second place team, Queen Mary School, who had 33 points. King George had four firsts, three seconds, three thirds and two fourths. James Starr, King George, won the individual diving championship.

Lad Knocked Down On 13th His 13th Birthday, No Jinx?

Robert McKinney, 13-year-old son of Quirt McKinney, a Normal School teacher of 30 Aberdeen Ave., was knocked down by a car Wednesday on George St. in front of the YMCA and is now in Civic Hospital.

On leaving the YMCA, where he had been swimming, the boy saw a bus across the street and ran out between parked cars. John Bannon, 109 Aylmer St., who told Constable H. Mesley that he had slowed his car to 20 mph, was unable to see the boy in time to avoid the accident.

A front fender of Mr. Bannon's car hit the lad and threw him to the ground.

Mrs. McKinney told the Examiner today, that the leg injury "is not as bad as it might have been" and she does not regard it as "serious."

Wednesday was April 13 and was also Robert McKinney's 13th birthday. Mrs. McKinney, who was never superstitious, is wondering whether there is something sinister about the number after all.

Trucks Collide

Two trucks were in collision on Monday at the entrance to the city yard on Townsend St. The drivers were Paul J. Russell, RR 4, Peterborough, and John Legross, 174 Lock St.

Trailer Colony Told To Move

Complaints that families living in trailers on Fairburn St. are infringing bylaws and sections of the Highway Traffic Act were made by members of the Board of Health at a meeting in the Council committee room Wednesday. Dr. R. A. Kelly said he had received letters containing complaints about employees of a firm of contractors engaged in building basements for wartime houses who were living in trailers and causing a nuisance to other people in the neighbourhood.

Dr. Kelly said that the bylaw stipulated that application for a permit was necssary if a trailer was to be occupied for more than 14 days. He said the occupants of the trailers had been told to move.

E. A. Outram, City Clerk, declared that some five or six bylaws and sections of the Highway Traffic Act were being infringed by these people.

James Dutton, chairman of the Board, said that residents were asking for enforcement of bylaws governing trailer occupancy.

Farm Boy Dies

TORONTO, April 14 — (CP)— Six-year-old Ronald Rock, who suffered severe head injuries Tuesday when he fell on a pitchfork at his father's farm near Listowel, died in hospital today without regaining consciousness.

DUMPING OF REFUSE

Indiscriminate dumping of refuse is being investigated by the Sanitary Inspector, R. M. MacPherson. Mr. MacPherson told the Board of Health Wednesday that a number of "no dumping" signs had been erected. Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health suggested that $5 rewards for information leading to identification of those responsible for such dumping might help to solve the problem.

Begin Excavation For New Store

Excavation for the Peterborough branch of Dominion Stores Limited was begun Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the property at the northeast corner of George and Sherbrooke Streets.

The power shovel of Curtis Brothers broke ground without any preliminary formality for the basement ten feet deep. Contract for entire construction was let to Walter H. Mortlock.

Dimensions of the Dominion Stores marketeria are 55 feet frontage on George St. by 120 feet, with one floor and basement. Construction will be of brick and cement blocks, with a sweep of glass front surmounted by macatta, a material like vitrolite, and chromium trim.

The company is leaving parking space on the south side of the store a space 50 feet by 165 ft., with other room at the rear of the building. Dominion Stores investment on George St. will enlarge substantially the retail accommodation both completed and in course of construction in the block between King and Sherbrooke Streets.

DEPARTMENT COST $36,000

Board of Health learned Wednesday that City Council has approved all but $2,000 of its estimated expenditure for 1949. E. A. Outram, City Clerk, told the Board that $2,000 for a pest control and fogging machine had not been granted. The Board is allocated $36,000; the Medical Officer of Health's department to have $28,415.50 and the Sanitary Inspector's office, $8,384.70.

Travel Agencies Prepare For Heavy Traffic

Indication that many residents of Peterborough and adjoining districts are planning to send the Easter holiday weekend in such metropolitan centres as Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto and New York was evident today after a survey made by the Examiner of travel agencies, railway and bus lines, and banks. That many of the travellers were headed in the direction of south of the border was apparent in the considerable number of people applying to local banks for American funds.

No special trains are planned but quite a number have bought tickets for one or the other of three special trains which are being operated out of Toronto Thursday by the CPR to New York. Locally this railway plans to add many extra cars to its regular trains, as judging by the many inquiries received so far, the traffic will be heavy.

Additional Buses

The Colonial Bus Lines also reported receipt of many inquiries, sufficient to warrant putting on of additional buses. The TEM agency said they had many people coming into their office or telephoning for travel information, many of them planning to go by plane.

So far none of the local banks has run out of US funds, such as occurred on Wednesday in Toronto. Local bank managers said the number of such orders was about on a par with last year. It was pointed out that the demand here would not be as heavy proportionately as in Toronto, as the Queen City is nearer the US border.

The bulk of those seeking US dollars would be visiting the banks later in the day on Thursday and on Saturday morning, but in any case, the Examiner was told, there would likely be only a slight increase in the end over last year.

One bank manager pointed out that there is still a $150 yearly limit on the amount of US dollars Canadians can take with them on trips across the border, so that many would only ask for small amounts because they might want to make longer stays during their summer vacations.

This year's beautiful and unusually early spring weather is expected to cause the biggest total exodus of Easter travellers in years. More than the usual amount of automobile traffic is looked for on this account, as last year Easter was earlier and the weather not as good.

CNR authorities likewise reported a goodly number of inquiries from prospective Easter travellers. Extra cars will also be operated on their trains out of Peterborough.

The CPR stated that their regular Sunday night train out of Peterborough for Toronto, which usually leaves at 5.30, is being held until 6.50 for the convenience of visitors. Biggest volume of travel out of this city was expected to occur Thursday night, all parlor car seats having been sold out for a week.

The Canadian General Electric Company, Ltd., are operating a special CPR excursion train to Toronto leaving Peterborough at 7.10 a.m. on Saturday at a reduced rate. The railways are not offering any special Easter bargain fares this year, as they did last year. For this reason it was difficult for officials to make a comparison with 1948 traffic volume.

King George School Wins Swimming Meet Trophy As Boys Galore Splash, Dive

For the first time since competition started for the Examiner Trophy, King George School won the Public School swimming in the YMCA pool Wednesday night. Out of forty-eight possible point-positions King George School placed in the running 12 times. Their team had four firsts, three seconds, three thirds, and two fourths. Queen Mary School were close behind with 33 points. They had three firsts, four seconds and a fourth position. The other team scores were: Prince of Wales 26; Central 16½; Queen Alexandra-Queen Elizabeth, 16; Confederation-Grove, 12; King Edward-May's, 6.

For the last two months the schools have been preparing for the annual swimming meet. Each team had one hour in the pool to pick out the team. Another hour was given to each for practising.

Central School has captured the trophy six times since the swimming meet began. Queen Mary and King Edward have captured it twice and once respectively.

No records were set at this meet.

P.O.W. Takes Diving Cup.

In the diving competition for the McBride-McInroy Cup, the team from Prince of Wales school took the cup with 69.3 points. Second were the boys from Central team who totalled up 65.9 with their diving. King George School boys took third place with 64.3.

Honors for the Diving Champion of the night were won by James Starr, who dove in the intermediate competition. When the diving results were first read it was found a boy from each section, junior, intermediate and senior, was tied for first place. Jack Rawley, swimming in senior competition for Central, Jas. Starr, in intermediate for King George, and Ken Johnston, in junior for Prince of Wales, each had 25 points for the three dives they made.

Each boy then took three more dives, choosing the dive each time. Results of the extra attempts showed James Starr leading by several points.

C. A. Bullock on behalf of King Edward team accepted the Examiner Trophy from Don Grant. Cliff McInroy presented the McInroy-McBride Trophy to the Central school diving team. Stan McBride gave James Starr the cup for the best diver of the meet. Al Clark presented the swimming cups to Don Wood, Queen Alexandra-Queen Elizabeth, Jack Boorman, Queen Mary and Alec Baptie, King George,

Lions Committee Rejects New Pool Site

Doug Anderson, chairman of the Lions Club Swimming Pool Committee, does not like the pool site proposed this week by the Council, and he does not mince words in expressing dissatisfaction which presumably is the reaction of his committee.

"The Council had better quit fooling around with this project, or the club will take the equipment somewhere else," Mr. Anderson told the Examiner this morning. "I have just come from a talk with Mayor Swanston, and I told him we don't like the location, and we don't want it."

Lion's Club proposed to build the gift pool to the city on the south-east corner of the Riverside Park area, fronting on Burnham Street, and about 40 feet from the street line. Protests from the neighborhood persuaded the Council to try to find some alternative that would be acceptable to the club and to the residents. They came up with the suggestion to buy for the pool the property at the rear of the Merrett house on Burnham Street, a central location on the south side of the park, and slightly up the slope from the main ball grounds. It was proposed that the front of the pool building could be set towards the north instead of the east, and it was hoped that this diversion would be acceptable to Mr. Anderson and his committee. The Council's alternative also called for the location of the wading pool for children on the level park ground north of the ball ground fence.

Mr. Anderson said emphatically to-day that this site switch is not acceptable to his committee.

Kisses Statue Figure Weeps

SYRACUSE, N.Y., April 14—(AP)—Dozens of persons flocked to a four-room flat Wednesday night to watch an 11-year-old girl kiss a broken plaster statue of St. Ann. They said they saw what appeared to be tears falling from the statue's eyes.

Shirley Anne Martin, near exhaustion, pressed her lips to the forehead time after time. Several spectators were visibly moved.

Rev. Francis J. Furfaro of Our Lady of Pompei Roman Catholic Church said that he "watched the little girl kiss the head and it began to weep."

"I can only say that it is a wonderful, extraordinary occurrence," he added.

He said two other priests of his church had seen tears.

Dean John McMahon of the state school of ceramics at Alfred University, told a reporter plaster of paris would absorb water readily but would not release it except through evaporation.

Many of the 100 persons in the second-storey flat kissed the statue's head. Nothing happened.

They said that whenever Shirley Anne placed her lips tightly on the forehead and then held the head away, the dull plaster finish would begin to glisten in the corner of at least one eye. Then watery drops rolled down the painted cheeks, they said, and reappeared when wiped away.

LT. RUBY ROGERS

Havelock Nurse Receives Medal

NEW YORK, April 14—(CP)—Four former members of the Canadian Armed Services were honored Wednesday night at an investiture ceremony at the home of the Canadian consul-general.

Flt. Lt. John T. Ross and Flt. Lt. A. B. Gillette received the Distinguished Flying Cross. Lieut. Lily M. Gagleish, a native of Galt, now of Sault Ste. Marie, and Lieut. Ruby Rogers of Havelock, received the Royal Red Cross.

Ross and Gillette both came from the United States to join the RCAF.

Miss Rogers was cited for having completed highly commendable work and applying herself to her duties with diligence during her five years of service with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps.

Miss Daigleish, also a nurse with the RCAMC, received her medal for efficient work and for contributing "greatly to the esprit de corps of her present unit."

The citations were read in behalf of the King by Consul-General Hugh Scully and the medals were presented to the recipients by Vice-Consul A. E. L. Cannon.

The ceremony was held in New York since the four recipients at present are living in this area.

Believe African Locusts About Licked By Scientists

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, April 14—(CP)—The African red locust is just as tough as the prairie grasshopper but scientists say he's just about licked.

Representatives of four counties—the United Kingdom as a colonial power, Southern Rhodesia, South Africa and Belgium—recently met in London to sign a convention establishing the international red locust control service.

The council will establish a headquarters at Agercorn, Southern Rhodesia, and all members will contribute to its maintenance. Whatever it costs, they consider it will be cheaper than the £83,120,000 ($332,480,000) in crop losses marked up against locusts in the 10-year period from 1925 to 1935.

This agreement culminates a long war against the African locust. Entomologists met in Rome in 1931 and, among other things, undertook a study of locust movements and breeding habits.

Reports from 40 countries finally established that nearly all outbreaks could be traced to certain areas, such as the Sudan along the Red Sea coastal belt.

Winter Rain

The scientists found that every 11 or 12 years winter rains in these areas were heavy and vegetation plentiful. The locusts increased and with the coming of summer crowded into valleys and cultivated patches.

Anti-locust services were established in the early '40s and in June, 1947, Dr. B. P. Uvarov, director of the London anti-locust research centre, said that energetic campaigns had checked invasions but had not liminated the locusts.

The research centre in London will co-ordinate the campaigns in Africa and will warn local control units of threatened invasions and continue to work toward eradication of the pest.

The purpose is to strike at locust swarms as soon as they begin to assemble, and the location established.

Success Last Year

One successful campaign was waged last year when a threatened outbreak was spotted in central Africa, developing from small swarms from which had left an outbreak area and started to breed elsewhere.

"The main method used to combat this threat was the spraying of gammexane from handpumps. This new poison has proved deadly to locusts but harmless to cattle, sheep and camels," said a report.

Better Family Life Urged Upon Parents

OMEMEE, April 14—(ENS)—"Family Life and Religion in the Home" was the subject of Rev. F. W. Pooley's address to 'Home and School' members Monday evening. They also enjoyed two solos by Mrs. J. Hayes.

The parents' roll call gave the shield to Miss Jones' room. It was decided to hold a euchre party the evening of April 22 in Recreation Centre. Mrs. Zufelt, Mrs. Stephenson and Mr. Curtis were appointed a nominating committee for election of officers at the May meeting. Arrangements were completed for transportation by chartered bus to the Ontario Federation conference, April 20.

Mr. Pooley, in his address emphasized the centralization of the home. Home should be the basic place to prepare for life. He called attention to the fact that, of the 33 years of Jesus life, 30 were spent at home, and that the Heavenly Father gathers His children to a Heavenly Home. Mr. Pooley believes parents have fallen down in their duty to their children and that juvanile delinquency and gang tendencies are direct results of lack of wholseome family life and religious teaching in the home. This he maintained should not be left entirely to outsiders—it is the duty of the parents. Children, he said, should not be sent to Sunday School but taken.

Mrs. Zufelt and Mrs. R. Brooks moved a vote of thanks to all who took part in the programme.

Inspector Closed 5 Houses In March

Five houses were closed by authority of the Sanitary Inspector during March and were placarded as unfit for human habitation. Sanitary Inspector R. M. MacPherson told the Board of Health Wednesday that was a record number for one month. All the houses, four of which were no more than shacks were vacated at the time the action was taken, he said. The one building which could come in the category of a house, had since been renovated and made habitable.

The Board decided that electrical wiring permits would not be issued for premises which were unrepairable. Mayor Max Swanston suggested that it was pointless for anyone to spend money on wiring a building which was beyond the stage were it could be repaired.

MARTHA LOGAN'S "HELPING HAND" RECIPE POINTS THE WAY TO SURE SUCCESS

Even if you are an expert, you'll be extra-pleased with the simplicity and your success with this recipe. And if you're a beginner, you'll find with Swift'ning and this recipe, it's easier to bake fine cakes than you imagined! Watch for the Helping Hands! They warn you where there is a chance of mistake!

Preparation: ☛ Have all ingredients at room temperature. Preheat oven and set at 375°F. Line bottoms of two 8-inch square (or 9-inch round) layer cake pans with waxed paper.

Ingredients: (Use standard, level measure)

½ cup Swift'ning
2 cups sifted cake flour
☛ Be sure to sift flour before measuring.
Spoon lightly into cup.
1¼ cups sugar
2 eggs
☛ 3 tsp. double-acting* baking powder (4 if single-acting type)
1 tsp. salt
¾ cup milk
1 tsp. vanilla

Step 1: Put Swift'ning in mixing bowl. Sift in flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Add milk and vanilla. Beat for 2 minutes—by hand, using about 150 strokes per minute; or at medium speed of electric mixer. ☛ Keep scraping batter off sides and bottom of bowl with rubber scraper. After 2 minutes, scrape beaters or spoon and mixing bowl thoroughly.

Step 2: Add the unbeaten eggs. Beat 1 minute. Scrape beaters and bowl thoroughly. Continue beating 1 minute. Pour equal amounts of batter into prepared cake pans. Bake about 30 minutes. ☛ When cake is done it will spring back quickly when pressed by the finger. Cool on cake rack 15 minutes; loosen sides carefully with spatula, invert on rack; remove pans. When thoroughly cool, fill and frost. Decorate with whole blanched almonds, tips dipped in melted chocolate.

Mocha Frosting: Put ¼ cup Swift'ning into mixing bowl. Sift in 3½ cups confectioner's sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, and 2 tablespoons cocoa. Add an egg and ¼ cup strong black coffee (cold). Beat until blended and fluffy.

*Look for the words "Double-Acting" on the baking powder tin.

Three-Hour Service Planned Good Friday By Ministers

Special services of a high order have been arranged by the various churches of Peterborough for Good Friday and Easter Sunday. In addition to the usual appropriate sermons by the pastors, many churches have planned to present some of the beautiful Easter music in the form of cantatas, with outstanding soloists in the leading roles. Others are presenting suitable religious playlets.

The main event of Good Friday will be the annual three-hour service, sponsored by the Ministerial Association, to be held in All Saints' Anglican Church, corner of Rubidge and Sherbrooke Sts., from 12.00 noon to 3.00 p.m., these hours corresponding to the time during which Jesus Christ was on the Cross of Calvary.

This service, which was inaugurated three years ago, will be conducted by the rector of All Saints, Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite, and the following ministers will give addresses: Rev. Ivan Morgan, of Murray Street Baptist and president of the Ministerial Association; Rev. H. G. Douglas, of Knox United Church; Major Charles Watt, of the Salvation Army; Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon, of Trinity United Church; Rev W. E. Rowland, retired minister; and Rev. F. W. Craik, of St. James United Church.

At St. Peter's Cathedral

Holy Week is being observed in the Roman Catholic churches of the Peterborough diocese in the traditional manner, the ritual dating back through centuries of the Christian era.

The pre-Easter services began Wednesday evening in St. Peter's Cathedral with the reciting and singing by the priests of the Tenebrae, which will continue again this evening and Good Friday evening, at 8.00. This is also referred to as the "Night Offices." Similar services are being held in the various parish churches of the diocese.

The main service in the cathedral on Good Friday will be the Tre Ore (Three Hours), which will be held from 12.00 noon to 3.00 p.m. The traditional Mass of the Priests Sanctified will be held in conjunction with this service. "Stations of the Cross" will be observed at 3.00 p.m. in the cathedral, illustrative of 14 incidents on the journey of Christ to Calvary.

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings special sermons are being given in the cathedral. On Wednesday night the preacher was Rev. Father Clayton O'Donoghue of Port Hope and on Thursday evening Rev. Joseph O'Sullivan will preach.

On Easter Sunday morning at 10.30 His Excellency, Bishop Gerald Berry will say solemn Pontifical High Mass in his cathedral.

In all churches of the diocese special masses will be held on Saturday morning at 8.00 at which various elements used in the regular masses will be blessed.

Presentation of Cantata

Among other major events slated for Good Friday is the presentation of the Cantata "The Great Inheritance" by Ward-Stephens in George Street United Church at 8.15 p.m. The special guest soloist for this occasion will be the noted Toronto mezzo-baritone, Robert Ivan Foster.

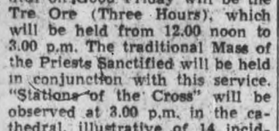
Also on Good Friday evening, at 8.00, there will be presented in the Salavtion Army Temple a one-act Easter drama "For He Had Great Possessions" by Dorothy C. Wilson. It is being put on by the Salvation Army young peoples' group, with all proceeds going to junior corps sections of the Army. Those taking part will be:—Ronald Routly, John Hodgson, Alf Mills, William Lowell, Mel Shadgett, Betty Slaughter, Barbara Rose, Alice Smith, Lillian Robinson, and Margaret Parnell.

The play in under the direction of Major Watt, with Mrs. G. Routly as assistant director.

Another special feature of the Salvation Army's Easter services will be the visit of Lt.-Col. V. Pearl Payton, Women's Social Secretary for the Salvation Army in Canada, Newfoundland, and Bermuda, accompanied by other officers. The Peterborough corps feels particularly gratified over the visit of Lt.-Col. Payton, as it was in the local corps that she began her Army work. She will be the guest speaker also at the weekly luncheon of the Peterborough Rotary Club on Monday in the Empress Hotel.

Good Friday will be observed in St. George's Anglican Church with Litany and Meditation at 2.00 p.m.

In St. John's Anglican Church there will be another three-hour service on Good Friday from 12.00 noon to 3.00 p.m. which will be conducted by Rev. Canon Mculton, rector of St. Simon's Church Toronto.



George Street United Church will hold a Good Friday service at 10.30 a.m., with Rev. R. E. Morton, of Mark Street United Church, as the speaker.

In Mark Street United Church on Good Friday evening at 8.00 special sacred music will be presented by the choir, together with two religious plays by the Knox group.

In all the churches on Easter Sunday itself appropriate sermons will be delivered by the different ministers, who for the most part will be conducting their own services. As is customary, there will be special Easter music presented by the the choirs at both services of the day. In most churches the serving of Holy Communion will be a leading feature at morning services. The various Sunday Schools will also observe the day in fitting manner.

Research Grants

TORONTO, April 14—(CP)—Two Canadian universities have been granted a total of $51,660 for heart disease research in 1949 from life insurance companies of the United States and Canada. The University of Western Ontario will receive $30,450 and the University of Saskatchewan $21,210.

YPU Makes Plans For Annual Banquet

SPRINGVILLE, April 14 — (ENS) The Springville Fairmount Y. P. U. met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Cullen.

Myrna Seymour, missionary convener, was in charge of the program. Dr. C. S. Reddick led in prayer. Jean Hanbidge read the scripture. Hazel McIntosh contributed a story and Doreen Bowles a poem. Myrna Seymour and Marilyn Bowles dramatized a Chinese story. Mrs. Reddick was in charge of a lively recreation period of games and contests.

In the absence of the President, (Raymond Kelk), the business part of the meeting was conducted by Hazel McIntosh, the vice-president.

The following committee was appointed to make arrangements for the banquet on April 22:—Dr. Reddick, Raymond Kelk, Jean Hanbidge, Marie Hooten and Hazel McIntosh.

Mrs. R. C. Hanbridge, Jean and Roger have very kindly invited the Young People to hold their next meeting on Sunday April 17 at their home.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess, Dianne and Bob Cullen.

Preliminary Hearing

MONTREAL, April 14 (CP) — John Kerry, K.C., 54, former member of the city's executive committee, appeared for preliminary hearing in court here Wednesday on a charge of gross indecency. A 14-year-old boy from suburban Longueuil said he had often visited the accused in Longueuil or at his Montreal office. Kerry was ordered to voluntary statement for April 26.

A Friend Of Mine From England told me that she had at last discovered a brand of tea in Canada that she thoroughly enjoys. She kept trying different brands until she read an advertisement for Tender Leaf Tea Balls. Their explanation of "little top leaves" made good sense so she bought some. Now she really enjoys her tea — morning, noon and night. And this lady is just one of my many friends who has recently switched to the new improved TENDER LEAF TEA BALLS. If you like Orange Pekoe at its best — you'll use it too!

All Ready For The Easter Parade? You'll want to take good care of that new Easter outfit of yours . . . so I'd suggest investing in Energine Cleaning Fluid! Yes, ENERGINE is an investment! It removes grease spots like magic from hats—dresses—suits. And yet, it's oh-so-gentle with fabrics of all kinds . . . doesn't harm them at all! And it saves wonderfully on cleaner's bills! I always keep Energine on a handy shelf for those little accidents that will happen. It's so very simple to use. Keep your Easter bonnet clean with Energine! On sale at your drug or department store for as little as 25c.

Looking For A New "Trick" To Wake Your Family In The Morning? Here's a favourite of mine . . . it works every time and it's the cheeriest "wake-up" trick I know! Just shout "All-Wheat's on!" and watch those sleepy-heads of yours come tumbling down to breakfast in a hurry! Yes, KELLOGG'S ALL-WHEAT is a real treat! Scrumptious, crunchy whole wheat flakes — roasted 'n toasted to taste perfection . . . serve All-Wheat topped with fruit, sugar and milk for a really "gala" breakfast dish! Your grocer has All-Wheat for you — made by Kellogg's in London, Ontario, it's choice whole wheat transformed into toasted flakes for your breakfast enjoyment!

Mother Nature's Season For "Housecleaning" is ours, too! Spring is the season when we women get the urge to make our homes look fresh as all outdoors. And one of the best ways I know to bring Spring right into your home is to freshen up your curtains the LINIT way! Yes, Linit-starched curtains really look like new! And they stay that way longer. For Linit laundry starch gently penetrates the very fibres of the fabric so dirt can't cling. Makes ironing easier, too! No wonder so many women I know say Linit is a Spring Housecleaning "must"! And it's downright "magical" the way it perks up Spring wardrobes — blouses, washable dresses or lingerie! Ask your grocer for Linit tomorrow!

Save Money On Rich Desserts this easy, delicious way! Try LIBBY'S EVAPORATED MILK . . . it's ideal for baking, cooking, every use . . . so rich it whips! And here's how to whip it: Chill thoroughly. (This may be done quickly by pouring into freezing tray and chilling until ice crystals form around the edge.) Place in cold bowl and, using cold beater, whip quickly until stiff.

Easy to see, isn't it, that Libby's Evaporated Milk is just the thing for creamy-rich desserts? Secret of its rich deliciousness:— Libby's is pure country-fresh milk with all the original cream left in and half the water removed. It contains all the top quality nutrients which you expect from whole milk — plus added Vitamin D — the "sunshine vitamin". Yet compared with today's prices for ordinary milk . . . it's more economical than ever to use!

Robert Montgomery Working For Himself

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 14 (AP) —From now on, Robert Montgomery is working strictly for himself.

The actor's Neptune Film Company, founded a year ago, now is in operation with the shooting of "Come Be My Love." The company will next move to England to make "Your Witness" in association with British Filmmaker David Rose. He'll return here for other films, now being prepared.

Does this mean he'll limit his film work to his own company? "not necessarily," he said. "Other companies may borrow me from Neptune, if they care to."

Betty Garrett is tired of chasing men in films. The happy Mrs. Larry Parks already has played a she-wolf in two pictures and now she's again pursuing Frank Sinatra in "On The Town." This sort of thing could land a girl in a rut, and Betty wants to be sought after in her next picture.

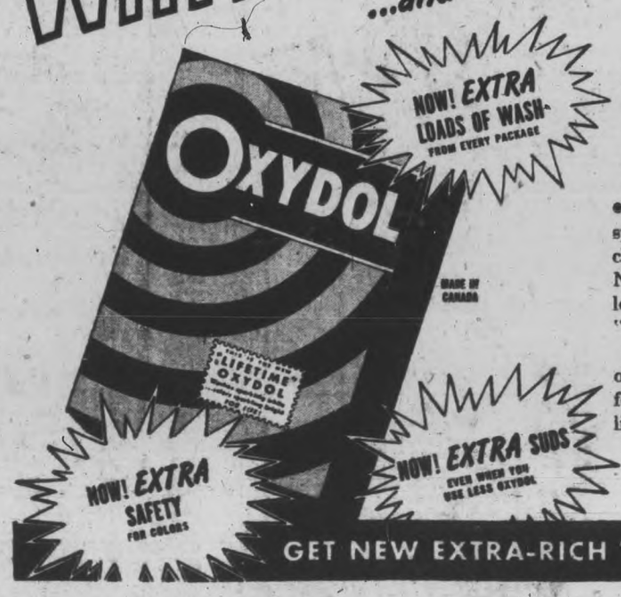
Donald O'Connor's next picture is definitely set as "Francis," a story of a talking mule. When I recalled that Mickey Rooney was once enthusing about doing the story, O'Connor explained: "Mickey outgrew the role."

Mark Stevens hops in a car for a United States and Canada tour when he finishes "Bandwagon." He doesn't know what will happen when he gets back. The Montreal actor says his studio has a mad on with him and he doesn't know what it's all about.

Out of sorts? take ENO'S 'Fruit Salt'

CANADIANS WANT JAMS WITH 'FRUIT-FULL' FLAVOR

WINONA, ONT. — With jams no longer on the hard-to-get list, Canadian women are getting more "choosey" in their buying. Actual sales figures reflect an increased demand for the fruit-full flavor of E. D. Smith's Pure Jams.



With modern preserving kitchens located near this tiny hamlet, E. D. Smith's select the pick of the crop from Niagara's famous fruitlands. Long experience as the oldest manufacturers of pure jams in Canada has given E. D. Smith's the know-how to capture the full flavor values of these delicious fruits and to bring them to the tables of Canadians everywhere.

Vancouver Teacher Making World Trip

BANGOR, Wales, April 14—(CP)—Marjorie Vic, young Vancouver school teacher, reached Britain from Scandinavia Wednesday on the fourth lap of her teach-as-you-go world tour.

After touring Norway, Sweden and Denmark, Miss Vic, 23, told reporters on her arrival here.

"In each country I teach for a week or two and meet as many people, especially students, as I can.

"Then when I get back to Canada I should know what I am talking about."

TRIPLET CALVES — Colantha Hartog Ostrog, 10-year-old Holstein cow owned by Elton Lazenby of Ontario's Oxford County, gave birth to triplet calves, all heifers. The calves were sired by Elmac Lennox Romeo, himself a twin. Mr. Lazenby, who has owned Colantha for the past three years, says it is the first multiple birth by Colantha to his knowledge. Murray Lazenby, left, and his brother Gerald, had a busy time keeping the frisky calves in place for their picture.

25 Defence College Men Pay Visit To United Nations

NEW YORK, April 14—(CP)—Tweny-five visitors from Canada's National Defence College Wednesday were told their presence at the United Nations represented the Dominion's two-fold efforts to preserve world peace.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canada's permanent delegate to the U.N., said Canada aims to widen world co-operation through the U.N. and to avert war by building up military strength throught the Atlantic Pact.

He warned the group from the defence college at Kingston not to be taken in by detractors of the U.N. The peace agency, he said, had made great achievements.

The party of Canadian navy, army and air force officers and government personnel, made a first-hand study of the U.N. both in the general assembly at Flushing Meadow and the headquarters at Lake Success, N.Y.

Their arrival was delayed five hours by derailment at Troy, N.Y., of the train preceding them. The one-day visit to the U.N. is a regular part of the nine-month defence college course.

Laud Joint Committee

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz of the United States and McNaughton stressed the importance of the Canada-United States joint industrial mobilization committee whose establishment was announced Tuesday.

Nimitz hailed formation of the committee as a show of strength which he said would be a deterrent to any aggressor.

Leader of the Canadian group was Maj.-Gen. J. F. H. Whitely, British Army officer in command of the course.

The members:

Army—Brig. W. H. S. Macklin, Ottawa; Cols. A. F. B. Knight, Kingston, K. A. Hunter, Toronto, J. W. Bishop, Vancouver, W. J. Lawson, and J. S. Ross, both of Ottawa, Maj. R. G. Kingstone, of Montreal.

Navy — Commodore R. E. S. Bidwell, Ottawa, Capts. A. C. M. Davy and D. G. King, both of Victoria, BC.

Air Force — Group Captains W. I. Clements, Fredericton, G. J. Archambault, Montreal, W. W. Bean, Kitchener, M. D. Lister, Ottawa, J. A. Easton, Brockville.

Others — Inspetor A. I. Parson, RCMP, Toronto, M. F. Candron, National Research Council, Ottawa, J. D. Forbes, Department of Labor, Ottawa, W. R. Harris, Canadian Commercial Corporation, Ottawa, D. B. Kennedy, Department of Transport, Ottawa, A. J. Lewington, Department of Transport, Ottawa, M. Quimet, CBC, Montreal, J. M. Tekles, Department of External Affairs, Capt. J. N. Hicks, Royal Navy.

A False Peace

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP) — A false peace hung today over Bradley's restaurant, where things are not always what they seem. Strip tease artist Georgia Sothern still is the star of the floor show. She fought it out in front of the club on East 54th Street early Wednesday with a rival strip teaser, Joan Collier. The two disagreed over who gets the closing spot in the Bradley show—and who wears the falsies.

Child Born In 'Quake

TACOMA, Wash., April 14 (AP) —An army sergeant's wife dashed into a hotel lobby and gave birth to a child in an ante-room during Wednesday's earthquake. She was Mrs. Fred Farmer. She said the birth had not been expected for a month and she had had no labor pains. She was in front of the hotel when the emergency arose.

"FAIR" LITTER—"A fair litter", was the comment of C. D. Roberts of Portage la Prairie, Mann., of the 10 shoats born to his Yorkshire sow. The births took place midway through the week-long Manitoba Winter Fair at Brandon this month.

Lionel Barrymore Sends Cross of Roses For Kathy

ALHAMBRA, Cal., April 13—(AP)—Grieving throngs gathered Wednesday for the funeral of pretty little Kathy Fiscus.

The family had requested that no flowers be sent, that the money be contributed instead to the Children's Hospital in Los Angeles. But sympathizers symbolic of a world's grief for a little girl who fell 90 feet down an abandoned well to her death could not be stopped.

There were more than 100 sprays in the ivy grown stone mortuary chapel. Actor Lionel Barrymore sent a five-foot cross of white sweet peas and white roses.

Kathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Fiscus, lay in a four-foot casket covered with blue silk plush and lined with pale pink velvet.

Her features were tranquil, her blond, curly hair tousled. She wore the ruffly white dress she would have worn Easter Sunday. At her left side in the coffin lay her plaster doll, which wore a tiny figured dress and was wrapped in a miniature plaid quilt. The doll's painted blue eyes were open. Kathy herself looked doll-like.

The chapel seats 200. Loudspeakers were installed to carry the brief service to the overflow crowd outside. Places were reserved in the chapel for members of the heroic rescue team which labored 52 hours to free her from her pipe prison.

Selected to conduct the rites was the Rev. Bertrand R. Crist, pastor of the San Marino Congregational Church, which Kathy attended.

Spiritual Healing Movement Led By Anglican Layman

By STANLEY G. MATTHEWS

MONTREAL April 14 — A group prayed for a baby which had been blind, deaf, dumb and paralyzed. Within 2 hours the paralysis left, and the baby afterward recovered its speech and sight.

A young man was cured instantaneously after suffering from epilepsy for 24 years.

An elderly woman had such bad cataracts on her eyes that she could hardly see. Overnight the cataracts disappeared and she could read her newspaper the next day.

Another woman suffered painfully from spinal arthritis and had 18 food allergies. Pain and allergies disappeared within a few days.

These are among the scores of cures of physical ailments claimed by a spiritual healing movement among Protestants which is attracting thousands to its weekly meetings here.

Launched a little over a year ago, its principal project is the maintenance of a "spiritual counselling" centre in the Anglican Church of St. Columba in Notre Dame de Grace.

Consulting Chemist

Dr. Albert E. Cliffe, a consulting chemist and an Anglican lay reader who is a member of St. Columba Church, is "director" of the movement. Associated with him in it is Rev. Norman E. Peterson, rector of the church.

Sixteen months ago Dr. Cliffe started a "Lessons in Living" Bible class each Sunday afternoon in the church. Attendance at the first was 24. Now it ranges between 800 and 900.

In addition, Dr. Cliffe gives a lecture each Wednesday evening in Christ Church Cathedral. The Cathedral is crowded regularly to its capacity of 1,400, and another 1,000 are accommodated by Kydd Memorial mount and St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Westmount. Dr. Cliffe's addresses are heard in the latter two churchs through a telephone and amplification system.

Dr. Cliffe became a believer in spiritual healing seven years ago, when, suffering from stomach ulcers, he was told by his physician he probably had less than a year to live.

Through the aid of a friend, he came "into a new relationship with God," as Dr. Cliffe tells it himself, and became healed of his ailment. The physician was "amazed" and Dr. Cliffe says he has not been troubled by the complaint since.

A "Chapel of the Healing Christ" was installed in a former guild room of the parish hall of St. Colomba Church and Dr. Cliffe last July gave up his afternoons to people who wished to come to see him at the centre. He now keeps appointments every 45 minutes, sees 24 people a week and is booked up six weeks ahead. The chapel was recently dedicated by Bishop John Dixon of Montreal. The clergy conduct daily services in it, in addition to a healing service at 9:30 a.m. each Thursday.

Many Invitations

Dr. Cliffe has already refused 249 invitations to speak in Canada, the United States and England. Between 15 and 20 letters asking spiritual counsel are received daily from local and distant places. Dr. Cliffe answers each personally. In addition, 1,000 mimeographed condensations of his talks are distributed at his Sunday afternoon meetings, and another 1,000 are sent out to a mailing list. Two secretaries are engaged full time to handle the corrsepondence.

All of those who come to the clinic have problems—financial, mental, physical and marital. More are physical than any other kind, however.

Spiritual guidance is essential in these cases, Dr. Cliffe explained. Men and womn are asked to "prove God" to be cured, but these steps, he says, are necessary first:

1. All resentment and criticism must be taken out of life.
2. The person must rectify any wrong done to another person.
3. The person must forgive anyone who has wronged or is wronging him.

"Once full repentance and forgiveness are given, healing is obtained," Dr. Cliffe said.

Work was begun in the Anglican church on the condition that it be interdenominational in nature. The Bible class now has people from 30 different denominations and sects attending, and Dr. Cliffe himself has spoken in churches of each of the principal Proestant denominations.

No collections are taken at any of the meetings. Instead, the movement is well supported financially through "love offerings" placed in boxes or plates at the rear of the auditoriums in which Dr. Cliffe is lecturing.

Healing is possible in the majority of cases, Dr. Cliffe maintained. He said that spiritual healing can take care of any sickness—heart disease, brain tumors, arthritis, neuritis and even arterioaclerosis. No healing has yet taken place in the cases of deteriorated limbs, such as withered hands, however.

After Dr. Cliffe was cured, he began studying metaphysics, especially the metaphysical interpretations of the Gospels. He became convinced that the majority of sickness today are caused by evil thinking and evil living.

"I used to be a constant worrier and a temperamental individual before I was cured," Dr. Cliffe said, "but once I found out how to think positively rather than negatively, to put God first, I demonstrated the healing power of God."

Dr. Cliffe's idea for starting the Bible class was "to teach a spiritual interpretation of Christ's words and to bring men to a knowledge of sin, which would lead to healing when they got rid of their sins."

However, Dr. Cliffe is no believer in "miracles."

"The healing of disease is only one of the things that take place in a person's life," he said. "The real miracle to me is a changed life, the life that finds God to be a reality."

Dr. Cliffe professes a great belief in conversion to demonstrate health and happiness." His lectures stress that "the Kingdom of God is within us," and that people produce their own heaven and hell on earth by the way they accept life and its problems.

If there is one thing that Dr. Cliffe emphasizes more than anything else in his talks, however, it is this: "It is always God's will to heal sickness."

INDIANAPOLIS, April 14 (AP) —The last of three men sought in the shooting of an Indiana banker was captured here Wednesday night, a few hours after the victim died. State police said the man, Clarence Gorman, admitted orally he fired the shot that killed Fassett Hinshaw, 51-year-old bank president of Shirley, Ind.

Reds Behind Strikes

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP) — Federal Bureau of Investigation agent Wednesday quoted a Michigan Communist leader as saying the party was "behind all strikes, auto, steel, electric and meat." The agent, Fred Cook, did not amplify the statement for a Federal court jury at the conspiracy trial of 11 top United States Communist leaders.

Take Liquor Vote

OWEN SOUND, April 14 (CP) —After 33 years without beer or liquor outlets, Owen Sound will vote June 18 on five questions dealing with the sale of liquor. Voters will express their opinions on: Opening of a government liquor store, sale of beer through retail store for home consumption, sale of liquor with meals and the opening of men's and women's beverage rooms.

Manitoba Wants Law To Deal With Sled Dogs

By The Canadian Press

Savage sled dogs have been attacking humans in Manitoba's north country and the Legislature at Winnipeg may consider a law to deal with them.

Such a law was urged yesterday in the legislature by D. R. Hamilton (LP—Rupert's Land) who said adults as well as children had fallen victim to the vicious beasts.

Some trappers let their sled dogs run loose when approaching a northern settlement, the house was told. Often the hungry dogs pounced on the first persons they saw.

Sled dogs were needed in the north and it was not feasible to shoot the animals because they were running at large.

Good trappers kept their dogs tied up as a precaution to the dogs themselves as well as to the public. The "careless drivers" who turned his dogs loose was to blame for the trouble.

No decision was reached.

The legislature also gave second reading to a bill to control the manufacture and sale of margarine. The bill, providing for pale margarine, requires butter substitute packages to bear the word "margarine" in large letters and sets forth that restaurants serving margarine in place of butter must note the fact on their menus.

Swedish Bearing Firm Has Canadian Plant

TORONTO, April 14—(CP)—The first $1,000,000 unit of a bearing manufacturing plant will be built in suburban Scarboro township this summer by SKF Co. Ltd., a branch of a large Swedish bearing firm.

Gordon Janes, president of the Canadian branch, said the plant wil employ 200 Canadians at first. He said the parent company in Sweden considers its Swedish plants too close to Russia and seeks to establish branches in other parts of the world.

Fifty per cent of the Canadian plant's production will be used in Canada, the rest exported.

Find Last Of Loot

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP) — Federal Bureau of Investigation agents Wednesday night dug up from a Staten Island graveyard a large part, if not all, of $62,000 in bank funds still unaccounted from a bank official's $863,660 embezzlement. The money was part of the loot Richard H. Crowe took from a Manhattan branch of the National City Bank March 25.

Easter Message Given WMS By Dr. J. Semple

Easter Affirmations was the topic of Rev. Dr. James Semple's inspirational address to the Women's Missionary Society of the George Street United Church on Tuesday afternoon. Ladies of District 6, under the leadership of Mrs. Fred Horton were in chcarge of the devotional part of the meeting. The Scripture reading and thoughts by Mrs. S. Wood and prayer by Mrs. M. A. Fitzgerald were in keeping with the Easter message. Two beautiful solos by Mrs. L. McLaren, acompanied by Mrs. R. C. Searles added much to the enjoyment of members and guests. Mrs. E. Brown, president, thanked those taking part.

Members were reminded to get aprons ready for the sale and spring tea being held on Wednesday, May 18. Satisfactory reports read showed a substantial sum had been forwarded to the Provincial Treasurer. Mrs. P. M. McCarrell, secretary of Christian Stewardship and Finance, took Prayer as her subject: "I am afraid we are all so busy in the task of the everyday rush that has entered into our way of life that we are neglecting to take a few minutes of each day for prayer and meditation." She stressed the importance of that few minutes each day to accomplish the work that should be done in a weary world.

Mrs. F. W. Burnham, supply secretary, reported on the job just completed by her committee of packing and shipping ten bales of fine used clothing. This clothing was sent to China, Japan, Germany and countries where people are desperately in need.

Mrs. J. P. Bickle reported a number of letters and cards of sympathy sent to bereaved famillies of the congregation during the past month.

Mrs. H. Girven reported the visiting done in the homes and hospitals.

Mrs. W. P. Purdy presided at the piano.

The meeting closed with prayer.

County LOL Lodge Hosts for Dance

More than 500 men and women of the Orange Order enjoyed a gala dance Wednesday evening in the YMCA gymnasium. This social event of the Provincial Convention of Grand Lodge, Ontario East, held in the city this week, was given by County of West Peterborough. Many compliments were paid the committee in charge for arranging and conducting such a enjoyable affair. Those in charge were Morgan Brown, past County Master, Gordon Trennum, Deputy County Master, and Frank Ross. Guests comprised delegates of LOBA, Orange Young Britons, True Blues, LOL and Black Knights. Music for dancing was provided by Rutherford's orchestra and Stanley Scott was floor manager. Raffle tickets have been sold on an electric kettle and a radio and the draws were made during the dance. Winner of the kettle was D. Hobbins, 200 Lake St., and of the radio, G. Kirkey, 342 Stewart St.

Top Milliners Choose Hats Less Flowery, Crisp Look

NEW YORK, April 14.—(AP).—What kind of hats are New York's top milliners wearing in the Easter parade?

Sally Victor, small and sprightly, said the hat of her personal choice is an airy and utterly springlike confection of white field daisies and lacy green stems. Said she: "I picked little field daisies as a change from lillies of the valley, which are beautiful, but trite. You can wear practically any kind of hat you like this spring — it doesn't matter so much whether it's big or little, so long as it's becoming.

"But it is true that hats all have a crisp look this spring, lots of white is being used, and there's less trimming than in many years. When flowers are used, they are a part of the silhouette, not just stuck on as an after thought."

Esther Dorothy, noted as a designer of both hats and furs, paused in the midst of selling a $10,000 mink cape and donned her own Easter bonnet, a sidewinder turban of forget-me-nots and pink tea roses on sheer blue Batavia cloth over pink.

Said Esther, who leans toward the spectacular in her personal wardrobe: "I like to wear lots and lots of flowers on Easter Sunday. Flowers are becoming to everybody. But if you must be tailored choose a head-fitting straw cloche to match your suit or a stiff straw sailor, like the skimmers of 1910."

Florence Reichman, strictly the lady-like type, was a study in blonde tones. Her small straw bonnet blending perfectly with her own golden blonde hair.

"This is the first time I've ventured to wear a bonnet, usually considered the province of the very young," she said. "But this spring it seems right, and this particular one is the most popular hat in my collection.

"This season hats must be very small or very large—no middle ground. There will be lots of flower-trimmed bonnets in the Easter parade as always, but after Easter I think most women are going to like the simpler hats."

Mary Goodfellow chose a brown shantung straw in an oblique Breton shape, simply trimmed with a white grosgrain binding and two small white birds. She said: "The general trend of the season is toward great simplicity, with silhouette the all-important thing. I think every woman will need two hats this spring—one to go with her suit, and pure silhouette, the other a neutral straw, to go with everything. It's a great season for neutrals."

Peg Fischer selected a small off-the-face hat in black shink straw brimmed in pink roses and black velvet grapes "Great big hats and little bitty hats are both good this spring, but trimming should be understated," she said. "If flowers are used they should be handled like fabric, as a part of the general line of the hat."

Lilly Dache, just back from Paris chose for her own wear a simple white Milan hat, untrimmed except for a manipulated spiral of matching straw.

She said: "This is one spring you can go in for understatement in hats. It doesn't happen very often. But the hats that seem to look best this season are simple, with not so many flowers. I like sand and neutral tones in rough straws and silks, handled with restraint."

MAY'S SCHOOL

Mrs. J. Todd, president of May's Home and School Association, was appointed delegate to attend the Home and School convention in Toronto next week, at the regular meeting held Monday night. After all business had been conducted Missionary Elder Jeppison showed pictures of the state of Utah.

Lunch was served by Mrs. J. Chambers and assistants.

QUEEN ELIZABETH SCHOOL

The meeting of Queen Elizabeth Home and School Association was held Tuesday evening, with Mrs. P. Jarvis presiding. It was decided to send Mrs. S. Elliott, Mrs. E. Lymburner and Mrs. H. Race as delegates to the H. and S. convention in Toronto during Easter week.

Mrs. Ellis delighted those present with two piano selections.

Pamela Jarvis, a junior pupil, recited "At Easter Time."

Guest speaker, Mrs. W. Tinker, was introduced by Mrs. G. Astelle. She spoke briefly on various topics. Mrs. Tinker, who believes that people should use poetry to open their eyes to beauty, closed her talk with reading of poems by Duncan Campbell Scott.

A social half hour in charge of Mrs. J. Rea, was enjoyed.

SACRED HEART SCHOOL

General meeting of the Sacred Heart Home and School Association was opened by the president, Mr. F. Kirkcaldy.

Mrs. M. Murray and Sister Dorothy were appointed delegates to attend the convention in Toronto during Easter week. Election of officers for the coming year will take place at the next meeting.

The speaker, the Rev. G. F. Sullivan, was introduced by the president. He chose for his topic "Parents and Teachers". "The home and School exists that parents and teachers may study together the problems of children, to raise the standards of the home and to work for the spiritual and physical welfare of the children," he said.

"Children have four means of acquiring knowledge, through parents, playmates, school teachers and community teachers. If one of those fail the child suffers. If very child can be brought up in a home where there is harmonious living, intelligent training and good example life will hold much greater happiness for all."

Mr. J. Cairns thanked the speaker.

BRIDGENORTH SCHOOL

There was a large attendance at Bridgenorth Home and School Association meeting Wednesday evening to hear Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH of Peterborough. Dr. Kelly spoke on public health from prenatal care ot adulthood. He also gave statistics on the approximate cost of the proposed county health unit.

The Rev. D. P. Morris gave a short talk on confederation of Newfoundland with Canada.

Two fine piano selections were contributed by Donald Bell and Sylvia Nichols. Two appropriate songs were sung by a quartette of Peterborough ladies, Mrs. W. Telford, Miss M. Trotter, Mrs. H. A. Mitchell and Miss M. Faulkner.

A social hour was enjoyed at the close with Mrs. D. McKay and her committee in charge.

ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL

Following a satisfactory financial report, presented by the treasurer at the meeting Wednesday evening, St. John's Home and and School Association decided to give $25 to the school to spend as they see fit. Also to send the president, Mrs. B. Hollend, and first vice president Mrs. J. Doleman, to the Home and School Convention in Toronto next week.

Guest speaker was His Excellency Most Rev. Bishop Berry. His subject was the relationship of the child, parents and school. Listeners became instantly aware that the speaker is highly trained

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Chronic Visitor Wastes Housewife's Valuable Time

DEAR MISS DIX: Why, oh why, do so many women come uninvited into our houses and sit for hours at a time just talking twaddle? One of my neighbors comes in as early as 8 o'clock in the morning, and stays regularly until 1:00 o'clock. Some days she does not go home until after 5. I am so fed up with her that I am almost at the point of committing murder.

Dorothy Dix

I have worked hard all my life and reared a family, and there are times when I just want to be alone. Maybe these women who can't bear to be by themselves for a minute are lonesome; but I have work to do and, anyway, I am no entertainment committee. I have gotten to the point where I can't take company any more.

For pity's sake tell me what I can do about it.

WORRIED NEIGHBOR.

ANSWER: Of all the pests in the world there is none that is a greater affliction than the Chronic Visitor, yet none is so common and none so hard to get rid of. Compared to the woman who virtually camps in your house and who is always underfoot, an influx of rats or fleas or the itch or flu, is a pleasing diversion.

Just how anyone gets to be one of these pests is more or less of a mystery, because at first sight the Chronic Visitor seems a harmless creature who will attend to her business and let you attend to yours. It is only after she has settled down on you and preempted your best chair and started on her monologue, that you realize that you are enslaved for life.

No Mercy

For the self-invited guest has no mercy. It does not matter to her that you have got your housekeeping to do, your groceries to buy, the baby to bathe, dress and feed, the children to get off to school. Or that you want to read a new book, go see a good movie or take a ride. She just sits and sits and sits and talks and talks and talks, until nothing but the grace of God keeps you from choking her.

Why the Chronic Visitor does not get a job, go in for a career, or even have twins if she really wants something to occupy her time, nobody knows. She just talks, and, like the hero in the Bible, she slays her enemies with the jawbone of an ass.

Maybe God can forgive the woman with the visiting complex, but her neighbors never do.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married for 15 years to a man who has a dual personality. Most of the time he is a perfect husband, kind, generous, lovable; but about once a year he reverts to his other personality. He has a spell which usually lasts five or six weeks. During this time he drinks, is cruel and mean, does everything he can to hurt me and acts as though he hates me. But after he gets over his bout, he is ashamed and can't be nice enough to me.

His conduct has made me a nervous, unhappy woman. I don't want to lose all my love for my husband, but I am afraid that many more of these tantrums will make me hate him. What can I do? We have one child.

SUE.

ANSWER: When you think of all the mean, selfish, cantankerous husbands you know who are hell to live with all of the time, it doesn't seem that the wife who has a husband who is tender and kind and pleasant most of time is getting such a bad break. But obviously your husband has some mental trouble that makes him act as he does, and you should lose no time in putting him under the care of a good psychiatrist.

If you can't persuade him to do that, your next best move is to pack up your bag. Take your child and go to some place where you will not have to endure the agony of seeing your husband go through the Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde transformation.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a woman 50 years old, with little money left after 30 years of being a widow. Also, I am very bored with having nothing to do. The only thing I know how to do is housework, and I love it. I would like to get in some nice family where I could get a good job. Life would be more interesting to me if I had some occupation.

A WIDOW.

ANSWER: You are quite right in thinking that you would be much happier if you had something definite to do, instead of just sitting sucking your thumbs. Idleness is not only the devil's workshop, but also the most depressing thing that a lone woman ever has to deal with.

My advice to you is to put your pride in your pocket and to get a job in some nice household where you will be made one of the family.

"Atlantic Charter Furthers Ideals" Mr. Justice Mackay

HAMILTON, April 14 (CP)—Resolutions on education and post-war service work will be discussed today as the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, Ontario chapters, complete the three-day sessions of the 29th annual meeting here.

The more than 800 delegates from all parts of the province elected Mrs. Cecil L. Brown of Hamilton as president for a second term at yesterday's sesssions. Closed conferences dealing with order and administration were held, followed by a tea and exhibition of paintings entered in the I.O.D.E. pictorial contest.

"The magnificent increase in post-war service, emphasis on education and encouragement of the arts have been the highlights of the last year," said Mrs. F. P. McCurdy of Toronto, national president.

She said the Order hoped to raise the national membership of 32,000 to 50,000 by next year, the golden jubilee year.

Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay of Toronto, Justice of the Supreme Court of Ontario, told delegates at a dinner meeting that he wished a study of the English language were "imperative in every year, in every course in every university."

"The English-speaking nations remain the greatest and most influential in the world, the symbol of liberty within the law," Mr. Justice Mackay said. "Under the Atlantic Charter we are committed in unity to the furherance of he ideals for which our empire stands, and together with the United States (the charter) offers the greatest known assurance for he preservation of those ideals."

He called for unity between English and French-speaking elements in Canada to maintain the "mighty fabric of commonwealth solidarity."

Mr. Justice Mackay scoffed at persons who thought it "smart" to avow internationalism as the only loyalty. A country whose people were not in sympathy with its institutions and the patriotism symbolized by the flag was "sailing in shallow waters toward unseen eddies of uncertainty if not the open rocks of dismemberment."

Asks Canada Get Nursing Officer

TORONTO, April 14—(CP)—Kathleen Russell, director of the University of Toronto Nursing School, thinks Canada should have a nursing officer in its Federal Health Department to coordinate developments in the field of nursing.

Miss Russell said in an interview that all comparable countries such as England, Australia, Sweden and India had national nursing officers. Canada had only provincial nurses doing this work.

Many of the graduate nurses at the University of Toronto School are from foreign countries and will return to be nursing officers in the national health departments of their countries.

Abraham Lincoln, Edgar Allan Poe, Kit Carson, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Lord Tennyson, and William Gladstone, all were born in 1899.

6—In Memoriams

IRWIN—In loving memory of Mrs Andrew Irwin, who passed away April 14, 1945.
Today recalls sad memories,
Of a dear mother gone to rest,
And the one who thinks of her today,
Is the one who loved her best.
—Sadly missed by her daughter Ruby and Alex and grandchildren Sheron and Rickey.

IRWIN—In loving memory of Mrs Andrew Irwin, who passed away April 14, 1945.
God knew that she was suffering,
The hills were hard to climb,
So He closed her weary eyelids
And whispered "Peace be thine."
Away in the beautiful home of God,
In that beautiful land so fair,
Some day, somehow, we know not when,
We'll meet our darling there —Ever remembered by husband, daughter Loreen and sons Clifford and Laverne.

IRWIN—In loving memory of Mrs. Andrew Irwin who passed away April 14th, 1945.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true,
There is not a day dear mother,
I do not think of you.
—Lovingly remembered by her daughter Jane, Vic and Nancy.

IRWIN—In memory of Mrs. Andrew Irwin, who passed away April 14, 1945.
Our grief the world will never know,
Or days of sadness that are ours,
As with the years we older grow,
Our hearts for her will ever pine,
Gone from us that smiling face,
Those pleasant cheerful ways.
The heart that won so many friends,
In bygone happy days.
—Ever remembered by her daughters Iona, Irwin and Ilean Treen.

LOW—In loving memory of Mrs John Low, who died April 14, 1941
Take her in Thine arms, dear Lord
And ever let her be
A messenger of love
Between our hearts and Thee.
—Lovingly remembered by husband and family.

OWEN—In loving memory of a brother and uncle, Ernest J. Owen, who was killed in action eight years ago today.
Not dead, but passed beyond
The mist that binds us here,
Into the newer, larger life
Of that unclouded sphere.
—Ever remembered by Mr. and Mrs. Blackwood, Jim, Grace, and Stanley

OWEN—In loving memory of our dear son and brother LAC James Ernest Owen, killed in the Battle of Britain while serving with the RCAF overseas, April 14, 1941.
Yesterday they were just little boys,
out playing on the street;
The sky was clear, no cloud was near to mar their joy;
Today, in the flower of youth, they are gone, their voices stilled;
Their lives they gave, our faith to save, that the godless would destroy.
—Ever remembered by Mother, Dad, Annie and Fred.

OWEN—In loving memory of our dear brother LAC Earnest Owen, killed while serving with the RCAF overseas, April 14, 1941.
—Ever remembered by brother and sister-in-law, Gladys and Thomas.

PEARSE — In loving memory of Charles Pearse, who died April 15, 1948.
God called him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still,
His memory is as dear today,
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him,
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only thing,
That grief can call its own.
—Sadly missed by his mother.

PEARSE — In loving memory of Charles Pearse, who died April 15, 1948.
"One year ago today, my brother was called
To his eternal rest,
Gone where the angels sing so sweet,
And taken where God knew best.
We miss him here so very much,
His presence oft seems nigh,
But we all hope in Heaven to meet,
Where no one says good-bye."
—Always remembered by brother Eric and sister-in-law Ruby.

WILLIAMS—In loving memory of my dear brother, Lieut. Fred Williams of the 48th Highlanders, killed in Holland April 15, 1945.
Deep in our hearts a memory is kept
Of one we loved and will never forget
And though the years be many or few
We'll always be thinking dear Fred of you.
—Dearly loved and remembered by Haddie, Paul and children.

WALL—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Maude Wall, who passed away April 15, 1932.
Only a memory of bygone days,
And a sigh for a face unseen,
But a constant feeling that God alone
Knows just what should have been.
Sometimes it's hard to understand
Why some things have to be,
But in His wisdom, He has planned
Beyond our power to see.
—Ever remembered by Cressa (Mrs. A. Pilling).

7—Cards of Thanks

I wish to thank the nurses and attending doctors of Civic Hospital, Rev. Kibblewhite, all friends, neighbours, for cards, flowers and other deeds of kindness during my recent operation and stay in hospital. —Mrs. Letty Nice.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

7—Cards of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the attending doctors and nurses, the Rev. F. Horton and to all friends and relatives who so kindly remembered me with cards, letters, also for gifts of flowers, fruit and candy during my stay in Civic Hospital. Mrs. H. Bland.

The family of the late Michael Torpey wish to thank their kind friends and neighbours for their many acts of kindness, expressions of sympathy, floral tributes and cards during their recent sad bereavement.

We wish to thank all our friends and neighbours, especially Dr Semple and the members of George Street Church, and the nurses at the C.G. surgery for cards and messages of sympathy during our recent bereavement.—Mr. and Mrs. W. H Woollard.

Burning Grass Symbol Of The New Year

By HARRY THEOBALD.

C. N. R. section foreman, Fred Turner was in full possession of Peterborough's most enviable job today. He and his helpers were burning grass along the right of way of the line to Port Hope in weather that was marvellously April. And they were actually getting paid for it.

This morning their smoke was a gray smudge against the spring sky, off in the direction of the southwest, as they were working along from rail to fence heading toward Fraserville. Beyond Monaghan Road they were close to open country after firing the course yesterday from Park St. to Lansdowne St., between the DeLaval and Martin-Hewitt plants on the one side and Johnson Motors and Peterborough Lumber on the other.

To the north of the track is a softwood bush that filled the air today with a fragrance from trees and soil and the swampy dampness of spring; the soft tang of the scent of the populars and the gum their buds exude as they burgeon and begin to spread; and the presence of cedars somewhere beyond sight.

Erskine St. Woods.

That was the air conditioning that greeted the Turner crew as they slowly made their way past that new possession of the city of Peterborough, the Erskine St. woods. And, strange to say, the community makes summary use of its ownership of this remnant wood lot, the only one outside the city's parks. After some careless delay the city fathers decide to put the axe to every last tree in the place. It should be said for the council they did not think of that drastic clearing. They were content to leave the woods along the C. N. R. just as they had been before the property was bought for hopefully eventual industrial use. But, some person out that way recently offered the council $50 for the wood as it stood, and of course with right to cut and cart away. And one of the alderman countered with: "Have'nt we got any use for it ourselves?" And that next stereotyped step was: "Let's get a report on it. Ask Butcher if he can can use it." The parks foremen replied that the wood could be used for heating the public skating rink shacks next winter.

Cut Down in Hurry.

Besides, the parks department has a new power saw and it was imagined that it would make fast work in the populars and black ash and the other softwoods in that doomed stand. Nobody even thought of leaving the trees where nature planted them. The whole council thoughtlessly fell in with the idea of destruction and riddance inspired by some neighborhood dweller to whom the trees stood out as possible profit.

That's a digression from the grass-burning adventures out the C. N. R., one of the chores of spring for more than three-quarters of a century. Most people would not catch the pungent fragrance of the smoke and the popular buds and the damp ground, but perhaps hustled back to the attar of roses or something just as meretricious pervading the office atmosphere from the air conditioners.

Off to the southwest of the city the air from the north by east was cool and full of refreshment, the sun had the blue sky all to itself; a mistiness seemed a portent of rain; bluebirds were calling from the telegraph wires, and trees were putting on the first lacy green of foliage that will be soon woven into the leafy textures of summer.

The burning of the old grass is one of the symbols of the new year an annual railway chore and precaution, and for some men it always reaches out a powerful transient appeal, an April day in the railway countrunning all over the farmlands.

Find Air-Lift Plane Lands Near Pilsen

WEISBADEN, Germany, April 14 (AP)—The United States Air Force announced today a C-54 air-lift plane, missing for more than 24 hours, has landed near Pilsen, Czechoslovakia. Its crew of three and one passenger were uninjured.

The Air Force said the plane lost its way on a scheduled flight because of a complete electrical failure shortly after it took off.

Minor repairs are needed and the crew will fly back to the United States zone of Germany, the announcement said.

'Quake Stories

By LEONARD ANDERSON

SEATTLE, April 14—(AP) — This wasn't earthquake country at 11:54 a.m. yesterday. But a minute later, it was.

And today the signs of the tremor are in scores of Washington cities and towns.

There is still some rubble in the streets of Seattle, Tacoma and Olympia, all near the centre of the shock.

Many business places remained closed today and pedestrians walked gingerly around roped-off mounds of debris before damaged buildings.

Home owners were shopping for many replacement items — new window glass, cement to patch cracked basements, new crockery and nails to rehang pictures jarred from the walls.

In the wake of the 'quake—here are some of the stories being passed around:

In the southwest Washington city of Aberdeen, the shock sent all occupants of a downtown tavern rushing into the street—all but two men playing the pinball machine. They stayed on. When the others began to filter back, the two were still standing at the machine. They were arguing warmly over which of them made it register "tilt."

At Monmouth, Ore., Dr. Joseph Santee, professor of Social Science at Oregon College of Education, was telling his class about California earthquakes.

"Of course," said the professor, "nothing like that ever happens here.' Mother earth immediately answered back.

Table Tennis Champ Will Give Display

Howard Birks, Ontario singles table tennis champion, will put on a display of table tennis Saturday night at the YMCA. This will be the climax to the Y's men's club's table tennis championships tournament being played Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Saturday night the finals for Peterborough will be played. Trophies and prizes will also be presented.

Special interest in the tournament is shown in the entry of Dr. G. R. Langley and Col. John Dewart, MC. After years of experience these two men are definite threats for championship laurels. Joyce Dewart won the Peterborough Ladies' championship last year.

Mr. Birks is being accompanied from Toronto by three other outstanding table tennis players. One of these is J. Rathlow, who is considered one of Toronto's best. The four will play a doubles' exhibition.

Manitoba Flood Washes Out Several Roads

WINNIPEG, April 14—(CP)—Ice-churned flood waters of the Assiniboine River Wednesday washed out a section of No. 1 Highway 39 miles west of here when a bridge collapsed under the pressure.

An appeal for boats was sent to the Red Cross as the swollen river spread over thousands of acres of farm lands.

Several farm homes bordering the Assiniboine have been evacuated. In others, living quarters have been established in second storys as swirling waters splash to doorsteps.

The rampaging Assiniboine, which flows across Southern Manitoba from Saskatchewan to its junction with the Red River at Winnipeg, cut traffic on the main road link between Brandon and Winnipeg when it washed out the highway.

Provincial Government officials went into a huddle over a proposal to bomb the ice jams in an attempt to prevent further breaks in the highway.

Ice jams 10 miles east of Warren's Corner, where he bridge collapsed, were said to have caused a flood which submerged hundreds of farm acres.

In Southwestern Manitoba, floods struck at Crystal City, while spring freshets marooned the village of Belmont and almost cut off nearby Baldur.

The Cypress River overflowed at the town of same name 100 miles southwest of here, inundating farms, washing away or threatening seven road and rail bridges.

At Wawanesa, 126 miles southwest of here, the Souris River swept away one home as it broke over its banks and threatened the dam.

No U.S. Seamen Being Admitted

OTTAWA, April 14 (CP)—The mmigration department said today no seamen have been admitted to Canada from the United States to ship on vessels affected by the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) deepsea strike.

The departmenut began an investigation Monday into reports that 60 members of the Seafarers' International Union had been flown to Canada to man strike-bound ships in Halifax.

The statement from the immigration department said "reports that a number of seamen had been admitted from the United States to act as strike-breakers had been carefully investigated by the immigration branch and found to be without foundation."

Cobourg Grass Fires

COBOURG, April 14—(ENS)—Cobourg fire department is in the middle of the grass-fire season. They had three calls yesterday to extinguish grass fires. One of the fires was near the factory bridge but was put out before it could damage the structure.

who accepted the cups on behalf of their teams in senior, intermediate and junior swimming competition.

For the first time a scoreboard was used in the event. It showed the results of the teams up-to-date, the results of the races, the race being run and who was in it, the next event and who the boys were. About six people were kept on the move tabulating results on the board.

In the swimming events two or three heats were run off, and the four best times in all the heats were declared winners of the event.

Officials for the meet were: Referee, Fred Jennings; judges, Al Clark, Gordon Dobbin, Stan McBride, Cliff McInroy; diving judges, Stan McBride, Cliff McInroy, Mrs. Pansy Forbes; starter, Don Lech; recorders, Bev Rumary, Joan Coones; timer of meet, N. C. Munro; scorekeeper, Ken Stacey; stewards, Frank Wright, Bill Watson; announcer, Gord. Minty. Donald Duncan, secretary of boys' work at the YMCA, was director of the meet.

Newfoundland Music In Film

OTTAWA, April 14 — (CP) — Howard Cable, a young Canadian composer and arranger, has recently completed a unique musical film score for the motion picture "Inside Newfoundland" produced by the National Film Board to mark that country's union with Canada.

A student of Newfoundland folk music, Cable made a thorough study of it two years ago and has written a rhapsody based on his research. His purpose in writing the film score was not only to lend proper atmosphere to the picture but also to preserve in music a panorama of the country's stuggles, heartaches and achievements.

Some Newfoundland folk songs have their prototypes in the British Isles such as two included in Cable's arrangements, "T'se de Boy Dat Builds de Boat" and "Lots O' Fish in Bonavist 'Arbor." They are examples of a humorous, chanty - type song found in the folk music of the new province.

Cable says that for the most part Newfoundland folk songs, like those of most countries in the New World, are divided into three groups. Those that are inherited, those that are survivals of old English, Scottish and to a lesser extend Irish ballads, and music carried by seafaring Newfoundlanders from Canada and the United States.

in the interest of humans, practical and technical knowledge, welfare and psychiatry. He showed clearly that present day problems of child delinquency can be ironed out by conscientious efforts of parents. They must examine themselves closely and see that they are allowing the child the God-given right of a sense of "belongingness." They must make the child feel he is needed to complete the family circle and then he will not find it necessary to commit rash deeds to prove his importance in the scheme of life.

Betty Stevens entertained most pleasingly with two piano solos, "Three Blind Mice" and "White Rabbit."

Child Hygiene Clinic Planned

A new child hygiene clinic to serve residents in the south of the city, will open in few weeks in a room made available by the De Laval Company.

Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health, told the Board of Health Wednesday that there was a great need for clinics in the south and east of the city. For a long time vain attempts had been made to find accommodation, but now that a room had been found in the south, a new clinic would open there as soon as it had been equipped.

The Medical Officer reported that 14 clinics were held during March and attendance had been 311. In the corresponding period last year there had been 203 attendances at 12 clinics, he said.

Infant death rate had been the lowest for the first three months of any year during the past five years. It was less than half last year's rate and only one-third of the 1945 figure. There had been no maternal deaths.

The still birth rate, with the exception of 1948, was the lowest in the past five years. There were 376 live births during the first three months of the year and seven still births. There were nine infant deaths and 129 other deaths.

Falcon Island Jack-in-the-Box

AUCKLAND, N.Z., April 14—(CP)—Falcon Island, the Pacific's mysterious jack-in-the-box which has puzzled mariners for two centuries, has been located again nine fathoms below the sea.

The island, which periodically rises above the ocean, has long been a source of worry to the Pacific island kingdom of Tonga, which has twice annexed it, only to lose it again when it sank beneath the ocean.

The latest investigation of the island, which is 60 miles north of the main land of the Tongan group, was made by the New Zealand sloop Hawea which recorded its contours with an echo sounder. The sloop reports that there is a strong sulphurous smell at the locality indicating submerged volcanic activity.

First observed as a reef in the 18th century, Falcon Island was found 100 years later to have grown into a barren strip of land a mile and a quarter long and 153 feet high. Then it sank into the sea, but in 1896 there was a violent eruption which produced an island of pumice stone more than 100 feet high.

In succeeding years Falcon Island disappeared and reappeared at irregular intervals. Its most spectacular return from the ocean depths was in 1927 when volcanic explosions were seen more than 50 miles away. Early in 1946 it had again vanished and a New Zealand warship found the highest point was nearly 30 feet beneath the sea. The latest observation indicated that the island is still sinking.

TIME—

Final Tribute Paid Harry Harding Steer

Funeral service of the late Harry Harding Steer of 385 Gordon St. was held on Wednesday, at the funeral home of A. Comstock and Sons. The service was conducted by Rev. E. C. Moore of St. George's Anglican Church, in the absence of Rev. W. J. Kibblewhite.

Pallbearers were Raymond James, William Williams, Edgar James, Leonard James, Orval James and Corporal W. J. Thompson of the US Army.

Mr. Steer was a retired farmer and a member of All Saints' Anglican Church.

Interment was in Little Lake Cemetery.

Dives Under Ice To Fix Mains Broken In Flood

WINNIPEG, April 14 (CP)—A young Selkirk, Man., diver has been working 22 feet under the ice of the Red River here, repairing sewer mains damaged in last spring's floods.

Here is his advice to anyone who may have ambitions for the job:

"Don't do it!"

Here are diver Harold Little's reasons: it's cold (35 degrees in the water); uncomfortable (his suit has a slight leak) and hazardous (there's a danger his air intake valves may freeze).

Mr. Little is a diver for the federal government. He has spent some time groping around the bed of the river, repairing breaks in mains.

Holes have been cut in the 10-inch ice surface to allow him to get down to his work.

Pump Air By Hand

Diving under the ice, in the manner of Sir Hubert Wilkins, famed Arctic submarine explorer, may seem dangerous. But the greatest hazard occurs when the diver is on the surface.

Below the surface, with the temperature of the surrounding water 35 degrees, the diver's air-supply comes freely. But on the surface the air valves on his helmet have to be heated to prevent them from freezing.

As a further precaution, air is pumped to Mr. Little by hand. Divers do not use electric air pumps because of the possibility of a power breakdown.

Being under water for two hours repairing the three 12-inch pipes on the river bed is no record for Mr. Little. He once stayed down five hours.

But then he is a chip off the old block. His father used to be a diver. He worked in and knew his way around Winnipeg's river beds pretty well. Mr. Little senior spent 20 years as a diver. Now his son has taken on the work.

The son termed the river bed "six feet of indescribable muck." Officials of the Greater Winnipeg Sanitary District say the repairs are necessary in part because of last year's great flood pressure on the pipes.

A relic of the floods has been found on the river bed—a tree 14 inches thick embedded in the pipes by the pressure of the flood waters.

Princess Elizabeth At Maundy Ceremony

LONDON, April 14 —(CP)—Princess Elizabeth today represented the King at the age-old Royal Maundy ceremony at Westminster Abbey.

She saw the Lord High Almoner, Bishop of Lichfield, distribute purses containing specially-minted Maunday silver pence to 23 old women and 21 old men of the parish.

Each received 54d. in pennies, twopence, threepence and fourpence coins. The amount of money was chosen in token of the King's age, 54. This year 54 men and 54 women were entitled to gifts but some were unable to attend. They will receive their gifts later.

Gardener Unearths Ancient Causeway

BRADFORD-ON-AVON, Eng., Apr. 14 (CP)—Archaeologists are digging persistently in this Wiltshire town for further traces of a stone-paved causeway believed to have been built during the Neolithic Age, 4,000 years ago.

First traces of the causeway, unearthed by a man digging in his garden, suggest that it is (or was) 38 feet wide—the work of craftsmen of a period before Stonehenge. Recent researches, however, have produced no further tangible evidence.

Guy Underhill, chairman of Bradford's preservation society, thinks the causeway may be linked with a prehistoric "sacred circle" 150 yards away, a unique burial ground on which prefabricated houses were erected four years ago.

Remains of the sacred circle were discovered in 1945 while German prisoners-of-war were digging foundations for the new houses. It is thought to have been the site of a temple built in 2,000 B.C. for worship of the sun goddess.

The formation of the ground first attracted our attention," Underhill said. "On closer examination we found a rampart and several ditches with a low ditch between them. Shafts were sunk and scraps of pottery brought to light which we identified with the period."

With a view to digging up further evidence of the sacred circle, Bradford archaeologists tried to persuade the council to delay its housing plan. The council, having spent £1,000 ($4,000) preparing the site, agreed to preserve the ground for archaeological research if the archaeologists could raise £500.

"We were able to collect only £150," Underhill said, "but we pleaded with the council to stay its hand for a few more weeks so that we could get the rest. The council decided that the housing plan has been delayed long enough—so 4,000 years of history was built over.

"Fortunately, however, tenants of the new prefabricated houses have been very co-operative and we're still digging for additional evidence of both the sacred circle and the causeway."

Two Hold-up Men Have Demonstration

HAMILTON, April 14 (CP)—Two hold-up men talked a used car salesman into a demonstration Wednesday night, took his car but missed the $2,400 the salesman had in his pockets. The car ran out of gas 10 blocks later.

The salesman, Sylvain Maelbrancke, said the men told him they were looking for cars to take to Western Canada to sell. Police are continuing their search for them.

Warns Russians Armies Outdated

LONDON, April 14 (AP) — A former Red army officer has warned the Russian people their armed forces and military equipment are "far behind" those of other countries.

The British Broadcasting Corporation disclosed today that Lt.-Col. Gregory Tokaev, speaking in its Russian service on April 7, said:

"We have been told that our armed forces and military equipment are better than those anywhere abroad. But this is an absolute lie. Here too, we are lagging far behind."

Tokaev fled from his post in the Soviet section of the Allied Control Council in Germany last year. He came to Britain in an RAF plane. After talks with British intelligence officials he wrote a series of articles for British and American newspapers which claimed to disclose the secrets of the Kremlin. He has been making a weekly broadcast in the BBC's Russian service since March 10.

Not Worth a Dime

LONDON, April 14 — (CP)—Education Minister George Tomlinson told boys in Lancashire that while it might not be true that every soldier carried a field marshal's baton in his haversack, any boy of ability might become prime minister.

"A little lad looked up at me with a wry smile," said Tomlinson, "and in a broad Lancasthire accent said: 'Ah'll sell my chance for a tanner (10 cents.'"

CALVERT 1622 Famous Families CROOKS 1794

In 1794 James Crooks arrived at Niagara from Scotland and engaged in mercantile life. He commanded a Company of Militia in the War of 1812. He served in the Legislative Council for twenty-five years. His son Adam, lawyer and Vice-Chancellor of Toronto University, was appointed Attorney-General in 1871. In 1872 he became Provincial Treasurer and was Minister of Education from 1876 until his retirement in 1883. Truly a distinguished Canadian family.

Great Families Create Great Nations

EARLY in the 17th Century, Calvert, head of the famous Calvert family, distinguished English statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, founded pioneer colonies in Newfoundland and Maryland.

Calvert's descendants took a deep personal interest in the welfare of their settlers by fostering religious tolerance and democratic freedom and by their encouragement and active participation in many educational and recreational pursuits which helped to unite these pioneer families into democratic communities.

The family is the corner-stone upon which great nations are built. Let each of us strive to promote within the great Canadian family the same concepts of freedom and tolerance pioneered by the Calvert family over three hundred years ago.

KILLS GIRL'S FATHER IN GUN BATTLE

West Believes Dimitrov Railroaded Out Of Bulgarian Premiership

Speculate Foreign Minister Kolarov Slated To Temporarily Succeed Friend; Denies Any Suggestion Of Retirement

SOFIA, April 16—(AP).—Foreign Minister Vassily Kolarov is a likely candidate to succeed the ailing and absent Premier Georgi Dimitrov, for the time being, at least. There has been no official statement concerning who would take over the helm while Dimitrov is away. The Government merely announced Thursday that Dimitrov is ill, and has gone to the Soviet Union on "home leave" for medical treatment.

An official statement of some kind is expected from the Foreign Office today.

Kolarov, a close friend of Dimitrov, is a Deputy Premier who recently has been given a front seat role in Bulgaria's international affairs. He has been associated with Dimitrov since they went through a revolution together in 1922.

He has seemed to fit well into his increased responsibilities during Dimitrov's illness, and is considered qualified by the government to run things until Dimitrov returns.

Informed circles here deride suggestions abroad that Dimitrov's trip to Russia means that he has retired as Premier or Secretary-General of the Bulgarian Communist Party.

Despite the fact that Bulgarian leaders deride Western suggestions that Dimitrov is on the skids, the West goes right on speculating.

There are three lines of thought in the West:

1—That Dimitrov already has given up control over Bulgaria. A spokesman in the United States State Department said he believes the recent Bulgarian purge in which Kostov was fired may be related to Dimtrov's "home leave."

2—That the Kremlin is annoyed because Dimitrov failed to prevent conditions which resulted in the purge, and has called him to Moscow to explain.

3—That he is genuinely ill, and has gone to Russia to die. He is known to suffer from a heart ailment and tuberculosis of the skin.

8-Foot Wave Hits Beach As Cliff Falls

TACOMA, Wash., April 16.—(AP)— huge section of a 300-foot cliff, apparently loosened by Wednesday's earthquake, plunged early today into Puget Sound, a few miles north of here. A resulting eight-foot wave hit the little community of Salmon Beach.

The wave ripped out a private dock and ramp, smashed a number of small boats and threw the community into panic. The water smacked against beach-side homes. But no injuries were reported.

The slide appeared to be about half a mile long.

Mrs. John Bourgaize, boathouse owner, who was awakened by the roar, said the falling cliff shoved out into the Sound about 600 feet. The slide drove water about 25 feet away from the beach vicinity. Then the wave slammed back in a matter of seconds.

There was no early estimate of the damage to homes.

Barring further slides, here appeared to be no further danger, but the panicky residents of the community remained along the beach or gathered in central spots. At first another earthquake was centred only about 30 miles way.

The United States coast guard sent a cutter to stand by in case of emergency.

Mrs. Carl Pfitzenmeyer, owner of a store at Salmon Beach, told the Associated Press she was awakened at 3.10 a.m. by a loud roaring noise, followed immediately by the heavy waves sweeping over the beach.

Relief Worker Freed By Czechs

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, April 16.—(AP). — Miss Vlasta Vraz, an American relief worker, was released from a Czechoslovak prison today. She had been held for a week.

She told a United States consul earlier this week, after being held incommunicado three days, that she thought she was being detained for an investigation of the political activities of others.

The United States Embassy had demanded her early release and asked to be informed of the "specific charges, if any," against Miss Vraz, of Berwyn, Ill., who headed the Prague office of American relief for Czechoslovakia.

Predict Clear Skies But Cool For Easter

TORONTO, April 16 (CP) — Spring skies over Ontario shook loose some of their last remaining snow early today in preparation for tomorrow's Easter parades of fashion plate finery.

Light, wet snow fell generally all across Southern Ontario as far east as Killaloe and Ottawa and as far north as North Bay. It was expected to end by noon today.

Clear skies, however, were predicted for Sunday although cool breezes are expected to bring out fur coats to cover the new spring dresses in Easter parades. Torontonians, nevertheless, will flock to the city's favorite Easter boardwalks—Sunnyside Beach at the west end and Kew Beach at the east.

Hunt Husband In Wife's Death

HUDSON BAY JUNCTION, Sask., April 16 (CP)—Officers aloft and afoot today were searching heavy bushland for stocky, dark Metro Machula, 42, wanted for questioning in connection with the death of his wife, whose bludgeoned body was found Thursday night.

Mrs. Machula, 35, was found on the floor of her one-roomed home about 20 miles east of here by a neighbor, J. Boruck. She apparently had been beaten to death with a broken rifle, found nearby.

RCMP from Regina, Saskatoon, Prince Albert and Hudson Bay Junction are participating in the search, aided by two dogs and a patrol aircraft.

Mrs. Machula had been married only two months. Her death alarmed residents of the "frontier" area on the northern rim of settlement in which Machula farms a quarter-section.

Discuss Margarine

TORONTO, April 16 — (CP).—Premier Kennedy of Ontario said today he will meet next Wednesday with farmers and leaders in Ontario's dairy industry to "talk over the whole question of margarine." The conference here will be attended by representatives of the province's 75,000 dairy farmers.

Wallace Beery Film Actor Dies Suddenly

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., April 16 (AP)—Wallace Beery, 60, beloved by movie-goers for his good-humored, hard-boiled roles, died Friday night of a heart ailment.

Beery, who had been in pictures for 36 years, was conscious up to the time of his unexpected death at his home. He had been under treatment for some time for a heart condition but appeared to be improving.

At his bedside were his divorced wife, Mrs. Rita Beery; a brother Will Beery; his adopted daughter, Carol Ann; and a nephew, Noah Beery, Jr.

The husky actor underwent hospital treatment last Nov. 19 after he said he suffered some heart strain last summer during a trip to his lodge at Jackson Hole, Wyo. At that time doctors said he would have to slow down.

Born in Kansas City, he joined a circus at the age of 16. In 1904 he became a singer with a musical show in New York with moderate success.

His long motion-picture career started in 1913.

Hard-boiled Roles

After a brief turn with Keystone comedies, he started playing roles as the hard-boiled, clumsy but kindly character which endeared him to millions of movie-goers.

He was voted one of the 10 best money-making film stars in 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935 and 1940.

Beery was one of the actors to survive the advent of sound. Among his sound pictures are "Chinatown Nights," "Tugboat Annie," "The Bad Man" and "Barnacle Bill."

He started in the Tugboat Annie series with the late Marie Dressler, the beloved Ontario-born star.

His boisterous screen roles were on sharp contrast to his real-life self, however. He was soft-spoken and unexcitable in private life.

Belgium To Occupy Only Part Of Germany

BRUSSELS, April 16— (AP)—Belgium will occupy only part of the German territory recently awarded her by the Western Allies, the Foreign Office said here Friday. But she will maintain her claim to all of it.

In Duesseldorf, a German official said he had been informed by Belgian Premier Paul-Henri Spaak that Belgium had renounced her claims except for a small German area needed to connect two Belgian villages by road.

The date set by the Allies for the take-over is April 23.

The German official, Dr. Karl Arnold, Minister-President (Governor) of North Rhine-Westphalia, said German residents of the border region will hold a mass "thank you" meeting Monday to express gratitude for the Belgian decision as they understand it.

Big Ice-Breaker Icebound With Food For Starving

OTTAWA, April 16.—(CP).—The ice-breaker Saurel, striving to land food at starvation centres on the Labrador coast, is icebound.

Master of the ship, Capt. Louis Chouinard, dispatched a message at 6.30 a.m. EST, to the Transport Department saying the steel-prowed breaker is packed tight off St. Charles Island, about five miles from the mainland.

The Saurel attempted to buck the ice, almost an impossible task at this time of year, after a hurried plea to Transport Miniter Chevrier from Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland.

The skipper said the breaker would have to sit tight until the ice weakens. There was no other course. The ice was packing tight up to the shore and it was impossible to dispatch either the ice-breakers N. B. McLean or the Lapointe to her aid. They were on duty off the coast of Nova Scotia and in the St. Lawrence River.

St. Charles Island is about five miles off the Labrador mainland at the northern entrance of the Strait of Belle-Isle.

About $25,000 worth of supplies were loaded at St. John's and the breaker weighed anchor last Tuesday in an attempt to relieve food-short areas on the South Labrador coast.

Youth Pleads Forgiveness For One Hour

Holds Off Police Despite Tear Gas, Trying To Win Girl

MERRICK, N.Y., April 16—(AP)—Dewitt Coombs, 22, killed his former girl friend's father early today, then held off police for an hour with a shotgun while pleading for her forgiveness in a bedroom full of tear gas.

Coombs, of Wantagh, N.Y., barricaded himself in the house after slaying Francis S. Fay, 58, in a gun battle on a cellar stairway, police said.

More than a score of police from this Long Island residential town and from nearby communities surrounded the darkened house, but were unable to close in because of the intermittent shotgun blasts.

Police said the youth shouted at them:

"I'll kill the first man that comes near this house."

Tear-gas grenades failed to dislodge him. Finally a policeman crept near the window and shouted assurances that neither he nor the girl would be harmed, if he gave himself up.

Coombs then tossed out his weapon and surrendered.

Police Account

Police gave this account

Coombs and Fay's eldest daughter, Veeda, about 22, had been close friends until about a month ago when the father and Coombs had an argument. Fay ordered the youth not to see his daughter again.

About 2 a.m. today, Coombs broke into a cellar window of the Fay home. Hearing the noise, Fay investigated, taking a pistol with him.

A gun battle ensued on the cellar stairway. Fay was felled.

Coombs made his way upstairs, broke into a bathroom in which Veeda and her younger sister, Betty, had locked themselves. The girls' mother tried to come to their aid and was slightly hurt in the scuffle. The younger girl also was hurt, but her injuries were called minor.

Coombs forced Veeda into a bedroom and pleaded for a reconciliation. Once the police siege started, he darkened the lights, but remained pleading with the girl.

Teacher's Poise Averts Tragedy

UNIONVILLE, April 16—The poise and self control acquired in years of teaching school made a collision with a train nothing to get excited about as far as a retired Hamilton school teacher was concerned.

Thursday a line of motorists waiting for a train to clear a No. 7 Highway level crossing, gasped when they saw an auto head straight for the puffing locomotive. The watchers shuddered, many looked away to avoid seeing what appeared to be certain tragedy.

But the motorist, known only as a Miss Edwards, realized at the last moment what was about to happen, and swung her car in the same direction as the train was travelling. The engineer, whose comment, if printable, was not available, brought the engine to a sudden stop, but not before the front end of the auto collided with the locomotive under the cab.

Calmest person at the scene was the teacher. She assisted a woman companion from the car and immediately canvassed the long line of waiting drivers for a lift to Welcome, where she planned a visit before going to her summer home at Clear Lake, near Peterborough. She got the ride and rode off after making arrangements for repairs to her damaged machine.

3 Czechs Flee

HEIDELBERG, Germany, April 16—Reuters)—Three Czechs, fleeing from their homeland, arrived by plane last Tuesday in the United States zone of Germany, American authorities disclosed Friday night. The plane was piloted by Karl Rader, a wartime flier for the RAF. With him were his wife and a friend.

"VANITY, THY NAME IS WOMAN," is an old saying and even at the tender age of eight months, Sharon Currie found a problem on her hands when it came to choosing the better of two new Easter bonnets in her mother's bedroom. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Currie, 81 London St.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Ontario Guides To Be Trained At Ranger School

OTTAWA, April 16—(CP)—A whole new host of plans to improve fishing and hunting in Ontario were disclosed Thursday by Harold Scott, provincial minister of lands and forests.

For one thing Ontario guides will receive boat and woodcraft training at the Dorset Ranger School in the Muskoka district to place them among the finest guides in the world, Mr. Scott said.

He spoke before 1,400 Ottawa sportsmen at an Ottawa fish and game association rally.

A new plan will be adopted, he said, whereby game overseers will be moved from one part of Ontario to another to give them broader knowledge of fish and game conditions in the province as a whole.

A new law is being contemplated to make the use of aircraft illegal for actual hunting, but planes may be used legally for travelling to and from fish and game camps.

Trapping areas will be set up and trappers licensed. To protect grounds against poaching, 40 planes will be made available during the summer months and 10 planes will be equipped with skis to be used during the winter.

Commercial hunters will be penalized more heavily. For killing deer and elk illegally, fines will range from $50 to $200; for bull moose from $100 to $200 and for female moose and caribou from $200 to $500.

Hatcheries will be increased. Altogether there will be 26 hatcheries in production this year.

Communists Demand Peaceful Crossing

NANKING, April 16 — (AP)—Chinese Government sources confirmed to-day that the Communists are demanding a "peaceful crossing" of the Yangtze River where south-bank bridgeheads are sought, as a guarantee that the Nationalists will carry out Communist peace terms.

Bridgeheads could be quickly expanded for an offensive into South China should the Nationalists balk at any stage on the eight conditions for peace laid down by Communist Leader Mao Tse-tung.

There was no indication whether the new demands came in the form of an ultimatum and none of the governments reaction to the demands.

Daylight Saving April 24 Alberta Throws It Out

By The Canadian Press

Daylight Saving Time—"bugbear" to the rural folk, "blessing" to the city dweller—starts next week-end in most of Canada. People in one province, Alberta, won't have it. They legislated it out of existence in 1948. People in another province, British Columbia, must have it. It's a legal "must" for everyone.

Elsewhere in Canada, in most towns and cities and a few villages which have fallen into city ways, people will turn their clocks ahead an hour and leave them that way until Sept. 25.

A few cities will keep Daylight Time even longer. To save electricity Toronto will keep it until Nov. 25, and Cornwall, Ont., until Nov. 26. Montreal and Quebec, being different, are scheduled to return to standard time earlier, on Sept. 15. But even they may extend it past that date, since contractors say it provides longer working hours outdoors.

The pattern across the country excepting Alberta and British Columbia, is one of local option. Farmers oppose it as much as ever; their stock argument is that their cows stay on standard time. So rural areas generally won't change to the fast time.

A bill to make standard time mandatory throughout was withdrawn in the Manitoba Legislature after strong opposition from Winnipeg which developed into a city-country ruckus. Local option keeps Brandon on standard time but St. Boniface will have daylight time.

To add somewhat to the confusion, train schedules across Canada will stay on standard time while most bus services change to daylight saving. Officials of Trans Canada Airlines said they will continue to quote schedules in standard time, but run extra flights in some places to accommodate businessmen and others.

Cooperation Assured

LONDON, April 16 (AP) — Foreign Secretary Bevin said Friday Britain has confidence in the future of European co-operation and pledged her continued efforts to assure success.

It was the first anniversary of the signing at Paris of a convention to assure the most effective use of American aid and to speed recovery.

The foreign office issued a statement of Bevin saying there has been encouraging achievement in a year of hard work.

Off Rationing List

PARIS, April 16—(AP)—Butter, cheese and milk went off ration today. "For the first time in nine years a housewife could walk up to the counter and buy dairy products. Only sugar and coffee remain on the food-ration list.

Eire Becomes Ireland Again De Valera Boycotts Revelry

DUBLIN, April 16 (CP)—Eire becomes Ireland again Monday.

There will be great fireworks and celebration, but for most Irishmen the dream is not yet fully realized.

The independence for which the Irish have fought the English for 780 years will be proclaimed in the 26 counties—but the six counties of Northern Ireland will remain in the United Kingdom. Bitterness over this partition still rankles in the Irish heart.

On Easter Monday 33 years ago the Irish struck their historic blow for freedom. An heroic schoolteacher, Patrick Pearse, climbed atop the Dublin postoffice and hoisted the green, white and gold flag of Ireland. The Irish rebels then flung this challenge to the might of Britain:

"We hereby proclaim the Irish Republic as a sovereign independent state. Ireland, supported by her exiled children in America and by gallant allies in Europe, but relying in the first on her own strength, strikes in full confidence of victory."

The rebellion was quickly ended. Most of the leaders were condemned to death. The flag lay in a pile of rubble.

But the events of that Monday morning paved the way to eventual independence.

The last tie with Britain was cut in February when the Dail repealed the External Relations Act which gave the Crown the right to accredit Irish diplomats.

Boycott of the celebrations by Eamon de Valera's Fianna Fail Party put a damper on preparations. De Valera's party considers Eire has been a republic for internal purposes since 1937.

Lindsay Man Finds Baby Dead In Bush

Body Of Small Child Wrapped In Sacks Near Whitby Highway

BROUGHAM, April 16—The body of a new born infant, wrapped in some old sacks and part of a blanket, was discovered in a clump of bushes near No. 7 Highway half a mile east of here Thursday night.

The remains were badly decomposed. After lengthy examination, Dr. H. G. Pritzker, pathologist at Mount Sinai Hospital, Toronto, and Oshawa General Hospital, determined that the child was a girl, and was about a week old.

Police believe the body may have been lying there over a month before it was found by George Paudash, 28, of Lindsay. Paudash, who was visiting friends in Brougham, was walking at the side of the highway when he saw the blanket in the bushes, some 25 yards from the south edge of the road.

He climbed the fence and went to the spot, where he found the body of the girl covered by its blanket and wrapped in several pieces of sacking. A motorist drove him to Whitby, 15 miles southeast, where he reported his discovery to Sgt. Ronald Love of Whitby police. Sgt. Love turned the investigation over to the provincial police.

Inspector W. H. Clarke stated Thursday that a full autopsy would be performed in Toronto and the remains examined microscopically. Dr. Pritzker, who made a preliminary examination in a Pickering undertaking parlor said he found no marks of violence, but due to the advanced state of decomposition final results of the autopsy were known.

Teachers Fired, Picket Churches

BOSTON, April 16 (AP)—Six Boston Roman Catholic churches were picketed yesterday in protest against the discharge of three instructors at Boston College, who accused the educational institution of heresy. A high school teacher also was dismissed.

The pickets, who were not identified definitely, carried placards which read: "No salvation outside the church."

The three instructors said they were discharged because they accused the college of heresy in teaching that the souls of persons outside the Roman Catholic Church could be saved without belonging to the church.

The instructors, all lay teachers, said that they had advised the general Jesuit Order that Boston College had taught:

(1) That there may be salvation outside the Roman Catholic Church; (2) That a man may be saved without admitting the Roman Catholic Church to be supreme among all churches; (3) That a man may be saved without submission to the Pope.

Europe's Easter Best Since '39

LONDON, April 16 — (AP).—Western Europe spruced up today for the happiest Easter since pre-war days.

In many countries of the Continent, working people took a long holiday to rejoice again for the resurrection of Christ 19 centuries ago.

A new-blooming prosperity stemming from their own labor and from the European recovery program gave West Europeans the means for their gayest Easter in many years.

Britons were ready to revive their Easter parade of spring finery. The government freed them from clothes rationing March 15. Some of the men planned to strut in pastel-hued hats, as bright as the women's, while showing off their best clothes.

The French had more for holiday meals. France ended butter rationing and lowered milk and cheese prices to day.

Russian Ships Seized By Germans

3 Vessels Invade British Zone Held By Police

BERLIN, April 16 — (AP). — Three Russian sector passenger steamers, which ventured into Western sector waters for the first time since the Russian blockade of Berlin, were detained Friday by Western-sector German water police.

British authorities announced police were holding the Russian-sector lake steamers Venus, Kirchow, and Komet, which were carrying passengers across Havel Lake into the British sector.

The British officials said the lake craft were not licensed to ply in British-sector waters. The three are owned by the Star Line of Potsdam

They said the boats were charging East marks in competition with British-sector craft, which must charge West marks.

The East mark is banned as legal tender in West Berlin. The exchange rate is about four East marks for one West mark.

Russian sector postal authorities Friday cut the last link between Berlin's long-distance telephone exchange in the United States sector and surrounding Soviet-held territory, the German news agency Dena reported.

88 Lines Disconnected

All other 88 lines to the Soviet zone had been disconnected during the last two days, and an emergency short-wave telephone system was kept ready in case the 51 lines from West Berlin through the Soviet zone to Western Germany should also be affected.

Obituary

MRS. HENRY C. GARBUTT

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Addie Cosford Garbutt, 93, of Toronto, was held last Tuesday from a Toronto funeral home at 2 p.m. The Rev. Mr. Lautenslager of Howard Park United Church officiated and pallbearers were Dr. Percival, Lorne H. and Dr. Howard Garbutt, Douglas Cosford, William and Peter Turner. Burial was at Aurora Cemetery.

Mrs. Garbutt died in a Toronto hospital following a short illness. She was born in Aurora, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cosford. She had lived in Toronto for the past 19 years and previous to that in Peterborough. Her husband, the Rev. Henry C. Garbutt, formerly of the Bay of Quinte Conference, predeceased her 25 years ago. Two sons, Dr. Herbert R. and Earle Cosford Garbutt, died overseas during the First World War.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Ford Turner (Lillian) of Peterborough, and two sons in Toronto, Dr. C. T. Percival Garbutt and Lorne H. Garbutt. A third son, Dr. Howard G. Garbutt, lives in New Rochelle, N.Y. There is one sister, Mrs. T. H. Marshall of Toronto, and four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

During her husband's lifetime, she was organist and singer in several of his churches and latterly in Toronto was a member of Howard Park United Church.

Noted Dietitian Violet M. Ryley Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, April 16.—Miss Violet M. Ryley, outstanding Canadian dietitian who assisted with diets for Canadian troops in both World Wars, died Wednesday at Toronto Western Hospital after a heart attack. She was 65.

She had served until February as supervisor of the T. Eaton Co. restauranis, and as consultant to educational, governmental and industrial organizations in the development of food service programs. She was responsible for the post graduate course for student dietitians started by Eaton's in 1942.

Miss Ryley graduated from the Lillian Massey Treble School in 1907, then went to New York City Hospital as a student. Later, she joined the staff of Albany General Hospital, returning to Canada in 1910 to organize the University of Toronto Dining Hall, which later became Hart House. In 1917 she became general organizing dietitian for the Military Hospital Commission, which later became the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment.

Her next post was organizer and director of food services at Bigwin Inn. Later, she became affiliated with the food services of the YWCA, an interest she maintained until her death. During the Second World War she aided in establishment of the Messing Branch of the RCAF.

Miss Ryley joined the T. Eaton Co. in 1923 and planned the Georgian Room. She retired on Feb. 7, 1949, after 26 years with the firm.

Funeral was held in Toronto today with burial in St. Mary's Cemetery, Bethany.

House Burned At Alderville

ROSENEATH, April 16. — (ENS).—Fire of an unknown origin destroyed the two-storey frame dwelling on Friday owned by Mrs. Moses Smoke, Sr., an aged resident of Alderville. The fire was first noticed at 7.00 a.m. by members of the family. Some of the furniture was saved.

Other occupants of the house at the time: Mrs. Smoke's son, Mr. Roy Smoke and two grandchildren, Kenneth and Maxine Gray. There was no insurance.

Just what would your wife live on if you were no longer here to earn the money?

Percy Council Aids Hospital

WARKWORTH, April 16 (ENS) —At the last monthly session of the Percy Municipal Council with Arthur U. Wartman, reeve, in the chair, it was voted that the council give a donation of $50 to Campbellford hospital to help defray expenses.

The council decided to issue a proclamation in favor of adopting daylight saving time this year.

It was decided to accept the return of the tax collector's roll and issued a cheque for the balance of salary of $92.50.

It was agreed to advertise for tenders for the supply on an hourly basis of one or two tractor 75 hp or over, equipped with angle dozer and self loading scraper for use on certain construction work on township roads, lowest or any tender not necessarily to be accepted.

The council agreed to renew the road liability insurance with Lloyds of London at a premium of $151.19.

CAR FIRE PUT OUT

A short circuit from the battery was believed responsible for the smoke that began to pour from the engine of the car of C. Davidson at Park and Lansdowne Sts. on Thursday evening. The trouble was rectified without an extinguisher being used.

Havelock Barn Destroyed By Grass Fire

HAVELOCK, April 6.—(ENS). —A grass fire destroyed a barn, Thursday afternoon, on the property of Bert Jewell about 100 feet away from the garage gas station he operates on No. 7 Highway. The paint on the sign boards at the garage were blistered by the terrific heat.

Mr. Jewell and Allan Stillman were burning the grass near the barn. Everything seemed to be well in hand when Mr. Jewell left for his office, telling Mr. Stillman to keep watch for a time. He just reached his office when Mr. Stillman shouted to come quickly, the roof of the barn had caught fire. It burned rapidly, Mr. Jewell said, and they had just time to save a truck.

The fire was spreading so fast when the town's volunteer fire brigade under Fire Chief Bell arrived, they concentrated their efforts in successfully keeping it from spreading to the garage and other property in the vicinity. The barn was a total loss.

The barn fire was the third in 24 hours for the fire brigade, as a few hours earlier they went to the home of Mrs. C. Cartwright for a chimney fire, and on Wednesday to a pile of snow fences near White's garage at the east end of the town.

Highway Traffic Heavy On Holiday

COBOURG, April 16.—(ENS). —Traffic started in earnest on Thursday night and in spite of the wet weather continued fairly heavy on Good Friday. The lines of cars on Thusday night resembled a week-end holiday traffic of the summer. No accidents were reported. The driving conditons were good on Thursday, but early Friday thunder storms ushered in a thoroughly wet day, accompanied by cold winds. In contrast to the spring-like weather of the previous few days, yesterday was like a cold day in the fall.

The chilly temperature did not deter the smelt fishermen, however. The smelts had dropped off in some sections on Tuesday and Wednesday but on Thursday night they were back in large numbers and almost everyone reported good catches.

Obituary

MICHAEL McMANUS

Michael McManus, 74, of 479 Rogers St., died on Thursday in hospital following a short illness. He was born in Douro township grandparents by the Crown, son on the same farm granted to his of Anthony McManus and Julia Connors. He spent a lifetime there and moved to the city a year ago. A daughter, Miss Zita McManus, predeceased him in 1932.

He leaves his wife, the former Margaret Herr, and a daughter, Miss Rose Marie. One sister, Mrs. Mary Almy, lives in Buffalo, and there are two nieces, three nephews, two grand nieces and a grand nephew, Master Michael Kennedy.

Mr. McManus was a member of St. Joseph's church, Douro, all his life and joined the congregation of the Immaculate Conception when he came to live in Peterborough. He was a charter member of the Holy Name Society of the Douro church.

Funeral will be from the family residence on Monday to the Immaculate Conception Church wnere Requiem Mass will be said at 9 a.m. Burial will be at St. Joseph's cemetery, Douro.

HOLIDAY UNMARRED

No highway or other types of accidents were reported to the Peterborough District headquarters of the Ontario Provincial Police over the Good Friday holiday, the Examiner was told today, it having been a quiet day in all detachments of the force. Quite possibly, the inclement weather may have been a limiting factor in this respect, as it is unusual for a holiday to pass without an accident of some kind.

Protest Naming Envoy To The Vatican

A protest against the possible appointment of a Canadian envoy to the Vatican will be sent to the Canadian Government and leaders of all political parties, the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East decided on Thursday.

A second resolution urged the Federal Government to underwrite a program of more general housing aid for low-income families.

The first resolution read in part: That this Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East inform the Government of Canada and leaders of all major political parties that it views with growing apprehension reports that the appointment of a Canadian envoy to the Vatican is under serious consideration by the Federal Government."

"This Grand Lodge feels itself compelled to make its voice heard on an issue which is likely to occasions very serious dissension and disunity in our beloved land."

"We are opposed to such a move on the following grounds: (1) It would recognize the Roman Catholic Church as a state; (2) It would constitute political discrimination in favor of the Roman Catholic Church; (3) We do not recognize the Roman Catholic Church as the chief protagonist of liberty and the most effective bulwark against Communism; (4) The presence of a Canadian representative at the Vatican would not make available more information than now is being received through existing channels; (5) We do not accept the argument that Canada should be represented at the Vatican because Great Britain and the United States of America already have such representation; (6) We believe that such an appointment would cause serious dissension and disunity in Canada."

Housing Resolution

The resolution on housing aid read in part: "That the Grand Lodge at its 90th annual session urges the Government of Canada to underwrite a program of more general housing aid for low-income families; that provinces and municipalities be urged to cooperate more closely with the Federal Government in a common effort toward the building of the maximum number of low cost housing units; that the capacity of the low-income group's ability to pay (as renters and renter-purchasers) be based on current outlay, or not more than 20 per cent of annual wages, and a capital indebtedness of not more than double that of the annual wages; that other costs be met by Federal subsidies and that proven methods of the Federal housing plan for veterans be followed in low-cost housing for low-income families."

Rev. Dr. J. Semple To Speak In Oshawa

Rev. Dr. James Semple, minister of George Street United Church, will be the special speaker at the annual Easter service of St. John the Almoner Preceptory, Knights Templar, No. 15, to be held in the Masonic Temple, Oshawa, on Easter Sunday at 3 p.m. Rev. Dr. Semple will speak in his capacity as Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, AF and AM. Members of Moore Preceptory No. 13 will be accompanying Dr. Semple.

The service will be conducted by Em. Kt. T. Hopkins, presiding Preceptor. Organist will be David Jenkins and there will be musical numbers by the Masonic Quartette of Oshawa. After the service a reception will be held in the auditorium of the Masonic Temple.

She launched the organization on a financial shoestring and has furthered it with the help of associates and friends.

Police Report Quiet Holiday

Police report that the Good Friday holiday was one of the quietest in years. There were no motor accidents and only one minor misdemeanor to spoil an otherwise perfect record.

The large steel door of the jail has not admitted any offender since it swung closed behind the last occupant on Thursday morning.

Late on Thursday night police investigated a window-breaking incident at the residence of William McWilliams, 203 Westcott St. Four shots from an air rifle had been pumped through the window.

Beverage rooms were closed on Friday and this eliminated the usual quota of drunks picked up from this source.

A local resident reported on Friday night that two men were taking parts from a car parked at the rear of Lillico Motors on Water St., but a subsequent investigation showed that the car belonged to one of the men.

WELCOME RAIN

Firemen gave a sigh of relief when the rain storm struck on Friday, for it put a temporary end to the rash of grass fires which broke out during the recent warm spell. There were three on Thursday; one on the lot owned by Dominion Woollens and Worsteds, Bonaccord St. and Monaghan Rd., another west of the Canal between Hunter and McFarlane Sts., and a third on a lot at the residence of C. Doolittle, Monaghan Rd. A rubbish fire was reported at the rear of 692 Stewart St., the residence of A. Roberts.

Not Member Of Embassy

OTTAWA, April 16 (CP) — A Peruvian embassy official made an emphatic declaration Friday that Joseph Carlos Pas Soldan is not a member of the embassy. Dr. Jose Alvarado-Sanchez, third secretary was commenting on a Havana, Cuba, report that Soldan, charged with introducing narcotics into Cuba, was described as a 27-year-old cultural attache to the Peruvian Embassy in Ottawa.

Frost Damage To Roads Very Slight

County roads are in better shape this year than they have been in several years, J. D. Kean, County Engineer and Road Supervisor, believes.

A comparatively mild winter, and a gradual rather than an abrupt change in the weather, have combined to let the frost out of the ground in easy stages. This has tended to reduce to a minimum the usual number of cracks, upheavals and soft spots in the roads.

Part of the Buckhorn road had to be fenced off to prevent motor traffic from using it for a couple of weeks at the end of March. Affected was that section constructed during the winter months.

Frozen earth had been used and when the warm weather arrived it began to thaw all at once, thus making the road surface soft. Sections built during the summer and fall were satisfactory, according to Mr. Kean.

Causeway Entry Gap

The quarter-mile stretch of road serving the dump trucks carrying rock fill from David Gifford's quarry in Ennismore to the Chemong Causeway has turned soft, and is out of use.

This has left the gap between the causeway and the shore at 195 feet. The contractors hope that the road will be firm enough to bear the weight of the trucks by Monday so that work can be completed.

It is estimated that already 300,000 tons of rock have been dumped. The original estimate for the completed job was 220,000 cubic yards (a cubic yard weighing approximately a ton and a half).

Mr. Kean believes that the recent rains did more than anything to extract the frost from the ground in a gentle manner.

EASTER is more to every grate ful heart than the thrill of wearing beautiful new clothes. Mo re gladness that the long winter is over and Spring has come a gain. More than looking forward to the full blooming of a ha ppy Summer. It is the renewal of hope in every heart that life can be good, a renewal of faith in the future, an acknowledgment of t he joyous reassurance in those immortal words: "Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." — "The glorious words th at have rolled down the centuries bringing solace and relief to the b urdened, are needed today in a confused and anxious world. To Him who said them, let us pay the tribute of our presence in His House. He is Risen! Come to Church on Easter!

SATURDAY, APRIL 16, 1949

The Prayer Book, 1549-1949

On Easter Monday, 1547, Compline (the last service of the day) was first sung in English in the Royal Chapel. This was in the early weeks of the boy-king Edward VI's reign. Eighteen months later "Poule's quire with diuvers other parishes in London song all the seruice in English both mattens and euensonge".

* * *

These were the years when the Reformation was having its first full fruits in England, and when gentle, scholarly Thomas Cranmer, Archbishop of Canterbury, friend of Henry VIII, guide to the little boy who became king after him, and Protestant martyr in the reign of Mary, was shaping the destiny of the Church of England. Already the Bible in English was being tolerated, and read outside churches. Although the Authorized version did not appear until 1611, long after Cranmer had been burnt at the stake, the variously incomplete versions of Wycliffe and Tyndale had left their impress. Coverdale had completed an entire translation twelve years earlier (1535). In 1548 a new Prayer Book, to be done in English rather than Latin, was ordered, so that there might be "an uniform order of prayer" in the Holy Catholic (but not Roman) Church of England. Thus came into being, and gloriously into the English language, the Book of Common Prayer, ordained for use officially when on Whitsunday, June 9th, 1549, the change from the Latin service to the vernacular was ordered to be effected. The quadricentennial is being celebrated this year.

* * *

The Prayer Book, it should perhaps be explained, contains the Order of Service, the prayers that shall be used, the administration of the sacraments and other rites of the Church of England, together with the Psalms of David. The Collects therein are short prayers appointed to be read on particular days. Cranmer's Prayer Book of 1549 is not the one now in use. As any reader knows from a perusal of the Preface, the present Prayer Book dates from the Restoration of Charles II, from 1661. But its cadences were set in 1549, and its form and language are from the first Prayer Book, which was itself a translation and reinterpretation of the Latin in the Missal of the Roman Church.

* * *

What a magnificent achievement the Prayer Book is, in liturgy, doubly in language! It is second only to Shakespeare in the development and fullness of beauty of the English tongue, and, as a comparison of the psalms in the Prayer Book with the psalms in the Authorized version of the Bible shows, an earlier and not less beautiful and impressive document of the spirit.

* * *

How much the Prayer Book owes to Cranmer for its vernacular beauty and aptness is now known. Half a dozen bishops and scholars worked on it under the direction of Cranmer. To him is due the rhythm, the cadences, the profound equanimity of sentences, which have entered the heritage of English literature.

* * *

What genius is revealed in this work, a genius no less great because it was concerned with translation. Only nineteen of the 82 collects were composed; the others were translations of Latin Collects. In the golden age of prose translation the Prayer Book stands supreme. As Hilaire Belloc has written in his Thomas Cranmer it

> "provided a substitute for the noble Latin on which the soul of Europe had been formed for more than a thousand years, and gave to the Church of England a treasure, by the aesthetic effect of which more than anything else, her spirit has remained alive, and she has attached herself to the hearts of men".

* * *

Constant repetition and usage can dull the ear and mind to even the noblest language, and affection can smother its beauty. We need perhaps to hear and think afresh the General Confession the Administration, and the Nunc Dimittis with their doublets—"we have erred and strayed", "acknowledge and confess", "author of peace and lover of concord", "pardoneth and absolveth"—to realize their full sublimity. It has been said that such cognates were used so that if the people did not understand the latinized word (like "assemble"), they would understand the Anglo-Saxon, vernacular term (like "meet together"). To say this belittles the genius of the translators. They are put in with great attention to the rhythm of the sentences, and to give pause to the thought. Many of the doublets — like "pardoneth and absolveth" are classical in both their cognates. How wonderfully this genius is revealed in the Collect for peace, whose rhythm is entirely different from the original, and different even in spirit:

O God, from whom all holy desires, all good counsels, and all just works do proceed: Give unto thy servants that peace which the world cannot give; that both our hearts may be set to obey thy commandments, and also that by thee we being defended from the fear of our enemies may pass our time in rest and quietness; through the merits of Jesus Christ our Saviour. Amen.

* * *

The language of the Book of Common Prayer, slightly and deliberately archaic even in the translators' time to give the colloquial English a hieratic overtone, has coloured the writings of our greatest English authors through four hundred years, and ennobled the speech of men of all creeds and walks of life wherever the English tongue is used. The Prayer Book has given English men and women a language in which to approach God, a language in which exaltation and supplication are gloriously at one.

Fashion Sanctions Pump

The heading is not our own invention. It is culled from a fashion account we read while munching a crumpet at teatime yesterday. "Fashion Sanctions Pump For Easter Parade" was what hit our eye, and we absently had a vision of a grandmama in black dress and black stockings parading to the woodshed pump for water for the chickens on Easter morning. But the story was about shoes:

> It's a pretty safe bet that in the Easter parade, fashion-conscious women will be wearing the classic pump or sandal, open or closed in calf or suede, and that a good many will have chosen navy or perhaps one of the other blues—parisian, admiral or marine, according to Canadian shoe manufacturers. But there will be lively browns, cherry red and zinnia, emerald green and grey, too, and of course black. In high style dress shoes, black is still the predominating factor.

We read that far and our accustomed despondency which comes every time we read a fashion report blacked-out our vision. We read no farther. No fashion report ever says anything. They all start brightly, and say that such-and-such is in the mode and fashion favours it alone. But even before the end of the first paragraph the hedging and hawing begins. The experts never take a firm stand. People will be Easter parading in a pump—or sandal; open—or closed, vivid blue—or green or red or of course black. Is it because women never know what they want, or because they know too well and the fashion experts are afraid to contradict them?

Easter fashion parades; the new hats in church; the curious throngs of Fifth Avenue—wherefore these at the time of a great religious festival? What has Christianity to do with pumps? The reason may be that Easter is a joyous festival, and people naturally delight in expressing their joy in gay colours and new clothes. We suspect, however, that the reason is older and deeper. Eastertime was celebrated by pagans long before Christianity was heard of. It was a festival of spring. The Easter Parade may therefore be modernity's vestige of the pagan rites.

A Great Week

Mr. Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Minister, said of last week: "It has been a great week in the history of the world". It was a great one for the western nations, and thus of some importance—if only by reflex action—to the eastern European ones. On Monday the North Atlantic Treaty was signed. In mid-week the American Administration announced its intention of implementing its new international obligation as a signatory of the Atlantic Treaty by supplying arms to the European nations allied with it, and to continue to supply E.R.P. dollars for Europe's economic recovery. At the end of the week Britain, the U.S.A. and France reached a firm and united decision on the future of western Germany after months of disagreement. Their occupation zones will be integrated, control will lessen, and a new nation of West Germany will be formed and manage most of its own affairs.

A great week, yes. And, by the way, the U.N. Assembly reconvened.

Diary Of A Premature Gardener

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: "Don't you think Mr. X looks very distinguished?" a lady asked me today. As a matter of fact I think that X looks as though he had a clinker stuck in his grates, so I gave her an indirect reply. I never know what people mean by "distinguished" when they apply it to a man's appearance. Often the person so described looks as though he smelt a bad drain, or had a nail in his shoe, or had been to the barber and got hair down his neck; the alliance between distinction and an appearance of suffering appears to be unbreakable. Nobody who looks as though he enjoyed life is ever called distinguished, though he is a man in a million. For some reason the world has decided that an expression suggestive of pain and disgust is a mark of superior mental power, for the world assumes, quite wrongly, that to be happy is a simple thing, within the reach of any idiot.

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: Met a man who was at a performance of the comic opera "Tom Jones" a week or so ago and who had seen me there. He was still in a great state of excitement because at one point in that opera the heroine's aunt cals her a slut. He was convinced that this was a very dirty word which should not have been uttered before a mixed audience. I tried to calm him by showing him a dictionary, but I do not think I succeeded. People fuss about the oddest words and expressions. I see that President Truman was in hot water a few days ago because he called a newspaper man an "s.o.b." Why, I wonder, do these letters and the phrase they stand for arouse such horror in the North American mind? In France you can call a man an s.o.b. as much as you please, and he will only smile and say "Oh, la la!" But if you call him a camel he will want to fight you. And as Ernest Hemingway has taught us, the way to enrage a Spaniard is to reflect upon the quality of his grandmother's milk. It seems strange that on a continent where Man's Dumb Chum is so highly regarded the expression s.o.b. should be deemed pejorative.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: Read in the paper today about an English peer of 94 whose hobby is memorizing poetry; Sir William Mulock did the same in his old age. It is a harmless and even laudable pursuit, and gets a man a reputation for wisdom, for the world likes nothing better than to hear a man support an opinion of his own with a bit of apt verse. Indeed my Uncle Hamish for years entertained the highest regard for a man whose chief merit in his eyes was that he "could quote Burns by the yard". Of course if you memorize poetry in that wholesale fashion Burns is your man, for his habit of hypnotic repetition makes it easy. Consider such a verse as this:

The deil's awa' wi' the exciseman,
The exciseman, the exciseman;
The deil's awa', the deil's awa'
The deil's awa' wi' the exciseman.

Or this:

A man's a man for a' that
An a' that, an a' that;
A man's a man's a man's a man
A man's a man for a' that.

I learned those verses years ago and have retained them perfectly. It is easy to see why.

✧ ✧ ✧

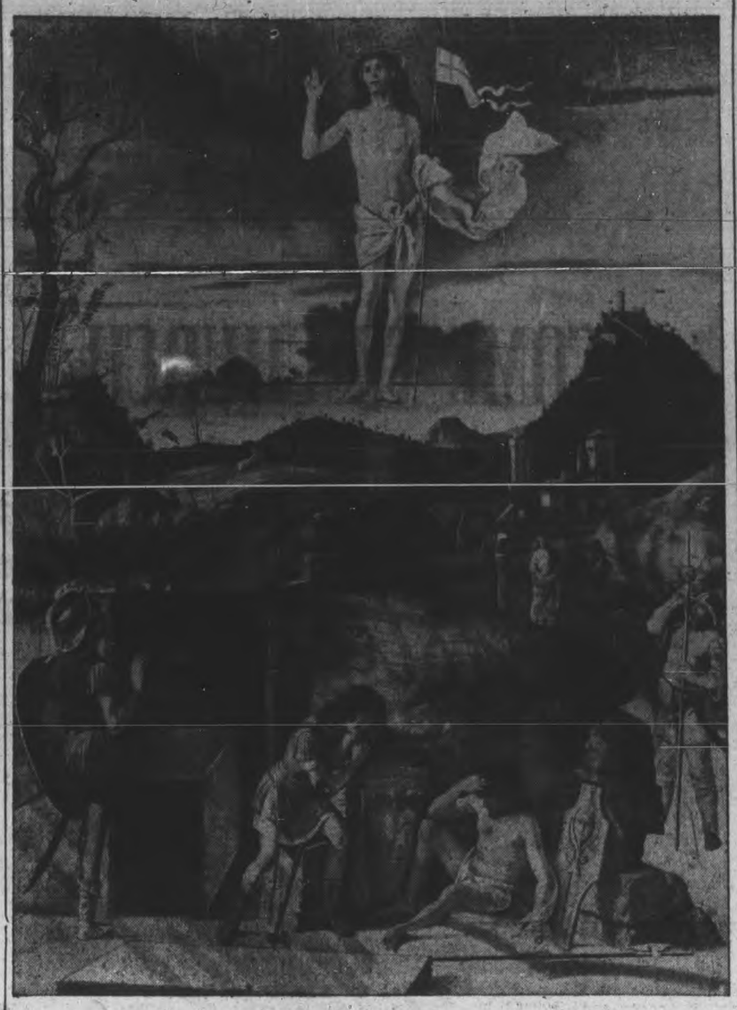
WEDNESDAY: Was thinking about the Faust legend today, and began to wonder what I would ask for if I had sold my soul to the devil, on condition that the devil grant my wishes on earth. Faust was a painfully unimaginative fellow; he asked for youth—I would prefer a hearty middle age. He asked for a fortune; I would prefer a purse which at all times contained an exact $1,000 in five dollar bills. He asked for that tiresome simpleton Gretchen, and what a sanctimonious mess she turned out to be! And in Marlowe's play Faust asked for Helen of Troy, a notorious trouble-maker. In fact, as a philosopher, Faust appears to have been in the dunce class; money, women and the torments of youth—what a choice! I cannot think what the devil wanted with the soul of such a numb-skull. With his opportunities I think that I should devote myself to politics, and for recreation I would demand the power to transform myself into a beautiful woman, and in that guise I would torment the reverend clergy. And after a few years I would command the devil to explode himself forever. How would he meet that situation, I wonder?

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: At a small gathering this evening and noticed that I was the only man present who was wearing a waistcoast. Should I follow the fashion and throw mine away? What would I do with my watch, my battery of writing implements, my lucky coins, and my keys and my pillbox? I am not for abandoning the waistcoat, but for glorifying it. I like fancy vests, with brass or pearl buttons; if I could get one I would wear a waistcoat like John Bull, made of a Union Jack. A fig for fashion! Marchbanks will cherish his waistcoast while life lasts.

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: To see an exhibition of modern Canadian paintings this afternoon, and liked them very much. But there were a few people present who appeared to consider the pictures an insult to themselves—a kind of aesthetic hot-foot. They muttered and mumbled, but none of them seemed able to explain just what it was that bothered them. My own guess is that the pictures disturbed their ideas about nature, and made them reconsider certain notions which they have cherished, but not examined, for years. Music and pictures are able to churn the soul without using the medium of words, and as most people are quite at sea when they have to transform feelings into words they were affronted and gagged at the same time . . . Most people, too, appear to think of Nature as a dear old lady with steel spectacles and a bonnet, mouthing platitudes. To have Nature presented to them as a wanton, decked in the gayest colours and obviously not wearing a foundation garment, hit them smack in the Moral Sense, which is to a Canadian as its shell is to a tortoise.



✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: Worked like a demon in my garden this afternoon, raking, burning, digging, uprooting and whatnot with frenzied industry. Yet even as I toiled my heart was heavy, for I know by now that I am what psychiatrists call a Premature or Abortive Gardener; each year I am driven out-of-doors in April by a compulsion similar to that which makes the salmon seek the sea, and for two or three weeks I am the slave of the garden. But it is not to last; by the middle of May my rash, fierce blaze of energy has spent itself, and the garden settles down into a state of neglect which frequently makes people think that Marchbanks Towers has not been inhabited for years.

He tickled the Earth with a hoe
And she laughed in a smiling harvest.

So runs the poem. But I tickle the Earth too early, and for six months afterward she sues me for breach of promise.

Time and the vicissitudes of war have taken their toll of one of the most famous paintings of the resurrection of Christ—the one by Giovanni Bellini, reproduced above. This work by the 16th Century Venetian is familiar to thousands who saw it as part of the exhibit of art masterpieces recovered in Germany after the war. Part of the national German collection, it was in the Kaiser Friedrich Museum in Berlin, which was destroyed. But when the bombing of Berlin began, Hitler had had the museum's paintings removed and hidden in the Kaiseroda salt mine at Merkers in Thuringia. They were found there by General Patton's Third Army in April, 1945, and were taken to the U.S. for safekeeping. The "Resurrection" and other paintings were stored in the National Gallery, Washington, until last spring, when they went on exhibition and a tour of the country. But before the schedule was completed it was decided that the Resurrection, painted on a wood panel, was getting so fragile that it had better go back to Germany. It is now in Wiesbaden. The painting shows, in the foreground, the empty sepulchre, and the terror-stricken Roman guards. Above is the figure of the risen Christ, while in the background, right are the three Marys—the Virgin, the Magdalen and the mother of James.

Three Versions of Resurrection

(FROM THREE GREAT TRANSLATIONS OF THE BIBLE)

Wycliffe Version (1382-1395)

BUT MARIE STOOD at the graue with outforth wepynge. And the while she wepte, she bowide hir, and bihelde forth in to the grauve. And she sai twei aungels sittinge in white, oon at the heed and oon at the feet, where the bodi of Jhesu was leid. And thei seien to hir, Womman, what wepist thou? She seide to hem, For thei han taken awei my lord, and Y woot not, where thei han leid him. Whanne she hadde seid these thingis, she turnede backward, and sai Jhesu stondinge, and wiste not that it was Jhesu. Jhesus seith to hir, Womman, what wepist thou? whom sekist thou? She gessynge that he was a gardynere, seith to him, Sire, if thou hast takun him vp, seie to me, where thou hast leid him, and Y schal take hym awei. Jhesus seith to hir, Marie. She turnede and seith to hym, Rabony, that is to seie, Maister.

Tyndale Version (1526)

MARY STODE WITH OUT at the sepulcre wepynge. And as she wept, she bowed her selfe into the sepulcre, and sawe two angels in whyte sittyng, the one at the heed and the other at the fete, where they had layde the body of Iesus. And hey sayde vnto her: woman why wepest thou? She sayde vnto them: For they have taken awaye my lorde, and I wote not where they have ladye him. When she had thus sayde, she turned her selfe backe and sawe Iesus stondynge, and knewe not that it was Iesus. Iesus sayde vnto her: woman why wepest thou? Whom sekest thou? She supposynge that he had bene the gardener, sayde vnto him. Syr yf thou have borne him hence tell me where thou hast layde him, that I maye fet him. Iesus sayde vnto her: Mary. She turned her selfe, and sayde vnto him: Rabboni, which is to saye master.

King James (Authorized) Version (1611)

BUT MARY STOOD WITHOUT at the sepulchre, weeping: & as shee wept, she stouped downe and looked into the Sepulchre, And seeth two Angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feete, where the body of Jesus had layen: And they say vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? Shee saith vnto them, Because they haue taken away my Lord, and I know not were they haue laied him. And when she had thus said, she turned herselfe backe, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus. Jesus saith vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She supposing him to be the gardiner, saith vnto him, Sir, if thou haue borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laied him, and I will take him away. Jesus saith vnto her, Mary. She turned herselfe, and saith vnto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Master. (St. John XX, 11-16.)

When A Dog Becomes Middle-Aged

WALL STREET JOURNAL

WHEN we got back to the farm after the long trip the setter was undoubtedly glad to see us. Yet there seemed reservations about the greeting, a note of resentment that without warning or explanaion he had been left without companionship.

The next morning he seemed back in form, but only momentarily. When he was admitted to the house, he began to race from one room to another, jumping into and over chairs and sofas and sending rugs flying this way and that. This demonstration was ended when the lady of our house—he pays attention to us only when she is not about—offered to scratch his ear. Never before had we known him to be quieted for such a small price.

Further observation reassures us that his affections have not cooled nor have they in any way been alienated.

We note that no longer is this dog constantly on the go. He knows various sunny spots protected from the wind and there he will lie between forays into the woods and about the pastures. This irks his offspring just past puppyhood. She wants to be up and doing. We note also that the dog no longer considers our appearance in the yard as the signal for a game which consists in his running in wide circles and attempting to hurtle himself into our midriff.

The answer is that the setter is in the early stages of canine middle age. We counted back the years that he has been with us and he is at the stage which a man reaches in his early forties. It's fun to hunt but it's nice to lie in the sun between times. And as for these humans, they will just have to understand the affection that can be expressed with a few flaps of the tail.

Well, there are compensations. Possibly he will not cause us concern by being gone all night, as he occasionally has, on business the nature of which he never revealed. If we nap on the couch, he will be content to nap on the floor beside us instead of waking us up by sticking a cold nose in our ear. And perhaps he has finally learned to give skunks a very wide berth.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. He shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation. (Ps. 24: 3-5.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the son likewise. . . . For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them: even so the Son quickeneth whom he will. . . .

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life.

Letter To The Editor

A CORRECTION

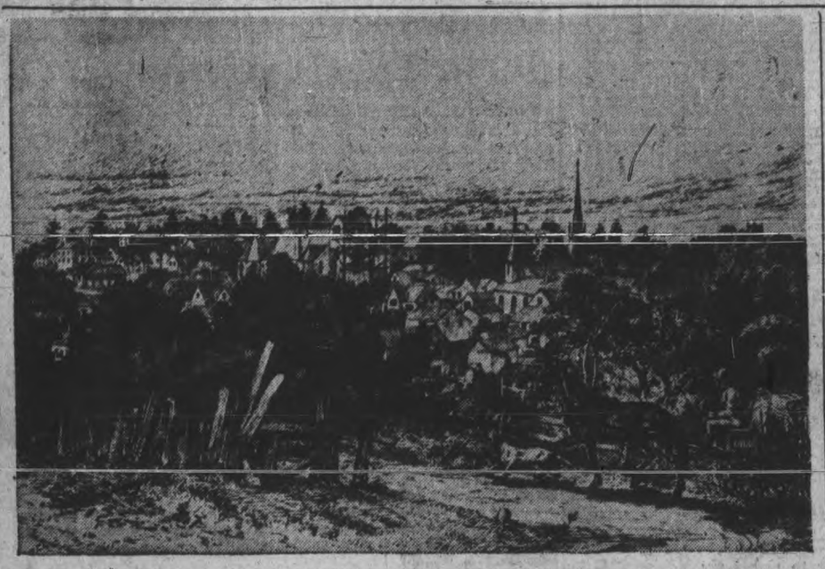
Sir: In Tuesday's Examiner appeared an account of my talk to the Kinsmen at Campbellford. The reporter made a faithful synopsis of the address with two notable exceptions. The report should have read, "There was no divine revelation before Christ excepting that made to the Chosen People." Also a later sentence should have read, "The Incarnation changed everything; God the Son became man and the gods of fear became the one God of love."

It is realized that reporters have to meet a dead line and can not as authors do spend months in polishing a single sentence, moreover a slip of the pen is no fault of the mind. In the interest of truth, however, the above corrections should be made.

Sincerely yours,
J. C. MOLONEY.

An Eyesore to Be Removed.

Mr. Gordon K. Fraser, Progressive Conservative member for Peterborough West is one of several members of the Commons who are fully imbued with the spirit of the National Capital. Very active in his own city and district, the Peterborough member devotes no small part of his time to Ottawa. He drives around the capital, observes its good points and defects, looks about him when entering and leaving Ottawa by train, reports his findings on the floor of the House. On more than one occasion in recent years, his complaints have been followed by remedial action on the part of the government.



Last Thursday, Mr. Fraser drew the attention of Transport Minister Chevrier to the tremendous pile of mud along the shores of the Rideau Canal between Daw's Lake and Hartwell Locks. In the very centre of the vista from the Arboretum Look-out, this vast mud pile almost within the city limits has offended the eyes of Ottawa residents and visitors alike for almost two years. When its existence was deplored in these columns some months ago, a correspondent wrote in to say that the only workers on the job were two or three men who appeared to be sufficiently advanced in years to qualify for old age pensions. From departmental sources it was learned that the project could be done more cheaply over a long period than by intensive work.

Mr. Chevrier promised that he would bring the question of this ugly mass of mud to the attention of his officers. Surely he can do more about it than that. With Government voting more than $7,000,000 for extension of Gatineau Park and $2,200,000 for expropriation of lands along the Ottawa and Rideau rivers, there is little excuse for delay in eliminating an eyesore which strikes at two of Ottawa's choicest scenic attractions—the Experimental Farm Arboretum and the Rideau Canal.—Ottawa Journal.

SELF-EXPLANATORY

"Mummy, why do some people object to having children in their house?" asked little Elsie.

"I don't know," her mother answered sharply, "and I can't be bothered with such things now. Go and see what baby's crying about, tell Billy to stop aiming that catapult at the ornaments on the mantelpiece, make Betty and Alec stop sliding down the banisters, and tell Willie if he doesn't stop blowing that trumpet I'll take it away from him."

PETERBOROUGH IN 1875—When we published this engraving recently on this Feature Page, readers' identifications of the district and buildings were solicited. There is a variety of opinion about the spot from which the artist, W. F. G. Canning made his sketch, but Mr. E. F. Reid of the Utilities Commission, locates it almost certainly as the Edinburgh Hill just above Aylmer street. He remembers the old fence shown in the lower left of the sketch which was still standing when he was a boy. It and the horse and cart are at the corner of Aylmer and Edinburgh. Readers agree that the tower on the right is St. John's church, the higher spire St. Paul's, the squat spire the one of the old George Street Methodist church on the N W corner of George and McDonnel, across from the present church, which as our picture shows (with scaffolding still around it) was being built then. This, incidentally dates the sketch as being made in the summer of 1875, for the church was opened in December, and the engraving was published first in "Canadian Illustrated News," November 6th, 1875.

Dame Browne's Daughter Shops In 1679

When the daughter of the country home goes away to the big city in search of husband, happiness or a job, the mother worries for a time. Soon, however, the daughter finds her feet in the new big world and the mother worries no longer. The next stage in the relationship is when the mother leans on the city daughter for this or that. "Will you try to find me a cup to match the blue flowered saucer?" "Are there any nice blouses in the shops? Please send me one."

Dame Browne's daughter left Norwich and went to live in London, and by 1679 the second stage in the mother-daughter relationship had been reached. There have come down to us several letters written by Dame Dorothy Browne in Norfolk to her daughter in London. They show that spelling and words have changed more than human domestic relations. Peterborough school-pupils must be warned not to copy Dame Browne's spelling. She wrote at a time when spelling and syntax were becoming fixed in London and Oxford, but in the outlying regions, people still spelt pretty much as they spoke, or as they guessed words should be spelt. Here are two of her letters, and a postscript. The letters are interesting because of the homely nature of the subject. Scholars find them interesting because they give a clue to the way people pronounced English in rural counties in England nearly three centuries ago. Mrs. Browne certainly said "Wadinsday" "peticot" "troble" and "dutty" the way she spelt the words.

No man can justly censure or condemn another, because indeed no man truly knows another... Further, no man can judge another, because no man knows himself.

—Sir Thomas Browne: Religio Medici.

How charming to read, 270 years later, that Tommy did get his breeches and was delighted by them! What Peterborough mother writing today to her daughter about such matters will, by the accident of circumstance, have her letters preserved until the year 2219? What delight will readers have in that year from her letters—which will appear to those readers three centuries hence as quaint as Dame Browne"s appear to us!

Sad Tale of G. Gittenip

(OUR SEMI-ANNUAL SHORT SHORT STORY)

By FELICITY BARRENER

When Germerilla Gittenip left the happy kitchen-stove comfort of her farm-home in the north of the county and came to Peterborough to get a job during the War, she was only seventeen and three-quarters. She had never been kissed, except at a Christmas pageant.

She had the bloom of youth and freshness of fresh air on her rosy cheeks. She was not a pretty girl but she was wholesome. She did not know how to dress prettily but her clothes were clean. Her dear Mother had seen to that. She arrived in what seemed to her the big, gay and exciting city in the spring, with all her clothing, except what she wore, in a little canvas bag. She was not a great reader, but she had a Bible in her bag. Her dear Mother had given it to her as a parting gift.

Alone and friendless in the new city, she trudged the pavements looking for a cheap room, for all the money she had in the world was $5.18. She finally got a room in a garret for $2.75 a week. Next day she got a job. It wasn't an important job, but it paid her $10 a week.

"Now", she said to herself out loud, as she stood on the top of Armour Hill looking down on the city she had come to conquer, "I can save money and send some to my dear Mother and my crippled old Father". She began to work the next day (the day after the day after she had come to Peterborough).

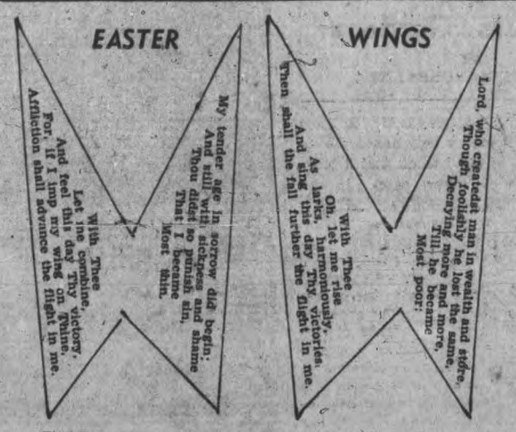
She worked well, but the other girls made fun of her because she did not wear city clothes or lip stick. They said, "No man will ever look at you"

But one man did. He was a worthless fellow, but Germerilla Gittenip did not know that. All She knew was that he, this Buck, had looked at her when she was buying her poor supper of a sandwich and a glass of milk at a hamburger joint. All she knew was, that after a week in the lonely city, this man—he wasn't quite young, but he wasn't old—had spoken the first kind word to her. He had said "Hey". She blushed, swallowed her milk, and left.

But such, dear reader is the yearning of the human spirit for fellowship that poor Germerilla. Oh, how little did she know about the wicked ways of the world), returned to the same hamburger joint for her poor sandwich and her glass of milk the very next evening! Buck was there again. He said "Hey, Toots".

She blushed, but said, "My name is Germerilla". He said, "Well, mine is Clarence, but all my friends call me Buck. You call me Buck". So the poor innocent girl, very much flattered by this wicked (though not bad-looking) rascal, said "All right, Buck".

This began the sorry downfall of G. Gittenip, aged seventeen and three-quarters, innocent as a babe unborn. She did not know that Buck was smootching and smirking to his friends, "See that ugly gal? Watch my steam!" Alas, the steam was too hot for innocent Germerilla. In three week's time she was meeting him at street corners. In six week's time she was meeting him by the trees along the canal. It was then June.



Have charity on the dear, innocent, creature, kind readers. Pity her Fall. After she Fell, this scoundrel Buck tired of her and would meet her no more. She pined for him The other girls at work wondered why Germerilla was so downcast "Gimmy", they asked her, "What's the matter?". But the formerly innocent girl would not open her heart. She could not.

The Scarlet Letter was in it.

In September's rosy golden days a farmer who was too poor to own a car or even a horse, was trudging towards the city from the west, and came up over Green Hill. He heard a faint moaning in the bushes. He stopped to look, "Hc, what have we here?", he though to himself. He went over to a clump of bushes. There, sobbing her heart out was the girl known as Germerilla, but not known to him, aged then eighteen and a few weeks.

"Come lass, what ails thee?", the good farmer said to the hysterical girl. She sobbed. He tried to comfort her. She sobbed. "I am disgraced. I cannot go back to work. My dear Mother and my crippled Father would not take me home if they saw me. They Emblematic or shaped poems like the above, whose lines are carefully composed—even tortured—so that in print they will have the appearance of an object, were particularly popular in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. Good poets as well as dabblers and hacks tried their hands at them. Theological figures were highly regarded as if somehow the symbolic shape would endue the religious poem with a special sanctity. Usually the poem may be a success as a wine-glass, a cross, a violin, a sword or an altar—and versifiers have tried all these—but not as a poem. The above is one of the best of the figurate poems, better as poetry than as the angel's wings it is shaped to represent. It is from the pen of the great and good English poet George Herbert (1593-1633).

By ALAN BROWN

(Alan Brown, the writer of this poem, is the son of W. W. Brown, whose farm is in Cavan, north of Millbrook. Alan Brown attended P.C.V.S. where he was considered a brilliant student. After the war he attended the University of Toronto, from which he was graduated last year. He is at present in the Dominican Republic in Central America, but is expected to return to Canada and his home this month. His verse has appeared in Canadian Forum and Canadian Poetry Magazine.)

All April night clear water runs
Listen by the bearded pond
Lie in the wet grass, hear hyla-whistles
And frogs' wooden bubble-blowing
Run loose-loined in the spring night
Leap as the pale shoots leap in garden corners and freed borders' tremble
with sudden shuddering pangs of growth in silence tremble
with straining purple tulip-points Priapus-moulded, fervent in ritual ecstasy of the mystery of seeds, quivering under choking surfeit of new life vibrant in every inch of air,
New life
Caught up rejoicing by the winter-sodden heart
On subtle aerials of spring.

When Does Easter Come?

Easter is the only important holiday in the Christian calendar that has no fixed date. Its timing is determined by the moon. For many centuries there was controversy about the day and dates it should be celebrated, since the New Testament or the writings of the early apostolic Fathers give no indication of its observance. The sanctity of special times was an idea absent from the minds of the first Christians, who continued to observe the Jewish festivals, though in a new spirit. Thus the Passover continued to be celebrated, and became the Christian Easter.

The name "Easter" comes from "Eostra", the Anglo-Saxon goddess of spring, to whom the month which we call April was dedicated and named "Fostur-monath" This month, says Bede, was the same as the "mensis paschalis," "when the old festival was observed with the gladness of a new solemnity." In France, Spain and other Latin countries the old Hebrew name for the Passover is retained, Easter being called in French "Paques" and in Spanish "Pasqua."

The dispute whether it should be celebrated on a Thursday, Friday, Saturday or a Sunday, and at what time, was settled by the Council of Nicea, A.D. 325, although the ancient British and Celtic churches continued at variance with Rome until the eighth century.

Easter is fixed to fall on the first Sunday after the first full moon following the vernal equinox (March 21st). Therefore Easter can vary from year to year by no less than 35 days, between March 22nd and April 25th.

PETERBOROUGH PERSONALITIES

Bird-Sleuthing Is Fun And Cheap Cheep

By A. J. THOMAS

The other day there came into my hands a "News-letter" about the Peterborough Nature Club. It told of the Club's activities and plans, and gave some information such as this: "The Christmas bird census was taken as usual this year and results forwarded to Ottawa for publication in the Canadian Field Naturalist'."

It mentioned that the president of the club had secured a set of six double-sided bird song records made by Dr. Allan of Cornell. "For the past three summers I have been tantalized by a small bird singing high up among the leaves of some large maples near the C.G.E. Only once was I able to catch a glimpse of the bird itself. I felt fairly sure that it was a Warbling Vireo but it wasn't until I heard the song of that bird on those records that I was able to be sure". The news-letter was signed by J. L. McKeever, this year's president of the Peterborough Nature Club.

What do members of a Nature Club do? Why should a person be interested in a Warbling Vireo? I decided to find out what Mr. Larry McKeever had to say about these things. I knew that he, a senior engineer in the CGE, is no fly-by-night, up-in-the-air-sort of man, there must be more to bird-watching than birds-of-passage which happen to meet a casual eye. And there is, Mr. McKeever assured me, as we talked for a couple of hours about ornithology, the Ontario Federation of Naturalists (with which the Peterborough club is affiliated), the need for a public parkland in this county, Swiss mountains and Chilean paintings (on the living-room walls of his residence on Homewood Avenue.)

Mr. McKeever has a philosophy about it. He believes that the study of natural history is complementary to the appreciation of religion. "You can't be truly religious if you ignore everything in the physical world except mankind...How can you have a full appreciation of the world in which you live unless you take note of the things around you?... The more you study your natural surroundings, the more you feel you are a part of them". He spoke of the feeling of identification, of one-ness between man, the natural world and the things of the spirit, which nature study inculcates.

I asked him how and why he happened to be interested in bird-watching and other nature studies. He went to High School in the Okanagan Valley, to which his parents had gone from Scotland. His father was an amateur naturalist, a Fellow of the Royal Miscroscopical Society. His interests had been communicated to the son.

As a school boy, Larry McKeever had gone out on parties with his father and other students of natural lore in the town of Penticton, which then had but five hundred people. Nevertheless, there were enough to form a thriving Natural History Club There was a geologist, an entomologist (insect- fancier), an ornithologist (bird-man), and one who specialized in algae. "Algae", I said, "What's that?". He raised his eyebrows behind his tinted glasses, and replied. "Well, most people call it pond-scum". I allied myself with hoi polloi and agreed to call it pond-scum. Algae (plural of alga) sounds a bit recherche. We had no disagreement, because Mr. McKeever is not a pond-scummer himself.

He waved his glass of ginger ale. (It was gingerale, his doctor allows him nothing stronger.) "All that in a town of 500, and here in Peterborough with 35,000 people, there is practically no one who is an authority on any one of these subjects," he commented regretfully. By the way, Mr. McKeever is the last one to call himself an expert in nature studies, even in ornithology, which is his special hobby.

The Peterborough Nature Club has fifty to seventy-five paid up members. The fee is very low. Even with that membership much could be accomplished, it seems, except for two reasons. One is that members are busy and few can turn out regularly for week-end expeditions. The other is that a majority of the members are, unlike Mr. McKeever, older people. He paid tribute to the enthusiasm and work of Frank Morris, for many years the mainstay of the Club and an eminent naturalist; to Dr. Madill, H. H. Graham, V. R. Henry, Alan Brown, the apiarist, and some others, but "the Club has not attracted as many young people as it should have done."

Nessum maggior dolore che ricordarsi del tempo felice nella miseria. (There is no greater torment than happiness remembered in suffering).
—Dante: Divina Comedia.

One of the purposes of the News-Letter which came to my hand is to stimulate interest and gather to the membership young people eager to go out on Saturday and Sunday expeditions. I can well believe that such stories would be engrossing and delightful, judging from the record F. J. A. Morris gives in his book "Our Wild Orchids," and the interest and gleam in the eye of such men as Mr. McKeever when he talks of his favorite hobby. The secretary this year is, by the way, Mr. Lewis Bird, whom interested people can reach by writing or phoning him at Central School.

J. L. McKEEVER, PROMINENT ENGINEER, is an enthusiastic bird-watcher. He is president of the Peterborough Nature Club and a keen exponent of the need for conserving our wild life and creating park-land reserves. In this Easter week when Spring is returning and birds are with us again—and the week which happens to be National Wildlife Week—A. J. Thomas interviews Mr. McKeever about his outdoor hobby.

When Mr. McKeever left the Okanagan to continue his studies at the University of B. C., his engineering books and no doubt collegiate activities put an end to his nature study jaunts, but not to his interest: it lay dormant. Marriage, a family and increased industrial responsibilities after he came east to Peterborough (he discovered with surprise when I asked him to make the count, that he has been 19 years in Peterborough) held his hobby in abeyance. The war came. He was a key man in the local plant, and in addition, his health did not permit him to shoulder arms. The need for some form of relaxation and escape from the pressure of war work turned him again to nature study. He joined the Peterborough Nature Club and began to track down birds.

He told his wife that he was going to take up a very inexpensive hobby. All one needed was a pair of eyes. The birds were there. So he started to look for our birds.

"How many kinds have you spotted?" I asked him.

He said apologetically. "Well, I am pretty busy, I cannot get out very often on week-end surveys. But I myself have recorded about 200 different species and varieties in this district."

This astounded me. Two hundred birds, I thought, and all I know are sparrows, robins, starlings, and crows. I decided there and then that I had better begin to open my eyes. When I expressed my surprise, he said that there were in southern Ontario "325 possibles."

When Mr. McKeever began observing birds here during the war years, he had no guidance, but just went out and "learned the hard way." He used bird books, and has consulted the large collection of bird skins in the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto, a valuable collection.

He and the Club do not pretend to do any exact scientific work, but their notes on their observations seem to be appreciated by people who are trying to make a scientific survey of bird life in Ontario. He keeps a notebook of what he sees, and occasionally strikes something of value. For instance, his notes on the feeding habits of the Evening Grossbeak have been passed on to a lady in Pickering, who is writing a monograph on that bird. Then there are the surveys.

The midsummer survey in Peterborough is handicapped by the lack of observers. The Toronto Museum is making a series of ornithological maps of Ontario, but unfortunately "the area around Peterborough is a blank on all their maps." He spoke regretfully of this, and said that other places the size of Peterborough and much smaller were doing far more. From what he said, the field in Peterborough seems almost wide open, which is confounding, considering the excellent natural territory in this district and the population here.

The Christmas census (at last I have got around to it, as finally I did in my conversation with Mr. Keever) is an attempt to get an idea of the wanderings and vagaries of various winter species of birds. No absolute count is made; there could not be one, partly because the census-takers are so few. "It is merely an indication of what is present and in what number."

As I prepared to leave his home Mr. McKeever harked back with a smile to the cheapness of the hobby, as he has explained it to his wife. "I found when I took it up again that I needed a bird book. Then I thought I should have a pair of field glasses, so bought a four-power type which is comparatively cheap. Then I thought I should subscribe to a few magazines. Then more bird books—some of them expensive—came into the house. Then I found that there were small warblers high up in the trees, whose identification would be easier with higher-powered glasses. So I acquired binoculars with 8-power prismatics—rather expensive. The cheap hobby was becoming expensive! Now when I mention my bird hobby to my wife she retorts: "Cheep, cheep, cheep!"

There is little doubt that Mr. McKeever finds it grand fun, and, as he says, it can be as cheap a hobby as you want to make it.

Legionnaires Defeat Sarnia In Third Straight Game To Take Senior 'B' OHA Title

By CEC PERDUE
Examiner Sports Editor

SARNIA, April 16.—Beating the Sarnia Sailors 6-3 here Friday night, the Peterborough Legionnaires took the OHA Senior "B" championship on three straight games. A crowd of 3,300 saw the fighting Legion crew spot Sarnia a 3-0 lead early in the first frame and then came on to win handily in a fine fray.

The score was 3-2 for Sarnia to end the first period, and tied it 3-all going into the third. Play was rugged but not unduly rough, with the champions drawing seven of the 14 penalties in a well-handled game. It was speedy and exciting throughout and the Sailors fought right to the finish.

While the Legion's first line again supplied most of the punch offensively, all the victors turned in a stellar effort. Ross Nicholls was brilliant in goal every period and his defence shone all the way. The three lines hustled every minute. They didn't bog down when the Sailors swept to that early 3-0 lead but fought right back to forge ahead. They looked considerably better through the third chukker and the big crowd quietened down as they took over the lead.

A number of Peterborough fans whooped it up and with the players went into a victory dance on the ice after the final gong sounded.

Early in the first period Crowley was gated for high-sticking and the Sailors promptly cashed in on it with Kowcinak counting in close on a pass from Dodds. Bob Greenlaw almost tallied on a breakaway and then Fraser went off for interference, followed by Mortimer for hooking. The latter was still in the sinbin when Kowcinak made it 2-0 at the 7.47 mark on Garvin's pass. Two minutes later, Sarnia made it 3-0 as they dominated play, O'Bright sinking the puck in a close-in scramble with Kirkland and Dodds drawing assists. Garvin was robbed and with Fraser chased for elbowing, Hill got Legion's first goal on a hot shot from a passout by Stewart, who circled the net fast. With all back, Crowley netted a neat one as he tipped in Rochetta's forward pass at close range. Haddon went over for tripping as the fast frame finished.

Legion Pressed Hard

Crowley was hurt early in the second stanza but returned in a few minutes. Legion pressed most of this speedy and fairly clean period, testing Rutter often. Godfrey went over the wall for interference and a drive by Rochetta and Crowley paid off. Later, Haddon was chased for charging but Coombs followed right away for slashing. Stewart made Rutter jump and Nicholls thefted Garvin. Bob Greenlaw had one but the whistle beat him. All were back when Godfrey hit the hemp with a flip shot in close on a return pass from Rochetta to tie the score. Parnell later hit the post as Legion kept the pressure on and Butler pulled a good try just before the gong ended another fast frame.

Play was hot and even to open the third canto and the Sailors soon began boring in to keep Nicholls jumping. Stewart was waved off for holding but Legion held off the battling homesters till he returned. At 7:15 Bill Crowley scored the winner with a snap shot inside on a neat corner passout from Bob Greenlaw. Burns was gated for holding and Ross was outstanding in his absence. Stewart had a good try and, with Kowcinak away for holding, Rochetta clinched it as he went right in after a corner faceoff and a pass from Bob Greenlaw to dent the cord. Butler was chased for high-sticking and Dodds followed for slashing, but Godfrey got the finger then for holding. A goal by R. Greenlaw didn't count owing to a whistle. In the last second of play, Toodie Greenlaw scored a nice one from Bob Parnell to end the game 6-3 and bring the title to the local Legionnaires.

The teams:

Legion—Goal, Nicholls; defence, Vitarelli and Godfrey; centre, Rochetta; wings, R. Greenlaw and Crowley; alternates, Parnell, T. Greenlaw, Fryia, Hill, Stewart, Coombs, Mortimer and Burns.

Sarnia—Goal, Rutter; defence, Dodds and Haddon; centre, Kowcinak; wings, Cousins and Garvin; alternates, Allen, Kirkland, Butler, Fraser, Maugham, Beauchamp, Needham and O'Bright.

Referees—H. Jenkins, Watford; C. Vanhorne, London.

Summary:

First Period:

Sarnia — Kowcinak (Dodds) 1.14.

Sarnia — Kowcinak (Garvin) 7.47.

Sarnia — O'Bright (Kirkland Dodds) 9.47.

Legion—Hill (Stewart) 13.55.

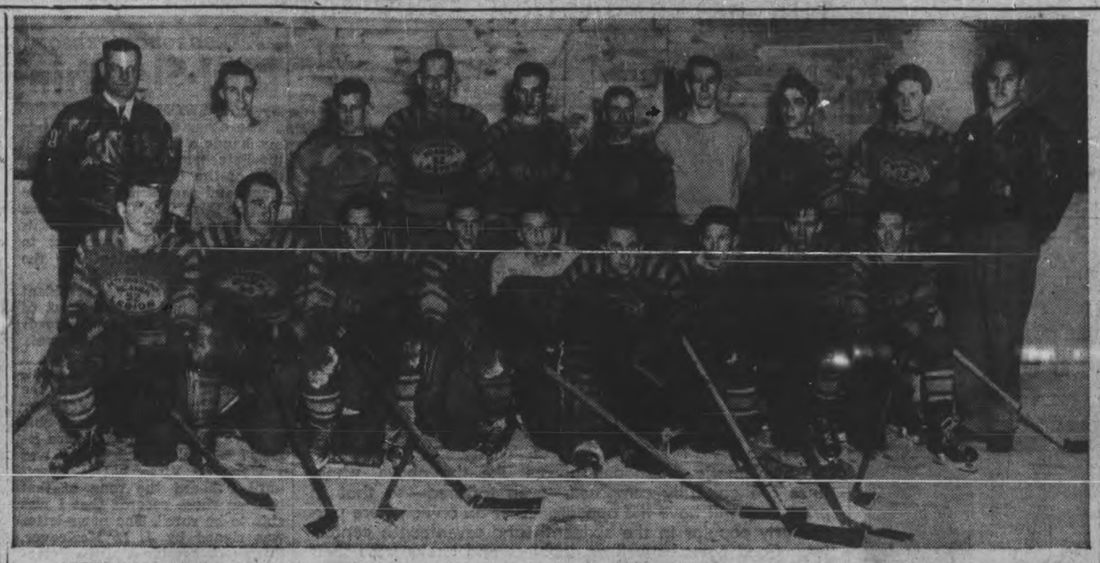
Legion — Crowley (Rochetta) 16.49.

Penalties—Crowley, Fraser (2), Mortimer, Haddon.

Second Period:

Legion — Godfrey (Rochetta) 16.00.

Penalties — Godfrey, Haddon, Coombs.



Third Period:

Legion—Crowley (R. Greenlaw) 7.19.

Legion—Rochetta (R. Greenlaw) 14.21.

Legion—T. Greenlaw (Parnell) 19.59.

Penalties — Stewart, Burns, Kowcinak, Butler, Burns, Godfrey.

Marlboros Down Senators 5-0 In Opening Game

TORONTO, April 16—(CP)—Unless a change proves as good as a rest for Ottawa Senators, Toronto Marlboros can start counting right now on an Allan Cup date with the Western Canada senior hockey champions.

The Senators looked as if they needed both change and rest as they bowed 5-0 to Marlboros last night, in the opening game of the eastern final. For one period the Quebec champions made it a game, then Marlies slapped in two goals in the second period and three in the third.

Injury-riddled and travel-weary the Quebec champions from the capital showed enough flashes of form however to indicate they may be a different team in the second game of the best-of-seven series at Ottawa Monday night.

Goalie Howey Harvie, the 21-year-old Montreal boy in the Toronto nets, had to make some sparkling saves for his shutout. But after the veteran William (Flash) Hollett gave the all-Ontario champions a lead in the second period Ottawa never seemed to be in the game.

The Toronto Maple Leafs amateur farm hands, playing before a crowd of 12,749 in their home Maple Leaf Gardens, poured in four more goals. The triggermen were George Armstrong, Chuck Blair, Johnny McCormack and Ray Hannigan.

Tough Schedule

Before the next game, however, the Senators get a chance for their first layoff after a schedule of five games in seven days. Ottawa had to play a sudden-death game for the Quebec title Thursday night with St. Joseph's D'Alma—beating them 5-0 after just finishing a hard-fought series with Sherbrooke.

Coach Frank Boucher could dress only 13 players last night, one less than permissible.

Big Butch Stahan was out with a torn knee cartilege, defenceman Connie Tudin with a knee injury and centre Eddie Emberg with a broken hand. Boucher said he wasn't too hopeful about any of the three playing in the series.

Besides that, defenceman Johnny Copp, Ottawa's captain, played with a broken thumb and Stu Smith, speedy little forward, was barely recovered from a fractured jaw.

AWARDED MAIN BOUT—Ray Villmer, pictured above, who will meet Sliding Billy Hanson in the main bout of next Wednesday's mat show at the Brock Arena. In one of the classiest and most scientific matches ever staged here Villmer and Hanson wrestled to a 30-minute draw. So great was the demand of the fans that these two be rematched and given top spot on the bill that Manager Jim Laidlaw lost no time in signing the pair for next Wednesday. Never in the Brock Arena have two grapplers received such a tremendous ovation at the finish of a match. The crowd kept up a continuous round of applause and cheering long after the boys had left the ring, and they certainly rated it. Two other good bouts are being arranged.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Since this column was written before we ever left for Sarnia, it won't be dealing with the Friday night fray betwixt Legionnaires and the Sailors. A story will be wired back early Saturday on the game, and we can deal with it also in the column on Monday. We're getting out of the woods now on winter sports, and it was a fairly long grind. Hockey running from the first of January to mid-April makes for a rather lengthy season, even without artificial ice. Then, there was an exceptional amount of basketball and drawn-out cage playoffs this season. Not to mention bowling, curling, skiing and other wintertime sports.

* * * * * *

Prospects for summer sports appear good at present, with senior "A" lacrosse and baseball, senior "B" softball and many minor loops, as well as golf, tennis, swimming, track, soccer, cricket and so on. Followed by football activity in the autumn and an earlier start on hockey late next fall with artificial ice in Civic Arena. The past six months, as we mentioned before, saw a number of sports' crowns come to Peterborough, including lacrosse, football and basketball—with Legion expected to add the provincial puck title. This city seems to be doing all right for itself in athletics lately, eh?

* * * * * *

Speaking Of COBL

An early meeting of the COBL is indicated. The loop will operate again, but whether as a four or six-team circuit isn't settled at the moment. The league champion Petes will be back, along with Oshawa, Kingston and Batawa. If Belleville comes in, Napanee may follow suit. In such case, the senior ball circuit may be split into two three-team sections and play an interlocking schedule. Otherwise, four clubs will play a straight schedule again. Manager Eddie Murphy hopes to start Petes' drills in another week.

* * * * * *

No local ballsters will be barred from workouts this season, Eddie emphasizes. He states there is no clique in the club and that he's anxious to see good local boys try for spots as there'll be four or five positions open. He may have to import a player or two, as the league will be stronger this season and Murphy wants the Petes to come up with a potent team. Bill Edger won't be able to start on the mound as the schedule opens but 'tis hoped he'll be ready about July 1, after his operation. Doug Loucks, Gunner Whitehill and Lefty Bill Dadson are other pitching prospects, with Al Menzies and maybe Eddie Starr available for the catching chore.

* * * * * *

Some Ball Prospects

Larry Edwardson sends up word from Port Hope that he's fit and ready to hold down first base again. Other infield prospects we can guess at are Howie Dalton, Don Pagett, Bob Crowe and Red Sullivan. Only outfielders we can think of just now are Jack Mackness, Joe Stewart, Freddy Garvey and possibly Tom Foley again. However, these infielders and gardeners we mention are just guesses yet, and there may be several of them not in uniform when the season starts, and several newcomers holding down these spots. One can tell better a few weeks hence when the team has been working out several times. There'll be some diamond changes at Riverside, too, but more on that again.

* * * * * *

Detroit's fallen Wings may flap their last for the season in Toronto's spacious Maple Leaf Gardens tonight. Should Leafs take it tonight, it's the Stanley Cup for them for the third straight year. And they will have earned it in playoffs, despite an indifferent showing all season. Wings flew high all season but flopped in the dough blows. Lot of Ontario fans bet or pulled against Leafs in the cup finale. One of our office compatriots, Dave White, sums it up like this, without rancor: "Places in the province outside of Toronto often bet against Toronto and their better judgement just on principle—I often pick myself up some easy money betting Toronto teams for this reason." Yeah, Dave, a Toronto chap, may have something there.

* * * * * *

Down Sports' Rialto

Open senior "A" lacrosse workout this aft at two in Miller Bowl; everyone welcome... If Wings should win tonight, the teams go back to Detroit to play Sunday ... City Baseball League should be re-organizing shortly.... Girls' softball meeting sometime this coming week, we expect, but don't know the date yet ... Banquets coming up: YM men's bowling loop April 18, YM girls April 20, Girls' Bowling League April 18, girls' cage circuit April 22, and junior puck Oddfellows on April 27... That Knife and Fork League is really running off a stiff schedule lately.... Legion were to play again tonight in Sarnia if they lost on Friday, and on Monday if the OHA senior "B" finals should go the limit... But we certainly trust not—don't forget this is written in advance ... Kingston pro Ponies are starting baseball workouts, open to all promising prospects ... And a merry Easter week-end to all.

Bowlers Given Prizes At Banquet

The Men's City Five-Pin League concluded a most successful season with a dinner and presentation of prizes at the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel Thursday night.

President Jack L. Wade was chairman and in his opening remarks thanked the various sponsors of the teams and also the officers of the league and bowlers for their fine cooperation during the season's play. Secretary-Treasurer Frank Wood's report showed the league in a good financial position.

Fred Whatley, manager of the Duffus' Recreation Academy, presented the Duffus Cup to Bill Harris of Shockey's team, winners of the league. Members of the successful team were Doug Abraham, Bud Goodson, Phil Pryde, Gene Reynolds and Bill Harris.

Dit Clapper presented his own trophy to Fred Martin, high average winner, with a 248 mark for 90 games. Second high average of 242 went to Doug Abraham and third to Roy Suddards.

The Harold Davis Cup for high three was presented by Roy Lewis to Clarence Downer who bowled 962. Second and third prizes went to Doug Abraham 955 and Fred Martin 954.

Ed Riley presented his own cup for high single to Fred Martin who rolled 394. Second prize in this division was won by Gord Adams with 387 and third to Ned Vitarelli and Bert Hall tied with 385.

Individual cups given to the winners of high average, high three and high single are donated by the league and become the permanent possession of the victors. Fred Scates presented these to past winners, Doug Abraham, high average 1946-47; Bill Martin, high average 1947-48; Holly Mowry, high three 1947-48; Maurice Caccavella, high single 1947-48.

Prize money totalling over $1,200 was passed out, Roy Lewis, past president, giving the nine individual prizes, and President Jack Wade handing out the team prizes.

A short silence was observed for the late Fred Hickey, a former member of the league, whose name appears on the Duffus Trophy with winning teams.

Toronto Players Take Table Tennis Titles

TORONTO, April 16—(CP) — Toronto players carried off all the titles last night at the Ontario Table Tennis championship tournament. Visitors from London, Ont., Oshawa and Elmira tried without success to break into the title bracket.

Howard Birch retained the men's singles crown. Joan Jessop won the ladies' singles title, Don Rathlou the men's B singles and Audrey Perkins the ladies' B singles. Birch and Jessop took mixed doubles honors and Joan Jessop and Jean Burgess captured the ladies' doubles title. C. H. Bible took the men's senior singles title and Lou Burgess and Ed Porter won the men's doubles.

Bob Feller, famous Cleveland Indians pitcher, became the first major league hurler to pitch a no-hit, no-run game on opening day when he turned back the Chicago White Sox nine years ago today. The Sox came close to scoring in the third inning when they had the bases loaded with two out, but Feller struck out the next man.

Bears Leading 3-2 In Best-of-7 Series

HERSHEY, Pa., April 16 (AP)—Coach Don Penniston's Hershey Bears have a chance to clinch the American Hockey League title tonight on their home rink in their sixth game with Providence Reds.

The Bears lead 3-2 in the best-of-seven series. Victory means possession of the Calder Cup.

Should Providence win tonight, the final game will be played at the New England city.

The Reds emerged victor in the last game, played Thursday, at Providence. Two overtime sessions were required for a 4-3 victory.

OASA Decides Give Crests To All Minor Champions

OSHAWA, April 16 (CP) — The Ontario Amateur Softball Association Friday decided to present championship crests to all title winners in its minor leagues. The crests, given only to one or two of the top teams in past years, will go to junior and juvenile A, B and C winners and to the midget and bantam titlists.

The 300 delegates at the Association's 27th annual meeting also set a $400 limit on the secretary's clerical expenses for the season. In the past there has been no ceiling.

George H. Campbell, sports editor of the Oshawa Times-Gazette, was elected president, succeeding E. A. Simpson of Kingston. Douglas G. Smith of Toronto becomes first vice-president, with S. H. Armstrong of Toronto as honorary president and H. K. Champion of Mount Hope, honorary vice-president.

Second and third vice-presidents elected were Roy Brush of Sarnia and Jack Garrett of Simcoe. Frank Feaver of Hamilton and Lloyd Alguire of St. Catharines were unanimously returned secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Elected to the executive committee were: Wilf Morris, Stratford, H. Dye, Brantford, John Brew, London, Eric Wilkin, Hamilton, Charlie Lewis, Toronto, and J. Brady, Oshawa.

On Executive

The following were appointed to the executive committee: E. M. Reid, Windsor, T. Williams, Owen Sound, O. Pierce, Trenton, S. Parker, Hamilton, R. Stewart, St. Catharines, and B. Bailey, Peterborough.

District conveners are: J. E. Thomas, Meaford, J. Nicol, Ottawa, O. Sayles, Port Colborne, L. Edwards, Kingston, M. Miller, Sault Ste. Marie, T. A. Frax, North Bay, and F. Tissington, Orillia.

A promotion committee was set up with honorary secretary Vern McIlwraith of Guelph as chairman. Doug Smith of Toronto was chosen chairman of the sub-committee and Charlie Lewis of Toronto chairman of the rules committee.

The Association decided to set up a past president's council, with one vote for that group at the annual meeting. It also approved setting up of an advisory council to act as a clearing house for matters arising from the men's and women's softball circuits.

Reject Series B Plan

The Association rejected a suggestion that an intermediate D series be established. It ruled that henceforth the intermediate AA qualification be open only to players who have not taken part in juvenile, junior or higher classification within the previous year, not within the previous two years, as formerly.

The pitching distance was retained as 40 feet—a Toronto resolution proposed an increase to 43—and decided that floodlight games may start not less than one hour after sundown.

The Junior B rating, formerly open to towns under 10,000 population, was restricted to the 3,500-10,000 group as was juvenile B. Towns under 3,500 population may have junior C teams.

It was decided that in future, teams in all championship playoff games must produce playing certificates.

Lakefield Park People Ask For 25-Year Land Leases

LAKEFIELD, April 16 (ENS)—Mr. Erskine Douglas addressed the Village Council on Thursday evening asking permission to build 10 or 12 cottages at the back of his present lots in the Lakefield Park.

Mr. Douglas also asked Reeve W. C. Grant if taxpayers had a vote on money matters in village affairs.

Reeve Grant stated land owners do.

"The people in the park," said Mr. Douglas, "are in a peculiar position. They are taxpayers but lease the land on which their homes are built from the village, which bars them apparently from voting as land owners."

Clerk Harry Hill said that in order to vote on a 10-year by-law, the taxpayer must have an 11-year lease, and the park leases are 10 years.

"In other words," said Mr. Douglas, "the people in the park cannot vote on a good many things."

Mr. Douglas also asked that he be given a 25-year lease on the land instead of the 10-year one.

Councillor Roy Brown said since this was quite an important item, he would move that it be left over until the Council had a full session. This was seconded by Councillor Albert Buchanan.

Ask Library Cleaned

Mrs. Reg Doubt, representing the Library Board asked the council if they would have the ceiling, walls and floors of the library washed.

Reeve Grant stated the estimates had already been made by the council and did not include cleaning the library—the library board should have mentioned this before.

Mrs. Doubt said the library board had assumed that when the council decorated the downstairs of Memorial Hall the library would be done also. But although the revenue from rent of the library is a greater source of revenue to the village than any other part of the hall it is not being decorated, and is very dirty.

Reeve Grant stated it was a natural assumption on the part of the library board that the library would be painted, with the rest of the downstairs hall, but the village could not afford to do it this year.

Councillor Roy Brown said the floors were being sanded in the reading room of the library, as they were so dirty they would track up the newly sanded floors outside the library door—which was as far as the redecorating was to go.

No Comment

Asked if the library might be enlarged another year, Reeve Grant would not commit himself, but expressed the hope that it would.

It was moved by Councillors Brown and Buchanan that the cleaning of the library be referred to finance and property.

Stanley Richardson, works commissioner, asked for a culvert to drain the water from in front of J. Ridpath's on Concession St.

Permission to lay water pipes to the river was granted Stanley Burger and Mrs. C. E. Nickels. Said pipes to be five feet below the surface, and not to be covered until inspected by the Roads commissioner.

Reeve Grant added that in view of pipeline trouble encountered by the council this year, the village would not be responsible to damage to pipelines from any source whatsoever, including the weather.

The fire department wrote asking for the use of Memorial Hall free of charge on April 18 for their annual card party and dance. The clerk was instructed to inform the Fire Chief that they could have the hall that night but whether free of charge or not the council would decide at a later date.

Returns Bills

A letter was read from W. B. Anderson, county engineer at Port Hope, returning bills submitted to his department for 50% of the cost of snow removal in the village.

Engineer Anderson stated in his letter that his department was to assume 50% of the cost of snow removal only from Tedford's Funeral Home to Memorial Hall.

Councillor Brown said the contract called for snow removal from one end of village to other. The clerk was instructed to write and ask Mr. Anderson to state his reasons for not complying with agreement.

Councillor Buchanan mentioned the toilets which are being erected at the swimming beach and asked that the village property be marked more clearly at the beach so they would know where to put the buildings.

Mrs. H. D. Wilford's request for permission to build a living room on to her cottage in the park was held over for another meeting.

Restock Many Lakes

WARKWORTH, April 16 (ENS).—There will be 30,000 speckled and brown trout placed in Northumberland county streams this year, it has been revealed by Jack Lueck of the hatchery at Codrington. Mr. Lueck distributed 2,700 speckled trout last Thursday in streams around Cobourg, Baltimore and the surrounding district.

On Tuesday there were 3,000 set out and on Monday the same number, some of them in Campbellford and eastern Northumberland county.

De Laval Team Downs Legion By 29 Points

Led by J. Dionne and F. Allen with 953 points, the No. 1 De Laval cribbage team on Thursday night defeated the Legion by 29 points. The final tally was 5486 for De Laval and 5457 for Legion.

Dionne and Allen were the top scorers, closely followed by Mel and Ivan Packenham for the losers.

For De Laval: E. Amyotte and G. Baird, 917; J. Dionne and F. Allen, 953; B. Chute and W. Davies, 882; B. Woodcock and B. Berry, 914; Mel and Ivan Packenham, 949; Anderson and Edward, 871.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Billy Johnson, last year's regular third baseman, will open the 1949 baseball season as New York Yankees' first sacker, manager Casey Stengel decided.

Stengel's decision followed an announcement by manager Burt Shotton of Brooklyn, that Gil Hodges, converted catcher, would be the Dodgers' first baseman opening day.

Thus, with only days remaining before the championship races get under way, the two pennant contenders apparently have solved their biggest problem.

Twelve Paraplegic veterans from Queen Mary Veterans' Hospital at Montreal will fly to Toronto today to see the fourth game of the Stanley Cup final between Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings. It is believed the flight the first undertaken in Canada by paraplegic veterans for pleasure purposes. Travelling with them will be seven other veterans from the hospital.

Amateur Frank Stranahan taught 19 of golf's big-time players another lesson Friday at Virginia Beach, Va. The Toledo, strong man paid little or no attention to a strong wind and toured the course in a five-under-par 64 to take the lead at the end of 18 holes in the $10,000 Cavalier Specialists Tournament.

Deadlocked for second place three strokes behind were Bobby Locke, the South African ace, and Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis, Tenn., dentist. Each carried a 67.

A 16-man Scottish soccer team which will tour Canada and the United States this summer was named at London.

Included in the team were all the members of the Scottish eleven which defeated England 3-1 at Wembley Stadium April 9 to capture the United Kingdom's triple crown. The Scots previously had beaten Wales and Ireland. The team:

George Young, Sammy Cox, William Woodburn, William Waddell, William Thornton, all of Glasgow Rangers; Jimmy Cowan, Jimmy Mason, Third Lanark, Billy Steel, Derby County; Laurie Reilly and John Govan, Hibernian; William Redpath, Motherwell; William Telfer, St. Mirren; John McKenzie, Patrick Thistle; and Bill Houliston, Queen.

St. Mirren, John McKenzie, Patrick Thistle; and Bill Houliston, Queen of the South.

External Affairs Minister Pearson was suggested Thursday as the man who should be Canada's hockey "czar."

The suggestion was made by T. P. (Tommy) Gorman, Ottawa sports promoter, in an address before the Kinsmen's Club.

He recalled the tiff between the Canadian Amateur and the Quebec Amateur Hockey Associations over Ottawa Senator's right to advance against Toronto Marlboros in the Eastern Allan Cup finals.

"What hockey needs in this country is a czar," he declared. Gorman spoke a few hours before the Senators trimmed the St. Joseph D'Alma Eagles 5-0 to continue in Allan Cup playoffs.

In case Mr. Pearson was not available for the job, said Gorman, "then another splendid choice would be Arthur McNamara, Deputy Minister of Labor, or else Mr. Justice Errol MacDougall of Montreal."

Mrs. H. L. Challice Is Bethany WI President

BETHANY, April 16—(ENS)—The April meeting of the Bethany Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Mulligan. A letter of thanks from the pupils of Galloway's School expressed appreciation of a donation of $3.00 which they had used to purchase Hurlbut's 'Story of the Bible' for their school library. Announcement was made of the District Annual meeting which will be held in Garden Hill, June 7.

Miss Hannah Staples presided for the election of officers. Mrs. H. L. Challice was returned as president by acclamation. Other officers are: secretary, Mrs. Clarence Page; assistant secretary, Mrs. Ross Carr; treasurer, Mrs. M. Finney; district director, Mrs. T. J. Jackson; visiting committee, Mrs. W. Cavano and Mrs. T. Jackson; piano committee, Mrs. Clarke Pomeroy and Mrs. C. Armstrong; gift committee, Mrs. H. Ryley and Mrs. F. W. Reynolds and auditors, Mrs. H. Ryley and Miss L. Thompson

The standing committee conveners appointed are Mrs. W. L. Rowan, citizenship; Mrs. C. Page, historical research; home economics, Mrs. O. Thorndyke; social welfare. Mrs. T. Jennings; Publicity, Mrs. Ross Carr. The group leaders are Mrs. W. L. Rowan, Mrs. T. Jackson, Mrs H. Bristow, Mrs. C. Cummiskey, Mrs. T. S. Gault, Mrs. F. Reynolds, Mrs. C. Armstrong and Mrs. J. Millby.

Mrs W. L. Rowan took charge of the programme and gave a very interesting talk on citizenship, beginning with the education in Public Schools and stressing the fact that the institute members should be vitually interested in the school work, attending board meetings etc. The government of the country was explained, beginning with the local council and it's functions every one should exercise their franchise. The country's welfare is the concern of every forward looking citizen". Pictures were shown of the parliament in session. In conclusion Mrs. Rowan conducted a contest on the local council and their duties.

Mrs. Challice gave a brief talk on institute work in general, it's origin and aims, paying tribute to the founder, the late Mrs. Adelaide Hoodless and stressing the Institute motto "For Home and Country". Mrs. Challice also thanked the ladies for her return to office and asked for the cooperation of the members through the coming term.

Mrs. W. L. Rowan and Mrs. G. Milligan gave a demonstration of various ways of tying a scarf as a dress accessory.

Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Rowan, Mrs. L. Driver, Mrs. Challice and Mrs. Stevenson.

Mrs. R Carr moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Mulligan for the use of her home and to all those who had contributed to an interesting programme.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Palmer in charge of Mrs. H. Bristow and Mrs. C. Cummiskey, joint leaders.

Lack of School Playgrounds Criticized By Vice-Principal

Strong criticism of the lack of adequate playground facilities on the grounds of many of Peterborough's schools was voiced by Arnold Olmstead, vice-principal of Confederation School, in an address given to the Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon on Thursday in the Empress Hotel. Mr. Olmstead was speaking on the general sports program as carried out in the city's schools at the present time.

The speaker singled out these specific instances in support of his criticism: Queen Alexandra School has a deep gully in it; at Queen Mary School the playground is now almost entirely enclosed on two sides by unguarded windows; Central School playground is strewn with loose gravel; King George School's playground is partly on the side of a hill; Prince of Wales playground is mostly mud; and Confederation School has no playground exclusively its own.

Mr. Olmstead appealed to the Kiwanians as ratepayers and fathers of school-age children to take a greater interest in this and other matters relating to school recreation programs. He asked them to visit the schoolyards mentioned and see the condition of themselves. He declared that in spite of this state of affairs the city schools had a good record along sport line, but it could be much better still if needed improvements were mad.

More Use of Playgrounds

Th speaker declared that depredations of gangs of young hoodlums could be greatly reduced if more general use was made of school playgrounds on their behalf.

Mr. Olmstead said that one of the great needs in dealing with youth in the present day was greater exercise of discipline. This was repeatedly stressed in local school recreational programs, he said. It can be taught in some respects better on the playing field than in the classroom. As evidence of the lack of discipline today, he cited several cases that he knew of where parents of small children had called up the police to ask them to exercise the discipline over their children that they had failed to carry out for themselves.

The speaker outlined the following as objectives of the local schools' recreation set-up: participation in the various games by a greater number of boys; playing for the sake of the game only and not for material rewards alone; thorough memorizing of rules of the different games; development of individual skills; sportsmanship; and discipline.

"There has been too much emphasis in the past on what can be got out of sports," said Mr. Olmstead, in appealing for games to be played for the "love of play."

Booing Referees

He delivered a rebuke to those spectators who take delight in booing referees, adding that many of these detractors had never thoroughly read the rules books themselves before letting loose their shafts.

In speaking of the need of sportsmanship, both on the part of players and coaches, Mr. Olmstead quoted a recent statement of Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey that "Canadians had destroyed lacrosse because they had gone at it in the wrong spirit." Every effort was being made, the speaker said, to discourage rough tactics in school sports and to reduce emphasis on high individual scoring. "A lad you can depend on in sport will also make a dependable business man."

Mr. Olmstead was introduced by John G. Allan, and thanked by George Cheatle.

Mr. Allan, as president of the Ontario Cancer Society, Peterborough branch, appealed to his fellow Kiwanians to give full support to the present appeal of this organization for funds. He said that the club executive had decided that their contribution would be in the form of taking out memberships in the Cancer Society. Mr. Allan asked that each member join and try to get two other persons to do so as well.

Walter Howell announced that the club had promised to take 18 members of the two local Kiwanis "Key" Clubs (youth groups) to a convention of these clubs to be held on the weekend of April 23 in London.

VICTIM OF STRIKE—Three men jumped to safety when this floating pile driver sprang a leak and capsized in Halifax harbor. The driver was working on the Halifax-Dartmouth ferry service pier. Work of re-floating the barge was held up because harbor tugs were tied up by the seamen's strike in that port.

Extension Plans For Schools Before Board

Final payment of $3,220 to Walter H. Mortlock on his contract for the enlargement of Confederation School last year was authorized by the Board of Education Thursday night.

Total cost of construction under the contract was $105,737.99 as compared with the estimate of $102,197, an excess of $3,540, or 3.4%. The margin of difference was chiefly incurred by some changes including fluorescent lighting, from the original specifications, Mr. K. S. Wightman, Superintendent, said.

The six-room addition plus the furnishings cost approximately $115,000.

"Mr. Mortlock did an excellent job," said G. W. Craw, moving payment in full of the contractor's account. "Keeping within five per cent of the estimate has been considered exceptionally good in viw of the building costs of recent years. There have been few jobs undertaken in which the final cost was close to the estimate as this one at Confederation School."

Dr. Ralph Honey seconded the motion approving the Mortlock account and directing payment.

Two Room Addition

Preliminary plans for a two-room addition to Park Hill School were accepted and will be sent to the Department of Education for approval. They have been prepared by J. B. Parkin Associates, Toronto architects. Mr. Craw reported that the plans were obtained on instructions from the Board. On the recommendation of Mr. Parkin the two additional rooms will be built on the front of the school instead of being adjoined at the rear. Estimates cost is $22,000. With the addition, the school will comprise four rooms, representing a total investment of less than $25,000. The original two rooms were bought from Wartime Housing Ltd. for about $1,200.

All the members of the Board are being asked to meet Monday at 6.30 p.m. at the Parkdale subdivision of Sands and Bateman, on the south side of Parkhill Road, east of Armour Road, to look over a proposed site for a new primary school in Ashburnham.

"Mr. Wightman and I spent most of an afternoon trying to find a suitable location for the proposed school," Mr. Craw said. "But, with the amount of building that has been going on over there, and more in prospect, we found that nearly everything has been bought."

Sands and Bateman have seventeen acres in their subdivision, and are beginning Monday construction of twenty of the houses they have planned. A school site is available in the Parkdale property if it appeals to the Board. That area was a central and desirable location. Mr. Wightman said that at present 35 children from that section of Ashburnham have to cross the river to attend Queen Alexandra School. The primary children in the southern part of the community across the river will continue to attend King George School.

For Park Hill Road School addition in the west end, the Board decided to ask Mr. Parkin to proceed with the drafting of plans and specifications.

Owners Oppose Funeral Home

R. H. Yeates, a member of the Ontario Municipal Board, heard Thursday the application of A. Comstock and Sons for the establishment of a funeral home at the corner of Simcoe and Rubidge Streets. A city bylaw passed 1935 prohibits a funeral nome in this area.

T. J. Carley, KC, representing the Comstock Funeral establishment, said the present generation operating the establishment is the third generation in the family in the undertaking business. Due to traffic changes, he said, Comstock's felt it necessary to seek a new location from the present on Water St. below Charlotte Street.

J. C. N. Currelly, representing about 12 people opposing the funeral home, said funerals are not a sight to see any more than one wants to. He argued that some of the people in favor of the funeral home did not live in the area and would not be affected.

Mr. Currelly gave two reasons for opposition a funeral home in the area would depreciate the value of the property and that due to the narrowness of the streets the funeral home and Trinity Church there would be a traffic problem in the area.

James Dutton chairman of the Town Planning Board, told Mr Yeates that the Board was in favor of the funeral home if the restriction was taken out of the bylaw.

A decision will be made by the full Municipal Board after Mr. Yeates has reported.

Set Cabbage Price

TORONTO, April 16—(CP)—A minimum price of $10 a ton for cabbage sold to processors this year was set Thursday by the Ontario Farm Products Marketing Board. Minimum prices for beets: diameter 1" to 1¼ inch $60 a ton; 1¼ to 1¾ inch $40 a ton; 1¾ to 2½ inch $30; over 2½ inch $20. Ungraded carrots with a minimum size of 1¾ inch, purchased between June 25 and Aug. 15, will sell for $45 a ton and ungraded carrots 1½ inches in minimum size purchased after August 15, $20 a ton.

Baby Dies In Fire

ENGLEHART, Ont., April 16—(CP)—A baby was burned to death Thursday but a seven-year-old boy saved the lives of three other children when fire swept the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith near Earlton. Edward Smith, 10 months old, was burned to death. His twin brother Ernest was rescued by Mrs. Smith —both suffered burns — while seven-year-old Donald led a younger brother and two sisters to safety.

Michael Torpey Buried In Douro Cemetery

Pallbearers at the funeral of Michael Torpey of Otonabee who died on Monday in his 85th year were: his four sons—William and Gus of Otonabee, Joseph of Peterborough, and James of Warren, Ohio—and his two grandsons, James Fitzpatrick and Gus Sheehan, both of Otonabee.

The funeral on Wednesday was held from his residence, Lot 25, Concession 2, Otonabee, to St. Joseph's Church, Douro, for solemn requiem high mass at 9 a.m. Celebrant was his grandson the Rev. F. M. Fitzpatrick of Parry Sound.

Assisting were the Rev. J. J Collins of Cobourg as Deacon and a brother, the Rev. W. J Torpey of Fairbanks, Iowa, as Sub-Deacon, and the Rev. C. J Carroll of Norwood, Master of Ceremonies.

The graveside service was conducted by Father Fitzpatrick, assisted by Fathers Torpey, Collins Carroll, and the Rev. J. J. McCarthy.

A large number of relatives and friends attended from the United States, Norwood, Campbellford Hastings, Toronto, and other nearby localities.

Mr. Torpey was a lifelong resident of Otonabee and farmed in that township.

Besides his fours sons, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. John Fitzpatrick (Mary) of Hastings. A sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Bowie lives in Toronto and a brother John, in Peterborough. He was predeceased by his wife, the former Margaret O'Grady.

He was buried in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Douro.

Elected President

TORONTO, April 16—(CP) — Dr. John Sheahan of St. Catharines was elected president of the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons at the association's 84th annual meeting Thursday. Dr Woolner of Ayr was named vice president.

Salesmen Find Greater Effort Now Required

"The business "honeymoon" is over" siad Frank Gray, Toronto, to the Kinsmen Club Thursday night at the Koffee Pot. He was viewing the subject "Public Relations in Sales".

Evidence of this can be seen in the daily newspapers, he said. He illustrated the end of the "honeymoon" with the return of the two-pant suits for the same price as suits with one pair of pants sold a year ago.

"Now you can buy an oil burner and they garantee you a year's supply of oil. In a bakery store in Toronto last week I made some purchases. When I opened the package at home. I found an advertisement for layer cakes. That same shop a year ago I had to get a card and wait to be served. Let's face it. The business honeymoon is over."

Mr. Gray told the Kinsmen that the war contaminated business. He said the men in the selling business coasted during the war years.

They coasted to the point where they are actually rude. It's hard to change the minds of those men to get them on the right path."

In Toronto he said a sales school has been started. They have about 750 students in the school.

To sell, Mr. Gray said, the salesman has to be sincere must know the facts, must be enthusiastic and must know what he is selling.

"It's about time we took an analysis of ourselves. In the war days it was easy working. Now if you agree to be paid a certain wage for a day from nine until five, work from nine until five. If you take two hours off, it's just like taking money from the boss' pocket."

Mr. Gray was introduced by Grant Morrow and thanked by Thomas Williams.

Stan Gilmore, president of the Kinsmen Club and president of the Service Club council, told the club of the constitution of the Service Club council. He asked for any suggestions for the constitution.

Stan Hayman and Hal McFarlane led the club in a short singsong.

DOMESTIC FATALITIES

Statistics show that in the home nearly 50 per cent of all accidental deaths result from falls.

WHAT IS IT?—This usual looking animal is believed to be the offspring of a Holstein cow and a deer. Sam G. Clarkson, farmer near Hamilton, Ont., shown with the animal, says the calf is reddish brown, unlike the mother's black and white color. The head is furry, rounded on top, and the horn buttons are further back and higher than on a normal calf. "It doesn't bawl like a calf; it doesn't make any sound at all," Mr. Clarkson says. "It runs like a deer and wants to jump all over the place. Even the hind legs are crooked like a deer."

He Is Risen

Life Eternal Remains Enduring Easter Lesson

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

"If a man die, shall he live again?" was the age-old question asked by Job (Job 14:14). Successive generations of men have asked it, and it has been answered in various ways, and with varying convictions.

Prophets and poets have answered it. The beautiful Twenty-third Psalm answered it by implication, for there could be little fearlessness and comfort in the valley of death unless there were hope of the life beyond. And a modern poet, Wordsworth, wrote of it is his famous "Ode on the Intimations of Immortality."

Spiritualists think they have found the answer in the demonstrable proof of communications from the spiritual world, the evidence that some who have lived and died are still living and speaking.

It is my personal belief that immortality is a matter of faith and hope, rather than of scientific proof, but it is impressive that scientists like Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir William Crookes believed strongly in the validity of spiritualistic phenomena, and that the high priest of spiritualism, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, came to such a similarly strong faith after years of agnosticism, without faith either in God or in human survival.

The strongest ground of hope and faith in immortality is found in the New Testament, with its message of, and concerning, Christ. The message concerning Christ is as much the ground of the faith as the message of Christ Himself, for the one is intensively associated with the other. The Resurrection was the evidence of the deathless life of Jesus Himself, and it became to the disciples the clearest evidence of the immortality that He promised, "Because I live, ye shall live also."

An eminent British churchman, the late Professor Agar Beet, wrote a large book in defence of the Christian religion centring and reaching its climax in the contention that "the Resurrection is the best attested fact in history." Materialistic historians, or scientists, might question that claim, but from a spiritual standpoint the evidence is incontrovertible.

A group of disciples in the depth of gloom and despair because of the death of a Master upon whom they had set their faith, their hope, and their ambition, were suddenly aroused to new life, and hope, and vision, by the conviction that their Lord was living, and that they had seen Him, and received His message.

In that vision, faith, and conviction they not only went forth to the spiritual conquest of the world, but they went forth with their characters and outlook transformed. There was no more bickering about who should be greatest. They had found the eternal life of which Jesus spoke. For eternal life is a present possession. We should think of immortality, not in terms of mere continuance, but in terms of the quality of the life.

I shall never forget the dominant challange of an Easter sermon by Professor Goslin that I heard some years ago. The preacher asked, pointedly, and I pass the question on to you, "What is in your life that is worth preserving, or that deserves immortality?"

What True Love Reveals

REV. E. R. JAMES

Mary Stood At The Sepulchre Weeping. Jesus Said Unto Her Mary. St. John 20;16.

The resurrection took place in a garden. How appropriate. You are thinking of your garden these bright spring days. To you it should mean life, growth, beauty, happiness. The risen Lord reveals Himself first of all to Mary Magadelene, who needed Him most because of her fearful nervous troubles.

Will you read, mark, learn and inwardly disguest this Scripture: —"He that loveth Me shall be loved of My Father and I will love him and will manifest Myself unto him." This is found in St. John 14 — a familiar Scripture. The Lord promises to reveal Himself to those who love Him. Is it an extraordinary statement? It is the experience of everyday life. You may be misunderstood by your business friends. But there is one who loves and to her you reveal yourself. She ought to know you better than anyone else in this world. To her you have manifested yourself. Even so it is in spiritual things. The risen Lord has a spiritual Body, which can be seen and felt by His own friends in those days. To-day, if you have an eye for spiritual things, you will see Him in the Gospel portraits. What is your mental image of the Lord?

What a heart moving statement it is that He recognizes Mary after His resurrection. Some change had taken place, but death had no more dominion over Him. He is the same Christ full of compassion. Shall we know our loved ones when we pass into that other life? Yes. But it is helpful for us to think upon these words of a modern theologian:—"Do you think we shall ever really know anyone till we get there? In this world we do not know our loved ones completely".

Mary is standing at the sepulchre weeping. she is alone. The Apostles have returned to their homes. She is full of grief. Suddenly she feels that someone is near. She turns and "Beholdest Jesus"—the tense implies a lingering glance—She is not expecting His resurrection; she is looking for His dead Body she has come to embalm. The Voice of the Stranger is full of sympathy as He enquires: — "Woman, why weepest thou; whom seekest thou?" She pours out her grief to Him and Offers to take His Body away. Then followed a silence with Mary weeping. "Jesus saith unto her; MARY" The Good Shepherd calleth her by name. Her eyes are opened. How natural that in her moment of joy she should speak to Him in His mother tongue: "Rabboni, My Master". He is still her Teacher. True. But slowly she will learn that He is the Son of God.

Let us not forget that she is one of His little sheep. He cares for you, one of His little sheep also. He occupies her mind and body, to take her mind off herself. He is thinking of His Apostles. "Go, tell My brethren." They are His by adoption and grace.

In your hour of sorrow and agony He comes to you also. He will put into your mind some Scripture which will uplift you and make you know and feel that He, the King of glory, has drawn near to you. He will comfort you with His own gracious consolation. But to you also He will command: "Go, tell My brethren". It is your privilege to tell others what God, the Christ has done for you. "Ye are My witnesses, saith the Lord".

THE LORD JESUS CALLETH HIS OWN SHEEP BY NAME. THEY KNOW HIS VOICE.

Fight For Peace, Evangelist Tells Mothers Of World

By ADELAIDE KERR.

NEW YORK (AP) — An evangelist who believes that mothers of the world have helped cause wars is working to weld them into a world-wide force for peace.

She is Victoria Booth Demarest, granddaughter of William and Catherine Booth, who founded the Salvation Army.

Fired by a Mother's Day sermon in 1946 after she lot her son in war, Mrs. Demarest founded the World Association of Mothers for Peace. It is now incorporated under the laws of New York State and Washington and has about 600 members in Washington, Ohio, Illinois, Oregon, Idaho and Alabama. Two foreign units—one in Japan and another in Brazil — total another 600 members.

Thirty years' preaching and lecturing in churches, Bible conferences and before women's groups, convinced Mrs. Demarest that mothers, through their children, have great influence on the thinking and actions of a race and that millions fail to use it rightly.

"Most mothers,' she says, "accept the old fatalistic attitude that every so often men and women must bleed and burn and die in another war. They have been taught that it was unavoidable and have passed that idea on to their children who acted accordingly when they became citizens.

"But the fact that we have always had wars is no proof that we must suffer from them forever. There was a time when we used to believe that droves of people had to perish from tuberculosis typhoid and plague. But now we control these diseases—and the control is getting better all the time.

"I believe that we can have peace if we fight for it in peacetime with as much force, time and money as we spend to fight a war when we are finally caught in one.

"There is another important point. Many people believed that wars truly begin in the minds of men and women—in their angers hatreds, selfishness and greed. If we are ever to live in peace the children of men must learn greater tolerance, unselfishness, and understanding of one another's problems as well as the ability to give of one's self and one's goods. These things must be taught them by the women who rear them.

Mrs. Demarest has established headquarters for world peace mothers in New York where her husband Agnew Demarest works with the board of national missions of the Presbyterian Church of the USA. Its emblem is a white dove silhouetted against a map of the world.

To quicken mothers with a sense of the importance of their job in world affairs and to show them how to use it for peace, Mrs. Demarest has scheduled a wide program. It includes reading books on world affairs and character training, building a world-wide prayer union for peace, cor-

Utilities Given $45,000 Credit On Power Costs

Utilities Commission received Thursday a Hydro credit of $45,000 in the adjustment of actual cost of electric power used here in 1948. This annual announcement used to be called the "13th bill." It is the difference between the interim charge by Hydro-Electric Commission of $22 a horse power-year and the cost of power actually used during the year.

The amount of the Hydro cheque is $44,999.65, just 35 cents less than $45,000. Hydro refund last year on the electric power consumption in the previous year was $52,000, and the corresponding sum for 1946 was $45,000.

Ross L. Dobbin, Utilities manager, reported the March power peak at 21,400 h.p., as compared with 21,600 in the same month last year.

"The new unit substation in Ashburnham was placed in service March 2. It is not fully loaded yet, as the necessary changes in the circuits to be served by it are not completed. There were 109 three-wire services constructed in March, and four two-wire. There is an increasing tendency to install three-wire services in new dwellings whether an electric range is being connected or not. New circuits were in progress to serve housing development on Rose and Wilson Avenues. A new transformer bank to supply St. Joseph's Hospital was constructed. This was necessitated by increased load."

The pumpage for March was 128,658,000 gallons as compared with 119,829,000 last year. The increase was 643,000 gals. a day.

The filter plan was operated an average of 17.8 hours a day, indicating the necessity of considering an increase in the near future. Thirteen water services were laid on Rose Ave.

In the gas department production was 4,658,000 cu. ft. for the month, using 30,000 gals. of propane. The gas main on Sherbrooke St. west of George St. was extended, and a new service was laid to supply the Goodrich Rubber Co. store. Repairs were made to gas mains at Romaine and Aylmer, and Monaghan Rd. and Chamberlain St."

NO HITS, ALL RAN AND NO ERRORS was the score at the property of the Ontario Rock Company on Thursday afternoon when 12 tons of dynamite dislodged 80,000 tons of trap rock in their quarry. It will supply them with crushing material for the next 12 months. The crusher plant buildings, Upper Left, received no damage from the big blast which took place at 3:04 p.m. Upper Right, shows the result of the blast a few minutes after the dust had settled. Lower Left shows the dynamite in action while Superintendent H. L. Scott, Left, and firing control man J. C. Scott watch the scene of the explosion intently a few minutes before it was fired.

Teachers Named To City Schools

Board of Education confirmed Thursday night appointments reported by K. S. Wightman, superintendent. The salary in each instance is augmented by a cost of living bonus of $20 a month.

To the Collegiate Institute and Vocational School: Miss Doreen Pemberton, instructor in girls' physical training, $2,200; Miss Kathleen E. Scott, instructor in girls' physical training, $2,200; Miss Marilyn Galbraith, office assistant at Collegiate Institute, initial salary $86 a month.

To Public Schools: Mrs. Loreen Campbell, $1,650; Miss Eleanor Glover, $1,700; Miss Marion Brown, $1,400.

Resignations accepted were: Miss Marion Bell and Mrs. Kathleen Dowdell, both at the end of June. Miss Reta Harrison was given leave of absence last year because of illness, and has decided not to return.

Miss Mary Overend of the staff of PCVS also requested that her resignation be accepted. The Board directed that letters of appreciation of their services be sent to the resigning teachers.

In the same spirit of regret, the Board accepted the resignation of Dr. L. E. Mylks, its school medical officer, effective at the end of June, and instructed the health committee to arrange for engagement of a successor.

Janitors Retire

Recommendation by the property committee of the retirement of three janitors, T. Wallace, J. M. Anderson and F. B. Griffin June 30, was adopted.

Mr. Griffin, Collegiate Institute, 23 years' service with the board, receives a pension of $684.23; Mr. Wallace, ten years, $283.96. The committee's notation respecting Mr. Anderson was: "That Mr. Anderson's 25 years in service with the North Monaghan Board be counted as 15 years which with five years with the city will give him a total service of 20 years". His pension is $567.88 a year.

It was said that early in his township work Mr. Anderson was not engaged on full time at May's School.

80,000 Tons of Trap Rock Loosened In Rock Blast

HAVELOCK, April 16—(Special).—Things were uncannily quiet around the property of the Ontario Rock Company, three miles east of Havelock, on Thursday afternoon. A cordon of company police and members of the Ontario Provincial Police stopped all traffic within a three-mile radius. Workmen scattered to the wooded hills and with watches in hand kept eyes focussed on the rim of broken rock at the edge of the open pit quarry. Meadowlarks sang in the brown grass and the soft west wind soughed in the pines.

Superintendent H. L. Scott stood with his crew and as the hands of his watch stood at three o'clock, everyone stiffened and strained forward as the minutes dragged. One, two, three and on the four there came a terrific explosion as 12 tons of dynamite heaved loose 80,000 tons of trap rock. Pieces weighing tons shot into the air in a cloud of dust and cordite and for a few seconds a veritable rain of rocks peppered the land surrounding the workings and buildings. There was an audible sigh of relief from the onlookers as they piled into trucks and cars to see what work the dynamite had done. The annual big blast was over for another year.

According To Schedule

While employees and country people came out of hiding to scramble through the dust that still rose from the detonation, Mr. Scott was at his desk telling principals at his head office that operation Traprock had gone according to schedule, there was no damage to persons or buildings and the floor of the quarry was strewn with enough loose rock to keep the crusher plant operating for another 12 months.

The planning of the big blast was an engineering task of no mean proportions. Drifts, or tunnels, three by four feet, were driven into the face of the quarry at the floor and in all 421 feet were blasted out. From the drifts 17,000 feet of diamond drill holes were fanned out latterally in such a pattern that the corner of the quarry was honeycombed. Into these holes dynamite was tamped and each with a long wire detonator was strung to a series of circuits leading to a master firing switchboard.

When the maze of drilling, loading and wiring was completed, it only remained for the frost to be free of the rocks to make as big a break as possible. The wiring was tested and retested to eliminate any possible chance of a slip-up. Hydro power was routed into the circuit at 3:04 p.m. on Thursday afternoon and the explosion was terrific, well-planned and dislodged the maximum of rock in the right directions. It can be truly said that the whole operation went over with a bang in more ways than one.

Thank City Kiwanians

Sincere appreciation of the congratulatory message which the Kiwanis Club of Peterborough sent to the people of Newfoundland on the occasion of its formal union with Canada on March 31 was expressed in a letter from the new province's first Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Albert Walsh, which was read at Thursday's weekly luncheon of the club by President V. B. McCabe.

The letter, which was signed by His Honor's acting private secretary, read as follows: "I am directed by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor to express to you his sincere appreciation of your message of greetings on the occasion of the entry of Newfoundland into union with Canada, and to extend to the officers and members of the Kiwanis Club of Peterborough the good wishes of the people of Newfoundland."

Permission Refused To Operate Scrap Yard

Roy Thompson, a former city garbage collection foreman was refused permission by the Police Commission Thursday, to operate a scrap yard on Bell Ave.

The commission decided that although a scrap yard had been operated on this site in the past by John Burfield, it was an unsightly place and needed to be cleared. Chief John Thompson said the site was a disgrace and he recommended refusing a licence.

George Street Choir Presents Easter Cantata

Members of the choir of George Street United Church delighted a large audience on the evening of Good Friday with their fine rendition of the Easter cantata, "The Great Inheritance" by Ward-Stephens. The cantata was preceded by four other selections by various members of the choir. The program was of an exceedingly high order throughout and many favorable comments were heard from among the audience at its conclusion.

The choir was assisted by the noted Toronto mezzo-baritone, Robert Ivan Foster, who took part in both the cantata and the first part of the program. His fine renditions made a deep impression on his hearers.

The following members of the choir were heard in individual numbers: Mrs. D. F. Bain, contralto; Mrs. James Goldie, Miss Ruth Telford, and Mrs. S. Saunders in a ladies' trio; Charles E. Allen, organ solo; Mrs. James Goldie and Mrs. S. Saunders in a duet; Miss Ruth Telford, soprano solo; Percy Harrison, tenor; Walter Dawson, bass; Mrs. R. Moore, soprano; Samuel Castle, baritone; and Miss Joyce Walker, contralto.

After the conclusion of the program a reception was held in honor of the choir and Mr. Foster, convener of which was Mrs. James Semple, wife of the minister. A. B. Burrows, president of the choir, presided and brief addresses were given by the organist, C. E. Allen and the Rev. Dr. Semple.

Special guests at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ivan Foster and their daughter Laura Lee, and Mr. and Mrs. McDowell, of Ernfold, Saskatchewan. Mr. Foster sang three additional numbers while the reception was in progress.

To Make Study Of Salaries Paid Teachers

A special committee of the Board of Education was given Thursday night an assignment of a broad enquiry into the salaries of all its teachers.

This action was an immediate response to a letter from the men teachers of the Collegiate Institute and Vocational School requesting certain increases toward a general maximum level of parity with the salaries of other Ontario schools indicated in recent advertisements.

The teachers' letter to the Board was, in part: "From these advertisements it is evident that the maximum: salaries in Peterborough compare most unfavorably with the other schools of the province. In view of the superior financial position of Peterborough as compared with other cities in Ontario, the men teachers find it difficult to understand why the salaries here should now be among the lowest in the province."

Their specific requests were: (1) To incorporate the current $200 cost-of-living bonus into the regular salary schedule immediately; (2) To grant an additional increase of $300 to the men of the PCVS staff. If this were effective Sept. 1, it would be equivalent to an increase of $20 for the year 1949; (3) To revise the salary schedule by raising the maximum to $4,300 for men assistants and $4,500 for men who are heads of departments.

"We understand that a number of centres now handle this matter by means of a joint salary committee, consisting of Board members and representatives of the various teaching groups. Any attempt on the part of our Board to form such a committee would be welcomed by the men teachers."

An affixed list of maximum salaries cited from recent advertisements in a Toronto newspaper included: Orangeville $3,700; Pembroke $3,900; Cornwall $3,700; London $4,500; Fort Frances $4,200; Listowel $3,700; Brockville $3,800; Weston $4,500; Forest Hill $4,900; Aylmer $3,700; York Memorial $4,700; and others

The comparable Peterborough salary is $3,500, plus $200 cost of living bonus.

The members of the Board's committee are: Dr. Ralph C. Honey, chairman, Arthur Pitchford, A. E. Borland, Dr. R. M. Matthews, and F. H. Jobbitt, chairman of the board.

In presenting the motion, G. W. Craw suggested that the committee should have a free hand to enquire into the salaries paid here and elsewhere, considering not only the men of the PCVS staff but all the teachers in the Board's employ.

Loads of Chocolate Chicks, But Live Ones Are Cheaper

Candy, chickens and rabbits for the youngsters at Easter are just as important as the new hat, dress or suit for mother or sister. The chocolate delights cannot be worn in the Easter parade but they can be carried, and, better still, munched. This year's assortment in the stores is larger than last year's. But the size of the rabbits and chickens has decreased, and the cost is up. Chocolate rabbits and chickens two inches high make a 29c to 49c touch on father's purse, depending whether they are hollow or stuffed.

In the familiar Easter baskets the quantity of paper fill is greater, each basket having less candy. In the baskets are toy fire trucks, fluffy rabbits and rubber air-filled balls. The candy is chiefly jelly beans and a chocolate rabbit a couple of inches high.

Large rabbits and chickens, which are hollow inside, cost 75c and up. Chocolate airplanes and ships about eight inches in length and also hollow, are valued at 75 cents.

Live Chicks Cheaper

Compared with the prices of real yellow fluffy chicks and white rabbits the candy rabbits and chickens cost more. Real, live baby chicks can be bought for 15c and 7 cents, depending on the type. They would attract the attention of the children more than a stationary chocolate chicken. In the case of rabbits, people are usually happy to get rid of a couple for nothing.

Chocolate Replicas Cost $2.59

Some of the stores are advertising Easter egg coloring. This enables the customers to make their Easter eggs at home. This can be more economical than buying the chocolate eggs. Eggs can be bought at 50c a dozen. The coloring costs 10c. So he gets 12 Easter eggs for 60c, whereas one chocolate egg costs 12c.

Flowers for mother, wife, or girl friend are in great demand at the local florists. Potted plants such as hyacinths, spiraea, and lilies were in greatest demand. Cut daffodils, narcissi and tulips were practically unobtainable from local florists Thursday morning.

Grant Permission To Hold Tag Day

City Council is not in favour of tag days being held in the city, Mayor Max Swanston said at a meeting of the Police Commission Thursday. The commission decided to grant the ladies Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital permission to have a tag day on Sept. 24 but it was stated that this was the last time permission would be granted.

Judge S. L. Smoke said it was the third year the Auxiliary had held a tag day. Permission had been granted the first year, on the understanding that the Auxiliary would find some other way of raising money, he said.

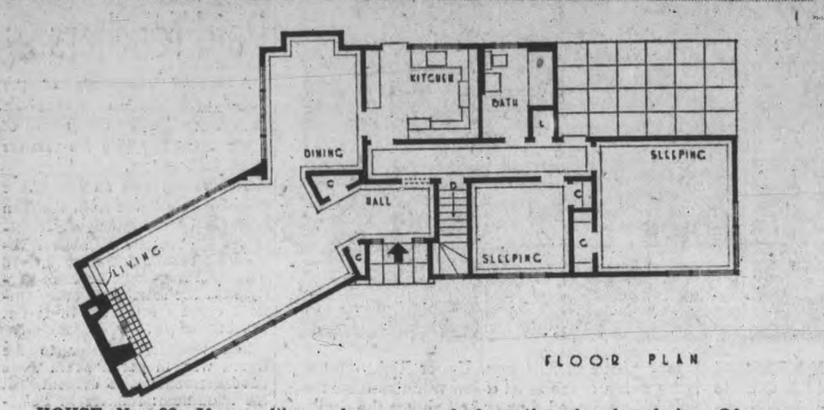
PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

White Pine and Cedar Best For Outside Siding

If you have chosen wood for the exterior finish of your home, you should know that the siding being used is one that will not require costly replacements in a few short years. The finest woods for outside trim and siding are white pine and cedar which are of a decay-resisting species that will hold tight at the joints and take and hold paint reasonably well; stain is more lasting and gives greater satisfaction than paint. Inspect all exposed corners or cornice and trim and assure yourself that they are mitred; a point that is indicative of quality building. Be sure, that spliced joints are absolutely tight to prevent infiltration of moisture; that joints are not directly over each other; and that nailing is done directly into each stud. A check of your home under construction will serve to illustrate the care taken in adhering to these points of superior construction.

If your home is to be built of brick there are several important points of quality you should know. The first requisite of good brickwork is good brick. The second essential is good mortar with the proper mixture of cement and sand and lime. The third vital factor is expert workmanship. The brick should be laid level with uniform mortar joints. Careful pointing or tooling of the joint helps prevent moisture penetration and in chimneys stop air leaks. This also adds to the appearance. With reference to appearance, the proper selection of the type of brick and color is important. There are a large number of blends and finishes from which to choose.



The header course consists of brick laid at right angles to the other courses and tends to bind the inner and outer layers of brick together making the wall act as a solid mass. Brick veneer is made secure with wall ties. Each course of brick is carefully buttered with mortar.

Tinning

Inspection of sheet metal work in a home will quickly determine whether or not good wrokmanship has been made a considering factor in its building. This is important for it is at points where sheet metal is used that most of the roof leaks occur that can be so annoying and costly. In the joints between dormers and the roof, openings for vent stacks and chimneys and valleys are downspouts should have proper connection with the soil pipe. Special care must be exercised around chimneys and all other vents to prevent water seepage into the home and consequent costly redecoration and deterioration.

Plumbing code requirements costs vary in different cities. Careful inspections are made by city sanitary engineers to assure conformance on the part of the builder. One thing to remember however, is the placement of your fixtures. They must be within a limit of 8 feet from a vent stack to the roof. If you should want a future toilet in the basement, for example, and the rough plumbing work in installed be sure it is within the present stack limit of 8 feet or a considerable additional expenditure will be necessary. Also provide a window if you plan a future toilet. The cost of plumbing fixtures installed depends generally upon the type of home you build, but assure yourself they will give you satisfactory service.

FLOOR PLAN

HOUSE No. 88—If you like a house sprawled out in ranch-house fashion, this beauty will certainly interest you. And its hillside, evergreen-clad site in British Columbia, sets it off to advantage, we think. A house such as this needs breathing space—it has a "don't-fence-me-in" air about it. Architect Barratt deserves much credit for providing that magic touch which puts this five-room home in a class by itself. Many will be fascinated by the low horizontal effect of broad cedar siding, topped by a roof of weathered cedar shakes. Of course the living room is sure to catch the eye of the connoisseur—but equally attractive are the dining room, master bedroom, and kitchen. The latter being "U" shaped, and complete with snack bar. Another feature is the broad rear terrace. Here is a delightful spot for outdoor dining, or deck-chair lounging. For further information write Home Buildings in Canada, 322 Bay St., Toronto.

Propose Option In Agriculture

Stimulation of interest in the study of agriculture was the subject of two letters to the Board of Education Thursday. One was a $100 scholarship from the Kiwanis Club, and the other a proposal from Alan T. Brown, secretary of the Peterborough District High School Board, that the city Board provide a course in agriculture at the Collegiate Institute and Vocational School.

Ernest McWilliams, chairman of the Kiwanis agricultural committee, said the club wished to establish a $100 scholarship at PCVS for the highest standing student going on for a degree course at the Ontario Agricultural College. It is planned for the encouragement of students intending to continue their education in agriculture for the degree of B.S.A.

The offer was accepted in a motion by Dr. Ralph Honey and Dr. H. G. Carleton "with admiration for the interest of the Kiwanis Club in establishing this scholarship."

The letter from Mr. Brown expressed a wish to discuss with the Board the idea of a course in agriculture at the Collegiate.

Mr. K. S. Wightman, Superintendent, suggested that this matter be referred back to himself for enquiry into the probable number of students who might take the agricultural option if it was offered.

"I explained to Mr. J. Kitney, chairman of the district High School Board, that our schedule is overcrowded as to options," Mr. Wightman said. "Personally, I m in favor of this option, but it would take a little while before it could be put into effect. Mr. Kitney said his board did not wish to rush anything, but wished first to get the reaction of the Board of Education."

The Board agreed with Mr. Wightman's suggestion, and asked him to enquire into this proposal and prepare a report.

Shoe Prices Higher

MONTREAL, April 16—(CP)—It is more likely that shoe prices in Canada will go up rather than come down, the Shoe Manufacturers Association of Canada intimated in a statement issued here Thursday. Because of a still difficult hide situation in Canada, plus export conditions, rising labor and hide costs, no drop in shoe prices should be anticipated, the statement said.

Professor Bates Dies

BERKELEY, Calif., April 16—(AP)—Professor Henry Moore Bates, 80, dean emeritus of the University of Michigan School of Law, died Friday from heart disease.

Sad Tale

are good people. I am not. OH! Faithless Buck!"

The good poor farmer said "There, there". And he went hurrying down Green Hill toward the city to get help. In half an hour an ambulance, the Police Chief's car, and the Fire chief's car were roaring out Sherbooke street west toward Green Hill. Never in all her life had the girl received such attention. But it was too late! By the time they arrived the poor lass was dead.

At the coroner's inquest it was said that she had died of a broken heart. No truer words were ever spoken. But her heart had broken not for the wretched Buck, but for her parents whom she had disgraced.

When the dear Mother and the crippled Father heard the sad news, their kitchen stove was no longer happy. When the scoundrelly, worthless Buck read about Germerilla Gittenip in the paper the next day, he was so filled with remorse that he immediately left his crude friends of the hamburger joint and joined the army, and was killed six months later in Normandy. Let us hope that his death was more honourable than his life.

In Germerilla's home hamlet, in the simple rustic cemetery, there is a new wooden cross (the poor parents could not afford a marble one). That is the earthly remembrance of an innocent girl whom the City wronged in War Time.

Clothes Wanted For Labrador: Mission Appeals

Members of the Peterborough branch of the Grenfell Labrador Medical Mission are already making preparations for packing their annual bales of used clothing and receiving cash donations. The packing is done in June and the depot for marshalling goods is in the basement of the Grafton Company.

At this time of the year, when city housewives are doing their annual cleaning, they make their most pointed appeal. There is a pressing need for all manner of useful wearing apparel, pieces of curtains or any materials, trimmings and buttons. Even toys and games that Junior is tired of are acceptable to brighten the lives of lonely fishermen's children in the bleak settlement of Harrington Harbour on the North Shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

The large building program planned by the Association in the erection of a new hospital at Harrington is meeting with the usual difficulties in the matter of cost. Estimates have soared and consequently there is a pressing need for cash donations.

In the matter of clothing, requirements are diapers for infants, flannelette nightgowns for women and heavy underwear for men. The men who are the breadwinners also need overall trousers, heavy wool sox, long-sleeved sweaters and windbreakers. Pillow slips and sheets are also required for the present hospital needs. Members suggest further, that citizens who would earnestly support this effort, might buy articles as their contribution if they are not available from home supplies.

Executives of the Peterborough branch are Mrs. Gordon Rutherford R. R. 3, Peterborough, Mrs. F. M. Summerville, treasurer, and Mrs. F. C. Anderson, 441 Reid St., secretary.

Unions Plan To Renew Pressure On Congressmen During Easter

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, April 16—(CP).—The unions are seeing to it that Congressmen don't have too soft a time during the Easter recess. The Congress of Industrial Organizations and the American Federation of Labor have told their members to turn on the heat while the law-makers relax at home.

Labor, a power in last November's elections, wants those campaign promises fulfilled—pronto. Repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law still is tops on Labor's list.

Big Beef

Labor has no particular complaint about Truman's post-election performance. Its big beef is whether Congress is going to keep him from carrying out his pledges.

One of those pledges was to wipe from the statutes the Taft-Hartley law, which Labor considers "anti-labor." But there are many indications that Congress' final action will be something much less than outright repeal.

Debate on the Administration's version of the Taft-Hartley law is scheduled in both houses of Congress next month. It promises to follow the pattern of the bitter talkfest which gave birth to the Taft-Hartley law last year.

Law Defended

A considerable element in both houses feels the Taft-Hartley law is not as bad as labor paints it. Senator Robert A. Taft (Rep. O.), one of the sponsors of last year's bill, has teamed this time with Senator Irving M. Ives (Rep. NY) in an attempt to preserve many of the main provisions of the Taft-Hartley measure.

They have agreed tentatively on a "national emergency" procedure that would authorize injunctions, plant seizures and special sessions of Congress and continue the present ban on closed-shop contracts—the one ban which labor hates most.

Something similar to the Taft-Ives program is expected to be offered by the Republican members of the Senate labor committee.

On the other side of the fence is a Democrat-sponsored bill which would tighten the Taft-Hartley act and introduce some new curbs on union activities.

The AFL's instructions to its 8,000,000 members said: 'Your opinions meant something last November. They still do. Let Congress know how you feel about labor legislation."

Theatrical Team Chalks Up Another Success

By PAT USSHER.

NEW YORK, April 16 (CP). — Chalk up another smashing success for Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II, assisted by Joshua Logan.

The three proved themselves a top-flight theatrical team in "South Pacific," a new and gorgeous musical which had just reached Broadway.

"South Pacific" is based on James Michener's "Tales of the South Pacific," a book which won a Pulitzer Prize.

Its principals, Mary Martin, and Ezio Pinza, acquit themselves admirably. Miss Martin, who a few years back starred in a sophisticated role in "One Touch of Venus," this time is a wartime United States Navy nurse from Little Rock, Ark., a little naive but completely lovely. Pinza, a widely-known opera singer, is making his first appearance in the legitimate theatre as Emile de Becque, a French planter.

Hammerstein and Logan collaborated on the book for the musical, which deals in tender fashion with the romance of Ensign Nellie Forbush — her colleagues call her "Knucklehead"— and De Becque.

Rodgers has composed some melodious numbers for the show, including "Some Enchanted Evening" and "Younger Than Springtime" and the rousing "I'm in Love With a Wonderful Guy."

Rodgers and Hammerstein, who provided theatre-goers with "Oklahoma" and "Carousel," and Logan, responsible for "Mister Roberts," don't need to worry. They have another hit on their hands.

Kazan Scores

The leading play awards announced this week by the New York Drama Critics Circle give Elia Kaazn the distinction of having staged three consecutive plays. The critics chose "Death of a Salesman" as the best American play of the 1948-1949 season. Last year they chose "A Streetcar Named Desire," and in 1946-1947 the award went to "All My Sons." All three were directed by Kazan. It was also an honor for Arthur Miller, author of both "Death of a Salesman" and "All My Sons."

Wartime Telegraph Unit Top Secret Defence Plan

By RAE CORELLI.

MONCTON, NB, April 16 (CP) —One of the top-secret cogs in Canada's Second World War defence network was disclosed here to-day.

A Canadian National Railways official told of a mobile telegraph unit, designed and built in 1941 when the threat to Canada's communications by air and sea attack loomed large in the minds of government planners.

The unit was maintained in readiness near Winsor Junction, NS, about 30 miles from the key port of Halifax—funnel of Canada's war effort. Purpose of this three-car telegraph terminal was to assure continuance of communications if regular facilities were put out of commission.

Still Secret

Frank R. Sayer, CNR Public Relations Chief for the Atlantic Region, said some aspects of the unit still are on the Dominion's secret list.

One of the cars embodied complete sending and receiving telegraph "offices," housed in an ordinary Pullman coach. Another contained generators and transformers, and in third were living quarters for operators of the unit.

In the event of aerial or sea attack and subsequent disruption of communications in a concentrated area, the cars would have been shunted as near as possible to the communications centre.

Crews then would plug in outlets to overhead wires and the vital job of transmitting messages —both telegram and cable— could continue.

The cars never were used and were dismantled in 1946.

Although nearly every war-born device came by a nickname, the terminal spent its brief existence known only as "The Cars." Serial numbers alone identified them.

Provision was made for a six-man crew and living accommodations for protracted stay on board were provided.

"They were quite a set-up," reflected Mr. Sayer. "But I am glad we did not have to use them."

Holds Fiancee For Theft

BRANTFORD, April 16—(CP) —Police said Friday that Helen Salisbury, 20, of Galt, is held in Montreal on a local warrant charging theft of money from a Brantford man to whom she was engaged to be married. A police escort was to leave for Montreal Saturday to pick up the girl.

Do YOU know the Answers

Question: What is Ontario's programme for the control of Cancer in Ontario?

Answer: Ontario is attacking Cancer on three fronts and they are these:
Research
Education and welfare services
Diagnosis and treatment

Question: What funds are required for 1949?

Answer: To carry out this programme Ontario must this year provide $500,000 from voluntary sources. The Ontario Division of the Canadian Cancer Society has accepted the responsibility for raising these funds.

Question: Has the Federal Government made any grant for Cancer Control?

Answer: Yes. The total Grant is $3,500,000 of which Ontario's share is $1,167,503.

Question: Why then, is voluntary support still requested?

Answer: When this Government grant becomes available, it can be used for diagnosis and treatment only. Additional funds must be raised from Voluntary Sources to carry on research, education and welfare.

Shirley Garner Wed Today In Park St. Baptist Church

A pretty weding took place today in Park St. Baptist Church of Shirley Jean Garner and Peter Victor Nicholson. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Garner, 201 Stewart St., and the groom a son of Mr and Mrs. A. J. Garrett of Toronto.

The Rev. E. J. Whan performed the ceremony. Wedding music was played by Adam Hawley and Jean Jackson Whitney was soloist. Before the ceremony she sang "O perfect Love" and during the signing of the register, "Because."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law Mr John Cook of Toronto. She wore a gown of white satin with slight train falling from hip-line fullness. It was styled on princess lines with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves coming to points over her hands. Her full-length veil of embroidered white net was caught to a heart-shaped headdress, and she carried an arm bouquet of red roses.

Only bridal attendant was Mrs. Isabel Lindsay of Toronto who was gowned in pale yellow taffeta in full skirt style with bustle. She wore a headdress of flowers with shoulder veil of net and gloves in lime green shade and carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds.

Mr. Tom Lindsay was groomsman and usher were Ronald Gilmour and Gordon Runnett.

The reception was held at the bride's home where her mother received, wearing a light flowered silk jersey dress with black hat and accessories. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore black silk with flowered pattern, and black accessories. Each had a corsage of white carnations.

The bride's going-away outfit was a grey suit, hat of natural straw and black accessories and she carried a red topcoat.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs Nicholson will reside in Peterborough.

CGIT Doings

Mark Street

The Explorers met with the CGIT for their Easter meeting when Mrs. A. Throop gave an inspiring address telling of the things that happened in Palestine from Palm Sunday to the day of Christ's Resurrection. Scripture reading was taken by Hazel Lewres and Marilyn Logan sang a solo.

Gwen Pomeroy reported from Girls' Council that camp would be held this year the latter part of August at Camp Kawartha. Plans were completed for the CGIT Tea which is being held Wednesday, April 20 in the church basement when there will be a sale of home cooking and candy.

Trinity

The Easter theme was followed in the worship service when Joan Krogh read the story, "That Resurrection Morn."

Anne Gordon, President of the Intermediate Group, conducted the business when it was decided that the girls would reaffiliate with the WMS on May 2. After some discussion it was decded that we have a Mother and Daughter banquet early in the fall. The girls were interested to learn that $25 had been made at the candy table at the Work Board Tea, the candy being donated by the different CGIT groups of the city.

The Seniors arranged to pack their bale of used clothing for the needy of Europe on Monday, April 18. Mrs. Bruce Gordon kindly operated the lantern for the showing of the film "Boy Meets Girl," this aroused considerable discussion which resulted in the definite decision that "pick-ups" are not the accepted thing and introductions are still the order of the day.

The Intermediates finished the edition of their Chinese nwspaper, "The Pai Ping Press," and then voted to give a $15.00 donation to the work of the church in China and $5.00 to the local Woman's Missionary Society.

Miss Freda Pilling Heads Ladies' Orange Association

Mrs. Freda Pilling of Peterborough on Thursday night was elected Provincial Grand Mistress of Ontario East, Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association. She succeeds Miss Mabel Chapman of Ottawa who completed a second term of office.

In her address to the Association the Grand Mistress said that 13 new lodges had been organized throughout the jurisdiction during that time. And membership had increased by about 600.

Notables attending the 30th annual session of the Provincial Grand Lodge included Mrs. Margaret Scott, Toronto, grand mistress of British America; Mrs. Lillian Morgan, Windsor, past grand Mistress of British America; Mrs. Levina Rowe, Toronto, past grand mistress of British America; Mrs. Rose Howell, Toronto, grand registrar of the Grand Crystal. Chapter of British America; Carrie Rooke, Windsor, grand mistress of Ontario west; and Mrs. Bertha Addie, Toronto, right worshipful deputy lecturer of Ontario West.

Mrs. Scott reported that she had recently completed a tour of the Western Provinces and found the lodges gaining in numbers there. The Order has homes for orphans in every province of Canada.

These homes are well equipped and she stated that "a splendid type of womanhood and manhood have been sent forth into the life of our country under the [illegible]ship of the L.O.B.A. members."

Mrs. Scott will attend the forthcoming Grand Lodge meeting in New Brunswick and will be a delegate to the National Orange Council which will be held in Belfast, Ireland, on July 12.

The 1949-50 executive is as follows: Mrs. Freda Pilling, Peterborough, provincial grand mistress; Mrs. Lilliam Milligan, Cornwall, provincial grand deputy mistress; Mrs. Edith Benton, Peterborough, provincial junior deputy; Mrs Flora Dearman, Cobourg, provincial chaplain; Miss Rose Sexsmith, Peterborough, grand secretary; Mrs. Cora Johnston, Janetville, grand treasurer; Mrs. Violet McNally, Billings Bridge, deputy secretary; Mrs. Dorothy White, Smiths Falls, director of ceremonies; Mrs. Amelia Lunn, Millbrook, senior lecturer; Mrs. Mabel Hill, Trenton, junior lecturer; Mrs. Edna Lindsay, Ottawa, junior director; Miss Anna Grier, Burritt's Rapids, senior auditor; Mrs. Meryl Draper, Prescott, 2nd auditor; Mrs. Myrtle Sproats, Peterborough, 3rd auditor.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Teen-agers Treated as Adult Will Likely Act Like One

Dear Miss Dix: I have a teen-age daughter who informed me that I had no right to dictate to her, that she was old enough to do as she pleased. She was pretty saucy and impudent in the way she said it. I breathed a little prayer for help and then I said to her: "Darling, you are exactly right. You are old enough to make your own decisions. I cannot make them for you even if I wanted to, which I don't. You are on your own now and it is strictly up to you whether you make a success or mess out of your life.

Dorothy Dix

"If I can help you, I want to do so," I told her, "but from now on you are going to have to work things out for yourself." Thereupon I reversed my tactics in dealing with her. I began treating her like an adult and she tries to act like an adult. People told me it would not work, but it has worked. I had hours of anxiety, but she is developing into such a sweet, thoughtful daughter that I believe she has survived some of the worst stages of growing up.

You can't be proud, bossy or critical with youngsters and get away with it. I tried that first and it failed.

MRS. F. H. T.

ANSWER: I wish that every mother who has a bobby-sox daughter would paste this letter on her mirror where it would be the first thing she would see in the morning and the last thing she would see before she went to sleep at night. For it describes the only way to deal with a girl who thinks herself wiser and more sophisticated than Solomon himself, yet who really knows as little about life as a babe in swaddling clothes does.

Probably there isn't a teen-age girl in the world who doesn't think that she is wisdom incarnate and that her mother is an old fogey about a million years behind the times. Mother is determined to keep Sally in leading strings, and Sally is certain that she can protect herself against the wolves and thus begin the mother and daughter fights that make so much misery for both parties.

Simple Preventive

Yet the preventive is so simple. It is just for mothers to treat their daughters as if they were grown-ups. It is just for mothers to throw their daughters' responsibility upon the girls themselves. It is just for mothers to talk things over with their daughters, instead of laying down the law to them. Of course, the youngsters will make mistakes, but youth doesn't forget the lessons it learned in the hard school of experience.

Children are kittle cattle to rear, but it is true that when their parents treat them as if they were adults, they try to act like adults.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 15 years of age and have never gone on a date or worn any lipstick, but still I don't think I am hard to look at. But here's my trouble: When I am with a boy I don't know what to talk about and I don't want to go through life just being dumb. What should I say?

SORROWFUL.

ANSWER: Well, daughter, the thing about being an entertaining conversationalist is to let the party of the other part do most of the talking. Don't think you've got to babble like the brook that went on forever. Just get your boy friend to telling about the cute things his dog does or some book he is reading, and all that you have to do is just to sit up and look as if you were hanging on his words.

But, as a starter, begin by asking the boy personal questions: Where has he been? What does he like to do? What college is he going to? Anything that will be a tongue-loosener. It will seem to you like vulgar curiosity, but it isn't. It is just a life-preserver. Nearly all boys like to talk about themselves. And if you are a good listener you will never lack for an audience.

Nobody is ever bored as long as you sing his praises. So learn how to throw in plenty of "how wonderful," "did you really do that?" "how marvelous" and so on. Learning how to talk is easy. It is knowing when to stop that makes a girl popular.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX I am 17 and very much in love with a boy who loves me and we plan to be married in the fall, following our graduation. However, one of our teachers insists on our getting married and then finishing school. She fears that I may be an old maid, as she is, if I wait.

What should we do?

UNDECIDED.

ANSWER: I think that it is a tragedy for mere children to marry before they know what they want in their mates, what sort of people they are going to develop into, and how they are going to make a living. It is the too-early marriages that fill the divorce courts.

It is bad advice your teacher gives you about being married while you are still a mere child to keep from being an old maid. Many of the happiest and most useful people in the world have never married.

Easter Program St. James' WMS

The St. James' Auxiliary WMS program Thursday took on the typical Easter spirit in music, scripture, readings and prayers.

Owing to the absence of the president through illness, Miss M. Bowers presided over the meeting for business and the general program which was later taken over by Mrs. E. M. Davis and her group for the study and worship periods. Mrs. H. F. Doig acted as accompanist.

Business included the dedication of the baby gifts for the shower for the supply bale.

As a result of the recent clothing drive for European relief an interesting letter of thanks was received by Mrs. Geo. Rowe, from a German woman for the gift of a green coat which her daughter is proudly wearing Reporting for the Christian Stewardship department, Mrs. F. W Craik told the familiar story of Martha and Mary.

Community Friendship is well cared for by Mrs. G. Rowe in calls at hospital and homes and in caring for sick and shut-in members with cards.

The needs of the Local Council of Women were presented by Mrs. L. Bird with an appeal for the support of some foreign child in a war-ravaged country and for contributions to the 'soap' collection.

A note of sadness entered the meeting with the resignation of the well-loved president, Mrs. E. Johnston, owing to illness.

The worship service was led by Mrs. E. M. Davis, assisted by Medames Bryan, Peel, Hunter and Miss Morton on the theme "A new advance in Christian missions."

"Christian missions were born on Easter day," said the leader, who pointed out that advance is possible only if the church receives the divine gift of God's spirit.

The lovely solo "Alone" sung by Mrs. Pearson was in keeping with the spirit of the worship.

The benediction by Miss Bowers closed another inspiriting Easter service.

Rosalind Russell Comes Back To Lavish Gowns

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, April 16 (AP) —Hi-ho Silver, the clothes-horse rides again!

It's Rosalind Russell, who has come out of movie mourning to return to her gay, gussied-up self in "My Next Husband."

For her current film, the actress has umpteen splendiferous gowns that would make Electra jump for joy. Roz could not be happier.

"There is no doubt about it," she explained, "the matinee move trade has fallen off. Women simply are not going to the movies in the daytime as much as they used to. I think I know the reason for this.

"Women used to love to see fabulous fashions in the films. They liked to drool over the out-of-this-world clothes that were worn by Gloria Swanson and Norma Shearer and Joan Crawford and the others.

Miss Glamour

"Nowadays there are no style leaders in the movies."

Movie actresses are missing the boat as far as glamor is concerned. Roz indicated.

"The magazines used to carry lots of photos of film queens in lavish gowns. Now the accent is on home layouts, with the star puttering about the kitchen in a peasant dress. But the average girl reader of the magazine has a peasant dress; she wants to see something glamorous."

Here is good news for harried husbands (including this one), whose wives plunked for new wardrobes because of lowered hemlines. Roz, who agreed that the "new look" was a plot by the dress sellers, said her latest film dresses will be a good 14 inches from the ground. (This compares to a dust-sweeping three inches at the depth of the new look.)

"Hold on to those dresses," said Roz; "they will be back."

6—In Memoriams

ILLINGWORTH—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Harry Illingworth, who passed away April 16, 1938.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow,
For memory keeps her ever near us
Though she died eleven years ago.
—Remembered by husband and family.

JOHNSON—In loving memory of Sidney Johnson, who died April 16, 1944.
Five years have passed since that sad day,
When one we loved was called away,
God took him home—it was His will,
Within our hearts he liveth still.
—Sadly missed by Jean, Ken and his wife.

KENT—In loving memory of a dear wife, Jessie, who passed away April 15, 1943.
Sweet memories will linger forever.
Time cannot change them, it's true,
Years that may come cannot sever,
My loving remembrance of you.
—Ever remembered by husband George, and daughters.

MORTON—In loving memory of my dear wife, Mrs. W. C. Morton, who passed away April 16, 1943.
One of God's greatest gifts—Remembrance.

PRESTON—In loving memory of my dear mother, Hannah Preston, who passed away April 15, 1943.
Six years have passed
Since God took you home on high
To Join Dad and Sister Vie,—
What your passing meant
No one knows but me,
The loneliness and heartaches
As I sit all alone feeling blue.
When days are dark
And friends are few—
Often wishing that you were near
For comfort, advice
Or a word of cheer
When the going's tough
And things look blue
With no one to turn to
Or tell you what to do.
But time rolls on,
Days into weeks,
Months into years
But I still find it hard
To hold back the tears.
For your memory will linger forever
Like the flowers that bloom each year
Transplanted from our garden fair,
That held so many pleasant memories
Of happy hours, we spent there.
—Sadly missed by Sherman.

TAYLOR—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, David Taylor, who passed away April 17, 1946.
Only a memory of bygone days
And a sigh for a face unseen
Knows just what should have been
Sometimes it's hard to understand,
Why some things have to be,
But in His wisdom He has planned
Beyond our power to see.
—Sadly missed by his loving wife and family.

PCVS TEAM PRAISED

Board of Education has sent its congratulations to the Collegiate Basketball team, junior Canadian champions, in winning the title in the final round here last week. The board's letter is being sent to the principal Mr. C. S. Browne, but it is intended particularly for the coach, D. B. Goulding of PCVS staff and to the members of the team. Dr. Ralph Honey's motion was seconded by Mr. G. W. Craw.

ASK FOR TENDERS

Tenders for replacements needed for city police constables' summer uniforms are to be invited. Police Commission decided Thursday to invite tender for boots and summer uniforms.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

Farmers Advised To Expand Public Relations and Tell the Story of Their Own Affairs . . . York County Cow Sets New World Record In Butter Fat Production . . . Another Voice Emphasizes Importance of Grass.

"The average city worker thinks farmers are rolling in wealth, that they pay little or no income tax, have a soft job most of the year with a stretch of real work when planting and harvesting are going on, that they get all their food off the land, and are getting rich at the expense of the hard-working city man," Joseph Connell, general secretary of the Kitchener Y.M.C.A. told 200 farmers at the dinner of the Lincoln Holstein Club at Grimsby April 14.

"Farmers do the poorest job of public relations of any group in Canada," Mr. Connell said, "and I am constantly being amazed at the ignoronce of the role of the farmer expressed by city people with whom I am in daily contact. They don't realize that a successful farmer today must be a specialist in his field, and is entitled to returns in relation to his skill. They don't know that the dairy farmer, with cows to feed and milk, has to be on the job early and late every day of the week, every week of the year. Today don't appreciate how much downright hard work is involved in successful farming.

It is because farmers have never bothered to tell their side of the story to the city men that these misconceptions are so widespread, and it is to prevent unfavorable feeling between the urban and rural people that I believe farmers must in future as individuals and through their organizations do a better public relations job."

There may be a note of exaggeration in Mr. Connell's summary of the notions of city people about the farmer's position, but his advice about public relations should be taken to heart. Farmers have been too disinclined to discuss their affairs—for publication. They are peculiarly apprehensive about their names appearing in print. Some of them think their neighbors would regard them as becoming publicity seekers,, or of losing some of the reticence that has rested on their community. Junior farmers are shedding that disposition, and are becoming vocal; but too many of the elders with their broad experience as background remain reluctant to discuss affairs of their business that properly fall within the purview of public relations.

Farmers have an interesting and perennial story to tell, and it would surprise them if they knew the number of city people who read farm news. This comment could be greatly expanded, but after all, the counsel of Mr. Connell remains with farmers themselves as to willingness to talk about their affairs and generally to seek the kind of publicity for which commercial and industrial institutions engage experts in securing news column space. And among the readers of such information are farmers who fail to see the advantages for themselves of that kind of publicity put forth and dressed up with news interest.

$335 AVERAGE AT SALE

The Holstein sale held March 30 at Oakville, realized $21,460 on 64 head for a general average of $335. Top price was $1,200 paid by James T. Brown, Newcastle, to H. Gregory Merritt, Bowmanville, for the three-year-old heifer Glenafton Rag Apple Theodora, a daughter of the All-Canadian bull "Marksman". A baby calf from this heifer went to H. J. McFarland, Picton, at $350. This calf was sired by Glenafton Rag Apple Caesar who sold for $585 from H. Gregory Merritt to Carl H. Gray, West Liberty, Ohio. "Caesar" is also a son of Marksman.

Thirty-six milking females averaged $346; 15 bred heifers $354; 9 open yearlings $214; 2 heifer calvse $185 and two bulls $392.

TO PREVENT LODGING

"If oats are seeded at a moderate rate of 2 to 2½ bus. to the acre they have a better chance to resist lodging," says Dr. D. G. Hamilton of the Cereal Division, Ottawa. "At the same time, grasses and legumes which are usually seeded down with the oats will come through in better condition. On good soils a 2 to 2½ bus. rate will uually give just as good a yield as heavier rates.

An oat crop can best escape lodging when the plants do not grow too tall; when they have well developed thick straws, and when the anchor root system, just below the sol level, has room to grow vigorously. In thick stands the plants grow spindly. The straws are too thin in relation to their height, and lodging is likely to occur. Those plants which are too thickly spaced in the drill row have poorly developed anchor roots, making them all the more apt to fall over.

NEW WORLD RECORD

Lynnden Hartog Daisy, a Holstein cow owned by Jack Wauchope of York county, recently completed an official test that surpassed all breed records on twice-a-day milking. As a six-year-old she produced in 365 days 1324 pounds of butterfat from 28,422 lbs. milk, average test 4.66% butterfat. This record was made under the supervision of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

"Daisy" exceeded by 185 lbs. the previous world record on twice-a-day milking made in 1947 by another Canadian Holstein, O.H.H. Abbekerk Darkness owned by the Ontario Hospital, Hamilton, with 1139 lbs. butterfat. No Holstein anywhere has ever beat her record even on three times a-day milking. In her best day on test, Daisy gave 111 lbs. (44½ quarts) of milk.

M. F. Cockburn, agricultural representative in York, said Mr. Wauchope began calf club work 14 years ago when he was 12 years old. "He is the type of modern young farmer who has taken advantage of the junior programs sponsored by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. He has been a member eof the Woodbridge or Schomberg calf clubs for the last 14 years, first as a member and latterly as club leader. Three times he was top calf club boy in his club, and in 1940 he and his brother Clifford took 2nd prize in the provincial calf club contest at the CNE. He is a member of the Schomberg junior farmers club."

Mr. Wauchope bought the mother of "Daisy" as a Calf Club calf for only $25 in 1940. The purchase was made from Archie Cameron of Woodbridge.

The world championship for yearly milk production on twice-a-day milking is still held by Doncrest Peg Top Burke, the Canadian Holstein who made her record of 31,935 lbs. of milk containing 1108 lbs. of butterfat in 1945 in the herd of Mrs. Roy Brown, Stouffville.

JUNIOR DELEGATES

For the conference of the Junior Farmers of Ontario at O.A.C. April 24-6, the Peterborough delegates are, Wilma Darling, Dorothy Jackson, Stasia Fitzgerald, Eleanor Whitfield, Ron Frankish, Gerald Finnie, Reg Ferguson, Burritt Mann, Orland Brown, Jack Matchett, Don Milburn.

+ + +

HEIFERS IN MAJORITY

Two-thirds of the calves of artificial breeding in this area are heifers, according to the estimate of Gordon LaPlante. First of the Jerseys of Maple sirng was born at the farm of Roger Hanbidge in Cavan, and the first Ayrshire was Clarence Mann's herd.

"Most of them are big calves, some of them weighing around 100 to 120 pounds," Mr. LaPlante said. "Three-quarters of the farmers have told me they are the best calves they ever owned. The second Holstein at Wm. Rollins' place in Smith sold at eight weeks at 235. It was a pail fed bull that didn't have the advantage of the mother cow's milk. I have heard of one Jersey herd in the district where calves of both natural and artificial breeding have been born this season, and it was said the artificially bred calves looked much the better. It is still too soon to make any definite comparisons, but so far the local Maple Club members have indicated that they are well satisfied with results."

Mr. LaPlante represents the Maple Cattle Breeders Association. Their headquarters at Maple are in New York county.

+ + +

BALANCING FERTILIZER

Here is the other side of the fertilizer equation which farmers try to maintain by their annual purchases and application to their land.

Some animal nutrition authorities estimate that the average dairy cow will consume about six per cent of the immature grass on one acre per day. Limit of her capacity is approximately 150 pounds of green grass or 30 to 35 pounds of dry feed, depending on her size. She will eat enough immature grass when the pasture is at its best for maintenance and production, and will offer one pound of butter fat daily.

The average cow will spend some eight hours of the 24 in grazing and will consume two tons of dry pasture during the grazing season. This will take from the soil 115 pounds of nitrogen, 26 pounds of phosphate, 93 pounds of potash and 37 pounds of calcium oxide each year. The milk from one cow giving 8,000 pounds yearly removes from the soil the equivalent of 80 pounds of superphosphate.

+ + +

SPRAYING FOR WARBLES

Government entmologists recommend that warble fly control is more effective when five per cent roteone is used. Seven and one half pounds of 5 per cent warble fly powder mixed with 80 gallons of water is the ideal mixture. One gallon should be applied to each animal in a strip two feet wide along the backbone. A high pressure spray, 400 pounds at the nozzle, is advised. The nozzle should be held about one foot away and at right angles to the back. Two applications should be made, the first in April and the second in May. Some Ontario municipalities have passed anti-warble fly bylaws, and townships have adopted community campaigns. Similar action in Denmark resulted in a 100 per cent reduction of grubby and punctured hides.

LYNNDEN HARTOG DAISY looks in her recent photograph like just another Holstein cow, but she recently made headlines with a new world record for yearly butter-fat production over all ages and breeds. On twice-a-day milking her total of 1,324 lbs. of fat smashed the previous record by 183 pounds. Her milk yield was 28,422 lbs. "Daisy" is owned by Jack Wauchope, a young farmer of Schomberg York county.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

OFFERS CGE $4,700

Board of Education is offering CGE Co. $4,700 for a property on Monaghan Road immediately south of Prince of Wales School. The value estimated by T. C. Ephgrave was between $4,600 and $4,700. This land extends around the Rye house south of the school lot for 140 ft. frontage on Monaghan Road and is 533 feet in depth. CGE bought the land from the city who had acquired in from the federal government.

KIWANIS GUESTS

Introduced as guests at Thursday weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club were Kiwanian Robert MacIntosh of Kingston and Robert Arnold, ex-member of the Windsor Kiwanis Club, who recently arrived in Peterborough to assume the managership of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. President V. M. McCabe welcomed Mr. Arnold as a new member of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club.

BUY KINGAN HOUSE

Utilities Commission is asking the council to buy for them the old Kingan property at the northwest corner of Aylmer and Dalhousie Streets. It is immediately south of the Utilities premises. The house and lot are assessed to Arthur Robinon and Aileen Rye. Utilities are paying $7,500 for the place, but the council has to do the actual buying.

TO DISCUSS TAXI RATES

City Police Commission decided Thursday to invite the taxi Operators Association to a meeting to be held April 26 to discuss taxi rate areas this being necessitated by recent annexation to the city.

This year Ful-O-Pep Chick Starter is improved and in a new form. It is more granular and increases pallitability for greater early consumption.

Ful-O-Pep is better fitted than ever to meet the needs of poultrymen for 1949.

NUTRITIOUS OATMEAL BASE

The new Ful-O-Pep Chick Starter is built around a base of wholesome nutritious oatmeal. Experienced poultrymen know how beneficial this is. Poultrymen used oatmeal alone to start their chicks even before Chick Starters were developed.

It has been recognized for a long time that oatmeal aids in the production of good blood so essential to health and bone growth. Oat meal is 95% digestible.

Jews Observe Passover Feast

Members of the congregation of Beth Israel Synagogue, Reid street, have been observing their annual Passover festival in the traditional manner of thousands of years during the past few days. The Festival began at sundown Wednesday night and concluded this morning.

Services were held each night in the synagogue from Wednesday to Friday inclusive, in each case being followed by the usual family observance of the Seder in the individual home of members. Services were also held in the synagogue on Thursday and Friday mornings.

The Seder is carried out around a table, with all members of the family participating, and a special Seder dish is served. For a whole week beginning at sundown Wednesday all bread eaten must be unleavened, in commemoration of the period during the Jewish exodus from Egypt 3500 years ago when only unleavened bread could be had.

The Passover has particular significance for Jews this year as it is the first to be observed since the coming into being of the new state of Israel during the past year.

Police Make Plans For Fall Convention

Program plans for the annual convention of the Ontario Police Association, to be held at the Empress Hotel, Peterborough, early next fall, were discussed in detail at a meeting of a joint committee of the association, the Kawartha District Police Association, and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the latter group held on Thursday in the Empress Hotel.

Approximately 500 delegates representing both local and provincial police forces in many part of the province are expected to attend the convention with their wives.

In addition to studying arrangements for business sessions of the 4-day gathering, the meeting mapped out tentative entertainment plans, which are to be quite extensive.

President of the Ontario association is Chief Constable Arthur Webster of Lindsay, formerly of Forest Hill. Constable Douglas Farthing, Peterborough city police, heads the Kawartha association.

Boy 8, Strangled

NEW YORK, April 16—(AP)—An eight-year-old boy who left home to go fishing was found strangled to death Friday in a onetime Bronx amusement park. After an autopsy, authorities termed his death a sex crime. The boy, Jack Goldsmith, was said to have been subjected to an immoral attack.

RUSSIANS READY TO LIFT BLOCKADE

Try To Delay Three-Day Red Deadline

Say Surrender Order May Be Laid Before Generalissimo

NANKING, April 18 (AP)—The government, reliable sources said today, is trying desperately to win a delay in the Communist demand that it surrender by Wednesday.

There were reports that an emissary would leave shortly for Chikow, below Shanghai, to lay before retired President Chiang Kai-shek the 24 points stressed by the Communists for surrender of the Nationalists.

Meanwhile, along a 650-mile Yangtze River front some 100,000,000 troops awaited the word that would set them to fighting again. Some official sources here favored rejection of the Communist demand.

The government has about 500,000 troops scattered along the front. They face superior Communist forces in the north bank of the river.

Fighting may burst out regardless of what answer the Nanking government gives the Communists who want their armies to cross the Yangtze in about a dozen places and take over National troops.

Li Has Small Army

The Communists are dealing with Acting President Li Tsung-jen. Li, at best, controls only 200,000 troops, mostly in the Hankow area. Shanghai and Nanking defence troops are under the control of Gen. Tang En-po, whose loyalty to Chiang Kai-shek has never been questioned.

Many observers here feel that Tang will retire to Shanghai and below rather than fight along the river. Some of his troops likely would go to Formosa, where the bulk of the Chinese navy and air force is still under the domination of Chiang Kai-shek. Others might try to reach South China ports.

High Nanking officials today bitterly criticized the holding of planes in Formosa when they are badly needed here for defence of the capital.

Biggest Carrier Built In U.S.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 18 (AP).—The keel of the world's largest aircraft carrier — large enough to handle bombers capable of carrying atom bombs—was laid today.

No ceremony attended start of work on the 65,000-ton super flattop, which has been the centre of a hot controversy between the United States Navy and the Air Force.

The Air Force regards the $186,000,000 carrier, which will be named the United States, as an invasion of the field of long-range strategic bombing, a field to which the Air Force claims exclusive rights.

The Navy denies this and contends its planes of 1952 should have correspondingly up-to-the-minute seagoing airstrips to operate from.

3 Policemen, Cabbie Killed By Merchant

PULLMAN, Wash., April 18 — (AP)—A young war veteran, rated as an expert marksman, killed four men—three of them police officers—before he was shot dead in a two-hour Easter Sunday gunfight.

The ex-soldier who went "berserk" when an officer tried to arrest him, Police Chief Arthur Rrickets said, was George McIntyre, 24, a merchant. He was a Boy Scout troop leader and an expert marksman in the United States Army during the war.

Rickets said McIntyre bit one man severely in a downtown fight yesterday. Then he shot an officer who tried to arrest him and clubbed the policeman as he lay dying.

When a posse closed in on McIntyre near his home, he opened fire with a German sharpshooter's rifle equipped with telescopic sights. He killed three men and wounded another with this and another rifle before the posse's bullets killed him.

Triplets Born to Montreal Gunman's Wife

Father Hanged On March 11 For Slaying Of Two Policemen

MONTREAL, April 18—(CP)—Triplets were born Sunday to Mrs. Noel Cloutier, wife of the gunman who was hanged last March 11 for the murder of two Montreal policemen.

Cloutier was executed despite pleas for a stay of execution because of his wife's pregnancy.

Hospital authorities reported the mother and the three infants were doing well.

Smallest of the babies is a girl weighing 3½ pounds. Her little brothers weighed four pounds, three ounces and four pounds, seven ounces at birth.

Hospital authorities determined by X-rays three weeks ago, two weeks after Cloutier's execution, that the 22-year-old Mrs. Cloutier would have triplets.

Cloutier was one of three men convicted and sentenced to be hanged for the Sept. 23 slaying of constables Paul-Emile Duranleau and Nelson Paquin in an east-end bank holdup. Douglas Perrault, who is appealing his conviction, is under sentence to died June 17. Donald Perreault has been sentenced to be hanged July 8.

Police Arrest 167 People, 7 For Assault

TORONTO, April 18 (CP)—Police arrested 167 persons during the Easter week-end and charged seven with assault in an outbreak of fights which resulted in injury to two policemen and five other persons.

"I've never seen so many assaults in which there was no reason for trouble," said an officer. "The assailants just seemed to go berserk."

Most persons were arrested for drunkenness. Others were held on charges of assault, thefts or creating disturbances.

Douglas Thibeault, 18, and Norman Blair, 19, were arrested for the assault and robbery of Jack Brundage outside an east-end restaurant after Brundage had been chased from the restaurant by a gang of teen-agers for no apparent reason. Police said the two youths followed him, knocked him down on the street, stole his jacket and $175.

A Donnybrook in a Queen street snack bar in which two police officers were injured resulted in the arrest of Clifford Hefferman, 21, and Donald Clement, 25, on assault charges. Police were called after Clement kicked in the front glass door because the proprietor ordered him out for dancing in the snack bar. Hefferman joined the free-for-all and ripped the officer's tunic.

Stanley Sanecki, 24, was charged with aggravated assault and malicious damage after he was pointed out to police as the man who slugged William Hall over the head with a pop bottle. Hall, who needed six stitches to close the wound, could give no reason for the assault.

Hint July 27 Election

CALGARY, April 18—(CP)—The Calgary Albertan in a front page story today said reporters travelling with Prime Minister St. Laurent on his current western tour, predicted that a Federal general election would be held around July 27.

The newspaper did not disclose the identity of any of the reporters making the prediction.

The Prime Minister said Saturday that no definite date has been set for the election.

Browns File Suit

ST. LOUIS, April 18 (AP) — With efforts to reach compromise settlement deadlocked, St. Louis Browns filed suit today to evict St. Louis Cardinals from Sportsmen's Park, St. Louis Baseball Stadium. The Browns also asked for $222,500 damages. The ball park is owned by the American League Browns but, under a leasing arrangement, has also been used by the National Leaguers for many years.

Irishmen Shed Tears of Joy As Republic Born, Hundreds Dance In Streets

DUBLIN, Ireland, April 18—(CP).—Stalwart Irishmen shed unashamed tears of joy today as they watched soldiers of Erin march proudly—and legally—in honor of the birth of the Republic of Ireland. Among the marchers were many members of the old IRA—the Irish Republican Army—who carried on a furtive and bitter war for years against Britain. They wore the green and gold medal Ireland has bestowed on the survivors of that handful of desperate men who struck against British authorities Easter Monday 33 years ago.

More than 100,000 joyous Irishmen lined the route, and this city rang with their cheers and their songs. Top-hatted, frock-coated President Sean T. O'Kelly beamed down from the reviewing stand as he took the salute of the first legal Irish Army since the English invasion of 780 years ago.

The Pope, the King, Prime Minister Attlee, President Truman, Prime Minister Nehru of India and Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan of South Africa were among those sending telegrams of congratulations to the new republic.

The King said Britain felt "neighborly links" with the Irish Republic.

He added:

"I hold in most grateful memory services and sacrifices of the men and women of your country who rendered gallant assistance to our cause in the recent war and who made a notable contribution to our victories."

In London's Trafalgar Square thousands of Irishmen living in England massed to demand British withdrawal from the northern counties. Former Prime Minister Eamon de Valera refused to paricipate in the rejoicing because the whole island is not yet one united Ireland.

At 12:01 a.m. today — Easter Monday—Eire became the Republic of Ireland. All the pomp and pageantry the country could muster went into the proclamation that Ireland no longer is linked to the Crown.

Bells pealed, cannons roared, rifle salutes were fired and hundreds of thousands of Irishmen danced and sang in the streets. There were lumps in their throats and tears in their eyes as they looked into the skies where piercing searchlights shone on the Republic's flag of white, orange and green fluttering in the Easter night.

"Na poblacht abu!"—Gaelic for "up the Republic!"—they cried.

Take In 26 Counties

That Republic covers 26 counties of the Emerald Isle's 32 counties. The six northern counties voted in February to remain in the United Kingdom. But thousands of Ulstermen came south to help celebrate.

Technicality Blocking Vote

DRESDEN, April 18—(CP)—A legal technicality today blocked a referendum on racial discrimination in this western Ontario town.

A vote had been scheduled for tomorrow on whether restaurant proprietors should be compelled to serve all patrons, regardless of race or color.

Mayor Walter S. Weese said today the vote had been indefinitely postponed because "the law requires us to advertise the holding of a referendum three times in the local newspapers. The town council neglected to do that."

The referendum had been requested by the town's 300 negro residents who claimed three of the town's five restaurants discriminate against them.

Mayor Weese said the issue would be raised at the next session of the council—scheduled for the first Monday in May.

Families Appeal For Protection

ASBESTOS, Que. April 18 (CP) —Terror-stricken families of non-striking workers at the Johns Manville plant here appealed for further police protection over the week-end.

The appeal followed a new outbreak of violence affecting nine families during the last week. The 2,500 striking employees have been idle since their walkout last Feb. 13.

Police said Ernest Dionne, reported his baby was hit on the head by a stone tossed through a window om his home. Another, Adelard Fortin, said he had been struck on the head by a stone.

Send More Police

MONTREAL, April 18 (CP) — Deputy Director Hilaire Beauregard of the provincial police said Sunday night that detachments in Asbestos will be increased today.

Police will renew night patrols in an effort to "put an end to this fresh wave of terror."

"We increased our staff a few weeks ago when things there were relatively quiet but in view of the latest outbreak, we are going to re-inforce our detachment once more."

Says Weather Predictions Can Be Made Year Ahead

WASHINGTON, April 18. — (AP).—Weather predictions for 12 months in advance are possible for any city, Dr. Charles G. Abbot, famed sun expert of the Smithsonian institution, reported today. He bases the system on periodic fluctuations in the heat radition of the sun.

Abbot disclosed a near-perfect record for predicting cool and warm days—but actual dates—in the United States capital during 1948, and said the method could be applied to any other local area.

Abbot's report concerns temperature variations only. But he also has worked out a similar solar method of forecasting the likelihood of rain or fair weather on specific dates a year ahead of time.

Here's what Abbot did in 1948 about Washington temperatures:

In January of that year, he selected 55 specific dates—four or five for each month—when he said the temperatures would drop to a minimum and then start rising again. Between the "cold days," he predicted, there would be warmer days averaging 7.1 degrees higher, followed by a drop to another minimum.

Then he locked his predictions in a safe.

Early this year the safe was opened by the director of the Smithsonian astrophysical observatory and the predictions were checked with the actual weather record of the United States weather bureau.

Out of the 55 "minima" predicted, said Abbot, 48 dates had lower temperatures than others intervening between them. The average excess of the warmer days was 6.96 degrees, against 7.1 degrees predicted.

Discuss Expanding Market In Canada

OTTAWA, April 18 — (CP) — Expanding the United Kingdom's market of engineering goods in Canada will be the focal point of Anglo-Canadian trade discussions to be held in London next month, it was learned authoritatively Sunday night.

The talks will be held informally between Trade Minister Howe and British industrialists and government officers. Mr. Howe will leave Canada April 27 for his 19-day visit to the U.K. He will be accompanied by Max W. Mackenzie, deputy minister of trade.

Increasing British exports of engineering equipment, such as farm implements and factory machinery is expected to balance in part a suggestion made by Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, last week that the U.K. was buying three times as much goods as she was selling to Canada.

Report Envoy On Way To U.S. Parley

Want To Back Down But Seeking Way To Save Face In Deal

BERLIN, April 18 (AP)—Are the Russians seeking a diplomatic way to lift the blockade of Berlin and still "save face?"

For several weeks, there have been reports of new Soviet efforts to find a way out of what has become a boomerang situation.

The Allied counter-blockade has deprived the Russian occupation zone of Germany and many of the Soviet satellite countries of materials necessary to their economic well-being.

There were reports from authoritative sources in Germany Sunday that Germans of the eastern zones are putting pressure on the Russians to lift the blockade.

Die Welt, official British army newspaper at Hamburg, said the Germans of the Russian zone want to resume trade with Western Germany.

Die Welt said Vladimir Dekonosov, former Russian ambassador to Germany, "has been in Berlin for several days to advise the Soviet military administration on these proposals about resuming inter-zonal trade and traffic, which have now reached a decisive stage."

The story was supported in part by Lawrence Wilkinson, economics adviser to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States Military Governor. He said the Communist-dominated German Economic Commission of the Eastern zone had sent informal communications to German officials in Frankfurt asking a common effort to get a trade started again between Eastern and Western Germany.

Wilkinson said the American answer was "Nothing doing. No trade until the blockade of Berlin is fully lifted.

Die Welt said the German Economic Commission told the Russians their two-year economic plan is doomed to failure unless Western products can be obtained.

In London, the Daily Mail says today a Soviet envoy is reported en route to Washington with a proposal for lifting the Berlin blockade if that city is turned over completely to the United Nations."

In a Berlin dispatch the newspaper said the Russian suggestion is to turn Berlin over to the U.N. as a "neutral" city after "road and rail communications with Western Europe have been restored."

Hotel Manager Watches Beating

MONTREAL, April 18 (CP) — Robert Klapper, 43-year-old sailor who was beaten up Sunday by men he claimed were Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) members, was reported today to be suffering from a probable fracture and lacerations of the face and head.

Klapper, one of a group of men who quit the CSU to join the rival Seafarers' International Union (AFL), was beaten in his mid-town McGill College Avenue hotel room.

Police said a group of men entered the hotel early Sunday, took the manager upstairs with them and entered Kapper's room. While the manager looked on, Klapper was beaten into unconsciousness.

Hospital authorities said they took 40 stitches to close his wounds.

Klapper was boatswain of the Elder-Dempster Lines freighter Chandler. Nineteen of the vessel's 31 crew members voted before the ship arriyed here Friday to leave the CSU, now striking against deep-sea shipowners, and join the SIU.

Fire On Demonstrators

BERLIN, April 18 (Reuters)—Russian sector German police fired on riotous demonstrators to-day in a crowd of 30,000 people watching cycle races at the Berlin Stadium, the German news agency Dena reported.

Saves House On Fire

AURORA, April 18 (CP).—A telephone operator who put in a general alarm summoned neighbors today and saved the six-room frame house of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Chambers from fire. Neighbors, summoned by King township operator Mary Smith, arrived in time to see Chambers carrying buckets of water from a pump. By the time firemen arrived the fire was out. The Chambers' three children, Gail, 9, Shirley, 7, and Sharon, 5, were forced out of the house. Damage was slight.

Calgary Lawyer May Join Federal Cabinet

By Canadian Press Staff Writer.

REGINA, April 18 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent may name a Calgary lawyer, Marshall Porter, to a cabinet post before the Federal election, it is learned today, as one step in his efforts to build up Liberal power in the four Western provinces where the party now holds 17 of 71 seats.

Between the speeches and functions who have been the outward marks of his western tour, he has found time for private talks with party workers—many of whom are far from ruling out a June or July election and are acting accordingly.

No Tips Given

There is no indication yet, after a week in British Columbia and Alberta, that he has tipped his workers off as to when the vote will be. The Prime Minister himself insists that he hasn't made up his mind and that the final decision will rest with the Cabinet. But he had left no doubt that the country will go to the polls this year.

In Alberta, dominated by the Social Credit Party, he appealed for support with the argument that no other party than his is capable of winning the majority that would allow stable government. In CCF-dominated Saskatchewan, he is expected to do the same this week. In divided British Columbia, he is believed to have held up the spectre of minority government as a reason for party toil.

The naming of Mr. Porter to a Cabinet post before his election would be far from a precedent. At least four of the present cabinet entered it that way. It is considered a boon to a candidate's prestige.

In his middle 50s, Mr. Porter has important connections with the oil and grain industries as well as other qualifications which party strategists think would make him a logical man to succeed Hon. James Mackinnon, Minister Without Portfolio and an Edmonton member, who is expected to go to the Senate shortly before the election.

Mr. Porter is understood to nave visited Ottawa two weeks ago when he was asked to let his decision be known to the prime minister on his visit to Calgary He is believed to have replied in the affirmative.

He is expected to contest the MacLeod seat now held by Social Credit.

Significance is attached to the fact that the June 15 date of the British Columbia provincial election was announced the day Mr. St. Laurent left the province.

It was obvious that embarrassments would arise if the two elections came too close together, with Liberals and Conservatives battling in one and not battling in another.

Hint Reorganization Of Film Censor Board

TORONTO, April 18 (CP) — A complete reorganization of the Ontario Motion Picture Censor Board was hinted today to be "in the exploratory stage" by officials of the provincial government. The board, headed by director O. J. Silverthorne, now is comprised of one woman and two men.

The board, which is under the authority of Provincial Treasurer Frost, was criticized by Opposition members of the legislature during the recent session for allowing showing of too many films emphasizing sex and crime. Government officials said today the board would likely be increased and would include an equal number of men and women.

PEARSON IN LONDON

LONDON, April 18—(CP)—L B Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister, arrived today at Northolt airport to attend the commonwealth conference.

Lad's Sad Easter Letter May Get Him Mother, Dad

PITTSBURGH, April 18 (AP) —Andy Tompos, Jr., 10, who thinks "everybody that has a mother has good luck," may get both a mother and a father.

A Norfolk, Va., man and his wife want to adopt the Latrobe, Pa., lad because Andy's story "sounds so much" like the man's own childhood. Andy wrote a wistful letter in search of his mother that made the front page of the Easter edition of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. His letter said he was "always worrying where I'll go when by grandma dies."

Andy's ailing grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Oblywaniuk have not seen Andy's parents in many years.

Now Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Bundy of Norfolk offer the lad a home. Bundy said:

"I never thought I was softhearted but when I read that child's pathetic letter, I just sat down and cried. It hit close to home—I really want him."

Bundy said he, too, was raised by grandparents. His mother died in a fire when he was four and his father was killed in an auto accident five years later.

20 Strikers Raid Liner Beat Passengers In Early Morning Attack

Men On Beaverburn Bound For England To Pick Up New Vessel; Battle Most Violent Since Season Opened

MONTREAL, April 18—(CP).—Violence shattered the Easter Sunday quiet of Montreal's troubled waterfront when a raiding party boarded the cargo-liner Beaverburn and beat up passengers asleep in their cabins. A spokesman for the Canadian Pacific Steamships, owners of the Beaverburn, described the 20 passengers as "long-time employees of the company on the west coast en route to England to bring back a new vessel, the Princess Patricia.

Six of the men injured in the dawn attack were from Vancouver. They needed treatment in hospital for cuts and bruises suffered in the 20-minute, fist-swinging battle but were discharged in time to sail on the Beaverburn at mid-day.

The CPS spokesman said "some of the crew were members of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Employees." Others belonged to the Seafarers' International Union (AFL). Eight of the party did not sail. No reason was given for them not sailing.

The battle was the most violent since the Montreal navigation season opened last week during the deep-sea shipping strike called by the Canadian Seaman's Union (TLC) after Canadian shipowners signed an agreement with the rival SIU.

20 Men In Raid

Police estimated that 20 men took part in the raid, catching the Beaverburn men while still asleep in their bunks at 4 a.m. Twenty minutes later when police in five cars reached the pier there was no sign of the raiders.

There were no arrests and police declined comment on whether they had any leads an the attackers or their reason for the assault.

Numerous clashes have occurred between members of the CSU and SIU, in their tug-of-war for control of shipping jobs since the strike developed more than two weeks ago.

James Tandy, 40, of Montreal, who was gangplank guard on the Beaverburn, said he was knocked unconscious by two men who boarded the ship first. He said he believed them to be members of the ship's All-British crew.

Police said that members of the Beaverburn's crew did not take part in the battle.

Labrador Village Sends New Plea For Medical Aid

ST. JOHN'S, April 18—(CP)—Hebron, tiny outpost huddled on the mountainous north Labrador coast, today tended its sick with one hand and crossed fingers on the other.

Nearly 350 miles south at Goose Bay, the RCAF prepared to wing aloft with penicillin for 100 ailing persons in the settlement, reported Sunday in the grip of an influenza epidemic.

Premier Joseph Smallwood read a message here telling of the village's plight. He then urged the air force at Goose to fly in needed medicines as soon as possible.

Hundreds of miles south, the icebreaker Saurel took a breather after slugging her way through grinding ice floes to bring food to Southern Labrador hamlets reported short of provisions.

Saurel shoved her way to the settlement of Anchorage, near the St. Mary's Bay region where a half-dozen villages were menaced by starvation last week. Their situation has been alleviated by airborne food parcels.

The Canadian icebreaker dumped her $25,000 food-cargo at Anchorage. Supplies will be lugged overland to wherever they are most needed.

Some 60 persons were reported sick in Hebron last week by Mrs. Margaret Grubb, wife of a Moravian missionary in the predominantly-Eskimo village.

An air force doctor, Sqdn. Ldr. J. Kettles, was flown in from Goose after Mrs. Grubb said her patients did not respond to ordinary influenza treatment.

Board Begins Oshawa Hearing

OSHAWA, April 18 (CP) — A conciliation board today starts hearings aimed at settlement of a dispute between the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) and the Oshawa Engineering and Welding Company.

The Ontario Labor Relations Board certified the union as plant bargaining agent last November without a vote of employees. Recently three employees asked to have a vote held, claiming the steel union does not represent a majority of the plant's 28 employees.

Burglar's Tarzan Act Nets Him $2800 Drugs

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 18.—(AP).—A burglar who dangled Tarzan-like from a frayed rope and sawed his way into a drug company building was at large today with $2,800 worth of narcotics.

An official of the Keyboer Wholesale Drug Company said the 185 packages of morphine and codelinne might net the underworld $100,000 in sales to dope addicts.

The strong and daring thief also made off with $300 in cash and $1,000 in cheques when he broke into the building during the week-end.

Officers said the man gained his entrance by climbing an 18-foot rope left dangling from a scaffolding. Then, swinging by one hand, he broke two panes in an 18-pane window, sawed through two of the steel frames and climbed in

St. Paul's Choir Sings Messiah

One of the musical treats of the Easter season in Peterborough was the singing of excerpts from the Messiah by the choir of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening. The service was entirely choral and the choir under the direction of the organist Christopher Gledhill, MA, Mus. Bac. (Oxon) received well merited praise for its effort.

Mr. Gledhill played the accompaniment demonstrating once again to Peterborough audiences that he is an organist of great ability and a student of choral work. Choruses, solos and a quartette from parts 2 and 3 were sung by the choir with the solo work being taken by George Coleman, John Anderson, Mrs. Jessie Spenceley, Mrs. L. R. Mitchell and Mrs. F. Board.

The choruses with Mrs. Grace Munro giving that lead to the sopranos which is always necessary for good choral work. Behold the Lamb of God; Surely; Lift Up Your Heads; Hallelujah; Worthy is the Lamb and Amen. Mr. Coleman sang, Why Do the Nations, Behold I Tell You a Mystery and The Trumpet Shall Sound, Mrs. Spencley, He Was Despised; Mrs. Mitchell, How Beautiful Are the Feet; Mrs. Board, I Know that My Redeemer Liveth and Mr. Anderson, Thy Rebuke Hath Broken His Heart. The quartet composed of Mrs. Mitchell, Mr. Anderson, Miss O. Rome and James McBride sang with the chorus, Since By Man Came Death.

At the morning service the church was filled to capacity with Rev. C. G. Boyd taking as his subject, Hail, the Resurrection Thou. The choir sang the anthem, This is the Day and the junior choir was heard in the Dutch carol, This Joyful Eastertide.

$400 Camera Stolen From Parked Car

Personal belongings worth more than $500 were stolen from Pete McGillen's car, parked on Thursday evening on the downtown Toronto lot at Yonge and Melinda Streets.

"Don't depend on locking your car, at least not in Toronto," Mr. McGillen ruefully warned Peterborough visitors to the big town. "I thought I had everything secure, although I was not particularly thinking of the possibility of theft. I was away from the car from around 6 p.m. until 8.15 for supper. Somebody jimmied the no-draft window partly open for enough room to reach down and turn the handle from the inside. The missing things were a $400 camera that was a gift from my wife about a year ago, my suit case and its clothing contents, and several other articles. The value totalled something over $500."

Former city editor of the Examiner, Mr. McGillen is now on the staff of the Toronto Telegram.

Rambling Reporter

SO NOW YOU KNOW

We learn something every day according to a well-known platitude. And that applies to confectioners as well as the rest of us. A young lady, who moved into the city recently, last week walked into a shop and asked for "a tin roof." The proprietor gulped and was about to refer her to the nearest tinsmith when he caught the gleam in her eye. The story has a happy ending: "a tin roof," she explained for the benefit of the uninitiated consists of two scoops of plain ice cream; a dash of chocolate sauce; and peanuts sprinkled on top. For those who require an explanation: peanuts are kept in tns, and the contents are sprinkled on top of the dish. Tin—Roof. Get it?—D.W.

Allied Fliers Break Record For Berlin Airlift In Perfect Performance

Take 12,940.9 Tons Of Food, Machinery In Big Easter Present, Prove Planes Can Easily Supply Divisions

By THOMAS A. REEDY

BERLIN, April 18—(AP).—Allied fliers shattered all Berlin airlift records Saturday and said they proved that combat divisions can be supplied by air alone. British and United States airmen set out to learn just how many planes could be landed here in a 24-hour period by instrument flying. The result was:

1,398 flights from western bases to Templehof, Gatow and Tegel fields in blockaded western Berlin.

12,940.9 tons of food, coal and machinery—equal to 22 trains of 50 freight cars each.

The radar system was pushed to the absolute saturation point, a high American officer said, adding:

"There were no mishaps. It was a perfect performance."

Good Weather

The airlift commanders chose a period of perfect weather for the venture. The skies were cloudless from Berlin to the Rhine.

It was a huge Easter present for Western Berlin. The previous one-day record was 8,246.1 tons, set April 11.

Before the Russians imposed their blockade last June, about 9,000 tons of supplies moved to Berlin daily by rail from Western Germany. Considerably more, however, reached the city by road and water lanes, especially from the east.

All previous airlift performances such as the China-India flights, were put in the shade by this job. Airmen said it proved planes alone could easily supply divisions aground—a job largely handled in the past by trains and fleets of trucks.

Obituaries

MISS LORETTA GARVEY

LAKEFIELD, April 18 (ENS)—The death of Miss Loretta (Laura) Garvey, of Smith Township, occurred on Sunday in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, after a brief illness. Miss Garvey, who had resided in Smith Township for the past 47 years, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Garvey (nee Catherine Sheehan). She is survived by four sisters and five brothers.

Miss Garvey was an active worker in St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, Lakefield, having been a member of the Catholic Women's League and the Altar Society.

Funeral will be held Wednesday, with requiem mass at 9:00 a.m. in St. Paul's Church. Rev. Dr. J. V. Masterson will officiate and interment will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery, Douro. The body is at the late residence.

HARRY FLINDERS.

After an illness of several months, Harry Flinders of 211½ Hunter St. W., died on Sunday in his 75th year.

Mr. Flinders was born in Manchester, England, and came to Canada as a Barnardo Home Boy. He has desided in Peterborough for 62 years.

Besides his wife, the former Minnie Powell, he leaves three daughters— Mrs. Morley James (Mary), Mrs. Roland Glover (Irene), both of Peterborough, and Mrs. Joseph Mulholland (Florence of Hastings.

The body is resting at the Bellegham Funeral Home where the funeral will be held on Tuesday at 2 p.m., the Ven. Archdeacon C. W. Balfour of St. John's Anglican Church officiating. Burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

Formerly Miss Jean Dey, she was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, daughter of Andrew Dey and Helen Davidson. She leaves her husband and a sister, Miss Jean Dey.

Mrs. Saffrey came to Canada in 1920, returning to Scotland in 1939. In 1947 she came back to Canada.

A service a the Kaye Funeral Home will be conducted by Salvation Army Major Charles Watt on Wednesday at 2 p.m., followed by burial in Little Lake Cemetery.

ENDORSE HOUSING RESOLUTIONS

Two resolutions on housing, submitted by the Housing Committee of the Ontario Provincial Command, Canadian Legion, have been endorsed by the Oshawa Branch. The first called on the Dominion Government to call a conference including Provincial and Municipal governments to tackle the problems of eviction and the housing shortage. The second requested the Dominion to declare a state of national emergency on housing. These resolutions are being submitted to all Legion Branches in Ontario.

5 Youths Held Assault Driver

ALEXANDRIA, Ont., April 18 (CP)—Quebec provincial police Sunday rounded up five young men and removed them to police headquarters in Montreal following the beating of Raymond Hurtubise, 28-year-old resident of this town, about 50 miles east of Ottawa.

In police custody are Hugh McDonald, Don McDonald, Anthony McKay, George McKay, all of Dalhousie Station, Que., about 10 miles east of here, and John Longman of Hollywood, Calif.

Hurtubise told police he and his wife were driving home from Dalhousie Station shortly after midnight Saturday. As he stopped the car at a railway crossing, another car pulled up alongside, several men leaped out and dragged Hurtubise from his vehicle.

He was beaten about the head and required medical treatment for a broken jaw, eye and chin injuries and bruises to the back of the head.

The young men were picked up by Ontario provincial police and handed over to Quebec police. It was not known whether charges had been laid against them.

Oddfellows Rally At Oshawa Rite

About 30 members from the Kawartha Encampment of Peterborough attended the annual rally of Encampment No. 19, Independent Order of Oddfellows, held in Oshawa. Included in the district are Port Hope, Oshawa, Orillia, Peterborough, and other nearby localities.

Under direction of Degree Captain William Petrie, the Kawartha Encampment exemplified the Golden Rule Degree. The Ontario Encampment of Oshawa exemplified the Golden Purple Degree.

Among those from Peterborough who had both degrees conferred on them were William Atkins, Robert Henderson and Donald Perks.

Visitors were present from Toronto as well as other outside points.

Warn Capetown Race Riots May Be Renewed

CAPETOWN, April 18—(Reuters)—A government commission which investigated last January's riots in Durban between native Africans and East Indians warned today that the natives may again attack the Indians to square their account.

The commission said:

"Unless the position is carefully watched and all exhibitions of public violence are firmly repressed, the natives may make another attack upon the Indians . . ."

It absolved the authorities from any blame for failing to prevent the initial outbreak, and the police from any failure to repress riots.

Among factors causing the riots, the commission listed the housing situation among natives; the herding together in compounds of large numbers of African men; and the unsettling influence upon the African mind of the fact that South Africa has a hostile press abroad.

The commission found that there were Europeans who actively incited the natives to deeds of violence against the Indians, but said it was satisfied that these Europeans were rare exceptions.

The report also referred to alleged exploitation of natives by Indian shopkeepers, economic competition between natives and Indians in employment, the social status of the races and discriminatory legislation.

"Contrary to the opinion prevailing abroad, the average native is a keen supporter of segregation," the report said. "He realizes that as yet he is ill-equipped in the fight for survival which has become so sharp in modern times."

Lost 17 Months Dog Turns Up

WALTHAM, Mass., April 18—(AP)—The Hall family said today a weary dog that plodded by their front door was the pet they lost 17 months ago in Kentucky.

Henry Hall said "Jeep," a four-year-old mongrel Spitz, was ill and apparently half-starved and his paws were swollen and sore to the touch.

He said the Saga of their pet began in November, 1947.

At that time, Mr. and Mrs. Hall and their three children were in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Kentucky en route to a visit in California.

They tied Jeep to the automobile bumper while they stopped for a meal. When they came out Jeep was gone. The Halls spent nine months in California, then returned to Waltham.

Recalls Ambassador

TEHERAN, April 18 —(CP)—Iran has recaled Hamid Sayah, her ambassador to Moscow, and appointed Communications Minister Arasteh Nader to the post, it was officially announced here today. Meanwhile, the Soviet consul-general at Tabriz, Iran, left for Moscow with his entire staff. This was considered here a form of pressure on Iran to get her to change her so-called "hostile attitude" towards the Soviet Union.

Born In Octagonal House, 1869 F. W. Lee Buried Here Saturday

Son of an old Peterborough family whose home was on George St., near Park Hill Road years ago, Frederick W. Lee of Toledo, Ohio, was buried at Little Lake Cemetery Saturday.

Mr. Lee was born 80 years ago in Peterborough, son of John Lee and his wife, Sarah Jane Carlisle, sister of the late John and David Carlisle of this city. His father was a millwright with the Auburn Woollen Company which was eventually acquired by Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Co. Limited. Its stone buildings, long a landmark on the east side of the river in the northend of Ashburnham, were demolished by Dominion Woollens several years prior to the outbreak of the second World War. All that remains of the factory is the brick warehouse used by G. Whitaker & Co., Ltd. It was a modern addition to the Auburn Woollens plant.

The home of John Lee was in the octagon house on the west side of George St., south of Park Hill Road. Other members of that family lived in the vicinity, with the result that in those days when Park Hill Road was virtually the northern boundary of the town, the neighborhood was known as Lee's Corners.

Fred Lee was attracted to the newspaper business as a boy through the Peterborough Morning Times which was located in the premises of the Regent Theatre on Hunter St. The proprietor, William Robertson, was an uncle of Mr. Lee, and it came about that the nephew spent much of his time around the newspaper plant. It is recalled that when Fred Lee was only 12 years old, Mr. Robertson gave him and his brother Hammond (Hammy) Lee sufficient type to publish a weekly paper.

Mr. Lee was a member of the 57th Regiment Band in his youth, and also of the 48th Highlanders, Toronto.

Mr. Lee learned his trade with the Times and then went to Toronto. He was one of the mechanical staff who helped the late Joseph E. Atkinson establish the Toronto Daily Star. That was an experience which Mr. Lee often recalled with satisfaction in the great success of the Toronto Star. Later he went to the Montreal Star, the government printing bureau in Ottawa, the Buffalo Chronicle where he was employed at the time of the assassination of President McKinley and finally to the Toledo News-Bee. He had been ill during the last two years and a half, and died in Toledo Tuesday, April 12.

The funeral service at Comstock's funeral home Saturday afternoon was conducted by Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. The pall-bearers were members of the Examiner staff and of the International Typographical Union: Maurice Dunkley, Robert Baker, Richard Martin, Vince O'Donoghue, John Anderson and Fred C. Scates. Burial was in the family plot at Little Lake Cemetery. Among those attending were Mrs. Lee and Mr. Edward C. Manning, 640 George St., one of the few remaining elders of the old section of Peterborough that used to be known as Lee's Corners.

THOUSANDS OF ACRES of rich Manitoba farmland were inundated when the Assiniboine River burst its northern banks from St. Xavier, 18 miles west of Winnipeg, to Poplar Point, 45 miles away. This aerial photo shows Highway No. 1 surrounded by the rampaging waters.

Bright Colors Take Place Of Drab While Vanity Comes To Forefront

"Vanity of vanities; all is vanity," said Ecclesiastes dourly as he survey the world around him. It is still a matter of dispute among theologians what brought on this sour observation by the Old Testament prophet, but it found an echo on Easter Sunday in a Peterborough pulpit.

The Cleric, usually an affable soul, glanced at the swollen ranks of his congregation and his eye (perhaps not unnaturally) drifted toward the fair sex in all its finery.

He saw red. As a matter of fact he saw not only red but also green, yellow, purple, blue—all colors of the rainbow—in great gobs and splashes. And there were enough gaily colored feathers to accommodate a complete flock of birds in an alcoholic's dream of a fowl farm.

Later, addressing the congregation, he said that Easter to some apparently meant dressing up in their newest and gaudiest clothes and showing them off to and from church.

The spiritual significance has been lost sight of by too many, he chided.

A few guilty looks were exchanged among the women, while the men, for once, felt smugly complacent. For it is not often that the fair sex is in the majority among the backsliders.

Sharp though it was, like many a rebuke to "the girls" it percolated through and was gone rather rapidly. By the time church was over they were once more happily preening themselves and gaping around to see if any hussy was wearing an identical hat or dress.

On such light rocks are female friendships shattered, according to a recent publication of the anti-feminist underground.

All this is a rather long way of stating the simple fact that regardless of inclement weather, criticism by impecunious husbands, the vanity-cry of the breast-beating Ecclesiastes or the hell-fire threat of the Savonarolas, the ladies will continue to pride themselves on new and pretty clothes.

But it was not only the girls that dressed up for Peterborough's Easter Parade. The cleaners and pressers pre-Easter business is ample evidence that males both young and old were keen on brushing up for the annual sartorial show-off.

A few zoot suits, though of doubtful appropriateness, made some sort of impression as the wearers sauntered down George Street.

Police report that the Easter throng, probably due to the chilly air, was smaller than usual. But gaily-decked out couples, not to be denied, strolled briskly up and down the not-too-inviting main street.

"If they want a real Easter parade why don't they get a board walk, like Sunnyside," commented one couple who denied they were strolling and contended they were on their way to catch a train.

The usual number of haphazardly attired youths who have nothing to do on Sunday, lounged up against store fronts and gauged their appreciation of strolling talent by the intensity of loud-low whistles. Nobody seemed to care very much, except a few thin-lipped ladies on the way to some church or other.

"What did I think of the Easter Parade?" repeated one Peterborough resident when queried today. "Well, I'll tell you. With two days' beard on my face and attired in an ancient windbreaker and an even older pair of pants I went down to the CPR station to welcome home the Peterborough hockey team.

It takes all kinds to make a world.

Car Lot Joy Riders

Two men who went for a joy ride in a car which they took from Ernie Johnson's car sales lot on Water St. Saturday, spent Easter in the cells at city police station.

William Brown and Herbert Fontaine visited the car lot Saturday and were refused permission to take a car out for a trial run. Ernie Johnson, who laid a charge today of theft of use of the car says the men pushed him aside after he had refused them a trial run and drove off.

Wildlife Survey For Durham Given Minister

TORONTO, April 18—A survey of the wildlife possibilities in Durham county has been completed by W. W. H. Gunn, A. H. Lawrie, A. T. Cringan and R. G. Young; and a complete report has been released by Lands and Forests Minister Harold R. Scott.

The survey was conducted in order to determine the status of game within the county and also to assess the present habitats for game and effects of present and impending land use upon the habitats. The survey was restricted primarily to mammals and birds that can be legally hunted and trapped," Mr. Scott pointed out.

Durham county lies on the north shore of Lake Ontario, its western boundary about 15 miles east of Toronto. There are six townships in the county, which covers an area of 631 square miles or 404,000 acres.

In game management, the survey group declared: "Under present conditions no relaxation of the game laws is recommended but it is noticed that ruffed grouse and deer appear to be on the increase in the county. It is considered that the most practical form of game management which can be undertaken in this county is that of stimulating local initiative. The active and progressive Durham County Federation of Sportsmen offer a starting point for such a program. This organization has established good relations with the farmers and it is probable that they would be willing to undertake a planned conservation program if given sufficient encouragement.

Replace Cut Timber

Such a program, it was suggested, might be initiated in improvement of woodlots, marsh areas, streams and upland game habitat. "The outstanding characteristic of woodlots in this county is the fact that they are heavily grazed and to rectify this farmers shoud be encouraged to fence all or part of their woodlot or, at least, to practise rotational grazing. Selective cutting should be encouraged since the present practice of clean cutting is both wasteful of timber and destructive of game range. Replacement of cut timber by reforestation should be encouraged and provision made for the interspersion of types. In this regard land owners should be properly informed of the variety of trees available, their growth requirements, their advantages and the methods of planting them. In the case of farms on which plantations are maintained, culling and pruning should be encouraged."

Under marsh improvement, it is suggested: "The fencing of marshes from cattle should be encouraged and, if essential, well-fenced watering places substituted for open accesses. The planting of desirable aquatic plants should be encouraged and information provided as to where seeds, bulbs and cuttings may be obtained. Where marshes are the products of damming a stream, the maintenance of a constant level should be encouraged. The planting of desirable and suitable species of fish should also be encouraged, as should the netting of undesirables, such as carp. In the event that the marsh is used by muskrats and other fur-bearers, as is likely in this county, selective trapping should be encouraged.

Fence Streams

"The reforestation of eroding headwaters, indeed of all eroding land, should be encouraged, as should maintenance of stream side covers and its replacement. Streams should be fenced from cattle with the exeception, where necessary, of restricted watering places. Farmers should be encouraged to give consideration to converting waste lands into ponds or marshes by the costruction of earthen dams. Stocking of streams with desirable and suitable fur-bearers and fish should be encouraged and where the former occur, the practice of selective trapping should be employed. Construction of stream improvements, baffles, fish cover, etc., should be encouraged.

Bearing in mind the suggestions, the survey group pointed out "the following game species are considered those most likely to prosper in Durham County under management: ruffed grouse, woodcock, black duck, blue-wing teal, wood duck, migrating ducks in season, muskrat, fox, European hare, mink, deer, beaver, cottontail. Pheasants which have been introduced into the county, are unlikely to do well, although they may survive through a succession of mild years. The value of plantings of these species is considered questionable in most areas, and they are wasted in the northern area," the report states.

Car Overturns

BOWMANVILLE, April 18 — (CP)—Charles Kemp, 50, of Toronto, was taken to hospital in Oshawa Sunday night with back injuries and possible concusion when his car overturned in a ditch near here. An added complication was a can of green paint in his car, which showered him when the car rolled over. His condition is reported as "satisfactory."

Site Obtained For New Centre

COBOURG, April 18 (ENS) — Biggest feature of the Canadian Legion "Rec" troupe show last night was the announcement by Mayor Joseph Smith that the Denton property would be the site of the new recreational centre. This climaxes about two years' efforts to find a site, during which time many locations were considered, only to have them discarded for various reasons.

The "Rec" shows have raised over a $1,000 for the recreation fund, but up until last night the campaign was hampered somewhat by the fact that the site was still undecided. The Denton property, which is situated at the corner of Ontario and Furnace streets, will cost $4,200. The necessary confirmation of the purchase will be made at the Council meeting on Tuesday evening.

Pat Rafferty, who was with the original "Dumbells" show after the First Great War, was the feature attraction at the "Rec" show, proceeds of which will go to the Crippled Children's Easter seal campaign of Cobourg Rotary Club. Three clever youngsters from Peterborough, Donna, Judy and Beth Colleson, presented vocal numbers. They were semi-finalists in the Famous Players' competition.

Benny Lesenko, expert harmonica player of Oshawa, who has appeared in night clubs of Toronto and Montreal, also contributed to the program. Dorothy Hardy of Oshawa, was another guest performer with song and elocution numbers.

From the local talent pool came Glenda Seyers, Brian and Warren Taylor, Russ Taylor, Jack Giddings, Gordon Pearst, Glenn Seyers, A. Hircock, W. Harper, E. Houghton, L. Stinson and Mrs. W. Huggins.

Boy Falls Out Of Car Has Only Few Bruises

BOWMANVILLE, April 18—John Moore, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore of Oshawa, tumbled out of his father's car Sunday, rolled across the highway and came up with nothing worse than a few bruises.

His mother turned around, saw the child hanging to the handle of the open door and shouted to her husband to stop. John tumbled out into the path of a truck, but the truck stopped a few yards from him. A brother, David, 5, was also in the back seat of the car.

John was taken to Dr. C. W. Ferrier, who found he was bruised and frightened, nothing more.

Easter Parade Marred

COBOURG, April 18—(ENS)—Easter Sunday was fair, but very cool here. The Easter parade consisted of some of the more venturesome girls in suits, but mostly the parade was composed of the fair sex garbed in winter coats, shivering in the cold wind, hurrying home from church. Church services were attended by large congregations both morning and evening.

Fine Easter Anthems Presented By Choirs

CAMPBELLFORD, April 18.—(ENS)—Easter was observed in local churches on Sunday with special music and messages on the Resurrection. At the evening service in St. John's United Church a sacred cantata, "Victory Divine," by J. Christopher Marks, was sung by an augmented choir. It consisted of choruses and solos, dealing with the dramatic events leading up to the Crucifixion and ending with Christ's Ressurrection. The solo parts were taken by Mrs. H. R. Hendershot, Mrs. A. G. Watson, Mrs. Chas. Howey, Mrs. Harold Twigg, Walter Henson, Harold Pearce and George Lucy. Mrs. George Nicholls was at the piano and Chas. Howey at the organ.

The choir of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Albert Hazell, gave as their opening selection a fine rendition of the anthem, "The Day of Resurrection," at the evening service. Various parts were taken by: Tenor solo, "Easter," Fred Bennett; chorus, "Ring Out, Ye Bells," Connelley's School; duet, "Calvary," Mrs. H. Hogle and Miss Pat Hogle; violin solo, Mrs. E. J. Johnson; solo, "Open the Gates," by Knapp, Miss Birdie Simpson; anthem, "Awake Up My Glory"; soprano solo, "Thou Art the Christ," by O'Hara, Miss Marion Wallace; chorus, "Spring Has Now Enwrapped the Flowers," Stanwood School; anthem, "In Joseph's Lovely Garden"; tenor solo, Mr. Fred Bennett; anthem, "Hallelujah"; solo, Mrs. Frank Towns; and an organ postlude, "Triumphal March."

7,000 Delegates At OEA Parley

TORONTO, April 18 (CP)—The Ontario Educational Association's 89th annual convention starts here today with more than 7,000 delegates expected for discussions on ways to improve educational methods. Theme of the gathering, which continues until April 21, is "education for tomorrow."

The convention program includes a music festival with choirs and orchestral groups from public and separate schools throughout Ontario participating. Also scheduled are the finals of an Ontario-wide public speaking contest.

Speeches, panel discussions, displays, exhibits, drama and music performances will round out the program for the visiting teachers, trustees, inspectors, home and school club members and school nurses.

Mrs. Dermot Morrah of London, England, international authority on juvenile delinquency and problem children, will deliver four addresses. Other speakers include Dr. Ira Dilworth of Montreal, a member of the CBC staff.

Funeral Service Held For Geo. A. Bigelow

BETHANY, April 18 (ENS) — The funeral of George A. Bigelow, of Bethany was held Tuesday from the home of his nephew, Clarence Rowan. The Rev. W. Crandall of the United Church conducted the service and burial was in Graham's Cemetery.

Mr. Bigelow died suddenly on April 10 at the home of his sister, Mrs. Thomas Rowan, where he had lived since he suffered a partial stroke 11 years ago.

Mr. Bigelow was born in Cavan township 81 years ago and had spent his entire life in the immediate neighborhood. He was never married and was the son of John Bigelow and Mary Coleman. There were four brothers who predeceased him: John, William, Robert and Herbert. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Thos. Roman of Bethany and Mrs. W. Everett, Auburn, Washington, U. S. A. and a number of nieces and nephews.

Pall bearers were all nephews: Morgan, Frank, Harold and Gordon Bigelow, Gerald Urry and Lewis Kincaide.

Flower bearers were Ralph Bigelow, Charles Kincaid, Howard Rowan, Russell Urry, W. L. Rowan and Earl Weatherilt.

Relatives and friends were present from Toronto, Peterborough, Cavan and Millbrook.

RHEUMATISM YIELDS TO SPECIALIZED SYSTEM OF TREATMENT

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., April 18—So successful has a specialized system proven for treating rheumatism and arthritis that an amazing new book will be sent free to any reader of this paper who will write for it.

For those who suffer with aches, pains, stiff or sore joints, nervousness, over acidity, systemic toxemia, colitis, or other rheumatic symptoms, this book entitled, "Rheumatism," fully explains why drugs and medicines give only temporary relief and fail to remove the causes of the trouble.

The Ball Clinic, Excelsior Springs, Missouri, has perfected a specialized system of treatment for rheumatism and arthritis, combined with the world famous mineral waters and baths. This system of treatment, which has proven successful for over thirty years, is fully described in a book that tells how it may be possible for you to find freedom from rheumatism.

Write today for this instructive book — "RHEUMATISM." You incur no obligation, and it may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. Address your letter to The Ball Clinic, Dept. 5236, Excelsior Springs, Missouri—but be sure to write today.

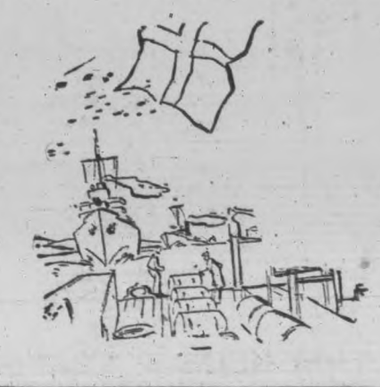
LADS WITH A PURPOSE . .

The winds and waves are always on the side of the ablest navigators

. . . . Gibbon, The Rise and Fall of the Roman Empire.

Many of our lads are at loose ends these days . . . some of them are slightly confused. They need an anchor, they need more than a good home; something away from family life that will help them grow into manhood. The Royal Canadian Sea Cadets are learning to co-operate with and get along with their mates. Under sane discipline, they learn to understand life and live it more fully.

The boys receive interesting instruction in seamanship, swimming, sports and band instruments. They are uniformed completely, even to their great coat and oilskin slicker. They spend two weeks at camp on beautiful Georgian Bay, learn to handle small craft, and have an opportunity to sail on a 'sure-nuff' yacht. There is everything a boy would want.



A sea cadet, upon reaching his majority, is not expected to join the Royal Canadian Navy. This is a matter of choice and if he so desires, he is prepared to take his place as a seaman. The officers of the sea cadets are ex-naval men and the training is strictly naval. These boys are a well disciplined group who are being prepared and helped to look after themselves physically and morally.
This training is excellent for any healthy, normal boy.

Small German Tribute Of Reparation

No nation which began a war and lost it has got off so lightly in the matter of reparations as Germany seems to have done. The conditional "seems" is necessary because it is difficult to determine how much Russia has exacted The statement is certainly true as regards reparations demanded by the western nations. The reasons are partly humanitarian, partly economic, and partly diplomatic.

* * *

The German people, newspapers and political leaders have realized that the country's poverty, industrial capabilities (for Europe cannot be rebuilt if Germany, central to Europe's economy, is an industrial vacuum) and its usefulness as insulation against Communism and Russia have put the Germans into a good bargaining position. Their poverty and the destruction of their towns have aroused sympathy for them particularly in the U.S., which the Germans are exploiting to the full. Since the split between Russia and the West their propaganda has been in full blast, setting themselves up as potential saviours of Europe from communism. Some even boast that they first saw the danger in 1936-1939 and hint that the war was a stupid mistake on the part of the Allies.

* * *

Here is a forthright statement by the Secretary General of I.A.R.A. in his report of 1938 on the Inter Allied Reparation Agency, who says, in noting that of the 858 German plants which in October, 1947, were scheduled for dismantling, only 157 plants and part-plants were made available as reparation from the Western Occupation Zones during the entire year 1948:

"The requirements of the European Recovery Program were made a basis for attacks on the agreed reparation policy, although the majority of Member Governments of the Inter Allied Reparation Agency, indeed, including some of the major war sufferers, are not beneficiaries under the European Recovery Program at all, whereas E.R.P. was planned to include five States which had remained neutral during the war and three ex-enemies (Western Germany, Austria and Italy). Dismantling was attacked (and defended) in Congress and the House of Commons. Interested circles in Germany developed a systematic campaign against dismantling. German officials become uncooperative; industrialists, managements and workers showed reluctance to obey Allied orders in respect of dismantling; and strikes were engineered and made effective. Despite the firmness of the Allied position, German action prevented or postponed the dismantling of several important plants".

* * *

By the Potsdam Declaration in August, 1946, the amount of equipment to be removed from the Western Zones for reparation was to be determined within six months, and the whole program was to be completed by the end of January, 1948.

* * *

This was not done, although it has been shown that the comparatively small amount of industrial capital equipment that has thus far been made available is contributing substantially to the rehabilitation of the economies of member nations which suffered from German aggression. The Germans have played up their unexpectedly favourable bargaining position to the hilt. The nineteen member nations of I.A.R.A.—(Albania, Australia, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Egypt, United States, France, United Kingdom, Greece, India, Luxemburg, Norway, New Zealand, Pakistan, The Netherlands, Czechoslovakia, South Africa and Yugoslavia) are whistling for much that they expected to have, and which Germany is being allowed to retain. This despite Mr. Bevin's statement in the House of Commons last May that:

"...I am going to try to honour the obligation on reparations which we entered into with the other Governments. It is no use saying to France and others who are called the I.A.R.A. countries 'We are going to close down on reparations and do nothing to repair ravages caused by Hitler'. I have always to carry in mind that it was Germany who started the war, not France and not Belgium and not the other countries that were invited. In trying to be just to one, one must not be unjust to others".

* * *

Nevertheless, the Occupying Powers, chiefly at the insistence of the U.S.A., have not made available the promised reparations equipment to the I.A.R.A. On Wednesday last it was announced in Washington that the reparations have been further whittled; 159 plants in all or in part have been removed from the reparations list, apparently on the recommendation of the committee of American industrialists (known as the Humphrey Committee) who investigated the matter.

* * *

All this may be sound business, sound economy, and sound diplomatically. Nevertheless, we must not become softheaded about the Germans. There are other peoples more deserving and who make more natural allies.

U.S. Congress Obstacle To Atlantic Pact

Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin of Great Britain has predicted that in years to come people will say of the North Atlantic defence alliance that "There, in that pact, humanity took its great step to enthrone the great freedoms of the world". While there is a strong probability that events will prove the prediction accurate, it should be remembered that the North Atlantic Pact today is in its infancy. Its growth to maturity depends to a tremendous extent on the rearmament of its member nations—and that must be largely financed by the United States. When measures to provide funds for this purpose are submitted to the U.S. Congress, there will be one of the liveliest controversies in the history of that legislative body.

An idea of what will happen then may be gathered from the manner in which the U.S. Senate dealt with the authorization bill for funds to continue carrying on the Marshall Plan for European recovery. There was little doubt at any time about the eventual passage of the bill, with little change in the original figure, but Republican Senators attacked it hotly, showered it with proposed amendments, and generally did everything possible to delay the bill and to alter its recommendations. If they accord such treatment to a plan described by Paul Hoffman, brilliant and hardheaded industrialist, as "the best bargain the American people ever bought", they are likely to protest even more vigorously against spending a similar sum —more than five billion dollars—to help rearm European members of the Atlantic Pact.

Some of the Senators who angrily attacked Marshall Plan expenditures not long ago tacitly agreed to a U.S. bipartisan foreign policy. That was when the Republicans were in power in the Senate, and when they were appealing to the nation to be returned to power. Now that they are in opposition, however, the cloak of conversion to internationalism has been dropped and they beating the drums of isolationism with even greater frenzy than in the years before the war. It is reassuring to know that the United States Government, and observers generally, feel certain that the Republican isolationists will not be able to attract the vote of dissident Democrats in dealing with foreign policy issues, as they have done in dealing with domestic issues, and that the authorization for rearmament expenditure will almost certainly be approved by the U.S. Congress.

Don't Underestimate German Impudence

The German people have many interesting national characteristics, among which must be reckoned a superb impudence. It was not long after the First Great War that they began asserting their rather ill-defined "rights", and by 1925 they had millions of people everywhere believing that the Allies had treated them badly, that the Treaty of Versailles was an iniquitous document, and that the German people never wanted the war. They are now trying the same game for the second time. German leaders in Bizonia are solemnly protesting against a recent Allied action which takes 52 square miles from Germany and adds it to Benelux. The Allies sought no territorial gains, say the Germans, and yet they are stealing 52 miles of German soil. What about it?

We feel that this impudent protest deserves a sharp reply. If, as losers in a great war, the Germans forfeit only 52 miles of ground, they may think themselves fantastically lucky. And if they do not like the way the Allies administer their country, they might like Russia to do it.

The Germans have amazing gall. After the First Great War they said that the Kaiser and his friends dragged them into it; they now say that Hitler and his gang dragged them into the recent war. Yet in both wars they fought with the utmost bravery, ferocity and apparent enjoyment. Is there no way in which this crooked-minded people can be persuaded that what a nation does is the responsibility of all its people, and that brazen effrontery in defeat excuses nothing?

Of Cabbages And Kings

By PETER ELIOT

PRINCE Edward, much as he stood in awe of his august mother, had a real affection for her and mourned her sincerely—reminisces Percy Colson in his entertaining Close Of An Era. But she had always treated him as an irresponsible boy. Lady Beaconsfield used to relate how once, when she was taking tea with the Queen, Her Majesty lamented her lonely life and how she never ceased mourning for Albert.

"Your son must be a great comfort to you, Ma'am," said Lady Beaconsfield.

"Comfort!" exclaimed the old lady. "Why, I caught him smoking, a fortnight after his dear father died."

* * *

COLSON also has a number of interesting stories of Lord Balfour. When bored, Arthur Balfour made little effort to conceal his feelings. He was staying at a country house for an informal political gathering at which several of the guests were of the Chosen People. One evening in the library he rose from his chair, looked them over superciliously, yawned and said: "To your tents, O Israel."

His rather languid and undecided manner gave one the impression that he could not take a firm stand on any question. This attitude was amusingly parodied by some wit in the lines:

I'm not for Free Trade, I'm not for Protection,
I approve of them both and to both have objection.
In going through life I continually find
It's a terrible business to make up one's mind.
And it's always the best in political fray
To take up the line of the Vicar of Bray.
So in spite of all comments, reproach and predictions,
I firmly adhere to unsettled convictions.

* * *

NO secret of the first World War was more carefully kept than the route and the date of departure of the Balfour Mission to America. The famous story of the elevator boy is true. It happened in the Station Hotel at Dumfries, where the twenty-five members of the party awaited, until some activities of the U-boats off the north coast of Ireland should subside.

After twenty-four hours word came to entrain once more, and as their "special" moved off Sir Eric Drummond said to Balfour:

"Thank goodness we are off without anyone finding out that you were there."

"Except the elevator boy", said Balfour.

"But how on earth ....?"

"Well, he brought me his autograph book, and of course, I signed it."

* * *

BUT a favourite story of Balfour, is the well-known conversation which took place when he was in America on the peace mission. Balfour was being shown the sights of New York by the then Mayor in an open touring car. The Mayor, of course, was very anxious to point out every small detail, and remarked, as they passed the Empire State Building, that it was the highest and biggest in the world.

"Hmm," said Arthur.

In order to impress Balfour more, he added, "It's fire-proof too."

"Aah," murmured Arthur, "What a pity?"

* * *

TRYING an action which arose from the collision of two ships at sea, a sailor who gave an account of the accident said, "At the time I was standing abaft the binnacle."

"Where is abaft the binnacle?" asked Lord Mansfield; upon which the witness, who had taken a large share of grog before coming into Court, exclaimed loud enough to be heard by all present:

"A pretty fellow to be a judge, who don't know where abaft the binnacle is!"

Lord Mansfield, instead of threatening to commit him for contempt, said: "Well, my friend, fit me for my office by telling we where abaft the binnacle is; you have already shown me the meaning of half-seas over."

* * *

DOUGLAS Jerrold, the English dramatist and man of letters inspired many stories and legends about himself as a result of his quick thinking and wit.

A poet inquired of Jerrold if he had seen his "Descent into Hell"; said Jerrold, "I wish to Heaven I had!"

"That air always carried me away when I hear it", said a bore.

"Can nobody whistle it?" asked Jerrold.

"Orion" Horne went to Australia, leaving his wife in England; he treated her, said Jerrold, with "unremitting kindness."

Leigh Hunt said of him, that if he had—and he had—the sting of the bee, he also had the honey.

As an example of Jerrold's kindlier wit, may be repeated his answer when asked by Charles Knight to write his epitaph; "Good Knight", said Jerrold.

He had a quaint, whimsical way of putting things. One bitterly cold spring night, walking home across Westminster Bridge, he remarked to his companions: "I blame nobody; but they call this May!"

* * *

AS Keeper of the Great Seal, Thurlow, great English Lord Chancellor, had the alternate presentation to a living with the Bishop of ——. The Bishop's secretary called upon the Lord Chancellor and said, "My Lord Bishop of —— sends his compliments to your lordship, and believe that the next turn to present to ——belongs to his lordship." "Give his lordship my compliments," replied the Chancellor, "and tell him that I will see his d——d first before he shall present."

"This, my lord," retorted the secretary, "is a very unpleasant message to deliver to a bishop". To which the Chancellor replied. "You are right, it is so; therefore tell the Bishop that I will be d——d first before he shall present."

* * *

AND there is also this story of Thurlow when young.

"Sir," observed a tutor, "I never come to the window but I see you idling in the Court." "Sir," replied the future Lord Chancellor, "I never come into the Court but I see you idling at the window."

CEDAR LAKE PROJECT VERY MUCH ALIVE

Sir: I read with interest the letter of Mr. A. Wilson in Thursday Examiner and referring to the Cedar Lake playground project. I admit that this undertaking has not been publicized as well as it might have been due to the fact that we have no publicity committee and have felt that when we could announce concrete results we would do so. I can assure Mr. Wilson that this project is very much alive. The Kawartha Conservation Association has the active support of the Minister of Lands and Forests, the Hon. Harold Scott, His Worship Mayor Swanston, the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber and as far as I am aware every organized group in this city. Mayor Swanston has been on the air several times recently as well as Jack Dane and Quirt McKinney in support of it and the Mayor will again be on the air over CHEX this coming Tuesday evening at 7.45 p.m.

There are some details to be ironed out in connection with this project but I am hopeful that this will soon be taken care of and that the citizens will be able to enjoy this beautiful playground before the summer has passed.

OF ROSEBUDS AND CRAB

Sir: Gather ye rosebuds where ye may, as you won't find such choice pickings where you are especially invited to look for them in the current exhibition of the Canadian Society of Painters on view at the Library.

Catalogue in hand I had sauntered around, with half an eye on the latter and the other half on the pictures alternately. I stepped in front of what appeared to look like landscape, but which in the catalogue was entitled "Rosebud".

"Well," I said to myself and now according it my full gaze, "Must be some mistake or my eyes are failing me." Rubbing them perplexedly I passed on to the next picture, with perhaps an eagerness now more so to test my sight. But I was not allowed to forget the recalcitrant rosebud picture so soon, while two young girls—in the rosebud stage themseles—had halted before the landscape, referred to in the catalogue as anything but.

Shortly I heard them whispering to each other—as the custom is in art galleries for fear of giving oneself away artistically, and drawing down the wrath of the gods—and caught enough to set my mind at rest as to fears for my blindness, as one of the girls said, glancing from her catalogue to the picture in surprise, "Rosebud!—I don't see any."

Yet while thus reassured about my visionary powers, the reply of the other had me disturbed again as she said, "But of course they're not supposed to be really like the thing." Her manner was flirtatious, in keeping with her years—much as one could imagine she might display herself to a not overly serious young gallant. While there was something of that gracious quality generally noticeable in an affair light-hearted enough, making allowances and regarding all as of little import one way or the other.

But I was not so easily satisfied to let it go at that; nor could I consort with these sweet young things, being long past the age of flirtation to indulge the same mood.

I pondered; "Not supposed to be like the thing!" Then must we read into a work of art what its title implied, while our very eyes told us different—three pairs at that? All very well in its way perhaps, but that it should be dismissed in this fashion by my amiable young "confreres" and with a generosity so all embracing as to accept the fact that one should seek rosebuds in a rock-strewn, sand-laden landscape interspersed with gorse—my! but that could be overdoing it.

None the less I found myself turning from the pictures, my eye now following the two "rosebuds"—of unmistakeable flesh identity—in open admiration of their generous attitude, so naive withal. I thought, O to be young again and not such an old crab; where would we be without the tolerance of youth? And while it takes all kinds to make a world, most surely the young and flirtatious went far to bring into being the world of art of our day which made such claims for itself on the surrounding walls—to such extent as to expect of even the uninitiated that it must be supposed to be other than it looked. That is to say, anything but what the layman saw.

All hail to youth! And here's hoping ye find ye rosebuds some day in a fashion more realistic; you are so deserving of them and would go so well with them pinned on your breast. Thou wert after all so brave where thy "gallant" failed thee.

WILL MACGREGOR.

DON'T CRUSH THE LITTLE MAN

Sir: When a man like Johnny Russelle raises a large family which is a credit to any community and strives hard to make a living that man deserves credit. He and the boys worked hard to build their service station and now they are dictated to as to the hours they must work. That is no democracy in any sense. Johnny and I also spent the best years of our lives to preserve democracy and look at it today. This is downright nonsense so let's get together, don't smother the little man out. Give us a chance.

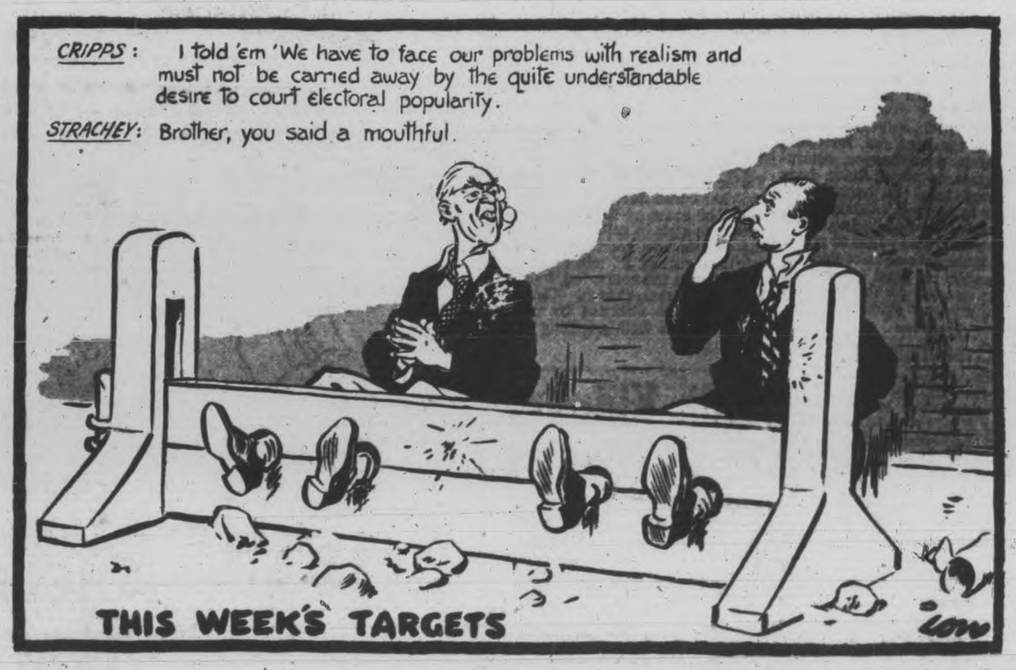
Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

After this I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter. And immediately I was in the spirit: and, behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne. (Rev. 4: 1, 2.)

* * *



And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the backside, sealed with seven seals.... And I beheld, and, lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.

And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne. And when he had taken the book, the four beasts and four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of saints.

And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation; and hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth.

And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, and honour, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever. (Rev. 5: 1, 6-10, 13.)

Shirley Temple Gets Wealth On 21st Birthday

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 18 (AP) —When Shirley Temple reaches 21 this Saturday, she start receiving some of her childhood wealth, including $11,000 she won for proving she wasn't a midget.

She earned the $11,000 as a child star after an English paper headlined the oft-heard rumor that she was a midget.

"Not only that," Shirley related, "but they also said I was 30 years old and the mother of a child Imagine!

"Since this was bad publicity in my start in pictures, we sued The English paper sent a reporter all the way over here to check on me. The little man followed me around for about a week, until he finally decided I wasn't a midget. We won the suit, but I wasn't to get the money until I came of age. I think now I'll leave it over there and spend it on a trip abroad some day."

Drop In Bucket

Of course, the $11,000 is but a drop in a golden bucket compared with the other money stored in trust funds for Shirley. Sounding her out, I guessed the sum was over $1,000,000.

"I don't think so," she answered coyly. "You see, a lot of the money I made was put in a trust fund box by Fox Studio. When I broke my contract because I didn't want to work there any more, it was paid off in a lump sum, taxable at 92 cents on the dollar. That was when my father almost had a nervous breakdown."

Mr. Temple then took over control of Shirley's finances. As it stands now, she has a series of trust funds that mature every few years "until death."

She'll never have money worries. She and husband John Agar have been working regularly in films for sizable salaries. And they don't live high.

Fire Toll, Damage May Be Worst Across Canada For Many Years

By The Canadian Press

During the last 10 years Canadians appear to have become increasingly careless about fire. In the past winter death and property toll reached what may be the most severe in years.

Fires across the country last winter claimed more than 160 lives. Property damage is expected to exceed $60,000,000, a high point for the last decade.

A Canadian Press survey of nine provinces, excluding Newfoundland which did not enter confederation until March 31, indicates the winter's toll of one of the heaviest on record.

In Halifax, Fire Marshal S. S Wright voiced the feeling of many of his counterparts in other sections of the country.

"Loss of life are appalling," he said. "It cannot be comprehended why a highly-intelligent people permit them to continue."

List Causes

Mr. Wright listed as major causes of fatal fires: poor chimneys, inflammable interior home furnishings and mistakes in setting up heating equipment.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics' last available figues show that in 1947, 390 persons died in 52,391 reported fires which cost some $57,000,000 property damage. The property loss was the highest in 10 years and the loss of life was exceeded only in 1946 when 408 persons died.

Preliminary reports for 1948, including in part the recent winter, show signs of exceeding that record again.

The Maritime provinces reported two heavy life-toll fires during December a two-family home in New Waterford, N. S., where 10 persons died and a Halifax tenement fire which claimed eight lives. The costliest property damage was from a Halifax office-building blaze toward year's end which caused more than $250,000 damage.

Quebec, the traditionally hardest-hit of all provinces in both life and property-damage toll, retained its record this winter. The final count will record upward of 100 deaths and property damage will exceed $17,000,000.

Ontario had seven major fires each of which cost more than $100,000. Thirty - three persons lost their lives. Property loss was up more than $2,000,000 from the previous winter's toll of $7,2000,000. Major fires gutted one school at Chesley, 20 miles southwest of Owen Sound; a Roman Catholic Church in Ottawa; and four business sites, two in Toronto, one in Hamilton and one in Algoma, Northern Ontario community 75 miles east of Sault Ste Marie.

The two worst fires of the season were on the prairies. Regina's barns burned to the ground Sunday, Jan. 23, in sub-zero temperatures. At Edmonton firemen battled three days to save a six-storey hardware building. The loss exceeded $2,000,000.

Manitoba's worst fire in 20 years claimed five sisters and a boarder during an over-night blaze in the village of Morden Feb. 27.

In British Columbia 48 persons died and 57 were injured in fires which cost more than $1,790,000. Most were in logging camps and lumber mills, traditional winter fire hazards.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

Booth at Trade Fair

Scouting will be before the public at the coming trades fair where members of the local association supported by Scouts in uniform will be on hand with information to give the public and also seek to interest more men in our leadership work.

Camporee Notes

The following projects are slated for the Camporee: (1) making a rope ladder. (2) nature Kim's game. (3) laying out a square with a compass. (4) light a fire by friction. (5) reading a sand track. (6) observation trail. (7) estimations. (8) first aid. (9) Sunday dinner.

Entry forms and other data will be in the mail this week.

World Rover Moot

We undertand that three places have been allotted to the Peterborough Rover Crew to attend World Moot in Norway and that every endeavor is being made to meet the financial end of the trip. The members of the crew are making every effort to do the financing themselves, a rather impossible task.

Park Hill Pack

Your scribe paid a visit to the Park Hill Pack and found the officers doing their best in a rather limited spot. Met the assistants of Akela Roy Springham, Bob Dobson has been with him for some time and Miss Bradley. Some plans are being made whereby the boys will have a better opportunity to earn badges. The following boys were invested into the movement since the first of the year, David Cannon, John Jackson, Gary Jackson, Gary Sargison, Hugh Young and Douglas Perritt.

Trinity Pack

Mr. C. W. Holman was present at the last meeting when his son Harold was invested at an impressive ceremony after which Ricky King, another new chum was welcomed to the Pack. The game of dodge ball took the form of six competition with some keen play being displayed. Mr. B. I. Burgess was present to assist in the test work, with the following being attained, Brian Malcolm and Don Spearin, Union Jack, Signey Dinsdale and Peter Chown signalling, Jack Dafoe and Grenville Dafoe, message, Bob Perry and Lawrence Horton, ball throwing, Peter Ballantyne, skipping.

All Saints

We regret to report that Akela Peggy Houghton is sick and was unable to attend the pack meeting. A. C. M. Johns is carrying on in good style being assisted by Instructor Len Foskett. It was Jack Cooke night for that young fellow was made a full member of the Brotherhood of Scouting when he was invested as a Wolf Cub. Ken Aulbrook also made a step forward as he passed the swimmers badge.

Baptist Minister Dies

SOUTH PORTLAND, Maine, April 18 —(AP)—Rev. Walter Quarrington, 70, retired Baptist minister and former field representative of the denomination's board of education, died here Sunday. A native of Toronto, he was graduated from McMaster University and was ordained in 1905. He had held pastorates in Ontario, Detroit and Maine.

Dandies Of Parade

LONDON, April 18 — (AP) — Fashion-conscious males were the sensation of London's Easter parade. Dozens of dandies turned up in felt hats of standard shape but colored as brightly as Easter eggs. There wre hats of brilliant blue, scarlet and light green.

Blow Up Theatre

HONG KONG, April 18 (AP) —Extortionists blew up a theatre at Canton Sunday night, killing three and injuring more than 50 persons, dispatches from the South China city said today. Leading Canton movie houses had received warning they would be blown up unless they paid the equivalent of $1,000 to $2,000 each for "protection."

In Coma 29 Months

AUSTIN, Tex., April 18—(AP) John Doyle Sturdivant died Easter Sunday, still in a coma fron. an accident 29 months ago. The 11-year-old lad was injured Nov. 23, 1946, in a bicycle-automobile collision. He suffered laceration of the brain. The boy never spoke again. Most of the time he was fed through a nasal tube.

The Choice of Canadians for 50 Years!

• The C.C.M. Bicycle has been the favorite by long odds with Canadians for over 50 years. This has been brought about by a consistent policy of using only the highest quality materials, machining and heat-treating them by the most approved methods to the closest tolerance needed to produce Canada's finest bicycle.

This, together with the know-how, gained in over 50 years of bicycle building, combine to give the long years of easy-running, trouble-free cycling that is always in store for the buyer of a C.C.M. – the true-quality bicycle that gives you the most value for your bicycle dollar.

And – bear this in mind when you go to buy a bicycle – when you need tires, parts, accessories, or check-up service for your C.C.M. Bicycle, there are over 3,000 loyal C.C.M. dealers across Canada ready and anxious to sell you a C.C.M. and give you service. They all have adequate stocks of C.C.M. Bicycles, parts and accessories because 95% of the parts of a C.C.M. Bicycle are made in Canada by C.C.M.

New Standard Features

NEW FRAME of top grade tubing, brazed by a new low-temperature method that makes for a stronger, lighter, livelier C.C.M. Bicycle.

NEW FRAME ANGLES AND SIZES that make for better riding position and more comfortable and easier pedalling.

FRONT FORK DESIGN with a new taper, curve and caster that give improved steering and an extra-comfortable cushioned ride with noticeable lightness and strength.

REAR STAY DESIGN embodying a new "brazed-up" assembly of strong, lightweight material that imparts great strength with resiliency to the whole bicycle.

New Optional Features

3-SPEED REAR HUB is optional equipment on all models except the "Tourist" model on which it is standard equipment.

This hub, which also has a hub brake, enables you to ride up steep grades in "low", then shift to "second", by a convenient lever on the crossbar, and then to "high" for speed on the level.

THE FRONT HUB embodies a built-in generator for producing the necessary electricity for the head-light and tail-light.

Royals Edge Flyers 5-4 To Take Series

TORONTO, April 18 (CP) — The smoothly-geared Montreal Royals today were on the last lap in their race for the Dominion's junior hockey title. They now have to hurdle either the west's Brandon Wheat Kings or Calgary Buffaloes.

In the search for the Memorial Cup, the Royals have proof positive that they are one of the finest teams to come out of the Quebec Hockey League.

They inscribed it in the record books Saturday by defeating the highly-touted Barrie Flyers 5-4 to take the Eastern Canada finals in four straight games. They won the first game of the best-of-seven series 3-1, the second 6-5 and the third 3-2.

For coach Tag Millar's Royals it was a sweet victory. They were given little chance against the all-Ontario champions before the series started.

It was the rugged, two-way play of shifty Gordie Knutson that contributed mainly to the Montreal victory Saturday. He fired two goals to lead the Royals to their 16th playoff victory in 17 starts.

A crowd of about 9,000 fans saw the 19-year-old, Calgary-born centre barge his way through a tight Barrie defence in the first three minutes of the third period and score twice.

It was just what the Montrealers needed after emerging from a second period 2-2 deadlock. They hounded little Gil Mayer in the Barrie nets with well-timed passing plays to set the Flyers off stride.

The Flyers, who swept their Ontario playoffs in 12 straight games, made a must-or-bust attempt to tie the game with 30 seconds left when they drew out Mayer in favor of a sixth forward.

Time and again the Flyers jammed the Montreal nets from the face-off. But goaler Bobby Bleau was not to be beaten.

The first period ended in a 1-1 tie, the second 2-2. Then the Royals counted three goals in the first five minutes of the third before the Flyers drove back with two.

Bobby Frampton came up with two goals for the Royals while Dick Moore counted the other.

Centre Gord Pennell put on a brilliant performance and scored three goals for the Flyers. Real Chevrefils got the other.

Officials Stan Pratt and Hap Shouldice, both of Ottawa, called 20 penalties, 11 of them against Barrie.

IN SUPPORTING ROLE—The case-hardened mauler John Katan, pictured above, meets the enormous Cardiff Giant in the semi-final match of this week's wrestling show at the Brock Arena. In the opening bout Nick Vicchiarelli, the local strongman, gets his toughest opponent to date when he hooks up with Tuffy Truesdale, the Alligator Man. Chief interest centres in what may well be the finest mat attraction the fans here have ever seen in the main go. Ray Villmer the rapid-fire gent from Missouri meets Sliding Billy Hanson a wrestler who needs no build-up to Peterborough fans. Those who witnessed last week's match between these two were unanimous in declaring it the best yet. Looks like a lively night.

BAREFOOT AT WORK—The stellar netminding of Harry Barefoot in the Fort Frances goal was a big factor in the Canadians defeating the favored Regina Caps 5-4 in the first of the Allan Cup semi-final. Here Toby Brown (10) and Gordie Staseson of Caps are stymied as Barefoot lies on his back to smother the puck during the hectic third period.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

In the Sarnia dressing room right after Friday's game, Coach Ned Vitarelli said to his Legion players: "Fellows, I just want to thank you for your grand performance. You've done everything I ever asked you to, and——", he choked up then and sat down. Johnny Godfrey, as club captain, jumped to his feet and paid a timely tribute to the popular and scrappy coach while the gang all applauded. A few minutes earlier they threw all their sticks on the ice—as kids swarmed over the boards in a scramble for them—and went into a victory dance on the ice after beating the Sailors 6-3 to capture the provincial senior "B" puck crown.

* * * * * *

The team ferried over to Port Huron after getting dressed and whooped it up in a swell celebration as guests of the American Legion Post No. 8 till the wee small hours. And they didn't return to Peterborough till nearly noon Sunday. Mayor Max Swanston and Ald. Hurrell Dodds were at the station to greet Legion president Harold Yelland and Coach Ned Vitarelli as they climbed off the train toting the big OHA championship trophy. No bands were allowed on the Sabbath but hundreds swarmed around to cheer the champs, and a honking motor parade took the team to the Legion Hall reception. There will likely be later doings, too.

* * * * * *

Follows The Pattern

As for the game itself, it followed the usual Legion pattern as they built up their record of 11 straight playoff wins without a reverse or draw. Down 3-0 early in the first frame, the fighting band from Branch 52 refused to curl up but battled back doggedly to tie it in the second and then finish furiously as the 1948 champs wilted under the pressure. We'll name no individual Legion stars as it was teamwork and fight by all that won the title. Everyone from the goalie out shone in an uphill joust that thrilled the sellout crowd—including quite a few from here—in Sarnia's swell arena. The losers went down fighting, too.

* * * * * *

Three of the Legion, Johnny Godfrey, Doug Mortimer and Bob Parnell—who, incidentally, has had an excellent season—were on the Petes' team which won this cup back in '42. Only casualty of the final contest was Bert Hill, who suffered a six-stitch cut near the eye but refused to quit playing. Yeah, they're a fine bunch of fellows and we've enjoyed our associations with them throughout their championship season. Coach Ned will be moving to Montreal this summer—and it will be a terrific loss to the club—but we expect most of the others will be back next winter. Our sincere congrats to you Legionnaires—to Ned, Johnny, Ross, Doug, Al, Joe, Bill, the two Bobs, Toodie, Chum, Bert, Reg, Sixty and the rest. You're worthy hockey champions.

Hanson And Villmer

Two smart and colorful grapplers go in the main pro mat match at the Brock Arena on Wednesday night when Ray Villmer meets Sliding Billy Hanson. They went to a wide-open semi-final draw here a week ago and a big crowd of fans stood and cheered them at the finish. One of the best bouts staged locally in years, and the rematch is a natural. Rough John Katan is tackling the Cardiff Giant in the semi-final this time and some villainous action is sure to be seen as neither husky plays it gentle at all. The prelim has Tuffy Truesdale, the alligator man, taking on Nick Vicchiarelli, local light-heavy.

Peterborough delegates Pat Calladine, George Dormer and Harold Dormer report a successful OASA convention in Oshawa. George Campbell, the Motor City sports editor, was elected president, while Bert Bailey of this city was appointed to the executive again. A committee will work with the PWSU, and some girls' rules will be included in the men's rule book. An Ontario Softball Umpires Association will be formed. 'Twas decided that pitchers' pants need not be blue or black, except where uniforms are white or cream—otherwise the same fairly dark pants as worn by teammates are okay for the hurlers. Playing certificates must be ready at playoff games. No extra playoff money will go to the OASA.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Montreal YMHA Blues moved a step closer to the Eastern Canada basketball crown by trouncing Ottawa Glebe Grads 64-35 Saturday at Montreal to take a two-game total-points series 106-75.

The YMHA meet the Saint John N. B., Saints at Montreal Thursday and Saturday in another two-game total points round, the winner of which will play the Ontario champions for the Eastern Canada championship.

Trinity College School of Port Hope won the Ontario Junior (under 20 years of age) gymnastic championship at Toronto Saturday with 1,861 points of a possible 2,400. Windsor Lowe Vocational School was second with 1,712 points, Toronto Danforth third and Ottawa Technical High School, last years champions, fourth.

Marvin Johnson of Windsor, tied Hugh Wetsford of Toronto for individual honors.

At Georgetown, British Guiana, Harrison Dillard, United States Olympic sprinter, equalled the world record in winning the 100-yard dash in the British Guiana Olympiad. He was clocked in 9.4 seconds.

Delegates from six Western Ontario centres met at Kitchener in the third post-war attempt to revive the old Western Football Association. The first two attempts failed.

Delegates representing teams in Guelph, Fergus, Stratford, New Dundee, St. Clements and Kitchener elected Harold Western of Guelph president. The association's secretary is James Blake of Kitchener, who has held the post for the last 25 years. Another meeting will be held at Mount Forest on April 30.

Carl Fischer, 38, former pitcher for five American League clubs, may do his hurling for Kitchener in the Intercounty League this summer if he succeeds in getting his amateur card. Fischer, who also pitched for two seasons with Toronto in the International League, was out of baseball last year but the year before played with Pensacola, Fla., in the Southeastern League.

Visiting this week-end at Niagara Falls, Ont., he said his duties at Kitchener would also include coaching pitchers in the city's teen-aged clubs.

Ned Vitarelli Finishes Puck Career

Bowing out as leader of a championship club, Coach Ned Vitarelli of the Legionnaires finished his active hockey career Good Friday in Sarnia as Legion won the OHA senior "B" title. Ned is being transferred on his job to Montreal in a few more months and will play no more hockey. But he is exceedingly happy.

"I've been playing organized hockey for 18 years," he said on the train going to Sarnia, "and never won a thing in Canada. We did win out once in my four years playing in the States, but I never clicked at home. We've just got to take this one, that's all there is to it. And then I'll hang up the gear quite happily." He can do so now, with a light heart. He finished his hockey playing in a blaze of glory.

Went to States

Ned used to play junior here and later was with the Petes before he and Bill Calladine went with Pick Hines to Baltimore. He also played for Johnstown before returning to Peterborough. Four seasons ago he played once more for the Petes but went the next season with Legion as coach. He intended to hang them up and just coach two years ago, but Johnny Godfrey persuaded him to play as a defenceman. This pair proved one of the best defence pairs ever to perform in Peterborough hockey, and they had much to do with Legion winning group honors last year and the provincial title this year.

Ned is also an outstanding golfer, having won the title of the Kawartha Club, and he expects to continue his golf and perhaps coach a minor hockey team around the Montreal suburbs if he has the time another winter. But he states he is through as a player now and is going out on a triumphant note.

CHAMP COACH—Ned Vitarelli of Legionnaires winds up his hockey career as playing coach of the 1949 OHA Senior "B" champions. He announced he was through after winning in Sarnia on Good Friday, as he will be moving to Montreal this summer.

OLD BOXER DIES
Jim Savage, heavyweight boxer of the early 1900s, died of a heart attack at his home in Orange, NJ, Saturday night. He was 67. He held victories over such prominent boxers as Frank Moran and Sailor Cunningham and served as principal trainer and sparring partner for Jess Willard.

Londoner Takes Trophy

TORONTO, April 18 (CP) — Avis Harper, Ottawa's leading woman fivepin bowler, ran up an aggregate 2,180 score Saturday to take third place among women bowlers competing in the Canadian Bowling Association's Canadian open tournament here. Sadie Memarg, of London, Ont., carried off the Fred Hamilton trophy in women's singles with a high score of 830.

Reds Capture Calder Cup Whip Bears 4-2

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 18 (AP)—Providence Reds reigned as American Hockey League champions today for the first time in nine years.

The Reds, coached by fiery Terry Reardon who was noted for his spirit and fight while with Boston Bruins, climaxed a great comeback by defeating Hershey Bears 4-2 in the seventh and deciding game here last night.

The high-scoring Providence entry, which ran away from the field in the league's Eastern Division during the regular season play, came back to win three straight games after spotting Hershey a 3-1 lead.

The Reds wasted no time in going after last night's game and possession of the League's Calder Cup. They packed all their scoring into the first period and then held off repeated Hershey drives.

McGill Spark Plug

Jack McGill, a lanky centre who last year played with the Bears, led the Providence offence with a pair of goals and an assist.

His first goal came after three minutes and six seconds of play when he tipped in a 55-foot shot by Carl Liscombe, the league's most valuable player for the last two seasons, while the Bears were short-handed.

Johnny Chad made it 2-0 at the 12-minute mark when he batted in his own rebound and 45 seconds later McGill skated in all alone on a breakaway for another tally. Defenceman Art Michaluk completed the Providence scoring with two minutes remaining.

For the next two periods the Reds were content to lay back and let the Bears come to them. Jerry Brown and Gordie Bruce broke through and got two goals back for Hershey in the second period, but the Providence defence was equal to the task for the remainder of the game.

CORRUGATED STEEL BLADE GIVES "STRAIGHT-EDGE" SHAVE

"Corrugation" Stiffens Wafer-Thin Surgical Steel Gives Keener Edges And Closer Shaves

Try this on your friends. Place a crisp bill across two glasses, like a bridge. Tell your friends they can't rest a fifty-cent piece on the bill without the bridge collapsing.

Then show them how it can be done. Crease the bill, lengthwise. You're actually "corrugating" your bridge.

Now the bridge will support the coin! This shows how "corrugation" adds strength. This is the principle that makes Corux blades stiffer, so they vibrate less and hold a keener edge far longer.

Less razor pull... more shaves per blade with Ever-Ready CORUX Blades

Ordinary safety razor blades don't give shaves equal to a "straight-edge" shave because the thin steel vibrates when it meets the beard.

Vibration causes uncomfortable "pull", quickly dulls the shaving edge. Ever-Ready Engineers have invented a process to cut down vibration, to make the thinnest steel much stronger, much keener, longer lasting.

Corux "straight-edge" action gives more comfortable, cleaner, longer-lasting shaves. Corux blades retain their super-keen shaving edges, give you many more perfect shaves.

The Corux is made in Canada and is the only blade of its kind in the world.

TRY ONE BLADE FREE
The regular 5 blade package of Corux blades has an EXTRA free blade attached to the cover. Use this blade first... if you don't agree this is "straight-edge" shaving at its best—take back the unopened package and get your money back.

Big League Ball Opens In States

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP) — The big league baseball season opens today with prospects of a six-team jamboree in the National League and a Boston-Cleveland race in the American League.

Only four teams see action this afternoon but all 16 will be busy tomorrow, the first full schedule day.

President Harry Truman, an ambidextrous first-ball pitcher, will be present to watch Washington tangle with Philadelphia Athletics in its customary Griffith Stadium opener, a day before the rest of the American League.

After the President does his work, Rae Scarborough will shoulder the job of trying to pitch Washington to victory No. 1. He will be opposed by Toronto-born Dick Fowler of the A's.

A crowd of 31,000 is expected to watch the Senators butt up against the strategy of 86-year-old Connie Mack, starting his 49th year as manager of the A's.

Boston also gets a special opening day for its National League champion Braves. Tomorrow is Patriots' Day in Boston. That always calls for a doubleheader. As the Braves don't want to open with a double header, they received permission for an early starter with the improved Philadelphia Phils.

Johnny Sain, 24-game winner for the '48 champs, will oppose the veteran Ken Heintzelman at Braves Field where the world series ended in a Boston defeat last Oct. 11. Some 15,000 are expected.

SID ABEL (left), captain of the Detroit Red Wings, shakes hands with captain Ted Kennedy of the Toronto Maple Leafs after Saturday night's Stanley Cup final game at the Gardens. Leafs defeated Wings, 3-1, to sweep the series in four games and win their third consecutive world hockey championship.

Leafs Take Stanley Cup Three Years In Row, Trounce Red Wings 3-1

By WILLIAM H. DUMSDAY

TORONTO, April 18—(CP)—Toronto's hockey thousands examined Easter presents today and voted as favorite the Stanley Cup, which the Maple Leafs won for them Saturday night. By downing Detroit Red Wings 3-1 the Leafs became the first club in modern professional hockey to win the trophy three years in succession. The 14,544 fans who filled Maple Leaf Gardens to capacity and saw the world champions re-crowned, probably would have liked to have joined the players in sipping champaign from the bowl of the Stanley Cup in a post-game party.

At the celebration, Managing Director Conn Smythe paid tribute to the club which came from behind to beat the Wings in four straight games. He figured the rookie-reinforced team was 10 points stronger than the club which just made fourth and last playoff spot in the National League race.

The champions spotted the Wings a goal in the first period as they did in the third game of the round here last Wednesday. They pulled even midway through the second period and from that point, as they outfought the Wings, it was only a matter of time until they moved in front.

Power Pays Off

Superb condition and relentless power again paid off for the champions. They outshot the Wings 31-15 and in third period—when the Wings needed to score to retain a chance of victory—they only directed four shots at goalie Turk Broda while the Leafs tested Lumley 14 times.

In an effort to revive their flagging players, Detroit officials used oxygen tanks and masks during rest periods for the first time in NHL history.

In the dressing room after the game, the Leafs figured Wild Bill Ezinicki had kicked them into the title. Bill lost his stick and when he couldn't retrieve it, he kicked the puck to start an all-Manitoba movement which produced what proved to be the winning goal late in the second period.

While Stewart tried to push Ezinicki around, Bill kicked the puck onto the stick of fellow-Winnipegger Jimmy Thompson. The defenceman made a play for Cal Gardner and the centre from Transcona, Man. fired the payoff shot.

Changing Lines

The Wings were changing lines when they struck early in the first period to open the scoring. George Gee replaced Sid Abel and passed the puck to Ted Lindsay, who shifted neatly on the left side and beat Broda with a hard shot.

As the second period progressed, the Leafs gained command and as they buzzed around the Detroit net, Ray Timgren finally batted home a rebound after Max Bentley had a chance. Little Max himself capped the scoring on a passing play with Timgren late in the third.

In giving Coach Hap Day his fifth world title as coach, the Leafs were also the first fourth-place team to win the trophy since the Chicago Black Hawks performed the feat against the Leafs in 1938.

Toronto's dressing room took on a racetrack air as Bentley displayed an ivory horseshoe studded with sapphires, presented to him by breeder Charlie Hemstead, who earlier in the season gave Max a yearling named Four Bo. On the other side of the room defenceman Gus Mortson waved an actual shoe from the hoof of Four Bo. which Max some day hopes to enter in the King's Plate.

A Big Night

It was a big night for seven of the Leafs who moved into the NHL to stay three seasons ago when Smythe and Day made the famous rebuild job on the team after it finished out of the playoff the previous year. The seven who have been members of nothing but Stanley Cup teams since jumping to the big-time are Thomson, Gus Mortson, Garth Boesch, Bill Barilko, Vic Lynn, Joe Klukay and Howie Meeker.

They were all in uniform but Meeker, who missed the playoffs due to a broken toe. But as the cup was being presented to the Leafs on the ice by League president Clarence Campbell, the fans chanted "we want Meeker" and the little rightwinger hobbled out.

At the party, Boesch shouted: "Well boys, now it's four years and gently stroked the Stanley in a row or bust." He leaned over Cup and said "see you again next year, honey!"

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

The largest crowd ever to witness an N. H. L. game in Canada — 16,218 fans — watched Toronto Maple Leafs complete a story-book comeback with a 3-1 victory over Detroit Red Wings seven years ago today. Detroit had taken the first three games when Leafs suddenly came to life to win four straight.

Toronto's dressing room took on a cacetrack air as Bentley displayed an ivory horseshoe studded with sapphires, presented to him by breeder Charlie Hemstead, who earlier in the season gave Max a yearling named Four Bo. On the other side of the room defenceman Gus Mortson waved an actual shoe from the hoof of Four Bo. which Max some day hopes to enter in the King's Plate.

A Big Night

It was a big night for seven of the Leafs who moved into the NHL to stay three seasons ago when Smythe and Day made the famous rebuild job on the team after it finished out of the playoff the previous year. The seven who have been members of nothing but Stanley Cup teams since jumping to the big-time are Thomson, Gus Mortson, Garth Boesch, Bill Barilko, Vic Lynn, Joe Klukay and Howie Meeker.

They were all in uniform but Meeker, who missed the playoffs due to a broken toe. But as the cup was being presented to the Leafs on the ice by League president Clarence Campbell, the fans chanted "we want Meeker" and the little rightwinger hobbled out.

At the party, Boesch shouted: "Well boys, now it's four years and gently stroked the Stanley in a row or bust." He leaned over Cup and said "see you again next year, honey!"

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

The largest crowd ever to witness an N. H. L. game in Canada — 16,218 fans — watched Toronto Maple Leafs complete a story-book comeback with a 3-1 victory over Detroit Red Wings seven years ago today. Detroit had taken the first three games when Leafs suddenly came to life to win four straight.

Omemee Club Aids Playground

OMEMEE, April 18—(ENS)—Mr. George Russell, District Deputy Governor of District 8 of the Association of Kinsmen Club was guest speaker Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Omemee Club.

The meeting was held at the home of Kinsmen Arthur Stephenson with 12 members present.

An invitation from the Lindsay Kinsmen Club to attend an inter-club meeting April 27 was accepted.

Kinsmen Les Curtis, chairman of the Service Work Committee, reported that the plans have been drawn up for the children's playground, that some materials have been ordered for the building of swings, teeters and sand boxes and that the work will soon be started. On a motion by Kinsmen Ross Widdis and Larry McQuade the committee was authorized to proceed with the levelling of the ground. The playground will be situated on the ground to the south of the school.

George Russell gave an interesting and instructive talk on club procedure, which was followed by an open discussion. Lunch was served after the meeting.

In the past year since its inauguration the Omemee Club has levelled the ball diamond and purchased $28.00 worth of sports' equipment for the public school, at present there is about $200.00 on hand toward the playground fund.

Mrs. H. Eastabrook Buried At Ida

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Harold Eastabrook, 899 Western Ave., was held at the Kaye Funeral Home on Thursday afternoon. Major Charles Watt of the Salvation Army (Peterborough Citadel) officiated and pallbearers were E. Boon, L. McFadden, C. Rusk, C. Horsfield, C. Dummit and D. Ford. Flower bearers were E. and M. McFadden, B. Boon, W. Brown, W. Dunn and B. Rusk. Burial was at St. John's cemetery, Ida.

Mrs. Eastabrook died at her residence on Tuesday following a lengthy illness at the age of 56 years. She was born in Millbrook, Maud Isabell, daughter of the late James Henry Christoe and Marie Jane Sigsworth, and had lived in the city for the past 40 years.

Eskimos To Get Quilt Made By WA Members

ROSENEATH, April 18 (ENS) An Eskimo family in a far north Anglican Church mission post in the Canadian Arctic will soon be the recipients of a comfortable, warm quilt, thanks to efforts put forth by the members of the Women's Auxiliary of St. James Anglican Church here at their recent regular monthly meeting. A great part of the meeting was devoted to this task and considerable pains were taken with it.

The quilt, along with a pair of blankets and other articles of warm clothing donated by the members, will be packed in a bale by Mrs. James Brown and sent to the W. A. House in Toronto, to be forwarded to the Arctic when the next boat sails north in June.

The meeting was held in the Town Hall on April 14, with Mrs. Edgar Braithwaite as hostess and the president, Mrs. C. R. Spencer, presiding.

Rev. Canon C. R. Spencer spoke briefly on "Holy Week" and closed the meeting with prayer.

Fire In Factory

TORONTO, April 18 (CP) — Damage estimated at $25,000 was caused Sunday when fire of unknown origin swept through a one-storey brick building of the Toronto Cadmium Plate Plant in the city's west end. Firemen extinguished the blaze an hour after it was reported. No one was injured.

Collect Used Clothing For Overseas

MILLBROOK, April 18 (ENS) —The theme for the worship period at the Easter meeting of the WMS of St. Andrew's United church, on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. R. Edmunds was "A New Advance in Christian Missions." The president, Mrs. G. C. R. McQuade, was leader, those assisting being Mrs. J. Ridge, Mrs. James Thorne, and Mrs. A. Coulter, the latter taking the prayers.

The secretary, Mrs. F. P. Stinson, reported $8.93 received at the March meeting. An urgent appeal for good used clothing for overseas was made from the chair, same to be left at the parsonage within the next week. A quantity is now on hand, and shortly all of it will be shipped to headquarters in Toronto.

Miss Thornton reported for the annual bale, which will be sent on May. 1. The handsome crib quilt asked for was on display at the meeting, knitted goods and other articles will be ready by the end of this month. The invitation from the Mission Circle to its Easter meeting in the Sunday School room on Tuesday, April 26, was received, and as many as possible will attend.

The May meeting will be at Mrs. R. Matchett's home.

Emphasize Advance

Mrs. F. J. Smith gave a reading, following which the "every member" program, emphasizing advance in home and overseas' msisions, completed the study period.

Those taking part were Mrs. Thorne, giving the challenge from the Dutch settlers in Canada; Mrs. McQuade, Japan; Mrs. Ridge, India. Mrs. Matchett finished with a discussion on "Advance in our own Auxiliary." The Peterborough Presbytery is asking for an increase of $1,500 in WMS givings in 1950, and this will mean an increase in individual givings. A list of the eight points stressed by Mrs. Matchett was passed to each member, with request to mark the ones to be personally undertaken, the signature to be attached. Use will be made of these during the year ahead.

Mrs. G. MacKay was hostess for the April meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Grace Presbyterian church on Wednesday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. Kenneth Moncrief, in the chair and leading in the opening devotions. Mrs. Patterson offered prayer after the Easter story had been read for the lesson.

Gives Easter Reading

An Easter reading was given by Mrs. J. R. Thompson, and the main part of the meeting was given over to plans for the afternoon tea, and sale of home baking to be held in the waiting room on Saturday, May 7. Table conveners and canvassers were appointed, the former to secure their own helpers.

Donations for the bazaar to be held in the fall were received, in answer to the roll call, this practice being followed all wear.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. H. Perkin in the service of lunch.

Hundreds Of People Watch Pickerel Run

INNISVILLE, Ont., April 18—(CP)—Hundreds of Ottawa Valley spectators gathered in this village 20 miles southwest of Ottawa Easter Sunday to see one of the great valley spectacles of the year —the annual pickerel run on the Mississippi River.

Witnesses said the gleaming Mississippi was jammed thick for seven miles with spawning pickerel, thousands on their journey up-stream to spawn and thousands more on their way home to the well-stocked Mississippi Lake.

Ontario fish and game overseers from all parts of Eastern Ontario were brought to the banks to guard against fish poachers.

Soldiers Close Dike

WINNIPEG, April 18 (CP) — Soldiers from Prairie Command Headquarters Sunday repaired a 20-foot breach in an Assiniboine River dike near Poplar Point, about 45 miles west of here. An area about two by eight miles was flooded. When a tractor motor failed, soldiers moved in the first sandbags by hand, wading through water for about a half-mile.

$14,000 Barn Fire

TILLSONBURG, April 18 (CP) —Firemen from Tillsonburg fought two hours Sunday to subdue a $14,000 blaze which destroyed the large frame barn on the farm of Harry Young, seventh concession of Dereham Township. About 10 tons of hay, 500 bushels of grain, 10 young pigs, several pieces of farm equipment and a number of chickens were destroyed.

Police Chief Shot To Death

SHIELDS, Ky., April 18—(AP) —Harlan county's police chief, Ambrose Metcalfe, 29, was shot to death on the street Sunday.

State police said they arrested Arthur Jackson and Ford Sizemore on murder warrants. Metcalfe was head of the county's first police patrol several years ago in an anti-vice and liquor drive.

Shields, a coal mining camp, is five miles east of Evarts, where gun play in recent months took the life of one police chief and caused another to resign for fear of getting "shot in the back".

In all, Evarts has had six police chiefs since last August. The sixth was appointed recently after chief No. 5 Isachar Combs, was indicted for murder.

He and his assistant, Lewis Deaton, were charged with fatally shooting Bryan Middleton, Evarts restaurant operator, as they tried to serve a liquor-search warrant on him.

Poet Laureate III

BURCOTE BROCK, Abingdon, Berkshire, April 18—(AP)—John Masefield, the poet laureate, was reported Sunday to be seriously ill at his home here. He is 70. Masefield recently suffered an attack of influenza and complications followed.

Centenary WA Plans For Annual Bazaar

ROSENEATH, April 18 (ENS) —The Women's Association of Centenary United Church held their Easter meeting in the church on Thursday with the president Miss Hilda Arthur presiding.

One finished quilt, two quilt tops, pillow cases and fancy work were brought to the meeting as donations from the members toward their annual bazaar.

The good cheer committee purchased a plant and it was to be presented to Mrs. R. C. White, who is confined to her home through illness.

The program convener, Miss Emma Sherwin presided over an Easter program. Readings were given by Mesdames Dawson Timlin, Reginald Timlin, Walton Lean, Bruce Arthur, Neil Sherwin and a vocal solo by Miss Linda Arthur, a contest arranged by the convener was won by Miss Hilda Arthur.

Meeting closed with prayer by Rev. R. C. White.

Lunch was served by the lunch committee, Mrs. Ernest Burrison, Mrs. Delbert Sherwin, Mrs. Bruce Arthur and Mrs. Newman Lean.

Lightning Play As Champs Tilt At Table Tennis

Table tennis as it should be played was demonstrated to local fans on Saturday night at the second annual Peterborough Table Tennis Championship, sponsored by the Y's Men's Club.

Four members of the Broadview "A" Team made the journey from Toronto to give an exhibition of top-flight table tennis. Included in the quartet picked by the Ontario Table Tennis Association were Howard Birch, Ontario Champion for the second consecutive year, and also a member of the championship mixed doubles team; Don Rathlou, Ontario Men's "B" Champion; Gord Freeman, secretary of the Ontario Table Tennis Association; and Ralph Ander, playing captain of that team which is the champion of the Toronto Table Tennis League.

Birch, a stocky, black-haired Yorkshireman, was fresh from the Ontario championship finals which he won on Friday night. He gave the goggle-eyed fans ample evidence of why the game is called table tennis and not the parlor nick-name of ping-pong.

Lightning Play

Twice champion of Ontario, Birch is also considered No. 2 player in Canada, second only to J. J. Desjardins of Montreal. He was seventh ranking player in England and the champion of Yorkshire when he left Britain a couple of years ago.

Although the Ontario "B" Champion, Rathlou, fought hard all the way he was unable to cope with the blistering forehand drives and lightning backhands of the smoothworking Englishman.

"I don't know how his opponent even sees the ball let alone hit it," said one wondering spectator.

The Exhibition quartet then put on a display of doubles that the spectators found even more enjoyable than the skilful singles play.

Semi-final and final matches in the six events open to entrants from Peterborough County were played off on Saturday night. The preliminaries were run off earlier in the week.

Peterborough Championship Play

Dave White took the men's open singles by edging out Dr. Gordon R. Langley, CGE Works Engineer, in a best three-of-five game series 21-16, 19-21, 19-21, 21-16 and 21-5.

In the semi-finals White defeated his doubles partner, Ed. Nichols, last year's finalist, in two straight games, and then went on to eliminate Dr. Langley after a hard-fought series.

Highlight of the final was the stubborn defence and near-perfect control exhibited by Dr. Langley who was the senior of the victor by nearly 40 years. Time and again the spectators applauded his head play as he neatly returned White's hardest drives.

It was not until the end of the fourth game that White was able to break through Dr. Langley's defensive play.

The runner-up had previously combined with Col. J. Dewart in the doubles semi-final, and "the Old Guard" never wasting a movement or a shot, soundly trounced the team of Walter Pridham and Jim Swanston by scores of 21-10 and 21-7. They then forced the combination of White and Nichols to come from behind before the latter was successful in copping the men's doubles championship 22-20 and 21-11.

Ladies' Singles

Miss Joyce Dewart also upheld the family's table tennis prowess by winning the ladies' open singles title for the second consecutive year. She defeated Mrs. John Hardill 21-16 and 21-11 in the finals after Mrs. Hardill had eliminated Mrs. John Dobbin in the semi-finals.

Last year Miss Dewart, daughter of Col. Dewart, pulled an upset by defeating the Ontario Ladies' "B" Champion, Miss Shirley Freer, in a match where Miss Freer's title was not at stake.

Perhaps the most exciting series of the night was that between Jim Robertson and Murray Grafstein for the Intermediate, singles Championship. The third game of their best two-of-three series was tied at 20-all and six points had to be played before Grafstein managed to shade his opponent 24-22.

It was a hammer-and-tongs battle between Lionel Hemstead and Don Marshall in the Junior Boys' Singles Final. Hemstead won after being extended to three games—21-19, 19-21, and 21-9.

The men's novice singles, listed for the first time this year, was won by Walter Pridham, who downed Ken Stacey 16-21, 21-17 and 21-16. Pridham blew a substantial lead in the first game and eventually lost it when Stacey began to press heavily, but he rallied to take the next two in convincing fashion.

Under (Ryck) Cochrane, chairman, a committee of Y's Men worked hard to make the tournament a success. Members were Jack Richardson, Jack Wilson, Ed. Brown and Joe Rowan. Al. Clark, physical director of the YMCA, assisted in arranging the tournament and refereed several games.

Trophies To Be Presented

Winners of the men's open, ladies' open and intermediate classes will be presented with trophies at the weekly Y's Men's dinner meeting on Thursday night.

Prizes, donated by the Y's Men, were awarded to the winner and runner-up in each class.

Because of the enthusiasm shown by entrants of all ages, plans are being made for the forming of a table tennis league this fall.

Results Summarized

Here are the complete results:

Men's open singles—Semi-finals: Dr. G. R. Langley defeated Nelson Stanger, 21-16, 16-21 and 21-11; Dave White defeated Ed. Nichols, 21-19 and 22-20. Finals: White defeated Langley, 21-15, 19-21, 19-21, 21-16 and 21-5 (best of five series).

Men's doubles — White and Nichols defeated Stidson and Evans, 21-11 and 21-15; White and Nichols defeated Ryck Cochrane and Bob Allin, 21-16 and 21-12; Col. J. Dewart and Dr. Langley defeated Walter Pridham and Jim Swanston, 21-10 and 21-7. Finals: White and Nichols defeated Dewart and Langley, 22-20 and 21-11.

Women's open singles—Semi-final: Mrs. John Hardill defeated Mrs. John Dobbin, 21-16 and 21-11. Finals: Miss Joyce Dewart defeated Mrs. Hardill, 21-9 and 21-5.

Men's novice singles (17 and over who have not previously played in a tournament) — Semi-finals: Walter Pridham defeated Ryck Cochrane, 21-17, 18-21 and 21-16; Ken Stacey defeated Doug Graham, 21-15 and 21-15. Finals: Pridham defeated Stacey, 16-21, 21-17 and 21-16.

Intermediate singles (16 and 16 years)—Semi-finals: Jim Robertson defeated Bob Jamieson, 21-19 and 21-14; Murray Grafstein won by default from John Thompson. Finals: Grafstein defeated Robertson, 21-12, 19-21 and 24-22.

Junior boys' singles (12, 13 and 14 years) — Semi-finals: Don Marshall defeated Stewart Brooks. Finals: Lionel Hampstead defeated Marshall, 21-19, 12-21 and 21-9.

Peterborough CGE bowlers yielded the R. S. Cotton cup to Toronto Davenport-Royce Ave. joint team at Bayview Club alleys Saturday. The trophy was held by the Peterborough trundlers for three years. Seventy-eight of the local bowlers made the trip. They were set back 662 points.

Sees Trade Boom In Two Years With China

A big increase in trade between China and Canada is likely within the next two years, according to Mor Cheolin, a Chinese businessman from Vancouver who visited Peterborough during the weekend. Even if the Communists are in control, they will be forced to turn to the West to get the machinery they need, he said.

Stressing the possibilities of trade growth with Canada, Mr Mor pointed out the growing dislike for Americans in the Far East and the regard in which Canadians are held in China. A small group of Canadians who have pioneered in medical, educational and agricultural work, have won the highest place in the affection of the people—both Communist and Nationalist, he said.

Reporter On China Times

Although he received most of his education in Canada, Mor Cheolin returned to China and was a reporter on The China Times in Shanghai for several years. In that capacity he became acquainted with events transpiring in the interior and northwest of China.

The name of Dr. Norman Bethune is a by word in China's northwest, Mr. Mor declared. A Canadian from Montreal, Dr Bethune gave up a $10,000-a-year practice to go to China. A small group of Canadians financed him and he took a blood transfusion unit into a disease-ridden area of that country. Thousands of Chinese lives were saved and when he died of blood poisoning in 1938 after only two years of service, he was widely mourned. Mr Mor recalled seeing monuments to Dr. Bethune all across Northern China and many hospitals bear his name.

Selling Canada

Men like Dr. Robert B. McClure, Dr. Stewart Brown, Dr. James Endicott, Professor McConkey and others have done more to cement friendly relations with the Chinese than scores of diplomats could have accomplished, he said. He pointed with pride to the extremely efficient Co-operative operating in the Gobi Desert with the support of the Nationalists. It was organized and is being run by a small group of Canadians. When they walked in during the war, they had almost no equipment. Now the Co-operative is running in top form and they have their own electricity and water power.

Mr. Mor had a grandstand view of developments in the early struggle between Chiang and the Reds. He helped to cover the story when Tsai Ting-kai leader of the Nationalist 19th Route Army which held out against the Japanese in 1932, refused to obey the Generalissimo's order to stop fighting Japan and push the war against the Communists. Tsai and his 19th army took part in the Long March in 1934 and he now occupies a high place in Communist political circles. His bitter hatred of Chiang, whom he considers a traitor, has not abated.

Although he operates a business in Vancouver, Mor Cheolin keeps in touch with events in China through his family and business contacts. A brother is an officer with the Nationalist army in charge of a transport section. He is at present stationed in Canton. His mother and another brother are also in the south.

From his brother, and other friends he has received information telling how entire regiments of Chiang's army are surrendering without a fight. They are refusing to kill their own brothers and countrymen, he asserted. Others, near starvation, are refusing to fight on empty stomachs. They are selling their modern, new equipment from the United States to get a little food.

The average private in the army receives about 20 cents a day pay, he recalled. After the higher officers have taken what they want from the food supplies, the soldiers get what is left. There is never any meat and a man is lucky to receive about two cups of rice a day and a small amount of soy beans, he stated.

Information Bureau

Because there was no organization in Canada from which it was possible to gain information about Chinese and their businesses from coast to coast, a few years ago Mr. Mor inaugurated the Chinese Publicity Bureau in Vancouver. They supply free of charge, to Chinese and non Chinese, information about the Chinese in Canada, what factories and business firms are still operating in Communist and non-Communist China; current prices and conditions in the Chinese markets. Mr. Mor is making a coast-to-coast trip for the purpose of taking a census of the Chinese and incorporating the information into a Chinese directory. This is done every two years and it was for this reason he visited Peterborough. He also intends to make his first trip to Newfoundland when he reaches the East Coast.

HASTINGS HOME COLLAPSED on Friday afternoon when workmen Howard Killingbeck and Terry Johnston were repairing a supporting rear wall. They received no injuries from falling debris and occupant of second-floor apartment, Mrs. Reginald Scriver, was also spared when she stepped into a far room as the rest of her home crashed to the street below. *(L. Three Escape When Wall Of Hastings Home Falls

HASTINGS, April 18—(ENS).—Mrs. Reginald Scriver, who lives in a second-floor apartment in the Cleary Block on Front St., is one of the luckiest persons in the village. On Friday afternoon on the way upstairs to her flat she talked with Howard Killingbeck and his helper, Terry Johnson, who were repairing the rear wall of the building.

A few minutes after she reached her apartment and walked into one of the far rooms. There was a terrific crash and from where she stood she watched with horror as one side of her home crash to the street level, taking all furnishings with it and filling the space where she stood with a smothering cloud of plaster and mortar dust.

The two workmen whom she had talked to on her way upstairs were not injured, and how they escaped the falling debris is a mystery. It placed them in a position as lucky as that of Mrs. Scriver. Terry Johnston remarked after it was all over, "I don't know how the three of us escaped being killed."

Cause of the damage or value of the destruction is not available at present.

Probe of Uranium Deposits In Haliburton Requested

Charging the Federal Department of Mines and the Government with "blanketing" a rich source of uranium ore, C. W. Hodgson, Progressive Conservative member for Victoria-Haliburton riding, has demanded a full investigation of Haliburton county uranium deposits.

Mr. Hodgson, making his demand the day Commons was winding up business for the Easter holidays, asked the House to issue an order for the tabling of a copy of a Mines Department report on the uranium deposits around Wilberforce.

In view of the "frantic search" by the Government for this ore across Canada, the member said it was high time that an explanation should be given why the Wilberforce area had been completely ignored to date.

Investigation by private development over the past several years has revealed the ore to be present in commercial quantities, he said, and sums well in excess of $1,000,000 have already been spent in exploration, and developing properties.

Assays Are High

Assays said the member, submitted to the federal Department of Mines have shown the presence of uranium in excess of one-half per cent. in almost every case. Rock with a uranium content of one-tenth per cent. may be considered potentially commercial ore.

One other significant factor, he said, was that the Haliburton County deposit is closer to the Government's Chalk River atomic energy pile and the Port Hope plant than any other known source of the ore.

Much of the facts with regard to the Wilberforce deposits had been made known to the Government in a lengthy and detailed report by two of the leading mines department geologists, Dr. Hugh S. Spence and R. K. Carnochan. And it was for a copy of this report that he asked the House to issue an order for tabling.

A special committee on atomic energy has just recently been set up by the Government, and in view of this there could be no excuse for further delay in making known the findings of the mines department geologists, said Mr. Hodgson.

Considerable and encouraging progress was made last summer and fall in the whole area, a member of one of three companies operating around Wilberforce, told The Examiner. Much diamond drilling has been done and assays off one property have run as high as 11 per cent. arousing keen interest by the U.S. Atomic Commission.

Seen In Cube Form

On the Fission Mine property some two miles east of Wilberforce the uraninite shows up in cube form; at Cardiff Fluorspar, about the same distance south of the village, it is largely in the same form. On Lead-Ura, south of Tory Hill, the uranium mineral is finely disseminated through the granite.

At this latter property some five vein structures have been traced for over four miles and extentive assays show them to carry, as well as uranium, considerable thorium which just recently has been revealed to be also a potential source of atomic energy.

Up to the present most uranium has been produced from pure pitchblend veins such as occur at Eldorado, but at this Spring's Prospectors' Convention leading experts stated it was growing more evident search for further sources must turn to the granites —thus substantiating finds in the Wilberforce area.

As an indication of interest in this field, as many as six of the top geologists in Canada — Dr. Hugh S. Spence, Professor Ed. Wolfe, Dr. Nelson Hogg, B. D. Weaver, Dr. H. G. Way and Dr. Duncan Derry were on Lead-Ura property the same day, last July 21.

Dr. Duncan Derry the leading expert on pegmatites in the Dominion made the statement that radio-active material in vein structure such as occurred there would probably carry to depth. All five other geologists agreed with him. This would indicate tonnage without proof of diamond drilling.

Organization for a full spring and summer's work is well under way on all properties, with plans for at least one mill already being drawn.

England To Export Coal

The Atomic Energy era the world is about to enter would appear to make the present electric age seem very dim in comparison when one considers that 140 pounds of uranium oxide is equal to the force generated by 1,300 tons of coal—and the fact that as a result of her two Atomic Energy plants England expects to be able to export 80 per cent of her coal.

So far leaders in this Atomic research field admit they have only just started to scratch the potentialities of these wonder ores, uranium and thorium, and so the search goes on with a zeal equalling or surpassing the great gold rush days of the '60s and '90s.

Thus some 70 miles north of Peterborough, indications, substantiated by dozens of assays and engineers' reports, are that in the very near future the area may well prove to hold one of Canada's and the world's greatest sources of power.

Bird Boxes Get Final Touches As Show Nears

A practical example of how to encourage schoolchildren to use their leisure hours constructively is being offered by the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association through its bird-house contest. The judging of the bird-house-building contest will be held on Friday night in the Market Hall.

Response of city children to this challenge to their handicraft skill has been enthusiastic, Cam Rowatt, president of the Association reports. An entry of about 300 children is expected from the city proper, and an encouraging number have also been received from rural areas, he states.

Apart from providing a pleasing hobby, for the children, the contest is regarded by the Association as a useful lesson to these future citizens on the necessity of preserving song birds, and interesting them in methods of conservation generally.

Trophy For Best

A trophy for the best bird-house exhibited will be donated by the Association. This will be retained by the winner for a year, and he will also be given a small permanent trophy to mark his achievement.

Three prizes in each of eight classes will be awarded to the contestants. These have been donated by local merchants and include pocket watches, long bows, cameras, flash-lights, hunting knives, sporting goods as well as other prizes.

The eight classes are for houses specially designed for purple martin, wren, tree swallow, sparrow hawk, flicker, crested flycatcher, bluebird, and screech owl. A ninth class has been added after some consideration by the Bird House Building Committee—the robin.

Mayor To Open Show

Judges will be Mayor Max Swanston, who will open the show, James L. McKeever of the Kawartha Conservation Association and the Peterborough Nature Club, and Alex Kay, ornithologist and conservation officer of the Department of Lands and Forests.

The show begins at 8 p.m., and judging will commence promptly at 8.15 p.m., but entrants must have their bird-houses at the Market Hall by 7 p.m. so they can be arranged in their proper classes for judging.

Messrs. McKeever and Kay will give brief addresses before presentations are made. Distribution of prizes is scheduled for 8.45.

Name of the entrant and the class entered must be included with the house, and those who are eligible to auction off their entry must include the price requested on the tag. Dave Kerr of the Empress Hotel has offered to purchase the two best wren houses in the show.

Chief stipulation is that the finished product must have been made by the youngster himself. It may be constructed of either steel or wood.

Alf Pink is the acting chairman of the bird-house building committee.

Members of the Ornamental Swimming Club have volunteered to erect tables for the display which is expected to attract a large crowd.

Two Honored On Saving Life of Thomas W. Wilcox

President's Medal of the National Safety Council of America was presented today to Joseph Hayes, 780 St. Mary's St., by His Worship Max J. Swanston at the meeting of the Peterborough Rotary Club. It is believed to be the first time this award has been won in the city. Mrs. William Grant received a certificate of merit.

The occasion was for the successful resuscitation of Thomas Werden Wilcox, 23, of 784 St. Mary's St., by Mr. Hayes on September 27, 1948.

The accident happened in the Wilcox home when Wayne Wilcox, infant son of the home, pulled a table lamp cord from its wall socket. Mr. Wilcox heard the commotion and rushed into the bedroom to connect the light cord. He lay over the bed to reach the wall socket and said afterwards that the lamp bulb seemed to explode in his face as the 110-volt shock passed through him and rendered him unconscious.

Help Summoned

His wife rushed into the room and succeeded in snatching her son Wayne away from his electrocuted father, and called for help. Mrs. D. Ackerman, in whose home the Wilcoxs rented rooms, phoned for Dr. L. Zacks, while her sister, Blanche Boat, had the presence of mind to turn off the master switch. The release of the current relaxed Mr. Wilcox and he fell to the floor.

Neighbors Joseph Hayes and Jack Daly arrived and the former applied artificial respiration immediately for a period of 30 minutes. Another neighbor, Scottish war bride and registered nurse, Mrs. William Grant, supervised the complete operation and checked Wilcox's pulse and took her turn at resuscitation.

Upon the arrival of Dr. Zacks and the combined efforts of all three failed to revive the victim, the fire department emergency crew were called. They worked on him with their respirator equipment without success. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital where he revived after further treatment. It was for the heroic effort of Joseph Hayes and Mrs. William Grant that the medal and certificate of award were made.

It was found later from Dr. Zacks' report that in the first spasm of shock Mr. Wilcox swallowed his tongue which was freed before respiratory measures were started. It was also stated by the doctor that Wilcox, an ex-RCAF wireless air gunner, had a metal plate in his head, a healing measure applied after a serious air crash overseas. He was of the opinion that the plate acted as a conductor and magnified the shock.

Welcome Home Hockey Champs

Winning of an Ontario hockey championship by the Legionnaires the past weekend will receive civic recognition, Mayor Max Swanston intimated in a congratulatory speech to the players and other Legion members Sunday in the Legion Hall. He and Ald. Hurrell Dodds were on hand, among a large crowd of citizens to greet the team when it arrived at the station shortly before noon.

Following a noisy motor parade up George St., with the large OHA trophy held on the front of the leading car by two players, the party had an hour reception in the hall on Murray St. Short speeches were made by the Mayor, Ald. Dodds, branch president Harold Yelland, by Cyril Withers, chairman of the branch sports committee, and by the club coach, Ned Vitarelli. Then the tired and happy players headed for their homes.

Churches Filled For Worship On Easter Sunday

Climaxing a week-long series of Holy Week services Peterborough residents filled the churches Easter Sunday to capacity. In several cases people turned away from their regular churches to attend another due to the overflowing congregation.

From early in the morning to late in the evening, communions and chorale renditions marked the Resurrection Day. Favorite Easter hymns like "Jesus Christ is Risen Today" and "Hallelujah the Lord is Risen" filled the air of the bright sunny Sunday morning.

During the morning service at Trinity United Church the Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon spoke on "The Easter Gift: Immortality." Anthems for the morning service were "Christ the Lord is Risen Today," "They Have Taken Away My Lord," and "In Joseph's Lovely Garden." Mrs. Allen Parker sang "As It Began to Dawn" by C. E. Van Leer.

Guest speaker for the week-end services at the Salvation Army Temple was Lieut.-Col. V. Pearl Payton, Women's Social Secretary for Canada and Bermuda. "Worthy Is the Lamb" from Handel's Messiah and "Triumphant Life" were anthems at the evening service. Special Easter music was presented by the songsters and the Salvation Army Band.

George Street United Church, filled to capacity at the morning service, heard the Rev. Dr. James Semple preach on "How may one strengthen his faith in Eternal Life so that it plays a real part in his life here and now?" Solos were sung at the morning service by Mrs. Florence Patterson, Toronto, and Jack Telford, Peterborough.

The Rev. Ivan Morgan, Murray St. Baptist Church, had as his topic for the Easter sermon, "This is the Victory," Soloist for the morning service was Mrs. Charles Holmes and for the evening service, Harry Pyle. The Ordinance of the Believers' Baptism was observed at the evening service. The sermon film, The First Easter, was shown.

In St. John's Anglican Church, All Saints' Anglican Church, St. George's Anglican Church, Holy communion was celebrated throughout the day.

At St. Andrew's United Church "All the Trumpets Sounded," the story of the Pilgrims Progress, was the topic for the evening service by the Rev. M. J. Aiken. Colored pictures by Copping illustrated the topic. "The Holy City" by Adams was sung by Miss Iris Whalon.

The Rev. Frederick Swallow, Toronto, and his evangelistic party conducted the Easter Sunday services at the Church of the Open Bible. Special Easter music was furnished by the Swallow String Ensemble. Mrs. Aileen Chelow-Nichols was the soloist at the morning and evening services

SPEAKS IN TORONTO

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ward Glenn on May 12. A report on the distritc eexutive meeting was given by Mrs. Melville Wight, director. Program convener was Mrs. Francis Ruttan. Lunch hostesses will be Mrs. Ray Waters, Mrs. Ward Glenn and Mrs. Clarence Glenn.

Florence Nightingale Aide Dies In Montreal

MONTREAL, April 18 (CP) — Funeral services will be held today for Mrs. Charles McArthur, 94, former aide of Florence Nightingale and nurse to the Royal Family, who died in a nursing home here Saturday. She had been ill for some time.

A native of England, Mrs. McArthur was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Cornell and spent her first years as a nurse at St. Thomas Hospital in London. She worked under Florence Nightingale, founder of modern nursing, then superintendent of the hospital.

After graduating from the hispital Mrs. McArthur nursed members of the Royal Family, including many descendents of Queen Victoria. Coming to America later, she married a Canadian sea captain, Charles McArthur in 1885. He was the author of "Navigation Simplified" a book still in heavy demand in nautical circles. He died in 1904. They had no children.

For the last four years Mrs. McArthur resided with her niece, Mrs. G. S. Alcock of suburban Verdun.

CALCUTTA, April 18—(Reuters) — Prime Minister Joseph Chifley of Australia and Peter Fraser of New Zealand passed through Calcutta today on their way to the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference in London.

STRESSES POINT—Prime Minister St. Laurent emphasizes his conviction of the feeling of unity in Canada is increasing. He is shown as he addressed a crowd at Vancouver city hall April 13, flanked by two little girls, one symbolizing British Columbia, the other, Canada's 10th province, Newfoundland.

Report 20 Fatal Accidents Over Three-Day Holiday

By The Canadian Press

Canada's three-day Easter holiday week-end, though marked by unusually heavy motor traffic in cities and highways, had a relatively light toll of 20 fatal accidents. Eleven of the deaths were caused by traffic mishaps.

A Canadian Press tabulation showed 10 of the deaths in Ontario. Three persons died violently in Nova Scotia, two in both Quebec and New Brunswick, and one in each of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan. No fatal accidents were reported from Friday morning to Sunday night in Manitoba, Prince Edward Island or Newfoundland.

Baby brothers John Burns, two, and Nelson Burns, one, died in a fire at their home in Nicteau Falls, N.S.

Friday's snowfall in Ontario was indirectly connected with the other double fatalities. Truck driver Joseph Long, 47, and his nephew Raymond Long, four, of Port Dover, Ont., died when Long's truck skidded on a highway and ended in a ditch near Waterford, Ont.

And near Mattawa, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Smith of Ottawa were killed during a snowstorm in a collision between the motorcar in which they were riding and a truck. Stewart Strutt, 32, identified by police as the driver of the car, was taken to hospital and will later face a charge of dangerous driving.

Drowns In Stream

At Virginia, N.S., Allan Burns, 13, drowned in a spring stream while at Caton's Island, near St. John, N.B., the body of a man identified as Eldon Edward Moore, 26, was taken from the St. John river. He disappeared last Nov. 10—the day he was to be married.

At Edmunston, N.B., Emile Viel, 66, was fatally injured by a flying piece of wood while chopping logs. In two Montreal deaths, Denis Tomasso, eight, fell from his bike into the path of a Montreal tramways bus and Roland Gingras, 29, was struck by an automobile at a city intersection.

British Columbia had its first swimming death of 1949 when Bradley Shanks, 14, drowned at Boundary Bay, 35 miles south of Vancouver. Near Edmonton, Rodin Case, 12, died from a bullet wound in his head while hunting with two other boys. Conway Skelly, 26, was struck by a car while riding his bicycle in Saskatoon and police have charged Michael Deptuck, 25, with manslaughter.

Ernest McKinnon of Geraldton, Ont., died Sunday in an auto collision near Parry Sound and Clarence Warner of Coulson, Ont., was killed in a level crossing crash near Midland.

Lorraine Houle, two, was fatally scalded in her Sarnia home while in Toronto Mrs. Lily Glazer, 59, died of injuries after her husband's auto was struck by a street car. Adolph Widrich, a farmer near St. Catharines, was crushed beneath his tractor while pulling stumps from his farm.

Clarence Gies, 26, of Linwood, Ont., died in hospital at Kitchener of injuries suffered in an auto crash near Heidelburg, Ont., on Thursday. Two others were seriously injured when the car crashed into a tree.

Miss Louise Hampton Buried In Lakefield

Funeral service for the late Miss Louise Elizabeth Hampton, 75, of Regent St., Lakefield, was held today from the Hendren Funeral Home to St. John's Anglican Church, Lakefield. The Rev. L. T. Delaney officiated and pall-bearers were three brothers, John, Milford and William Hampton, and three nephews, Ralph, John and Bob Hampton. Burial was at Hillside Cemetery.

Miss Hampton died at her residence on Saturday following a lengthy illness. She was born in the village, daughter of the late William Hampton and Elizabeth Baigent, and had lived a lifetime in the district.

She leaves three sisters, Miss May Hampton of Lakefield, Mrs. George Arnott (Emma) and Mrs. William Hampton (Ethel), both of Govan, Sask. There are five brothers, Herbert and Harry of Vancouver and John, William and Milford of Lakefield. She was a member of St. John's Anglican Church.

Report Three Rivers Defence Lines In Case Of War

CHICAGO, April 18 (AP)—The Chicago Tribune says today that preliminary resistance of Western Europe against any onslaught by the Russian army will be based on the Yssel, the Rhine and the Po Rivers.

But North Africa will be the main defence bastion, the newspaper says.

The Tribune reports "this was the decision made by the Foreign Ministers and American authorities in the secret parleys following the signing of the North Atlantic Pact in Washington when the Europeans submitted the list of weapons and equipment they desire from the United States under the proposed military lend-lease."

(The Yssel, or Ijssel, river runs north and south through Meer (The Zuyder Zee) in the Netherlands, joining with the Rhine at the Dutch-German border southwest of Arnhem. The Rhine runs generally north and south inside Western Germany and between France and Germany, entering Switzerland at Basel. The Po cuts across the northern part of the "boot" of Italy.)

In a dispatch from Paris by Henry Wales, the Tribune says the Iberian Peninsula (Spain and Portugal) will be organized as a continental defence base if the United States agrees to finance reconstruction of the Spanish highways, railways and ports to handle supplies and troop movements.

President Of OVC Dr. MacGilvray Dies

GUELPH, Ont., April 18—(CP) —President of Ontario Veterinary College here for 27 years, Dr. Charles Duncan MacGilvary, 77, died Sunday.

Largely responsible for the passage of the Ontario Veterinary Practice Act when he assumed presidency of the college in 1918, Dr. MacGilvray was widely-known throughout the United States and Canada.

Born in Scotland he came to Canada in 1886, and settled in the west. In 1898 he graduated from OVC, then located at Toronto, under the priricipalship of the late Dr. Andrew Smith.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. K. Fox, Brantford, and Mrs. Helen Edmonds, Toronto, and one son, Dr. Roy MacGilvary of Toronto.

Discuss Health Plan

GUELPH, April 18—(CP)—Arthur Williams, CCF member of parliament for Ontario riding, told the annual spring conference of the Ontario CCF Sunday that Canada will never have a national health plan unless the CCF party gains power. Main point in discussions by the 300 delegates here is a national health plan in Canada, patterned on Great Britain's health legislation.

The year was 1832

. . . Canadians, with the war of 1812 fresh in their minds, built a grim fortress on the St. Lawrence, near Kingston. Its name: Fort Henry. Its avowed purpose; to "keep out the Yankees."

But never a shot was fired from Fort Henry. Its limestone walls crumbled into ruin . . . until a century later, when it was restored as an historic site where thousands of "Yankees" are welcomed as friendly visitors, every year.

Fort Henry is fort in name only because two great nations live side by side, in peace, in friendship, in mutual help.

Can it be coincidence that both these nations are ruled by the will of the majority?

Between nations where the people speak freely, peace will be maintained. So Fort Henry is an historic reminder that . . .

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

Throngs Parade In Finery Easter Sunday

By The Canadian Press.

For its lavish display of finery its heavy travel volume and its light accident toll, Canadians will remember the 1949 Easter holiday week-end as the best since before the Second World War.

Their only complaint is that in some sections the weather could have been better. Vancouver, with a summery 68 degrees, and Victoria and Calgary, bathed in bright sunshine, found Easter Sunday perfect. But the temperature stood at 47 degrees in Regina, a chilling 24 in Winnipeg, the low 50s in Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal, while in the Maritimes a day of overcast skies ended in showers and a snowstorm.

Almost everywhere churches were crowded, with the joyful Easter music reminding Christians of the triumph of the resurrection. The Governor-General Viscount Alexander, attended a Sunday morning service in Ottawa, Prime Minister St. Laurent, on a pre-election tour of Western Canada, went to church in Calgary.

Biggest Parade

Toronto's Sunnyside boardwalk was thronged with the biggest Easter parade in the city's history, an estimated 75,000 persons. Blue seemed the favorite color of women's Easter outfits and the bonnets had plenty of frills.

Recent easing of currency restrictions encouraged many Canadians to journey to New York and other cities in the United States. Upwards of 100,000 Montrealers crossed the border and extra trains, planes and busses carried travellers southward from Toronto.

The first holiday of the spring season gave Ottawa a taste of the sightseeing rush it experiences during the months of fine weather. Close to 2,000 persons swarmed over Parliament Hill and trooped on guided tours through the corridors of the Parliament Buildings. Visitors to the capital included 200 Ontario nurses, gathering there for their annual convention.

Sir Bernard Pares Russian Scholar Dies

NEW YORK, April 18—(AP)—Sir Bernard Pares, 82, historian and scholar of Russia, died Sunday.

Regarded as one of the best-informed non-Communist students of Soviet Russia, Pares tried all his life to promote understanding of Russia in Britian and the United States.

An anti-Red after the Communist victory in the Russian revolution, he was barred from the USSR for many years. In 1936 he revisited Russia and concluded that Russia was not at that time trying to create a world revolution.

Sealers Rescued

HALIFEX, April 18—(CP)—Crew members of the Norwegian sealer Polarbjorn were on their way home Sunday after a rescue at sea when their ship burned and sank Saturday off the Labrador coast. The ship, with its cargo of 9,000 seals, went down eight miles east of Belle Isle, near the entrance to the Strait of Belle Isle between Labrador and Newfoundland.

Victim In Shooting

LONDON, Ont., April 18—(CP)—Victim in a shooting at the Muncey Indian Reserve Sunday, Edward Riley, 43, of Muncey, is in hospital here with a bullet wound of the abdomen. Arrested by provincial police, Gordon Henry, 44, also of Muncey, will face charges in connection with the wounding in county court Monday.

William Reese Dies

DRESDEN, April 18—(CP)—William T. Reese, 82, widely known in the farm co-operative movement, died Saturday. For more than 25 years he was secretary of the Dresden Farmers' Co-operative. He is survived by his widow, two sons, Mayor Walter Reese of Dresden, and Dr. Frank Reese of Wallaceburg, and two daughters, Mrs. Nellie McKerracher of Detroit and Mrs. F. Watson of Thamesville.

Supplies For Malta

VALETTA, Malta, April 18—(Reuter)—Five hundred boxes of classroom supplies for Maltese school children and 300 food parcels for teachers have been received as gifts from Canadian children and teachers. The gifts were sent by the Canadian Council for Reconstruction through the United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

Sabotage Mining

BERLIN, April 18—(Reuters)—The British-controlled German newspaper Die Welt, said Sunday that members of an anti-Communist Czechoslovak underground group had sabotaged uranium mining in the Soviet zone of Germany by stealing explosives stocks from a mine at Baerenstein, near the Czech frontier, on the night of April 14.

Velma Staples, Eric Fallis Married at Springville

Springville United Church, decorated with pink tulips and snapdragon, was the scene of a pretty spring wedding, Thursday afternoon, when Velma Isobel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Staples, Wayside became the bride of Eric Trevor, son of Mr. and Mrs Arthur Fallis, Millbrook. The Rev. Dr. Charles S. Reddick performed the ceremony. Miss Ruth Henderson played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white taffeta dress, of ballerina length, with a matching Juliette cap and mittens. She carried a nosegay of American Beauty roses. Her only attendant was her cousin, Miss Margaret McNeill, who wore a replica of the bride's gown in ice blue taffeta with cap and mittens of shell pink and carried a nosegay of Sweetheart roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Kenneth Fallis of Toronto. Ushers were Willon Wildman and Earl Armstrong.

Following the marriage prayer, Miss Margaret Rutherford sang "The Lord's Prayer", and during the signing of the register, she sang "Through the Years".

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunts in Peterborough. Mrs. Staples wore a hat and dress of navy with taffeta trim and corsage of roses. Mrs. Fallis wore navy tricotine, a bonnet of navy straw and topcoat in pearl grey.

On return from a motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Fallis will reside on the groom's farm, near Millbrook.

Mills-Jones Nuptials Held In Omemee Easter Saturday

A double-ring wedding ceremony in the Trinity United church at Omemee on Easter Saturday afternoon united Mary Ethel Jones and George Clifton Roy Mills, with the Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt officiating. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Jones and the groom the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Mills, all of Omemee.

The bride was gowned in white satin with lace, styled with sweetheart neckline on the fitted bodice which was fastened at the back with tiny covered buttons and long lily point sleeves. The gathered skirt extended into a light train. Her veil was of silk embroidered tulle and fell from a sweetheart headdress of net. She carried a cascade of Bettertime roses.

Miss Audrey Jones, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was frocked in daffodil yellow with long torso bodice of embroidered nylon, styled with square neckline and puffed sleeves and the full skirt was of nylon net over taffeta. She wore a matching shoulder veil caught with a halo of flowers and mittens, and carried a ring of sweet peas and snapdragon. Mr. Donald Griffin of Omemee, was groomsman.

A small reception was held afterward at the bride's home. Her mother received, wearing grey gabardine with grey and black accessories and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother was in powder blue sheer with hat and accessories in black and wore a corsage of pink roses.

The couple left later on a wedding trip to Toronto, Detroit and Quebec city. For travelling the bride wore a pearl grey gabardine suit with matching hat, navy accessories and four skin mink neckpiece and carried a navy shorties coat. Her going-away corsage was of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs Mills will reside at Omemee.

Audrey Killingbeck is Bride Of E. Earl Nunn of Dundas

Baskets of spring flowers and fern formed the setting for a lovely wedding in Knox United Church Saturday afternoon when Audrey Beryl Killingbeck became the bride of Ellery Earl Nunn of Dundas. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Killingbeck of Peterborough, and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nunn, Dundas.

The marriage vows were solemnized by the Rev. H. G. Douglas. Before the bride entered the church Mrs. C. Viscoff sang "I Love You Truly" and while the register was signed she sang "Because." Mr. W. R. Potter played the accompaniment and wedding music.

A gown of white moire taffeta, with full skirt falling into a slight train, was the bride's choice. It was styled with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves coming to lily points over the hands and a tight midriff. A crown of seed pearls held her heart-shaped veil of white net and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses. Mr. Killingbeck gave his daughter in marriage.

Bridal attendants were Miss Joyce Harris as maid of honor, Miss Kay Lyne of Dundas, bridesmaid, and the bride's young sister Miss Shirley Killingbeck as junior bridesmaid. The maid of honor and bridesmaid wore similarly fashioned dresses of nile green and yellow nylon marquisette over taffeta, made with off-shoulder neckline and full flared skirt. The junior bridesmaid was in pale mauve moire taffeta in full skirt style with puffed sleeves and a yoke of matching lace. All wore elbow length gloves and headdresses of matching material and they carried nosegays of sweet peas tied with bows of contrasting ribbon.

The groomsman was Mr. Bob Dickson of Dundas. Ushers were W. Killingbeck, brother of the bride, and A. Pirie of Dundas.

Kawartha Golf and Country Club was the scene of the reception following the ceremony. For the occasion the bride's mother chose a gown of navy crepe with hat of blue straw and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother was in pine green taffeta and wore a green straw hat trimmed with matching taffeta ribbon and a corsage of orchids.

The bride's going-away outfit was a suit of light navy gabardine, matching hat of straw and navy accessories and a grey shortie coat. Her corsage was of red roses.

After a weding trip to Montreal Mr. and Mrs. Nunn will reside in Dundas.

Millbrook News

Motoring to their cottage at Tait's Beach, Rice Lake, on Good Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Howe, Mr. and Mrs. R. Threadkell, Miss Peggy Howe and Mr. G. Ptolomy, visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Burnham on their way from Toronto.

Miss Eva Howson of Montreal, was home for the Easter week-end with her mother, Mrs. G. Howson.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Marston and their two boys, of Peterborough, moved to the village this week-end and are living in the west half of Mrs. W. Wilkinson's house on Main Street. Mrs. Marston will take Mrs. Cecil Hubbeard's place as clerk in the Pethick store. The Hubbeard's are moving to their farm, Zion Line.

Your Dog Knows! WHAT NOURISHING EVERY INCH MEANS

A dog that's healthier, happier and more fun to be with

You can be an "expert" in caring for your dog. Just nourish every inch of him — feed him GAINES! Then he'll be happy, full of well-being — because GAINES is kennel-tested — biologically proved to be nutritionally complete.

You'll save money, too!

GAINES costs less to feed than any other type of dog food. It's ALL FOOD. Some other types of dog food contain 70% moisture. Why pay for water? Buy nourishment! Buy GAINES!

So easy to feed!

All you do is add water from the tap (or soup, milk or gravy if he likes it).

For variety, try GAINES KRUNCHON, which is GAINES Meal compressed into tasty bite-size pellets.

Wherever dog foods are sold 2-lb., 5-lb. and 25-lb. bags

Here's what your dog gets in every pound!

Proteins as in 1½ lbs. beef; carbohydrates as in 1½ quarts cooked oatmeal; fats as in 1 ounce butter; minerals as in 1¾ lbs. cheese; iron as in ¾ lb. beef liver. PLUS all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

81-years-old Husband Finds Eternal Mystery Remains

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have a wonderful wife and we get along pretty well together. I follow your advice and feed her a lot of praise and generally she eats it up, but sometimes it seems to run off of her as water does off of a duck's back. Then I am ready to join with the poet who sang: "Women's faults are many, men have but two, what they SAY and what they DO."

Dorothy Dix

I am 81 years old and I still don't understand women.

PERPLEXED

ANSWER: Well, brother, if you were 181 you still wouldn't understand women, because, as a bewildered husband wrote me not long ago, "women, and especially wives, are the most curious animals there are."

No doubt God made them that way on purpose, for it is part of the fascination of women that you never know which way they are going to jump. They always keep you guessing and wondering whether they are going to kiss you or bite you. There is never a dull moment when a woman is around.

Take marriage, for instance Does the shrewdest businessman know what sort of wife he is getting when he gets married? I'll say he doesn't. He thinks that it will be no trick at all to manage the sweet, gentle, little Baby Face he is escorting to the altar, but by time they get the rice combined out of their hair he is saying "yes ma'am" to she-who-must-be-obeyed.

Transformation acts

Then consider the transformation acts that women put on and take off as casually as they do their complexions. We have all seen extravagant girls, who kept their Papas' noses to the grindstone, turn into penny-pinchers when it was their husbands' money they were spending. We have seen lazy, trifling girls turn into crackerjack housekeepers. And, if you want to get the surprise of your life, agree with the woman who weeps on your shoulder and tells you what a poor, shiftless, no-account husband she has, and how much trouble her children give her. She would tear your hair out.

No, brother, you will never understand women, but you will have a lot of fun trying to unriddle the riddle they are.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a married woman with seven children, all youngsters, and my problem is what to do about other people sending their children to my house to be looked after. One woman dumps her five children on me every morning while she, her husband, and older daughter go to work. She never offers to pay me anything, or give me a present in appreciation of all the trouble that she puts me to, when she knows very well that I am poor and have a hard time making ends meet.

And you can imagine the condition my house is in when I always have from one to 10 children, in addition to my own seven, underfoot. Also, these children, whose mothers saddle them on me, brag about the things they have that my children cannot have, and that is hard to take.

MRS. J. H.

ANSWER: According to the old adage, God helps those who help themselves; and you can never expect to be anything but a door mat as long as you lie down and let selfish and aggressive people trample over you. Personally I have little sympathy with women who have not enough backbone to defend their own homes.

You are not only lacking in courage, you are lacking in common sense when you let yourself be victimized by your neighbors' children. What you should do is to turn your affliction into profit. Put a good high fence, with a strong gate, around your place and then announce to your neighbors that it is a playground for children, where they will be kept safe and taken care of for a reasonable price.

No doubt this will make your greedy neighbors mad, for they had counted on you being silly and weak enough to be their stooge, but they won't be angry enough to take care of their own children. They will pay for the service when they find they can't deadbeat it.

It is your own weakness when you let people impose upon you.

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

Question: I was at a funeral in a very small town last week end some of the neighbours had sent the widowed lady cakes and cookies. I tasted the nicest angel food cake I have ever eaten there. Now I have been trying to make an angel food cake like it all of my married life but can't still get that tender texture I want. Could you give me your recipe? I use your special devil's food cake recipe all of the time. Mrs. Mac.

✧ ✧ ✧

Answer: Angel food cake making is quite an art—the baking is very important,—just as important as the recipe which follows.

ANGEL FOOD CAKE

Into your sifter measure ¾ cup plus 2 tablespoons of twice-sifted cake flour; add ¼ cup sugar. Sift together 6 times. Return to sifter. Measure 1 cup egg whites (8 large eggs) into large bowl; add ¼ teaspoon salt and beat until foamy. Add 1 tablespoon cream of tartar and beat until glossy and stiff enough to stand in peaks but not dry. Add 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, folding after each addition until just blended. Fold in 1 teaspoon vanilla and ¼ teaspoon almond extract. Now sift about ¼ of the flour mixture over the surface of the egg whites, gently fold in with a shallow wire whip or spoon, being carefull not to beat air out of egg white. Fold only until flour is evenly distributed. Repeat this operation until all of flour mixture is added. Pour into ungreased tube pan; bake at 325 deg. Fahr. standing pan in exact centre of oven, for 1 hour. Turn upside down over cake rack and let cake hang for 1 hour, then loosen with spatula. To cut, pull apart with 2 forks. This requires no frosting, but if you want it frost with boiled frosting and decorate with candied cherries. I like it with no frosting, but topped with heavy whipped cream, filled with finely shaved Brazil nuts and sliced red and green cherries. But this is a special dessert in our house.

✧ ✧ ✧

Question: In one of your weekly menus you mentioned baked stuffed whitefish. It sounds good but I have no idea how to go about it. Would you give us this sometime? Grandma Jessie.

✧ ✧ ✧

Answer: I am glad you asked for this.

BAKED STUFFED WHITEFISH

(Chefs tell us the proper way to serve this is with head and tail left on— I don't like this realism myself.)

Whitefish should weigh about 2 lbs., and if possible the fisherman should scale it and bone it for you, but leave the fish intact. Wash fish well, then dry it thoroughly inside and out. Sprinkle inside generously with salt, brush outside with melted butter after stuffing with 1/3 cup butter or other shortening melted, 1 small onion finely chopped, 1/3 cup finely chopped celery, ¼ cup chopped green pepper, if available, about 6 slices bread pulled into breadcrumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon each pepper and sage, 1 egg; melt butter, gently saute vegetables in it for 3 or 4 minutes, add all remaining ingredients, and stuff into fish. Fasten together with skewers or twine. Place on oiled parchment paper, cut same size. Brush fish with butter, bake on greased flat tin or broiler pan at 450 deg Fahr. (very hot) for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to 300 deg. F. to finish. Fish is done when it flakes away from fins when lifted with a fork.

This is a favourite when served with.

CREOLE SAUCE!

Fry 2 tablespoons each chopped onion, green pepper, celery and parsley in 3 tablespoons butter for 3 minutes; then add 1 cup thick Italian tomato paste, 1 cup water, salt and pepper and simmer until flavours are blended. This may be poured over fish just before it is finished baking or be passed at table.

PROLIFIC RAT

A pair of rats left to breed unmolested may multiply to a total of 8000 rats within a year.

Malayan ants cross streams by rolling into large balls and floating across.

AIRLIFT PIN UP GIRL—That's the title held by vivacious Marge MacGregor, drum majorette of Queen's University pipe band. "I could fly coal and flour all year if I had a girl like her on my instrument panel," a Canadian pilot flying the Berlin airlift with the RAF commented when he heard a description of the Pembroke co-ed. The whole squadron agreed and dispatched a letter to Marge asking for autographed photos. This is the one she sent. The fliers rate her on an equal basis with Grable, Lamour and Dietrich.

Dainty Sandwiches for Tea Often Problem for Hostess

By MARY MOORE.

A flurry of such affairs as executive teas, christening breakfasts, engagement suppers and children's birthday parties has made me fancy-sandwich- minded and I have picked out the ideas that I thought were well worth remembering to help you with your entertaining.

FANCY SANDWICHES

The best little tea-time morsel I have eaten for some time was a dainty open-face sandwich that was made on a small round of green-tinted bread, buttered; then covered with a thin slice of cucumber, and topped with a tiny shrimp with a dot of mayonnaise in the very centre. Remember this one, for it is dainty in appearance, and is a delicious flavour combination. It was especially pretty on an Easter tea table.

My sister was elected to make the "fancy" sandwiches for the executives' tea I mentioned above and one of her specials was little rounds of white bread spread with Baumert cheese which had been creamed with soft butter and spread well to the edge of the round. She then rolled these, like a wheel, in finely chopped walnuts, and topped them with a slice of pimiento olive.

Ribbon sandwiches made up on the production-line basis fill your plates quickly for the hungry guests, and look interesting too.

For these cut about four slices of bread lengthwise of the sandwich loaf, all crusts removed Working with 4 slices of bread. spread No. 1 slice with a soft half-and-half mixture of loaf cheese creamed with butter, and some ground nuts. (These can be peanuts if you want to keep expenses down.) Put on slice No. 2 and spread it with a mixture of hand-cooked eggs, run through fine knife of grinder, 1 very small green onion, and stiff mayonnaise, and salt. It is best to grind the egg and onion together, and add the other things and cream well. Put on slice No. 3 and [illegible] this with finely ground [illegible]am spread) mixed with very finely chopped pickle. Top with fourth slice, press down well, wrap tightly in wax paper and then in heavy towel and let chill and set overnight. When ready to serve cut in slices and cut slices in fingers.

Quick cookies for your assorted cookie plates are macaroons, chocolate nut diamonds and cookies press cookies or ice box cookies; Since cocoanut is so plentiful now and since some housewives are puzzled to know how to use up their surplus egg whites I'll give you the old standby cocoanut macaroon recipe.

MACAROONS — COCOANUT AND VARIATIONS

Beat 2 egg whites until very stiff and gradually sift in 1 cup sugar while beating. Fold in ¼ teaspoon salt ½ teaspoon vanilla and 3 cups cocoanut, Now this cocoanut may be varied by adding 1 cup cocoanut 2 cups cornflakes, and ½ cup finely chopped nuts or candied cherries. Drop by teaspoonsfuls onto greased wax paper on cookies sheet. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. until delicately browned.

CHOCOLATE NUT DIAMONDS

Beat 2 eggs until thick, gradually add 1¼ cups brown sugar while beating, then stir in 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 squares unsweetened chocolate melted, ½ cup sifted flour, ½ to 1 cup chopped walnuts. Spread on generously buttered pan 8x8x2 inches Now if you use ½ cup nuts, sprinkle another half cup on top. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 25 minutes. When cool cut into 2-inch diamonds. Or use all the nuts in the cookies; when cookies are cool and before they are cut spread with icing made of 1¼ cup icing sugar, 1 egg yolks, and 1 tablespoon soft butter, beaten very well. Spread on. When cold cut into diamonds. This is a rich, glossy frosting that does not harden fast.

Orange and Cocoanut Pie (see notes) Coffee.

ONE-BURNER DINNER

Veal Stew with Tomato Dumplings. Green and Red Cabbage Slaw.

Chilled Compote of Gingered Pears. Ginger Snaps. Whites Cream Cheese. Coffee.

Directions

I had intended to make a lemon pie but had no lemons or canned lemon juice on hand and it was Wednesday afternoon, so because I had oranges and cocoanut I took a flier and made the following: it was such a success I prit it here: Heat together in top of double boil 1 cup boiling water and 1 cup orange juice. Mix together 2/3 cup sugar, 1/3 cup flour, 1 tablespoon cornstarch and ¼ teaspoon salt; mix well and stir into hot liquid until thick. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Pour this over 3 beaten egg yolks beaten with an additional ¼ cup sugar and the grated rind 2 oranges, stirring. Return all to double boiler and cook 5 minutes. Add ¼ cup lemon juice and cool. Add ½ to ¾ cup fresh or dessicated cocoanut, pour into baked pie shell; cover with meringue made from leftover whites beaten with 6 tablespoons sugar until stiff. Bake at 325 deg. Fahr. until meringue is brown.

Nine Paraplegics Refused Entry

MONTREAL, April 18 (CP).—Twelve paraplegic war veterans were back in Montreal's Queen Mary Hospital Sunday after a flight to Toronto for the fourth game of the Stanley Cup final on Saturday, which most of them did not see.

An official member of the party said at least nine of the paraplegics did not get inside Maple Leaf Gardens for the game between Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings.

He said Gardens authorities told them "there were no facilities for wheel chair cases in the Gardens." Three veterans who were able to leave their chairs had seats to the game.

The flight was arranged by Tramways Branch No. 74 Canadian Legion in conjunction with the RCAF and the Ministry of National Defence. The party had 16 tickets — good for four seats and 12 standees.

C. S. Jarvis, secretary of the Canadian Legion Branch, said: "The Maple Leaf Gardens knew all about the situation before the paraplegics got there because the tickets were given to the Paraplegics Association funds."

Those who were not able to get in to see the game listened to it by radio in the Toronto Press Club.

Blames Reds In Murder Trial

SALONICA, Greece, April 18—(AP)—Gregory Staktopoulos, on trial her for complicity in the murder of American Correspondent George Polk, said today:

"I accuse the Communist party in Greece, the Cominform, and Moscow for the murder of George Polk."

The former Communist newspaperman made the accusation in court as he started his testimony in his own defence.

In a wavering voice Staktopoulos turned to the press corps covering the trial and said:

"I appeal to all of you to broadcast to the world quickly and immediately the truth that this crime was organized and executed by Communists for their interests.

"I was a Communist and I know the government of Greece has been unjustly accused of the murder of Polk."

The young journalist and his mother, Anna, are charged with having helped the Communists in an alleged plot to murder the CBS correspondent.

The government charges that Staktopoulos lured Polk to a rowboat where another man shot him.

James Goldie Heads Southend Council

First steps have been taken in the formation of a neighborhood council, similar to that of the Dixon House area, at Confederation School by residents of the southend. Twenty people interested in the founding of a council agreed that an organization of that type would benefit the community.

James Goldie was elected chairman of the council. J. R. Stuart, who was representing the Confederation School Home and School Association, is the vice-chairman. Mrs. Jane Porter is the secretary.

Tentative boundaries of Lansdowne St. on the north, Lock St. on the east, the Otonabee river on the south and Monaghan Road on the west were outlined.

Discussing the recreational program for the area, those present felt that Confederation School was the suitable place for the Council's headquarters. The school, it was said, is nearly in the centre of the area to come under the council. The large playground surrounding the school has possibilities of a community playground.

Several small clubs in the area, such as the club operated by Albert Watkins, will be affiliated with the council. It was explained that the operation of these clubs in the area would not be affected by the council.

Honored By Brazil

NEW YORK, April 18 (CP).—Edward Johnson, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera, on Saturday was awarded the degree of Officer of the National Order of the Southern Cross, Brazil's highest decoraction. The award was in recognition of Johnson's work in presenting Brazilian musicc and artists at the Met. In the last 25 years the native of Guelph has been decorated by six other countries.

Conductor Stabbed

WASHINGTON, April 18 (CP) —A man identified as Luigi Carnevale, 39, composer-conductor of the Pennsylvania Philharmonic Orchestra was found dead of a stab wound here Saturday. Dr. A. Magruder Macdonald, District of Columbia coroner, said he was informed that Carnevale, of Philadelphia, had been depressed recently by domestic troubles. Macdonald said there was no hint of foul play.

Man Surrenders After 13 Years

MINEOLA, NY, April 18 — (AP).—Police wouldn't believe the timid-looking man, carrying two travelling bags, who walked into a police station Friday night, and said: "I am Anson G. Purchase and I am wanted."

Not until Saturday did police learn of a warrant issued 13 years ago charging Purchase with second-degree forgery at the Bayside Federal Savings and Loan Association of Queens.

Lieut. Thomas Bonanza, to whom Purchase gave himself up, said the man "told an improbable story" of taking $8,000 from the bank as an employee in 1936 and setting up as a business man in Kansas City, Mo.

But because "he did look sort of banker-ish at that," Bonanza said, Purchase was granted his wish of spending the night in the lockup.

Two Queens detectives arrived with the warrant and took Purchase back with them, climaxing 13 years of wandering and a business career — troubled, Purchase said, by a conscience that gave him no rest.

Top Stage Star Will Hay Dies

LONDON, April 18 (CP)—Will Hay, 60, one of Britain's top stage, film and radio comedians, died at his London flat today after a long illness.

A leading amateur astronomer, Hay was a Fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society and a member of the British Astronomy Association.

On the stage he was famous for his creation of "Narkover" and "St. Michael's College," a boisterous music-hall version of a British public school in which he played the benign but shrewd headmaster, Dr. Twist.

Hay was one of the few stage artists whose personality lost nothing on the radio. Listeners did not need to see his gray wig and his pincenez wobbling precariously on his nose to appreciate his definition of a philosopher as "a man who knows more and more about less and less, until he knows everything about nothing."

Firemen Check Fire Avert Serious Damage

MILLBROOK, April 18 (ENS) An alarm calling the volunteer fire company to a chimney fire at the home of Mrs. J. Todd, on Tupper Street, on Saturday at 11 a.m. was answered promptly and serious damage was averted. Originating in the kitchen stove pipes, the fire burned the paint off the metallic ceiling where the string of pipes went across the kitchen. The pipes went through the room above and the flooring there took fire in their vicinity, though they were well protected with cement and metal casing.

As there are a number of frame houses and other buildings in the immediate neighborhood, including the next-door blacksmith shop, the potential fire hazard was great.

Religious Plays Given At Mark St.

A fine program of Easter music and religious plays was presented in the Mark Street United Church on Good Friday evening. The program which was presided over by Rev. E. W. Rowland of Grace United Church, opened with the hymn "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," which was followed by excerpts by the choir from "Olivet to Calvary" and an organ and piano meditation played by Mrs. Olive Searles and Norman Harris. The choir then sang "Come on Thou Traveller Unknown."

Next followed the presentation of two plays, one on the betrayal of Jesus and the other on the Resurrection, both being under direction of Peter McCombe.

The solo "The Holy City" was capably rendered by Mrs. Searles, and the program concluded with the hymn "Crown Him With Many Crowns" and prayer led by Rev. Mr. Rowland.

Numbers by the choir were under direction of Mrs. Olive Searles, organist and choir leader of the church, and narrator for the plays was Rev. H. G. Douglas, minister of Knox United Church.

HAROLD BROOKS

Omemee Youth In The Mounties

OMEMEE, April 18.—(ENS).—Omemee has turned out many young men and women of which she is justly proud — teachers, ministers, missionaries, doctors, nurses, veterinarians, horticulturists, mechanics and business men and women—but Constable Harold Brooks is Omemee's first member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Harold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brooks of Omemee, and nephew of H. B. McGinness, 255 McDonnel St., Peterborough. He was educated in Omemee. Last spring his application to enter the R.C.M.P was accepted and he was called up for training. He completed his course in Rockcliffe and in January was stationed at Charlottetown, P.E.I.

At present, besides his police duty, he is visiting schools and young people's organizations lecturing and showing movies on "Youth and the Police."

Public Schools Enrol 3,788

Enrolment at the public schools of the city in March totalled 3,788; average attendance was 3,324, and the percentage 93.65. Corresponding attendance last year was 3,561. Highest individual average was at Parkhill School where there are 67 children on the roll, and the average attendance was 66 or 96.61 per cent. Grove School at the opposite end of the city was second with 96.53 per cent.

The schools received 12 pupils from families moving into Peterborough and lost 17 who moved away in March.

The number of North Monaghan children attending city schools is: Confederation, 2; Grove, 18; May's, 4; Prince of Wales, 32; Queen Mary, 9. Total 65.

Absence of teachers with illness amounted to more lost days than usual, Superintendent K. S. Wightman reported to the Board of Education Thursday. Twenty-two teachers were affected, and their absence ranged from one-half a day up to 24 days in one case and four others for two weeks. It was an exceptional incidence of sickness in the teachers' ranks.

In the nurses' report mention is made of 187 minor accidents and dressings; 298 vision tests; 140 hearing tests; 193 home visits; 858 classroom inspections.

Total enrolment at Collegiate Institute and Vocational School was 1,135 during March and average attendance 1,066 or 93.49 per cent. Resident students were 866; from Peterborough county 216; Durham, 41.

St. Laurent Hopes U.S. Sales Soar

REGINA, April 18 — (CP) — Canadians mulled over a hope today that this country may sell a record volume of goods in 1949 to the United States.

Canada's exports to the U.S. in 1948 reached a record $1,500,000 but Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent thinks it possible that 1949 may be a better year.

He put it this way in a speech Saturday at a dinner in Calgary sponsored by The Canadian Clubs and Board of Trade: there has been a 10 per cent boost on exports to the U.S. in the first two months of this year, this increase will not go on indefinitely but "the promise for 1949 seems to be fairly reassuring."

The Prime Minister is due here today from Calgary and he faces a busy week. From here he will travel to Saskatoon, Brandon, Winnipeg, Fort William and Port Arthur and then will continue to Ottawa. He will reach the capital next Sunday, a day before Parliament resumes.

Sales And Ad Plan Big Night

Members of the Peterborough Advertising and Sales Club are looking forward to one of the biggest events in the history of this organization, their first Inter-Club Night, to be held in the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel on Tuesday, at 6.30. A large number of fellow Sales and Ad clubbers are expected to attend from such cities as Kingston, Belleville, Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Windsor, London, Brantford, Hamilton, Kitchener-Waterloo, and Galt.

Hon. Orlo M. Brees, prominent New York State legislator and a man of wide experience as a salesman, teacher, author, and editor will be the special speaker. His topic is "The Secret of Happiness."

Communittee arranging the special dinner meeting are headed by Ed O'Toole, Clayton Ruth and Jim Archibald. Outside entertainers have been secured.

Four new directors will be elected from nominees named at the March meeting—Russ Baer, Bert Cowan, Doug Delaney, Welcon Fanning, Jack Jobe, Don Loucks, Bill Nash, Clayton Ruth and Errol Wilson.

Membership Now 217

Nine new members, whose applications were approved at the April directors' meeting, will be formally welcomed at tomorrow's banquet. They are: E. A. Adams, Ed. Bickell, Ernest A. Brailsford, William R. Godson, P. M. Irwin, Thomas J. Lawlor, Bob Maybee, Richard R. Miller, Lynne A. Wilson. The total membership now stands at 217.

At the March meeting of the club the first honorary membership in its history was conferred upon Ernest H. Howson, president of the Peterborough Lock Company. This honor was awarded in recognition of the part Mr. Howson played in the club's recent "Industrial Night."

Only Officials Allowed Entry To Holy Places

JERUSALEM, April 18—(AP) —Only official personages and religious dignitaries had free access to Jerusalem's holy places Easter Sunday. Other worshippers did not pass through military lines.

The recently-concluded Israel-Trans-Jordan armistice held a clause saying agreement had been reached in principle to provide free access to the holy places.

Details were to be worked out by a special committee of two Israeli and two trans-Jordan representatives. This committee has not yet met. Trans-Jordan troops occupy the old city; New Jerusalem is in Israeli hands.

Church bells pealed forth the Easter message: "Christ Has Risen." For the Greek Orthodox and other eastern churches it was Palm Sunday.

Sociability of Canadians Lauded By English Bride

CAMPBELLORD, April 18. — (ENS).—The great abundance of food, clothing, etc., the more modern, comfortable homes, and the undoubted sociability of Canadians—these are some of the outstanding impressions of Canada formed by Mrs. Jim Price, one of a number of English brides now residing in the Wartime Housing area here.

Mr. and Mrs. Price and their two-year-old twins, William John and James Stanley, are enjoying the comforts of a happy domestic life in house No. 24 on the Wartime Housing estate. Mrs. Price, the former Joan Walton of England, was born in Gateshead-on-the-Tyne. She is one of a large number of English brides residing in Campbellford.

Mrs. Price said that she was amazed at the abundance of everything in Canada. "When I left England," she stated, "the weekly supply of food per person was one-half ounce of tea, three ounces of butter, three ounces of bacon and a shilling's worth of meat. We were lucky to get one egg a month and bananas and oranges were rarely seen."

She met her husband, she said, on Feb. 16, 1945, at an afternoon tea-dance in Newcastle. He was on shore leave from his ship. On August 12 of the same year they were married in St. Paul's Church, Gateshead, and in May, 1946, landed in Canada.

She said that during the war she was making uniforms, which was compulsory work.

Many Changes Wrought

The war brought about important social and political changes in England, Mrs. Price said. The people admired Mr. Churchill, but they chose a Labor government because they believed socialism had more to offer the common man. The barriers between the upper and lower classes were rapidly disappearing, she declared.

"Women's clothes," she continued, "are more reserved and better-tailored in the Old Country, and the dances are more complicated and varied. House work is much easier here and the homes are more modern and comfortable. Canadians are very sociable, and I have never felt like a stranger since coming to Canada," she said.

Churches Filled Easter Sunday

MARMORA, April 18 (ENS) — St. Paul's Anglican Church was filled almost to capacity on Sunday morning for the choral celebration of Holy Communion at which Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie officiated. There were 96 communicants.

The altar and chancel were adorned with Easter lilies and pink snapdragon. The full choir sang Caleb Simper's anthem "He hath done wonders" the solo part being taken by Mrs. L. R. Rundle.

At Evensong Mrs. P. Gray and Mrs. L. R. Rundle rendered the duet "Low in the Grave He Lay."

In the afternoon a special children's service was held at which the Sunday School teachers and scholars presented their Lenten mite boxes.

St. Andrew's Crowded

Large congregations attended the Easter Day services at St. Andrew's United Crurch which was prettily decorated with spring blooms. At the morning service the choir sang an Easter anthem.

The Rev. G. D. Young, BA, BD, gave a message from the text "He is not here. He is risen. Behold He goeth forth before you into Galilee. There shall ye see Him."

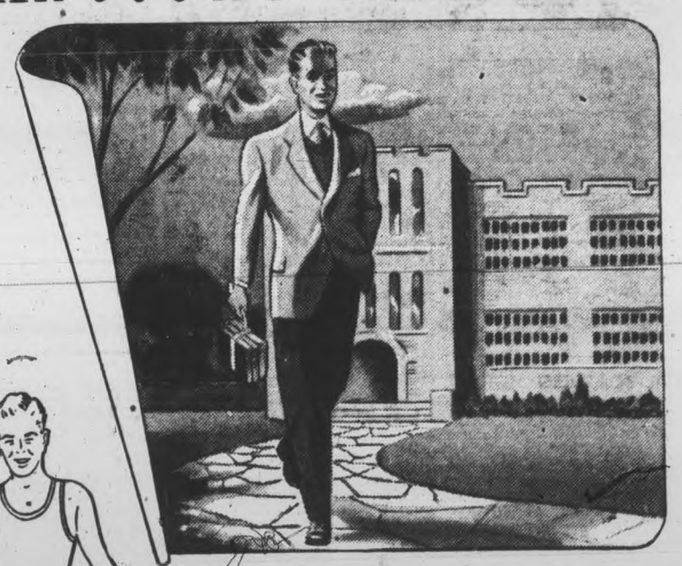
Plan Plane Cruises

LONDON, April 18—(Reuters) —Flying boat cruises to the Mediterranean are being arranged for British holiday-makers this summer. Four-engined flying boats will fly 14-day luxury trips from Southampton to Monte Carlo, Venice, Rome, Cyprus, Malta and Bordeaux. The round trip fare will be £267 10s ($1,070).

Report Vitamin E Used As Nerve Tonic

NEW YORK, April 18—(AP).—Uses of vitamin E as an apparent nerve tonic were reported here Saturday.

The reports were made at an international conference on this viamin, held by the New York Academy of Sciences. Although E has been known for 20 years, few human uses have been found. The reports came from 10 countries, including Canada.



Dr. Ugo Butturini, University of Parma, Italy, said that he found vitamin E benficial in diphtheria. Especially it prevented paralysis that sometimes follows this disease.

Dr. Buturini also found E useful in diabetes. Dr. Arthur Vogelsang of London, Ont., reported that this vitamin reduced the amount of insulin needed by adult diabetics.

But Dr. George M. Guest, of the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, reported that E failed to benefit 13 children's hospital diabetics on whom it was tried for 50 to 100 days.

"MAN . . . it's Comfortable!"

The boy, growing up, looks at everything critically—including underwear. This time of year he wants shorts. He wants them with a full elastic waistband—no bothersome buttons. He ought to have them with a firm elastic support if he's constantly playing games, a gentle masculine support when less active.

Either Watson's "372" S'port Short (firm elastic support and short all-in-one), or Watson's "555" Criss Cross French Shorts will please him. Mothers please note: these durable undergarments wash easily and require no ironing.

No More Harsh Laxatives!

Famous cereal brings lasting relief from constipation

Are harsh laxatives causing you distress and unhappiness? Then read this unsolicited letter:

"About 8 months ago, I decided to start eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. After a few days, I realized that regular use of this breakfast cereal was making my system work naturally. Constipation doesn't trouble me any more. Believe me, it's a great relief!" P. Leveille, 4465 Rinard Street, Montreal.

Yes, if you suffer from constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet, you may never have to take another harsh laxative again. Simply eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily and drink plenty of water.

ALL-BRAN is not a purgative, but a wholesome cereal. Eat an ounce as a cereal or in muffins for constipation relief. If after using one package you are not completely satisfied, get double your money back as guaranteed on the package. Get delicious ALL-BRAN from your grocer. Made by Kellogg's of London, Ontario.

Bethany WA Plans To Hold Easter Tea

BETHANY, April 18 (ENS)—The Women's Association of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. Clarke Pomeroy on Tuesday with Mrs. G. Waddell presiding. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Henry Jakeman and Mrs. A. H. Monk gave "Lesson Thoughts" and led in prayer. Silent prayer was also observed in memory of Mrs. Letitia Arnott, a member who had passed away recently.

Plans were made for the Easter tea to be held in the Church Basement, Monday, April 18. A committee was appointed to buy new cups and saucers for the church kitchen.

Mrs. H. L. Challice announced the program which included a reading by Miss H. Staples "The Minister'se Wife"; a duet by Beverley Pomeroy and Marie Carr "He Lives." Mrs. W. R. Crandall gave the topic "Christianity in the Home," stating that Christian parents and Christian living are what make a happy home. Children brought up in this atmosphere will develop into good citizens, which in time will solve the nation's problems.

Easter hymns were sung throughout the meeting, which Rev. Mr. Crandall closed with prayer.

A social hour was enjoyed with the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Walter Neals, Mrs. H. Challice and Miss Beverly Pomeroy serving a delicious lunch.

MONEY takes wings today faster than ever before. True . . . many people are earning more — but the cost of living uses up a much greater proportion. Few indeed can hope to accumulate large sums for future emergencies.

How, then, can you ever hope to lay aside enough money to provide for your family in case of your untimely death — or for the years when your earning capacity will cease?

The only sure way is through Life Insurance. It would take years to build an adequate savings fund for your dependents, but a proportion of your savings put into Life Insurance will immediately guarantee to them a monthly income in case of your death. At the same time it will provide for your declining years should you live to old age.

SMILING as though she didn't have a care in the world, FREDA LINTON, last of the accused in the now famous Russian spy trials who surrendered in Montreal on Monday and now is free on $2,500 bail, is shown in this exclusive photo as she conferred with Joseph Cohen, KC, her counsel. Miss Linton, accused of violating the Canadian Official Secrets Act, is scheduled to appear for preliminary inquiry Tuesday. There is the possibility that Ottawa may lodge a preferred indictment, which would mean she would not have to go through regular Criminal Court procedure, but would appear directly before Court of King's Bench.

Town Hall Renovation Project Of Institute

MARMORA, April 16 —(ENS)—The annual meeting of Marmora Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. A. H. Connor and Mrs. R. E. Neol on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. E. C. Prentice, president was in the chair. The roll call for the evening was "Pay your dues". The annual fee has been raised from twentyfive cents a year to fifty cents.

Mrs. C. U. Clancy, district president, was in attendance.

Renovation of the interior of the Town Hall, now in progress, was discussed. The purchase of stage curtains is in the project, over which a lengthy discussion took place. It was announced that the Marmora Tweedsmuir Scrap-Book was being returned. It had been entered in the exhibit of Ontario books compiled by the various institutes. Prizes had been awarded the institutes at St. George and a Western Ontario town.

Expresses Thanks

Mrs. E. C. Prentice, retiring president, voiced her thanks to the members for their loyalty and co-operation during her term of office. After asking for a continuance of the same for her successor, she invited Mrs. Clancy to conduct the election of officers.

The nominating committee of Mrs. James Rice and Mrs. Grace Warren had prepared the slate of officers which included the following:—President, Mrs. Eugene Brady; 1st. Vice-President, Mrs. Percy Gray; 2nd. Vice-President, Mrs. Harold Navle; Secretary Treasurer, Mrs. Warden Chrysler Pianist, Mrs. Leslie Rundle; District Director, Mrs. Louis Green; Directors, Mrs. R. E. Neal, Mrs. F. Grant, and Mrs. A. Crossen; Auditors, Mrs. F. Grant and Mrs. W. D. Lavender.

The president-elect then took charge of the meeting. Mrs. Clancy gave a helpful talk on "Spreading sunshine and helping other."

200 Nurses In Ottawa

OTTAWA, April 18 (CP)—More than 200 nurses invaded this capital during the week-end, gathering to open the annual convention of the Registered Nurses Association of Ontario Easter Monday.

Cod Liver Oil Supplied Pupils

WARKWORTH, April 18 —(ENS)—The campaign for funds in Percy Township and the village of Warkworth in the Red Cross drive is over and the results are very gratifying. The amount received was just under $500. The teachers and pupils in the various schools of the township co-operated very willingly and so made the Drive a success.

The Red Cross have supplied cod liver oil capsules to all the school children in Percy Township, the village of Warkworth and also the village of Hastings. This was made possible through the contributions and efforts of all in keeping the Warkworth Branch alive.

Ben Buchanan is the President and W. J. Mowat is Treasurer of the Warkworth Branch.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Y.P.S. of Warkworth were hosts to St. Andrew's Y.P.S., Hastings, at their last regular meeting.

Scripture reading was given by Bernice Nelson and prayer by Rev. J. M. Ritchie. A duet "Whispering Hope" was sung by June and Joy Craighead.

A lantern slide lecture on the Easter message was given by the minister.

Arden McNaughton, president, welcomed the guests and Miss S. Whitred, president of Hastings Y.P.S., replied. The Rev. H. G. Lester of St. Paul's United Church, brought greetings

A closely contested Bible game was won by the Hastings team.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Ritchie invited the visitors, along with the Warkworth executive, to the manse where about 35 partook of light refreshments.

On Sunday morning, April 10, a large congregation was present at St. Paul's United Church to hear the Easter cantata entitled "Life Eternal" sung by the choir.

The solo and duet numbers were ably taken by June Orr, Mrs. Don Thompson, Ina Bowen, Mrs. Jas. McCleary, Rev. H. G. Lester, and Douglas Knight.

Garments on Display

The Sewing Sister Club held an afternoon tea on Thursday under the auspices of the Women's Institute at the home of Mrs. Elwood Greenly. The girl's garments and record books which they made at their club meetings were on display.

Luncheon was served by the girls and they presented their leaders, Mrs Norman McCubbin and Mrs. Elmer Laver, with silver bread trays in appreciation of their work with the class.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the Hostess and the girls by the members of the W. I. for their delightful afternoon.

Cancer Fund Assisted By Women's Institute

LAKEFIELD, April 18 —(ENS)—Miss Clara Kidd was hostess to members of the Women's Institute for the April meeting. Mrs. Ernie Waldon, president, presided. Twenty-two members were present.

Two dollars was donated to the Cancer Research Fund.

Mrs. H. Sanderson reported for the visiting committee.

It was decided to hold the Navy Tag Day on May 28.

The roll call was answered by members handingf in clippings for the historical research scrap book.

Mrs. Howard Bullock gave an interesting talk on changes in the village of Lakefield through the years.

Lunch was served by Mrs. F. E. Chatten, Mrs. E. Waldon and Mrs. C. Chittick.

The election of officers will be held in May at the home of Mrs. W. James Charlton.

Dr. John Danby Dead

OTTAWA, April 18 (CP)—Dr. John J. Danby, 82, prominent Ottawa physician who had practised here for more than a half-century, died in hospital Saturday. Born and educated at Meaford, and a graduate of Toronto's Trinity Medical School, Dr. Danby first began his practice here in 1891.

BABY BONUS

Family allowances were first introduced to Canada in 1945.

NORTHERN ONTARIO EX-SERVICEMEN who have settled under the Veterans' Land Act are building up herds of purebred dairy and beef animals. Latest shipment left Saturday from Barrie. Included in the shipment of 21 Shorthorns and Holsteins was a black and white heifer whose dam was a Canadian record-maker. During the past three years, Fred Porter, Cochrane, ULA supervisor has bought 13 registered bulls for northern settlers.

Red Cross Group At Lakefield Exceeds Quota

LAKEFIELD, April 18 (ENS)—Lakefield Red Cross Society surpassed its objective in the recent campaign for funds, E. W. Bailey, organizer of the campaign, disclosed at the April meeting. $924.09 was collected with several points to report yet. The objective was $800.

Mr. Bailey suggested letters of appreciation be sent the canvassers.

Mrs. W. Leonard, president, stated a great deal of credit was due Mr. Bailey for organizing the campaign so efficiently.

Another year, Mr. Bailey suggested, some arrangements should be made to entertain the canvassers.

Mrs. C. Foster reported twelve quilts have been made. The Beaver Club are making two more. The Grace Gospel Hall ladies and the ladies of the United church had each donated a top and quilted one quilt.

To Purchase Wool

It was moved by Mrs. J. Redpath and Mrs. F. E. Dixon that Mrs. F. L. Erskine purchase some wool for socks.

The loan cupboard had been used three or four times this month. The society decided to return articles in loan cupboard not in demand to headquarters. Two layettes are being sent to Miss Young for the children's shelter.

Mrs. Wallace Hendren's (Reg. N.) report showed 43 children had been vaccinated at the school and 18 revaccinated.

Mrs. H. D. Wilford said Roy Brown has a punt he is willing to sell to the Red Cross Society for the swimming project.

Tell of Convention

Mrs. R. McCracken and Mrs. H Hendren gave detailed reports of the Red Cross convention they attended recently in Toronto.

They stated the Ontario Division of the Red Cross is the oldest and has 280 Branches, and that the Canadian Red Cross now have blood transfusion services in four provinces.

In India the nursing problem is acute with only 1 trained nurse for every 43,000 people, Mrs. McCracken disclosed in her report.

Mrs. Hendren stated 3 new out post hospitals are nearing completion, the nearest new one being at Bancroft.

HOW DOES YOUR VEGETABLE GARDEN GROW?

It may be too early to plant, but it's not too soon to plan your vegetable garden now. You'll save a lot of time later by laying it out on paper, because you'll know just what seed to sow, how much to buy, and where to sow it! Vegetables—from your own miniature farm—fresh and full of vitamins—are health insurance for the whole family and consequently, the community itself. Any individual activity that so benefits everyone certainly comes under the heading of "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

PRISONERS RIOT AT COLLINS BAY PEN

AN OLD-FASHIONED HIP BATH is delivered to Maria Carroll, 87, by an employe of London's Old People's Welfare Department. The door-to-door bath service is available to old folks who have no bathing facilities in their homes. After the bath, the tub is picked up and loaned to someone else.

Crowded Holidayers' Bus Overturns In Ditch, 8 Hurt

SPENCERVILLE, April 19—(CP).—A huge 10-ton intercity bus, crammed full with Easter holidayers, yesterday overshot a curve on the highway near here, tumbled onto its side and crashed down into a five-foot water-filled ditch, injuring eight of its 39 passengers. The passengers were mostly holidayers returning to Ottawa after spending the week-end at district points.

Three of them—all Ottawa women—are in a nearby Kemptville nursing home today, recovering from bone fractures, head abrasions and shock. Five other persons were treated by Kemptville doctors and allowed to return home.

The bus, a Colonial Coach Line vehicle, was returning to Ottawa along Highway 17. Its driver, Ray Stephens, of Kingston, who was cut about the face by flying glass, apparently had trouble, police say, in negotiating a sharp curve just south of this town, some 40 miles south of Ottawa.

Topples Into Ditch

The vehicle continued along the wet pavement for about 100 feet, bounced over a soft road shoulder toppled over and skidded along a water-filled ditch for another 50 feet before coming to a halt.

Within minutes, the highway on both sides was lined with motorists who had stopped to help the injured.

Relief buses brought the passengers of the wrecked vehicle to Ottawa. Others, injured but able to return home, were brought to the capital in automobiles.

C. H. Belford, superintendent of transportation for the coach line said damage to the bus would not be extensive since it had overturned into soft mud and water.

The accident had occurred during the company's busiest week-end on record. 'It was the heaviest week-end traffic we've ever had, easily beating the Christmas and New Year peaks," Mr. Belford said.

Priest Silenced By Archbishop

BOSTON, April 19.—(AP).—Fev. Leonard Feeney, S.J., 52, noted Roman Catholic educator and author involved in the heresy dispute at Boston College, has been "silenced" by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston.

The Archbishop said in a formal decree that the priest "has lost the right to perform any priestly functions, including preaching and teaching of religion . . . "because of grave offences against the general laws of the Roman Catholic church."

The move climaxed a week of controversy which began when three lay instructors at the college were dismissed after accusing the Jesuit school of teaching heresy. The prelate supported their dismissal.

The Archbishop also acted against the St. Benedict's Centre, a Cambridge intellectual group near Harvard College, headed by Father Feeney.

He said the Centre "is henceforth without ecclesiastical approbation and attendance as it is strictly forbidden to Roman Catholics," under penalty of forfeiting "the right to receive the sacraments of Penance and Holy Eucharist."

Archbishop Cushing criticized the three instructors "for the serious scandal they have caused.

Girl 13 Saves Baby In Fire

SUDBURY, April 19.—(CP).—A plucky 13-year-old girl was today credited with saving the life of an 18-month-old baby in a fire which swept through the interior of a one-storey house in suburban Gatchell, Monday night.

Showing complete disregard for personal safety, Joe Anne Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hamilton, dashed through a flaming rear shed and a smoke-filled kitchen into a bedroom to rescue Wayne Cowdery, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Cowdery, whose home was badly damaged in the fire.

Fire Chief Alex Anderson of the Gatchell fire department said today there was no doubt that the baby would have been lost if the girl had not got him out on time. He declared the smoke was so heavy that the baby would have been smothered in a few minutes.

Bolivia Asks Delay In Inquiry

UN Decides To Invite Hungary, Bulgaria To Attend Debates

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 19—(CP)—The United Nations today invited Hungary and Bulgaria to be present during general assembly debates on Communist prosecution of religious leaders in those countries.

Canada was among the majority of 17 members of the 58-member special political committee which supported the Australian proposal to extend the invitation. The United States and Russia abstained along with 40 others.

The lone negative vote was cast by Cuba.

Russia hinted the two Soviet satellites probably would refuse to take part in the debate on the ground the U.N. has no jurisdiction.

The fight over inviting Hungary and Bulgaria deevloped after Bolivia had circulated a resolution proposing that positive action be delayed until the fall session of the U.N. assembly.

The Bolivian request was placed before the Assembly's 58-member special political committee which also had a proposal from Cuba for immediate first-hand investigation of the trials of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and 15 Protestant church leaders in Bulgaria.

The unexpected postponement proposal took note of action by Britain and the United States who accused the two Soviet-bloc countries of violating the human-rights clauses of the peace treaties.

At the same time, Australia suggested the committee invite representatives of Hungary and Bulgaria to sit on the committee while the problem is debated.

Bolivia and Australia were the countries originally proposing that the UN study the trials to discover whether any human rights or fundamental freedoms were violated.

Hugues Lapointe, Liberal member of Parliament for Lotbiniere, Que., and Parliamentary Assistant to Canada's External Affairs Minister, was on hand to deliver the Dominion's major speech on the problem.

Meanwhile, chances faded that the Assembly would find a solution at the current session for disposition of Italy's pre-war colonies in Africa.

Pakistan and India gave general support to a Russian proposal for a collective UN trusteeship over Mussolini's former colonial empire.

Reported Weakening

NEW YORK, April 19—(AP).—Dr. Stephen S. Wise, 75, internationally known Jewish leader, "has lapsed into a comatose state again and the outlook is very grave," Lenox Hill Hospital reported today.

A previous bulletin issued at midnight said that he was weakening and losing ground.

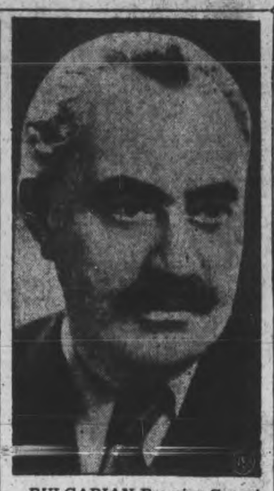
Hospital authorities said the patient had shown no improvement since midnight.

Dr. Wise entered the hospital March 30 for an abdominal operation and has been critically ill since Saturday.

Argentine Army Restores Peace After Violent Riot

BUENOS AIRES, April 19—(AP).—The Argentine Army today restored peace in the city of Salta near the Bolivian frontier after violent street fighting between police and workers participating in a general strike.

Correspondents in Salta, 1,200 miles northwest of Buenos Aires, reported three persons were killed and 31 wounded in a 2½-hour street fight yesterday afternoon. Reporters on the scene expressed belief the casualty list is greater than reported.



The strike was called by the General Labor Federation to protest the high cost of living. The Federation has objected strenuously to a recent decree fixing maximum prices for necessities. It demanded the decree be withdrawn and called for the resignations of two provincial officials responsible for it.

At least six Federal police were among those injured. Lower ranks of the Federal police threatened to join the strike but eight policemen leading the revolt were jailed before the strike started.

Union headquarters in Buenos Aires declared the walkout illegal.

Trouble started when the strikers assembled in two big meetings and then marched toward the Provincial Government House. Mounted Federal police repulsed one group of workers. The workers, armed with sticks and stones, regrouped and charged again and then the shooting started.

In the melee that followed the crowd broke through the police cordon, stoned the windows of Government House and mounted the balconies. At this point, a nearby army garrison arrived and seized the headquarters and restored order.

BULGARIAN Premier Georgi Dimitrov, above, who departed for Russia on "home leave," is the source of speculation that he may have fallen out with the Cominform. Probably the No. 1 Communist outside of Russia, Dimitrov did not join the general Cominform denunciation of Tito and had been censured in the past for advocating a Balkan federation in the face of Soviet opposition.

Denies Charge Nothing Done In County Home

GUELPH, April 19 (CP)—John M. Milligan, chairman of the management committee of the Wellington County Home for the Aged denied today that nothing has been done to implement Ontario Welfare Department recommendations for the improvement of the institution.

Department officials were quoted yesterday as saying that, as far as they knew, nothing had been done to implement the report of investigators who visited the home six months ago.

The report charged that residents of the home were locked in their rooms, that their mail was censored, and that housekeeping conditions were untidy.

Mr. Milligan said today: "Rome wasn't built in a day, and we can't do these things overnight."

An architect had been engaged to plan certain alterations to the building. Residents were locked in their rooms at night "only in the odd case, where their mental condition is such they would wander away or fall and get hurt if not locked in."

"Censoring of mail may continue in odd cases for the inmate's own good. There was a case for instance where an old lady had a bit of money and the family was trying to get it away from her by various means," Mr. Milligan said.

"As far as I can see these reports of conditions at the home are greatly exaggerated and have little foundation."

Return Sweep Tickets For Church Offering

OTTAWA, April 19. — The sweepstake tickets found in the collection plate of St. Luke's Anglican Church Sunday have been exchanged for the usual offering.

It seems it was all an unfortunate mistake.

The gentleman concerned came to church with the tickets in an envelope in one pocket and his church offering in an envelope in another picket. His right hand didn't know what his left hand was doing and the tickets landed inn the collection plate.

Apprised of his error through a nimbly worded announcement by Rev. Serson Clarke at a later service, the gentleman met privately with the pastor, and, in a quiet ceremony, the envelopes were switched for the last time.

Escaped German POW Given Year's Parole

OTTAWA, April 19 (CP) — A government spokesman said today Willy Gottschalk, escaped German prisoner-of-war who was recaptured recently, has been freed on parole for a year.

The 28-year-old former merchant seaman, who was at Halifax for deportation when he was returned to Montreal last week, was released in Montreal. The official said it was presumed he would return to work in a chemical plant in Ville La Salle, Que.

200 Convicts In Uprising Over Rations

Plumbing, Furniture Smashed To Bits In Orgy Of Destruction

KINGSTON, Apriu 19 (CP).—Conflicting rumors spread like wildfire through Kingston to-day in the wake of disturbances in the cell blocks of Collins Bay Penitentiary yesterday.

No details were released by officials of the Federal Prison six miles west of here. But unconfirmed reports said nearly 200 of the 300 prisoners were involved.

The rumors said the prisoners smashed plumbing, ripped fixtures from the walls, destroyed furniture, and caused thousands of dollars worth of damage.

Extra police ringed the Penitentiary area and barred reporters during the demonstration, which started as a protest over prison food.

Reporters at the scene said the row started at 4:30 p.m. and continued for more than 3½ hours.

Collins Bay Penitentiary is distinct from the big Portsmouth Penitentiary, two miles away. It is reserved for less troublesome prisoners, convicted of non-violent crimes like embezzlement, and men who have been specially selected because of good behavior.

The last serious outbreak at the prison was in 1937 when nearly 50 prisoners staged a sit-down strike for nearly a week in protest against prison disciplinary measures.

Reports in Kingston said trouble had been brewing for some time in the prison.

One version said the convicts staged a sit-down strike in a dormitory and began yelling at guards when ordered to their cells. Another said prisoners wanted a special meal for Easter Monday and staged the demonstration when they did not get it.

A different version said only the arrival of extra guards prevented a mass outbreak of the convicts.

No Injuries

OTTAWA, April 19—(CP). — Prisoners at the Federal Penitentiary at Collins Bay, near Kingston, staged an Easter demonstration Monday in their dormitories, Maj.-Gen. R. B. Gibson, penitentiaries commissioner, said today.

There were no injuries and the disturbance was quelled in about a half-hour. About 40 prisoners took part.

The commissioner said the demonstration stemmed from complaints of the prisoners that they were not getting sufficient extra rations for Easter. It involved a good deal of noise but was broken up when extra guards were called in and "three or four" ringleaders were segregated.

Gen. Gibson said that "routine" disciplinary action against the ringleaders will be taken by the warden in accordance with the Federal Penitentiaries Act.

Meters Bring In Fifty Thousand

Parking meters have collected $49,258.53 to the end of March, City Clerk Outram reported to the Council on Monday night. They have been in operation since May 12, 1947. Their receipts for March were $2,017.08. During the month 225 motorists paid the parking penalty of $1 each.

Total contributions to the city treasury, through the clerk's office last month were: Licences $1633.64, police court fines $1,454, miscellaneous $752.22, parking meters $2,017.08, amounting to $5,856.94

Parking stickers to the value of $135 were sold in March. Details of other collections were: Garbage tags $28.90, dog tags $260, two Master Plan booklets $2.62, marriage licences $100, and general city licences $1,633.64, including $175 for billiard tables, tobacco $160, transient trader $100.

City Clerk Outram reported that the tax rolls should be completed by April 30. Two wards have already been delivered to City Treasurer Couper. That is the final step in preparation for the collection of the first instalment of the 1949 taxes.

$5,000 Payroll Carried Off By Safecrackers

TORONTO, April 19—(CP)—A safecracking gang early today escaped with a 600-pound safe containing $5,000, payroll money of the Federal Groceries.

Police said the thieves stole a truck from a nearby parking lot shortly before they rammed the plant shipping door. They lifted the safe onto a small hand truck and pushed it to the rear of the building.

It is believed the safe was opened in a suburban area and both the truck and strongbox abandoned.

Police said they thought the safecrackers were members of the same gang which has been breaking into west-end premises during the last two weeks, stealing safes and smashing them open in fields around the Woodbridge area.

Test Air Fumes Over Mill Town

DONORA, Pa., April 19 (AP)—Low-lying clowds and a steady rain today failed to halt a four-day test of poisonous fumes in the air over this mill town.

Scientists are seeking to recreate industrial conditions reported last October when 22 persons died in a five-day fatal smog.

On the test's first day Monday, a strong wind prevented formation of fog. The wind blew most of the smoke across the Monongahela river to the town of Webster.

George Clayton, of the United States public health service, said the rain was not interfering with the test. He added the test would be stopped at the first sign that atmospheric conditions of last October are being duplicated.

Pearson Arrives In London For Conference; India To Be Top Problem

Hoping To Produce New Formula Enabling Republican India To Remain Within Framework Of Commonwealth

LONDON, April 19—(CP).—L. B. Pearson, Canada's Minister for External Affairs and delegate to the forthcoming Commonwealth Conference, arrived yesterday for the talks, at which the Asian question is expected to take the spotlight. London newspapers, meanwhile, are debating the question which is expected to be the chief concern of the conference: Can a formula be found under which a Republican India can remain within the traditional Commonwealth framework?

The Times of London has raised another point: Would India and Pakistan introduce the question of a loan to the Burma Government, no longer within the Commonwealth?

Central figure at the conference, India's Prime Minister Nehru is expected in London late tomorrow. He will be preceded by Prime Ministers Malan of South Africa, Sir Zafrullah Khan of Ceylon, Chifley of Australia, Fraser of New Zealand and Liaquat Ali Khan of Pakistan.

Discussing the possibility of India leaving the Commonwealth, Wilfred Sendall, the Daily Telegraph's political correspondent, had this to say:

"The paradox of the situation is that none of the other Commonwealth nations wishes either India or Eire to go outside. So far as can be ascertained the Indians do not wish to leave. . ."

The strongly imperialist and conservative Daily Mail mourned what it called a trend toward "liquidation of the empire," as marked by declaration yesterday of the Republic of Ireland and the expected similar move by India.

It added editorially:

"Socialists (the Labor Government) are learning how much the Commonwealth contributes to British living standards. . . They have gained some sense. . . Thank goodness they will have with them overseas statesmen who know what empire means."

Charge Russians Have Miniature Atom City

BERLIN, April 19.—(AP). — The British-licensed newspaper Mittags Echo claimed today the Russians are operating a "miniature atom city" near suburban Potsdam.

The newspaper said the Russians had been conducting atomic research in a closely-guarded "little hide-away" there with a staff of German scientists since 1947.

The report said the work was solely research and not production.

No confirmation of the report was given by American intelligence officials, but they said it had been known for some time that the Russians were using German scientists in atomic as well as other military research.

Woman, Sons Admit Slaying Two 'Lonely Hearts' Men

DOVER, Del., April 19—(AP)—A 45-year-old woman and her two sons have admitted the slayings of two elderly men she met through a "lonely hearts" correspondence.

Col. Herbert E. Barnes of the Delaware State Police, said Mrs. Inez Gertrude Brennan today admitted her part in the shotgun slaying of Wade N. Wooldridge, 70, and Hugo Schultz, 66, after more than 26 hours of questioning.

Earlier he announced the two sons—half-brothers—signed confessions.

Mrs. Brennan and one of her sons, Robert, 16, already have been charged with murder in the slaying of Wooldridge. Similar charges will be filed tomorrow in the Schultz killing. The other son, Raymond, 23, is in custody as an accessory.

The Wooldridge slaying was disclosed last Saturday by Barnes. Monday night Barnes told reporters his investigators had linked the Brennans with a second slaying which he said also resulted from a "lonely hearts" correspondence.

Barnes declared his men found "a bushel basket" of letters from lonely men who evidently read Mrs. Brennan's advertisements.

Barnes said he believes the slaying motive was robbery. He said Robert told this story of the Schultz slaying in his signed statement:

The boy and his mother went by train to Concord, NH. They were met by Schultz, who took them to his chicken farm.

The mother handed her son a shotgun and told him to shoot Schultz. She told him over and over to do it but he couldn't. So she did, it.

After the murder the mother and boy stuffed the man's body into a 50-gallon drum and left it near the garage for several days. The woman sold 500 chickens, a gasoline motor and a sewing machine to an auctioneer, and also some of Schultz's tools and house furnishings.

Nanking Rejects Red Demands, Battle Expected

NANKING, April 19.—(AP)—An official source said today the Chinese government had decided to reject the latest Communist demands—an act which is expected to touch off the battle of the Yangtze.

The Communist radio warned that a veteran Red army of 400,000 men is ready to storm across the Yangtze in the Nanking-Shanghai area unless the government gives in.

The Reds demand an answer by tomorrow. The Red "peace" terms amount to surrender.

Communist raiding parties probed the slim government defences on the Yangtze's south bank. The Nationalists said they repulsed Red attempts to slip troops across the river on both sides of Nanking.

The few government bridgeheads on the north bank of the Yangtze were under mounting pressure.

North of the river 1,000,000 seasoned Communist troops were ready to begin firing. South of the river, half that number of ill-armed and ill-trained Nationalist troops crouched before the impending blow. Despair gripped Nanking.

Defiant government officials, nevertheless, met to draft some sort of reply to the Communists.

Have Pale Oleo Within 10 Days

TORONTO, April 19(CP) — Ontario's new margarine law will take effect within 10 days, it was learned unofficially at Queen's Park yesterday. If the act, passed at the recent session of the Legislature, is not proclaimed at this week's cabinet, it is almost certain to be the following week.

The act, which will regulate the moisture and colour content of the butter substitute among other things, requires certain regulations before it can come into force.

These regulations will be drafted following meetings with the manufacturers and farm groups which have been called for today and tomorrow. The government wants to give the manufacturers every opportunity to reduce to a minimum their stocks of margarine which do not meet requirements set out by the act.

Yellow coloring, for instance, must not exceed 1.6 per cent, while the moisture content is not to exceed the 16 per cent to which butter is held.

The law also says that public eating places serving margarine must so advise their patrons by signs posted in prominent spots.

Governor Robbed Drink Loot In Jail

BELLEVILLE, April 19.—This one ought to go down in the annals of unusual crimes.

Some one broke into the home of Governor R. J. Scott of Hastings County jail Saturday night. Half a case of ale, a loaf of bread, some jam and a small change purse were taken. Empty bottles, some of the bread and jam were later found in the furnace room of the jail next door.

Police arrested Lorne Sanford and Francis Donaghue on theft charges.

Stop English As Language Irish Advised

O'Kelly, Costello Ask Union Of All Ireland Offer Concessions

DUBLIN, April 19 — (CP). — President Sean T. O'Kelly of the new Republic of Ireland, told his countrymen Monday night to stop speaking English and restore the ancient Gaelic language. O'Kelly said the winning of the Republic would be an empty victory if the Irish lost their tongue.

Posters appeared on Dublin's streets calling for a boycott of English newspapers. "The King is gone, now cut the language tie with Britain," the signs said. They were printed in English.

O'Kelly and Premier John A Costello called for a union of all Ireland. The Premier—the word in Gaelic is taoiseach, pronounced tee shock—said the Republic of Ireland would grant a large measure of local autonomy to Ulstermen if the partition of the island were ended.

Certain Privileges

Costello told a press conference his government would allow "those people in the north-east who are hanging so tenaciously to their privileges" to retain the powers of government they now hold provided defence and foreign affairs were placed in the hands of an all-Ireland regime. He continued:

"Although we have severed the ties that bound us to Great Britain and other members of the Commonwealth, we believe that what has been done to-day will ensure more cordial and closer co-operation, greater and more real friendship, between Ireland Great Britain and the other Commonwealth countries than could ever have existed under former conditions."

Noting that Ireland now stood alone as a nation, the Premier said: "We have no alliances, entanglements or ties with any country in the world, but are to be reckoned with now as an independent state, however small we are."

In an address Monday night, Costello declared a united Ireland could be what a divided Ireland could never be—a tower of strength in a bastion of defence for world peace.

Irish statesmen repeatedly have said they would not enter the North Atlantic Defence Treaty until the partition of Ireland is ended.

Find Burwash Escapee In U.S. After 4 Years

FORT ERIE, April 19—(CP) — Frederick Kenneth Selman of Port Credit, Ont., is on his way back to Ontario's Burwash Reformatory where he escaped in 1945 after serving three months of a bigamy sentence.

The 37-year-old tinsmith was arrested in Batavia, N.Y., during the week-end by United States police who were checking his record following a motor licence charge.

Selman's Canadian marriage record listed two former wives: Isobel Horfey of Regina, whom he married in 1929, and Emma Shoemaker of Drumbo, Ont. married in 1942.

After he escaped from Burwash he went to the United States and married his third wife, Violet Demmer of Batavia.

He was living with her when N.Y. police arrested him for violating motor licence laws.

Police Court Session Light After Holiday

There were fewer cases of drunkenness in Peterborough during the Easter holiday than at most weekends. Only two men were brought before Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., at city police court today on drunk charges.

James Doyle, who pleaded guilty of being drunk Saturday on Brock St., was convicted for the second time this month. He was fined $50 with $2.50 costs.

Calvin Cruikshanks, Owen Sound, who pleaded guilty to being drunk Saturday on Water St., was fined $10 with $2.50 costs.

Robert Carter, who Police Chief John Thompson said had been sleeping at the police station for some time, pleaded guilty to vagrancy. The chief said Carter was down and out and had needed time to catch up. Carter, who said he had found work, was fined $5 with $2.50 costs with five days in jail in default of payment.

Twin Fights For Life

VANCOUVER, April 19 (CP)— A 17½-ounce twin today fought for survival in a hospital incubator here. The tiny infant girl was born Sunday to Mrs. Alice Fordham, 27-year-old suburban Burnaby mother. Two months premature, the baby has a twin sister weighing three pounds four ounces.

Renews Appeal For Liberal Support In West

REGINA, April 19 —(CP)— Prime Minister St. Laurent Monday addressed an appeal to C.C.F. supporters in Saskatchewan not to deny to his Liberal party the federal power which, he maintained, is far beyond the grasp of the parties which rule them and of any other.

Last week he directed it at the Social Credit adherents of Alberta. Its core was both frank and plain: The "difficult" years ahead require stable, majority government and only the Liberals are capable of winning it in a federal election.

He spoke before 2,700 persons in an address which climaxed his one-day siege of this Saskatchewan capital, fifth of 10 cities on his Western schedule. He speaks in Saskatoon today.

Earlier, at a press conference, he indicated that in the event the Liberals are returned as the largest party but without a clear majority they would carry on alone until the Commons demonstrated a lack of confidence in them.

Anticipate Victory

He threw no light on the election date but he said the June 15 date for a provincial vote in coalition-run British Columbia does not rule out a summer election for all Canada.

Mr. St. Laurent also told his press conference—not a regular feature of his visits—the Liberals anticipate victory in five of seven Newfoundland federal ridings; that he wouldn't predict how the party will do federally in Saskatchewan but that he is told the C.C.F. isn't as potent as it was.

Mr. St. Laurent said the Liberal party made a "foolish mistake" in selecting its candidate for the Nicolet-Yamaska by-election Feb. 7.

The party leader said the Liberals were split in Nicolet. The "foolish mistake" was in choosing a candidate who would make the division as inconsequential as possible. This was both "foolish and wrong."

$200,000 Fire Destroys 180,000 Eggs

Six People Escape Before Explosion; Save Only 500 Chicks

BRANTFORD, April 19 (CP)— A $200,000 fire which struck one of Canada's biggest poultry farms here Monday night at the height of the hatching season destroyed incubators holding 180,000 eggs, 12,000 of which were due to hatch today.

The blaze, of undetermined origin, destroyed a Spruceleigh Farm frame building which housed the hatchery, incubators, office and storage rooms and gutted an adjacent structure which housed 1,600 grown chickens.

Six persons escaped uninjured from the main building, shortly before a 500-gallon oil drum exploded in the basement and sent columns of smoke 2,200 feet in the sky.

The rapidly-spreading fire had almost destroyed the building when Brant County firemen arrived. They were forced to pump water from a 100,000 gallon well to prevent the fire from spreading to nearby buildings.

Working In Building

Owners of the hatchery, Harold and Norman Schultz, were working on the ground floor of the hatchery with another workman, Israel Clement, when the fire broke out.

The men vainly tried to prevent the blaze with use of fire extinguishers. Only some office furniture and records and 500 chickens were rescued from the large farm.

Three youths, playing on the second floor when the alarm was given, escaped down the roof to safety. John and Don Schultz and Jerry Scarfe, were warned by Clement but when they attempted to escape down the stairs, smoke and flames drove them back. They then climbed through a window and slid down the roof.

The farm, noted for its wartime production, produced about 500,000 chicks in a season.

Golds Continue Climb On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, April 19—(CP) — Golds continued last week's advance on the Toronto Stock Exchange today, climbing slowly at the best price level since March, 1948. Trading was active at the opening as markets resumed after a four-day Easter holiday. Western oils showed moderate advances and a wide list of industrial issues dipped quietly. Base metals were mixed in a narrow range.

Volume for the first three hours was 506,000 shares, about 4,000 shares more than last year's similar period.

Senior golds led the stronger tendency in the gold list in the early part of the session. Juniors took up where seniors left off in mid-session.

Fractional losses cropped up in a wide list of industrial issues. Liquor were lower and steels slipped.

Noranda and Hudson Bay rose fractions in base metals while Labrador, New Calumet, International Nickel and Golden Manitou eased.

Orders Inquest

TORONTO, April 19 (CP) — Coroner Smirle Lawson Monday ordered an inquest into the death of Jean Pelletier, 44-year-old stevedore who fell 30 feet into the hold of a lake freighter early Monday. Dr. Lawson said he understood the man had worked 20 hours straight. "The fall was purely accidental while he was walking along a catwalk, but it may have been due to fatigue.

ALBERT CRIPPS

Albert Cripps, 72, of 58 Olive Ave. died at his residence on Monday following a lengthy illness. He was born in Pamber Heath, Reading, Berkshire, England, son of the late George Cripps and Hannah Bowman and has lived in Peterborough since 1910.

He leaves his wife, the former Lavinia Gash, one daughter Miss Florence Cripps, and two sons, Fred of Vancouver, and W. J. Cripps of Virginiatown, Ont. A brother, Harry, resides in Hadley, Berkshire, England.

Mr. Cripps worked for the CGE on his arrival in the city until the outbreak of The First World War. He joined the 49th Regiment and was discharged after four years overseas service on full pension. He is also a veteran of the Boer War. He was a member of St. James' United Church.

Funeral service will be held on Wednesday at the Comstock Funeral Home at 2 p.m. The Rev. F. W. Craik will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

F. B. McKEE

Word has been recevied of the sudden death of F. B. McKee of Victoria on Friday, in his 67th year. The funeral service was held in Fort William on Monday.

Mr. McKee was employed with the CPR and starting in Peterborough as brakeman in 1904 where he spent four years. He rose to the position of conductor out of Fort William and was superannuated in 1947. He and his wife then moved to the West Coast to live.

He was a member of the United Church, the IOOF, and the Masonic Order. He leaves his wife, two daughters, one son, four grandchildren and three sisters and a number of more distant relative in the Peterborough district. He was born in Dundalk, son of the late Alex McKee and Fanny Neithercut.

HENRY GEORGE FLOWERS

After a short illness Henry (Harry) George Flowers of 417 Dublin St., died today in St. Joseph's Hospital. He was in his 61st year.

Mr. Flowers was a carpenter at CGE, and a member of the Quarter Century Club. He was a member of All Saints' Anglican Church, a member of the choir, and one time sang in the Peterborough Male Voice Choir.

Born and educated in London, England, he was a resident of Peterborough for 45 years.

He leaves a sister, Margaret, of Peterborough; three brothers — Walter of Peterborough, Arthur of Copper Cliff, and Cyril of Niagara Falls, NY. His mother, Mrs. Margaret Ann Flowers, died in 1946, and his father, Walter Flowers, in 1899. He never married.

The funeral will be from the funeral home of A. Comstock and Sons, thence to All Saints' Anglican Church for service on Friday at 2 p.m., the Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite of All Saints' officiating. Burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

Easter Services At Ansley Well Attended

APSLEY, April 19 (ENS) — The Easter service in Trinity United Church was well attended. The choir used their surplices for the first time in a church service. The processional and recessionals, with lighted candles, were very impressive. Special music consisted of an anthem by the full choir, duet by Joan Wagner and Holly Tucker; solo, Marie Tucker; duet, Mrs. Herbert Tucker and Mrs. Ralph Fitzgerald.

Besides the beautiful potted plants which adorned the church, flowers were placed on the altar by the family of late Mrs. Ella Tucker in memory of their mother. Lovely Easter lillies were sent from Bermuda by a daughter and placed on the altar by Mrs. Louise McFadden in memory of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Tucker, who died in Toronto last February.

Four Churches Unite

Trinity United Church and St. George's Anglican Church both held Good Friday services. In the afternoon a union service of the four United Churches was held in Trinity. Rev. R. Morton of Mark Street Church, Peterborough, was speaker, and served Holy Communion to a large number of communicants.

The Junior choir sang "In the Shadow of the Cross." Misses A. Chase and Marie Tucker sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and Mrs. R. Fitzgerald sang "Alone."

St. George's service was held at 7.30 o'clock with a good attendance.

The Lenten services conducted each Wednesday evening, with slides being shown each evening, were well attended.

Pageant Presented

The pageant, "Life and Love Triumphant" was presented by pupils of Trinity United Sunday School in the church on Good Friday evening. The illuminated Cross banked with potted plants and ferns and later with flowers looked very beautiful.

The children all took part, even the smallest in the school placing their flowers at the foot of the cross.

Cora Lee Johnson, Evelyn Len, Marie Tucker took the leading parts in a capable way. Donna Lean and Betty Brundage sang "Beneath The Cross" as an opening number.

Following the pageant, Mrs. Fitzgerald sang "Go Ye and Tell."

Much credit is due the pupils for the manner in which they presented their pageant and to the superintendent, teachers and officers for their untiring efforts in training them. The superintendent, Mrs. Stewart Brown, thanked all the ladies who had loaned plants and helped with the making of surplices.

The Sunday School purchased material for surplices, which were worn for the first time that evening.

Proceeds go to the fund for building a Sunday School room. Herb Tucker and Mrs. Ralph

Divorces Overruled

WASHINGTON April 19 (AP) —The Supreme Court Monday ruled, 5 to 4, that "Quickie" divorces obtained in Nevada can be overturned by other States under certain circumstances. Justice Robert Jackson, one of the dissenters, protested that this makes the "crazy quilt" divorce laws of the United States more confused than ever.

'Hopper Plague Bad On Prairies

WINNIPEG, April 19 (CP) — A provincial agriculture department official warned Monday that one in every five of Manitoba's nearly 11,000 farms will be afflicted to some extent this summer by grasshoppers.

H. E. Wood, director of the department's grasshopper control program, said the province faces the prospect of the worst infestation since the middle 30's, particularly if the weather is dry. Distribution of grasshopper poison sprays to various municipalities is to start early next month.

The province has set aside $150,000 for an insect spray known as chlordan.

Teachers Reject Plan

WINNIPEG, April 19 (CP) — The Manitoba Teachers' Society Monday defeated a proposal that its members take a vote on affiliation with organized labor. George R. Rowe of Brandon, Society President, told the convention that an affirmative vote would "hamper" the work of the Manitoba Trustees' Association and the Union of Manitoba Municipalities in getting increased Provincial and Federal aid toward education.

Discuss Heating Unit

TORONTO, April 19 (CP) — A co-operative heating unit for four Toronto hospitals is being considered but an official of Toronto General Hospital said Monday that plans are "merely in the talking stage." The four hospitals concerned are Toronto General, Women's College, the new Hospital for Sick Children and the new Mount Sinai.

REPRESENT PCVS

PCVS seniors, COSSA basketball winners this spring, will represent Peterborough Collegiate in Queen's annual hoop tournament in Kingston on Thursday and Friday. About 22 teams will participate. A couple of cars are needed by the local team, those interested being asked to phone Dick Rutherford, team manager, at 8646. Mileage will be paid and accommodation supplied in Kingston. The team leaves Thursday morning.

1,050,000 Trees To Be Set Out Ganaraska Area

LINDSAY, April 19 (CP) — District Forester A B. Wheatley, Lindsay, announces that an extensive tree planting program will be undertaken this spring in the Trent district, Central Ontario. "A total of 1,050,000 trees will be set out in the county forests and Ganaraska project," he said.

Over half the trees, some 637,000, will be planted in the barren lands of the Ganaraska water shed north-west of Port Hope. Mr. Wheatley stated that over 3,000 acres of this waste land has been purchased and that Lindsay High School students and Boy Scouts from several towns along Lake Ontario will assist in the planting.

Some 300,000 trees will be planted on 430 acres of waste and abandoned lands bought by Northumberland County. "Fifty acres north of the county road will be made into a park and arboretum in which as many species of trees will be planted as will grow in this area. This is the first arboretum to be formed in eastern Ontario.

FIRE LOSS $1,126

Peterborough's fire loss in March was $1,126 of which $762 was on buildings. Fire Chief George Smith reported 63 alarms during the month in his review to the council Monday. Telephones turned in 56 calls, boxes 2, sprinklers 3 and there were 2 verbal calls.

WHEREAS, there is a very definite danger of infection to our residents if active cases are allowed to go undetected, and

WHEREAS, facilities are being made available whereby all residents of THE CITY OF PETERBOROUGH may obtain a FREE X-Ray,

I, Mayor of the City of Peterborough, do herely officially designate from Monday, April 18th, to Sunday April 24th, as the period for "T.B. Week" in the City of Peterborough and earnestly request that every citizen respond most wholeheartedly to this "T.B. Week," a period of seven days prior to the commencement of a mass chest X-ray survey for citizens of the City of Peterborough.

I request your support in this vital work of civic service, first by having an X-ray and then supporting the project among your friends and acquaintances by word of mouth. By so doing, you will not only protect yourself and your family but make the City of Peterborough a healthier place in which to live.

Rector Says Man Losing Interest In Materialism

CAMPBELLFORD, April 19—(ENS)—Rev. W. J. Lennox, rector of Christ Church, introduced his Easter message to the Rotary Club on Monday by quoting from Winston Churchill. "The supreme question is how we live and grow, bloom and die, and how far each life conforms to standards which are not wholly related to place or time. The flame of Christian ethics is still our highest guide. To guard and cherish it is our first interest both spiritually and materially."

Mr. Lennox said that these were truths proclaimed by the Christian church at this time.

"We Christians should have great hope at Easter," he declared. "because the message of Easter assures us that Christ is God. We learn to believe that as He rose so shall we rise. If Christ be not risen our hope of salvation is gone and we know no other way to obtain rest and peace. Death will not deprive us of our identity, our memory, our love, but we shall be ourselves. We shall know the known."

"In our day and age men have become more ready to entertain the hope of life hereafter," he remarked.

No Longer Satisfies

"Materialism no longer satisfies men and the reaction against it is complete," Mr. Lennox declared. "We are told by our eminent scientists that the material universe is suffused throughout with spiritual reality. Man is a religious animal whom dwells the divine spirit—a spirit which at times shows itself in the most disgraceful outcasts of society."

Rotarian A. J. Meyers introduced the speaker and the vote of thanks was moved by Rotarian Franklin Linton. President W Brady was in the chair.

VETERAN EMPLOYEE—Sixty-two years with one firm, and still going strong, is the record of Miss Susan Scharlach, 73, of Kitchener. She started with a box company at the age of 12, and last week was presented with a gold watch as she marked her 62nd year with the firm. And when will she retire? Well, Miss Scharlach says: "I would not feel right to sit at home and do nothing. I like my work and will stay as long as I can."

Newly Written Easter Play Given At Knox

Knox Theatre Group revived its production of the religious play "Thirty Pieces of Silver," played last year with considerable dramatic effect, and followed it by a short play called "He Is Risen," written specially as a code to it by the director of the group, Peter McCombe.

These were played at Knox Church Easter Monday evening, after an initial presentation at Mark Street Church on Good Friday. They were appropriately given in the church itself. Knox choir, under the direction of W R. Potter, who was at the organ, and with fitting solos by John Donaldson and Mrs. Jackman, gave a musical setting for the themes of the plays.

The pace of Thirty Pieces of Silver was slower than the actors could sustain. Good dramatic effect was achieved on the stage, and off it through lighting and sound devices, during the time when "there was a darkness over all the earth."

Casting was as follows: Innkeeper Ephriam, Ganton Clarke; Esther, Dorothy Mitchell; Pharisee, Dennis Brockman; Philip, Harry Tasker; Matthew, Edward Porter; Judas, Peter McCombe.

New Play Impressive

The new play written by Peter McCombe has some passages of strong dramatic power and good artistic sensibility and was played more impressively than thirty Pieces of Silver." The introduction by way of dramatic repetition of the gift-giving of the Nativity (especially of the myrrh) was artistically perspicacious. A visual realization of the risen Christ seemed in preparation because of the gauze window provided in the back-drop, but was not carried out. It could probably be effective, given adequate lighting facilities and careful handling.

The climax and most forceful moment was the first Easter communion which, in this play, the disciple Peter arranges impromptu under the emotion of the morning. It had a strong emotional impact, but one wonders whether the playwright is taking an undue advantage of his audience. The closing tableau at the end of this commemorative supper, in grouping, costume and lighting was notably harmonious and emotive. Vera Tasker moves and speaks well; she shows real dramatic ability. Edward Potter has a good face for the part of Matthew. Joseph Lancashire seemed naturally impressive in appearance and voice, as Peter, and his discreet make-up was an effective complement.

Mr. McCombe's conception of this sequal to "Thirty Pieces," is praiseworthy for both tone and dramatic suitability It should eagerly be taken up by any group staging "Thirty Pieces."

The persons of the first play appeared in their parts in He Is Risen, with the following additional: Mary Magdalene, Vera Tasker; Mary Cleophas, Susan Summers; Salome, Ada Huffman; the Disciple Peter, Joseph Lancashire.

Stage manager was Ray Gillies; Narrator, the Reverend H. G. Douglas. Costumes were designed and made by Susan Summers and Mrs. H. G. Lewis.

Firemen Answers Calls

CAMPBELLFORD, April 19—(ENS)—A chimney fire brought the fire brigade to the home of Mrs. Nellie Southern, Church St., at 9:45 Monday morning. Ten minutes later the siren sounded for a small blaze at Jack Hick's home. No damage was done to either house.

Name Delegate To WI Meeting

ROSENEATH, April 19 (ENS)—West Northumberland Women's Institute held their annual district executive and directors' meeting recently in the Community Hall, Harwood. Eight W. I. Branches were represented: Baltimore, Fenella, Elmview, Grafton, Wicklow and Vernonville, Harwood, Cold Springs, Roseneath.

The district president, Mrs. F. S. Harnden of Grafton presided and thet minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the district secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Charlton Grigg, Roseneath.

The purpose of this meeting was to make plans for the 43th district annual meeting to be held in Bethesda (North) United Church on June 7.

Miss E. A. Slicter of W. I. department, Toronto, and Mrs. Jas. Black of Campbellford (Provincial Board Director), will be the guest speakers and the roll call of branches will be "The most outstanding achievement of our branch."

Interesting Records

The first minute book of West Northumberland District W. I. was on display and it was learned that the first Institute organized in this district was at Baltimore Jan. 22, 1901. Mrs. Hilton Eagleson of Elmview Branch recalled attending this meeting and (according to the first minutes) it was Mrs. Eagleson's mother, the late Mrs. J. Davidson, who was the first president.

Mrs. F. S. Harnden of Grafton was appointed as a delegate from this district to attend the W. I. officers' convention in Guelph on May 5.

It was decided to purchase gifts for the girls of this district, who had completed six years of club work and who had won county honors. The gifts will be presented at the achievement day at Brighton April 30.

Ship Explodes, Sinks 2 Killed, 4 Missing

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, April 19—(AP).—Survivors from the vessel Faraon, which exploded and sank off Las Huacas Island Saturday, said today at least two persons were killed and four are missing.

The survivors said some 60 tourists returning from Lima, Peru, were aboard the Faraon when she blew up. They said panic-stricken passengers leaped into the water to get away from the blazing wreckage.

Mercedes Rodriguez de Quintero, wife of the counsellor of the Cuban Embassy in Lima, was among those rescued. She and several Italians living in Ecuador were the only foreigners aboard.

Fire Truck, Car Dash And Crash

PORT HOPE, April 19. — Damage estimated at over $100 was caused to the Port Hope Department's ladder truck Sunday afternoon when it was in collision with a half-ton truck driven by Paul Schoenroth, member of the RCAF, Trenton.

Constable Bill Smith stated that he had directed traffic until the fire pumper left the station and then, learning that it was a grass fire and the ladder truck might not be needed, took after the truck to stop the civilian driven automobiles chasing the vehicle too closely.

Driver Bill Lawrence decided to investigate the fire, however, and after sounding the alarm, it was reported, pulled out of the fire hall. A car driven by a woman and proceeding east had stopped in front of the police station. Another vehicle, driven by Schoenroth, also proceeding east, pulled out from behind the stopped car and came into head-on collision with the fire truck. No one was reported injured.

The Highway Traffic Act, Constable Smith said, demands that motorists pull over to the side of the road and stop when an emergency vehicle sounds its alarm and must not follow at a distance of less than 500 feet.

Does your family fit this picture?

INCOME in early married life is never large. You haven't had time to build reserves to provide for your family in the event of premature death.

The Crown Life Guaranteed Family Income Benefit has been designed to meet the needs of the young family. It will give your family this necessary protection—and at low cost.

How? By providing a regular monthly income while the children are growing up and at the end of the income period a further payment in cash of the full face value of the policy.

We Offer Ottawa Some Advice

We observe that the Property Owners' Association of Ottawa is suggesting that the capital city might put a poll-tax on wage earners who do not pay municipal taxes. The Association points out that some western cities have such a tax and also a few northern municipalities in Ontario; it also says that "the beauty of the system is that the collection is done by the employers with no cost or trouble to the municipality". If we may presume to offer the municipality of Ottawa some advice, we say: don't give the sanction of the capital city to the poll-tax, for it is an unjust, arbitrary and vexatious form of taxation; Peterborough has such a tax, and is half ashamed of it, but so far no Council has had the gumption to repeal it, or liberalize it.

* * *

It is true that wage earners who live in a city as lodgers should pay something for the municipal services which they enjoy. But it is unjust—because it is taxation without representation—that these people should be taxed without having a vote in municipal affairs. It is unjust also that this tax should be levied upon male wage earners and not upon women in the same position for this is the age of women's rights (and also of women's responsibilities) and women are very keen also that it should be an age of equal pay for equal work; let it therefore be an age of equal taxation. And it is unjust that municipalities should take a very bad leaf out of the book of the Dominion Government and make employers act as unpaid tax-gatherers. Let the municipalities gather their own taxes; the "beauty" which the P.O.A.O. sees in the garnishee system is a confounded nuisance and an injustice to employers.

* * *

The only way to make a poll-tax just is to give a vote in return for it. Raise the tax, if need be, to $15 a year, and put those who pay it in the same voting category as tenant-householders. But taxation without representation is wrong, and no municipality can defend it.

The Atlas Of Berlin

The Berlin Air Lift has now been doing the chores of fabled Atlas for nine months. For nine months it has been supporting with its wings the greater part of a great city giving to three million people the supplies by which they are fed, clothed and even sheltered from the elements. The culmination of this spectacular, successful effort to support what is virtually a beleaguered city was reached Easter Saturday. In the 24 hours of that day 12,940.9 tons of food and machinery were flown into Berlin. This has been estimated as the equivalent load carried by 22 trains of 50 freight cars each.

Behind this astounding air lift is the will to win the peace-time battle for Berlin, and the financial, material and technical resources which have made success possible. This powerful joint British-American indication of strength of purpose and strength of resources must give the people of western Europe heartening confidence and the Russians a new respect for the forces they have challenged. It seems to have induced the Soviet Government to believe that the blockade should be lifted and that the winged Atlas should no longer be balancing the Berlin world on its shoulders. The shadow of the Berlin air lift and the roar of its planes carry over Soviet-controlled territory; they are daily reminders not only of western unanimity and strength, but that the Russian blockade has failed.

The First "Habitual"

Last year an amendment to the Criminal Code provided that a man who was considered by the court to be an habitual criminal might be imprisoned indefinitely; the first man to be sentenced in Ontario under this provision was sent to the penitentiary earlier this month. His case will be reviewed every three years, but it is possible that he has gone to prison for life.

This Canadian law bears a relationship to the Baumes Law which has been on the statute books of the U.S.A. for some years. The Baumes Law makes it possible to sentence a man for indeterminate imprisonment if he has been convicted of a criminal action four times. The Canadian law is not so specific; it says only that a man may be sentenced indefinitely if he is a persistent violator of the Criminal Code. The man who has been sentenced in Toronto, although only forty-six years old, has a record of twenty-five years' imprisonment. He was found guilty of having drugs in his possession, and of being an habitual offender; in these circumstances we do not think that anyone will find fault with his sentence.

It is a terrible thing to send a man to prison for life. It is a terrible responsibility for a judge or a jury to say that any man or women is beyond reclaim. Yet we must face the fact that there are some people — fortunately not many in number—who appear to be permanent menaces to society, and for the good of the majority they must be shut away where they can do no more harm. From now on it will be plain to criminals of all kinds that after three or four convictions they run the risk of life imprisonment. It is said that no punishment is dreaded so much among the criminal classes. Let them look to it.

Eire Or Ireland?

A point which interests us in the proclamation Easter Monday of the republicanism and independence of Ireland is the name. Is the country to be called Ireland or Eire? After masquerading for a generation under the Erse name "Eire"; after a laborious and unnatural revival of the archaic language through compulsory use of it in schools so that English might not blight the thoughts of the people; after such a long and acrimonious nationalistic campaign to perish the thought of England, is this new republic to call itself by an English phrase, the Republic of Ireland? What has happened to dear old Eire?

The name "Republic of Ireland" may of course be a propaganda dodge for foreigners; at home the new republicans may refer to their country as Eire. "Eire" has come quite definitely to mean the 26 counties of Southern Ireland. The Government of Eire has never officially accepted the partition, and indeed the constitution has encompassed, and still does, the six counties of Ulster in the north. The name "Republic of Ireland" may be a more than usually subtle Irish way of convincing the outside world that the six northern counties are merely naughty children, temporarily away from the home. We have not noticed that among the telegrams of congratulation to the President of Eire was a greeting from the Premier of Northern Ireland.

Report Of The Minister

There came into our hands this morning a 250-page maroon-covered booklet fresh off the press. It is the annual Report of the Minister of Education for Ontario. It is a handsome booklet, considering that it is an official publication. The paper is the glossy white kind. The print is large and clear. The graphs are distinctive. The illustrations are illustrative. There are photographs of new reading rooms of libraries and of a "bookmobile" which carries over its wheels 2,200 volumes. (The Minister of Education is also the Minister in charge of libraries.) There are exterior and interior views of the North Hastings High School at Bancroft, which, with other pictures of other new schools, show the present trend in school architecture. There is an abundance of information—such as that 12.9 per cent. of Provincial expenditure is on education and 18.5 per cent. on highways.

We would be inclined to commend the booklet wholeheartedly except that (a) it contains more information than we care to read or would attempt to digest, (b) the information is old and cold. For this book, first given distribution in April, 1949, is the Annual Report of the Minister of Education for the year 1947. Some of the reports in it are concerned with the academic year 1946-47, which is rather an old story. It is even difficult to remember who the Minister of Education was in those years. Oh, yes, Mr. Drew. It seems that it might have been better to whip out a brief, simple report without the fuss and frills of this one, and then whip up the staff of the Department to get its next Annual Report out early enough that the statistics would not be in the nature of ancient history.

Some new statistics show that the balance of population in Canada between male and female is keeping very nearly equal. What really worries us is the balance between taxpayers and tax spenders; when the latter become a majority both classes will quickly become extinct.

North Atlantic Pact Result Of U.N. Failure

By W. N. EWER

IT is pure coincidence that the General Assembly of the United Nations should have met in Flushing Meadows the day after the Atlantic Pact was signed in Washington. For an April sitting of the Assembly was only necessary because the autumn session in Paris failed to complete its work.

But the coincidence is in a way symbolic. The Assembly meets out of season because of the failure of UNO. The Atlantic Pact is signed for precisely the same reason.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHEN the charter was signed in San Francisco, it was assumed that the United Nations would be an instrument of collective security for the whole world. The charter, unlike the League Covenant, was to have "teeth in it". The Security Council, in the event of an aggression, would be able at once to order immediate action. It would be able at once to call upon the Armed Forces which the Member States were to place at its disposal.

On paper that should have sufficed not merely to deal effectively with any would-be aggressor but to deter him from any thought of aggression. Overwhelming force would be at the service of the world community against any possible breaker of the peace.

There were, it is true, subsidiary Articles in the charter. Article 51 recognized the right of individual or collective self-defence. But—as its wording makes clear—it was really intended to legalize resistance during the short period which might elapse (in the case of a sudden, surprise attack) before the Security Council and its military resources could come into action.

Articles 52 and 53 provided for "regional agreements". But again it is plain that they were, if made, to be entirely subsidiary. Such existing treaties as the Anglo-Soviet Treaty or the Anglo-Turkish Treaty would continue. But they would be subordinated to the greater concept of the United Nations.

✧ ✧ ✧

SO, step by step, quite deliberately, the United Nations as conceived in 1945 has been destroyed. To what end? To anybody familiar with Communist wishful thinking the answer is clear. There would be "two camps". On one hand the solid "monolithic" Soviet "camp", a closely organized, firmly disciplined phalanx. On the other hand the rest of the world riddled by "the contradictions of Capitalism", split by inevitable quarrels, by "class struggles inside each country" by "Imperialist rivalries" between countries. And in such circumstances the outcome of the conflict would be certain.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS thesis in fact was based on two axioms. That the Soviet camp "would remain united" that the other "camp" would remain divided. In such circumstances the Soviet Union (to adopt an old saying) would be able to eat the world like an artichoke—leaf by leaf.

What the Soviet leaders — for all their training in Hegelian dialectic—did not foresee was that this thesis would—to use jargon—produce its antithesis. They did not foresee that their action would drive the West (and indeed the whole non-Soviet world) towards new unity in the face of a new threat. The Atlantic Pact is not merely a defensive group of twelve nations. It and the British Commonwealth are two focuses of the new concept of collective security for the whole free world.

✧ ✧ ✧

NOR, for all their knowledge of Marx, did the Soviet leaders remember that even their own system might "carry within itself seeds of its own decay!" They did not foresee a couple of years ago that they would soon be devoting a lot of energy and anger to dealing with cracks (small perhaps but symptomatic) in Stalin's monolithic empire.

Today two camps exist. But they are not the two camps which Soviet theorising foresaw. The one which should have been hopelessly unstable and divided is becoming more stable and more united. The one which should have been growing in strength and unity is weaker and more divided.

✧ ✧ ✧

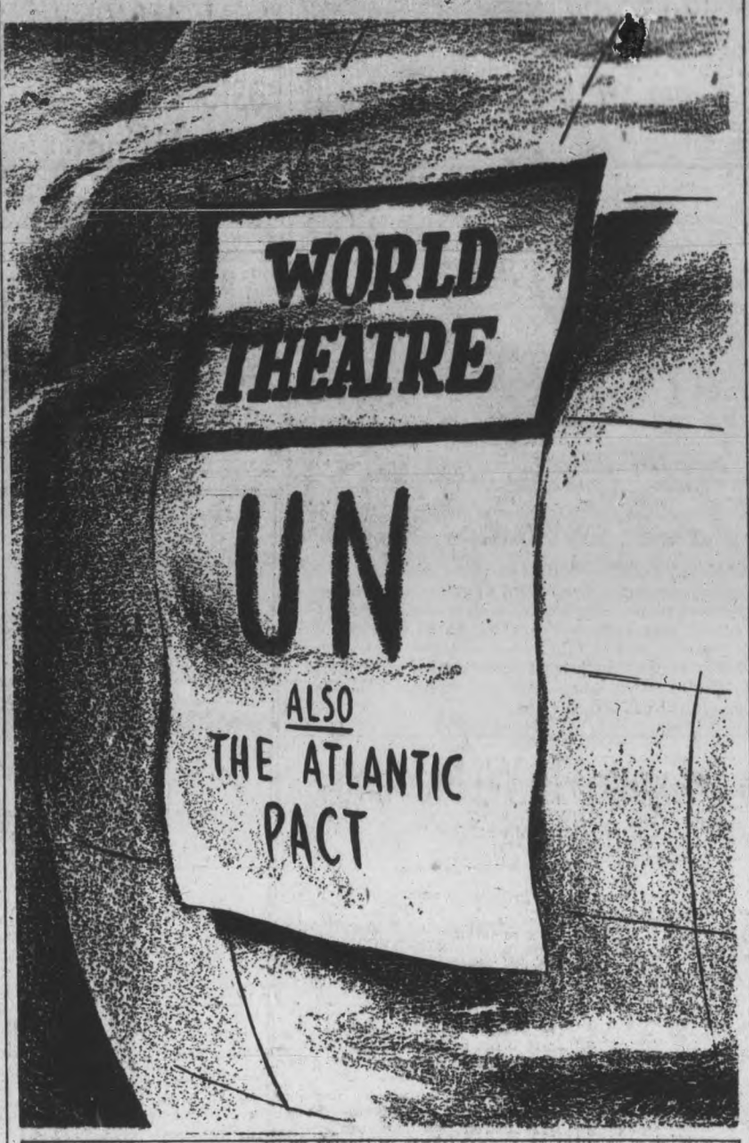
WILL the Soviet leaders realize that once again their calculations have been "incorrect" and—of course without admitting error—adjust their policy to this new realization? It is possible. They have done so more than once in the past. Or will they still cling to the dangerous illusions of their dogma? They have done that too on occasion. This year should give the answer.

Men Of The Trees

(Manchester Guardian)

("Men's suits made of plywood may result from experiments being carried out in Canada."—Reuter message from Ottawa.)

So why for woollens should we pay
High prices to our sorrow?
What Canada can do today
England may do tomorrow.
Nay, do not treat them as absurd,
These tales of strange transmutings;
Down in the forest something stirred—
It was our new spring suitings.



The beech, the birch, the odorous pine,
Should all yield something jolly,
Or possibly in chaste design
In hearts of oak or holly.
Adapted to sartorial use
The elm should gain adherence,
And what could be more smart than spruce
In essence and appearance?

No doubt they'll take the stiffness off
And leave it light and limber
Before we see the sylvan toff
Arrayed in homegrown timber.
So give three cheers, and three times three,
All hearty ones and rousers!
And, woodman, do not spare that tree—
I need it for my trousers.

One doubt creeps in—this type of cloth,
Furnished by forest rangers,
Should certainly defeat the moth,
But what of other dangers?
"Poor George—his suit has gone to pot,
And more than just a leetle.
Have you not heard? He's got dry-rot—
Or else the death-watch beetle."

Letters To The Editor

WATER GARDENS FOR PETERBOROUGH

Sir: Yes, Peterborough waters are beautiful and Peterborough might with some horsepower (the kind used in hockey games) be like a 'watered garden'. Jackson creek for instance—its banks and its waste land could be converted into a dream land, a paradise of a sport for all ages or to recuperate or meditate. Its length from north to south could be divided and alloca.ed to localities, and prizes given for the most inviting; foot bridges, water lilies, ferns, water plants, rock plants, and maybe swans, could be used.

Other cities have gardens that attract and invite people from great distances. Peterborough lags far behind in this respect, although she is the centre of a very progressive farming district.

We have an election looming, why not vote for the man that has this interest at heart, or one who has a wife with this gift. Of course he must be interested in Peterborough and his home near—Mr. Fraser for instance.

Gardens are indispensible, it was God's gift to man. A garden was also a souree of comfort to His Son, and the last place he visited before His death, (the death we commemorated on Sunday). John 18: 1.

COUNCIL SHOULD KEEP THEIR OWN RULES

Sir: Upon reading Alderman Grant Miller's suggestion to the Council at a recent meeting "That prospective property buyers check building restrictions of the property before buying," I am prompted to make a suggestion that the City Council do likewise.

I purchased property on which there were certain building restrictions and I proceeded to build in compliance with these restrictions, as I was told I must do. The City Council then proceeded to authorize the building of frame dwellings by Central Mortgage & Housing on the surrounding lots. When these houses were practically completed, the City Council railroaded through an Act, removing the building restrictions in this area. This took place at Osgoode Hall in Toronto.

Some time previous to the time these houses were built, I reminded City Council of these restrictions and my rights in the matter and received a curt reply from the City Clerk saying these houses would comply with the restrictions. Time passed, the houses were built and I could see that the restrictions I was so careful to comply with were cast aside. I consulted a lawyer and he advised me that without considerable money with which to fight the case, (of which I had very little after building a house to comply with these restrictions,) I could do nothing, except appeal my Tax Assessment which I intend to do by all means.

I would, therefore, suggest that Alderman Grant Miller direct his suggestion to his colleagues in the Council, at their next meeting, that they likewise check property to see whether it is suitable to the purpose they have in mind before buying and selling.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I am,

Yours sincerely,
A MORROW STREET RESIDENT.

COUNCIL SHOULD BE ASHAMED

Sir: I read with amazement in the Examiner on Saturday, April 9 where the Council had requested the undertakers to keep funerals off George St. In the first place I would like to know what is wrong with funerals on George St.? Are the dead unworthy of being taken down our main street? If the Council thinks it is unsightly to see the dead taken to their last resting place, why don't the Council request the bereaved friends of the dead, to place the dead body out with the garbage and let the garbage man take them to the dump. Maybe that would suit the Council. By the request to the undertakers that seems to be all the respect the Council have for the dead. It is high time the citizens of Peterborough began to take notice and consider what kind of men we have for a Council. There are more important matters that need attending to without trying to keep the dead off George St. In the first place where did the Council get the power to request such a thing? George St. is like all other streets; they are the King's Highway and every one who abides by the law of the land has a right to use our streets, or is this another Charity foundation, and somebody has got an axe to grind, maybe? What an excuse, holding up traffic! How much time does a funeral take to pass down George Street, and how many funerals pass down in a week? What a sham holding up traffic; it is not the dead that smells in this case, it is the motive behind it.

It is not the dead that should be taken down the back streets, no not the dead, but the members of the Council who should take the back street and hang their heads in shame for ever suggesting such a thing.

The beauty of a young man is his strength but the glory of an old man is his white hair.

Honour the dead.

Yours truly,
FRED. T. TUGGEY.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding ....I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in right paths.

When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened; and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble. Take fast hold of instruction: let her not go: keep her; for she is thy life. Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men....

But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day....Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life....

Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established. (Prov. 4: 1, 11-14, 18, 23, 26.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead....

He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness, and honour. (Prov. 21: 16, 21.)

Inspector Commends Teachers Engaged In Special Education

"It is a great pleasure to report that your teachers engaged in special education are doing such an outstanding job," was the commendation of Mr. R. G. Kendall, inspector for the Ontario Department of Education in a summary of his observations of this phase of school administration by the Peterborough Board of Education.

"Without exception, they are an enthusiastic hard-working group who are thoroughly devoted to the work and enjoy the confidence and whole-hearted co-operation of principals, teachers and pupils alike.

Your Superintendent of Schools, Mr. K. S. Wightman, has supported the work extremely, and deserve much praise for his wise placement of the teachers so that each appears to have exactly the right personality for his or her particular work. It is also gratifying to note how generously the board has provided the necessary equipment and supplementary readers which enable the teachers to carry on at maximum efficiency at all times.

Poor Classroom.

So long as your present condition of rapid expansion of the school population prevails, it is perhaps too much to expect that the two classes housed in the basement can be moved, but it is sincerely hoped that as soon as reasonably possible, plans will be made to move the classes to proper classrooms upstairs."

Mr. Kendall also suggested that young men teachers who might be potential principal material be encouraged to spend a year or two in this type of work. 'This is considered by many leading educationalists to be invaluable experience for the man who will some day be principal, for in no other way can he get such an intimate knowledge of the work of all the grades and become so thoroughly familiar with the techniques in remedial and diagnostic work as he can by teaching an opportunity or other type of special class."

The special classes were organized by the Board of Education for the benefit of children slower than other in learning and thereby requiring special teaching attention which in the ordinary classes tended to interfere with the planned rate of progress of those classes.

The teachers assigned to this work, and mentioned by Mr. Kendall, are: Miss M. Greene, Mr. J. A. Hill, Mr. Robert Scrutton, Miss L. Dewart and Miss Cora Bailey. His individual tributes are combined in the summary quoted above.

The purpose of the special classes is indicated in Mr. Kendall's remarks on the junior opportunity class of which Miss Bailey is teacher.

"Progress—This was judged to be very satisfactory. The pupils read quite well for their respective levels. Printing and written work showed care and effort. Manual work varies from wooden tie racks to leather purses and belts, and excellent felt bags. The pupils are happy and the work is well organized and effectively taught . . . General remarks: This teacher had done remarkably good work in reading, particularly with seven pupils of relatively limited ability. Four of these pupils are below I.Q., and it is gratifying to note what spendid progress for their ability levels these pupils are making. For this reason, this class while small in numbers, is not an easy one to teach, and it would be wise to ensure that no more pupils of very low ability be taken in, otherwise the class will be overburdened with this type of pupil."

Proposed City Hall To Have New Police Quarters

One of the most elaborate features of the proposed new City Hall to be built on George St., is a spacious police department which will occupy an entire wing of the building.

Entrance to the police court and all sections of the department will be on Water St., with the main entrance to City Hall on George St.

The new headquarters will cover three floors with the court room, magistrate's and lawyers' rooms and portion of the building, the main enquiry desk room and offices on the ground floor and a common room and cells in the basement.

The court room, covering a floor space of 24 feet by 39 feet, stretches across the entire width of the wing and leading off are separate offices for the Crown Attorney, defense lawyers and court stenographer.

Individual Offices

On the ground floor there will be a spacious desk room near the entrance, the Chief's office, another for the Deputy Chief, and a small secretary's office The detectives will have an office on this floor and the identification room will be there. A small radio room and a vault will also be on this floor.

Police officers will have their common room in the basement, which has been designed to let in the daylight. Leading off from the common room are lockers. Six men's cells and four cells for women have been designed and there is also to be a kitchen in the basement and a stolen goods storage room.

Too Many Immigrants

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche Monday warned would-be immigrants to Israel that "Palestine is too small for too many people who are trying to go there." The acting United Nations mediator in Palestine, who arrived aboard the Queen Mary, said also that Palestine armistice agreements are "working well." "The tension is greatly reduced, movement is much freer, and the prospect of any resumption of fighting is of a general nature and it seems remote," he added.

South African Parliament Creates Fifth Province

By A. J. CLASSEN

CAPETOWN, April 19 (CP).—The South African Parliament has, in effect, created a new province — the fifth for the Union.

The Southwest Africa Affairs amendment was passed by Parliament last week. It gives representation to Southwest Africa, a mandated territory, in the Union Parliament.

The bill, when signed by the Governor-General, will give the territory six elected representatives in the Union House of Assembly — lower house of South Africa's bicameral legislature — and four in the Senate.

Nothing has been said officially about a new name for the territory, but one Natal newspaper already has started a competition for the best suggestion.

Really Annexation

Although the nature of the bill is clearly giving Southwest Africa the status of a province, great care has been taken not to use the words 'incorporation" or 'annexation."

However, the effect is the same. The former German colony began its climb to provincial status in 1946.

Then, when Field Marshal Smuts as Prime Minister represented the Union at the United Nations Assembly in San Francisco, the U.N. refused to authorize incorporation of the territory into the Union. Smuts returned to South Africa and proceeded with his plans as though the United Nations had said yes.

He called it "integration" instead of "incorporation."

Prime Minister Daniel Malan, Smuts' success, calls it "closer association."

Right To Act

Smuts explained that the Union Government was entitled, under the terms of the mandate, to do what was contemplated. He was loudly applauded in Windkoek, the territory's capital, when he declared before a large open-air gathering that "Southwest Africa is as much a part of the Union as my arm is part of my body."

Smuts maintained that the "C" mandate which the Union has held over Southwest Africa since the end of the First World War gives it the right to administer the territory as though it were an integral part of the Union.

And that is precisely the attitude of Dr. Malan who took over, on this issue at least, where Smuts left off.

A Must for Canadians...OTTAWA

Every Canadian should visit our country's capital city . . . see the Peace Tower . . . the Parliament Buildings . . . and if Parliament is in session attend a debate. The House of Commons generally sits from January to early summer. Sometimes there is a fall session. In summer Ottawa is the centre of grand holiday country. The Rideau lakes and Gatineau hills are both full of delightful places to play. So is the Ottawa Valley itself. Write to the Industrial and Publicity Bureau, 50 Elgin St., Ottawa. They will be glad to give you all the information you need on places to stay and things to do.

In Ontario we have a holiday paradise . . . let's do all we can to encourage visitors from across the border. Published in support of the tourist business by John Labatt Limited.

Thousands Of Fans Nursing Riot Bruises

BERLIN, April 19 —(AP)—Thousands of Berlin sports fans nursed bruises today after a stormy three-hour riot at a bicycle race in the Russian sector of the city yesterday. A large portion of a crowd of 25,000 was involved.

It was one of the wildest scenes in German sports history. Fans beat up race officials.

Cause of the tumult was failure of the management to provide a loudspeaker for the stadium. Fans complained they couldn't follow the race and demanded their money back. When there wasn't a quick decision about this wave of booing developed into a mass of fist-fighting.

Principal Appeals For Aid For Queen's

MONTREAL, April 18—(CP)—An appeal for financing aid to Queen' University of Kingston was made by Dr. R. C. Wallace, principal and vice-chancellor, here Monday night in an address to some 200 graduates living in the Montreal area.

Dr. Wallace, launching a nation-wide appeal for more than $3,000,000, said funds are needed to keep men of high calibre on the university teaching staff and for expansion of present faculties.

He said the number of women students at the university had greatly increased in the last 10 years and an extension to the women's residence at a cost of $350,000 was necessary.

Dr. Wallace said students fees cover less than half the cost of education. The university must increase revenues, he said, but it does not feel it should raise school fees.

Phillies Blank Braves 4-0, Senators Win

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major-league baseball season opens with a full schedule today following surprising early victories by Philadelphia Phillies and Washington Senators.

Thanks to Ken Heintzelman, a 33-year-old "greybeard," of the Phillies and newcomer Clyde Vollmer of Washington, the Phils and Senators stole a lap on the field Monday in the only two games played.

Heintzelman shut out the favored Boston Braves 4-0, spoiling the National League champions' pennant raising ceremonies. Vollmer came through with a ninth-inning single that beat Philadelphia Athletics 3-2.

Both games were played under poor weather conditions and only 9,195 paid to watch the Braves hoist their pennant. Some 26,000 joined President Truman at Washington's Griffith Stadium.

In the games Monday, Dick Fowler, the former Toronto boy, apparently had victory No. 1 all sewed up at Washington, with a 2-1 lead going into the last of the ninth. Successive pinch doubles by Sherry Robertson and Ed Stewart tied the score. After Fowler loaded the bases, Vollmer came through, with his game-winning single to left.

Rae Scarborough, one of the better pitchers in the league, went all the way to edge Fowler with a seven-hitter.

Heintzelman did a remarkable job on the Braves, mowing down the champs with five hits. Johnny Sain was wild in the first, walking two men with the bases loaded to give Eddie Sawyer's alert Phils all the runs they needed.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Sarnia scribe wrote of Friday's game: "Balance and ability to come from behind are prime requisites of any championship team, and Peterborough Legion uncovered both in whipping Sarnia Sailors to take the Ontario senior B hockey championship in three straight games. The winners simply had too much speed and balance for the local club which could not match each line the visitors threw on the ice. Sarnia lacked depth of material to match the balance of Peterborough. Three of the visiting goals were scored when the Sarnia forward line chased a lone Legionnaire into the corner and left the whole front of the net unguarded. Peterborough, growing stronger as the Sailors grew leg-weary, punched their three-goal margin past Rutter in the third period."

* * * * * *

The Peterborough party unanimously agreed that the Sarnia arena would be an ideal setup in this city. It is truly a fine stone edifice permitting 2,400 seated fans and another 900 standees unobstructed vision of play on a good-sized surface over terrazo flooring. A wide corridor in the front with two snack bars, and everything necessary. Total cost was $254,000 and in the two and a half months the arena has been opened, a profit of $19,000 was shown! Yes, sir, that's what one of the arena officials told us, adding that they have had a number of sellouts this season. That arena would look awfully good as a Memorial Centre in Peterborough.

Jaycees Plan Tourney

Junior Chamber of Commerce here will sponsor another men's softball tournament May 24 in the Exhibition Grounds in conjunction with the annual Jaycees' Jamboree. Entries expected from throughout Central Ontario and the Toronto district. Games starting a 10 a.m. and finishing at six with the final game before the big grandstand. Fee is $20 a team and must be received by May 20. Prizes totalling $300, first one being for $200 and the runner-up getting one C-note. Also a trophy to the local club going furthest in the tourney. Teams interested should contact R. McDonald, 368 Brock St., phone 2-0063.

* * * * * *

Comes a Quinte clipping: "Latest word from Secretary Jack Devine of the COBL is that entry applications have been received from Smiths Falls and Brockville teams. The matter will be dealt with at a future meeting. It would appear that the only holdup at present to formation of a two-section loop in the district is a Belleville team. Napanee will come in if and when mentors here make up their minds. Oshawa, Petes and Batawa on the west are ready as in Kingston on the east. A neat setup would be Belleville, Batawa, Peterborough and Oshawa on the west, with Napanee, Kingston, Smiths Falls and Brockville in the east in sectional play."

Summer Is En Route

Spring practices are commencing here and there around town as the big league ball season opens. Petes' ballsters may start workouts this week-end, weather permitting, while the senior "A" lacrosse prospects are drilling nightly now at six in Miller Bowl, open to all. Stew Richardson's softball Outlaws have open practices at 6.15 tomorrow and Friday evenings in the Oval, if it isn't raining. Church Athletic Association closes softball entries at a 7.15 p.m. meeting tomorrow in the "Y", with 18 teams aboard now and a junior section possible. This loop starts its season early and finishes before the others. Other clubs will be drilling anytime now, too, in preparation for the summer campaign.

* * * * * *

President Bill Bennett of the Girls' Softball League is calling a meeting for 7.30 tonight in the YMCA, open to anyone interested. The prime purpose is to check on prospective entries and to discuss plans for the season. Teams planning entry should be represented at this huddle for sure as the success of the circuit depends to a large extent on a good start. Word of the meeting was not received in time for yesterday's paper but here it is now. The loop will likely be playing three nights of double-headers weekly once more at the Bowl d'Ashburnham and most of last year's clubs are expected to seek entry again.

Present Prizes At Dinner Of YMCA League

Concluding a most successful season, the YMCA Men's Senior Five-Pin League held their annual banquet and election of officers in the YMCA dining room last night. President Bill Saunders was chairman. He thanked the officers of the league, the bowlers and The Examiner for their splendid co-operation during the season.

George Walton of the Canada Packers team presented the Canada Packers Cup to George Coleman, Jr., captain of the winning Artists squad. The winners were Nelson Routley, Ross Hopkins, Reg Dyer, Victor Coleman, Bob Dyer and George Coleman, Jr.

Treasurer Harry Graham handed out the prize money to the various teams.

Secretary Percy Johnson presented the individual awards to George Walton, high average, 227; Eddie Dixon, high three, 900; Vic Coleman, high single 372.

A draw was held with the following winners: Ross Hopkins, George Walton, Eddie Dixon, Gray Copping, Henry Graham, Bill Saunders, Vic Sedgwick, Horace Fisher, Reg Kingdon.

Last year's officers were returned by acclamation: President, Bill Saunders; secretary, Percy Johnson; treasurer, Harry Graham; adviser to the league, Vic Sedgwick; publicity, Fred Scates.

Gray Copping and Fred Dearborn, on behalf of the bowlers, thanked the officers for their excellent work during the past year.

Senators Turn Tables Trounce Marlboros 5-2

By MEL SUFRIN

OTTAWA, April 19 (CP) — The boys that were sure Toronto Marlboros would have an easy time skating into the Allan Cup finals are singing a different tune today.

Ottawa Senators, bouncing back from a 5-0 defeat in the opener last Friday in Toronto, turned the tables in convincing fashion to score a 5-2 victory over Marlboros Monday night, tieing the best-of-seven Eastern Canada hockey series at a game apiece.

Led by sharpshooting centreman Nils Tremblay who treated 7,764 fans to a neat three-goal effort, the Senators looked like a new hockey team after a two-day layoff, their first rest in a week

In contrast to the leg-weary show they put on in Toronto, the Quebec Senior Hockey League champions outskated and outshot Marlboros for about three-quarters of the game.

It was the "special delivery" line of Tremblay, Eddie Dartnell and Bill Robinson that carried the offensive mail for the winners.

Third game will be in Ottawa tonight with the teams returning to Toronto for the fourth game Thursday.

Wasted No Time

Senators shone during the first period as they took a 2-0 lead. Emile Dagenais tallied at 10.41 on a pass from Buddy Hellyer and Tremblay got his first less than four minutes later when, with Toronto a man short, a shot by Ray Trainor bounced off the centre past goalie Howie Harvey.

Ottawa made it 3-0 at 2.22 of the second frame when Lude Check scored on a passing play with Dagenais and Hellyer.

Marlboros broke loose with two goals in 49 seconds, their two Johnnies, McLellan and McCormack firing the puck past Bill (Legs) Frasce. McCormack had a hand in McLellan's goal while McLellan returned compliment by teaming up with Chuck Blair to set up McCormack's counter.

Tremblay scored his other two goals on passes by Dartnell and Jack Irvine during the last 10 minutes of the exciting and high-scoring second frame. The final period was scoreless and hockey was ragged by comparison with the rousing first two frames.

Harvey, chunky Toronto goalie, played a great game as the Senators tested him regularly with tough shots from all angles and close in.

His protection was lax at times as Marlboros had trouble clearing out of their own zone and he had to do some fast moving to block what looked like sure goals.

Doubles Winners

Ross Hopkins and Jack Dormer won the doubles tournament staged by the YMCA Men's Senior Five-Pin League at the Y Alleys last night. The affair was the wind-up of the bowling season for this loop. Only two games were rolled due to the large entry. Hopkins and Dormer turned in a might nice effort with a 1039 mark for two games.

Tom Curvin and George Coleman took second prize with 973; Harry Graham and Percy Johnson third with 961 and Bill Stanbury and George Logan fourth with 947.

Here And There In Sports . . .

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association "sympathizes" with the Montreal Forum but "all Memorial Cup final games must be played in the west this year," CAHA President Al Pickard of Regina said in an interview Monday night.

"There is nothing we can do about it," Pickard said. He was commenting on a dispatch from Montreal quoting General Manager Frank Selke of the Montreal Forum as saying he would ask the CAHA to allow some of the games to be played in that city.

"At our last general meeting it was decided the Memorial Cup finals would be played in the west and the Allan Cup in the east," Pickard said. "We can't help it, but the junior finals must be played in Western Canada."

Three members of the Toronto Maple Leafs, world's hockey champions for the third successive year, Monday signed 1949-50 contracts and made plans to return to their Saskatchewan homes for the summer. No salary figures were announced.

Max Bentley will be going back to Deslisle, Garth Boesch to Milestone and Vic Lynn to Saskatoon.

The 1949 world series will be an all-Boston affair in the opinion of the major league baseball writers of the United States. In an annual pre-season poll conducted by the Associated Press, 70 out of 120 scribes picked the Red Sox to dethrone Cleveland Indians in the American League. The world champions drew only 42 first place votes and trail Joe McCarthy's men in total points, 873 to 902.

The defending champion Braves of the National League drew fewer first place ballots than Brooklyn—44 to 52—but piled up enough seconds and thirds to nose out the Dodgers, 938 to 832 points.

The entire coaching staff of the Hamilton Tigers, Ontario Rugby Football Union champions, has been lined up with the week-end signing of Murray Griffin, former Ottawa Roughriders star, Tiger officials announced Monday at Hamilton. Griffin will act as chief coach, and will not play. Sam Brasinski will be line coach with Merle Hapes of Jackson, Miss., in command of the backfield.

St. Catharines Ontario Minor Hockey Association teams duplicated a hockey feat of the 1942-43 season here Monday night, when they won three championships in one season in Juvenile, Midget and Bantam competitions. The Masons took the Midget title Monday night with a 6-4 overtime victory over Toronto Marlboros in St. Catharines while the Juvenile and Bantam clubs won their trophies recently.

At Philadelphia, Sandy Saddler, former boss of the featherweights, made short work of Ermanno Bonetti Monday night, knocking the Italian out in 1:43 of the second round. Saddler weighed 130 pounds, Bonetti 129½.

George Walton Gets High Bowling Title

George Walton won the high average title in the YMCA Men's Senior Bowling League with a mark of 227 for 66 games. Secretary Percy Johnson's figures show the Canada Packers' ace four points ahead of Ab Guerin. Guerin turned in a notable performance the past season rolling better than 800 four times during the schedule.

Eddie Dixon had high three of 900 and Vic Coleman high single of 372. The complete averages:

Hanson-Villmer Match Should Prove Mat Classic

Wrestling devotees who like their sport clean and scientific are in for a rare treat tomorrow night when Sliding Billy Hanson hooks up with Ray Villmer at the Brock Arena. These two boys put on the finest exhibition of mat work witnessed in this city in years and sent the fans home talking to themselves last week. And what an ovation they received. The speed, science and aerial work of this pair is really something to see. It will be a two-falls-out-of-three affair and the extra time may see a decision reached. Fans were divided in their opinion as to who was the best man last week. It was close. A packed house should witness this match.

Viccharelli

John Katan and the Cardiff Giant are in the semi-final spot. The opening bout really holds a lot of interest for the fans for it brings together the local lad Nick Viccharelli and Tuffy Truesdale, the alligator man. Truesdale is a top-flight wrestler and will probably give Viccharelli a real pasting.

Brandon Edges Buffaloes 5-3

CALGARY, April 19—(CP) — Back in the early stages of the hockey season the Western experts went out on the limb and picked Brandon Wheat Kings as the team to win the Western Canada junior title and represent the west in the Memorial Cup finals.

So far the Wheat Kings haven't let them down and today they are within two games of making the experts look good. Monday night they downed Calgary Buffaloes 5-3 to take a 2-1 lead in their best-of-seven series for the western championship and the right to meet the Montreal Royals in the Memorial Cup final.

The clubs now shift to Brandon with the fourth game scheduled there next Thursday. The fifth game, and sixth if required, also will be on the Wheat King's home ice.

Brandon Monday night forced the lighter Buffs to carry the play to them throughout the game and relied on the breaks of the game to give them chances for dangerous scoring sorties.

Brandon took a 2-0 lead in the opening period, lead 3-2 at the end of the second and outscored Buffs 2-1 in the final 20 minutes.

Locke Back On Game Beat Frank Stranahan

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., April 19 — (AP). — Bobby Locke, 31-year-old golf star from South Africa, is back on his game, he said to-day, after winning his first tournament since returning to the United States several week ago.

Locke cruised around the par-69, 6,065-yard Cavalier Country Club in 68 strokes Monday to beat amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, in an 18-hole play-off for the $10,000 Cavalier Specialists tournament title. Stranahan carded a 70.

There were times Monday when the 26-year-old Stranahan appeared well on the way to victory. He played the first nine holes in 34 compared to Locke's par 35, but he slipped to a 36 on the back nine as the South African got hot to finish with 33.

L'il Arthur Has Designs On Crown After Williams

PHILADELPHIA, April 18—(AP)—L'il Arthur King, rated by many as the best scrapper to come out of Canada since Vancouver's Jimmy (Baby Face) McLarnin, has designs on the world's lightweight title. But not while Ike Williams wears the crown.

"I'm not even good enough to hold Ike's gloves now," said he 22-year-old British Empire and Canadian champion from Toronto. "But he's older than I am and will grow older faster." Williams is 25.

But the 135-pound Canadian Negro makes no bones that he'll go after the championship when Williams either steps down or is beaten. He tells you that "Ike is the boss, and a good one, of the lightweights" but almost in the same breath he adds he can lick any of the other contenders.

And Jimmy Wilson, trainer of both Williams and King, is of the same opinion.

Willing To Learn

"Arthur is one of the finest boys I have ever trained," said Jimmy. "He never makes the same mistake twice, is willing to learn and packs a wallop in his left hand."

L'il Arthur is thankful for the day he left Toronto and signed to fight for the Philadelphia partnership of Frank (Blinky) Palermo and Frank Palumbo. Palmero and Palumbo also manage Williams.

King won the British Empire crown in London with a seven-round technical knockout over Billy Thompson.

He's won 13 fights under his new managers for a professional record of 26 triumphs, including 10 knockouts, in 29 outings since turning pro at the age of 18. He later squared accounts with the three fighters who beat him.

Retirement Out, Had Enough Wm. Powell Says

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 19 (AP). —Will Powell, still a top star after nearly 30 years in the movies, say she's here to stay.

"I guess I've got too much ham in me to retire," he admitted on the "Bandwagon" set He said he tried it back in 1936, when he was flush with money and popularity. For four months he lolled around the Riviera.

I couldn't take it any longer than that," he said. 'I was bored to death. Maybe I just don't have enough blue blood to be a play-boy."

Carson Unhappy

Dennis Morgan indicates a death knell has been sounded for his "Two Guys" series with Jack Carson. "The public doesn't want that kind of stuff any more," he said: "They want plot." The last of the series, "Two Guys and a Gal" (Doris Day), has been retitled "What a Wonderful Feeling."

Meanwhile, Carson goes to Columbia for "Good Humor Man" and is vocal about his unhappiness with Warners. He doesn't like the brush-off he has been given in recent pictures there.

Barbara Stanwyck is an author. Yes, the news floored me, too. But she said on the "File on Thelma Jordan" set she is already at work on a novel about modern marriage. And she's thinking of penning her memoirs. Self-educated, she's an avid reader—about 50 books a month.

Gloria DeHaven is happy at MGM, after years of discontent. She claimed she didn't have a friend at the studio, but now she's getting some attention. She goes into "Summer Stock" with Gene Kelly and June Allyson. Remember how woanderful the girls were in "Two Girls and a Sailor?" Then June shot ahead and Gloria got lost.

NEWCOMBE TO MONTREAL

At Newport News, Va., pitcher Don Newcombe, who once was assigned a $500,000 price tag by Branch Rickey, Brooklyn Dodgers president, has rejoined Montreal Royals of the International Baseball League. Manager Clay Hopper said the Royals' manager denied there had been any differences in training camp at Vero Beach, Fla., and that the Negro hurler had left in a huff. Rumors hinted that Newcombe was dissatisfied at not being kept with the parent Brooklyn Dodgers and left camp when he was returned to Montreal.

No Changes Yet In County Home

TORONTO, April 19—(CP) — Ontario welfare department officials said Monday that, as far as they knew, none of the recommendations made by departmental investigators who visited the Wellington County Home for the Aged six months ago have been acted upon. The investigators' report was submitted to the Wellington County Council.

Reeve J. K. MacDonald of Elora has asked the department to make another investigation. The reeve charges that residents of the home are locked in rooms and that their mail is censored.

The investigators said in their report that they found that residents had to submit outgoing mail, unsealed, to the matron. They informed the county council that the practice should be stopped.

They said they also found that residents sleeping upstairs were held in their rooms by screen doors locked on the outside. They criticized this arrangement.

The report also termed the housekeeping conditions "untidy" and not conducive to safety. It recommended that the present home be replaced with a new building.

Rescuers Search Lake For Woman Saved Once

TORONTO, April 19—(CP) — Lifesavers searched stormy Lake Ontario waters off suburban Scarboro Monday night for a 42-year-old mother, feared drowned after having been rescued once Monday.

Bob Clements, owner of Scarboro Boat Livery, said the woman —her identity undetermined— loitered around his dock for two hours Monday. He was called away and returned to find her in the water.

He told police he went through three feet of water to pull her from the lake and left her in his boathouse. While he went to get coffee, the woman disappeared. An immediate search of the water and the high cliff area nearby failed to locate the woman.

Voting System Fool-Proof PC's Believe

TORONTO, April 19 — (CP)— A fool-proof voting system has been prepared for next week's convention to choose a Leader of the Progressive Conservative Party in Ontario, party officials said Monday.

The new Leader will be chosen April 27 — the last day of the three-day convention— by 1,682 delegates.

The convention will be made up of 360 delegate members of the Progressive Conservative Association, four from each of the 90 ridings; 900 leadership delegates, 10 from each riding, who are chosen only for the purpose of electing a leader; 90 delegates at large, chosen by the association from a cross-section of prominent people in various professions on a geographical basis; 65 officers of the Young Progressive Conservative Association; 85 officers of the district associations which comprise a number of ridings; and the 152 Provincial and Federal candidates at the last elections.

If any of these delegates are unable to attend, 1,260 alternate delegates have been appointed.

Before receiving his ballot papers, a delegate must establish his identity and collect his credentials from the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association office here. Ballots are printed with markings similar to bank notes to prevent counterfeiting. Only voting delegates will be allowed on the convention floor at the time of the vote. Each delegate receives a book of ballots each colored differently in case more than one vote is necessary.

Clear Majority

To be elected a candidate must have a clear majority—more than half the total votes cast. If on the first ballot no candidate has a clear majority, the candidate receiving the least number of votes drops out and another ballot is taken.

Four candidates have already declared themselves: Provincial Treasurer Frost, Attorney-General Blackwell; Education Minister Porter, and Kelso Roberts, a Toronto mining lawyer and former member of the Legislature. Friends of Highways Minister Doucett say he will likely announce his candidacy within a few days.

The convention was called to choose a successor to George Drew, former Leader who resigned last fall when he was chosen National Leader of the party. Premier Kennedy agreed to accept the Premiership on a temporary basis until a new Leader can be chosen.

Plan Cattle Crossing In Harvey Township

HARVEY, April 19—(ENS)— A cattle crossing is to be built on 13th Concession, Harvey township. Harvey council was recently addressed by Mr. Harrison and Mr. Cockburn on this matter and an agreement was drawn up between the council and other parties.

Mr. Young agreed to continue his snow ploughing contract until the end of the year.

Members of the council decided to inspect the township roads with the roads superintendent and W. T. Hopper, district engineer, before the next council meeting.

Rabbi Berlin Dies

JERUSALEM, April 18—(AP) —Rabbi Meyer Berlin, president of the World Mizrachi Union organization of Religious Zionists, died Sunday night. He would have been 69 next week. Death followed a heart attack. Rabbi Berlin, who recently changed his name to Bar Ilan, is a former president of a Yechiva (religious university in New York.

Tourist Ship Afire

QUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, April 19 — (AP) — Rescue ships sped to-day to aid the motor vessel Faraon, afire off Las Huacas Island with some 60 tourists on board. It could not be learned immediately whether there were casualties aboard the burning ship which was returning from Lima.

Find Kidnapping Mother's Hoax To Cover Debts

BEVERLEY HILLS, Calif., April 19—(AP)—Police said today a pretty mother admitted she staged the hoax kidnapping of her five-year-old son to hide from her husband $35,000 in horse-race betting losses.

Police Chief C. H. Anderson identified the woman as Mrs. Joe Goodman Sr., dress-shop owner, an attractive 32-year-old blonde. Mrs. Goodman reported last week that her boy, Joey, had been taken from her by a ruse and had been ransomed by a $33,000 payment.

Anderson told this story:

"We felt all along it was a hoax. We thought Goodman (40-year-old former Norfolk, Va., prize-fighter) was trying to get sympathy to avoid paying off gambling losses.

"But Mrs. Goodman has admitted she had her friends take care of the boy while she went through her routine. She said she had lost at the race track and was afraid her husband would find out about it. She also said she feared her husband would get into trouble over gambling debts."

Mrs. Goodman reported Joe's return last Monday. Then she took a plane for Reidsville, N.C., where Anderson said he talked to her by telephone.

Anderson booked George Miller, 43, and Mrs. Ruth Lefkowitz, 30, friends of Mrs. Goodman, on suspicion of conspiracy to commit grand theft. He said they would be released unless Goodman obtains a complaint.

Limit Censorship

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 19 (CP)—The United Nations Monday adopted a proposal limiting censorship of news going out of a country to that affecting "national defence." The vote in the 58-member social committee of the General Assembly was 28 to 8 with 12 absentions. Canada supported the plan.

To Have Operation

LONDON, Ont., April 19 (CP) —Mitchell F. Hepburn, former Premier of Ontario, is expected to undergo surgery at Victoria Hospital today. He has been a patient at the hospital for the past week. Nature of the operation was not disclosed.

Schools Turn Out Semi-Literates Due To Poor Exams Teachers Told

TORONTO, April 19—(CP).—A proposal to graduate "more efficient" students from Ontario's commercial schools through co-operation between business and teachers was made today by J. C. MacMicking, of St. Catharines, to the 89th annual convention of the Ontario Educational Association.

In an address prepared for delivery to the Ontario Commercial Teachers' Association, meeting in conjunction with the OEA, Mr. MacMicking, office manager of Thompson Products, Ltd., at St. Catharines, told the teachers: "You have a tremendous job to do for the economics of our country and for the welfare of our boys and girls, but you can't do it alone."

He proposed an organization with representatives from the Commercial Teachers' Association, the National Office Management Association, the Ontario Department of Education and other educational and business groups.

Some 7,000 delegates from organizations representing every phase of educational activities are attending the convention, meeting in public halls and schools across the city.

Other speakers had a more theoretical viewpoint. In an address prepared for delivery today to English and history teachers of the O.E.A., Dr. J. M. Paton, English professor at Montreal College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que., said "semi-literates" were being "massed produced" by secondary schools.

Poor Examination

"Traditional" examinations in literature and composition are unsatisfactory, Dr. Paton said. Another cause for the situation was the doubling of the secondary school population in Canada without a similar increase in teachers and classroom space.

He suggested a national bureau of educational tests and measurements which would create standardization and "objective" reading and language tests.

A. G. McColl, director of the Canadian Research Committee on Practical Education, told members of the Ontario Secondary Schools Headmasters' Association that educators were concerned with the number of students leaving school before completing secondary education.

In a speech prepared for delivery today Mr. McColl said that the 1941 survey showed that half of the male working force had less than eight years of schooling —the normal period for public school teaching. Only eight per cent had 13 years or more.

Don't Get Equal Chance

He said the opinion of agricultural community leaders was that rural boys and girls did not get comparable educational opportunities to those of urban students.

The school health section of the convention was told by Dr. A. T. Church of Hamilton's health department that "unwholesome home influence is the most common cause of delinquent children."

In another convention address today, delegates to the Science Teachers' Association of Ontario were told that land conservation in Ontario "must be a continuous program."

Dr. O. M. McConkey, professor of field husbandry a the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, in a speech prepared for delivery called for an "over-all conservation and and utilization plan in each province . . . we must plan for 1,000 years."

A change in teaching methods in geography was advocated by Dr. S. S. McCune of Colgate University, Hamilton, N.Y. He told the geography section of the convention that the subject has "slipped into grooves and ruts and has lost its place as a discipline for tomorrow's schools."

A dinner meeting of delegates yesterday was told by Education Minister Porter of Ontario that "every child is entitled—insofar as this is humanly possible—to a fair and equal share of educational opportunity."

Dr. Ira Dilworth of Montreal, head of the CBC international service, suggested a careful screening of teachers to bar those with a pessimistic, unsure outlook on life. Such a screening would not be concerned with detecting "political and social 'isms'."

WE'VE PASSED another milestone in telephone history — in Ontario and Quebec we now have 1½ million telephones. Of these, 500,000 were added in the last four years. That's more telephones than we installed in our first 40 years!

And as we have grown, service has grown better. Your calls go through quickly, clearly. You can always count on your telephone. Yet up to now, despite rising costs on all sides, there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 22 years ago. Few things give you so much real value at such low cost as your telephone.

We've broken all records — but there are still orders we haven't been able to fill. We will keep right on working and building to make your telephone service a bigger bargain than ever — to continue to provide more and better service at the lowest possible cost.

Baby Boy Found By Mother Dead In Carriage

Sudden death from an unknown cause shortly before noon today came to the 10-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley V. Reiten, 541 Arndon Ave., as the infant lay in his carriage outside the door of his home.

Dr. R. M. Matthews, child specialist, was called but the baby was dead before he arrived. The doctor said he did not believe death was due to suffocation.

A post mortem will be held later today.

The infant, Blayne, was placed in his carriage and it was set in the backyard at about 11 a.m. today; at the time he appeared perfectly healthy. When Mrs. Reiten went outside to see if he was comfortable about half an hour later she found that he had ceased breathing but was still warm.

She applied artificial respiration and then telephoned Dr. Matthews, and upon arrival he pronounced Blayne dead. An inhalator crew from the Fire Department was also summoned but it was not required.

Mr. Reiten, employed in the CGE engineering department, and his wife Doris moved into the Arndon subdivision last August. They have one other child, Sharon, age 16 months.

Junior Chamber Plan Safety Drive

At a general meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, held in the Empress Hotel, on Monday, a very instructive talk on Traffic Safety was given by Inspector Vern Page of the Toronto Police Department.

To bring home the grim facts of the seriousness of traffic accidents, Inspector Paige told the group that there were 33,500 fatalities in the United States in 1946, with an estimated property loss of $6,500,000,000. He advised that the "atom bomb on wheels" is steadily increasing its killing efficiency due to careless driving. He said that a safety campaign must last 365 days of every year, because death takes no holidays.

A traffic safety campaign was started in Toronto by the then Mayor, Robert Saunders, and steps were taken to protect school children. Each Toronto school receives a safety crest for a 30 days accident free record, which is taken away when any child is involved in a traffic incident.

The speaker was introduced by Pepper Martin and thanked by Grenville Lathangue.

In attendance were Sgt. Bob Kerr of the Toronto force, Cpl. McClure, local Ontario Provincial Police detachment, Const. Mesley of Peterborough force.

The Junior Chamber have planned to introduce safety measures here under the leadership of Grenville Lathangue.

EXECUTIVE MEET

New executive of Canadian Legion will meet for the first time Wednesday night at 8 p.m. in the Board Room of the Legion Hall. They were elected at the annual meeting of the Legion in March.

PAY HIGHER RATE

The interest rate on the debentures to be issued in the amount of $10,000, the city's contribution to the Chemong Lake causeway fund, was increased from 1¾ p.c. to 2¾ p.c. in a bylaw introduced at the council meeting Monday night by Ald. Hugh Waddell.

MAKE ONE CALL

Wet weather has temporarily put the recent run of grass and rubbish fires on the skids, and furnaces are burning low thus eliminating much of the fire hazard in homes. But there is still the odd call coming into the Fire Department. A chimney fire was put out on Monday night at the residence of G. Faiers, 176 Prince St.

$7,500 FOR HOUSE

Purchase of the Chamberlain estate property at the northwest corner of Aylmer and Dalhousie Streets for the Utilities Commission at $7,500 is authorized in a bylaw to be drafted by City Solicitor Huycke. The commission will reimburse the city in the amount to be paid for the property, as set out in Ald. Grant Miller's motion, seconded by Ald. H. Dodds.

MOST OF WORLD STARVING

Addressing members of the St. John The Preceptory, Knights Templar, No. 14, in Oshawa on Sunday, the Rev. Dr. James Semple of George Street United Church stated that of 51 nations six are near the starvation line. Thirty-three nations with a population of 1,803,000,000 are getting less than the accepted subsistance level and only 12 with a total population of 283,000,000 are receiving a pre-war level of food. Dr. Semple is the Grand Chaplain Grand Lodge of Canada, A. F. and A. M. in the Province of Ontario.

Council Given Detailed Plan Of Nurses' Home

Plans and specifications of the nurses' residence of Civic Hospital were received by the council Monday night from the architects, W. and W. R. L. Blackwell and Craig, "more than a month in advance of our promised date of completion." They were forwarded for the approval of the council with copies of forms of tenders and notices of tenders to be used in advertising for contractual bids.

Ald. Dick Raine said the council would naturally wish to get ahead with the plans. "We don't want to lose any of the time the architects have gained in preparing the plans and specifications."

Mayor Swanston commented that the council should know how much money the Board of Governors of Civic Hospital expected to have on hand for the nurses' residence. He proposed a meeting early next week in view of the fact that the Governors were holding their regular meeting Thursday night. His Worship said that information regarding the available finances for the final unit of the hospital would probably be available for the meeting of the special hospital committee. Ald. Raine agreed to that course.

Discusses Grant

A letter from Mr. John Hornal, Superintendent of Civic Hospital, advised the council that "a letter has been received from the Ontario Department of Health stating that recommendations have been made to the Dominion government which will mean that the grant towards the hospital from the Dominion Government will be based on the number of beds of actual new construction."

That means the hospital would receive federal assistance on the basis of the entire number of beds which the new Civic Hospital will accommodate as originally planned.

Plumbing Tests Delaying Homes

The city's plumbing bylaw is being too stringently applied to the houses that are being built in the south end of the city for Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. This was the substance of a grievance of the subcontracting plumbers conveyed to the council Monday night in a letter from A. J. E. Smith, Toronto, assistant supervisor with the Corporation.

The particular problem as reported to Central Mortgage is the requirement of both smoke and water tests of the plumbing in each of the 226 houses that are in construction. Consequently delay is reflected in the retarding of the schedule of completing the houses and also in their ultimate cost to the tenant.

Mr. Smith wrote that the city bylaw requires either a water test or smoke test "but does not state that it is mandatory for both tests to be carried out in every house. The national building code requires both tests if the authorities having jurisdiction so require. Our interpretation of this latter code and the practice in most municipalites is that a water test is mandatory, and smoke test only required where the local authorites consider it necessary."

Tests were to be applied to 136 houses by the end of last week, according to Mr. Smith's letter indicating the progress of building.

The council did not take any immediate action. It was understood that W. W. Scott, Toronto, negotiator for the corporation, would be here this afternoon to discuss several matters with the council. The plumbing tests will be one of them.

City's Hospitality Meets With Favor

"All our members had a grand time, royal welcome and entertainment at our 32nd convention in Peterborough, April 8-9," W. J. Snyder, Hamilton secretary of the Ontario Baseball Association, has written the council. "We are deeply grateful ot Mayor Swanston and the members of the council for the splendid dinner they provided."

Mr. Synder wrote that it was one of the most successful conventions since the last one here years ago.

Mr. E. E. Murphy, of Peterborough, convener of the convention committee, thanked the council "for the grandest lunch it has ever been our privilege to attend." The success of the convention was largely promoted by the council.

"I should be grateful to you (City Clerk Outram) if you would say a particular word of thanks to Ald. Adam Sands and his committee who spared no effort in making our welcome a credit to Peterborough."

Site Approved For Pool In Asburnham

Compromise on the site of the Lions Club swimming pool at Riverside Park was effected in a bylaw passed by the council Monday night authorizing the signing of an agreement with the Lions covering their estimated $50,000 community investment across the river.

The main pool and dressing quarters will be to the north of the Merrett house, but 128 feet back from Burnham St. And the wading pool for small children will be built down on the flat section of the park, south of the bridge and near the river. Ald. Herbert Young introduced the bylaw.

"Is this site acceptable to the Lions Club?" Ald. Doug Miller enquired. Mayor Swanston replied that it was, but as to the other side of the recent complaints of proximity of the pool to Burnham St. Mayor Swanston said Mr. H. C. Benson was noncommittal.

"How far back from the street is it going to be?" Ald. Grant Miller asked.

The reply was "128 ft. from Burnham St." On that information the council gave the bylaw its three readings.

McManus Funeral Largely Attended

A large gathering of relatives and friends attended requiem mass for the late Michael McManus, 75, of 479 Rogers St., at Immaculate Conception Church on Monday morning. Mass was said by the Rev. J. A. Greenan, and the Rev. G. F. Sullivan was present in the Sanctuary. Pallbearers were Cletus Sullivan, Hubert Kennedy, Bernard and John McManus, Earl Herr and Joseph Corkery. The Rev. J. J. McCarthy conducted the graveside service and burial was at St. Joseph's Cemetery, Douro.

Mr. McManus died last Thursday in hospital following a short illness. He was born in Douro township on the same farm granted to his grandparents from the Crown and lived there until his retirement one year ago. He was the son of the late Anthony McManus and Julia Connors.

He was a member of the Church of the Immaculate Conception since coming to the city and previous to that was a member of St. Joseph's Church, Douro, and a charter member of its Holy Name Society.

Among those attending the funeral were his sister Mrs. Mary Almy and his niece Miss Julia Almy, both of Buffalo.

Dixon House Council Plans First Aid Course

Plans were made at a meeting of the Dixon House Neighborhood Council executive Monday night for a Home Nursing and First Aid Course. Mrs. Eric Lines was instructed to ask advice from the Peterborough Health Department in the setting up of classes in baby sitting and mothercraft.

A neighborhood softball league is to be organized by Leo Belanger, and Jack Miller is going to organize a horseshoe pitching league.

45 DAYS FOR THEFT

Harold Dunk, 125 Lock St., was sent to jail for 45 days by Magistrate W. R. Philp KC, today when he pleaded guilty to stealing a radio Saturday from a car an Brookdale parking lot, Highway No. 7. He admitted three previous convictions for theft.

No Time To Go For Help In Case of Most Accidents

Urgent need of greatly accelerating the amount of instruction being given in modern methods of artificial respiration used in cases of near drowning, electric shock, and gas poisoning was impressed upon members of the Rotary Club at Monday's weekly luncheon in the Empress Hotel, by Wills MacLachlan, Toronto, engineer of the Electrical Employers' Association of Ontario. He said that residents of Peterborough had a special responsibility in this respect since they live on the fringe of a large summer resort district.

Mr. MacLachlan spoke on the subject "Simple Life Saving Methods Every One Should Know" and was introduced by Ross L. Dobbin, manager of the Peterborough Utilities Commission, who declared that Mr. MacLachlan, since joining the Electrical Engineers' Association staff in 1915, had been instrumental in greatly reducing the hazards of a lineman's occupation.

Mr. McLachlan's visit coincided with the presentation by Mayor M. J. Swanston of life saving awards of the National Safety Council to Joseph Hayes and Mrs. William Grant, Peterborough, who last September 27 saved Thomas W. Wilcox from electrocution by their quick use of artificial respiration.

Saved Life of Sister

"Artificial respiration is something everyone should know," said the speaker. As an outstanding example of its great value and importance, Mr. MacLachlan referred to the case of an 11-year-old Gravenhurst boy who was taught artificial respiration in a rural school and who was thereby able to save the life of his two-year-old sister who had fallen into a well.

He stressed the fact that in most cases of near drowning, electric shock, etc., there was usually little or no time to go for help, making it most important, particularly for those residing at summer resorts with children, to have knowledge of artificial respiration. He said that in electric shock cases 90% of the victims' lives can be saved if they get attention within one minute, whereas if six minutes elapse the ratio drops to only 10%. The speaker quoted the case of a Sarnia man, who sustained a shock of 22,000 volts, but whose life was saved after 8 hours of continuous effort.

Regular Practice Sessions

Mr. MacLachlan emphasized that "it is very important to have constant and regular practice sessions in artificial respiration methods." This is done in all the public utilities of Ontario, and all employees are under definite instructions to continue working on victims of electric shock for at least four hours, when called upon to put their knowledge to the test.

"Trained brains and a pair of hands" are all that is needed in cases of near drowning and electric shock. An inhalator is very valuable in gas poisoning cases, but research on animals has shown that mechanical apparatus is of utterly no value in cases of drowning and shock, Mr. MacLachlan said.

The speaker was thanked by Gordon Matthews, who referred to him as "one of the leading safety engineers on the continent."

In addition to the recipients of the life saving awards, the following other special guests were introduced by Mr. Dobbin:—James Turnbull, of the Peterborough Utilities Commission; Fred Hills, member of the commission; Assistant Fire Chief A. Stewart Foster; Gordon Minty, YMCA swimming instructor, and Jack Dane director of recreation.

Leonard Martin, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, appealed to the Rotarians to back the Chamber 100% in the tuberculosis X-ray survey to be carried out in Peterborough county late this month.

Legion Requests Housing Action

"United action that will effectively cope with evictions and the housing shortage," was the subject of a Canadian Legion resolution which the council Monday night referred to its special housing committee.

A letter from W. Harold Yelland, president of the Peterborough Branch No. 52 of the Legion, relayed to the council a resolution of the Ontario Command's housing committee urging government action. It asserted that "the failure of governments to deal with the housing crisis on a non-partisan and truly Canadian basis offers a threat to the security, health and progress of Canada and the majority of its people," had become a national emergency.

"The Legion in Ontario demands that a conference of authorized representatives of the three levels of governments be immediately summoned by the Dominion government" to cope with the situation.

Another paragraph of the resolution read: "That the Dominion government be requested through the proper channels to declare a state of national emergency on housing."

Peterborough branch asked the Council for its support of the proposal of the Ontario Command's housing committee.

The costs set out in the Chalmers report were all approximations as estimates.

Romaine St., from Park St. to Monaghan Road, 31½ ft. strip of pavement, $38,179.20; estimated cost per foot frontage chargeable to abutting property, $5.40, which when made payable in ten annual instalments at 3¼ per cent. interest is equal to an annual rate of 64 and 11/100 (64.11) cents per foot frontage.

Cost to the corporation of the city $21,493.20, equivalent to an annual payment of $2,551.91 for 10 years.

Improvement Plan

According to the local improvement plan, frontage pays part; on Romaine St. 60%, and the city as a whole pays the rest.

Sherbrooke St., from George to Reid St.: $37,800; frontage $4.50 a foot, or 53.43 cents a foot annually for ten years. City pays $24,992, or $2,967.33 a year for ten years.

Monaghan Road, from Sherbrooke to King St.: $21,085; frontage charge $5.62 a foot, or 66.79 cents a foot annually for 10 years. Cost to the city as a whole $16,704.53, or $1,983.35 a year for 10 years.

Monaghan Road from King St. to Charlotte St., $8,985.83 which is $5.29 a foot frontage, equivalent to 62.81 cents a foot frontage annually for 10 years. Cost to the city $5,177.48, or $614.77 a year for 10 years.

Park Hill Road, from Reid St., to the west side of Park St., $44,489 is the estimated cost; frontage charge to abutting property $5.62, which is equivalent to 66.79 cents a foot yearly for 10 years. Payable by the city, 55% plus street flankage, interest and drainage, or $32,194.38, or $3,822 a year for 10 years.

Water St., from King to Sherbrooke St., $12,660.50; property pays $5. a foot frontage or 59.37 cents a foot yearly for 10 years. Cost to city as a whole $8,806.30 or $1,045.58 a year for 10 years.

Sherbrooke St., from Water to George St., 46-foot pavement; $4,886.25; $5. a foot frontage or 59.37 cents a foot yearly for 10 years. Corporation's share $3,777. or $448.45 a year for 10 years.

Burnham St., from Hunter to Sophia St., $20,333.76 is estimated cost; frontage charge $4.50 a foot or 53.43 cents a foot frontage yearly for 10 years. Charged to the city $12,614.59 or $1,497.74 annually for 10 years.

Burnham St. from Sophia to James St., 27-foot strip; estimated cost $5,299.50; frontage charge $3.24 a foot or 38.47 cents a year for 10 years. Cost to the city $2,678.34 or $318. a year for 10 years.

Burnham St. from James to Charles St., 27-foot wide; $3,845., charge to frontage $4.55 a foot or 54.02 cents a foot annually for 10 years. Cost to city $2,402.65, or $285.27 a year for 10 years.

Legion Officers Installed By District Head

Frank Threadgold, district F commander of the Canadian Legion installed W. Harold Yelland as president of the local branch at a meeting of the Legion Monday night. Prior to the installation ceremony the president and the Branch colors were paraded before the guard of honor, composed of George Gimblett Sr. and Comrade Lovell, Oshawa, commander of Zone 1.

Frank Grant, district F secretary, installed the new executive, C. H. Stuart, H. G. Kelsey, G. G. Torrence, Arthur Wagstaff, A. R. Bennett and Oran Varty, sergeant-at-arms, C. H. McWilliams and Louis Durkin, 1st and 2nd vice-presidents, were installed by Comrade Lovell, Oshawa.

Seven new members had their applications accepted for initiation They were Joseph M. O'Brien, Donald K. Marquis, Edward W. McLachlan, P. Conlin, W. R. McFarlane, G. R. Whatman and Gerald Kerr. Three members, F. J. McMurray, Donald K. Marquis and Arthur Barrett were initiated into the Legion.

Glen Carson, secretary of the hockey club, presented in the absence of Cyril Withers, chairman of sports, the Senior 'B' OHA cup to the Legion.

Nine Titles Won By City Teams

According to Ald. Dodds and Mayor Swanston, Peterborough's young men have won nine championships in the last year. The titles embrace, lacrosse, hockey, basketball, rugby football, baseball cricket.

"Peterborough has come to the fore in sports again," said Ald. Dodds, Monday night. "We have recently won an Ontario hockey title and a Canadian basketball championship. Mayor Swanston did a nice job of congratulating the Legion hockey team Sunday, but besides that I would like to bring this sport record to the attention of Ald. Sands' reception committee."

Ald. Dick Raine put the memorandum into the form of a motion and Ald. Dodds seconded it.

Mayor Swanston said the count of sport titles was up to nine in his recollection, and this morning off hand, Cec Perdue, sports editor counted up to eight without having to pause to rustle the ninth out of memory.

Harris led the devotional service and Mr. Ken Meredith was guest speaker. Two lovely solos, contributed by Miss Madalyn Binstead, were "Hour of Calvary" and "Prayer Perfect". Mrs. H. Doig was her accompanist. Business was conducted by the president, Mrs. D. Pearson. A pleasant social hour was spent after with contests conducted by Mrs. S. Ivison and Mrs. M. Hess. Lunch was served from a table prettily decorated in Easter colrs by Mrs. C. Murduff, Mrs. G. Pearson, Mrs. E. Rowe and Mrs. B. Pitchford.

In tribute to her fine leadership of the past year the Club presented Mrs. Huffman with a bouquet of roses. Mrs. Race made the presentation. Mrs. Huffman has just returned from a holiday in St. Petersburg, Fla., and brought greetings from the Opti-Mrs. Club there. She also gave an interesting resume of her trip.

Mrs. Jos. Lucano was presented as a new member. Refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Hopcroft.

Irene Dalliday Weds Kenneth Grainger

In a quiet wedding ceremony in Knox United Church Saturday afternoon the Rev. H. G. Douglas united in marriage Irene Hazel Dalliday and Kenneth Loftus Barton Grainger. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Wm. Dalliday and the late Mrs. Dalliday, and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Grainger, all of Peterborough.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of dove blue figured silk crepe and navy flowered hat. Her only ornament was a sunburst of pearls and she carried a bouquet of red roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Robert Adams (Mary) of Belleville, who was attired in a similar dress of yellow figured silk crepe and wore a matching flowered hat. She also carried red roses.

Mr. Clair Grainger of Renfrew was groomsman for his brother.

The reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, where Mrs. Grainger received, gowned in rose crepe with black straw hat and wearing a corsage of Talisman roses.

For the wedding trip to Niagara Falls, New York and points south in United States. the bride donned a suit of cameo rose gabardine, navy hat and wool shortie coat and navy accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Grainger will live at 255 Reid St.

Ontario Nurses Renew Demand

OTTAWA, April 19 (CP) — Ontario's nurses will try again to convince the provincial government that they should have control of their own educational standards.

The more than 300 nurses attending the opening session of the Ontario Registered Nurses' Association's annual meeting today approved a motion that the Government be asked once more to pass a bill placing control of nurse education and nurse registration into the hands of the nursing profession itself.

Mary Millman of Toronto, convener of the association's legislation committee, noted that the nursing profession "is the one professional group in Ontario that doesn't have control of its own educational standards." Further, "the nursing associations of the other eight original provinces in Canada have this control."

This is the 23rd annual meeting of the association which represents 6,400 nurses throughout the province.

In her presidential address, Nettie Fidler of Windsor, said that the association "exists to render service in the interests of the public and we are only able to do that through development of our own professional interests . . ."

She said the organization must "work to obtain increased power through legislation." This was one of the more urgent problems with which it was faced.

600 Attend Police Ball Gay Easter Monday Event

The annual police ball held on Easter Monday evening at Club Aragon again provided a gala evening for about 300 couples. Members of the Peterborough Police Association provided favors, horns and hats for everyone, and they gave vent to their pleasure in a bedlam of noise at the midnight hour.

Valuable prizes made the occasion a memorable one for the lucky winners. Door prize was a combination radio and record player and was won by Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Porter when Mayor Max J. Swanston drew their ticket.

Longest married couple on the floor was Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson, who won a portrait. The youngest married couple on the floor received a bridge lamp, and they were Mr. and Mrs. Grant Kearns.

First spot dance gave a cup and saucer to Miss Annette DeCarlo and a wallet to Mr. Mark Peck, and the second a brooch to Miss Willa Lobb and a tie to Mr. Allan Dawson.

The guests were received by Chief John Thompson and Mrs. Thompson, Inspector J. F. Reid and Mrs. Reid, and Mr. Gordon K. Fraser, MP, and Mrs. Fraser.

Among those present were:

Jack and Jill Jump at YW Teeners' Gay Easter Dance

A gay kaleidescope of colored paper flowers spelled out "Jack and Jill Jump," the name of the Easter dance at which teen Y members and their friends had a lovely time Monday evening. More of these bright emblems of the season were on strings overhead and crossed to the four corners of the YWCA recreation room.

The dance was kept in an informal mood and the music was recorded. Bob Jamieson acted as master of ceremonies. Miss Pat Peel was convener of the dance and Miss Beverly Brooks was head of the decorating committee.

Patrons and patronesses for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hutchinson.

QUITS USING LAXATIVE PILLS

Keeps regular now with famous cereal

Is constipation a serious trouble with you? Then read this unsolicited letter:

"I was sick with constipation. I reached the point where no sort of pill helped. Then my mother said I should try KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. So I began eating ALL-BRAN every day. It's hard to believe, but I am regular now!" Mrs. Lucien Kelly, 8 Deslauriers Street, Quebec.

You, too, may forget you ever had constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet. Simply eat an ounce of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily and drink plenty of water. ALL-BRAN is not a purgative but a wholesome regulating cereal. Eat as a cereal or in muffins for constipation relief. If after using a package you are not completely satisfied, get double your money back as guaranteed on the package. Get delicious ALL-BRAN from your grocer today. Made by Kellogg's of London, Ontario.

DOROTHY DIX

Practical Experience Gives Widow Decided Advantage

DEAR MISS DIX: Many bachelors shy away from marrying a window, grass or sod, with childrin. To these timid souls I wish to say that there are many advantages in acquiring a wife who is broken to double harness, so to speak. In the first place, the widow probably has a house full of furniture, and that's a windfall in these days when chairs are the price of thornes. Also a widow is far more likely to have a little money that you can get your hands on than a young girl is.

Dorothy Dix

Furthermore, the widow is accustomed to being tied down, so she doesn't expect to be taken out for good times, as a debutante does. Having lived alone, she is an amateur electrician and carpenter and can fix the plumbing and the saggy screens without troubling you.

Nor the widow's children the handicap they are supposed to be. On the contrary, they are an asset instead of a liability, for any kind of a mother will keep the refrigerator well stocked and Friend Husband can raid it at his pleasure. And best of all, the Number Two husband is not responsible for the way the widow's children turn out.

For these and other reasons a widow is a preferred matrimonial risk.

EDNA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The fact that so many widows even those encumbered with olive branches, do remarry is proof positive that there are many wise guys who know how to pick out wives. For charming as the amateur bride may be, she lacks the know-how of the widow who has cut her wisdom teeth on the peculiarites of husbands and learned how to handle them.

Qualifications Obvious

The man who marries a sweet young thing gambles with fate, for no one can tell what sort of a wife a girl is going to make. But the widow is a sure thing. She stays put. What she is going to be, she is, and before he pops the question a man can sample her cooking and her temper and her general livableness.

So there is no reason why bachelors should be fraidy cats about marrying widows.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl of 21 and I am always worrying over everything. I can't sleep at night, I am so afraid that I might get sick; or some of my family might die, or that I might lose my job, or that some misfortune might befall me.

Right now I am worrying about getting old. I just can't bear to think about losing my youth and beauty and attractive ways and getting to be old and scraggy so that no one wants to be bothered with me or cares about me. I have tried to do away with this thought, but it is just impossible. It obesses me. Can you help me?

ROSE

ANSWER: Certainly no one can stop the clock and keep you a perpetual debutante. Nor is there any magic that can protect you from the vicissitudes of life. But you can speed up all the misfortunes that you dread by letting your mind dwell upon them.

There is a saying that warns us not to trouble trouble until trouble troubles us. That is true wisdom. The secret of perpetual youth is being happy. It is the chronic weepers whose eyes grow dim. It is the grouches who acquire wrinkls. It is the cowards who are afraid of life who get nothing but misery out of it.

Believe me, daughter, you are making a frightful mistake when at 21 you start out to cultivate morbidness. Snap out of it before it is too late. Laugh and the world laughs with you. Weep and you wep alone. And there is no percentage in that.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a junior in college and I am engaged to a girl who is 17 years old. We are miserable apart, and we are thinking of getting married. Do you think I would be justified in quitting school and going to work so we could be married? I am almost 21.

John H. T.

ANSWER: You are both very young to marry, and I think that you would have a far better chance of happiness if you would finish your course in college before you get married. Marriage isn't for a day, you know. You have to take a long look ahead at the future and plan for that, and the better chances you have of winning out and being able to take care of your wife as you would like to.

And if your love and the girl's love is not strong enough to stand a little temporary separation how is it going to endure the long strain of marriage? My earnest advice to you is to wait.

Fashions of Century Shown By Grove Home and School

Kindergarten room of Grove School, decorated for Easter with bunnies, chickens, eggs and spring flowers was setting for the regular meeting of the Home and School Association last week. Highlight of the evening was a fashion show, arranged by Mrs. W. Hargreaves, program convener, and committee, with Mrs. R. Clements as commentator.

A parade of old time styles dating back almost 100 years led to a preview of 1949 spring fashions. It began with an 1884 plaid taffeta worn with hoops by a 15-year-old girl. Afternoon dresses were modelled first and featured billowing velvet number with bustle back and a brocade dress worn in the early 1800's. It had a train, boned collar and tassel trim.

A beige and red carriage coat with matching under skirt was a much admired number. The crisp, clean starchy look of grandma's garden party days was presented in two lovely muslin dresses, pure white with lace trim and many frills and ruffles.

Twin gowns of rust and green satin with huge lace collars and cuffs, and long full skirts were worn with large plush hats.

Jumping down the years to 1929, a pale green silk dress with very short skirt, sleeveless waist was worn with heavy orange silk hose and one-strap shoes. About 1937 came the bolero with huge puffed sleeves. This was shown in pale blue and navy crepe.

The short skirt appeared again in a pale blue, with sequin trim, the style considered right in 1945. Next the "new look" of 1948 in a black, pink and turquoise number with bustle back and lowered hemline.

Outdoor ensembles in the matronly black of 70 years ago were worn with fine wool shawls and silk bonnets with long ribbon ties. One dress displayed a beautiful cape of fine braid on pure silk.

A persian lamb jacket with fitted back showed that styles of 60 years ago were not so different from those of today.

About 1930 there were long shawl collars, straight back and short skirts even in fur coats as shown by a muskrat coat of that year.

A beautiful 1949 muskrat coat with small flat collar, slightly flared back, bell sleeves with fitted cuffs showed distinct contrast.

A pale blue gardardine suit with fitted jacket and slim skirt 12 inches from the floor had been hand-tailored by Mrs. Nels Foster. It was worn with navy shoes, bag, gloves and felt picture hat and a set of four Russian squirrels.

Evening dresses of the last 20 years presented a colorful picture.

Beautiful black lace, fine pink embroidered organdy, pale green plaid organdy, royal blue crepe, pale blue net, deep red crepe, taffeta, plain black and striped and a turquoise brocade with hoops paraded past.

The wedding dress dating back to a fine embroidered marquisette of 1912 came next. All were complete with veils and flowers and represented the years 1937-39-44-45.

Styles in snow white velvet ivory satin and blue velvet were trimmed with heavy cream lace and rows of small covered buttons.

Flowers for the models were donated by Mrs. Eric Johnston. The commentator was presented with a bouquet of pink snapdragons by Mrs. J. Ainslie.

Mrs. J. Coit expressed appreciation of the audience.

Those modelling were Mesdames E. Johnston, W. Wood, E. Downes, Jr., J. Ainslie. H. Higgins, J. Copping, Nels Foster, G. Scott, W. Sheppard and S. Whitfield and Misses June Clark and Dorothy Hathaway.

Miss J. Stewart spoke briefly on print script as taught in the schools and distributed stencilled copies of her explanation and examples.

Attendance prize went to Miss E. Stewart's room.

Mrs. F. Sanders was in the chair. During business the date of the next executive meeting was set for Wednesday, April 27, at 2:00 p.m.

Mrs. W. Hargreaves, program convener, announced the next regular meeting for May 11 when Mother's Day will be stressed. Roses will be presented to the oldest and youngest grandmothers and the oldest and youngest mothers present.

A baby picture contest was won by Mrs. Nels Foster. Mrs. J. Ainslie and committee served lunch.

6—In Memoriams

DAINARD—Loving memory of Mrs. Wesley Dainard.
Loving and kind in all her ways,
Upright and just, to the end of her days,
Sincere and true in her heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.
—Ever remembered by family.

McILMOYL—In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather, Wm. Edger McIlmoyl, who passed away April 21, 1947.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear,
Fond memories linger every day
Remembrance keeps him near.
—Ever remembered by Willis and family.
